The Board of Health will meet Monday morning at nine o'clock. This should be a most interesting conference and will no doubt occupy an important place in the board's history. It will be the introduction of Sanitary Inspector Geo. Ball to his new governors, and the members of the Board of Health will form a private opinion of how the brand new official will answer their purpose. For a long time this body has fought for an inspector of their own and the chairman will be very pleased to meet him on Monday morning. Inspector Ball will also have his first report to present.

It is also expected that plans will be laid for the year's campaign and it should be a very fruitful one.

PHYSICALLY EXHAUSTED?

You're out of joint with everything—lacking in courage—no nerve—scarcely on speaking terms with yourself. Such low spirits are pitiable. Your brain is fagged, vitality exhausted till your nerve-wracked body has gone all to the bad. FERROZONE is what you need.

FERROZONE

IS A BODY-BUILDER, A VITALIZER, A NUTRITIVE TONIC.

It's by making flesh and blood, by infusing iron and oxygen into the system that FERROZONE helps. It repairs the weak spots, instils energy, vim and endurance into worn-out organs—makes you feel like new. Why not use this grand restorative? It lifts age from the old, brings new resiliance and buoyancy of spirits to the depressed. Be vigorous, manly, ruddy-colored, cast aside weakness and enter into that happy life that follows the use of FERROZONE.

Ferrozone is sold everywhere in 50c boxes or six for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

Believed Thaw Was Sane; More Evidence is Taken

Evelyn Thaw Again on the Stand—Tries to Keep Hummel Silent—Judge Fitzgerald Overrules Objections of Delmas—Says Mrs. Thaw Herself Broke Bond of Secrecy—Severe Cross-Examination.

New York, March 16.—With Delmas fighting him every inch of the way, District Attorney Jerome yesterday secured from Abraham Hummel his complete story as to the affidavit it is said Miss Evelyn Nesbit made in the lawyer's office in 1903, charging Harry K. Thaw with beating her when she had told him that the statement that Stanford White had harmed her was not true.

The Hummel testimony came during the afternoon session of the trial yesterday, and Mr. Delmas, first objecting broadly to all of Hummel's testimony, offered a specific objection to each question put by the prosecution.

Justice Fitzgerald overruled every objection and Mr. Delmas had exceptions to the rulings noted on the records.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw herself was called to the stand in the effort of the defence to keep Hummel silent. She declared she had called upon Hummel in his professional capacity and to seek his advice as a lawyer. Stanford White had taken her to the lawyer's office with that end in view.

Justice Fitzgerald declared that admitting the proposition of counsel and client, Mrs. Thaw herself had waived the professional privilege by taking the stand early in the case and giving her version of what transpired in Hummel's office. The bond of secrecy once broken could not be re-established.

Delmas Badgers Hummel.

Unsuccessful in blocking Hummel's testimony, Delmas, in cross-examining the witness, brought from his own lips the fact that he had been convicted in December, 1905, in the very court room which Thaw is being tried on a charge of conspiracy.

He further admitted that two indictments for subordination of perjury are pending against him, and that one of these indictments charges him with having caused a false affidavit to be made.

Then Mr. Delmas asked Hummel if he had not heard the speech made by Jerome when sentence was about to be imposed; when Jerome urged the court to pass the longest and heaviest sentence within its power upon Hummel, as he "had been a menace to the community for twenty years."

Delmas wanted to know if Hummel had had any more recent business transactions with the district attorney and asked if Mr. Jerome was pressing the charges against him.

"He certainly is," said the witness with spirit.

Evelyn Signed Affidavit.

Hummel's testimony in brief was to the effect that he had dictated a statement to a stenographer in the presence of Miss Nesbit and Stanford White; that he gave the affidavit to two of his clerks to take to Miss Nesbit in the Madison Square Garden Tower and the paper was returned to him with Evelyn Nesbit's signature attached.

He kept the affidavit until Miss Nesbit called and demanded it. He refused to give it to her and turned it over to Stanford White advising him to have a photographic copy made.

Abraham Snydecker, one of Hummel's clerks, was called and said he took the affidavit to Mr. White's rooms in the Tower and handed it to a woman pointed out to him as Miss Nesbit. She kept the affidavit for five minutes and signed it, saying she had read it through.

Five alienists declared Thaw knew the nature and quality of his act and knew the act was wrong.

Jerome announced that when the matter of the admissibility of the Hummel affidavit was disposed of the prosecution would rest.

"The defence will not," said Delmas, and he further intimated that more experts would be called by him on surrebuttal.

Adjournment was taken until Monday morning.

Fatal Fight In Mid-Air.

New York, March 16.—Thursday, while standing on a narrow scaffold on the third floor of the Edison Electric Light building, which is being erected at 39th street and First avenue, Frederick Thompson and John Thornton, both negroes, grappled and fought until they tripped and fell to the first floor. Both were probably fatally injured. Thompson is 29 years old, his back was broken and he was injured internally. Thornton's back also was broken and he received contussions of the head and a broken collar bone.

Two Negroes Lynched.

Monroe, La., March 16.—Flint Williams and Henry Gardner, two young negroes, were taken from the city jail about one o'clock yesterday and hanged by a party of about 50 men. Both negroes confessed to having with a third negro, shot and robbed two Italians on Monday night.

Gardner also confessed to having entered the room of Miss Jessie Bumpus about three o'clock Tuesday morning.

Thiel Detectives Get Off.

Ottawa, March 16.—The six Thiel detectives tried before Judge St. Julien for manslaughter at Buckingham during the riots were discharged yesterday at Hull.

Horses.

A shrewd trainer once remarked that he had often seen a $10,000 horse intrusted to a groom whom the owner of the horse would not have trusted with a ten dollar bill, says the Boston Transcript. Draft horses are now very costly, a good pair costing from $500 to $700 and even more, according to their weight, beauty and so forth, and yet we often see them driven by a man who is not fit to handle a mule. A school for driving has lately been started in Paris, especially for the benefit of cab drivers, and in Chicago a firm using some hundreds of horses is giving a series of lectures or instructions to its teamsters. The truckmen and contractors of Boston would find it to their advantage to adopt some similar plan. Even the carelessness about blanketing horses in the street is probably due as much to ignorance and thoughtlessness as to downright indifference.

Heart, Throat, Liver and Skin

DR. AGNEW'S FOUR FAMOUS SPECIFICS CURE COMPLETELY THE WORST DISEASES OF THESE PARTS—DREADFUL HEART DISEASE RELIEVED IN THIRTY MINUTES.

Heart disease will affect people differently, but in all cases it must be viewed with great alarm. Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart is the one remedy that can be safely depended upon in times of trouble. It will give relief in thirty minutes.

Mr. Thomas Petry, of Aylmer, Que., was troubled with severe heart complaint for five years, the pain, at times, being so severe that he could not attend to business. Every other remedy failed until he tried Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart, which gave immediate relief, and his words are these: "I have now taken four bottles of the remedy and am entirely free from every symptom of heart disease."

A cold in the head need not be trifled with, for it is catarrh in an incipient condition, and catarrh is not to be trifled with. Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, as scores of clergymen, members of parliament, and prominent citizens in the Dominion have borne testimony, drives away a cold in the head like magic, and where this has assumed the shape of aggravated catarrh, producing deafness and throat trouble, it effects a permanent cure.

It is not always safe to take pills for liver trouble. They not unfrequently create other troubles that are serious. Dr. Agnew's Liver Pills, whilst thoroughly certain of removing all liver trouble, give no difficulty either at the time or afterwards. They are pleasant to take and cost only 10 cents.

The faculty that Dr. Agnew has displayed in getting at the seat of trouble is manifest in his Ointment, as in the other three remedies. This contains the elements that give speedy and permanent relief in all skin diseases and is peculiarly effective in curing piles. 35 cents. 13

TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC

Bill to Place Check on Dishonest Pawnbrokers.

They Must Pay Heavy License Fee and Find Security—Make Daily Report to Police—Several Government Measures Finally Passed—Lands For Volunteers—Free Grants and Homesteads.

Toronto, March 16.—The first completed legislation of the present session of the Ontario Legislature came into being yesterday afternoon when the Prime Minister, Hon. J. P. Whitney, in his capacity as Acting Minister of Lands and Mines, secured the third reading and final passing of the following Government measures:—

To amend the act to provide for the appropriation of certain lands for the volunteers who served in South Africa and the volunteer militia who served on the Frontier in 1866.

To amend the Free Grants and Homesteads Act.

Check on Pawnbrokers.

Mr. W. K. McNaught (North Toronto) moved the second reading of his bill to amend the act respecting pawnbrokers. In so doing he said the protection of the public demanded that the business should be in the hands of honest men. In Toronto the business had not always been conducted lawfully. Pawnbrokers not licensed were more independent in the conduct of their business than second-hand dealers, who were under the supervision of the police. Their places could not be searched without a search warrant and privileges now extended to the officers by honest pawnbrokers would become compulsory in all cases. The act, Mr. McNaught explained, provided for a license fee of not less than $500 and satisfactory security in the sum of $1,000. The pawnbrokers must make a daily report to the police.

Premier Endorses Bill.

The Prime Minister endorsed the bill on behalf of the Government and complimented Mr. McNaught for the care and skill he had devoted to it. The bill was given its second reading.

Peace Resolution.

Ere adjournment the following resolution was laid before the House:

"That this Legislature of Ontario heartily approves of and urges through main measures which will greatly conduce to the peace and welfare of the world, viz.:

"A plan by which The Hague conference may become a permanent and recognized congress of the nations.

This was on the motion of Premier Whitney, seconded by Hon. G. P. Graham. The Prime Minister stated that the Canadian Peace and Arbitration Society had suggested the resolution which he was happy to endorse. Mr. Graham quoted Kant, who believed war would never be over till the world was fully organized, and that it could not be so organized until Government was representative. That 46 nations should be present in the peace conference indicated the approach of that time.

CUSTOMS' TAXES.

Continue to Flow Freely Into the Dominion Treasury.

Ottawa, March 16.—The Customs returns for the month of February show a continued increase in the revenue of imports and exports. The Customs duties for the month of February totalled $4,295,297, an increase of $802,349 over the corresponding month last year. As compared with 1905-06 the Customs duties for the first eight months of the present fiscal year have increased by $4,627,029. The imports for the eight months increased by $36,402,844, and the exports by $2,555,013.

Deserted By Show Manager.

Detroit, March 16.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown of Toronto have reached Vassar, Mich., on their way to Detroit. It is said they have walked from Lowell on the west side of the State. At Vassar Brown said that he and his wife were traveling with a moving picture show, starting from South Bend, Indiana. At Lowell the proprietor deserted the company. The Browns used up all the money they had to send Mrs. Brown's sister with the Browns' three-year-old child to Toronto. They then started to walk to Detroit, where Brown has a brother. Mrs Brown said she would rather die than send home for assistance.

Blind Trooper's Relic.

Brockville, March 16.—Lorne Malloy, the blind trooper of the South African war, has just added another relic to his collection. It is a small fragment of bullet of irregular flat shape, about three-sixteenths of an inch across, with sharp, ragged edges, which was removed from his forehead a few days ago.

It was "contributed," the trooper states, on July 16, 1900, by a Boer rifle under the command of General Botha, but he was not aware of its presence until a few weeks ago when his forehead became inflamed.

Outlet of Trent Canal.

Ottawa, March 16.—The report of E. J. Walsh, C. E., and Mr. Butler, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, upon the western outlet of the Trent Valley Canal, was presented to the House last night.

It recommends an eight foot deep canal from Lake Couchiching to Georgian Bay, by way of the Severn River, or northern route.

The estimated cost of such a waterway is $1,457,000.

Jeweler Burned Out.

St. John, N.B., March 16.—Fire last night totally destroyed the jewelry establishment of F. Smiley & Son, one of the finest in Eastern Canada.

The water in the Thames River has risen four feet. There is, however, no serious danger of a flood from the ice jam.

CEILING COLLAPSES.

Douma's Forum Partly Wrecked—Was Purely Accidental.

St. Petersburg, March 16.—The ceiling of the hall in the Tauride Palace, where the Lower House of Parliament meets, collapsed yesterday and caused widespread wreckage among the seats below.

Though many rumors were circulated to the effect that the falling of the ceiling was the result of a plot to interfere with the meeting of Parliament, its purely accidental character was clearly established. The nails and other fastenings binding the ceiling to the rafters had not been replaced since the time of Catharine II., and broke under the extra weight of the new decorations. The aggregate weight of the ceiling material was so great that in its fall it twisted the massive bronze electriliers in such a way as to indicate that a terrible catastrophe would have resulted, had the fall occurred during the session of the House.

JAPS GETTING READY.

50,000 Men Making Arms Day and Night For Months.

Berlin, March 16.—Capt. Ignaz Rodio of the general staff of the Austrian-Hungarian army, in a pamphlet, "The Prospects of the Future American-Japanese War," declares the unprotected Pacific coast of the United States offers excellent chances of success for the Japanese.

He asserts Japan is working feverishly to complete her military and naval equipments, adding that, during the last few months, 50,000 men have been at work day and night in the arsenals, turning out guns and small arms.

He stated that the cartridge manufactories at Tokio and Nagoya, where 20,000 men are employed, have turned out daily 500 rifles, while the projectile works at Tokio make 600 shells a day for the field artillery.

Two Sent to Kingston.

Berlin, March 16.—William Reitz and William Heuser, found guilty last night on the charge of assault occasioning actual bodily harm to the deceased John Oraskek, were given three years and two and a half respectively in the Kingston penitentiary. His Lordship, Justice Mulock, addressing the prisoners, gave them a severe reprimand, outlining the seriousness of the offence they had committed.

Austria and Canada.

London, March 16.—(C. A. P.)—In the House of Commons, Winston Churchill stated he had no knowledge of the fiscal negotiations between Austria and Canada; he also saw no prospect of obtaining the views of the colonial Premiers as to the extent they regarded expenditure on armaments necessary to their protection.

Anxious to Come to Canada.

London, March 16.—Discharged men at Woolwich arsenal are hoping the Government will charter a vessel to emigrate them to Canada, following a precedent set 40 years ago.

Clothes and Their Wearer.

It is curious how clothes become stamped with the wearer's personality. Just as shoes and gloves adjust themselves to the wearer, hats take on a something that instinctively reminds one of the wearer. It is curious, but it is so.

Ancient Egyptians.

Egyptians of Moses' time are believed to have been a cross between the black races of the south and the white invaders from the north.

Bermuda's Government.

The Bermudans govern themselves under a veto power which is practically never exerted, says World's Work. Their constitution is almost ideal. Here is a little world of its own, with a population of 17,000 souls. The good citizens elect their representatives to a house of assembly, and they administer the affairs of the colony with economy, justice and success. Here, as in every English colony, one is impressed with the great respect for the law. Like many of the West Indian islands, the Bermudas have almost no crime. The two jails at St. George and Hamilton look like summer boarding houses, and Charles Dudley Warner tried to become a "paying guest" with the jailer at St. George, to share his pleasant tropical home and relieve his lonesomeness and ennui.

Pea Soup and Electric Baths.

Two savants have just announced the discovery of a means of prolonging life indefinitely. A Frenchman says a certain sort of electric bath solves the problem, and a Massachusetts man declares that pea soup is the elixir so long searched for. The French physician is a comparatively young man, who employs the bright vocabulary of youth, in which, it is said, there is no such word as "can't." The New Englander is ninety-three years old and has been growing young, so he asserts, since he discovered the rejuvenating qualities of pea soup and eschewed all other meat and drink with a view to turning back the hands of the clock.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

First Annual At Home of the Canadian General Employees

Will be Held Friday Evening April 5th in the Grand Opera House—Talent all Furnished by the Employees—Mr. Frederic Nicholls and Staff Will be Present.

The employees of the Canadian General Electric Works will hold an at home on the evening of Friday, April 5th. The affair will take the form of a grand concert to be given in the opera house, and the talent will all be taken from the employees in the works. This is the first annual affair and is the result of several attempts in past years to hold a mammoth excursion but owing to the constant rush at the works it was impossible for the company to close down. The idea of an At Home in the Grand opera house was mentioned at the last annual meeting of the Mutual Benefit Association and it was taken up with enthusiasm and carried through. For the past few weeks the committee of management has been working on the program and they promise to present a brilliant affair. It will be held under the auspices of the Mutual Benefit Association and is for all the employees of the works with their families and friends. That is every person connected with the C.G.E. will be made welcome and he will be given a certain number of tickets for his friends.

One of the most pleasing features of the affair is that the General Manager of the Canadian General Electric works and its allied interests, Mr. Frederic Nicholls, has signified his intention of being present with his entire executive staff. This fact will no doubt create an increased interest and enthusiasm in the At Home, as Mr. Nicholls is very popular with all the employees.

Maple Syrup Harvest Will Soon be in Full Swing

Local hardware men report a big demand for buckets, spiles and other articles used during the maple syrup season. Those who have maple bushes are preparing for the sweet season and it is likely that a big supply of maple syrup and sugar will be made in Peterborough county this spring.

A gentleman from the vicinity of Warsaw informed the Review yesterday that the outlook was not as bright as some years for a good run of sap. He based this opinion on the light fall of snow during the present winter. The prevailing opinion is that a winter of deep snow is followed by a good sap season, but this is not always the case. Some old timers aver that they have known the saccharine fluid to flow with great abundance after a winter in which there was only an ordinary depth of the beautiful.

As yet no one is reported to have tapped, but if the weather continues favorable next week will see the maple syrup harvest in full swing. The trees will be bored, spiles drove in and the buckets hung to catch the sap. The evaporators and pots and pans will be overhauled and the "sugar house" put in shape for the commencement of active operations. The sugar season, as it is generally callde, is one of much activity on the farm that boasts a sugar bush. If there is a good flow of sap the fires have frequently to kept going day and night.

Quebec and the extreme eastern counties of the province of Ontario produce the bulk of the maple syrup used in the Dominion. Down east it is not uncommon for a farmer to tap 1000 trees. The syrup sells for about a dollar per gallon and there is good money in the business for the producer at this price. When brown sugar, glucose and other preparations of this kind are used the profits are much larger and the work much less strenuous.

Where all Classes Turn Out to Clean the Streets on Sunday

Society Women in San Francisco Assist in the Work—City Clergymen Entered a Protest And Were Severely Scored by the Press—Sunday Should Not be Day of Long Faces, Cold Meals and Extreme Melancholia.

Mr Clarence Bell, of the Citizens' National Bank, San Francisco, Cal., in writing home to his father Mr. F. E. Bell, Simcoe street, says one Sunday, as the streets in the city were very dirty and in a bad condition, more especially since the earthquake and fire, every person in the place turned out to clean the streets. All classes of people joined in and helped. Society ladies took their part and served sandwiches and coffee to the laborers, and much good work was done that day.

The following editorial on the attitude of the preachers on Sunday street cleaning, appeared in the San Francisco Bulletin of a recent date

Preachers to the number of forty-three have signed a protest against the Sunday street-cleaning undertaking. They believe that the street should be left in their dirty and broken condition rather than men should break the Sunday rest by working for the common good.

Such extreme Sabbatarianism is hardly in accord with public opinion in San Francisco. We have never been very strict in our observance of Sunday. Instead of pulling down the shades, drawing long faces and eating cold meals on Sunday, we have made Sunday a feast of joy and pleasure-seeking. Sunday in San Francisco is a great day for the amusement places, the theatres, the restaurants. On that account a very large number of persons, carmen, showmen, waiters, all who serve the public at its pleasures, have been accustomed to work on Sunday and take their holiday at some other time in the week. Industry on Sundays does not scandalize us; we are familiar with it.

A great many devout Christians, especially on the European continent, take this same cheerful view of Sunday. The Lord, they say, does not ask us to have the blues as a mark of piety. They do not see any incompatibility between good humor and a good conscience. Melancholy, they have observed, has not been a striking trait of the saints.

The dismal Sunday is really a modern idea. It dates from the severe days of Puritan ascendancy in England, and even then there must have been a good deal of cant about it. Just as the Puritans, according to Macaulay's acute remark, prohibited bear-baiting, not because it gave pain to the bears, but because it gave pleasure to the spectators, so they imposed Sunday blue laws and the demeanor appropriate to them not because Christ had so commanded—for He had not—but because dullness was distressing, and, therefore, as they reasoned, virtuous, while all gaiety was sinful.

Quite the contrary of the Puritan idea of Sunday is that of the Roman Catholic Church, the most ancient, most numerous and most widespread body of Christians. Sunday in the Catholic Church is a feast of joy. Even in the Lenten season the obligation of fasting and abstaining is lifted on Sunday, so that the people may be comfortable and merry. In Catholic colleges the boys are permitted to play baseball and other clean, healthful games on Sundays, after attending church, and no moral deterioration from that cause has been observed. There are wise men who think that idle boys, barred from the sports of the campus, are more likely to occupy their time with less commendable amusements than to spend the hours in pious meditation and homiletical reading.

So much in defence of the cheerful Sunday. But the street-cleaning enterprise stands on even firmer ground. Christ expressly exempted works of charity and necessity from the command against toiling on the Sabbath, and rebuked the Pharisees for their strict construction of the law When your neighbor's ass falls into the pit on the Sabbath it is lawful to rescue him on that day.

To clean the streets on Sunday is a work of both charity and necessity. The man who handle broom and shovel on that day will do a work more pleasing in the sight of God than sitting in a pew. They will be working to secure the health and welfare of their neighbors; an enterprise quite as worthy as helping an ass out of a pit.

On no other day of the week can the work be done. Six days the men and the teams are engaged. On Sunday the men, horses and wagons can be had free of all cost, and on Sundays when no teaming is done, the workers will have the streets clear and can perform their task without interruption. Let us hope that the ministers will reconsider their position and, after services, will take off their coats and lend a hand at the work.

Foresters Spend Social Evening

Court Zion Members Pay Visit to Court Peterborough

The regular monthly meeting of Court Peterborough, No. 29, C.O.F., was held last evening in their hall, Simcoe street. About 20 members of Court Zion, Otonabee, were present. Court Zion has during the past few months initiated seventeen members and they made a visit to Court Peterborough last evening that they might learn the business of the Order. Bro. D. Menzies, J.R.C.R., occupied the chair and welcomed the visitors. After the business of the evening a social time was spent and refreshments were served. Short speeches were made by Bro. Wm. Batten, Chief Ranger Kindred, Past Chief Ranger I. G. Hazlitt and Bro. Dixon, all of Court Zion.

Eggs Lower on To-day's Market

Eggs were down to 18 cents to 20 cents per dozen on to-day's market, and the lower prices caused the demand to increase. Eggs have been so high all along that the ordinary householder "could not touch them with a ten foot pole," as a citizen remarked the other day. There was a big supply of hen fruit on hand to-day, and the majority of the baskets were emptied early in the forenoon.

But though eggs were down, butter still held to the old figures, good dairy stock selling at 24 cents to 27 cents per pound. There was plenty on hand for everybody and the request was fair.

Poultry was represented by a few chickens that sold at 60 to 90 cents per pair, and were in fair demand at these figures.

On the outside market pork and beef had the most attention. Pork, by the quarter, was quoted at 10 cents and 11 cents, and beef at 5 1-2 and 6 1-2 cents per pound. Potatoes were offered at 90 cents per bag. Some fine tubers were offered for sale and many bags changed hands. Other vegetables were unchanged in price.

Hay, of which several loads were offered for sale, sold at $14 per ton. There was no grain on the market

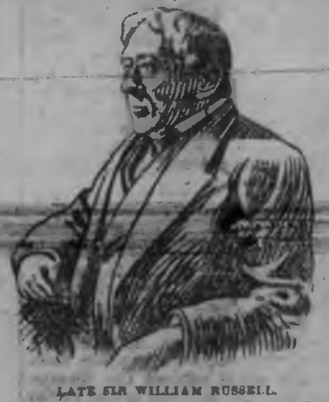
SIR WILLIAM RUSSELL

OLDEST WAR CORRESPONDENT DIES—ILLUSTRIOUS CAREER.

First to Gain International Fame in This Special Line of Newspaper Work—His Account of the Battle of Bull Run Sent the People of the Northern States Into a Spasm—Saw Balaclava.

Sir William Howard Russell, who has recently passed away, was one of the world's greatest war correspondents. He was, perhaps, the first to gain international fame in this special line of newspaper work, and he lived to see most of his contemporaries vanish from the stage, and to contemplate the beginning and the ending of such a brilliant career as that of G. W. Stevens, a man young enough to be his grandson. With the prestige of newspaper work Sir William was well acquainted. He had the honor of overthrowing a Government, and the further distinction of arousing the wrath of a nation in the making, which was poured on his head when the people of the Northern States read his account of the Battle of Bull Run. Forty years ago he visited Canada, and wrote a book about us, from a military point of view. That work is interesting and instructive to-day, even if some of his predictions have not come to pass. Russell felt that Canada's destiny was a great one, and hesitated not to say so at a time when ignorance concerning this country was universal.

Like many another distinguished Russell, William Howard was an Irishman, and was born in 1821. He graduated from Trinity College, with the intention of entering law, but at this time the country was rent by the great Repeal agitation. He sought and obtained from The London Times an appointment to describe some of the monster meetings, and so well did he do the work that he was offered a permanent position. He was sent to Denmark to report the war of 1849-05, and there won his first laurels as a war correspondent. Returning home, he resumed his studies and was called to the Bar. In 1854, he was again on the war path, at Malta, Gallipoli, Scutari and Varna. He went to the Crimea with the Second Division, and was present at the Battles of Alma and Inkermann. He was an eye-witness of the famous charge of the Light Brigade at Balaclava, and had the immortal distinction of sending to the British public the first descriptive account of that great deed. He also saw the siege of Sebastopol.



LATE SIR WILLIAM RUSSELL.

In Russell's time the war correspondent was about on the same footing as a soldier, and certainly in a campaign like the Crimea there was no possibility of a supernumerary living in much luxury, even had the authorities desired to make things easy for him. Russell fared like a soldier through the terrible hardships of that campaign. Unlike a soldier, he did not have to suffer in silence. To The Times he sent letter after letter describing the sufferings of the troops, and exposing the mismanagement of the supplies. Blundering was then rampant to a degree never since equalled, and it was assisted by rascally grafting on the part of contractors at home. Bad food, shoddy clothing and poor ammunition were the commonplaces of the day. On one occasion a shipload of boots was sent out, every boot being for the same foot, and not a pair among them.

Upon this situation Russell turned loose an able pen, and when he returned to England he found the country in a ferment of indignation. At the first election the Government was beaten, and a Government elected pledged to army reform. To Russell more than to any other person was due this overthrow, and naturally he became famous. From that time till the day of his death Russell was one of the most celebrated men in a profession that has never lacked great men. His next assignment was the coronation of the Czar, and on that occasion it is said that he was received in St. Petersburg with greater consideration than had ever been shown a correspondent before. In 1858 the outbreak of the Indian Mutiny called Mr. Russell to Lucknow, whose siege and capture he reported for The Thunderer. Next year he saw the tail-end of a war in Italy, and in 1861 he was sent to report the Civil War in the United States.

His account of the retreat of the Federal forces from the Battle of Bull Run created a fiercer controversy than any war correspondent, in similar circumstances, had aroused. It brought upon him bitter denunciation from the North, and was supposed to have a remarkable effect upon British public sympathy. Some parts of the story are worth republishing. He says:

"I perceived several wagons coming from the direction of the battlefield. . . My first impression was that the wagons were returning for fresh supplies of ammunition. But every moment the crowd increased; drivers and men cried out with the most vehement gestures: 'Turn back! Turn back! We are whipped!' They seized the heads of the horses and swore at the opposing drivers. . . . A breathless man in the uniform of an officer was cut off by getting between my horse and a cart for a moment. 'What is the matter, sir? What is all this about?' 'Why it means we are pretty badly whipped, that's the truth,' he gasped," and continued. "Again I asked an officer: 'What's all this for?' 'We are whipped, sir. We are in full retreat. You are all to go back.' 'Can you tell me where I can find Gen. McDowell?' 'No! nor can anyone else.'"

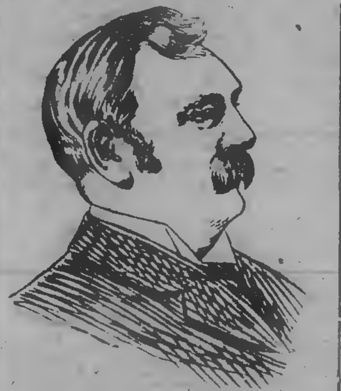
Panic seemed to have seized on the army lest the terrible Southern cavalry should appear, and when one among the fugitives would raise this cry, the result would be a worse stampede. He continues. "The scene on the road had now assumed an aspect which has not a parallel in any description I have ever read. Infantry soldiers on mules and draught horses, with the harness clinging to their heels, as much frightened as their riders; negro servants on their masters' chargers; ambulances crowded with unwounded soldiers; wagons swarming with men who threw out the contents to make room, grinding through a shouting, screaming mass of men on foot, who were literally yelling with rage at every halt, and shrieking out: 'Here are the cavalry! Will you get on?'" Russell says that he was overcome by disgust, and vainly tried to get some of the men to halt and regain their nerve. "But I might as well have talked to the stones," he says.

The discussion aroused by this report added to Russell's fame, and from that day onward his nickname was "Bull Run Russell." He reported the Austrian-Prussian war, the Franco-Prussian war, the Zulu war and the Egyptian war, and, when no fighting was on his deep knowledge of military affairs found scope in editing the Army and Navy Gazette, which he founded, and owned at the time of his death. He had the honor of accompanying King Edward when as Prince of Wales he visited the Crimea and India, and from foreign sovereigns he received many marks of esteem. In 1895 he was knighted.

SENATOR KIRCHOFFER.

Something About the Hero of 10,000 Acres of Game Preserves.

Senator John N. Kirchoffer, of Brandon, whose recent wholesale lease of 10,000 acres of game preserves on the shore of Lake Manitoba was so strongly opposed that it had to be cancelled, was one of the early builders in the Canadian west. He was born in Ireland on May 5, 1848, and spent his years of legal study in Port Hope and Toronto, being called to [illegible] at Port Hope until 1883, when he joined the early Canadians hurrying to develop the west. Mr. Kirchoffer led in the location of the Plum Creek settlement and lived with the settlers for three years. In 1884 he was called to the Bar of Manitoba and in 1886-88 he was a member of the Manitoba Legislature. His appointment to the Senate followed in 1892. His other employments have included that of Manitoba manager of the Imperial Loan and Investment Co. since 1885, and district manager of the Lands Departments of the Hudson Bay Co. and the C. P. R. The activities which these positions have provided have always been varied by a keen love of sport and athletics. Senator Kirchoffer has for years been identified with cricket and football, but his hunting lodge on Lake Manitoba is his first love and is said to be in the midst of the finest hunting grounds for ducks, geese and waterfowl in the world. It was this inviting field that the Prince of Wales and his distinguished entourage visited in 1901, where they bagged 603 ducks in two days' shooting. Senator Kirchoffer is a keen sportsman and a most amiable gentleman and host, but when he sought a monopoly of such an area of hunting grounds his old country upbringing led to a misunderstanding of the western temper, hence the protests and the cancellations.



SENATOR KIRCHOFFER.

The feeling of the west was probably correctly reflected by The Regina Leader, when it said recently "If Senator Kirchoffer and his friends must shoot ducks within an area sacred to themselves, then let them purchase the shooting rights of some English sporting estate such as is put on the market from time to time. We want no sporting aristocracy in this country maintained at the public expense, and so long as there are ducks to shoot on the Manitoba marshes they should be as accessible to the guns of the humblest sportsmen in the country as to those of Senator Kirchoffer and his aristocratic friends. The ducks, it is safe to say, would as soon be shot by a mere plebeian sportsman as by a man of Senatorial rank."

The Reward of Industry.

Sir William White, who till recently was director of naval construction of Great Britain, began life as a shipwright's apprentice, but his genius carried him up the ladder with a rapidity which startled his fellow-workers. He nearly lost his life once through taking an experimental trip with a submarine boat which on being submerged stuck in the mud. It was only after furious work with the pumps that he was rescued.

Composite Company Will Likely be Organized Again

Will a composite company from the 57th Regiment attend the annual training camp this year? This is the question which is being discussed among local military men, but no one seems to know exactly whether there will be a composite company or not. It will be remembered that last year the company spent two weeks at Cobourg and during that time they received much valuable information as to military life under canvas and were well drilled in the discipline of soldiering while camping. It is [illegible] composite company will be again formed this year and sent to the military camp at Kingston for two weeks. There would be no difficulty in securing the required number of men as many of those who were at Cobourg last year would again enlist.

A prominent local military man remarked yesterday that one thing that many of the city regiments were weak in was in soldiering under canvas. The 57th was not immune in this respect and the officer above referred to expressed the opinion that a couple of weeks of camp life would effect a big improvement in the corps. The composite company had a very beneficial effect in this connection and that is [illegible] so many are anxious to see it organized again this year. There will be no military camp at Cobourg this year, the camp again reverting to Kingston.

Peterborough Cricket Club Was Organized Last Night

Officers Elected and a Committee Appointed to Make Further Arrangements--Game Will Boom During the Summer.

The grand old English game of cricket will boom in Peterborough this summer. At an enthusiastic meeting at the Y.M.C.A last night the Peterborough Cricket Club was organized with a set of able officers and everything points towards a most successful season. About thirty were present at the meeting, among those present being many old time cricketers whose assistance and advice will be of great benefit to the club. Everyone was most enthusiastic and the following officers were elected:

President.—Dr. Burnham.
1st Vice-Pres.—Mr. C. Hill.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mr. C. Moore.
Sec.-Treas.—E. H. Wood,

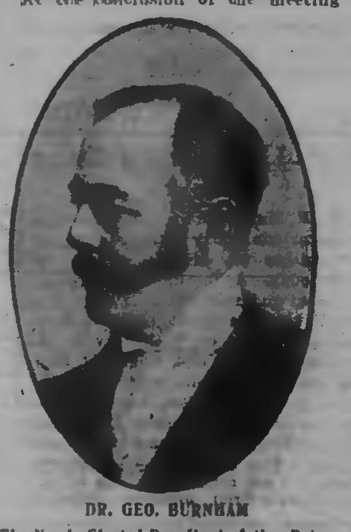
It has been decided to place the membership fee at $2.00 and the committee was empowered to make further arrangements. The next meeting will be held on Friday, March 22, when the committee will present a report. The club will have their grounds at Nicholls oval which is ideal in every respect for cricketing. Games will be arranged during the summer with the clubs at Toronto, Port Hope, Lindsay, Warkworth and other places in the district.

There is no reason why Peterborough should not have a first class cricket club. There are many good players in the city and a lot of young material that will develop with a little coaching.



DR. GEO. BURNHAM

At the conclusion of the meeting last night a vote of thanks was tendered the Y.M.C.A. for the use of their parlors.

FOOTBALL

WANTS A LINDSAY TEAM.

A communication was received recently by Mr. R. J. Begley from Mr. J. E. Sullivan, sec.-treas. of the Midland Association Football League, in regard to the formation of a football team in Lindsay to enter the League. He says, "We are anxious to have a Lindsay team enter the Midland League this year, and shall be pleased to do what we can to interest them."

While the game has never been played to any extent in town, there is lots of splendid material which, with coaching and practice, could play the game with the most of them. Association is the style of football played. Get busy, enthusiasts, and get the thing moving.—Lindsay Post.

LACROSSE

The time for receiving amendments to the C.L.A. constitution and rules closes on Tuesday next, but so far not a single proposed improvement has reached Secretary Hall. Of course one or two are bound to come. For instance, the new senior series will have to get in one to abolish that $50 tax on senior clubs, while it would never do to be without that old standby, to abolish the senior Committee of Management.—Telegram.

Knocked Down by Fire Horse

Mr. Fred Mullen Had a Narrow Escape

Mr. F. Mullen had a narrow escape from serious injury while passing the fire station on Simcoe street, at noon today. As it was, he was knocked down and received a few bruises. One of the fire teams had just come out of the hall on their way to the fire in the south end when Mr. Mullen passed the front entrance of the station. The door had not been closed and one of the horses that was still in the hall came rushing out and knocked him down. Fortunately the horse did not trample on him or he would have been seriously injured. One of the legs of his trousers was badly torn, however, as the result of the horse's hoof coming in contact with the clothe. Bystanders feared that Mr. Mullen was badly hurt, but happily this was not the case.

NAVIGATION OF PIGEON RIVER

Special to the Review.

Omemee, March 16.—An enthusiastic meeting was held here last evening when speeches were delivered by several prominent citizens in reference to making Pigeon River navigable and part of the Trent Canal system. The Pigeon River runs from this village into Pigeon Lake. It was decided to send a big delegation to Ottawa on Tuesday next in connection with the Trent Canal deputation and ask that Pigeon River be cleared of weeds and other obstructions, and made part of the Trent Canal system. The delegation will consist of leading business men, municipal and township representatives and will likely be headed by Mr. R. J. McLaughlin of Lindsay. The citizens of Omemee are intensely in earnest about the matter.

First Week of Special Services

Most Encouraging Result at Park Street Baptist Church

Last night closed the first week of special services in the Park street Baptist church revival. It certainly has been a successful week in point of numbers and converts and [illegible] fervor. Mr. Torrie preaches morning and [illegible] to-morrow and will spend the afternoon in the Sunday school. Special music for the day is arranged by the choir. The Y.M.C.A. male quartette sings on Monday night. The Torrie and Alexander songs are now well-known and sung with great heartiness. Two services for boys and girls Tuesday and Friday, at 4.20 p.m. The mission is now well under way and the workers are reaping every night. The results are inspiring.

ORANGEMEN AT FESTIVE BOARD

Special to the Review.

Keene, March 15.—Keene Lodge, L. O.L. No. 419, had a successful banquet last night. The object of the affair was purely a social reunion and a large number of the brethren turned out. The supper was all that could be desired and after the inner man had been satisfied a splendid toast list was run off. One of the chief features of the affair was the large number of visiting brethren pres- number of visiting brethren present. A bus load from Peterborough L.O.L., No. 80, Downer's Corners, L. O.L., No. 321, and Nassau, No. 457, assisted in making the evening most enjoyable.

J. W. Bell Memorial L.O.L. No. 1175 Name of the New Lodge Instituted

In Peterborough Last Night Under Dispensation Issued to W. M. Bro. H. T. Everett—Officers Were Elected and Installed by District Master Bro. Robson—Organization Growing Rapidly in This City and Need of a New Lodge Was Felt.

The J. W. Bell Memorial, L. O. L. No. 1175 is the name of a new Orange Lodge, organized in the city last night. Most promising prospects met the movement and in a short time, there is every reason to believe, it will be one of the strongest and most progressive lodges in the order.

For the past four or five years Orangeism has received an impetus which has been extremely satisfactory to the most optomistic. Its growth and influence has been great and is forcing itself more and more upon the notice of the general public month by month. In Peterborough the development has been as encouraging to the officers and members and sympathizers, as in any city in the Dominion, in fact it has been more so than in the majority of places.

H. T. EVERETT

At the present time there are about six hundred men in the city affiliated with the Orange Order. This number is being constantly added to, and there are not a few of the leading men who see in the near future in this up to date and progressive city, an Orange population of one thousand. Not only is the membership on the upward grade, but the true principles and good influences of Orangeism are more fully realized, and those who come within the Orders grasp are made better men and better citizens.

To a great extent that old time

County Master, Peterborough

feudalism, one so prominent in the Order, has been blotted out. In fact it is today hardly noticeable. But, the real principles are still as bright and play a much greater part than ever before. So much for advanced civilization and broader education, which is found in the lodge room, as conspicuously as it is in the outer world.

As has already been stated the Orange Order in Peterborough has been constantly advancing. At the present time there is such a large membership of L. O. L. No. 80 that it was felt by a large number that a second lodge should be instituted. The benefits of a second branch are numerous, but the main one is that a more equal representation is to be had and the good resulting would be more general.

Years ago, L. O. L., No. 49, was located here, as well as No. 80, but both lodges were on a small scale and some ten or twelve years ago, when their lodge room in the China Hall block was destroyed by fire and everything lost, it was decided to amalgamate. This movement was carried out and the one lodge was made a strong force and has been in a prosperous condition ever since. At the time of the re-organization or amalgamation the older lodge, viz., No. 80 was sustained, and No. 49, dropped. No. 80 has been in existence in this city, almost since the place was a forest, it having been instituted some forty-five or fifty years ago.

STARTED ORGANIZATION.

About the first of the new year the feeling of the necessity for another Orange Lodge, began to take actual form. Several of the more prominent Orangemen proclaimed their willingness to take hold of the work. Bro. H. T. Everett and Bro. John E. Carscallen withdrew from L. O. L. No. 80, and took upon themselves the task of instituting L. O. L. No. 1175. These two brethren have labored unceasingly and they have now the pleasure of seeing their efforts brought to a successful terminal. So harmoniously did all Orangemen work together that today the members are unanimous that the move was advisable and a beneficial one, and the future points to as great or even greater success than the old lodge has achieved in the past.

NEW LODGE NAMED.

A meeting of the brethren was held for the purpose of selecting a name for the new branch of the grand old Orange Order. Many suitable and appropriate titles were suggested, but probably a better one that that selected could not be found. J. W. Bell Memorial L. O. L. No. 1175, Peterborough, is how the new branch will be known, and it [illegible] general favor among the Orangemen.

The late [illegible] J. W. Bell was probably one of the best known Orangemen in the Dominion of Canada. He was the member of Parliament for many years in the good old county of Addington, and was in the House of Commons in those stirring days when the Jesuit's Estate Act was before the people so prominently. He was also one of the noble thirteen who voted against the passage of the act. He was one of the greatest and most enthusiastic Orangemen of his day, and he never lost an opportunity to advance its principles.

For several years he was Past Grand Master of the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East, and at the time of his death he occupied the office of president of the Triennial Council of the World, the highest honor the Orange Association can confer upon a member.

FIRST MEETING.

The new lodge, J. W. Bell Memorial, was instituted under the dispensation issued by Dr. T. S. Sproule, Grand Master and Sovereign of British America, a few days ago. Bros. Everet and Carscallen had everything all ready and the organization meeting was called and held last night in the Orange Hall, Simcoe street.

At the meeting there was a large number present, including District Grand Master, Bro. A. R. Robson, and the district officers, who installed the new officers, and conducted the organization work.

The Worshipful D.M., Bro. A. Robson, occupied the chair, with the following district officers present:—John A. Armstrong, Chaplain; W. G. Bartley R.S.; H. McClure, D. of C.; T. A. Young, P.D.M., and J. H. Briggs, P.D.M. also Bro. W. H. G. Armstrong, County Master of West Peterborough, and a large number of members from the local lodges, as well as a number of candidates.

After the new lodge had been duly instituted, the candidates initiated and the officers elected and installed, the District Master, Bro. Robson, expressed the unfeigned pleasure it gave him to have had the privilege of instituting the lodge, and congratulated Bro. H. T. Everett on the success which had rewarded his efforts to have another Orange lodge organized in Peterborough, and on the honor which had been conferred on him in being elected its first presiding officer.

Bro. Everett made a very appropriate and pleasing address in reply, returning thanks for the confidence which the members had reposed in him in electing him their first Worshipful Master, and promised to do his utmost to further the interests of the lodge and propagate the principles of the Orange Association.

Bro. W. H. [illegible], County Master, having been requested to say a few words, expressed his gratification at being present, and predicted a bright future for the lodge. He said there was as great a need for the Orange Order to-day as there was in the past.

Bro. T. A. Young, Past District Master, said that it gave him much pleasure to be present on such an occasion as the institution of a new Orange Lodge, and wished it much prosperity.

Bros. Bartley and Carscallen briefly addressed the brethren, and offered some good advice to the members, urging them to keep clear of party politics.

The new lodge will meet on the 1st and 3rd Fridays of each month.

Owing to the hour being very late when the degree work was finished, the initiation of the candidates was postponed until the next regular meeting, when there will be a large number ready to enter the Orange Order. Five officers took the Orange, Purple and Blue degrees and were instructed in the secret work of the Association. The twelve officers were all made charter members, and the new lodge starts out with most promising prospects.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The officers elected and installed to govern the J. W. Bell Memorial L.O.L., No. 1,175 for the ensuing year are:—

W.M.—Henry T. Everett.
Chaplain—R. Juby.
Rec.-Sec.—A. E. Bartley.
Fin. Sec.—James Garside.
Treasurer—Geo. E. Williamson.
Director of Cer.—Urial Hawley.
1st Lecturer—Arch. M. Macdonald.
2nd Lecturer—James Morris.
1st Committeeman—Wm. Butler.
2nd Committeeman—W. Henry.
3rd Committeeman—A. J. Cleare.

As the Master of the lodge is a bachelor and has no family ties it was unanimously decided that he should have charge of the goat and early this morning he was seen leading billy home.

The Spring Overcoat

Because a man can go without a Spring Overcoat at a pinch, sweltering in his winter overcoat or shivering without any over-garment at all through the weeks that span the interval from real winter to real summer, this garment has become a sort of badge of prosperity.

THE COAT

that has the most admirers this season is the Three-quarter Length Overcoat in Black or Oxford Gray. The long Swagger Raincoats in Coverts and Thibets, and the swellest of the swell Coats, the Paddock, with long handsome Skirts in Plain Gray and Black Thibets.

Black Vicuna, Three-quarter Length, at $18.00
Gray Thibet, Three-quarter Length, at $15.60
Covert Rain Coats, long swagger, at $10 and $12
Vicuna and Covert, in Paddock style, $16, $18 & $25

Our Coats have hand-padded shoulders, hand-made collars, with the best of hair cloth fronts. Some are handsomely silk lined and very luxurious garments.

Explains Position of His Company

Mr. Meldrum Has Something to Say in the Electric Situation

Mr. W. H. Meldrum, of the Otonabee Power Company, stated today that the report to the effect that the Otonabee Power Company had fought the city to prevent it going in for municipal ownership of power or light was not correct. The Otonabee Company had no objection to the city undertaking electric lighting if the municipality thought it could furnish such a service cheaper than the Otonabee people.

Mr. Meldrum added that his company had fought the Peterborough company before the Legislature in past years, but it was because they did not want special privileges conferred on the Peterborough Company which they (the Otonabee) did not possess. There had never been any long drawn out battle between the power companies, and the city and the only reason that representatives of the Otonabee Company were in Toronto this time, was to have included in the clause of the bill that the city have the right to purchase the Peterborough Light and Power Company "and any other company." This was done, the clause being enlarged to take in all companies.

Sleighing Party Had Troubles

A party of young people drove out to Chemong Park last night and enjoyed a dance in Mr. Hopwood's cottage on Hopwood Island. The drive was full of experiences and some of the party are nursing severe colds.

Before getting out of the city limits the driver pulled over to the side of the road and the sleighs slid into the ditch and the load was upset. Two or three got their feet wet, but otherwise no damage was done.

They started out in a sleigh, but only reach the long hill when they all had to get out and wait until the driver returned for the wheels. The sleighing from the city out to the hill was very bad, and no time could be made. It took just an hour and a half for the horses to come back to the city and get the buss. In the meantime the boys and girls crossed a ditch to get shelter from the breeze, but in doing so, went through the ice and got water up to their knees. They all huddled together in a fence corner and tried to keep warm.

After the bus with the wheels arrived, the young people piled in and started again. They had not gone far when they struck good sleighing and more trouble was in store for them. The wheels sunk into ruts and slid down the side of the road so that several times an upset was narrowly averted. Five times the boys had to get out and shove the bus up onto the road again. Then when they reached the park the snow was hub deep, and had never been broken so that the party was strictly up against it.

The cottage was reached, however without serious damage. The boys started fires going, a couple of fiddles supplied music and the young people danced until midnight. Then the girls served refreshments and all started home, arriving here early in the morning. They say, however, that they had a good time.

A Smoking Chimney Was Cause of the Alarm at Noon To-day

A couple of minutes before one o'clock today a fire alarm was sent in and the brigade went down to Crescent street. There was no fire. A chimney on a house was smoking more than usual. The alarm was telephoned in from Macdonald's office by a boy. It is such cases as these that Chief Rutherford will investigate and prosecute the party or parties responsible for the alarm.

LAID TO REST

Funeral of the Late Mrs. James Dolan Was Largely Attended.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Jas. Dolan, who died on Wednesday morning in Chicago, took place this morning at 8 o'clock, from the residence of Mr H. LeBrun, Simcoe street, to St Peter's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

The obsequies were largely attended, showing the esteem in which the deceased lady was held. Rev. Father McColl chanted requiem mass at the cathedral, and Rev. Father O'Leary conducted the solemnities at the grave. The pall bearers were Messrs John Moloney, John Corkery, B. Morrow, N. T. LePlante, H. LeBrun and M. Connors. Among the relatives in attendance were Mr. Leopold LeMay, and Miss Ernestine LeMay, of Bracebridge, brother and sister respectively, of the deceased. Four sons and two daughters were present at the last sad rites to-day. They are Robert E., Edward P., and Herman, of Chicago, and James, of Columbus, Ohio, Miss Sadie, of Chicago, and Miss Margaret, of Kankakee, Mich., were the daughters present. The sympathy of many friends is extended to the grief-stricken family in the loss of a kind and loving mother.

One Ingredient of Zutoo

Is soda—just old-fashioned soda, that our grandmothers took to settle the stomach.

The principal ingredient—the one that stops the headache, is a vegetable ingredient, imported for us from Japan. It wont hurt you any more than will the soda.

The other ingredients of Zutoo are just as harmless.

If you knew what the drug cures contain, and their ultimate effect on the system, you would discard them at once and take Zutoo, which is harmless as Soda.

The Meetings at George St Church

The week's meetings closed at the George street Methodist church last evening with deep interest. Rev. Dr. Crothers addressed the assembly on the "Lost Christ." A duett with good effect was given by Asa Huycke and this sister.

CELEBRATION OF NATAL DAY OF THE PATRON SAINT OF EMERALD ISLE

To-morrow the Anniversary of St. Patrick Will be Celebrated Wherever the Sons of Ireland Dwell—The Memorable Day, the Precious Memories That it Awakens, and the Splendid Traditions That are Enshrined in the Heart of Every True Follower of the Great Missionary Apostle—The Dear Little Shamrock Will be Much in Evidence To-morrow.

IRISH MELODIES THAT NEVER DIE

(Moore)

The harp that once through Tara's halls,
The soul of music shed,
Now hangs as mute as Tara's walls
As if that soul were fled.—
So sleeps the pride of former days,
So glory's thrill is o'er,
And hearts that once beat high for praise,
Now feel that pulse no more!

No more to chiefs and ladies bright
The harp of Tara swells;
The chord, alone, that breaks at night,
Its tale of ruin tells.
Thus freedom now so seldom wakes,
The only throb she gives,
Is when some heart indignant breaks
To show that still she lives.

The Natal Day of Good St. Patrick

Some Interesting Information About the Great Apostle

Tomorrow the world over, everyone who has a strain of Irish blood in his veins will wear a bit of green ribbon or a shamrock leaf, and thousands of Irishmen parade in honor of their patron saint. Yet in spite of all this preparation for the welcome of this great day, the extent of knowledge of most people in regard to good St. Patrick, includes the fact that he is patron saint of Ireland, and according to popular tradition, drove the snakes out of that country—and there it stops. How he became the patron saint, and why the shamrock is so closely connected with him, but few seem to know. And yet a true Irishman will tell you that if it were not for the great saint, Ireland would probably never had the shamrock as its emblem.

History has not revealed whether St. Patrick came from France, Scotland or Ireland, the three countries to which are attributed his birthplace, but the fact remains that, wherever he was born, he devoted his life to the welfare of the people of Ireland, and they, and those of their blood in this country, are the only people who celebrate his day, and who have any memorials of him, the most noted being the church that bears his name in Dun-Patrick.

Men have come into the world, attained distinction, and their memories have been commemorated for some centuries but none of them has left a more lasting impression than the "Apostle of Ireland," the memory of whose good works is renewed every 17th of March.

Many and widely conflicting are the accounts which have been handed down from father to son regarding St. Patrick.

He was born in Scotland, at Dunbarton on the Clyde; at Nantes, in France; at Boulogne-sur-mer, and at various other places, according to many so-called authorities, but his origin still remains shrouded in mystery. Since in his "Confessions," St. Patrick tells of his call to Ireland, it might with reason be inferred that he was not already there. However, Ireland, in his time, that is about the fifth century, was called Hibernia, or Scotia, and the people called Scots, which may account for the apparent discrepancy.

All historians, however, appear to agree in the main as to the story of his life following his birth. He was only a shepherd boy when he was filled with the desire to work for the salvation of pagan Ireland, and soon his fame spread all over the country, with the wonderful tales of his conversions of the people.

Finally he came to the land of one King, Leogaire by name, and there, on the hill of Tara, of which Moore, and other Irish bairds have sung, he incurred the displeasure of that monarch by lighting a fire preparatory to his celebration of Easter, which was but a few days off. The act of kindling this fire was in direct violation of the pagan festival rites which were then in progress among the king and his subjects.

King Leogaire ordered the miscreant brought before him, but he was so impressed with the dauntlessness of the man, and interested in the wonderful tale he told of a religion of which they knew naught, and of a God of whom they had never heard, that he brought his wise men or druids to face the stranger, and question him about his religion. Here, while explaining the mystery of the Trinity, and while replying to questions about the triple personality of the one God, St. Patrick stooped and picked up a shamrock leaf, and holding it up before the gaze of the people, said: "See are not these three leaves growing on one stem, as remarkable as that there should be three Gods in one?" So it is not the leaf itself which holds significance for the Irish people, but the form of the trefoil. Queen's College at Cork, was erected to commemorate this memorable conference of St. Patrick with the druids.

When his strange, eventful life was over, St. Patrick, or Bishop Patrick as he was then called, was buried at Dun-Patrick, Dun-da-lath-glas, or the dun of the broken fetters, and here, until the time of the Reformation, were preserved his relics. The place is still held in veneration by his faithful followers.

Material memorials of St. Patrick are numerous in this country, which holds him as his own, but the church bearing his name is the most interesting of all. Passing down the quaint old Nicholas and Patrick streets, Dun-Patrick, one comes to the Cathedral of St. Patrick, so filled with monuments and memorial tablets as to be called the Westminster of Ireland.

The covered well at the base of the first pillar in the south transept is commonly ascribed to St. Patrick and the baptismal font was used by the worthy Bishop in anointing two hundred and seventy-one of the [illegible]

The history of the church itself is intricate and interesting. In the year 1190 Comynan, Anglo-Norman Archbishop of Dublin adopted an ancient church which was particularly reverenced for its association with St. Patrick. This he altered into a collegiate church, and it was raised by his successor, Henry de Loudres, to the dignity of a cathedral. Subject to many changes since, the original form of this stately pile is almost obliterated.

The tomb of the holy man near the cathedral is marked with a huge boulder, upon which are carved a plain cross and the one word "Patrick."

As a record of one of his greatest deeds in his holy work is Slane Abbey, or rather the ruins of it, standing on Tara Hill, where St. Patrick lighted his fire, and here and there throughout the country one may come upon an ancient "standing stone," with the cross which was engraved on it by order of the saint, thus consecrating it to Christian faith.

These standing stones, which were to the early celt what the totem pole is to the Alaskan of today, were thrown down by St. Patrick to emphasize the fact that paganism was to be left entirely behind. Some of the stones were left, however, but these were marked with the cross.

In the Dublin museum are the good saint's iron bell and cover, the latter being covered with beautiful Celtic engravings. The bell is of a type of those which were wrung by hand from the windows of the watch tower, and was probably used by St. Patrick to call the faithful together.

In Cork the principal highway is named after the good saint, and it is up and down this street that the annual St. Patrick's Day parade takes place.

Ireland's Dear Little Shamrock

The Shamrock, or small white clover (trifolium ripens of botanists), is almost universally worn in the hat over all Ireland, and indeed in all parts of the world, on St. Patrick's day. The popular notion is, that when St Patrick was preaching the doctrine of the Trinity to the pagan Irish, he used this plant, bearing the three leaves on one stem, as a symbol or illustration of the great mystery. To suppose, as some absurdly suppose, that he used it as an argument would be derogatory to the Saint's high reputation for orthodoxy and good sense, but it is certainly a curious co-incidence, if nothing more, than that the trefoil in Arabic is called shamrock, and was held sacred in Iran as emblematical of the Persian Triads. Pliny, too, in his Natural History says that serpents are never seen upon trefoil, and it prevails against the stings of snakes and scorpions. This, considering St Patrick's connection with snakes, is really remarkable, and we may reasonably imagine that, previous to his arrival, the Irish had ascribed mystical virtues of the trefoil of shamrock, and on hearing of the Trinity for the first time, they fancied some peculiar fitness in their already sacred plant to shadow forth the newly revealed and mysterious doctrine. And we may conclude in the words of the poet;—

Long may the shamrock,
The plant that blooms forever,
With the rose combined,
And the thistle twined,
Defy the strength of foes to sever;
Firm be the triple league they form,
Despite all change of weather;
In sunshine, darkness, calm or storm,
Still may they fondly grow together.

A Character of The Highest Order

Saint Patrick, whether of English or Scotch birth, was in temperament and genius unquestionably Irish. His vivid imagination and his love of good and beautiful, glowing in the warmth of an ardent temperament, produced what posterity declares to be a character of the highest order. The adoption by the Irish people of this truly great man as their patron saint indicates in itself the noble aspirations of that people. The patron saint of Canada has yet to be selected. Historically he ought to be Saint Laurent, after whom the mighty river was named by its first explorer. Following the example of the Irish, who Catholic and Protestant alike yield willing allegiance to Saint Patrick, we Canadians might choose Saint Laurent, but in present condition of Canadian political life it might be as well perhaps to pay him the greater honor of letting him rest in peace.

Ireland's Conversion; Work of St. Patrick

The conversion of Ireland was due under God to the action of the Holy See. Pope St. Celestine I. (422-32), sent St Palladius as the first bishop to Ireland. He was not kindly received by the people, and after building a few churches left the island only to die soon after among the Picts of Caledonia. St. Patrick, or Patritius was probably born and certainly brought up at Bonaven Taberniae (Bologne sur Mer, in Brittany.) He was captured at the age of sixteen and sold as a slave to an Irish chief. The six years spent in Ireland made him fully acquainted with the language and customs of the natives and filled him with a burning desire to convert the Irish race. After finishing his studies in the monastic institutions of Marmoutier and Lerins he went to Rome in 431, received his canonical mission to preach the gospel in Ireland from Pope Celestine I., and returned to the Green Isle as a bishop. With nine companions St. Patrick landed in the Bay of Dublin. Refused admittance he sailed thence, entered the Boyne, and proceeded to Tara in Meath, the residence of the Irish overking. Here, opposed by the druids, but supported by the bards, he converted Leaghaire, the overking, and a vast number of his subjects. He continued his apostolic work at the national games at Taltén, destroyed the idol Cromcruach (Moloch? the Sun?) on the field of Leithrim, and baptized a king and 12,000 of his people at a national convention near Toclat. In Connaught he spent 8 years. Bards and chiefs eagerly embraced the faith; whole clans were baptized at a time. Passing over to Ulster he founded the Archbishopric of Armagh. Everywhere rose churches, monasteries, convents and schools, mostly of humble materials, but not the less centres of civilization for Ireland, and nurseries of missionaries for the newly established Teutonic kingdoms. St. Patrick gave to the Church in Ireland a monastic constitution, monks being appointed to bishoprics.

The conversion of Ireland was completed during the lifetime of St. Patrick, not indeed without temporary and local reactions in favor of heathenism, but without persecution and bloodshed. St. Patrick died probably in 493. The warlike and impressionable people of Erin manifested towards him an impassioned veneration which thirteen centuries have not lessened.

ST. PATRICK'S WORK.

St. Patrick's success is due in part to his eminent prudence in dealing with Irish customs. He confirmed in the law of the Brehons whatever did not clash with Holy Writ, the laws of the Church, or the consciences of the believers. According to the monastic constitution which he gave to the Church in Ireland, the bishops adapted themselves to the civil division of society and exercised their episcopal functions in their clans. The Irish Monasteries, whether extensive establishments, or groups of separated cells, were clans or septs organized on a religious footing. The monks or culdees (cultores Dei) obeyed abbots, who were usually of chieftain blood. On the other hand, St. Patrick placed the church in Ireland into the closest connection with and submission to the Holy See. The Canon of St. Patrick copied in the Book of Armagh from the Apostle's own handwriting, says: "Whenever any cause that is very difficult shall arise, it is rightly referred to the See of the Archbishop of the Irish, and to the examination of the Prelates thereof. But if there by him and his wise men a cause of this nature cannot easily be made up, we have decreed it shall be sent to the See Apostolic, that is to say, to the chair of the Apostle Peter, which hath the authority of the city of Rome." This submission of Ireland to the Holy See is shown by the writings of the oldest Irish authors, the liturgy of the Irish Church and the collections of canons made in 700. Many bishops of Ireland were educated and consecrated in Rome. Heads of Irish Monasteries went to the Holy See to obtain a confirmation of their rules. Irish missionaries going forth to preach the gospel among German nations went to Rome to have their missions approved. The stream of Pilgrimage from Ireland to Rome was so constant that hospices for Irish pilgrims existed in the principal cities of Gaul, Germany and Italy, at Paris, Koeln, Ratisbon, Vienna in the mountains of Vorarlberg (Victorsberg), etc.

Good Example to Modern Missionary

St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland looms up through the mists of centuries as one of the great figures in history. The facts concerning his early life are exceedingly meagre. Some say that he was born near modern Boulogne in France. The probable place of his birth was near Kilpatrick in Scotland, in 396. He was the son of a deacon in the early church, and no doubt was carefully trained in his boyhood home. At the age of 15, in the year 411, he was carried away to Ireland by a band of rovers, and for six or seven years spent his life as a slave, looking after his master's cattle in the mountains of Antrim. Here he made plans to escape, and finally succeeded and made his way to Britain. He tells us that they received him as a son. He was led to give himself to the sacred ministry, and while making preparations had, like St Paul, a vision of the people in Ireland inviting him over to help them. His maternal uncle was St. Martin, of Tours, whom he visited

ANOTHER OF MOORE'S SWEET IRISH SONGS

Tho' the last glimpse of Erin with sorrow I see,
Yet wherever thou art shall seem Erin to me;
In exile thy bosom shall still be my home,
And thine eyes make my climate wherever we roam.

To the gloom of some desert or cold rocky shore,
Where the eye of the stranger can haunt us no more,
I will fly with my Coulin, and think the rough wind
Less rude than the foes we leave frowning behind.

And I'll gaze on thy gold hair, as graceful it wreathes,
And hang o'er thy soft harp, as wildly it breathes;
Nor dread that the cold-hearted Saxon will tear,
One chord from that harp, or one lock from that hair.

Hibernians and St. Patrick's Day

Will Partake of Communion To-morrow—St. Patrick's Day Sermon at Vespers

Tomorrow will be St. Patrick's day, the anniversary of the patron saint of Ireland.

The members of Division No. 1 Ancient Order of Hibernians, will receive communion in a body at 8 o'clock mass in St. Peter's Cathedral tomorrow morning.

In the evening the annual St. Patrick's day sermon willl be preached in the Cathedral by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Ennismore.

Father Fitzpatrick is one of the most eloquent Irish speakers and will do full justice to the great theme. The congregation will likely tax the seating capacity of the cathedral to the utmost

The St. Peter's T.A.S. St. Patrick's concert will be held in the Grand opera house on Monday night next. There will also be a St. Patrick's celebration in St. Martin's hall, Ennismore. [illegible]

St. Patrick's Day

Tomorrow is the anniversary of St. Patrick, the patron saint of the Emerald Isle, dear to every soul of Irish birth, and to none more dear than to the son of Ireland far from its shores. It is no wonder that the day, and the memories it wakens, and the things it represents, should be sacredly observed, and fondly cherished by every Irishman and every Irishwoman. This observance is natural and commendable, and quite consistent with the most loyal patriotism to the country which is the new home of the Irishman. No matter what new ties, however dear, a man may form, love for, and devotion to, his mother cannot, and do not, antagonize and other affection. They only ennoble and deepen and sanctify it. Ireland is dear to Irishmen as the land of their birth, or ancestry; it is dear for its history—the land where the standard of the Cross was stained by no blood but that of the Divine Atonement; the centre of missionary enterprises, whence radiated the light of Christianity, illuminating not only the British Isles, but many of the dark corners of Europe, and with a persistent influence that makes Ireland one of the most religious countries in the world; whether we have regard to the stern Presbyterianism of the north, or the more ardent and soul-rooted piety of the South. Though the streams from the central fount have widely diverged in form, if not in the crucial essence, it does not seem visionary to regard the deeply religious character of the Irish people as an outgrowth from the simple Gospel planted by the first Bishop of Ireland.

It may be counter to popular conception or fallacy to say that no section of Ireland territorially or otherwise has a monopoly of interest in St. Patrick as Ireland's patron Saint, but what is inconsistent in claiming that every Irishman whether he be of Antrim or Cork, has a right to the tutelary shelter of St. Patrick. It is therefore becoming that all Irishmen, especially in Canada, where the most perfect equality of civil and religious privilege prevails, should unite in celebrating the day that it seems has fallen nearest the dawning of a brighter day for Ireland. A day that seems destined to see the beginning of a reign of juster relations, the beginning of the end of rending factions, and of warring interests, where there should be harmonious co-operation in procuring redress for the grievances, and justice for long suffering Ireland. It may not be too optimistic to hope that before another anniversary arrives Irishmen in Canada may join hands across the seas with Irishmen in the old land in congratulations upon the fact that an Irishman on leaving his native land will not have to ask an alien landlord for the privilege of taking with him on his exile a handful of "earth," or in the fact that significance will have forever departed from the wail of "Rory Darlin"—"For there's no more room in Ireland—for the land is ours no more." Nor may it be optimistic to regard as a sequel to pending reform, the near possibility for Ireland of the boon of home rule, "as they have in Canada"—a boon for which, as associated with responsible government, we all as well as all Irish Canadians, are very largely indebted to a noble Irish Canadian—Hon. Robert Baldwin.

Nearly one fifth of the waste products of the body is eliminated by the skin. Suppose there is some unsuspected, unseen skin trouble—the pores are closed—the skin is unable to rid the system of its share of the waste.

Then the blood carries this waste product to the kidneys—immediately they are overworked—they strain to throw off the extra load. What the kidneys can't possibly eliminate, the blood takes up again and deposits on the nerves.

Then come the dull aches in back, hips and head—the nerves unstrung and irritated—the urine charged with impurities and highly colored—and you fear you have "Kidney Trouble."

Nonsense. Your kidneys are overworked—not diseased. What you need is "FRUIT-A-TIVES" to act on the skin.

Fruit-a-tives

(or Fruit Liver Tablets)

open the clogged pores—start up healthy skin action—and let the skin perform its natural function. This instantly relieves the kidneys of overwork—the back-aches stop and the complexion is beautified. There is no excessive waste matter in the blood to bring dull headaches—the urine is cleared—the bowels are opened and regulated—and the kidneys strengthened.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" act directly on the three great eliminating organs—Skin, Kidneys and Bowels—make them well and keep them well. That is why "FRUIT-A-TIVES" cure so many cases of apparent kidney disease that are really skin troubles.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" are fruit juices—in which the natural medicinal action of fruit is many times increased by the secret process of making them. Valuable tonics and antiseptics are added and the whole made into tablets—the finest formula known to medicine.

Buy them—try them—and cure yourself at home. 50c. a box—6 boxes for $2.50. At all druggists or sent on receipt of price.

The Daily Review

SATURDAY, MARCH 16, 1907.

PETERBORO'S SPECIAL ACT.

The special bill of the city of Peterborough has passed the Private Bills' Committee. It came through with flying colors, very few changes being made. It was a wise movement on the part of the city council to send a deputation to Toronto last week to interview the chairman and members of the committee. This was an admirable, precautionary step and resulted in the measure being in such shape that it required little or no adjustment in committee. Mr. Bradburn, M. P. P., has also been particularly active in the city's interests and deserves a hearty vote of thanks for his untiring efforts. The most important clauses were the ones relating to the purchase of the electric light and gas plants of the Peterborough Light & Power Company, conferring on the municipality the right to develop, use, sell or lease electric power, creating a corporate body of the water works commission, giving them the right to tax certain vacant properties fronted by mains and lastly but not least, the matter of fixing the assessment of the Canadian General Electric Company's plant, buildings and future extensions for a term of years. The valuation has been fixed at $150,000 for a period of ten years, dating from 1911, at the termination of the present assessment.

The company will pay school taxes on the full assessed value of their property. The city asked that the $150,000 valuation extend over twenty years, but the committee thought this was too long and an amendment was passed, fixing the time at ten years. The present assessment is $100,000 and the company pay school taxes only on this amount. Under the new regulation they must pay school taxes on the full assessed value of their property.

With regard to the application of the water commissioners to tax vacant property fronted by water mains, this matter will first have to be voted upon by the people and, if carried by them, the proposed levy will go into effect. This is perfectly satisfactory and there is but little doubt that the ratepayers will vote yea to the proposition. Should not vacant property be taxed a certain amount for civic improvements and conveniences from which it reaps an indirect if not direct benefit.

As to the purchase of the electric and gas plants of the Peterborough Light & Power Co., ample safeguards are secured. The matter must, before consummated, be submitted to the property holders and approved by them, and also the Hydro-Electric Power Commission. This is a double protection, so to speak, against extravagance or rashness. It is satisfactory to learn that the city has been given authority to go into the power business free from the entanglements and restrictions of the vexatious Conmee Act. It will not be necessary for the corporation to purchase the business, franchise or plant of any other existing company, and negotiations looking to the acquirement of the Peterborough Light & Power Company's electric and gas plants may now being carried on unhampered. If the people decide to go into the power, lighting and gas business, it is gratifying to learn that these utilities will be managed by the water commissioners, who have done such excellent work in the past in connection with the system and are fully qualified and thoroughly experienced to undertake even larger duties in the interest and welfare of the citizens.

PRISON LABOR

Much has been heard on the hustings and through the columns of the press regarding prison labor. Various solutions have been propounded and the question is now being taken into serious consideration by the Government and it is expected that a satisfactory adjustment will be worked out.

Dr. R. Bruce Smith, provincial inspector of prisons, in his annual report discusses prison labor and, among others, makes the following observation;

"We must call attention to the sad fact that we still have a considerable number of men unemployed, a number ranging from twenty-five to sixty. Enforced idleness for a period of several consecutive months is more injurious to the average convict than our words can express. This places the prisoner out of touch with the social and industrial conditions of the day, and when he leaves the prison he is more helpless than when he entered. Under these circumstances the ex-convict is a menace to soicety, and a financial burden upon the State. The chief aim of every prison should be to equip the inmates for honest pursuits on the outside. The three great reforming elements are religion, labor and education. Without labor the influence of the other two is greatly impaired. In this age of keen competition and specialization, the labor must be of that character that keeps men abreast of the times and equips them for positions in the industrial world. You can appreciate the force of this when we state that sixty per cent. of our population are under thirty years of age, and that the greatest cause of crime is defective early training, idleness being the chief characteristic. Not one in a hundred of our inmates has learned a trade before coming here."

Dr Smith also says; "The question of prison labor should be solved by the fact that it is infinitely better to equip the criminal to make a living for himself and those depending upon him, rather than tax the honest toiler to maintain the crook and his family."

The difficulty seems to be to provide the convicts with labor and, at the same time prevent competition with free labor outside. The government is attempting this in the Central Prison by employing the prisoners at woodworking. In road making there is ample opportunity for the employment of all the prisoners in jails and other prisons without seriously competing with free workers. By the making of good roads the public would be benefited, and a return would be had for the large outlay in the maintenance of criminals.

PEN POINTS

Get out your shamrock.

To-morrow will be the 17th of March. Do not forget the date.

One of these days the new fire hall on Aylmer street will be occupied—but then there is no occasion for a rush.

It is a great gratification to all concerned that the city's private bill has passed the committee stage of the Ontario Legislature.

What caused the depression in the stock market on Wall street? Surely it could not have been one of the results of Peterborough losing the dairy show?

In San Francisco they clean the streets on Sunday, which is better than neglecting them altogether. "The better the day the better the deed" is probably a tenet of the southerners.

Unmistakeable evidences of Peterborough's prosperity are the number of big real estate deals, and the active preparations being made on all sides for a busy building season.

In the Thaw trial District Attorney Jerome put a hypothetical question of 13,000 words to expert alienists, and they answered the elongated query in less than fifteen. Another instance of brevity being the soul of wit.

The grim messenger of death seems to hover over the Canadian House of Commons. No less than four members of Parliament have been called to a higher chamber since the opening of the present session.

The curlers are regretfully bidding farewell to an unusually enjoyable season. There is one contest yet to come off—the Grits vs. the Tories. The latter are certain of a sweeping victory. There is not a stain upon the reputation of any Conservative curler.

Premier Whitney and Hon. J. S. Hendrie, speaking in the Legislature the other day, alluded to the admitted fact that most public libraries pander to a vitiated taste for poor fiction. Mr. Whitney went so far as to say that a large percentage of the books taken out of the public libraries are "trashy novels" and he deplored the fact.

Indications point to another busy season for Canadian architects and builders. A large quantity of work of an important character is already on the drawing boards, which, with what is in prospect, amounts to almost a guarantee that 1907 will compare favorably with 1905-6. What effect the gradual tightening of the money market and steadily advancing prices of lumber and other lines of building materials, as well as labor, may have cannot be foreseen. The blocking of railway traffic in the west has prevented the turning into money of a large quantity of grain, and caused at least a temporary stringency, which, it is hoped, may pass away before the money for new building projects is required.—Canadian Architect and Builder.

A contemporary gives the following rules for workingmen, which it says, were copied from the list drawn up in a large factory. The regulations are somewhat ironcast in tone and in many cases exaggerated:—

Watch the clock. On your proper study of its face will depend the amount of work you do, or don't do, for the business.

Time yourself to come in just in time, and then take five or ten minutes—the latter preferred—to get ready to begin work.

Go to the closet or wash basin, or water bucket, as often as you consistently can. Your work gets a chance to rest while you are away. The business, of course, may suffer, but —— the business anyhow.

Be ready to break for the door as soon as the whistle blows. It is something for you to blow about to your fellows that you are always on the street before the whistle stops.

By following the rules closely you may never be a Rockfeller or a Carnegie, but you will have the satisfaction of knowing you are beating the boss and your fellow workmen—for you are all equally interested—out of 15 or 20 minutes a day. These fellows that run big factories and plants work like slaves, and you don't want to be a slave to any man, not you—even yourself.

Local Citizens Pay Tribute To the Memory of St. Patrick

He afterwards journeyed to Rome and was commissioned by P[illegible] to take 20 companions and [illegible] as a missionary to Ireland. At that time there was no organized church in Ireland, though doubtless there were scattered communities.

Through his efforts the island was evangelized. Kings accepted the faith and before his death the greater part of the island was converted to Christianity. What estimate can be placed on his character? He was a great missionary. He was a man, of gentle heart yet fearless in his work. He was a faithful student of the Holy Scriptures and zealous in the suppression of slavery. Of him it may be said: "Being dead he yet speaketh," and after the lapse of 14 centuries his memory is revered.

He built churches, carried on schools and is an example to the modern missionary. The day sacred to his memory may best be kept by imitating his love of purity and his deep consecration to the welfare of others.

Such a man belongs to no one sect or church. He belongs to humanity, and his memory should be held sacred.

Irishmen's Part in World's History

Sunday, March 17th, is the anniversary of the birth of St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, and on land and on sea, in every quarter of God's earthly creation, wherever an Irishman exists, or wherever his son, his daughter, his grandson, his granddaughter breathes the free air of Heaven, there you will find loving, generous, expressive souls, giving vent in swelling hymns, in celebrations befitting this great anniversary, to the justifiable pride and joyous gratitude that inundates their hearts.

Of St. Patrick and his history I refrain from speaking at length or with any historical details. His story, his life work is familiar to all readers of Irish history. The controversy concerning the actual place of his birth, his early life, his captivity, his long years of preparation, and the final journey into and peaceful conquest of Erin's soil, with these and other striking events in the Saint's life are familiar to all.

Irish men and Irish women have reason to be proud of this great festive day. They have reason to be proud of the glorious life and of the extensive and lasting work of St. Patrick. They have reason to be proud of the conspicuous part that Irishmen have played in the history of the nations of the World. Aye, they have reason to be proud of the Irish character itself—reason to be thankful that there courses through their veins the pure, noble generous Celtic blood, that makes the Irishman the equal of any person that ever lived.

D. HUGHES CHARLES.

Had Great Courage and Great Zeal

A country without heroes is a country without a history. Take from Greece, Leonidas and his Spartans, and her many heroes, and you strip her of her literature and art and all that makes for greatness. Switzerland without William Tell, Scotland, without her Bruce, her Burns and her Knox, Sweden without Gustavus, Adolphus and Charles the 12th, and France without Charlemagne and Napoleon, drop out of history. But warriors alone comprise not all the heroes. Peace hath her victories as well as war, and these names which will live longest in history are those that live in the hearts of the people. The men who by sacrifice and labor have done the most to better the condition of their fellows, and done their people lasting good, leave behind them the most enduring monuments.

Ireland has for her Patron Saint a man of peace—one who loved his fellow men and did for them the noblest of all works. He held before them the Cross and the One who in His own life disclosed to man the fact that God is love. The humble priest who gave his life to make known to men the highest ideal, and led them to the worship of the Christ, did a higher and nobler work than he who led armies to victory, or placed himself before men as the conqueror and the wielder of the proudest sceptre.

A Scotsman, born in Scotland, of patrician blood, about the time the Romans were withdrawing from Britain. In one of the forages he was at the age of fiteen, captured, and carried to Ireland, where he was sold as a slave, and here as a cattle herder he spent seven years of his life. A stranger in a strange land he found in solitude and the stars, food for his highest spiritual aspirations, and like David in humble labor fitted himself for communion with God and holiness of life. Having escaped to England he was received by his family, educated and fitted for the priesthood. Now his heart went out to the warm hearted people of Ireland amongst whom he had spent some years. Like Paul he too had visions or dreams, several times repeated in which he saw one who bade him come over to Ireland and help them. So to them he went and entered upon that long life of labor which brought to a crude, restless and war-like people, such unity of religious life and effort, that Ireland became known as the most religious country in Europe. In due time he was made a bishop. St. Patrick was a man of great organizing ability. Where before his day there was a low religious life, disjointed, and without unity or organization, at his death there was an established and well organized church. The struggles and warfare of a great number of petty chiefs ceased, and the great power that unified and controlled the country, was the church. Surely a better power than that of ambitious, rude and jealous chieftains, who were never happy, save when at war with each other.

St Patrick, stood for religion, purity of life, peace and culture, and there [illegible] doubt of the fact [illegible] Ireland for ages after him, [illegible] a land of culture, learning and religion. For a man to stamp his influence on a people so as to lift them from barbarism to culture, refinement, learning and religion, was clear proof that he was no common man, and while it may be that through the mists of the ages this man may loom greater than he was and get honors that, perhaps should be shared by others, it yet remains that it was a credit to the people so to exalt the virtues that were ascribed to him as to put him beyond the rank of ordinary men. He was canonized and he is today Ireland's Patron Saint. If no such man ever existed the creation would be a credit to a people who, in honoring his memory, show their own love for the attributes and qualities in the ideal man they have created or selected for their Patron Saint.

That there was such a man, however, there is no doubt. The name Patrick stood for Patrician—one of gentle blood. There were several Bishops, Patrick, and there is much uncertainty as to the life of the St. Patrick, but enough is known from writings left by him to justify the honor done to his name. And that he should live all down the ages and still be held in lasting remembrance and his virtues held up before the people of Ireland to be their ideal of life is as honorable to his memory as it is to the character of the people of Irish blood without distinction of creed. In his day there was but one religion and one church, and that is a happy day for the churches, when the tendency is to find in the ideal man, Christ, or one of his brethren, a common standard to unify and bring nearer to the Great Head of the Church.

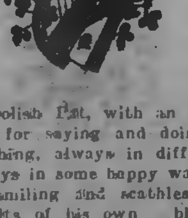
The Sweet Music of Old Ireland

Soft Beguiling Harp is the National Instrument

Speaking of the beauty, emotion and soul-stirring qualities of Irish music, a well known writer says;

First, let me say that the Irishman as commonly depicted in the ordinary novel, or on the vaudeville stage, exists only in the imagination of the author who produces him. The swaggering, stupid, good natured, foolish Pat, with an infinite capacity for saying and doing the wrong thing, always in difficulties, and always in some happy way, emerging, smiling and scathless from the results of his own blunders, with the same happy-go-lucky, tread-on-the-tail-of-my-coat air, with which he calmly walked into them is somewhat like Fenimore Cooper's wild Indian, who, as Josh Billings puts it, belongs to "an extinct race that never existed." Like his cousin, the Highland Scot, the Irish Celt possesses the same dauntless spirit, the same warm heart, the same intense love of his country and for his kin. But there the resemblance largely ceases. Doubtless the difference between the two countries may account for the wide diversity of character between the two peoples so near akin in race. The Highlands of Scotland, with their beauty, awful in its grandeur, have had their effect on the life and character of the people who have lived their lives in their midst. The fire and warmth of the Celtic nature, though it may smoulder and burn beneath, is hidden from view by the cold restraint that is a characteristic of the Scot. Not so with the Irishman. The milder, somewhat enervating climate of the Emerald Isle, the verdure and glow of the land, have developed the softer elements in his character, and we have come to regard him as a living personification of happiness and good humor, taking life as a joke, and laughing away all his woes.



It is the soft, beguiling harp that is the national instrument of Ireland, in place of the harsh, unmelodious bagpipes of the Highlander. And because the story of the origin of the harp is so poetical and so thoroughly characteristic of the people, let me tell it, though doubtless it is already familiar.

And it is the dainty little shamrock, growing so green and sweet all over the land that is the emblem of Ireland. Of course you know there is another story of the shamrock, more generally known and more generally accepted than that of St. Patrick's using the triple leaf as an explanation of the Trinity. One day in the golden years of Ireland, when Love, Wit and Valor made their home in the beautiful isle, as they were walking together they spied the dainty little plant, with its trefoil leaf and its sweet little pure white flower, growing along their path. What happened has been beautifully told by Moore in his poem, "The Shamrock";

Says Valor, See,
They spring for me,
Those leafy gems of morning!"
Says Love, "No, no,
For me they grow,
My fragrant path adorning."
But Wit perceives,
The triple leaves,
And cries, "[illegible] do not sever
A type that [illegible]
Three God-like friends,
Love, Valor, Wit, forever."
O the shamrock, the green, immortal shamrock,
Chosen leaf
Of bard and chief,
Old Erin's native shamrock.

Little remains of the ancient music of Ireland. Probably the fact that the harp has become an almost obsolete instrument, in conjunction, with the desolate, restless condition of the country for so many years may account for the fact. Indeed, but for the genius and patriotism of "Little Tommy Moore", as he was affectionately called, much that is beautiful in Irish song and music would have been lost to us forever. What Burns has done for Scotland, Moore has done for Ireland. It was he who exhumed the Irish music from beneath the dust and rubbish of centuries, cast over it the spell of his own genius and gave it forth to delight the world with its sweetness and pathos.

"Dear harp of my country, in darkness I found thee;
The cold chain of silence had hung o'er thee long,
When proudly, my own island harp, I unbound thee
And gave all thy chords to light, freedom and song!

The warm lay of love and the light note of gladness
Have wakened thy fondest, thy liveliest thrill;
But so oft hast thou echo'd the deep sigh of sadness
That even in thy mirth it will steal from thee still."

The truest and best outcome of the little poet's genius are undoubtedly his "Irish Melodies," and yet, with all their beauty, which is undeniable, and in spite of the smoothness and polish which characterize them they lack the spontaneity and freshness which make the songs of Burns an ever-fresh delight.

NOTES OF THE DAY

A wrecking train on the C. P. R. returning from Platt, collided with the express train just east of Port Arthur. A man named Palmer, of Rossport, was killed.

Albert Fanson, horse dealer, expired of heart failure while at breakfast in the Hotel Frontenac, Winnipeg. He lived at 301 Jarvis street, Toronto, for many years.

Favors Route by Severn River

Report on Trent Canal From Lake Simcoe North

An Ottawa despatch says;

The report of E. J. Walsh, C. E., engineer in charge of the surveys on the Trent Canal from Lake Simcoe to the Georgian Bay, was presented to Parliament today. The conclusion reached by Mr. Walsh is that the route should be the natural one, viz., by way of the Severn River from Lake Couchiching to the Georgian Bay. The cost of six feet navigation is estimated at $1,219,818; of 8 feet navigation, that is 8 feet 4 inches on the mitre sill, and 9 feet in the reaches, is $1,457,244. In so much as Mr. Walsh's conclusion eliminates all questions of diversion water and many other matters of complication, Deputy Minister Butler heartily concurs in the recommendation. Mr. Butler adds, inasmuch as the 8 feet of draught will very materially reduce the cost of transportation on all products from the West into Lake Simcoe and can be secured for a comparatively small difference in price. I beg to recommend that the route known in the report as the "Lake Couchiching to Georgian Bay via Severn River, 9 feet depth of water in the channel and 8 1-3 feet on mitre sills in locks," should be chosen. The number of locks proposed is 19, dams 9. A six foot canal via Coldwater to Georgian Bay, would cost $2,072,286, and for 8-foot navigation, $2,481,404. It is stated in the report that several valuable water powers would be developed by the Severn River route, which could be made revenue producers. On the Coldwater route there are no water powers to develop.

Regret Absence of Choral Work

Peterborough Should Have a Great Choral Society—Talent is Here

That the much talked of church union is something more than theoretical in Anglican circles is evident from recent events in this city. We have the Brotherhood of St. Andrew's chapters working together and the latest development is that St. John's and All Saints' choirs have combined to give two solemn renderings of "The Crucifixion" Stainer's great legacy to parish church choirs in All Saints' church on Thursday, March 21st and in St. John's on Friday, March 29th.

Last Good Friday St. John's was crowded with a devout congregation when this work was first given in Peterborough under the direction of the energetic organist and choirmaster of St. John's, Mr. Richard J Devey, who is again responsible for the forthcoming services, with the hearty co-operation of Rev. Canon Davidson, Rev. Wm. Major, and all the choristers. The soloists have been selected from both choirs.

This oratorio will be welcomed by music lovers generally, who regret the absence of choral work from this city, and with a leader of undoubted ability, as Mr. R. J. Devey has proved himself to be, this reproach should be removed from Peterborough another season. Three hundred subscriptions of two dollars would entitle subscribers to reserved seats at the performance of a standard Oratorio,—either the "Messiah" or "Judas Maccabeus" —as that sum would guarantee the expenses of rehearsals and most, if not all, the expenses of the concert. Think of the number of singers here, who do not know the first thing about the grand chorus work so liberally heard in other cities. A great opportunity presents itself before us. Let us be up and doing, so that next October all will be ready to start in.

Presented Past Master's Jewel To V. Wor. Bro. R. M. Dennistoun

Corinthian Lodge, A. F. and A. M., Honor a Valued Member on Eve of His Departure to the West—Social Time in the Banquet Hall.

At the regular communication of Corinthian Lodge, A.F. & A.M., last night a very pleasing event took place when V. Wor. Bro. R. M. Dennistoun was presented with a past master's jewel. There was a very large attendance including a number of brethren from Peterborough Lodge and the evening was one which will not soon be forgotten. Bro. Dennistoun has been prominently connected with Corinthian Lodge for many years and his father and grandfather, the late Judge Dennistoun, before him were past master's of the lodge. This fact alone makes his departure from the city very regrettable and his own strong personality and high principles made him one of the most popular members, while his keen interest in the lodge work made him very valuable.

The presentation of the Past Master's jewel was made at the close of the lodge by V. Wor. Bro. H. C. Winch, who also performed the very impressive ceremony connected with the event.

Afterwards the members adjourned to the handsome banquet hall where Bro. W. J. McCallum had prepared an excellent supper. Between fifty and sixty gathered around the board and thoroughly enjoyed their last supper with Bro. Dennistoun, who will leave shortly for Winnipeg where he will practice his profession.

After supper a toast list was run off. When the toast to Bro. Dennistoun was proposed it brought forth a number of highly complimentary remarks about the departing brother. Every one sincerely regretted to lose him as a member of the lodge and also as a personal friend. At the same time they extended to him and his family their most sincere wishes for every success in their new home.

A couple of hours were spent in songs and speeches and three again

V. WOR. BRO. R. M. DENNISTOUN. Who was honored by the Brethren of Corinthian Lodge last evening.

Mr. Dennistoun will be missed as he was always considered one of the best entertainers connected with the lodge. The gathering broke up about midnight with farewells to Bro. Dennistoun.

Interesting Story of How a Peterborough Man Did Well on One Claim.

Some idea of how money is made at Cobalt is furnished by a story of a Peterborough man, which has come to hand from the silver country. Mr. A. O. Kidd, son of Mr. A. R. Kidd, of this city, and a partner, recently cleared up $500 on an investment which cost them practically nothing, except a few days' hard work. A few days ago, Mr. Kidd and his partner went about ten miles from Cobalt and staked a claim after having done a little prospecting. They thought it looked good but of course they had no guarantee that there was silver enough on the claim to pay for their trouble in prospecting. But just as they had finished staking their claim along came a man who took a fancy to the property [illegible] to purchase it. The deal was put through and the purchaser handed over to Mr. Kidd and his partner fifty ten dollar bills for the claim. The two prospectors were satisfied to take the $500 and to let the other man take the risk.

This is a fair sample of how quickly money is made some times in the great silver regions. But it is not all sunshine and everyone does not draw a lucky ticket. The most of the prospecting at Cobalt is done in the fall and early spring as in the summer the black flies and mosquitos are so numerous and bite so hard that the prospector's life is not at all a pleasant one.

Mr. Kidd's many friends in Peterborough will be pleased to hear that he is doing so well and will wish him continued success.

East City Scholars are Proficient in Fire Drill

The pupils of the East City school are most expert in the fire drill and the teachers there have no apprehension as to danger from fire. As in the other schools of the city, the fire drill is there practiced regularly and in several tests which were made recently the school was cleared of the pupils in less than half a minute. There are over 200 students at the East City school and when they can get out of the building in this time, they must be very proficient in the drill.

The pupils have to be drilled regularly in order to make the fire drill serve the purpose for which it is intended. If the pupils do not have regular practice in it, they forget the different orders which are given and do not know the right thing to do at the right time Or perhaps some new pupil comes to school, and not being familiar with the drill, puts a whole line out of order when it is practiced It is necessary that every pupil should know what to do and when to do it.

The pupils take a pride in going through the fire drill well and the teachers have no difficulty in instructing them.

THE CITY'S LEGISLATION

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—In the private bill affecting Peterborough, now before the local Legislature, does it not strike one that the deputation which went from here headed by the mayor for the purpose of advocating the passing of the bill was more in the interests of the Canadian General Electric Company than those of the city, when we see that deputation joining forces with that company, represented by Mr. E. A. DuVernet, K.C., Mr. John A. Patterson, solicitor, and Mr. E. G. Patterson, superintendent of the Peterborough works and when we see a clause in that bill, among others, providing for a further fixed assessment on these works of $150,000 for a period of twenty years from 1911, the expiration of the present assessment The fixed amount is such a small fraction of the actual worth that we are practically asking the Legislature to compel us to pay to this company annually a large amount of money, as a rebate for their taxes and tax ourselves for the same instead. Our only hope is in the prescience and integrity of the Hon. Mr. Whitney and his Cabinet, to thwart such a scheme.

RATHER SLOW SYSTEM

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Your interview with the mayor is interesting inasmuch as he proposes to have the sidewalks cleaned by degrees, commencing with the business section of the city and then gradually extending the limit of operations until the most remote limits of the city were reached, somewhere in the good old summer time. Snow cleaning will be easy for our suburban friends.

Twenty Passengers Injured—Chicago Flyer Wrecked

Special to the Review.

Detroit, Mich, March 16. — The Chicago flyer, on the Grand Trunk due here at 7.45 a.m. ran into an open switch about seven o'clock at Bancroft and twenty persons are reported to have been injured.

The engineer and fireman are said to be fatally scalded. The train was running two hours late when the accident happened.

HEAVY FINE IMPOSED

The assault charge against Charles McGill, a former bartender at the Grand Union, by Dan McGinnis, of the south ward, was tried before Police Magistrate Jackson this morning. The incidents happened about a month ago in the hotel. McGinnis and a companion asked for and received a drink at the bar. McGill claimed that Dan didn't pay for it and had the money. He ordered another, but McGill said the former had to be paid for first. A row ensued, and a charge of "drunk and disorderly" was laid against McGinnis, who had to contribute $9.95 to the town. In the police court this morning, the charge of assault preferred against McGill was gone into and he was fined $10 and costs—$18.20 in all.—Lindsay Post.

HOCKEY

BRASS DEPARTMENT WON.

An interesting and exciting game of hockey was played last evening between ten and eleven o'clock at the Brock street rink, by the Brass and Tool departments of the C. G. E. The score at full time stood five all and an extra five minutes was played, and the Brass men scored, winning out by the score of six goals to five.

TWO GAMES TONIGHT.

The ice at the Brock Street rink was never in better condition all winter than it is at the present time. There will be two hockey matches played this evening. The office staff of the C.G.E., and the office staff of the Quaker Oats Co. will play from 5.30 to 6.30 and two teams from the C.G.E. will figure in a game from seven to eight, after which there will be skating.

FOOTBALL

THE MIDLAND LEAGUE.

The annual meeting of the Midland Association Football League will be held on Saturday, March 23rd, at one o'clock, in the Y.M.C.A. parlors, Peterborough. Among the important business to be dealt with will be the consideration of having an intermediate and junior series in the league for 1907.

The election of officers will take place and also a representative will be appointed to attend the annual meeting of the Ontario Football Association at Toronto, which will probably be held on Easter Monday.

Representatives from the various clubs wishing to enter the league this year are requested to be on hand on behalf of their respective clubs.

Vests are very fashionable this year and a novel effect gained by the lapping of pointed vests is seen in the coat shown. The coat is partially fitted and is of excellent style for women of stout or slender lines. The front closes at the throat in trim military fashion, opening gradually to the lower edge and disclosing a most fetching little vest of embroidery.

Leave your order and 10 cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

4127.—A CHARMING LITTLE PLEATED GOWN.

Some pretty new models in frocks for little maids are pleated in waist and skirt and the gown shown is a pleasing example. Yokes are always becoming and youthful and are much used in frocks for girls. The yoke in this gown is unusually attractive and improved by the dark trimming band which outlines it. The sleeves in all of the new dresses are long or below the elbow and these may be either. The waist and skirt which are joined at the waist line are fully pleated and very graceful. The fulness of the sleeve is also retained at the elbow in tiny pleats. For developing the model, cashmere, henrietta, pongee or another seasonable fabric might be used. The medium size calls for 3 1-4 yards 44 inches wide.

THE PROPERTY

Property No. 1—20 acres—The east half of the northeast quarter of the south half of lot 9, in the sixth concession of the Coleman Township.

This claim is located at the corner of Clear Lake and in direct line with the veins running from the J.B. 6, property of the Tretheway Mining Company. Our engineer, Mr. C. D. Hardy states in his report that at the depth of 50 feet one vein looks considerably stronger. The rock formation is characteristic of the best mines in the district.

Property No. 2—40 acres—The southwest quarter of the south half of lot 7, in the first concession of Bucke Township.

This claim is 20 chains north or J.B. 7, known as the Tretheway Mine, the second property in the district to ship ore and is now a dividend payer. Twenty chains southeast is the lot known as R L., 400, the property of the Nipissing Mining Company, and 60 chains east is the famous Timmins-La Rose Mine, which was the first producer in the district, now valued at $10,000,000. Four well defined veins have been exposed on this property and are worth fuller development.

This portion of the rich Coleman Township is coming rapidly to the front. A large amount of development work is going on and the showing gives promise of it being a very valuable one. The lease was lately passed by the government inspector of mines.

Property No. 4—20 acres in the Township of Coleman. Anima-Nipissing District, being the north half of the southeast quarter of the north half of lot 19, concession 3.

Situated in what is known as the Portage Bay District, Coleman Township. This district during the past few months has come prominently to the front, on account of the wonderfully rich discoveries of silver. Up to date six veins have been uncovered on the property and active development is being pushed. A shaft is being sunk on one of the most promising looking veins, and native silver has been encountered. Stripping is also being carried on, fully 500 feet of vein has been uncovered to date. A good camp has been constructed for the men and work has been going on all winter.

Property No. 5—One 40 acre claim in the Anima-Nipissing District, being mining claim No. 1404 1-2, known as the "South Claim," situated about 3-4 of a mile west of Bay Lake and about one mile north of Anima-Nipissing.

This property is situated in Coleman Township in what is known as the Anima-Nipissing District. Considerable development work has been done on the property in the way of stripping, sinking test pits, etc. Development has already disclosed four veins, one of which has been traced for over 400 feet, varying in width on the surface from one to seven inches. A shaft has been sunk on this vein to a depth of six feet, and the ore is found to contain good values in silver. The work already done is sufficient to demonstratd the value of this claim as a producer, and a little more work should make it a shipping mine. Total 160 acres.

TOWNSITE—A VALUABLE ASSET

The Townsite of North Cobalt is beautifully situated on the west shore of Lake Temiskaming 300 miles north of Toronto on the Temiskaming & Northern Railway, and adjoining some of the richest of the Silver Cobalt mines. It covers 600 acres of the finest land in Northern Ontario; dry, undulating and self-draining, rich soil, excellent spring water, all kinds of building material close at hand, valuable water power on the property, and unlimited wealth at its doors. There are present all the natural conditions and surroundings to make North Cobalt one of the leading cities of Canada in the very near future. This is not a speculation; it is a sound and profitable investment. Some of those who have made rich strikes in silver discoveries are investing and building in North Cobalt to-day. Hotels, stores, saw mills, houses and churches are already being tendered for. The principal streets are cleared, and the land is ready for the enterprising builder.

The tourist section on Lake Temiskaming offers you most desirable locations for beautiful summer homes, where there is good fishing, boating and bathing, the finest of scenery, bracing climate, and the most interesting surroundings. A large modern hotel with all city conveniences, is already being planned.

We confidently predict that the value of these lots will treble within a short time, as there is no better constituted centre for the mining industry, and no other location as near and so admirably adapted for shipping and building purposes as North Cobalt.

Lots are selling at prices ranging from $75.00 to $125.00 each, and building operations are now actively going on.

DIGEST OF FACTS

All shares are fully paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

When buying shares in this Company, your money is not all sunk in one mine; it is distributed among five most promising mining claims and you have absolute security in a town-site with a perfect title.

The object of this Company is to develop all their propertirs, secure other claims, develop and sell or work them and ship the ore. Also prospect in new fields and form subsidiary companies.

As these shares are to be placed on the market simultaneously in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Pittsburg, Buffalo, Toronto, Montreal, Cobalt and other places, they will undoubtedly be very much over-subscribed.

Parties wishing to secure their allotments can do so by wire and their names will be registered; and on receipt of payment by letter of same date as telegram, they will be entitled to registration as of the day and the hour their message was received.

HEARTS COURAGEOUS

BY HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES.

As the two friends talked the chimes had clangored from Christ church, and just as the tones sounded a stout-trunched old man with a shrewd, simple face under a broad hat lifted the latch of a nearby gate which barred an oblong green yard from the street.

Therein under a mulberry tree where yellow cabbage butterflies went kissing wings a chubby woman was sitting by a table whereon stood some books and a glass bottle containing a two headed snake in spirits. Two tousled children rolled and romped unheeded under foot. The film of twilight was falling from a cooling sky.

"You are late, father," the woman said as the old man greeted her. "Supper is almost ready. Young Mr. Jefferson has sent word that he will be here this evening. I do hope," she added good naturedly, "that you won't sit up all night again over that tiresome paper he is writing. Laws! One would think it had been a real speech."

She ran to fetch a dish of tea, and her father sat down in his chair and took off his hat. His head was bald, with a fringe of white hair. He was mopping his forehead with a large kerchief when she returned with the tea.

"Bless me!" she said as the gate clicked. "Here is some one to see you already. A young man and handsome," she whispered, as he came nearer, "but how pale!" It was Armand.

"Is this Dr. Franklin?" he inquired.

"It is."

"Sir," said Armand, "a packet was given secretly into your hands to hold for me some time since, sealed with a red seal bearing four lances."

Dr. Franklin drew his brows together with a glance of surprise and shook his head.

"Surely you have received it?"

There was a curious rigor of anxiety in the tone that caused Dr. Franklin to glance sharply at his questioner. The scrutiny satisfied him, for the look of suspicion that had been stiffened by the strenuous times faded into his habitual benevolence.

"I recall none such," he answered gravely. "What name did it bear?"

"It bore no name." The tone shook now with a confusion of apprehension.

"I fear that is all the more reason that I could not have forgot it. These are troublous days, sir, and faith not always to be relied upon. To whom did you intrust this document?"

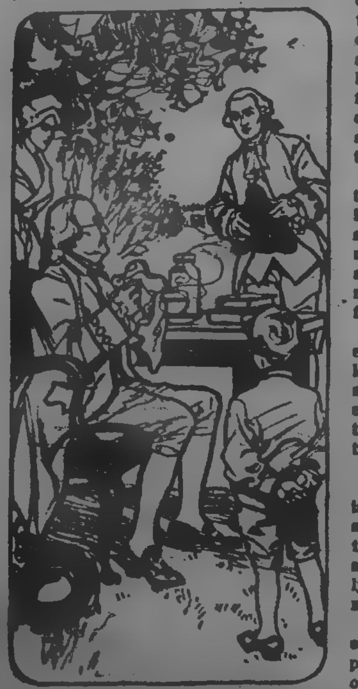
Something like fear had come into the other's eyes, and Dr. Franklin for the first time noted with concern his agitation and pallor.

"To a young lady of Virginia."

"I am sorry, sir, deeply sorry," said the old man, "but no such packet has been put into my hands at any time."

"Poor young man!" sighed the motherly woman a few minutes later as she set the table for supper. "What think you could have been in it, father? He looked as if it had meant life or death to him."

Armand walked slowly through several side streets to the Red Lion tavern, on Sassafras street, one of the less pretentious inns. Here in a dim parlor on the ground floor waited the occupant of the fine coach which had roused the spleen of Joseph Galloway. His hat was flung on a chair, and he strode up and down, his mustachios bristling with impatience.



"Is this Dr. Franklin?"

As Armand entered he embraced him effusively in the French fashion.

"All goes well," he cried. "I have been discreet and have done all you instructed. The congress has named three members to receive you tomorrow at 1 o'clock. Ventrebleu! With the Declaration hanging fire you may believe how eager they are. I have brought your clothes too. Nom de Dieu!" he exclaimed, holding Armand's arms affectionately. "To know you were in a British prison! Thank God you escaped their clutches, and just in the nick of time too! You shall tell me about it one day."

"Pilarne!" Armand broke in upon the other's chatter. "Pilarne! The letter! I have not got it."

"Not got it?" Pilarne repeated in amazed surprise.

"No. I sent it here to Philadelphia to Dr. Franklin. I did not tell you this, since I expected to find it here. Well, I have seen Dr. Franklin, and it has not been delivered."

Pilarne's face was a study of dismay. "And what will you do?"

Armand had no time to reply, for at that moment there came a knock at the door, and it opened.

Instantly Pilarne bent low in a series of bows to Armand.

"Accept my most profound salutations, monseigneur," he said in tones of elaborate ceremony. "I shall be pleased to accompany you on your distinguished errand tomorrow afternoon."

"M. Pilarne," said Armand easily, "this is my good friend, Captain Jarrat. Au revoir, monsieur—jusqu'au matin!"

CHAPTER XV.

MORE than one along the south road that sultry morning of July 4 turned to gaze after a fair haired girl who passed upon a lead-white horse, with a negro boy behind her astride a sorrel. Yellow dust splotched Anne's olive cloak as she rode into the town, and yellow dust clung to John the Baptist's wool.

How many leagues? She would have been worn but for the purpose that buoyed her up. She rode some way, paying as little heed to the sparse groups along the streets or to the few painted Indians lounging with their peltry in the squares as to the beetle browed roofs or the wooden statuary in the pretentious yards.

Her thoughts were busy with the past. They flew back to that night at Gladden Hall, her last view of Armand, when Jarrat's troopers had dragged him away; to the flight of Dunmore and his family, his wanton burning of Norfolk with his rabble of runaway slaves, and the last fight at Gwyn's island, whence the impotent earl, with his brutal aid, Captain Foy, sailed away to the north, never again to set foot upon Virginian soil; to her anguished wonder as to Armand's fate meanwhile. Even Henry's return from the Second congress, the news that Colonel Washington had been elected commander in chief of colonial forces and the glorious outcome of his long siege of Boston had not been able to cheer her.

She thought of the long hours she had watched by the bedside of the bondwoman with grave faced Dr. Craik watching her slow return to life; of the still longer days when she had sat by the listless figure who only stared leaden eyed and with brain piteously dulled to hear asked over and over again with desperate earnestness that same question, "Where is it—can't you remember?"—a question met always with the same result; of the long, fruitless search, the unreasoning faith in him that would not yield to recital or argument, and finally the lucky accident which had given her the clew to the packet's hiding place.

She had started the selfsame day, taking John the Baptist with her, leaving a hurried message for her uncle and aunt, who were then away in Richmond. And this, the twelfth day thereafter, found her at her journey's end riding into the wide, clean thoroughfares of Philadelphia.

"Mis' Annie"—John the Baptist's solemn drawl broke her reverie—"dat yaller boy at de place whar we stayed las' night say dee gwinter mek ev'ybody skal. Do dat mean we niggers gwine ter be white lak you, or is y'all gwine ter be black lak me?"

But Anne had no answer.

Going toward High street, her course lay by the open green on which the new statehouse fronted. She noticed that the pavements were almost deserted and found herself thinking wonderingly that the streets of Richmond were noisier.

It was with a start of surprise that on turning a corner by the green she pulled up without warning on the skirts of a great hushed crowd, well ordered, moving restlessly under tree that shrilled with locusts.

Most of those nearer the front were gentry. They walked back and forth slowly, trampling the blue thistles and whortleberry bushes. Next them was a stratum of the trading and working classes. No wonder the wealthier merchants jeered them, for they wore trousers of coarse drill, even leather jerkins, and some carried tools. Here was a group of weavers from Germantown, and not far away a knot of Swedes from Wicacoa. The older men among these wore leggings and skin coats.

On the outskirts of all, here and there, holding themselves aloof, walked statelier, heavier figures in small clothes of rich velvets and satins and wearing powdered wigs.

They carried irritable looks, these "Pennsylvania lords," as the bitter Adams called them. It was bad weather for Tories. From the yard of Clarke's inn, across the street, they looked askance at the workmen, passing sneering allusions to the representatives from Massachusetts, angered at the assumption of legislative powers by men clearly of more humble blood than themselves.

They saw the cannon in position by the statehouse and the Continental flags fluttering from the shipping in the harbor. They knew that in the nearby woods five battalions of Associators, drilled and armed, were awaiting any outcome. They knew that the people were ready, if only their leaders should choose.

Anne upon her tired horse looked with wonder at this earnest, quiet crowd and thrilled with a new sense of the dignity of the assemblage within those brick walls. The heat was simmering, and she had thrown open the thin cloak she wore, showing a flash of crimson waist with a sheen of metal buttons.

"Small wonder," he said grimly, "that unrighteousness doth overwhelm the children of the world and move them to wrath when we see all about us the testimony of undenial. Lust of the eye, Friend Joseph; lust of the eye!"

Joseph Galloway, standing by him, looked at the girl, so straight and young and bright hued; then his crafty look returned. "Consider the lilies of the field," he quoted with unction as he took snuff.

"I doubt not," pursued the Quaker, wagging his pow, "'twas designed to cast a slur upon the vanity of apparel since 'tis a thing of so little estimation in the sight of God that he bestows it in the highest degree upon the meanest of his creatures. 'Tis to be presumed that, were it a thing of worth in itself, instead of bestowing colors, gildings and broideries upon tulips, he had bestowed them upon creatures of higher dignity. To mankind he hath given but sparingly of gaudy features, a great part of them being black, a great part of them being tawny and a great part being of other wan and dusky complexions, showing that 'tis not the outward adornment that he wishes, but the appearing in supplication for the ornamenting of the Spirit."

"Even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these!" intoned his companion smoothly. "But I must be going, Mordecai. I have an errand at the tavern."

"Hast thou heard aught more of the message to the congress from France?" the Quaker inquired in a low voice as he clasped the other's fervid palm.

"Mordecai," he said, "I dreamed last night that France had an ax to grind. Wouldn't it be curious if the message didn't tickle the congress so much after all? Ho, ho!"

Anne's first inquiry provoked a smile from the bystanders. Dr. Franklin? Yes, he was doubtless in the hall, but to see him! Quite impossible! And a lady too. At a recess she might succeed, but not now. Who could tell but he was on the floor at that moment?

So she rode on. At High street she inquired for an inn, as she had been in the saddle since dawn and the horses were jaded. Learning that the principal ones were all full owing to the presence of the delegates, she found her way to one of the more humble hostelries on another street. It was the Red Lion tavern.

The place seemed well nigh deserted. Had she known the significance of this day's sitting of the congress she would have understood. As it was, finding no host in evidence, she went into the parlor and sat down to await his appearance.

And, sitting so, from the hall and coming nearer she heard the well remembered voice of Jarrat.

A panic seized her. The packet—it was in the lining of her cloak at that moment. He must not see her! She looked wildly about her, but there was no door of escape. In desperation she ran to the deep set window. It was shut, but there were shalloon curtains across the alcove, and she shrank behind them as the door flew open.

"I would speak with monseigneur," he said. "Request him to be so good as to honor me here." He stood smiling redly as the servant went, and Anne watched him from between the curtains with fascinated gaze.

"At last!" he muttered. "The final stroke, and still all goes well. If Armand succeeds for us, then advancement and favor for me. The king must reward me, for the plan was mine alone."

"Armand!" Anne's heart had given a great leap. Jarrat knew where he was, what he did. "If he succeeds for us." What meant those strange words?

Again a step in the hall, again the door opened, a scraping servant said, "Monseigneur," and again Anne's heart leaped, for the man who stood on the threshold clad in a full costume of purple velvet was Armand. Armand, but sparer of feature, with shadows beneath the eyes. Yet they looked out with all their old nobility and with a strange fire. She knew now where she had seen that fire—it was in Henry's face—the fire of steadfast purpose that knows no quenching.

Armand! Escaped from Dunmore's clutches, safe and in Philadelphia! She wanted to rush out to him, to [illegible] him that she had done the best she could, had come to fulfil [illegible] promise at last. But what did he with Jarrat?

"So!" the latter said. "As bravely trimmed as ever. 'Tis the dress of a prince."

"My good Pilarne has the best of taste." On Armand's face was a strange smile.

"You have cozened him beautifully. I doubt not he expects reimbursement from his king."

"My king," corrected Armand softly.

"Keep it up," laughed Jarrat. "'Tis never forgetting makes a good play actor. Faith, it minds me of the old Virginia days. Then you posed as only a marquis. We rise in the world. Yesterday in a prison cell at Halifax, today this little plan, release, and, presto, behold Louis' secret envoy. Well, you are near to the purchase of your pardon. The time is almost here. A half hour more and you will enter the statehouse. You lack not assurance. Here is the letter you will deliver to the congress."

Armand took the paper he handed him and put it in his breast.

"'Tis signed with De Vergennes' name, of course," went on Jarrat, "and 'tis a clever enough forgery to trick even Poor Richard for the time being. Aid in return for territorial compensation—now if 'twere only Louis XV! 'Twould be like the old skinflint. Methinks 'twill be a wet blanket to allay this fever for a Declaration. 'Twill suffice to tide over till these patriot addle pates come to their senses."

Anne's mind was in a clamor, a hideous, unmeaning clamor of surprises, from which a single fact stood out with the clearness of a black silhouette etched on white paper—Armand, not escaped, but released—released—going before the congress with a lying message, a message of discouragement—going now, this very hour, and the plot was Jarrat's.

It was for a single heart beat as if the sun were darkened, as if all joy were blotted from the universe. Then, peering out, she saw his eyes, and the bitter scene at Gladden Hall rose to her like a vision. She saw him dragged away, and with the vision she felt—strong, triumphant—the terrible, joyful rebellion of her own belief in him that would not doubt.

"I could not have devised it better myself." Jarrat was speaking again. "There is not a soul in congress who could recognize you as the Louis Armand seized at Williamsburg. Luckily, Henry is in the Virginia convention. The devil holds cards with us."

"And this," said Armand, as if to himself, "has been the devil's deal."

"Aye! But 'tis time for us to start. Pilarne will be there by now." He consulted his watch. "Ten minutes to ride thither. I have horses at the door. I shall go with you as one of your suit. Luckily, I shall not be known. I must not miss the delight of recounting this interesting event in detail in Virginia. Can you guess," with a malign smile, "to whom in especial, monseigneur?"

A red flush leaped into Armand's cheek, and his teeth clinched convulsively. It was as if a great wave of passion lashed the man and left him tense and white. His tone, however, remained as low as ever.

"You hound!" he said. "You prowling wolf of the dark, who know no truth, no trust, no faith; who, being vile, think all else vile the same! Thank God that to that one—to her—my honor was always unstained! She believe you? No! Never! I go alone to the congress! You go no farther with me!"

A facial contortion drew Jarrat's lips from his teeth. He stood in a leaning posture, his knuckles flat upon the table between them, a thriving suspicion in his look. A fit of shuddering seized Anne as she saw this look change swiftly to conviction—certainty in which rage and shame and hate were black.

"I go no farther?" he repeated. "What say you? Oh, fool, fool that I was to trust you! You have tricked me! You never intended to do it! You will not go—aye, you would go, but wherefore?" His voice had sunk to a metallic dullness, and he eyed the other, breathing hard.

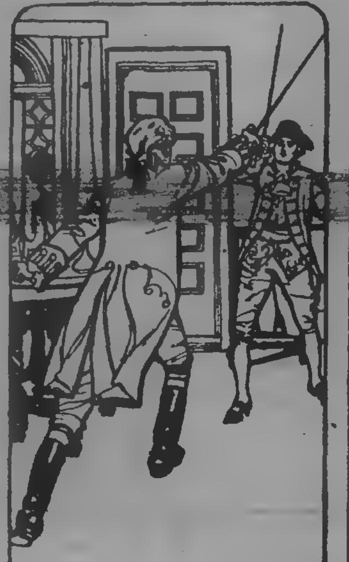
Now his tone leaped again: "I know! The French king had his own mind! He sent your master a message to convey, a message of comfort. Ah, your face says, 'Aye!' 'Twas in the packet you gave to Mistress Tillotson at Gladden Hall! Curse that bondwoman! You have got it! Now that you are false to us, 'tis that message—that message that you would give the congress! And 'twas I brought you from the jail—I!"

The last words were a sort of horrible rasping whisper, and as he spoke he came slowly around the table, his fingers clawing its edge.

"But you shall not! You double traitor! You shall not go! I know you—I alone! I will prevent it!"

"You shall never leave this room," said Armand.

Crouched low, holding the shalloon edges, Anne saw it all, the breath frozen in her throat—saw both blades clang out with a single movement, saw Jarrat hurl himself forward, heard the steel meet. Mixed joy and horror held her.



Anne saw both blades clang out.

She understood. He had cherished his master's purpose all along, pursued by treachery, meeting cunning with cunning, constrained to deception. It was the true message of the French king that she clasped at that moment under her cloak. To carry this he had won his way from the hands of his enemies and fooled Jarrat to his purpose. And now without the packet his voice would give the message to the congress. She had brought it just in time.

All this came to her at once in a succession of pictures vivid as patches of night landscape seen by violet lightning and at an instant when horror overrolled her joy.

The street, the taproom, were so near. Would none come to stop them? She feared to declare herself, for a start, a tremor of the hand, might mean death to her lover.

She saw the quick end, powerless to utter a cry. Armand stiffened suddenly, his left hand fallen low. His blade passed like a needle in sailcloth through the other's body, and Jarrat slipped in a huddle to the floor and lay still.

Anne tried to scream, but her throat only gave forth a whisper. Not till Armand had sheathed his wet sword and the door had closed upon him did she find strength to part the curtains.

She looked upon the prostrate man in a terror. She must summon help and then take the packet to Armand. She realized suddenly that Jarrat was not dead; that his eyes were upon her; that he was struggling to a sitting posture.

"You saw—you heard!" he gasped. "You!"

"Yes," she breathed.

"You brought him the packet! My God! To think I never suspected! And he has gone—gone"—

"To his honor."

He stared at her, a slow, ghastly smile coming to wreathe his lips. "Honor? Say you so? Wait!"

He made an attempt to unbutton his waistcoat. "The paper in this pocket!" he groaned. "Take it and read. Quick! Quick! Nay, call no one! Men bleed not to death so soon!"

She unfolded the scroll with shaking fingers and read:

> I, Louis Armand, released from durance in Halifax, under special instruction from his majesty's government touching the Continental congress, do agree that, in the event that I do not carry out this mission, as ordered, I hold my life forfeit and pledge my honor within one month this hereafter to deliver myself to Lord Chetwynde, whose custody I now leave.
> ARMAND.

She caught her breath. "Do pledge my honor to deliver myself"—"to hold my life forfeit." He had chosen to give his life to carry the true message. His life! How dear that was to her! He must not do it! Oh, if God would only help her to think! He must not do it! She heard Jarrat's breathing through it all and felt his eyes, filming, upon her.

A heavy knocking came at the door, and Joseph Galloway entered, his stick in his hand. He made an exclamation as he saw and threw up his hands.

"Galloway!" said the wounded man, his breath rattling with a convulsion as the other bent over him. "He is false to us. Armand—he is false! He—did this. He is gone to the congress. You must stop him!"

"Yes, yes. I will call a leech. 'Tis not a mortal thrust, man. I will go to the hall. But how to do it? Proofs"—

"She"— gasped Jarrat in a final effort, pointing to Anne. "She"— and lapsed into ashen unconsciousness.

MESSAGE FOR ONTARIO.

General Booth's Parting Words of Counsel to the People.

Toronto, March 16.—Escorted to the station by his own people, with banners flying, and bearing 450 torches, General Booth left here last night for Montreal, after a week's stay in the city, during which time he has given 18 addresses, including visits to the Legislature and the prison. Before leaving the general handed out the following written message:

"Good-bye, Ontario!

"I have spent one of the most strenuous, but at the same time one of the happiest, weeks of my life in your capital city.

"The hour of your opportunity is assuredly with you. Make the most of it by going forward in the path of truth, and honor, and industry, forgetting not the service of the Lord God Himself, and prosperity for earth and heaven shall be yours. Grateful for your sympathy. Reckon on my prayers.

"William Booth."

He will sail for Japan on 1st April.

MASSON GOES FOR TRIAL.

Hockey Player to Face Charge of Manslaughter.

Cornwall, March 16.—Manslaughter is the charge Charlie Masson of the Ottawa Victorias will have to face in connection with the death of "Bud" McCourt in a Federal League hockey match here last week.

After hearing the evidence of nine witnesses, the crown, represented by County Attorney Dingwall, rested its case.

The defence did not call any witnesses, but J. A. Chisholm and R. A. Pringle, M. P., who appeared for Masson, held that the charge of murder was an improper one and should never have been laid.

"Mr. Dingwall held out for a similar charge in the Loney case," Mr. Chisholm argued, "but the crown prosecutor changed it to manslaughter. We did not desire to shirk a committal for trial on a charge of manslaughter."

THE DAILY SACRIFICE.

Two Trainmen Killed and Others Hurt In Pennsylvania.

Meadville, Pa., March 16.—The second section of freight train No. 72 on the Erie Railroad went over an embankment at this place yesterday. Two trainmen were killed and a member fatally injured. Two engines and 21 cars were demolished. The dead are Engineer R. D. Logan and a brakeman. The train was running at a fast rate of speed when the crossbeam on the forward engine dropped to the track, derailing the train.

Brakeman Killed.

Toronto, March 16.—A brakeman on the G. T. R., William Kerr of Toronto, while passing between the tender of the engine and a box car to fix the knuckle, was killed yesterday afternoon.

LITTLE HERO SAVED LIFE.

Throws Her Apron Over Woman's Head Who Was In Flames.

Quebec, March 16.—A young woman, Mrs. Philippe Gingras, residing in St. Lawrence ward, attempted several days ago to light a fire with petroleum. When the flames set fire to her clothing she made a desperate effort to tear off her burning clothing, but the fire reached her hair. The little five-year-old daughter of Mrs. Frechette, who resided upstairs, was attracted by the cries of the unfortunate woman. Without a moment's hesitation the child untide her apron and wrapped it around the head of the victim, thus stifling the flames and saving the woman's life.

BETTER LAND IN ENGLAND.

Hamar Greenwood Thinks British Climate and Land Beat Canada's.

London, March 16.—(C. A. P.)—Hamar Greenwood, at a meeting of the York Woman's Liberal Association, referring to his recent visit to Jamaica, said, "I have increased in sobriety of thought, but by no means in good health." Turning to the question of social reform Mr. Greenwood made a regretful allusion to the fact that so many people were emigrating when there was land in England more fertile than in Canada, and where the climate was in many respects better than that of Canada.

Run Down By Street Car.

Hamilton, March 16.—Daniel McIsaac, 12 East Jackson street, was run down by a street car last evening. One arm and one leg were so badly mangled that they had to be amputated. As the victim is over 70 years of age, it is feared his injuries will prove fatal.

The mishap occurred about 9 o'clock at King and John streets. Mr. McIsaac was crossing King street from the south side and the car was going east, but the view was obstructed by the Macdonald monument.

Whole City Teetotalers.

Jackson, Tenn., March 16.—By a vote of 937 to 3, Jackson yesterday declared itself a prohibition town.

Early yesterday, 4,000 women and children began marching the streets, despite a cold rain, singing prohibition songs and carrying banners. They worked at the polls all day, serving lunches to the voters.

More Army Emigrants.

London, March 16.—The Vancouver sailed with 800 Salvation Army emigrants. Quite a ritual marked the departure of the vessel.

Lord Tennyson has announced he will emigrate a party of deserving Y. M. C. A. members at his own expense.

Steamer Larchmont Found.

Providence, R. I., March 16.—After a search of over a month the wreck of the steamer Larchmont has been found by Capt. James Buddington, a fisherman, one quarter of a mile south of Watch Hill Light.

FLOOD'S HEAVY DAMAGE

Will Cost $9,337,000—Conditions Better in Pittsburg.

Had to Fight Two Serious Fires as Well—Dynamite Fails to Check the Flames — Twenty-five Houses Destroyed—City In Darkness—Lighting Plant Put Out of Commission—Enormous Losses.

Pittsburg, March 16.—With the rapid receding of the waters in the Monongahela, Allegheny and Ohio rivers, conditions are fast assuming normal proportions and the greatest and most destructive flood in the history of the city is at an end. At nightfall the approaches to the bridges were clear of water and several hours later street car service was resumed.

Ten square miles were inundated. The loss in actual dollars probably will never be known, but an estimate thus far in Allegheny county may be summarized in the following tables:

Loss in output of steel mills	$3,000,000
Loss in output of other industries	2,000,000
Loss in wages of employes	1,837,000
Estimated damage to industrial plant	2,500,000
Total	$9,337,000

Four business houses and fifteen residences have been burned to the ground in the Mount Washington district across the Monongahela river. Two attempts were made to stop the flames by dynamiting adjacent buildings, but the wreckage caught fire. No water is available and the flames are being fought with chemicals and a bucket brigade. Several of the residences are tenements.

Water Caused Fire.

Fire yesterday destroyed the plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Co. in South 14th street, and slightly damaged the bolt works of the Oliver Iron and Steel Works adjoining. The loss to the Tin Plate firm was about $25,000 and to the Oliver Co., $1,000. The fire originated from a car of lime which was set on fire by the high water.

Entire Block in Flames.

Two alarms were sounded for a fire in the south side district of this city. The entire block on the north side of Carson street between 13th and 14th streets is burning. The immense Oliver steel plant is threatened. The [illegible]

The fire practically burnt itself out at noon. Twenty-five business houses and dwellings were destroyed or badly damaged.

The loss from both fires will not exceed $225,000.

Conditions in Southern Ohio were worse yesterday. At Parkersburg, W. Va., the electric light plant was put out of commission, and the city is in darkness. Telegraph and telephone service is badly crippled.

The loss at Marietta, Ohio, will be enormous. Water has flooded the main street, and many residents have been forced to vacate their homes. The city was in darkness last night.

Much damage has been done in the oil fields, and there is considerable suffering in the surrounding country. Two men were drowned yesterday.

All danger has subsided in Maryland. The Potomac River has fallen about six feet.

Central American War.

Managua, March 16.—The Nicaraguan Government yesterday issued a decree recognizing the provisional Government of Honduras, and declaring its members to be allies of Nicaragua.

The last battle fought between the Nicaraguans and Honduras was so decisively in favor of the former that it is believed it will result in bringing the war to an end. General Melecio Merino and other Honduran officers were killed.

Nearly a Disaster.

Dover, Eng., March 16.—The British armored cruiser Duke of Edinburgh grounded yesterday as she was leaving the harbor here, but subsequently was towed off without having sustained any damage. She was caught by a strong tide, which drove her rapidly towards the Prince of Wales pier, and the prompt dropping of her anchors alone saved the warship from crashing into the pier.

Warship In Trouble.

Brest, March 16.—There was another accident to a French warship off this port Thursday. During torpedo exercises the coast defence ship Fulminant was struck and seriously damaged on the water line by a torpedo. Collision mats were at once applied to the hole in the vessel's side, and she was towed into port in a sinking condition.

58 Toulon Dead Identified.

Toulon, March 16.—Only fifty-eight bodies have been identified of the 107 found in or about the hulk of the battleship Iena. The state funeral will be attended to-day by President Fallieres. All the dead have been posthumously promoted so that their survivors will receive higher pensions.

Dutch Kill 280 In Indies.

The Hague, March 16.—An official despatch received here yesterday from the Island of Celebes, Dutch East Indies, announced that the Dutch troops had captured an important rebel stronghold, after a stubborn fight. The fleeing enemy left 280 men dead on the field.

Frank Daniels Killed by Fall.

Portland, Maine, March 16.—Frank Daniels of Montreal, marine superintendent of the Dominion Steamship Line, was killed by falling into the hold of the steamer Southwark here yesterday. He is survived by a widow and two daughters in Montreal.

Forest Reserve Located.

Ottawa, March 16.—The part of Ontario to be reserved as a forest reserve is 6,000 square miles in the north. This permanent forest reserve will lie between the Riviere du Lievre and the Ontario boundary.

Rev Dr. William Sparling, pastor of Grace church, Winnipeg, has accepted a call to St. James' church, Montreal.

BOURASSA ON WARPATH.

Scores Hyman Transaction— Will Discuss Fowler Charges on the 26th.

Ottawa, March 16.—Armand Lavergne called attention to the report of the committee on privileges and elections, declaring the Hyman resignation invalid. He moved that the report be not concurred in. True, Mr. Hyman had not followed the letter of the statute, but it was within the power of the House to respect the intention of the member and to declare his seat vacant.

Mr. Bourassa characterized the entire Hyman transaction as a "Parliamentary joke." He gave notice that on Tuesday, March 26, he would discuss the various charges and countercharges that had been flying back and forth across the House, including the famous "women, wine and graft" indictment, the findings of the Insurance Commission respecting certain members, and reference in the House concerning western land deals and other transactions disclosed by the insurance investigation.

Mr. Bourassa explained that this date had been fixed after consultation with the Premier and the leader of the Opposition.

The House then went into committee on the Lemieux labor disputes bill. A few amendments were agreed to, insuring the right of railway employes to avail themselves either of this act or on the present Conciliation Act. The bill was then reported.

Liability For Injuries.

The House also discussed the bill respecting the Grand Trunk Railway Co. yesterday.

Mr. Lennox (South Simcoe) and Mr. Bennett (East Simcoe) insisted that the clause providing for an employes pension fund should be safeguarded so as to prevent the employes contracting away their right to recover for wrongful death or personal injuries. Mr. Lennox moved an amendment to this effect.

The House divided upon this amendment, and the same was voted down. Yeas 22, nays 48; a party vote. The bill goes over.

Dr. Stockton, M. P., Dead.

Ottawa, March 16.—Dr. Stockton, M. P. for St. John, N.B., died in the Water street Hospital after an illness of about four weeks. His daughter was with him at the time of death, and Mrs. Stockton is now en route to Ottawa from New Brunswick.

Dr. Stockton was a member of the New Brunswick Legislature from 1883 to 1899. In 1900 he unsuccessfully contested the seat for the Commons, but was successful at the last general election.

This makes the eighth death in the Commons and Senate this session, four members of each Chamber having passed away. The remains will be sent to St. John for interment.

Accused of $40,000 Forgery.

Montreal, March 16.—Jos. O. Motard, senior partner of the firm of Motard, Fils & Senecal, 5 Place Royale, importers of wines and liquors, and agents for the trappists monks of Oka, has been arrested on a charge of forging notes on the Molsons Bank to the amount of nearly $40,000.

He has admitted his guilt and says the greater part of the money was spent in advertising his business. He stated that the notes are for sums ranging from $100 to $200, to which he had forged names of his regular customers.

Laurier's Hostility.

London, March 16.—(C. A. P.)—The Morning Post's correspondent says Laurier will represent the views of French-Canadians only respecting an imperial council.

The Morning Post, editorially, says the pity of it is that probably his hostile attitude is based on a misconception of the proposal. While it merely aims at giving the conference a continuous existence by arranging that responsible Ministers of each state reside in London, which would not alter the principle.

Will Open New Chapter.

London, March 16.—(C. A. P.)—Hon. Clifford Sifton, interviewed, said that the time was approaching when an entirely new chapter in the development of Canada will be opened. This will call for the presence of a class of British people quite different from that now emigrating. It also would be accompanied by the introduction of capital to develop Canadian industries. "But you must not expect to see matters hurried," he said.

Manitoba Cabinet Grows.

Winnipeg, March 16.—An important Cabinet change was announced last night when the Provincial Government made known that it had created a new portfolio, that of Minister of Telephones and Railways. J. H. Howden, M.P.P., member for Beautiful Plains, is the new Minister.

It also is announced that active work on the entire system of Government and municipal telephones will be started in sixty days.

Hyman Coming Home.

Ottawa, March 16.—Hon. C. S. Hyman and Mrs. Hyman leave Coronada, Cal., on Saturday, and are expected in Ottawa next week. He has spent two months at Coronada, leaving Canada at the end of November. He is sufficiently recovered from nervous prostration to resume public and private duties. This is the tenor of private despatches to Ottawa.

Asks $25,000, Gets Half a Cent.

Limerick, Ireland, March 16.—In the action for libel brought by William Emerson, member of Parliament for Cork, against The Freeman's Journal, in which he claimed $25,000 damages, the jury yesterday rendered a verdict for the plaintiff, awarding him one farthing (half a cent) damages on each of the six counts.

Held For Murder.

London, March 16.—At the preliminary examination yesterday Police Magistrate Love sent Daniel McPherson up for trial on a charge of killing his father. The case goes on this morning.

Farmers Waiting for Immigrants

General Rush to Secure Help for Coming Season

The Toronto News says,—Fifty-one immigrants arrived in Toronto yesterday by special C. P. R. All, however, were tradesmen and not farmers.

"How many farmers visit the office in search of farm help?" was asked of the immigration man, seeing a number of tillers of the soil about the office.

"Why, if there has been one here this morning there has been sixty" —and it was but half-past nine. "One man from Ingersoll was here at half-past five waiting.

Another contingent of Church Army Immigrants, numbering one hundred and fifty, will arrive on the Empress of Ireland, [illegible] expected to-day at Halifax. These are mostly farmers, many having been employed on the Church Army farms in England for six months. Some time ago fifty Church Army immigrants arrived, and forty-eight of these have been located on farms, many of them in the vicinity of Windsor. Captain Blake expects a large number of farm workers to arrive under the auspices of the emigration department of the Church Army.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions made from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous services of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

ILLEGAL TO BET ON THE RACES

An Ottawa despatch says:—The Supreme Court has decided that open betting on races is illegal, which means the wiping out of the old system of betting from booths where receipts are given for the money handed over. It will thus effect Toronto, Hamilton, Fort Erie, Windsor and Montreal—the racing centres of Canada.

The case came before the court in the shape of an appeal by Jake Saunders, a Toronto bookmaker who was fined in the police court there for taking bets at the Woodbine last spring. This case was appealed, and yesterday's decision not only sustains the police court fine, but also strikes a severe blow at racing. Justices Girouard and Davies dissented from the judgment.

Street Loafers on the Job Again

Ladies Complaint of Young Men on the Street Corners

Complaints are coming into this office in large numbers about the street corner loafers. Both ladies and gentlemen are complaining. The ladies say that it is most disgusting and many of them are afraid to go down town alone. The practice of street loafing is altogether too prevalent. Young men, and very often older ones, stand on the corners of the principal thoroughfares of the city, spit tobacco all over the walk, making insulting remarks to and about ladies as they pass, and do other things disgraceful to present day civilization.

This habit can very easily be broken. The whole thing is in the hands of the police. They require no instructions from the commissioners. The by-law is there, and it is their duty to enforce it. There is no work attached to the enforcement as the police pass the corners every few minutes during the day and evening, and if the loafers do not move on a few arrests and a few police court cases every week or two will soon clear the streets.

Will Isolation Hospital Come

Chairman Wm. Eyres of the Board of Health Introduces His Pet Scheme Again

Spring, welcome spring. There are signs of the coming spring. The black crows, gray sparrows, red robbins, muddy roads, bright sunshine and flowing brooks are all signs that nature is rousing from its long slumber. But when one desires to be positive that spring is approaching, all the above pass into insignificance when compared with the chairman of the Board of Health's advocacy for an isolation hospital.

As regular as this season comes round so does Mr. Eyres endeavor to impress the City Council with the necessity of an isolation hospital. He cannot see how the city will get through the season without one.

For several months past the people have had a rest. They have heard nothing of the isolation hospital since last fall. Many thought it had frozen up and died. But, like the buds on the maple trees, a few sun-shiny days, and it came to life again, and bids fair to once more open out into a live question.

In referring to several matters the Board of Health will have to take up this year, the chairman included the isolation hospital. Some of the other members of the Board actually laughed, but the presiding officer said the time is coming when this very necessary building will be erected.

The Board then adjourned.

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

AMUSEMENTS

SHADOWS OF THE PAST

There was a large and appreciative audience at the Grand Opera House on Saturday night to witness the production of "Shadows of the Past." The presentation gave good satisfaction. It is splendidly staged and the situations are all admirably brought out. Julia Gray, in the leading role of Delia Morley, is charmingly adaptable to the emotional versatility demanded by her character. Edna Earl Andrews as Dora Strong, is good in refined comedy, in which she is acceptably supported by J. H. Hawkins, as Adolphus Bond. Frederick Loomis, in the double role of Joseph Morley, the drink-crazed husband, and Angus Morley, the exemplary son, presents considerable histrionic talent. His interpretation of the former character is appallingly life-like. The remainder of the cast is suitably balanced.

Says Nothing But Saws Wood

Mr. William Curtin of Ennismore, is the owner of a wood sawing outfit, and knows how to operate it too. William has been following Greely's advice and since early spring has been moving westward, leaving a trail of wood piles behind him in every farm yard, where they happened to be short of fuel. He reserved his best effort for the occasion of his visit to Mr. Cecil Reeds, near Maple Leaf cheese factory, when he razed through forty cords of cedar in five hours. If anyone can approach this feat, Mr. Curtin is prepared to buckle to his work, and go a cord or two better.—Lindsay Post.

Foreign Secretary Grey, in the British House, praised Admiral Davis' action at Jamaica. He was cheered.

SPRING STREET CLEANING STARTED

Commissioner Harry Evans Puts Gang of Men to Work To-day.

Street Commissioner Harry Evans put a force of men on the streets this afternoon to scrape off the first coating of the winter's accumulation. The very mild weather of the past few days has melted practically all the ice on the roads, and there is an inch or two of mud and dirt on top. Mr. Evans realized that if this was taken off now, the ice underneath would have a better chance to melt, and in case a shower of rain fell within the next few days, the roads would be bare, and within a week or ten days, he would have all the mud off and the dust flying. In Toronto this is not the case, with all their pavement. A little favorable consideration from the weather clerk would put the city right in the front ranks for clean streets.

Are Erecting New Sunday School Hall

Good Progress Being Made at Cold Springs—Notes From Stewart Settlement

Stewart's, Otonabee, March 18

The Young People's meeting was not so largely attended last week, owing to the poor condition of the roads. It was Bible study again and Miss Maud Stewart took the topic. Miss Lizzie Stewart gave a very interesting paper on the life of Luther. The society had arranged for a social to be given next week, but have decided to postpone it for an indefinite time, on account of the uncertainty of the roads.

Mr. Brooks missionary from Constantinople, gave an address on "The Peoples and Religions of Turkey," in the Union hall on Tuesday evening. The attendance was fairly good, but the roads prevented many from going. They missed an intellectual treat.

A number of our young people crossed the river last Sunday evening and attended the Springville church service.

We fear our long enjoyed sleighing is nearly at a finish, and the rattle of the wheels will soon be heard once more. With us though, the roads are not so badly worn as on the other side of the river, where, if three ride in a cutter, one has to walk the greater part of the way. Of course two is company.

Mr. Creighton Matchett who has been renewing old friends and acquaintances for the past three months left for Leithbridge, Alberta, on Tuesday. He has made his home there for the past few years, but claims that new friends fail to surpass the old ones.

Miss Mildred Deyell spent Friday evening at Mr. W. B. Stewart's.

We are glad to notice our Cold Springs friends have commenced operations on their new Sunday school hall. From appearances so far it promises to be a fine one and we wish them every success in the future.

Last "Pop" Held for the Season

There was a good attendance at the seventh and last Y.M.C.A. Pop held in the Y.M.C.A. hall on Saturday night.

Miss Clara Bellegham delighted the audience with a solo, sung in her usual fine voice. She was obliged to respond with an encore number

The main feature of the evening was the lecture by Mr. F. D. Kerr on "Seeing England, Ireland and Scotland," in which in a most interesting and graphic way Mr. Kerr gave an account of his recent trip in the Old Country.

Though the lecture was an hour and a half in length, yet it was so brimful of good humor and entertainment that he held the undivided attention of the audience from start to finish.

Anthracite operators have agreed to make the usual fifty cent reduction in prepared coal on April 1st.

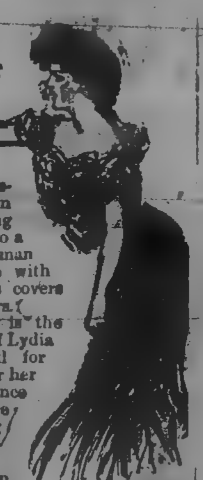
STOP, WOMAN!



AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman — a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years.

Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for many years under her direction, and since her decease, she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice.

When a medicine has been successful in [illegible] to health so many women, [illegible] well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

DOWIE DID NOT FORGIVE.

Promised to Return With Ruthless Hands to Destroy.

Chicago, March 18.—Although the sermon prepared by Dowie was not used in the funeral rites, it was issued for publication. It makes plain that Dowie did not forgive his enemies before he died, as he says of those who ousted him from control:—"I shall return, and with ruthless hand shall I exterminate the vipers and the dogs of hell that now hold high places in the City of Zion. They dreamed, and in the grossness of their dreams they thought they had prevailed over the first apostle. And now, priests and elders of Zion, I shall return in another form, brighter and more beautiful and ten thousand times more terrible, to cut ye off in the midst of your sins, and to win back Zion for the truth and for them that held to the word and did no evil."

There was a small-sized panic during the funeral ceremonies because of the announcement that another of Voliva's followers was dying. In the past week three of his lieutenants who held similar positions under Dowie have died suddenly, and when it was said that a fourth was likely to die before morning several of the mourners ran from the tabernacle, shouting that Zion was accursed by God. This excited the rest of the 3,000 mourners, and before the cooler-headed leaders could get among the people to counsel quietness fully five hundred had left the building.

FRACTURED HIS SKULL.

Goderich Magistrate Falls Downstairs While Working Alone.

Goderich, March 18.—A distressing accident occurred Saturday evening resulting in the death of Charles A. Humber, one of Goderich's most estimable citizens.

In carrying a heavy article down a flight of stairs Mr. Humber accidentally fell headlong to the bottom fracturing his skull and causing concussion of the brain. As the deceased was working alone in the house it was not till some time after the accident occurred that his delayed return home caused anxiety, when on search being made he was found unconscious on the cellar floor.

For years he served as councillor and latterly discharged the duties of police magistrate. He stood high in Masonic circles, filling high offices in Maitland Lodge No. 33, Huron Chapter No. 30, St. Elmo Preceptory No 22, and with several degrees in the Scottish Rite.

ATLANTIC EXPRESS WRECKED.

Five Persons Severely Injured, Two Perhaps Fatally.

Durand, Mich., March 18.—The Atlantic express, on the Grand Trunk Railway, due here at 5.55 a. m., from Chicago, en route to Port Huron and the east, and running late, ran into an open switch at Bancroft, five miles from here, Saturday, and struck a freight train.

Five persons were severely injured two of them perhaps fatally. Engineer A. F. Schram and Fireman Frank Cowan, both of Battle Creek, Mich., suffered broken limbs and severe scalds, and may die. I. F. Smith of Dowagiac and Mrs. D. Shook and Miss Ruth Shook of Lansing, her daughter were severely scalded, but are not thought to be fatally hurt. A number of other passengers received minor injuries, but were able to proceed east on a later train.

Town Lot Fer Baby.

Saskatoon, Sask., March 18.—A baby boy was born at Aylesbury to an emigrant couple on the north-bound train that got here late Friday night. The mother was given the smoking department in the first-class coach. Services volunteered by lady passengers were availed of, but the couple refused the assistance of medical men. The parents and child are now comfortably located at the emigrant hall in this city.

The Reeve of Aylesbury has offered the father of the child a town lot if he would locate there, as the boy was the first male child born in that village.

The parents are from Russia, and came to Saskatchewan to settle. Passengers on board the train raised a purse of money for the infant.

Finds Husband Self-Slain.

Kaladar, March 18.—Returning to her home Saturday, Mrs. W. P. Berry found her husband's pipe, knife and tobacco, which he always carried, on the dining table, his watch and chain hanging on the wall, and his vest on the back of a chair. His oft-repeated threats to commit suicide recurred to her, and she got William Bongard to investigate.

He found Berry sitting in a room with a rifle in front of him, the muzzle placed at his throat. A bullet had torn through his head.

What Provinces Get.

Ottawa, March 18.—Under the provisions of the new act governing the granting of provincial subsidies by the Dominion, of which notice has been given by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the increases to the various provinces, on the basis of the last census returns, will be as follows: Ontario, $789,485; Quebec, $599,866; Nova Scotia, $177,659; New Brunswick, $130,000; Manitoba $142,530; British Columbia, $215,000; Prince Edward Island, $65,345; Alberta, $48,329; Saskatchewan, $136,210.

Gas Kills Couple.

Philadelphia, March 18.—Lying side by side on a bed in their home here, Thomas Sherlow, 68 years of age, and his wife, Annie, 62 years old, were found dead Saturday. They had been asphyxiated.

A fox terrier lay dead beside them. A deputy sheriff who had gone to the house to serve a summons for debt made the discovery.

Bites Blasting Cap; Killed.

Tucson, Arizona, March 18.—L. L. Walden, superintendent of the Purcell mines in the Socita mountains, was killed Saturday by the explosion of a blasting cap which he was crimping between the teeth.

Paralytic Cremated.

Victoria, B. C., March 18.—A pathetic tragedy is reported from the Dell Ranch, midway between Chemainus and Ladysmith, Mrs. Oslar, an octogenarian resident, being burned to death. The old lady, a paralytic, living with her son, was sitting by the open fire, sparks from which ignited her clothing. Unable to move, the unfortunate lady burned to death.

Explosion on a Destroyer.

Corfu, March 18.—The British destroyers Dragon, Boxer, Desperate and Foam went out at noon Saturday on a steam trial. At five o'clock a tube in the Dragon's boiler exploded, injuring severely Stokers Dawe, Parks and Brown, and slightly injuring Chief Stoker Gough and two men named Moyle and Wilton.

The Dragon was towed into harbor and the men were landed and taken to the military hospital.

Two Killed In Warship Crash.

Ajaccio, Corsica, March 18.—During the manoeuvres Saturday night without lights, the torpedo boat destroyer Epes rammed torpedo boat No. 283. A steampipe burst, killing two men and fatally injuring another.

Badly Scalded.

Brantford, March 18.—George Drury, engineer at the Goold-Shapley-Muir Co. Works, was badly scalded by the bursting of a steam pipe in the engine room. He is in a critical condition.

Kingston Prosecutor Named.

Kingston, March 18.—H. A. Stewart of Brockville has been appointed crown prosecutor for the assizes, which open here to-day.

Would Emigrate Irish.

London, March 18.—(C. A. P.)—Giving evidence before the congested districts commission, W. H. Boyd, representing the Irish Landowners' convention, said the Irish peasant who is too lazy to work becomes ignorant of agriculture and he would emigrate the people in shiploads and place them in districts in Canada where land labor can be procured for them. It might be that they would require several years' tuition in agriculture before they would be able to cultivate the land, but his opinion certainly was that emigration was better for Ireland than migration.

The Journal seriously suggests that the Unionists should agree to submit the question of Irish home rule to the arbitrament of the colonial conference on the ground that the Colonial Premiers could speak from experience.

John Redmond, at Liverpool, declared that unless there was deep treachery Irishmen were on the eve of getting control of the important Irish affairs. Regarding the education question he said the only fair solution was the Canadian system which Catholics would accept to-morrow.

Negro Wins Scholarship.

Philadelphia, March 18.—A bright-looking little colored man, with the impressive name of Alain Le Roy Locke, is the first negro to win a Rhodes scholarship. Locke is a senior in Harvard University. He won the honor that entitles him to study at Oxford at a competitive examination held at Boston and was one of seven aspirants who passed.

The conditions under which the scholarship was given included a provision that neither race nor color should bar a candidate; that merit alone should count.

EXPLOSION AND FIRE

Upton Sinclair's Colony Burned to the Ground.

Helicon Hall Completely Destroyed—Author of The Jungle and His Wife Had to Jump—55 Persons In Settlement—Babies Thrown In Blankets—Incendiarism Suspected—No Fire Escapes Available.

Englewood, N. J., March 18.—Helicon Hall, the home of Upton Sinclair's Socialistic colony, was burned to the ground, following an explosion on Saturday, which tore the front part of the building away, and sent flames to every corner of the structure. The 55 persons who comprised the settlement, including the author of "The Jungle" and his wife, were shut in by the flames, and jumped from windows on the second and third floors. Children were tossed from the windows in their night clothes, and caught in the arms of men and women or in blankets held by them. A number of women in the colony received sprains, bruises, and cuts. A workman named Briggs was said to be missing.

The explosion seemed to have occurred in the ball-room, and was of such force as to be heard a mile away. As it was not caused by the boilers of the heating plant, suspicion was aroused that it was the deliberate work of some malicious persons.

Fire followed the explosion almost at once, and quickly spread through the lower part of the building, shutting off the escape of the occupants, who at first rushed for the stairways, but were turned back by the flames. As there were no fire-escapes, the members of the colony began to jump from the second and third storey windows. The men then threw out blankets first, and then used them to break the fall of the women and children, who were dropped into them.

Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair, who occupied a room in the front of the building, were thrown from their bed by the explosion, and jumped out of the window.

The Sinclair Co-operative Colony was established last October, and included a number of educators, men and women, engaged in literary pursuits. The co-operative servant plan was adopted, the meals being served in common in a large dining-room.

FIRE IN OLD LONDON.

Three Warehouses Burned In Finsbury District—Loss, $1,000,000.

London, March 18.—Three big warehouses in the Finsbury district, London's busiest industrial centre, were destroyed by fire yesterday morning, causing damage to the amount of about $1,000,000.

Starting in Featherstone street, in the premises of Cox & Co., hat manufacturers, the flames, fanned by a strong wind, jumped the street and enveloped the establishment of the Maritime Co., wood turners, and spread to the adjoining warehouse of Green & Co., shoe manufacturers. Owing to the strength of the wind, it appeared for a time as though the whole block of adjoining property would be devastated, but after three hours' hard work the firemen gained control of the situation.

$10,000 Fire In St. John.

St. John, N. B., March 18.—Fire Saturday night in the centre of a Prince William street block caused damage estimated at $10,000. It broke out in the four-storey brick building owned by George E. Fairweather, and occupied by A. B. Smalley, jeweller and watchmaker. The building was gutted and considerable stock damaged. The adjoining building, the Dearborn Co.'s spice factory, suffered several thousands of dollars loss, and Bowman and Cole, wholesalers and tea merchants, suffered by smoke and water. All the losses are covered by insurance.

Hotel Burns at Falls.

Niagara Falls, March 18.—Victoria Hall, the summer tourist temperance house, at Niagara Fall Centre, was totally destroyed by fire Saturday. It is believed the fire started from crossed electric wires in the section closed for the winter.

The occupants escaped in their night clothing. Dr. Gibson, was partially overcome by smoke, while the daughter of the proprietor, Miss Young, and a friend, Miss Inez Sinclair, had to be taken out with assistance of a ladder.

The three-storey building burned like tinder, and in two hours was flat on the ground. Total loss $15,000; insured for $8,000.

Walkerville Church Burns.

Walkerville, March 18.—The eastern part of the town was visited by a disastrous fire Saturday afternoon, the McGregor-Banwell Fence Co. going first.

The Walkerville fire brigade kept the fire from spreading in the immediate vicinity, but the wind carried some cinders to the roof of the Roman Catholic Church, Our Lady of Lake St. Clair, over 200 yards distant, and the whole roof was in flames. The Detroit fire tug soon had the fire under control, but not until the church was a total loss.

Twenty-Two Miners Killed.

Saarlouis, Rhenish Prussia, March 18.—Twenty-two miners were killed yesterday morning at the Gerhard coal mine. They were descending one of the shafts in a cage when the cable broke near the top and the miners plunged down several hundred feet. They all met with instant death.

The mine belongs to the Prussian Government, which has already begun an official inquiry into the accident.

Masson Out On Bail.

Cornwall, March 18.—Charlie Masson of Ottawa, the hockey player, who is charged with causing the death of "Bud" McCourt in a match here on March 6, has been released on $16,000 bail, $8,000 by himself, $4,000 by his father, D. T. Masson, and $4,000 by J. H. Dewar of Ottawa.

The bail was granted by County Judge O'Reilly.

Samuel Sheppard, a farm laborer, near London, Ont., was frozen to death, with one cheek eaten by rats.

NEW CRUISER LAUNCHED.

London, March 18.—The Indomitable, the first of the new class of armored cruisers, was successfully launched in the Clyde on Saturday. She is 17,250 tons, is 530 feet long, exceeding the older armored cruisers by 50 feet, has turbine engines, and is expected to attain a speed of 25 knots per hour.

By special order of the admiralty, the greatest secrecy is being maintained concerning the details of the construction of this, the largest cruiser in the world. The cost of the Indomitable is approximately $9,720,000. While ostensibly a cruiser her actual status has not been definitely set forth, and it is believed she approaches nearer to a battleship in armor and armament.

Sir William Pearce, the chairman of the Fairfield Co., the builders of the warship, presided at a luncheon after the launching. He said he was not permitted to give any information regarding the cruiser, and that she must remain a mystery until the official trials or until the admiralty saw fit to take the public into its confidence. Rear Admiral Bearcroft also spoke at the luncheon. He said he was confident that the Indomitable, if occasion arises would carve out a record for herself that would live in the annals of naval history.

The two sister ships will be launched within a fortnight.

GIRL OF TEN SUICIDE.

School Children Agree to Die Together After Playing Truant.

St. Louis, March 18.—It has developed through testimony yesterday at the coroner's inquest into the suicide Saturday night of Liebling Slocum, aged 10 years, that she had entered into a suicide pact with Gertrude Harper, also 10 years old.

Gertrude Harper testified that Friday she had told her mother that she was going to take her life and was prevented.

The two girls were school children and chums. Liebling had been reproved for playing truant and became melancholy. The two girls brooded over the matter and agreed to die together. Friday Liebling swallowed carbolic acid and died last night.

[illegible] who sold the carbolic acid to Liebling Slocum, was arrested yesterday and is held on a warrant charging the sale of a poisonous drug to a minor. He asserts one bore a note purporting to be from her mother, asking for five cents' worth of carbolic acid, to be used for household purposes.

STRIKE RIOTERS SHOT.

Police Arrest Twenty One Men After Severe Struggle.

Hammond, Ind., March 18.—In a strike riot yesterday at the East Chicago mill of the Republic Iron and Steel Co., several men were shot, two probably fatally.

The trouble started when 50 laborers struck for higher wages. Twenty went back to work, and the remaining 30 broke through the gates of the steel plant to get at their companions.

A riot followed, in which Nesho Zecevich, a foreman, was shot through the shoulders. The wound will probably cause his death. John Kalini, a laborer, was shot and beaten, probably fatally.

Several others were injured by knife thrusts and bullets.

St. Kitts Man Acquitted.

Buffalo, March 18.—The federal jury in the case of Maurice Morris of St. Catharines, Ont., who was indicted upon charges of making a false invoice through the custom house at Niagara Falls, reported to Judge Hazel Saturday a verdict of not guilty.

Jacob Sklorsky, who was jointly indicted with Morris, was discharged by Judge Hazel Friday afternoon on the ground that there was no evidence that he had anything to do with the offences alleged in the indictment.

Jonasson Carries Gimli.

Winnipeg, March 18.—The result of the elections in Gimli are not all in, but with five polls to hear from Jonasson, Liberal, has a majority of 160 over Baldwinson, Conservative, the present member. There was some dissension in the Conservative ranks, and little attempt was made to carry the seat.

The line-up of the House is: Conservatives 28, Liberals 13. The recount in Morris, where Hon. Colin Campbell has only a majority of 2, takes place to-day.

HEARTS COURAGEOUS

BY HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES.

CHAPTER XVI.

THE white walled, high ceiled anteroom was barely furnished with padusoy chairs and a small slim legged table. A high desk used betimes by the colony's chief justice of the supreme court was at one end, with doors on either side. The other end of the room opened in narrow arches between pillars into the wide paved hall of the statehouse. Across these pillars was stretched a heavy cloth curtain, through whose folds sounds from the corridor reached dull and muffled.

Beyond these curtains on the opposite side of the hall was a great double door, and through the heavy oak came voices in debate and an occasional high note like the metallic rap of a gavel. But in the anteroom this became only a distant hum like that of settling bees.

Armand, clad as for a court levee, stood one side erect and smiling before a trio of sober coated figures in duffle gray. His long, brown, rippling hair, the rare lace at his throat, the jade hilt of his dress sword, made him as distinct as some brilliant hued insect among gray moths. Beside him, uniformed, his mustachios aggressive as ever, short, wiry and alert, stood Pilarne.

The sober coated gentlemen, the delegates appointed to meet the secret messenger to the congress, had made their bows to the great man, all but Dickinson, their leader, openly radiant with the presumed bearing of his mission. M. Pilarne's proposals for ammunition purchases had recently been considered in committee, and the announcement of the envoy's arrival, coming from him, a known agent of France, had carried a weight added to by the appearance of the man before them. He had arrived a little late, a deliberateness that accorded well with the sobriety of his errand.

Now they but waited a pause in the debate to throw wide the doors that opened to the floor.

On the other side of those doors rages what is to be the last agitated hour of the fight. The document that is to be the birth certificate of a nation lies upon the table. Since early morning the discussion has been bitter.

The insect hum ceased suddenly. There was a forward movement of the group in the anteroom toward the curtains.

"Stop!" echoed an intense voice behind them. "Stop!" Joseph Galloway stepped into the room from one of the side entrances and closed the door.

"Praise the Most High," he ejaculated, "that I am come in time! Gentlemen, as you would save the congress from a most shameful scandal, let not that man pass from this room!"

There was a murmur of angry amazement from the group. Armand's hand dropped to his side. His face had whitened, and Pilarne's mustachios worked alarmingly.

"Sir," interposed Dickinson sternly, "we receive here a legate of France!"

"You receive an impostor, a villain and a spy!"

Pilarne's hand went to his sword, but Dickinson stepped before him, while the others stood stock still, blankness in their bearing.

"An insult!" cried the former. "And to the very face of monseigneur! Gentlemen, you have cause enough to know the politics of this meddler who has forced his way into this presence."

"I am an honest man," retorted Galloway. "My errand here should demonstrate that. And what I say I prove."

"I know not whether we should listen, sir," said Dickinson, his brows together. "Heaven forbid that we should affront such a guest. Yet the words you have uttered demand, for his excellency's satisfaction at least, an explanation. In his name, then, speak, but quickly and begone." Dickinson was a diplomat.

"I shall be brief," returned Galloway. "This man, whom you believe a French nobleman, is Louis Armand, an adventurer lately arrested in Virginia, now in the secret service of the British. The message he bears is a forgery conveying the offer of aid only on impossible conditions calculated to discourage hope and quench the fervor for independence."

A low exclamation that was very like an abjurgation burst from Dickinson's lips, and his eyes flashed first on the speaker and then upon Armand.

The color was come back to the young Frenchman's face.

"In my own country, gentlemen," he laughed, "we have asiles for such poor miserables. However—my reputation, how dear it is to me! You will proceed, I beg."

It was admirably done. A quaver of relief spread abroad.

"The document in the case," said Galloway and handed Dickinson the writing executed by Lord Chetwynde at the Halifax prison; "an agreement duly signed accepting this traitorous mission."

Having delivered it over, he rubbed his hands together softly

"An arrant concoction, to be sure!" railed Pilarne. "What could be easier? A signature? Of course, of course. But his—zounds! Such effrontery passes belief. 'An adventurer arrested in Virginia,' forsooth? Wert ever in Virginia, you Tory?"

"No," answered Galloway coolly.

A heavy reverberating voice, passion thrilled, boomed through the door beyond the curtains, and the sound of hand clapping followed it in a far, velvet tumult.

"'Tis the Declaration!" exclaimed Pilarne. "The Declaration! 'Tis before them for signatures. They will decide in an hour. And you listen to this smug poltroon!"

The sweat broke upon Dickinson's forehead. Through all these months, by voice and pen, he had striven to incite the colonies to mutiny. Yet he had recoiled from Jefferson's bold resolution to sever from the crown. Resistance he had preached, not secession. And yet—and yet—

He turned to Armand. "The contents of your message," he said—"so much depends. If"—

"Sir!" Armand stopped him sharply. "What I bear is for the congress!"

"In God's name, then, who and what are you?"

"A messenger of the French king!"

Silence fell. Through it Joseph Galloway's unctuous voice spread softly. "Gentlemen, I have a conclusive witness. One moment!"

He passed through the side door and an instant later entered, leading Anne. All eyes were turned upon them.

"'Tis Mistress Tillotson!" One of the committee, who had hitherto kept silence, was speaking. "A lady of Virginia, gentlemen, whom I do know loyal and worthy of all credence."

She did not dare to look about her. She stood, white, piteous. The quiet was unbearable.

The oily voice broke it. "Look upon this man. Is he or is he not Louis Armand, lately seized in Virginia for representing himself a French nobleman?"

She turned her eyes an instant to him and saw his face deadly pale, his eyes terrible, staring at her.

"He is," she answered in a scarce audible tone.

"You received this paper from the hands of an officer in the British service? And recognize the signature as that of this man?"

"Yes." The questions were pitiless. Her limbs were failing her, and she caught at the jamb of the door.

If she only dared look at him! Would they never let her go? The hypocrisy in those rounded, smooth syllables! Were they framing thanks? "For her loyalty," "her courage," "at a moment when a matter of great import trembled in the balance!"

Then the cooler air of the outer hall smote her face, and the falling curtain shut away from her that dreadful room, the torturing voice, the duffle-gray men and among them all that silent, accusing face, those eyes suddenly sunken, round with pain—Armand, whom she loved and had betrayed!

As the door closed behind her Armand dropped into a chair and buried his face in his hands.

"And now, gentlemen," finished Galloway, turning again into the room, "will you let this unspeakable villain pass those doors now?"

"Sir," protested Pilarne, appealing to Dickinson—"sir, gentlemen, a monstrous error is being made. A coil of circumstance has been cunningly wove, to explain which there is no time; nor, mayhap now, would you credit it. But as an officer of the French army, as a chevalier, as a French gentleman, I lay my oath upon the integrity of this mission and of this man."

But he knew as he spoke that what he said was futile.

Joseph Galloway had crossed the room behind Armand's chair and now, with a quick movement, reaching from behind, thrust his hand into the young man's breast and drew forth the forged parchment.

"Document number two," he said, tossing it upon the table. Armand had sprung to his feet, his head thrown high, a tiger gleam in his eyes.

"Canaille!" cried Pilarne.

Dickinson's eye overran the writing. "Send for the guards!" he said in a choked voice. "A file to seize him!" And Joseph Galloway went out in haste.

At the word a fury of passion seemed to capture Armand. Those near him fell back. His dress sword flashed out and drew a burnished ring about him.

"Stand back!" he hurled between his teeth. "You shall not stop me! Back, I say! Messenger I am, and my message I will deliver!"

"Madman! Will he cut his way in?" cried Dickinson.

Armand, dragging the curtain from its hooks, had gained the hall. He sprang at the great doors and struck them frenziedly with his sword. But with the first blow the light steel rattled to the floor broken half way to the hilt.

When Anne had issued from the anteroom a few moments before, she had emerged into the main corridor. She was dizzy, sick, and the last words of her questioner were in her ears. She found herself saying them over dully. "A matter of great import." "Trembling in the balance."

An old doorkeeper in a blue coat with faded lace sat near by on a wooden chair, but the day was warm, and he was dozing. His mouth was open, and he had not stirred when she came out.

She could hear the muffled voices clashing upon one another, coming from the main room where the delegates sat. The door at one end of the corridor opening on the green was ajar, and she was vaguely aware, as a background, of the murmurous, multikeyed noises that hang above an orderly assemblage of many people.

And, standing leaning against the wall, a swift knowledge came to her. The waiting crowd outside; her guide's haste as he hurried her through the streets from the Red Lion tavern. A matter "of great import." The Declaration!

They were considering it, hesitating. Armand's message might have decided, and she had betrayed him—stay! She had the packet. It was there in her cloak. She must find Dr. Franklin. Ah, he must be in there at that moment! She had sworn to give it into his very hands. He must read it at once—at once. With the thought her eager fingers dragged it out.

She glanced at the old watchman. Daily familiarity had made such councils hackneyed to him. With eyes upon him she stole to the door in the center. She turned the knob softly and tried it. It was locked. Smitten with her impotency, she leaned against it and rattled the knob.

All at once she felt it giving. A key had been turned from the inside. She heard the roused doorkeeper shuffling toward her, heard his protestant whispers and tugged with all her strength. A buzz of talk that the stout pillars had deadened clamored loud in her ears. She saw nothing but a broad aisle, above whose center hung an enormous, many prismed chandelier, glancing back the sunlight.

Tears burned her eyes to mist, and her throat was choking. Out of the mist as she stopped the crowded body of the hall stupefied her with people. The sound of voices rising as she had entered stilled in an instant to a silence, broken by an exclamation and the taut blow of a gavel. She was dimly conscious of men—bewigged, dressed mostly in black and snuff color, with white neckcloths—one or two on their feet. Her fingers under her cloak clasped tight the precious packet—so tight she could feel its ridges cut into her flesh—and a clammy faintness was upon her.

Suddenly this left her, and the jarring walls drew into place.

She was standing in the center of a square room, plain walled, with three tall barred windows at each side hung with green Venetian blinds. In front of her was a raised, square rostrum between great empty fireplaces, and, leaning over its desk, an elderly man gazing down. Surprise seemed carved upon his features, and, looking, she felt a dreadful hysterical desire to laugh.

Below on the floor and facing her stood a short, stout old man, with a bald head and a fringe of white hair. His kindly eyes, behind great iron rimmed spectacles, gave her confidence. It came to her in a flash that this was the great Dr. Franklin.

Quivering, she stood before him and courtesied low. Then she raised her hand and gave him the packet.

Everything clouded after that, and the ground was swaying. She saw him break the seal to unfold the paper and start as he bent his eyes upon it. Through the buzz of whispered curiosity she felt a familiar voice strike, speaking her name, and saw the sharp features and foxy hair of Mr. Jefferson. His hand was drawing her toward the entrance. She heard Dr. Franklin's voice, like a great clear organ note, "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh my help."

Then, as they reached the doors, a clamor on the other side—the sound of metal striking against the wood.

The hinges swung outward. She had a momentary glimpse of Armand standing in the corridor, white, disheveled, a broken sword in his hand—saw him starting back, and, as the doors closed heavily behind her, she felt herself sinking into blackness.

"Louis! Louis!" She thrust the faintness back with a wail. "I could not help it!"

He sprang at the great doors.

"Betrayed! Denounced to the congress! Oh, God, and by you! My honor—my love—my trust—all ended!"

Galloway entered from the porch with two soldiers in the Continental uniform. "In the name of the congress!" said Dickinson, pointing to Armand.

"Sauve—toi!" Pilarne's warning vibrated with anxiety. He stumbled awkwardly with the cry, pitching in front of the soldiers and as though to save himself the fall grasped each by an ankle.

Before they could recover from the surprise Armand, turning like a flash, had darted by them to the anteroom, gained the door and disappeared.

"Quick!" gasped Anne as the discomfited soldiers bolted after him. "He must not escape!"

"Are you not satisfied, mistress?" demanded Pilarne, turning on her bitterly.

She staggered through the torn curtain to the table at this and held out to him his lordship's pledge, with a hand shaking like a wave ripple.

He started uncontrollably as he read it and made a gesture of despair. "Le bon Dieu!" he cried, his eyes filling with tears. "Unfortunate that I am! I have helped him to die!"

Then she drooped forward into Pilarne's arms.

"Clang!" The great bell in the dome above spoke suddenly. Dickinson, with an exclamation, went out hastily, the other delegates with him. The single remaining spectator approached the spot where Pilarne knelt chafing Anne's hands.

The Frenchman said no word, but he got upon his feet with such a look in his face that Joseph Galloway, his head bent down, went out slinkingly and with speed, like a whipped cur.

"Clang!"

The sound rang out again, and with its music mixed a vast roar of voices that penetrated from the streets. "Clang!" Another brazen throat took it up, and "They sign! They sign!" came in a shout that shook the building.

"Clash! Clang!"

All the steeples in Philadelphia were shouting to one another now. The great sundering was accomplished. That hour a nation was born—out of the clamor of bells, out of the hearts of men.

But in the statehouse under the cupola, where the big bell that first pealed liberty cracked its throat for joy, Anne lay sobbing:

"Louis! Listen, Louis! Listen to the bells! It was yours—your message that I gave them! Independence! It is come at last, and you have gone to die because I betrayed you. But it was to save you, dear! Will you ever understand? Can you hear them, Louis? The bells! Come back! Come back to me—only to hear them ring! Only to understand!"

* * * * * * *

General Lord Howe sat one evening a month later aboard the Duchess of Gordon, anchored below Staten Island, playing at draughts. His late surrender of Boston to General Washington had ruffled his equanimity. But now Clinton had joined him, haggard from the trouncing Moultrie had given him in South Carolina, and his lordship's brother, Admiral Lord Howe, had hove to in the harbor with a prodigious new army in a fleet of 120 sail. My lord, therefore, felt very comfortable again.

The general's opponent at the table, Lord Chetwynde, wore lace in his sleeves and smoked a foreign cigarette, from which he flicked the white ash daintily with his little finger. As he sat, one felt his eyes, a kind of cold, keen, speculative humor in them. Another officer, Sir Evelyn Clarke, sat with legs wide apart near by. The glazed sconces were brilliantly lighted, and the room rocked pleasantly as the ship rose and fell to the wash.

"Well?" asked Lord Howe. "Any one else for me?"

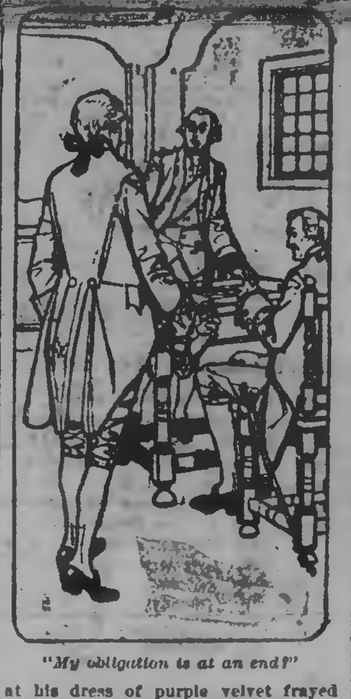
"Very well; bring him down; with your permission, of course, my lord." And his lordship turned to the game again.

"I would the admiral might haste with his olive branch," he yawned, studying the draughtboard through lazy eyelids. "'Tis most uncommon dull here. 'Hell, Hull and Halifax'—egad! I'd as lief be a prison governor at any one of them."

"Less room for your cursed experiments, I suppose, Charles. You were always fond of them at Halifax," commented the single spectator in an Irish brogue. "Why, my lord, I remember just before he sailed (may you never run another jail, Charles) he let a rascal out on a secret service and took his promise in writing to come back to him in a month to the noose. I hope you'll invite me to meet him when he returns. Eh? What! May I bet the devil my head, but there he is now!"

The pair at the table looked at the face of the man who had entered and



"My obligation is at an end?"

"Louis Armand!"

The newcomer bowed and stood silent, waiting.

"You return in accordance with our contract, I presume?"

"Yes, your lordship."

"You are a day late."

"I was not aware of your lordship's transference."

"Burn me, but he's been to Halifax!" exclaimed Lord Chetwynde under his breath.

He sat a moment nursing his chin. Then he seized a paper, wrote a line and added his signature. "I am already informed of your attempt," he said, "and of your failure. Egad, these petticoat patriots are everywhere! However, that was not your fault. I regard only the honesty of your purpose. Here is your release from the penalty. Consider yourself at liberty."

Armand read the paper and then handed it back. "I cannot accept it, your lordship," he said.

"Why not?" demanded Lord Howe in astonishment.

"I did not intend to deliver the message given me to the congress. Had I been admitted I should have delivered a very different one."

"May I bet the devil my head!" ejaculated Sir Evelyn.

Lord Chetwynde flung away his cigarette, his keen eyes on Armand's, and tore up the paper slowly. "That alters the case," he said. "My lord, I suppose I shall have to trouble you to hang this honest renegade for me."

"Too pleased!" said Howe. "The first thing in the morning, Charles. Take him on deck and come and finish the game."

"My obligation is at an end?" asked Armand.

"Of course, of course," acquiesced his lordship. "Excuse me, my lord; I'll be back presently. Precede me, if you please."

He opened the door, and his prisoner passed before him to the star lighted deck. The next instant Armand had leaped to the bulwarks and thrown himself into the sea.

There was strident confusion, a running forward of marines and a turning of lanterns on to the water. "Better lower a boat," advised Lord Chetwynde.

"No time for that." Sir Evelyn's voice was at his elbow. "A hundred yards and you'll never find him. Guard, send your surest marksman here to pick him off."

"There he is!" bawled a voice as the sharpshooter came forward. "I see his head."

"I think," said Lord Chetwynde, "laying a hand on the weapon, "that I'll have a shot myself." Taking it from the man's hand, he laid the long barrel on the rail and drew a slow and careful sight.

"Better be quick, sir," counseled the guard anxiously. "He's a strong swimmer. He'll be out of range presently."

"Sir Evelyn," spoke his lordship testily, "a little farther from my elbow, please. There, I've lost sight of him! Eh? Where? Oh, yes." He sighted again with deliberation and fired.

"Missed, by Harry!" he cried in a tone of chagrin.

The stars rocked dimly in the tide. "Too bad, sir!" said the captain of the marines. "No use to lower a boat now. 'Tis too dark to find a whale. He'll be ashore in twenty minutes."

Crossings Should be Cleared of Ice

Many Citizens Fell at Corner of George and Hunter Streets

On Saturday evening between 8 and 9 o'clock, when George street was crowded with the usual number of Saturday night shoppers, two gentlemen, who were standing at the corner of George and Hunter streets, saw at least six persons slip and fall on the sidewalk as they stepped off the crossing. There is such a thickness of ice on the crossing that the people going down George street in the dark could not see that, owing to the thickness of ice there was quite a step onto the sidewalk. Consequently a number of them fell and one young lady was so severely hurt that she had to be carried into Mr Madill's drug store. In falling the young lady struck her head violently on the pavement. The same thickness of ice exists on a good many of the crossings in the city. It is high time the city fathers would see that the accumulation on the crossings is removed. The authorities were very strict in forcing the merchants to get the ice off the sidewalk in front of their premises. They did not hesitate in summoning them to police court for not observing the bylaw. It is up to the street inspector to have the crossings cleaned and thus avoid any more accidents.

Boy Was Sent to Industrial School

Jos. Shearer, an Incorrigible Was up for Stealing

There was only case before His Worship Magistrate Dumble, this morning at the police court. Jos. Shearer, a lad of 14 years, was charged with stealing a quantity of candy and a can of salmon from Jas Edgcumbe's grocery store one night last week. Mr. Gordon appeared for the boy and pleaded guilty. Mr. Gordon asked that the boy be allowed to go on condition that if he appeared again then the law could take its course. The Magistrate said the lad had been allowed to go on those conditions before and it was apparently of no use. He had been in the police court three times this winter on charges of stealing. His parents had no control over him and he was incorrigible. He was not only goin on the downward path himself, but was leading his younger brother to do wrong. Although a boy of 14 years he could scarcely read or write. His Worship considered that if he had received a good whaling with a birch rod when he first appeared in police court he would now have been a better boy, but as the law did not allow it, that course of punishment could not be enforced. He was too old a boy to be put in care of the Children's Aid Society.

His Worship committed the defendant to St. John's industrial school at Toronto, for an indefinite period not exceeding four years.

Delivered Sermon on "Intemperance"

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt Defined Biblical Meaning of the Term

Large congregations were present at St. Luke's at both services. At the evening service Rev. E. A. Langfeldt preached on "Intemperance." To some people it meant only abstinence from spirituous liquors, to them it was their Gospel. According to their ideas "total abstinence" was the guarantee of being a good man. He knew a man who boasted of his "total abstinence" but he was also a total abstainer as far as church going was concerned, dishonest and foul-mouthed in the bargain. There is a great danger of hindering the work of Christ by the narrowness of these zealous temperance advocates who can see no good in any man unless he accepts their creed. The Apostle's definition of "intemperance" is far reaching. He says "be temperate in all things. There is intemperance in drinking, in eating, in language, in temper, in sleep, in fact in all the details of daily life. Let a man take heed so that he will not merely boast of keeping the law in one thing while giving way to his desire, and tastes in others. "He that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things."

On Wednesday evening Rev. A. G. H. Bicker, rector of St. Luke's church, Toronto, will be the special preacher at the Lenten service.

On Friday at 8.15 the Mission Band will meet.

St. Patrick's Day Sermon Was an Eloquent Oration

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Ennismore, Gave Splendid Discourse at St. Peter's Cathedral—The Story of Ireland's Conversion and Her Unbroken Faith.

Yesterday was St. Patrick's Day, and in accord with the custom of past years, a sermon appropriate for the occasion was preached in St. Peter's Cathedral last evening. The speaker was Rev Father Fitzpatrick, of Ennismore, who gave an eloquent, scholarly and exceedingly interesting address in which he dealt with the story of the conversion of Ireland by St. Patrick and touched on some matters affecting the Irish people from that time down to the present. The cathedral was filled at vespers, which were conducted by Rev Father O'Leary.

THE SERMON.

In commencing his discourse Rev. Father Fitzpatrick said that this was the Irish national holiday. Irish people, no matter in what part of the world they were found, united on the 17th of March in the celebration of this grand anniversary, not an anniversary in commemoration of some bloody battle, not an anniversary of the supremacy of one people over another, but one to do honor to the great apostle who first sowed the seeds of faith on Irish soil, a faith which centuries of oppression, famine and bloodshed could not efface. St. Patrick's was a day which caused the Irish blood to run more quickly and to make the ties that bind them to their faith even more fast.

NOT IRELAND ALONE.

St. Patrick's day did not bring happiness to the people of Ireland alone. The intolerance of British law, said Father Fitzpatrick, had driven thousands of Irishmen from the Green Isle of their birth, and they had gone forth and shed their lustre in all parts of the world. But wherever the Irish tongue spoke its soft, musical words, wherever an Irish heart palpitated beneath an Irish bosom, there would be found a deep and undying love for the ever green isle of the sea. No matter where the sons of Erin had roamed their mind always had pictured a vision and their thoughts wandered back to the green fatherland over the sea. Ireland was revered the world over. "All liked to hear Erin's praises sung, the land of the pure and the brave, the minstrel and scholar, the soldier and lover. Irish love was strong and unchanging. It was this love that brought them on this day to the temple of their God and to the altar of their fathers.

REV. FATHER FITZPATRICK

EARLY HISTORY.

The reverend gentleman then gave a brief account of the early history of St. Patrick, and of his remarkable conversion of Ireland. For 400 years after the birth of Christ Ireland was steeped in paganism and idolatry. During that time the Christian Church was severely persecuted. Even in Rome, which was the Centre of the Christian world, the faithful had to seek shelter in the Catacombs, and hundreds sacrificed their blood as proof of their faith in Christ. The change from these conditions came in 312 A.D., when the Roman Emperor Constantine was converted to the Christian faith. With his conversion the persecution of the Christian Church died out, and hundreds of monks went forth preaching Christ's gospel and converting the world. It was at this time that a youth of about sixteen years was taken prisoner on the north coast of Gaul and taken to Ireland, where a stern master put him at work caring for his flocks. The youth had been converted to the Christian faith, and despite the paganism of the people among whom he labored he found his spirit becoming more fervent and his faith increasing. After working as a slave for six years in Ireland, he escaped from captivity, and first went to Scotland and then back to France to his parents and to the friends of his boyhood. But he was not to remain there. In a dream he heard the voice of the Irish people calling to him to come and live among them. So he spent several years in training and study and, like a good Catholic, having gone to Rome to secure the approval and benediction of the Pontiff in his mission, he left for Ireland to respond to the request that had come to him in the vision.

THE CHANGE.

St. Patrick, for this is who the young man was, found Ireland universally pagan; he left it universally Christian. In a few years this one man had converted the Irish people, had broken the bonds that bound them to paganism, and all had been accomplished without a drop of blood. It was the most remarkable conversion recorded in the history of the world. St. Patrick had converted a whole nation to the faith, and had left it stamped so indelibly that the passing of centuries had not obliterated, but rather had made it shine forth with more brightness.

HAND OF PROVIDENCE.

The workings of the hand of Providence were seen in Ireland's conversion by St. Patrick. That a strong willed, tradition loving people should break away from the paganism that had enslaved them for centuries and accept a new faith, almost without opposition, showed the work of the very hand of God. Only St. Patrick's early training and the stern discipline which he acquired while he tended the flocks on the rugged and at times snow clad hills of Ireland had enabled him to do the work, which he had accomplished.

DOWN THE AGES.

The doctrines taught by St. Patrick, said Father Fitzpatrick, were the same as those incorporated in the faith of the Catholic church today. History proved this assertion. St. Patrick, it was recorded in history, had passed away at the age of 120 years, "but," said the reverend gentleman, "though he is dead his spirit still dwells in the people of Erin, his voice still floats on the breeze of Ireland and breathes the faith that the great apostle planted in the green isle of the West."

IRELAND, THE FOUNT.

When Ireland was converted and had her churches, schools, and monasteries, Irish priests went forth throughout Europe and preached the gospel of Christ, which was accepted. Scotland, England, Wales, Germany, and other European countries, were converted by Irish priests. That was Ireland's golden age. All European nations drank from the fountain of her knowledge, pure and undefiled. But it was not long to last. In a moment of need, the Irish called upon England to help them repel a foreign invasion, and bitter was the day. Ireland was conquered by England and oppression and misrule followed. Rather than submit to the indignities heaped upon them, Ireland's sons and daughters left the shores of their native land and went forth to make homes for themselves elsewhere.

The speaker dealt with English government of Ireland, in the course of which he referred to the atrocities of Cromwell and his troops during their nine months' stay in Ireland. It would be well if the past could be forgotten. But it was necessary to recount the years of oppression and misrule to which the Irish people had been subjected in order to account for the discontent that ruled in their native land, and for the commercial stagnation of Ireland. Irishmen had done well everywhere else in the world except in their own land. They had shed their lustre in the arts, science, in parliamentary halls and on the field of battle. Irishmen's names were recorded on the honor roll in almost every European country, in the United States, and in Canada. The world owed much to Ireland. England and the British Empire owed much to the sons of the green isle. Lord Howard, an Irishman, had saved England at the time of the Spanish Armada; the Iron Duke, an Irishman, had won Waterloo, for her; Lord Roberts, an Irishman, had won her battles in the Transvaal. In closing Father Fitzpatrick alluded to the stagnating effect of absentee landlordism, which existed in Ireland. The fact that a large amount of their earnings was taken out of the country by the landlords was the cause of the spirit of discontent. The reverend gentleman urged all Irishmen to be true to the traditions of the past, and strong in the faith that St. Patrick had brought to them.

The offering at Vespers was in aid of the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

The choir yesterday was augmented by an orchestra, and Irish music added interest and pleasure to the services. The hymn "St. Patrick," was splendidly sung by Miss Annie Simmons at Vespers.

Mayor Ashdown, Winnipeg, and Mr. Aird are to visit Toronto with the object of negotiating a loan of $2,500,000 with the Bank of Commerce.

THE RESPONSE WAS MOST GENEROUS

To Appeal for Subscriptions to Build New Catholic Church.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor announced at St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday that the response to the appeal for subscriptions for the new Catholic church had been so generous that it had been decided to commence work on the new edifice at once. This will be gratifying news to the members of the congregation. It is expected that tenders will be called for in a few days and that there will be no delay in proceeding with the work. The architects are now at work on the plans.

NEW MEMBERS FOR THE T. A. S.

About twelve new members took the pledge at the meeting of St. Peter's T.A.S. yesterday. The usual business was transacted. The membership of the Society is now the largest in its history.

LARGE CROWDS AT PARK STREET CHURCH

All the Services Yesterday Were Deeply Impressive.

The services at Park street Baptist church yesterday were well attended. At the evening service extra chairs had to be brought in in order to accommodate the large gathering.

There were many enquirers after salvation at the Sunday school in the afternoon. Evangelist Torrie gave a forcible address, which was greatly appreciated. At the evening service, a quartette and duett with several choruses were given. The meetings led by Rev. A. W. Torrie will continue every night this week. The Y.M.C.A. male quartette will take part tonight. On Tuesday and Friday afternoons there will be a service for boys and girls at 4.20 o'clock.

DRUGGISTS AND KNOCKERS.

The Pill Pounders and Knockers meet to-night at Brock street rink between 10 and 11 o'clock.

MADONNA CLUB

The Madonna Club of the W.A.A. will meet to-night at 7.30 at the residence of Miss Aldridge, 128 Weller street.

MASS MEETING.

The united choirs of St. John's, All Saints' and St. Luke's churches, will lead the service in the Grand opera house at 4 p.m. on Sunday next. Rev. E. A. Langfeldt will preside.

THE EVANGELISTIC BAND.

Yesterday there was a fair attendance at the Y.M.C.A. men's meeting when the Evangelistic Band had charge. Messrs. Galley and Northey gave impressive addresses.

A NEW AUTO.

Mr. Fred Darcy, who will establish an auto car line between Peterborough and Lakefield, has bought a large touring car. The new outfit arrived on Saturday and is very handsome.

COUNCIL MEETING

A special meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council will be held this evening, when representatives of the Otonabee Power Co. will be present to again open up that company's offer of cheap power to the city. The Council will meet afterwards.

LAID AT REST.

The remains of the late Mrs. Miller whose death occurred on Thursday last were conveyed to Port Hope today, where the interment will take place. Rev. Dr. Crothers conducted the service at the house. The funeral was largely attended.

HORSE RAN AWAY.

The horse of George Gobeen, grocer, corner of Rubidge and Dalhousie-sts., ran away on Hunter street on Saturday. The animal gave a jump and breaking away from the sleigh ran home. Very little damage was done. The youthful driver in attempting to stop the horse was run over, but was not injured.

EXPRESS MEN ATTENDED.

The expressmen and deliverymen of the city attended the funeral yesterday in a body of the late Richard Foster. The expressmen have no organization of their own, and, under the circumstances, the Woodmen of the World invited them to march with the members of the lodge. For this courtesy the expressmen desire to express their appreciation.

A FINE DISPLAY.

The spring season has arrived and with it the usual demand for baby carriages is on. Mr. Benjamin Shortly has just received a fine assortment of the latest styles in baby carriages. He is displaying a number of them in his south window. These carriages are the latest and most up-to-date and any one desiring to get one would do well to call and see Mr. Shortly's fine display.

WEDDED AT BANCROFT.

On Monday last, at Bancroft, Miss Daisy Appleby, youngest daughter of Mr. L. A. Appleby, formerly jailor at Belleville, was married to Mr Ernest A. Read, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed in the Anglican church by Rev. James Dixon, rector of that village. The young couple will take up their residence in the Queen City.

C.P.R. TO TWEED.

The Belleville Intelligencer says; We are informed that, during the past few days, surveyors have been at work staking out a contemplated line of the C.P.R. from the village of Tweed to this city. The contemplated line runs parallel through the 5th concession of the township of Thurlow and thence through the township of Hungerford to Tweed. The surveyors were in Thurlow township during the past week.

GOOD MUSIC.

St. John's choir rendered a beautiful service last night. The canticles were sung to Winchester's grand chant, and at the offertory one of the finest choruses in Stainer's "Crucifixion" viz., "Fling wide the gates," was admirably sung.

A rehearsal of the "Crucifixion" took place in All Saints' church after evensong, both choirs being well represented.

ATTRACTIVE DISPLAY.

Miss McGivern, 431 George street, is holding her first millinery opening today. Her parlors were crowded with a throng of ladies, who took the greatest interest in the splendid display and artistic creations, which were in evidence on all sides. All the latest and most exclusive styles are presented. Miss McGivern and staff are to be congratulated upon the variety, excellence and attractiveness of the spring millinery showing.

METHODIST EXAMS.

The annual examination of the probationers and candidates for the ministry of the Bay of Quinte Methodist Conference, will be held in the Charlotte street Methodist church, beginning on Wednesday, April 17, at 9 a.m., and will continue during the two following days. A public meeting will be held in the same church on Wednesday night, when addresses will be given by Rev. G. W. Henderson and R. Burns. Rev. J. A. McCamus is chairman of the Board of Examiners for this Conference and Rev. J. G. Lewis, of this city, is the secretary.

BASKET BALL LEAGUE READY

Teams Selected and Schedule Drawn up

Everything is ready for the opening o. the Y.M.C.A. spring Basketball League. [illegible] teams have been entered, and there is a possibility of there being five. The league opens on Wednesday night of this week, and will be finished about the middle of April. The captains of the teams are Stewart Lang, Ray Best, Ross Dobbin and W. Richardson, and the teams as selected at a meeting at the Y.M.C.A. on Saturday night are as follows:—

R Best (captain); A. Weatherstone, Darling Emmerson, Huston and McLennan.

Ross Dobbin (captain); F. Cressman, Loomis, Brace and Sherwood.

W. Richardson (captain); Yelland, Fitzgerald, MacRae, Wallace and Galley.

Each captain was allotted five men, in order to provide for a spare man.

March 20—Lang vs Best.
March 20—Dobbin vs Richardson.
March 27—Best vs Richardson.
March 27—Lang vs. Dobbin.
April 3—Lang vs Richardson.
April 3—Best vs Dobbin.

It will be seen by the above that two games will be played each Wednesday night. The teams are evenly matched and every game should be splendidly contested.

The captains of the four teams and Mr. Dingman, physical director, were appointed a committee to arrange for a banquet, to be held at the close of the league.

Curling Season is About Over

The curling season is practically over. With the sun shining as strongly as it has been during the past few days it is impossible to keep the ice in shape. Under the circumstances it is not likely that there will be any more curling this season. The curlers have packed up their goods and the roller skating people will soon be in possession of the rink.

The present has been one of the longest and most successful season's in the history of the club.

Whitcroft Did Spectacular Work

Winnipeg, March 17.—Kenora won the first round in the play off for the western hockey championship, defeating Brandon at the Arena rink here last night, by 8 goals to 6. The exhibition by both teams was fast and exciting throughout, but it was far from the brand that should satisfy Stanley Cup critics. Kenora had the game well in hand from start to finish. Whitcroft, formerly of Peterborough, was probably the most spectacular performer in the Kenora ranks, and was closely seconded by Tom Phillips, who did great individual work. The checking was close but not rough.

HOCKEY

C.G.E. BEAT QUAKER OATS.

The team from the office staff of the C.G.E. defeated the office septette of the Quaker Oats Co. at the Brock street rink, Saturday evening by 6 goals to 2. The half time score was 1—0 in favor of the Quakers, but the electric men pulled away in the second half and scored six goals, while their opponents notched one.

THREE GAMES TONIGHT.

The ice is in good condition at the Brock street rink. Three hockey matches will be played there this evening. Between seven and eight, the Tigers and All Saints, play, and from eight to nine o'clock, the Graftery and R. Hall's Counter-Hoppers will struggle for supremacy. The match from nine to ten o'clock is between the never-beaten Pill Pounders and the Knockers.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE LACROSSE CLUB

Peterborough Club Prepares for the Coming Season.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Lacrosse club was held on Saturday afternoon at the National hotel and judging by the enthusiasm displayed the game will boom in the city this year. There was a very large attendance of lovers of lacrosse present and much interest was manifested. It is certain that the people of Peterborough will be given an opportunity of seeing some first class lacrosse this season as there is any amount of material available out of which could be chosen a team that would make the best of them travel some to beat.

Just what series the team will be found in this year has not yet been decided upon. The prospects are that if a convenient senior schedule can be arranged that the Peterboro club will be found represented therein. However, if this is not possible an intermediate team will be placeds in the field that will be the strongest that has represented the city in many years. The prospects are decidedly bright and with the energetic officers elected at Saturday's meeting the success of the club seems assured.

The following officers were elected;

Patrons and Patronesses.—Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Neill, Mr. and Mrs. H. LeBrun, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Morrow, Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., and Mrs. Hall, Mayor and Mrs. McWilliams, Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P.

Hon. President.—J. J. McCabe.
President.—W. S. Davidson.
First Vice-Pres.—Dr. Wightman.
Second Vice-Pres.—Fred A. Clarke,
Sec.-Treas.—A. M. Regan.
Executive Committee.—Harry Morgan, R. M. Glover, Fred McGrath, Geo. Lynch, W. F. Crowley and J. J. McCabe.

The club decided to nominate the secretary-treasurer for a position on the C.L.A. Council. Mr. Regan is a very well known lacrosse man and is very popular with those interested in the pastime. He is in every way qualified for the position for which he will be nominated and his election to the Council will no doubt be favorably considered. Messrs. Regan and Davidson were appointed the delegates of the club to the annual meeting of the C.L.A., which will be held in Toronto on Good Friday.

Over $5,000 for Colonization Roads in Peterborough County

Mr. T. E Bradburn, M.P.P., Has a Large Sum Placed in the Estimates for This Year—New Roads for Both West and East Ridings—Nearly $4,500 Spent by Ontario Government Last Year.

Last year the Ontario Government was particularly generous to the good old county of Peterborough and to Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., is due unlimited credit. The public accounts for Ontario for the year 1906, ending December 31, shows expenditures on the roads in this county of nearly $4,500 as colonization roads. This money was spent in building good roads through parts of the county which are sorely in need of such work. The residents in some parts, epecially in the back townships, have an exceptionally difficult proposition to face when they undertake to make a trip to the city or to any of the smaller towns.

For the townships to undertake the work of building colonization roads or building roads through some parts of the county which are now settled, though sparsely, is an impossibility. For the county to undertake it would be a hard task and a burden upon the ratepayers.

The Ontario Government has set aside a fund for this purpose, or at least make large expenditures each year in building new roads in the newly settled parts of the county. There is probably no county which requires as much new road building as does this county and it should be most satisfactory to the ratepayers generally, not only in the townships but in the city and towns as well, to know that so much money is received from the Legislature for the benefit of the county.

The work too, is of a permanent nature and has been well done as everyone who has had occasion to travel over them will testify. Those who drove through the country before the roads were opened, and who have gone over the same course since do not hesitate a moment in expressing their opinion and speaking very highly of the work. To Mr. Geo. Bennett, superintendent of the colonization roads in this county, is due great credit for the manner in which the work has been done and the economy exercised in the building. He did everything well and stinted no particular stretch, but at the same time he carefully avoided any waste.

To Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., is due the universal gratitude of the whole county. It was through his untiring efforts and his good standing with the government, as well as his knowledge of the needs of the county and the best way of impressing the government, that so much money was granted. It was he who had the list of roads which needed opening, both in the east riding and the west riding, and it was he who had the grants placed in the estimates. He was not only satisfied with this but he took particular pains to see that the money was expended and expended where it was most needed and in the best interests of the county.

But the work will not stop with last year's outlay. There are still miles of country to be opened up and miles of colonization roads to be built. To those who have been in the back townships the facts are well known and they will bear out the statement that many roads now in existence, or at least so-called roads are impassable. Mr. Bradburn realizes this, as everyone does who has the interests of the county at heart, and he has succeeded in having placed in the estimates $5,400 for the county. This sum is made up as follows;

West Peterborough, $3,100

To be expended as follows;

Galway	$ 900.00
Cavendish	400.00
Buckhorn Road	300.00
North Harvey	800.00
South Harvey	500.00
North Smith	200.00
Total	$3100.00

East Peterborough, $2,300.

To be expended as follows;

Belmont township	$ 600.00
Oak Lake Road	300.00
Burleigh and Anstruther	700.00
Chandos	500.00
Stony Lake and Norwood	200.00
Total	$2300.00

Last year the grants were; West Peterborough $2392.62 and East Peterborough, $2034.06 so that the grants to both ridings this year are greater.

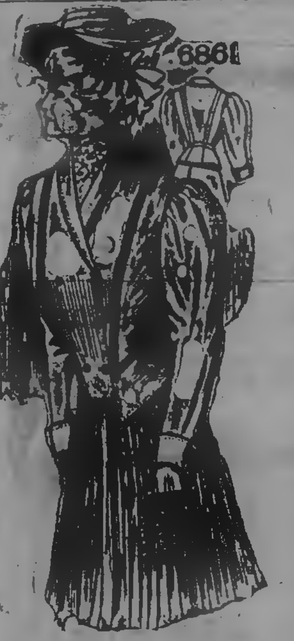
6864.—A SHIRRED PRINESS GOWN.

In spite of the many predictions, that the Princess mode is going out of style, the newest frocks of the best designers are showing this same mode of fashioning. It is so generally becoming that no doubt remains as to its continued use for some time to come. Here is a model for a shirred Princess dress—the most practicable style for the amateur sewer. It often requires experience and skill to fit a Princess dress with gores, but the woman who sews at home can fashion this dress without difficulty. The lining extends to the hips and this must be fitted, but the outside is shirred at indicated lines and needs only to be drawn up to fit the figure and tacked to the lining. The novel yoke is very pretty and may introduce some dainty and becoming fabric next the face. The sleeves are shirred at the elbow and finished here or they may be long if preferred. A soft cloth, silk or washing fabric may serve as material of which 8 yards 44 inches wide are needed in the medium size.

6864.—5 sizes, 32 to 40 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.



6861.—A SMART COAT FOR WEAR WITH ODD SKIRTS.

The High Priestess of fashion has brought the separate coat into favor again for wear with various skirts, and the woman who must economize will be pleased. A coat which is not elaborate nor pretentious, but which has a real style of its own and trim becomingness is sketched. The fronts are double breasted, closing trimly to the waistline. A shaped peplum extends below the waist, so that there is none of that chopped off appearance often apparent in short coats. The sleeves are long as best fitted for general wear. Broadcloth, Herringbone, cheviot, voile or panamas may serve while the covert which is so popular for separate coats is also suggested. The medium size calls for 1 7-8 yards of 54 inch material.

6861.—6 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

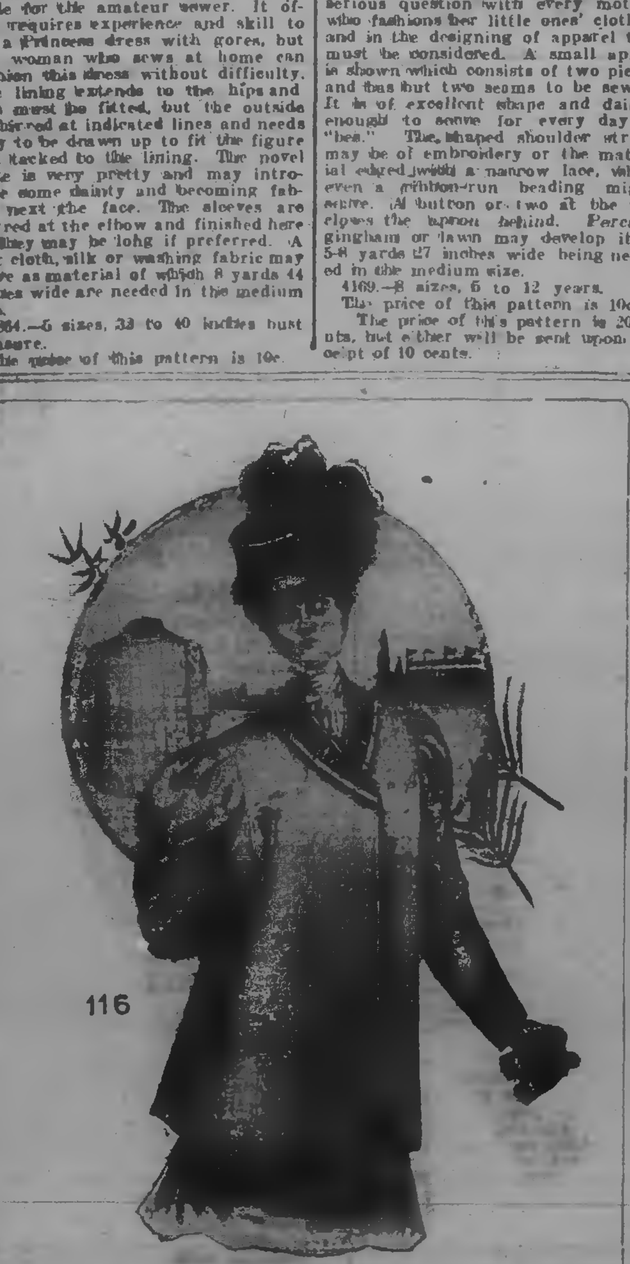
4169.—A TWO-PIECE APRON.

Economy of time and labor is a serious question with every mother who fashions her little ones' clothes, and in the designing of apparel this must be considered. A small apron is shown which consists of two pieces and has but two seams to be sewed. It is of excellent shape and dainty enough to serve for every day or "best." The shaped shoulder straps may be of embroidery or the material edged with a narrow lace, while even a ribbon-run beading might serve. A button or two at the top closes the apron behind. Percale, gingham or lawn may develop it, 3 5-8 yards 27 inches wide being needed in the medium size.

4169.—8 sizes, 5 to 12 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

The price of this pattern is 20 cents, but either will be sent upon receipt of 10 cents.



NEW IDEAS IN MANTLES

TRUTH ABOUT CANCER.

About cancer we must admit that we know next to nothing. We don't know the cause of the disease. Except in a small proportion of very early cases, we don't know how to cure it. We don't know whether it is hereditary. We don't know if it is induced by peculiarities of diet. We don't know to what extent it depends upon climate. We don't know whether it is contagious or infectious. We don't know why it reserves its attacks for oldish people. We don't know why it is increasing. All we may do at present is to keep a sharp lookout for incipient cancers and cut them out ruthlessly.

In brief, we must try to kill the cancer before it really exists. The preliminary spot or pea-like growth must be removed at once. We must keep a weather eye upon inflamed places and have them looked after without delay. No one fears the removal of such tiny growths these days. Not even children are scared by small operations.

It is not sufficient that a family physician remove the suspected growth with lancet or caustic. He has done his share if he merely sounds the warning in time. The cutting out should be done by a thoroughly competent surgeon, one who has served an apprenticeship under a master of the art and not one who has merely dabbled in surgery while attending cases of pneumonia, typhoid and measles.

A good surgeon of this sort does not temporise with a cancer. He knows that the operation must be performed immediately and that there must be no fatuous endeavor to conserve healthy tissue. It is far better to remove two inches of sound flesh than to ery on the cautious side and leave behind one microscopic cancer cell. It is only by such radical and merciless surgery that we may combat cancer. We must take it in time, and we must cut deep and wide.

And even then we are never sure.

Nature indeed is the only doctor whose skill is capable of combating cancer. Ehrlich and others have observed that of a given number of mice displaying symptoms of cancer a certain portion recover. The same thing is true of human beings.

Luckily there is no disease, no matter how virulent, that nature herself cannot cure, and so even in the worst cases of cancer it is well not to abandon hope. I have myself seen several cases of such spontaneous cures. One patient was a wealthy Baltimorean, whose malady was diagnosed by an operation as cancer of the stomach.

Three prominent American surgeons saw the cancer, which was inoperable because of its location. He submitted to a serum treatment, and three years later a second operation revealed the fact that his cancer had entirely disappeared, leaving a scar. Here was an undoubted case of cure. But did the serum do the work? Its advocates maintain that it did, but a great many very learned and scientific physicians hold that it did not. One cure, it is obvious, by no means establishes a specific's efficacy.—Dr. Hirshberg of Johns Hopkins in American Magazine.

PLAYING CARDS.

"One of the most interesting collections of foreign loot that I've seen recently," said a man ordinarily too busy to make the trip over the seas himself, "is an assortment of playing cards from various parts of the world.

"In every country the owner of the collection visited—and he went to a good many—picked up cards of local manufacture and so representative of the nation.

"The Russian cards are perhaps the most elaborate. The faces of the kings and queens are different in each suit, indicating the racial elements that go to compose the empire.

"On the Greek cards classical heroes and heroines are represented. Nestor, for example, is the king of hearts and Orestes the knave. Agamemnon is the king of clubs, Hercules the jack of spades and Minos and Danae the king and queen of diamonds. The Greek pack is rather a cheap one and scarcely does honor to the celebrities portrayed.

"Cadiz is a center for card manufacturing. The idea of the Spanish card maker seems to be to get as much color on the cards as possible. The royal robes are of unusual magnificence. The clubs are big bludgeons in green and red, and the knave of clubs, gayly caparisoned on a prancing horse, reminds you instantly of Jack the Giant Killer. The spades are ugly little daggers, and for hearts and diamonds there are dishes and dice cups. The cards in some of the Spanish packs are very thin and have a capital spring.

"The Madeira cards come from Lisbon. The figures are more conventional in design than on the Spanish. The ace cards are adorned with typical Portuguese scenes.

"A peculiarity of the pack bought in Constantinople is that the ace cards, in addition to the single spade, diamond, club or heart in the center of each, have diminutive aces at the upper left hand and lower right hand corners.

"The Italian face cards portray decidedly gloomy personages. Each one of the face cards, by the way, carries in small print the name and address of the maker. There are tiny packs, an inch and a quarter by an inch and three-quarters in size, which can be bought on the streets of Naples for a soldo. These resemble the Spanish cards to some extent, although the royalties are more dignified.

"Cairo is a great card emporium, and Mousky street offers rich returns to the card hunter. Fortune-telling cards must be in demand there, to judge from the samples I saw in the collection. The Cairo playing cards come mostly from Germany. They are brilliant in their coloring. The aces carry scenes from lands both west and east.

"The gem of all the packs comes from Switzerland. The cards are small, one and three-quarters by two and a half inches in size, and the back design is the edelweiss. The kings, queens and jacks are delightful studies in Swiss costume, and the purchaser certainly gets his money's worth, for each face card has two half figures quite unlike. On the aces are Swiss scenes and objects of interest, also two to a card, the subjects including the castle of Chillon, the Matterhorn, the bridge at Lucerne and the Lion of Lucerne."

Silvering Mirrors.

Mirrors are usually silvered by coating the glass with amalgam. For this purpose a large, perfectly flat stone is provided, and upon it is evenly spread a sheet of tin foil without crack or flaw. This is covered to the depth of one-eighth of an inch with clean mercury. The plate of glass, perfectly cleaned from all grease and impurity, is floated on to the mercury by sliding, so as to exclude all air bubbles. It is then pressed down by loading it with weights in order to press out all the mercury which remains fluid. This is received in a gutter around the stone. After about twenty-four hours it is gently raised upon its edge, and in a few weeks it is ready to frame.

His Perseverance.

Henry Arthur Jones, the noted English playwright, was giving the students of Yale an address on the drama. "Your American vernacular is picturesque," he said, "and it should help your playwrights to build strong, racy plays. But neither vernacular nor anything else is of moment if perseverance is lacking. No playwright can succeed who is like a man I know. I said to this man one New Year's day, 'Do you keep a diary, Philip?' 'Yes,' he answered. 'I've kept one for the first two weeks in January for the last seven years.'"

His Good News.

"I have," said a lawyer as he entered his condemned client's cell, "good news at last."

"A reprieve?" eagerly exclaimed the prisoner.

"No, not a reprieve, but your uncle has left you £500, and now you can meet your fate with the satisfying feeling that the noble efforts of your lawyer in your behalf will not go unrewarded."—London Tit-Bits.

Honest.

Boarder (on leaving)—Madam, you are one of the most honest persons I have ever met. Landlady—I am glad to hear you say that, sir. Boarder—Yes; your honesty is conspicuous on the very front of your establishment. Your sign says, "Boarders taken in."—London Telegraph.

If we fail to conquer smaller difficulties, what will become of us when assaulted by greater?—Thomas a Kempis.

PUBLISH THE RESULTS

Sanitary Inspector Ball is already giving ample evidence that there has long existed in Peterborough work of the character which he is doing. The new inspector, since entering upon his duties on March 1st, has had his time fully occupied and has attended to many matters. With the approach of spring there are more duties to be performed, and Mr. Ball will likely cause a shaking up in some quarters. And, after all, there is no more important department in civic government than that of sanitation. If a city has a name for becoming clean and healthy, it attracts many residents. Its appearance is not only attractive, but every visitor carries away favorable impressions. Clean streets, clean yards and wholesome surroundings are what each municipality should possess. Mr. Ball will direct his attention to the inspection of not only milk supplies, but also the sources from which the supplies are obtained. This is equally important and necessary. He has had samples of the milk delivered by the various dairymen forwarded to Toronto for analysis. When the report is received by the local Board of Health it is hoped that the result will be made known through the press. The citizens desire to know those milk vendors who are furnishing pure and unadulterated lacteal fluid, and those who are not. Several months ago tests were made and, while the analyses were published, there were no names given out. This is unsatisfactory and inadvisable from many standpoints. The consumers must have protection and the only way this can be effectively brought about is to have the result published. If the offering of certain dairymen is not up to the standard required, the public should be acquainted with the fact. Then there will be no cause for future complaints. Private tests are practically useless. No matter who suffers by the outcome of the present examination, it should be made known. The Board of Health and the inspector now have a chance to do the citizens a real service. There should be no favoritism shown. It is not fair to make distinctions and it is believed that none will be made. Milk tests are published in other cities, and there is no reason why such information should be withheld in Peterborough. The health of hundreds of little ones depends daily on the excellence or otherwise of the milk supplied, and everything possible should be done to give that protection and safety to parents and children in this commodity, which all naturally look for.

LETTERS TO THE PRESS

A newspaper is often asked why it allows letters to the editor to be published in its columns with an anonymous signature attached. Some outsiders go so far as to say that, were they conducting a public journal, they would permit only signed correspondence to appear in its columns.

In the first place it may be remarked that no letter is printed in any reputable newspaper without the name of the writer being personally known to the editor. To say that all correspondence should be signed is too much to expect. A writer may have excellent ideas to offer or valuable suggestions to make on some particular subject. It is not absolutely necessary that his identity should be revealed. His contribution is just as pointed and acceptable in many instances, as if his personality were disclosed. There may be many other strong reasons why the communication should be impersonal. So long as the article is not libellous or scurrilous, prompted by jealousy, or inspired by vengeance, letters make interesting and instructive reading. They serve a useful purpose, often correcting abuses, or calling timely attention to existing grievances. Of course, considerable fault, for anonymous correspondence, is frequently due to the weakness or lack of outspokenness on the part of certain citizens. Very few men in this age of growing misrepresentation and diplomacy, "trimming" and tact, have the courage of their convictions. They are not willing to bear the brunt of a charge or help in the work of exposing wrong and dishonesty. From various causes they do not care to be prominently identified with any reform or movement leading to the unearthing of scandal or greed, and the rectification of matters that need all moral help and public spirit that can be commanded. This is a patent weakness of the present day. The race seems to lack vertebrae and decision, frankness and virility. When men have a serious grievance they seldom, if ever, go to the proper source or authorities to have it remedied, but delight to fire shots from under cover or through the medium of a newspaper, which they would like to shoulder all the onus and assume all the responsibility. For that reason a great many letters are rejected in every newspaper office and they should be. The press is now and then accused of lacking courage and spirit, but it is, on the whole infinitely more outspoken and aggressive in the cause of moral, political and social reform than are the party leaders, the city council, the officials and government officers in many centres. The man, who has the fortitude, therefore, to engage in iconoclastic pursuits is one that should be supported, providing his motives and principles are right and that he is not actuated by covetousness, pride or selfishness; but, alas, how rare is such an individual. On the part of many readers, who blame the press for not doing this, that and the other thing it would be well for those "who live in glass houses not to throw stones" and for the would-be spineless, blustering physician, in many cases to "heal himself."

In some instances in the city it would be practically useless for the householder to clean his sidewalk as the pavement is so low that the overflow from the streets would run all back on to walk. This is the case on Water street and other thoroughfares. The walks should be built at a higher elevation and the Board of Works can during the coming year profit by certain lessons of the past.

Miss Wallis' Sculptural Work Wins Commendation in Paris

The Paris edition of the New York Herald of a recent date contains an illustrated and interesting report of the annual show held by the English speaking women artists in Paris. The exhibition of the Art League comprises exclusively the work of English speaking women. The Herald says;

"The exhibition is tastefully organized in a studio of the new building occupied by Holy Trinity Lodge in Rue Pierre-Nicole and. In all sections the exhibitors give proof of merit. Several landscapes, interiors and portraits testify to the progress made."

Referring to the splendid work done in the sculptural department, the Herald adds;

"The number is small, but their merit is of no mean order. Miss Katherine E. Wallis (a former Peterborough lady and sister of Mr. C. B. Wallis of this city) has done some very charming and graceful work in "La Toilette" and "Le Gouter," done out in stone; her bronze Dachshund is quite natural."

A further testimony and striking evidence of the superior work of the Peterborough sculptress is attested by the fact that, out of five illustrations published in the Herald, as showing the excellence of the exhibits, two of them are reproductions of Miss Wallis' "La Toilette" and "Dachshund."

Many Peterborough friends will learn with pleasure of the high recognition which Miss Wallis' work has attained in the Parisian city, that great centre of art and culture.

The Glasgow distress committee has decided that it will aid no more married men to emigrate except those accompanied by their wives and families.

Church union will be an important theme of discussion at the annual Presbyterian general assembly, which this year will open on June 5th in Montreal.

PILES CURED IN 6 to 14 DAYS

INTEMPERATE HABITS INCREASE THE LIABILITY TO CONSUMPTION

The susceptibility of people to tuberculosis is just about trebled by intemperate habits. This is the estimate of scientific men.

The disease is not caught as you catch scarlet fever or smallpox, but by germs from dried sputum getting into the lungs. If our bodies are resisted successfully by the operationstrong and healthy the germs are resisted successfully by the operation of nature; if weakened and depleted the germ will make headway, and death is inevitable unless proper methods of cure are followed. Temperance lecturers could well make use of these facts.

Neglected colds are also a prolific source of consumption, as they leave the lungs in a peculiarly receptive condition for the tubercular germ. A simple remedy, which is said to break up a cold in twenty-four hours, and cure any cough that is curable, can be obtained from any good prescription druggist at small cost: Take one-half ounce Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), two ounces of Glycerine and eight ounces of good Whisky. Shake well and take in teaspoonful doses every four hours.

To avoid substitution, it is best to purchase the ingredients and prepare the mixture yourself. The Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) should be purchased in the original half-ounce vials, which are securely sealed in a round wooden case, with engraved wrapper, with the name—Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), prepared only by Leach Chemical Co., Windsor, Ont., plainly printed thereon. There are many rank imitations of Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), which are put out under similar names and style of package. Never accept these as a substitute for the Pure Virgin Oil of Pine, as they will invariably produce nausea and never effect the desired result.

Jerome Sees the Finish ; Interest in Case Wanes

Thaw May Know His Fate on Friday.

Monday and Tuesday Will Be Consumed In Hearing Evidence—Two Days For Summing Up — Severe Strain on All Parties—Sensational Affidavit of Evelyn Nesbit to Be Read In Court.

New York, March 18.—"Thank God, the end is in sight!"

This was the fervent whisper of District Attorney Jerome at the Thaw trial Saturday, uttered loud enough for the reporters to hear, following a favorable decision by Justice Fitzgerald regarding the Hummel affidavit.

The strain on those attending the trial has been severe. Justice Fitzgerald has shown the effects of it, as have the lawyers, the defence and the district attorney. When Mr. Jerome asked for an additional 15 minutes Friday at the usual hour for adjournment, Mr. Delmas protested, declaring that his endurance had been stretched to the breaking point. He would not consent to another minute of extra session.

Not To Be Drawn.

Mr. Jerome did his best to get from Mr. Delmas an estimate on the length of time that would be required to complete the sur-rebuttal, but Thaw's lawyer declined to give any suggestion on this line.

It is generally believed, however, that Monday and Tuesday will see the close of evidence and Wednesday and Thursday will be used in summing up. There is every reason to believe that Friday will put the fate of Harry K. Thaw in the hands of the jury, unless some unexpected development occurs.

Story of Her Wanderings.

The sensational affidavit which Mr. Jerome fought so hard to get into the evidence, gives Evelyn Nesbit's story of the wanderings of herself and Thaw on the continent, during which time, according to the affidavit, Thaw beat her several times in an effort to make her swear to a document charging White with having drugged and attacked her when she was a girl of 15. The affidavit also declares that Evelyn Nesbit submitted to the lashings, declaring that White had never wronged her—a sworn statement in direct contradiction to her story on the stand of what she told Thaw in Paris. This may be read in court to-day.

Will Re-Marry Evelyn.

An interesting report was circulated to the effect that Thaw, overjoyed at the prospects of an early ending to the trial, is already making arrangements as to what he shall do upon his expected release, for the prisoner is absolutely sure he will be free.

Among other things it is said he will at once investigate whether his marriage is strictly legal under the laws of Pennsylvania, as it has been testified that he was insane at the time he made his will and when he was wed.

To insure legality of his marriage with Evelyn Nesbit, the prisoner, it is said, has decided to go through a second ceremony with her if any possibility presents itself as to annulment of the marriage. Thaw's move would prevent his relatives from forcing an annulment of the ceremony, and it is one of the prisoner's cleverest plans promulgated so far, to make the bonds between him and Evelyn fast.

Fight Flames and Flood ; Great Destruction Wrought

Firemen Unable to Get Near—One Hundred Rescued In Boats—Leapt From Windows Into the Water—Pittsburg In Danger From Ice—500 Homes Surrounded With Water—One-Third of City Submerged.

Wheeling, W. Va., March 18.—Eighteen persons are known to have lost their lives in the fire that occurred at the plant of the Warwick Pottery Co., in the flooded district, yesterday.

Because of the water surrounding the burned district, it was impossible for the fire apparatus to reach the scene. The firemen pressed into service all the boats that could be secured and carried the lines of hose to the burning buildings by this means.

They did heroic work, and not only fought the fire, but assisted in rescuing many persons.

All the police that could be spared were rushed to the scene to assist in the work of rescue. The crew of a boat that was moored across the river from the building manned a yawl and rescued about 100 persons.

The men were offered all kinds of rewards for the work they had done, but they refused to accept them.

Screams for help from those in the buildings could be heard a mile north, where thousands of persons, unable to lend any assistance, watched the blaze.

Had the victims remained in their homes none of them would have met death.

No sooner had the explosion that started the fire occurred than people commenced leaping from the windows into the water. Five of them were drowned by the upsetting of a boat.

Cincinnati Losses Heavy.

Cincinnati, O., March 18. A stage of sixty-one feet was reached by the flooded Ohio River last evening. Forecaster Bassler has placed the probable crest at sixty-three feet some time to-day. Losses cannot be given, although they are heavy and extensive.

Many thousands have been driven from their homes and the sufferings of the homeless and unemployed will last several days. The Cincinnati administration has asked for authority to issue bonds for $150,000 for the relief of flood sufferers.

The city suffered a loss of about $250,000 yesterday in the collapse of the Eighth street viaduct over the railroads of the Mill Creek quarter. Three fifty-foot spans went down.

500 Homes Surrounded.

Huntington, W. V., March 18.—The Ohio River reached its highest point yesterday afternoon with fifty-eight feet three inches. After remaining stationary two hours, it began to recede slowly. The stage exceeded by six-tenths of a foot the January flood.

Some five hundred homes in Huntington and Central City are surrounded with water. Cattlesburg, Ceredo and Porterville are flooded. The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad has not run a train into Huntington since Wednesday.

Boatrides In Main Street.

Portsmouth, Ohio, March 18.—One-third of the city is submerged. Thousands of people put in the day boatriding through the principal streets.

There have been no fatalities and subsequently little actual suffering. The railroads have been the chief sufferers, and dozens of floodbound passengers are quartered at hotels.

Ice Menaces Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, March 18.—With 30 miles of ice in the Allegheny River, above Parker, Pa., and a drizzling rain throughout Western Pennsylvania last night, local river men are looking forward to another flood stage in this city.

Preparations were being made here last night to prevent any serious damage when the ice gorge arrives here.

It is said that the damage sustained by the railroads will not be fully known for several weeks. Miles of track have been weakened and will have to be replaced. Hundreds of freight cars were swept into the river. The damage sustained by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad between Pittsburg and Connellsville, Pa., will be enormous.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions made from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous services of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

CAMBRIDGE BEAT OXFORD.

Putney, Eng., March 18.—The sixty-fourth annual boat race between crews representing the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge was rowed Saturday over the usual course from Putney to Mortlake, a distance of about 4 1-4 miles and was won by Cambridge.

The crews were sent off at 3.00 p. m. At the Craven Steps, about three-quarters of a mile from the start Cambridge was a length ahead. At Hammersmith Bridge about 1 3-4 miles from the start Cambridge was leading by a length and a quarter.

At Barnes Bridge, about 3 1-2 miles from the start Cambridge was three lengths ahead.

Cambridge won by 4 1-2 lengths.

The unofficial time was 20 minutes 26 seconds.

The record time over the course is 18 minutes 47 seconds, established by Oxford in 1893, and equalled by Cambridge in 1900.

Gem Smugglers Caught.

New York, March 18.—Arthur Preston Green and Charles Bohrer, passengers on the North German Lloyd steamer America, were arrested when the vessel arrived from Hamburg and Southampton yesterday, charged with attempting smuggling.

Diamonds and jewelry to the appraised value of nearly $25,000, which the custom officials allege, the prisoners had failed to declare, was taken from them. The valuable were confiscated and the men were held for extradiction.

Though only the charge of smuggling was preferred against the prisoners here, they are wanted abroad in connection with a theft of some $25,000 worth of jewelry and precious stones in London.

Decrease In Grain Trade.

Winnipeg, March 18.—The total grain receipts to date this year have amounted to 47,995,000 bushels of wheat and 4,920,000 bushels of other grain. In the corresponding period of last year the receipts amounted to 50,273,000 bushels of wheat and 3,863,000 bushels of other grains.

Lost In Blizzard.

Prince Albert, Sask., March 18.—While driving from Kinistino with a coffin for Patrick McGovern, formerly of Orillia, who hanged himself at the house of Charles Brady, twelve miles from the town, Patrick Murphy was thrown from his sleigh, his horses running away.

He got lost in a blizzard, and was found by two commercial travelers Saturday. Both his feet were frozen and may have to be amputated.

Victims of Explosion Buried.

Toulon, France, March 18.—The victims of the explosion on board the battleship Iena, March 12, were given an imposing national funeral yesterday. All business was suspended, the public and many private buildings were draped with black, and the lighted street lamps were covered with crepe.

A Curious Coincidence.

Not so long since a stowaway was found dead under the main hatch of one of the Atlantic ocean steamers. He had concealed himself before the steamer left Liverpool and died of suffocation. Curiously enough, in his pocket was found a novel entitled "Doomed on the Deep."

Sanskrit.

The Sanskrit language is said to have about 500 root words.

Edmund Rich.

Edmund Rich is held in reverent remembrance at Oxford, where one hall has borne his name since the middle of the thirteenth century, standing almost exactly on the actual site of the school where Rich himself delivered lectures in the year 1219.

The Pearl.

The origin of the pearl is the subject of a Hindoo legend which attributes this beautiful formation to the fall of a drop of dew into the bosom of an oyster gaping in the sun.

Salt In Italy.

In Italy the sale of salt is a government monopoly, its cost in that country being greater than that of sugar. Every one therefore uses it very carefully. It is only for sale in the tobacco shops, and the privilege of keeping these is greatly coveted, being a sort of sinecure awarded to men who in other countries would receive a pension for services to the goverument.

Pins.

The number of pins manufactured daily in England is 54,000,000; in France, 20,000,000; in Germany, 10,000,000. It is estimated that about $5,000 worth of pins are daily lost in Europe.

Spectator Killed In French Riot.

Nantes, France, March 18.—The strike of the stevedores of this port resulted yesterday in violent rioting, in the course of which a spectator was shot dead.

A mob stoned the gendarmes and police, who were forced to disperse the crowd with drawn sabres.

Edmonton Bulletin Burned Out.

Edmonton, Alta., March 18.—The plant of The Edmonton Bulletin, a paper owned and started by Hon. Frank Oliver, was totally destroyed by fire Saturday night, entailing a loss of $50,000, upon which there is insurance of $34,000.

Australia's Sympathy.

London, March 18.—(C. A. P.)—Lord Northcote, Governor-General, has telegraphed the French Government, through Lord Elgin, an expression of sympathy from the Australian Government on the Iena disaster.

Revolution In Venzuela.

Willemstad, Curacao, March 18.—A despatch received here from Cuenta, Columbia, announces that a powerful revolution has started in the State of Tachira, Venezuela, with Gen. Juan Pablo Penaloza as its leader.

BIG CANADA.

Sad News Will Take Six Months to Get to Trading Post.

Hundreds of miles from Winnipeg, in lonely northern trading posts of the Hudson Bay Company, the two sons and daughter of ex-Chief Factor Camsell are living, ignorant of the death of their father, which took place in January in Winnipeg. Not until next July will the sad news reach them. W. E. Camsell, the oldest son, has followed in his father's footsteps, and is an accountant in the Company's service at Moose Factory. Fred Camsell is in charge of the post at Fort Simpson, and Mrs. Harding lives with her husband at Fort Resolution.

The late Captain Julien Camsell was born 68 years ago in Ceylon, where his parents were then living, his father being an officer of the British ordnance. After being educated in England, he joined the army in 1853, being anxious to see service in the Crimean war. But his regiment did not go after all, being later sent to Canada and stationed at St. Johns, Quebec. In 1857 a portion of the Royal Canadian Rifles, a Colonial regiment, was despatched to Red River by way of Hudson Bay, and with it, as an ensign, marched young Camsell. The expedition left Montreal by sailing ship on the 20th of June, 1857, and arrived at Fort Garry on the 15th of October in the same year. The force was sent to Red River by the British Government in anticipation of trouble with the United States over the Oregon boundary, and also at the solicitation of the Hudson Bay Company, who feared that the natives were contemplating mischief. The soldiers remained at Fort Garry two years, when the regiment was disbanded, most of the men returning home. Capt. Camsell became infatuated with the adventurous life of buffalo hunting on the plains, and in 1860 joined the service of the H. B. Co., and was sent to the Mackenzie River district in the Far North. Major Seaton is said to be the last surviving member of the expedition of 1857, which numbered 116 men and 16 women.

Capt. Camsell was an able and efficient officer, and rose steadily in rank in the Company's service. Appointed chief trader in 1872, he was given charge of the Mackenzie district in 1878, and in 1882 became chief factor. He retired in 1901, after forty years' service in the Mackenzie River district, of which he was in charge for twenty-three years. The deceased officer was famous as an athlete. On the snowshoes he was unexcelled, and he handled the huskies as few dog-drivers could. In 1869, having met Miss Sarah Foulds in Winnipeg, he was married to that lady at Fort Simpson, whither she was accompanied by Mrs. W. Hardisty, a sister-in-law to Lord Strathcona. Mrs. Camsell is still living.

A Wondrous Fish Story.

Not many persons have the luck of a fisherman on the Arrow Lakes, British Columbia, last summer. At the same time he captured a 200-pound deer and a ten-pound trout.

The fisherman was trolling for trout, when several deer swam past his boat. The man managed to catch hold of an old buck as he was going by, and, having no gun, attempted to kill the animal with a clasp knife.

Struggling violently, the deer got away, and as it swam off it carried the fisherman's line upon its horns.

Picking up his oars, the man started in pursuit, but was unable to bring the deer to bay and kill it until after about two hours of pursuit and fighting.

Most amazing, however, was the fact that then developed. The fishline was still fastened about the deer's horns, and hanging on the hook was a fine ten-pound trout, that had seized the bait as the deer dragged it through the water. The fisherman bore home in triumph both fish and animal.

Only One Each.

By the treaty of 1817, Great Britain and the United States bound themselves not to keep more than one war vessel apiece upon Lake Ontario.

SEWER PIPES WERE BROKEN

Car Load Lot From Toronto Contained 58 Broken Pipes

The commissioner of the Board of Works department has a proposition on his hands that will mean about $20 to the city. The last carload of sewer pipes unloaded at the G. T. R. station was in very bad condition. After the car left Toronto it evidently got into trouble as one end was stove in, and one side bulged out. The pipe in the centre of the car was in good shape, but at both ends, the last two rows were nearly all broken. In all there were fifty-eight broken pipe. It will be the city or the G. T. R. which will have to lose the price of the, viz., $20, and the city will make every effort to collect from the railway. In fact the city engineer has been recommended to withhold the freight charges on all four cars until a settlement is made.

OBITUARY

FRANCIS GRADY.

The death occurred Sunday morning of Francis Grady, who passed away at the home of his brother, Mr. James Grady, who lives on Brown street in North Monaghan, just outside the city limits. The deceased, who was 42 years old, left Peterborough about seventeen years ago. He worked for some years in British Columbia and later in San Francisco. He was a lineman for the Bell Telephone Company. Eight years ago he received a severe shock from a live electric wire which accidentally fell on his right hand. From the effects of the shock the deceased never fully recovered. He was subject to nervous trouble, and his hearing became impaired. He returned to Peterborough about a year ago and gradually grew worse until death relieved him of his suffering.

The deceased was a son of the late Patrick Grady and was born in North Monaghan. He leaves a mother, five brothers and one sister to mourn his departure. The brothers are Patrick, John and Peter, of Peterborough; James, of North Monaghan, and Michael of Nebraska. The sister is Miss Mary Ann Grady, who resides with her mother in North Monaghan.

Many friends will learn of Mr. Grady's death with sincere sorrow.

The funeral will take place tomorrow, Tuesday, morning, from the residence of Mr. James Grady, North Monaghan, at 9 o'clock, to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

MRS JOSEPH POGUE

Mrs. Jos. Pogue passed away in Fenelon Falls on Friday last. The deceased lady died from the effects of la grippe. She was a former resident of Peterborough and leaves a husband and large family to mourn her loss. Mr. Chas. Pogue, of S. A. Oke's store, George street, is a son. The late Mrs Pogue was 46 years of age.

The funeral took place yesterday at Fenelon Falls. Mrs. John S Pogue, Dublin street, Peterborough, was among those who attended the last sad rites.

MISS A. ANDERSON

Miss Agnes Anderson, of Otonabee, died in Otonabee on Saturday at the residence of her brother, Mr John Anderson, after an illness of some months. La grippe was the immediate cause of her death. The deceased was 62 years of age and was born in the township in which she passed away. Mr. Wm. Anderson, M.P.P., and Mr. John Anderson are brothers. The late Miss Anderson was esteemed by a large circle of friends. The funeral took place to Keen cemetery, and was largely attended.

HE SLIPPED.

I clamped the skates upon my feet;
I stepped upon the feet
I smiled to hear my friends repeat
Their quite well meant advice.

I skated when I was a boy;
I skated quite a lot.
The pastime I could still enjoy;
I knew I'd not forgot.

I glided out a yard or so;
My stroke was pretty fair,
When, just as I began to go,
My heels flew in the air.

I saw old Saturn and his rings
And Venus, shining bright;
A comet and some other things
Burst then upon my sight.

Orion and the Milky way
And Mercury and Mars—
I saw, though it was bright noonday,
A perfect blaze of stars.

They showed me later where I fell—
They said it was the place.
I know it wasn't very well,

I knew that this was just a joke,
Some foolish monkey trick.
The ice they showed me wasn't broke,
Though scarce twelve inches thick.

Story of Narrow Escape Comes From Stony Lake

Man Who Was Drawing Sand Was on Thin Ice, but Happily he Discovered it in Time

A story of the narrow escape of a man and team of horses from drowning, or at least a bath in the icy waters comes from Stony Lake. One day last week, a farmer in the neighborhood was hauling a large load of sand across the lake and when he was near McCracken's Landing he got off the right track and wandered onto the ice over the channel. The first intimation he had of danger, was when he found the ice cracking from the weight of the sand and the team of horses. He at once turned the horses in another direction and luckily found himself on good thick ice again. After reaching the shore, the man was curious as to how narrow his escape had been, and taking his axe, he walked back to the spot where he had heard the ice cracking, when he found he had been driving the team and horses. Approaching the spot carefully he struck the ice a blow with his axe, and to his surprise, the implement went right through the ice, which at that point was only two or three inches thick. Needless to say he quickly made light steps away from the spot and is now congratulating himself on his lucky escape, for had the team and sand broke through, in all probability the whole outfit would have sunk to the bottom of the lake.

The story is also told of another man who was crossing the lake with a load this winter, when his dog which was running a few yards ahead of the horses, broke through the ice but managed to scramble out. Thus warned of danger, the man driving the team at once turned his horses around and took another route.

Reported to the Board of Health This Morning—Has Inspected Bake Shops, Fruit Stands, etc.—Board Will Meet Every Monday Morning for Two Months

The Board of Health met in the city clerk's office this morning, after an absence of over two months. As was intimated, the new sanitary inspector presented his first report. It was on the whole very satisfactory. The chairman, Mr. Wm Eyres, however, endeavored to point out several other duties which the new official should perform and in doing so gave out the impression that the report did not meet with his ideas. The medical health officer, Dr. Bingham, thereupon called down the chairman for scolding the inspector, who had so far did splendid work, and had adopted a first-class system. This brought forth a very spirited address from the chairman, who pointed out all the good things he had done, and how much he knew about the conditions at Lakefield. The incident closed in time, without any blows being struck.

The sanitary inspector also received instructions from the Board to pay particular attention to all the cellars of the stores in the city, some of which are reported to be very bad. He will also look after the various terraces, and endeavor to have sewer and water connections made.

The Board will meet every Monday morning at half past nine o'clock during the next couple of months, for the purpose of keeping the house cleaning up to date.

Members present were,—Chairman Wm. Eyres, Dr. Burnham, Robert Neil, A. Parker, G. Schneider, Dr. McNulty and Mayor McWilliams. Also Mr. H. O. Bingham, and Sanitary Inspector Ball.

The application of the Dickson Co. for a sewer on Harvey street, was read. The company could not get into any of the present sewers and they wished to drain into the river. The only alternative was a cesspool and that is most objectionable.

The chairman recommended that the sewer be dealt with now by the Board. The others thought, however, that the engineer should report on the matter first, so as to have something official on file.

Sometime ago the Board took up the matter of laying out a section of the city where all houses must be connected with sewers. A plan was laid, but it was not definite enough and a special committee will go over it again.

M. H. O. REPORT

Medical Health Officer Dr. Bingham verbally reported that the general health of the city was in excellent condition. Only one case of mild diphtheria and no scarlet fever cases had been reported. In regards to the condition of milk sold in the city, he said three samples had been sent to Toronto for analysis and the report was received this morning, showing one sample to contain four per cent. butter fat, and two samples contained three and a half per cent. butter fat. The latter figure is standard while the 4 per cent. is very high.

The members of the board were very strongly of the opinion that three samples every other day be sent to Toronto, so as to get all the milk in the city inspected as soon as possible. The secretary of the board was instructed to write the department at Toronto, and ascertain the number of samples that can be handled each week, and what days they would prefer the milk sent.

SANITARY INSPECTOR'S REPORT

Sanitary Inspector Ball said that on receiving his appointment he had visited nearly all the big shops in the city, including confectionery and bake shops, butcher shops and fruit stands. Most of them he had found in good condition, but in other cases he had impressed upon the management the necessity of making alterations. Then there was the necessity of cleaning up the city's streets. people had even used the public highway as a dumping ground for general refuse. This is very bad, but he thought that after the street cleaning had been accomplished, the general condition would not be so bad. He had not yet visited private yards as nothing could be done outside yet.

In reference to the fruit stores he said he strongly recommended that all the waste vegetable matter should be removed at least once a week. It may not be so very objectionable from a sanitary point of view, but it certainly looked very bad.

Inspector Ball then related his experiences on his first visit to Lakefield. He made two or three discoveries which needed correction, but generally things were better than in the past.

A written report was presented as follows,—

"At the request of the chairman of the Water Commissioners, I visited Lakefield on March 12th. On my way there I saw one nuisance on the east side of the river which should be removed. I also saw a drinking place for cattle, also on the east side of the river, at the mill north of the village. They should be compelled to keep the bark and sawdust out of the river. The hotel is connected with the river by a sewer. The surface water of the village is drained into the river. The cement works are not connected with the river. The mills were not in operation at the time. He found no dumping of refuse upon the banks of the river."

Chairman Wm. Eyres drew attention to the fact that this paper contained a report some days ago, which stated that Inspector Ball found everything in pretty good condition. That report, while quite correct, was in the chairman's opinion, a little misleading. He desires the people to understand that the conditions were not satisfactory.

The Store for Gentlemen; An Up-to-date Establishment

Laidlaw & Oles' Premises Are Beautifully Finished—The Home of "Fashion Craft" Clothing

Laidlaw & Oles' gentleman's furnishing store on Hunter street, the home of "Fashion Craft" clothing, is one of the largest and best furnished establishments of its kind in this part of the province. Visitors to the store during the past week, have expressed unbounded admiration of the commodious premises and the handsome manner in which they are equipped.

Laidlaw & Oles occupy Darnley's old stand, next Roy's photographic studio, and since the new proprietors have taken possession, the premises have been entirely remodelled. No expense has been spared in procuring the best of everything, and skilled workmen executed the designer's ideas. The plans for the interior fitting of the store were prepared by Mr. Fred Bartlett and were executed by ex-Ald. Jas. Graham and that the architect's plans were right and were carried out in a most praiseworthy manner, need not be emphasized here.

The front of the store is sure to attract the eye of the passerby. There are two display windows fitted with plate glass and finished on the interior with beautiful quarter cut oak, which it might be stated, is the material used in all the interior fittings. The door is finished with leaded glass and presents a very striking appearance. The wood work in connection with the windows was done by E. H. Mann & Company. Not an inch of space is wasted in the store. There are drawers placed under the flooring of the windows where umbrellas and other articles of this nature can be stored. This fixture is the work of Mr D. Belleghem.

To the left of the store when entering is a large furnishing fixture for holding goods of various kinds. The upper part is fitted with shelves and the lower portion with drawers. Further back on the same side of the store are four handsome show cases of the latest design. They have glass tops and glass shelves in the interior.

On the right side of the store are wardrobes for holding the suits and overcoats carried in stock. There are twenty-three of these wardrobes and each one hold twenty- suits and overcoats. On the front of each one the words, "Fashion Craft Clothes" are engraved and also the monogram of the firm, the letters "L." and "O." The wardrobes are the product of the Weir Wardrobe Company of Mount Forest.

The electric light fixtures which are of novel design, were manufactured and installed by Alexander & Miller. The ceiling, which adds greatly to the bright appearance of the store was put in by the Best Hardware Company. The floor is covered with cork linoleum of a bright design.

In connection with the store is an up-to-date tailoring shop, equipped with all the latest appliances for doing good work. Mr. Peter Zettler, one of the best tailors in the city, is in charge. The firm guarantee satisfaction in this as well as every other department of their business.

A word as to the goods carried by the firm of Laidlaw and Oles. As is generally known, they have the exclusive agency for Peterborough, for "Fashion Craft" clothes, and it is of interest to note that Peterborough is the only city of its size in Canada to have a "Fashion Craft" wardrobe. "Fashion Craft" suits and overcoats are made in Montreal, and are claimed to be a little better than the best. The company which manufactures "Fashion Craft" clothing, has met with such success since its inception that they have erected in Montreal, the most modern clothing factory in Canada, and will occupy it about the middle of May. "Fashion Craft" clothing embraces both domestic and imported woollens and the prices range from $15 upwards.

In addition to "Fashion Craft" clothes, the firm carry a complete stock of gentlemen's furnishings and have the exclusive agency in Peterborough for several lines of goods. "Everything of the best," is their motto.

The proprietors of the establishment, Messrs. Andrew Laidlaw and J. E. Oles are genial and enterprising young business men, and should meet with much success. Mr. Laidlaw is an experienced tailor and Mr. Oles has had several years experience in the gentleman's furnishings business. They will be pleased to see you at their new store, even if you have no intention of buying.

The painting, decorating and wood graining of the store were done by Mr. Ralph Curton, whose splendid work has received many favorable comments.

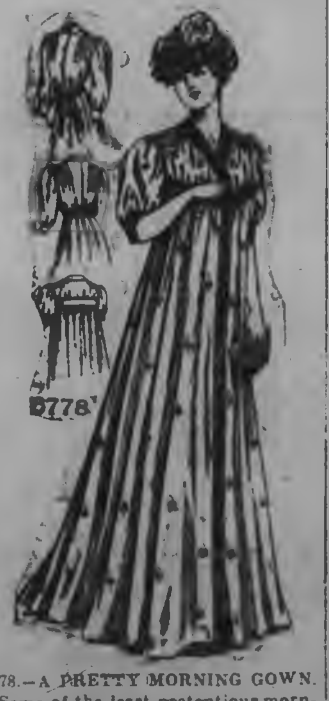
This Hen Laid Very Big Egg

Mr. B. Corrigan, a well-known Otonabee farmer went out to his poultry house on Sunday and found an egg weighing half a pound. It measured 8 inches in circumference and was laid by a black Minorca chicken eight months old.

AN EXPLANATION

In connection with the birthday party at the Y.M.C.A. tomorrow evening, it appears that certain citizens feel somewhat disappointed, because they have not received personal invitations. It is true that a number of these were sent out, but anyone can easily imagine that the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary could not begin to forward personal invitations to all interested in the work. It is hoped, therefore, that those who may have been unintentionally neglected will look at the matter in a proper light and broad spirit and accept the invitation extended through the press and attend the birthday party tomorrow night. All citizens are cordially and earnestly invited to be present.

THE LATEST DEAN PATTERNS



6778.—A PRETTY MORNING GOWN.

Some of the least pretentious morning gowns are made chic and out of the ordinary by just a well placed bow or trimming band. One of challis, which is most simple in design, yet very attractive and modish is sketched here for the benefit of the woman who fashions her own clothes. It is made to appear like a real Empire. The fulness at the shoulder, back and front, may be tucked to yoke depth and girdled at the waist by a ribbon or belt, or it may be shirred and held in place by an Empire waist band which makes quite a different garment of it and one of real style. The simplest of material may be used with no other trimming than the ribbon or waistband, yet the result will be altogether pleasing and graceful. Either style may be followed in the development according to the wearer, and her tastes. In the medium size the pattern calls for 9 3-8 yards of 27 inch material.

Supplementary Estimates Will Show Large Sum for Trent Canal

For the Completion of the Southern End—Another Survey Will be Made Before the Route of North End is Decided Upon—Deputation Going Down.

A strong deputation will leave the city tomorrow noon on a special C.P.R. train for Ottawa, where the Minister of Railways and Canals will be interviewd. This delegation was organized by the Campbellford Board of Trade and is being run under their auspices. The city's end and the arrangement of the special train, however, was in charge of Ald. Phelan, who has not neglected the slightest detail.

Besides the city council, the city clerk, treasurer, engineer and solicitor, and the press representatives, a number of private individuals will also take in the trip and join the deputation. It is expected that at least fifty will go from the city, while a large number will also go from all the adjoining municipalities, and the trip promises to be a most successful one.

The following despatch from Ottawa will be of great interest to all living in the vicinity of the Trent Canal:

Ottawa, March 17.—Before the Government finally decides as to the northern outlet of the Trent Valley Canal, a survey will be made of a possible route from Nottawasaga Bay, at the southern end of Georgian Bay, to Lake Simcoe. This route, if found possible, and not too costly, would prove considerably shorter than the Severn River route, recommended in the return laid on the table of the Commons last week, giving the report of Mr E. J. Walsh, engineer in charge of the canal. A considerable sum has been placed in the supplementary estimates to provide for going ahead this year with the completion of the southern portion of the canal from Rice Lake to Trenton. A deputation from Northumberland county and adjacent districts will wait on Hon. Mr. Emmerson this week to ask that this canal be carried through to completion as soon as possible.

Dairy Instruction Meetings Announced for This District

Mr. G. G. Publow, of Kingston, Chief Instructor for Eastern Ontario, Will Address the Peterborough Meeting on March 26th—Dates of Other Meetings

The announcement has been officially made that the first dairy instruction meeting will be held in this city on March 26th just a week from Tuesday. This paper stated several weeks ago that the probable date would be March 26th and that good speakers would be present. A letter received this morning from Mr George A Putnam, superintendent of the dairy branch of the Ontario Agricultural Department, announces the official dates for this district as follows;

Madoc, Hastings County, March 25th.

Peterborough, Peterborough County, March 26th.

Lindsay, Victoria County, March 27th.

All sessions will start at 1.30 p.m. and 7.30 p.m., two sessions at each point. Addresses will be delivered by Mr. G. G. Publow, Kingston, chief instructor for Eastern Ontario, and Mr. Alex Hume, of Menie, Ont.

Mr. Publow needs no introduction to the dairymen of this section. He will be prepared to give both proprietors, makers and producers much valuable information, and it is to be hoped that all will take advantage of hearing him. Mr. A. Hume, of Menie, will give addresses upon the selection, care and management of dairy cattle, and also upon the rearing of bacon hogs.

The Department of Agriculture has this year appropriated an additional sum for dairy instruction work and is making arrangements to give free instruction to all factories and creameries within the Province.

Every farmer, every proprietor of cheese factories, every cheese maker and every patron of the factory is urged to attend these meetings. It is to his own advantage to do so and it will be his own loss if he does not. The information given is the most valuable obtainable and it is as free as the air. The intention of the Ontario Agricultural Department and the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association is to make a great improvement in the quality of cheese turned out this year. If the farmers turn out with the cheese men this can be easily accomplished. In case, however, attention is not paid to the improvements suggested for the factory and dairy the department will be forced to resort to the law, and compel those in the industry to live up to the requirements. This course, however, will only be pursued in extreme cases.

Departing Singer Was Remembered

Fraserville Methodist Choir Honor Mr. Hector Might

On Thursday night last the Methodist church choir of Fraserville met at the residence of Mr. Robt. Lewers for their weekly practice, and after spending a short time in practice, the gathering developed into one of a social nature, and Mr. Hector Might, a son of Mr. Samuel Might, Cavan, who is leaving in a short time for the Northwest, was made the recipient of a pair of solid gold cuff links, suitably engraved, and accompanied with the following address:

Mr. Hector Might,—

Respected Friend,—On the eve of your departure from our community for the Northwest, we, as a choir, take this opportunity of expressing our sorrow at your removal. You have manifested a deep interest in matters relating to choir practice and work and your gentlemanly bearing and your fine social spirit have added much to the pleasure of our weekly gatherings. We shall miss your help and presence very much, and hope a Divine Providence will watch over and help you in the future years of life, and that at last we may all join in the music of the skies. As a slight remembrance of our associations and friendship, please accept these cuff links from the choir.

Signed on behalf of the choir: Mrs. Kidd, Ethel Waterman, Mrs. T. H. Ruth, Edythe Lewers, Lois Finlay, Mrs. Fred Clarke, Thos. H. Ruth, John D. Waterman, and Arthur Wood.

Deputation off for the Captial

Large Number Took Advantage of the Cheap Rates

Peterborough was well represented on the big deputation that left for Ottawa to wait on the Government in connection with the Trent Valley canal. The train pulled out at one o'clock. There were about twenty in the civic deputation from Peterborough, several from the County Council, ten from Lindsay, eight from Omemee and about twenty-five from Campbellford. A number were also taken on at Norwood and Havelock. In addition to the deputation a large number of private citizens of Peterborough also took advantage of the cheap rates to visit the capital. In all there were nearly 150 on board the train.

Life and Work of the Sweet Singer of America Reviewed

The regular meeting of the Philomathean Society of the Collegiate Institute, was held in the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon, with the president, Mr. F. Browne, in the chair.

The programme, which was of a Longfellow nature, was a delightful one and was heartily enjoyed. Several of the students read very interesting papers on the life and work of the great American poet. They showed evidences of careful preparation and were most enjoyable. The musical numbers were, as usual, delightful. Miss Davies and Mr. Crane sang Longfellow's "Excelsior," in splendid voice.

The complete programme was as follows:—

Piano solo.—Miss Flynn.
Life of Longfellow.—Miss L. Dean.
Paper.—Miss Sykes.
Violin solo.—Miss K. Wallis.
Paper on Longfellow.—Mr. H. Matthews.
Paper on Longfellow.—Mr. B. Ingham.
Vocal duet.—Miss Davies and Mr. Crane.
Paper on Longfellow.—Mr. Brown.
Paper on Longfellow.—Miss L. Elliott.

Drooping—Tired—Weary

You Feel Depressed, Dragged Out, and Sort of "All Gone"—Shake Off That Tired Feeling, Get Well and Strong, Fortify Your Nerves, Nourish Your Blood.

FERROZONE

You are getting pale and thin. You're dragged down with a "don't care" feeling that makes life most unhappy. Your strength is fleeting away, and weakness is creeping in. Every day your chances for cure becomes smaller.

Trouble is you don't assimilate your food, consequently the body is poorly nourished. The blood is thin, lacks those red corpuscles that denote health.

You can only prevent a total collapse by building up all the powers of the body with Ferrozone, which will surely make you well. Ferrozone creates tremendous appetite, increases the power of digestion, and insures perfect assimilation. Everything you eat is at once converted into nourishment.

FERROZONE makes rich, pure blood, a surplus of energy, new life for the nerves and all over-strained organs. Robust health will glow on the cheeks, jovial spirits, increased weight, and a clear, active brain will evidence a few of the benefits that follow Ferrozone.

GAINED 15 POUNDS.

Mr. H. A. Thurston, of 268 Vermont St. E., Indianapolis, Restored by Ferrozone.

"A year ago I took the grippe. I was as weak as a child. I was no longer able to eat. My blood was thin. My cheeks were white and hollow. Doctors gave me all kinds of medicine, but none of them brought me strength. My friends said I was wasting away with some slow disease, and I bade them good-bye. Then I heard of the wonderful Ferrozone. After three days it gave me an appetite. I gained strength and became cheerful. Under Ferrozone I improved steadily. I am well to-day. I weigh fifteen pounds heavier than ever before, and feel like a new man.
(Signed) "H. A. THURSTON."

The effect of Ferrozone is instant, yet permanent. For upbuilding and invigorating the listless and depressed it has no equal. It's the concentrated nourishment in Ferrozone that makes it so beneficial. We guarantee it contains no opiates, no alcohol, nothing but the most strengthening qualities known in medicine. Won't you use Ferrozone; it will surely make you well.

BUILD UP WITH FERROZONE!

Ferrozone Makes the Weak Strong—the Sick Well.

CAUTION! Be on your guard against the substitutor who urges something "just as good." Get FERROZONE when you ask for it. Other tonics are not so good as FERROZONE, which is guaranteed to cure. Price 50c per box of 50 chocolate coated tablets. Sold by all reliable dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ontario.

Thaw Illtreated His Wife According to the Affidavit

Case for Prosecution Closes—Experts for Defence Declare Thaw Was Insane—Evelyn Denies Truth of Story—Delmas Proceeds to Show True Character of Hummel—Policemen Testify for Prisoner—Verdict Friday

New York, March 19.—When the Thaw trial was adjourned yesterday only four expert witnesses remained to be examined before the taking of evidence closes. Three experts were disposed of yesterday in a little more than an hour, so it is generally believed that the last word of evidence may be in to-day.

In that event the summing up by Mr. Delmas for the defence will begin Wednesday morning. District Attorney Jerome will reply on Thursday. Justice Fitzgerald may proceed immediately with his charge to the jury, or he may defer it until Friday. There should be a verdict by Friday night.

Delmas Changes Tactics.

After fighting for an hour and a half against the introduction in evidence of the famous affidavit drawn by Abraham Hummel at the request of Stanford White and with the alleged consent of Evelyn Nesbit, charging Harry K. Thaw with having cruelly beaten Miss Nesbit on several occasions during their trip through Europe in 1903, Attorney Delmas suddenly switched tactics yesterday and demanded that the whole of the alleged affidavit go into the record and be read to the jury. District Attorney Jerome had contemplated reading only certain portions of it, which he declared directly contradicted the testimony of young Mrs. Thaw.

Severe Whippings.

In the affidavit it appears that, though Evelyn Nesbit was in possession of a considerable sum of money, she remained with Thaw and endured frequent whippings.

With the reading of the affidavit Mr. Jerome announced that the people rested their case in rebuttal.

Mr. Delmas immediately offered in evidence the record of the trial of Abraham Hummel on the charge of conspiracy.

The district attorney did not object and the defendant's lawyer proceeded to read the entire record to the jury.

The Hummel affidavit had already been discounted by the statement of its contents by Mr. Jerome at various times during his arguments as to its admissibility.

Mrs. Thaw Denies It.

Mr. Jerome had also quoted quite freely from the affidavit during his cross-examination of young Mrs. Thaw.

During that cross-examination she denied emphatically having made any of the statements contained in the paper.

It was, to get Mr. Jerome's own words denouncing Hummel, that Mr. Delmas undertook to read the entire record of the trial.

Mr. Delmas began the introduction of testimony in sur-rebuttal, putting on the stand three policemen who saw Thaw the night of the tragedy or early on the morning after. They all declared that he either looked or acted irrationally.

Final Stages Reached.

Delmas then passed to the final stages of the trial by introducing the first of seven alienists employed by the defence, three of the experts being new to the case.

Dr. Graeme M. Hammond, Dr. Smith Ely Jelliffe, and Dr. W. A. White, superintendent of the Government for the insane, at Washington, D. C., were yesterday's witnesses, and all were interrogated on the 15,000 word hypothetical question framed by Jerome. All three declared Thaw was so mentally unbalanced at the time he killed Stanford White that he did not know the nature or quality of his act, and did not know that the act was wrong.

To-day the experts will be Drs. Evans, Wagner, Chas. W. Pilgrim of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., president of the New York State Lunacy Commission, and Dr. Minas Gregory, superintendent of the psychopathic pavilion at Bellevue Hospital.

THE MODUS VIVENDI.

Government Treatment of Newfoundland Severely Criticized.

London, March 19.—(C. A. P.)—In the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Lyttelton said, respecting the Newfoundland fishery controversy, that while admitting it was impossible to ignore the United States case, there was a grave issue which was likely to lead to friction and collision unless it was settled. No prejudice ought to arise in future through making the modus vivendi.

He complained of the pathetic and negligent manner in which the Government treated the matter. He declared the Government ought at once to have consulted the colony, and both together ought to have framed such a policy as would, if possible, have been acceptable to the United States. If not, the policy ought at any rate to have been acceptable to Newfoundland. Britain, he complained most seriously, was the country of the Government which had allowed themselves to be placed in a position of conflict with the colony.

Mr. Winston Churchill, defending the Government, said the provincial arrangement was without prejudice, and was absolutely necessary if the fisheries were to be conducted in a peaceful manner. He denied that the Government had prejudiced the permanent interests of the colony.

The Solicitor-General said Newfoundland was fully consulted. The United States displayed the greatest possible anxiety to reach a reasonable arrangement, and had met the Government fairly.

Previous to the discussion Earl Grey declared he regarded the settlement as temporary.

The Chronicle says the Newfoundland discussion only indicates the need of an improved imperial organization.

The Leader asks: Does Mr. Lyttelton serious maintain that our relations with the United States ought to have been imperilled rather than violate the sanctity of the Newfoundland Legislature's statute-book when the statutes were aimed deliberately at the States.

SAVE NATIONAL CREDIT.

Government to Reduce Expenditure and Strengthen Sinking Fund.

London, March 19.—In the House of Commons yesterday the Government was questioned by Unionists and other members on the low prices of consols in the attempt to draw the inference that the decline in British credit was coincident with the attempts of the Government in 1885 to grant home rule to Ireland.

The Ministers ignored the insinuation, but, in reply to a question by Sir Howard Vincent, Conservative, as to whether steps were contemplated to restore the national credit, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Asquith, said that, while the Government fully recognized the serious character of the decline in consols, it could not accept the statement that the credit of Great Britain was lower than in memory of the living.

Many of the causes leading to the decline in British Government stocks, and of most other high class securities during the last ten years, were international in their operation and independent of Government control.

On the other hand, the enormous increase in the national expenditure, the neglect to make adequate provision for the redemption of the national debt and the freedom with which new obligations were created undoubtedly affected the national credit.

The steps the Government proposed were to reduce the expenditure, strengthen the sinking fund and avoid as far as possible borrowing for current expenditures.

TERRIBLE MASSACRES

A Rising Against the Jews in Roumania.

Town Totally Destroyed and Houses Pillaged — Population Who Have Escaped Are Ruined—Mass Meeting in New York—Fear Another Kishineff Affair Has Occurred—Prompt Measures Taken.

New York, March 19.—The cable despatch received Sunday night by the Jewish Morning Journal, of this city, reporting that terrible massacres have occurred at Podihilo, Roumania, has caused consternation among the Roumanian Jews in New York. They fear another Kishineff affair, in which so many Russian Jews perished. Podihilo is only about 30 miles from Kishineff, which is in Bessarabia, across the Russian frontier.

All of the Roumanian societies in New York, have been notified to attend a mass meeting to-night in the Manhattan Lyceum, in the heart of the East Side Ghetto. The best measures that can be taken to aid the afflicted at Podihilo are to be discussed and decided upon.

The cablegram received here announcing the massacre was signed, according to the recipient by three leading merchants of Podihilo. The cablegram follows:

"Terrible massacres since last Thursday. Town totally destroyed. All the Yiddish population are ruined and houses pillaged. We ask help."

DUNCAN GOES FOR TRIAL.

Galt, March 19.—John F. Duncan was formally committed for trial yesterday by Police Magistrate Blake on three separate charges, falsifying the books of the Bank of Commerce, at Ayr, by fraudulently making an entry of $17.90 read $13,617.90; forging by alteration of a cash voucher, and stealing a bank draft from the Galt branch of the bank in January, 1905.

In the last charge the prisoner, it is alleged, kept this draft, marked it cancelled, filled it out to the Windsor branch at Ayr, forged the Windsor manager's name, and, on March 7, at Stratford, cashed it at the bank, receiving the $2,000 it called for.

It also came out in evidence that Duncan had $3,650 on him when arrested at Paris, on the request of the Ayr manager, who had discovered his defalcation. This he handed to his lawyer, and the lawyer, in turn, to the Ayr manager.

Duncan expressed the hope that the bank would be merciful since he had given up all the money he had. He had nothing to say when arraigned. Crown Attorney Bowlby was present for the crown. Crown Attorney MacPherson of Stratford appeared for the bank, and J. B. Dalzell appeared for the prisoner.

The witnesses examined were Manager Lay of Ayr and Accountant Melville of Stratford. The prisoner took things coolly.

TWO BODIES IN ONE COFFIN.

Medicine Hat Undertaker Charged With Mean Fraud.

Medicine Hat, March 19.—J. J. Moore, a local undertaker, is under arrest on a charge of disrespect for the dead and of obtaining money under false pretences.

He has a contract for burying the pauper dead. On Wednesday last the body of a Dane and of Ernest R. Minns, formerly of Toronto Junction, were turned over to him. He buried them both in the same rough box.

A short time after the interment H. H. Foster, on whose ranch Minns had been employed, arrived. He ordered and paid for a decent burial. It was the grave digger who made the discovery and he divulged only because he was refused remuneration for digging two graves. When found out Moore transferred the body to an expensive coffin and endeavored to make amends, but Foster refused to compromise and caused his arrest.

TRICKED BY A SHOWMAN.

Youth Couldn't Find Job, Tries to Flit By Window.

Windsor, March 19.—Henry Stewart, 18 years of age, who came from Toronto three weeks ago, is under arrest on the complaint of his landlady, Mrs. Lee, who claims Stewart is in her debt to the extent of about $13, including board and money she says she advanced to him.

Sunday night, she caught him in the act of passing his clothes out of an upstairs window into the arms of a companion, who had climbed a convenient telegraph pole to receive them.

Stewart says he came to Windsor in response to an advertisement by one Kenneth Keith, who promised him a good position as a song and dance artist with a traveling show.

Killed Like Predecessor.

Elmira, N.Y., March 19.—A week ago, Walter Casterline, an Erie trackwalker, was waiting near Chemung to be relieved, when he was struck and killed by a fast train.

Last night, Lewis H. Sherman, who succeeded Casterline, had finished his work and sat down on the track in the same spot Casterline met his death.

Sherman was deaf and did not hear a fast train approaching. He was instantly killed.

Dressmakers' Strike.

Vienna, March 19.—The dressmakers and ladies' tailors held mass meetings yesterday, and unanimously decided to strike to-day for increased wages. Nine thousand women and girls and 3,000 men are involved.

Sir Robt. Weatherbee Resigns.

SUCCESSION DUTIES BILL.

Penalties For Concealment—Several Formal Measures Advanced.

Toronto, March 19.—Yesterday was a season of hard work and little talking in the Legislature. The attendance—as usual on Monday—was light, on one occasion the Conservative whip, Dr. Preston, having to go out and round up a quorum. Only four Liberal members were present, but the Government availed itself of the absence of members who had private bills on the paper, to advance several of its own measures a stage toward the statute books.

Two private bills were put through their committee stages, that of Col. Hugh Clark (Centre Bruce) respecting the Town of Kincardine and that of Mr. Lennox (York) confirming tax sales in the Township of Etobicoke.

Hon. Mr. Whitney, the Prime Minister, asked Mr. McCowan (York) to withdraw his bill to amend the Architects' Act. "It is opposed by a number of prominent architects," said Mr. Whitney, "and is a bill which should not be dealt with hastily. It should have careful consideration and I suggest it be not pressed until this has been given it."

The bill was accordingly withdrawn.

Irregular Sales of Land.

Mr. McCoig (West Kent) moved the second reading of his bill respecting sales of land by the Canada Co. He said that since the discovery of oil in southwestern Ontario the Canada Land Co. had put a reserve clause in all their sales to the farmers and was now giving oil operators the right to go on their land. The original charter was given to the Canada Co. on their undertaking to bring out settlers. They had never done this and Mr. McCoig urged the cancellation of their charter, as was done in charters for pulpwood, mineral and timber where the provisions were not carried out. It was also a question whether under any conditions the Canada Land Co. had a right to put in the reserve clause.

Hon. Mr. Whitney said if anything illegal was being done under the guise of law the courts would provide the remedy. The measure was one essentially effecting private rights and should be brought before the Private Bills committee. No lawyer who gave the bill his attention could say it came under public bill legislation. The Prime Minister sympathized with the objects of the bill and would like to see it brought into the House in its proper channel. As a public bill it was now out of order.

Hon. Mr. Graham suggested that as Mr. Auld (Essex) had a measure along similar lines, Mr. McCoig's bill stand until its consideration. Hon. Mr. Whitney agreed.

Concealing Succession Dues.

In Committee of the Whole, Hon. Mr. Matheson presented resolutions to provide a penalty for concealment in estates liable to succession dues, and Hon. Mr. Whitney the resolutions necessary to carry out the fees provided for in Mr. McNaught's bill respecting pawnbrokers.

Hon. Mr. Foy's bill to amend the Registry Act was put through committee. As a result of petitions received the Attorney-General said it had been decided to decree that the registry offices in Ottawa, Hamilton and London might close on Saturday afternoons. This provisions, however, could not be extended further than to these cities as Saturday afternoon usually furnished the best opportunity to do their business to people living in the agricultural sections.

The House also put through committee Hon. Mr. Matheson's bill to amend and consolidate the law relating to the payment of succession duties. In future where the value of any property passing to any one person does not exceed $300 it shall be exempt from payment of the duty imposed by the act.

Level Crossing Accident.

Preston, March 19.—A team of horses attached to a wagon containing two men was struck by the 11 o'clock Grand Trunk train yesterday morning at Groh's crossing, between Preston and Hespeler.

A man by the name of R. Johnson, said to be from Berlin, was badly hurt and taken to Galt Hospital. The other man, name unknown, escaped. The horses were killed and the wagon smashed.

New St. Lawrence Service.

Portland, Maine, March 19.—By the leasing of wharf property in this city for a long term of years, arrangements have been completed for a new line of steamers to run between this port and the St. Lawrence River.

The line will be used to bring down large quantities of pulpwood from the Canadian provinces.

HEARTS COURAGEOUS

BY HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES.

CHAPTER XVII.

It was a gloomy Virginia to which Anne returned that anxious fall—a Virginia whose heart beat with the north, where Howe was weaving his famous cord to encircle the throat of the monster rebellion. Pastoral life had ended abruptly; the golden age had become one of iron. "And all the women that were wise hearted did spin with their hands."

Gladden Hall suffered with the rest. Colonel Tillotson was much away on affairs of the committee of safety or at Williamsburg conferring with his excellency Governor Henry, and the looms which wove at all turned out cloth for Continental uniforms. Across the plant rows, where the negroes hoed, Groam, the overseer, with cowhide under his arm and his old Fontenoy bellmouth tower musket strapped on his back, still walked his horse, with ferret eyes under his broad brimmed hat. But there was little leaf raised, and the wharfs at the foot of the lawn were overgrown with weeds.

Inside the great house there were the same candle lighted dining room, the high backed chairs, the tall, cumbrous clock, the portraits, the polished sideboard reflecting the slender stemmed glasses. But the meals were silent.

Anne's trouble hung over the household in a shadow that was not lightened by the presence of vaster ones near at hand. She had sorrowed with that festering sorrow that is self accusatory. And to know that never so few, aware of her part in that Philadelphia scene, believed her to have done a heroic thing was like an added death to her. For a time she had fled for refuge to her old passion for the cause. But the effort failed.

One day early in the new year, when the world was dusted with delicate frost like seed pearl, Colonel Tillotson brought to Gladden Hall the news of how "the old fox of Mount Vernon," by a wily double across the icy Delaware, had taken the Hessians at Trenton. Anne heard it apathetically. To her despair, victory and defeat spelled the same.

When the door closed upon her, the colonel looked at his wife silently. "And she still believes in him!"

"As she believes in us," replied the lady softly. "Colonel," she said keenly, "you have heard news."

"Aye," he answered after a pause, "I have. A reply came to Mr. Henry's confidential inquiries today. There is no doubt that Armand is the same prisoner who escaped from the Duchess of Gordon off Amboy last August."

"Thank God!" breathed Mrs. Tillotson fervently. "I am glad. I can't help it."

"Anne had better not know. 'Twill do her no possible good."

"Colonel," said the lady decisively, "in this I must have my way. I am going to tell her just as fast as I can." She rose, laid aside her knitting, took up a candle and left him standing dubiously before the fire.

The light came back to Anne like the spring sun. The great horror was gone, and in spite of the war's gloom Gladden Hall grew more cheerful again. She devoured the columns of the Gazettes and read eagerly letters which came to Henry from abroad.

These told her how the Reprisal, dodging the British sloops of war, had landed Benjamin Franklin safely at Nantes, of his meeting there with Beaumarchais and of his reception in Paris at the little hotel in the Rue Vieille du Temple, where a mercantile sign of "Roderique Hortalez & Co." hid a pleasant conspiracy whose object was the furnishing of war supplies to the American colonists, and whose silent partners were a prime minister and a king. Somewhere, she thought, there in his own land perhaps Armand was safe, not believing in her, but free and uncondemned.

The sound of war came nearer when Howe's fleet sailed into the Chesapeake and when Henry, summoned in haste from Hanover, called out the militia. She watched them march through Williamsburg, sixty-four companies strong, but the fleet and the army it carried sailed on to beat back Washington at Brandywine, to enter Philadelphia and turn the grave town into an orgy of Tory rejoicing.

So the months passed in alternate hope and despair. Spring unfurled, summer dropped its blooms, autumn singed glebe and copse, snow fell and purified the earth stains. And at last Virginia knew that Burgoyne had been entrapped in the northern forests; that Philadelphia had been evacuated; that the cord which was to encircle the throat of the rebellion had snapped; that France had recognized independence and made a treaty of alliance with the United States.

There followed a closer campaign when Lord Germaine, the king's war minister, having failed to strangle the monster, attacked its extremities, when the redcoats swept into the southern harbors, when Savannah and Augusta fell, when Lincoln's army was caught at Charlestown and Gates routed at Camden, and these were the south's darkest days.

It knew there was no hope from the army in the north—meager, ill clothed, half starved, without magazines, arsenals or credit. Washington lay watching like a hawk Clinton's 10,000 men at New York, hoping for an effective force from France, waiting with the sublime patience which more than all else made him a great soldier.

Virginia bore her burdens uncomplainingly, giving of her substance to the struggle, while the slaves which Cornwallis sent scampering from burned lower plantations trailed through her borders, sowing insurrection among the faithful blacks.

"John the Baptist," demanded Anne sternly one day after Groam had reported that scarce fifty slaves remained in the quarters, "an the British come here, are you going to run away too?"

"Mis' Anne," he complained appealingly, "don' yo' know no 'spectable nigger gwine ter list'n ter dem shif'less trash whut go ramshacklin' erroun' widout no homes? Dee ain' no 'count. Yo' couldn' swap 'em off fo' shucks. Yo' knows I ain' nuvver gwine leabe de plantation whar I wuz drug up. Dat Cornwallis! Huh! Dis nigger smell de brimstone whut's huntin' fo' him."

When the sky looked blackest came General Nathanael Greene into the south, young, light hearted and eager. And what did he not accomplish? He welded anew the scattered remnants of Gates' army, fanned North Carolinian Whiggery into a blaze, beat Tarleton, sent Cornwallis back, breathing hard, to the seacoast. It was the end of the second campaign.

"What will King George do now?" Anne asked Henry jubilantly.

His face was very grave as he answered: "There is only one thing left. 'Tis a stroke at the heart of the rebellion. And that heart is here in Virginia." He guessed truly.

There were hasty preparations for flight throughout the lower peninsula on that snow shod day when the traitor Arnold's fifty ships came to anchor off Jamestown island. The sky was a ceiling of translucent gray. The stubby cedars trailed sweeping boughs of crystaled beryl, and every shrub was cased in argent armor. Fleet horsemen had ridden from Williamsburg in all directions rousing the frozen countryside.

At noon Anne took her place in the chariot beside Mrs. Tillotson, bound for Dr. Walker's of Castle Hill, far enough north to be beyond the reach of the invaders. Her aunt was to fare even farther, to Berkeley.

They waved brave goodbys through tears to the little group of house negroes whimpering on the porch. Rashleigh was to go with the remaining servants to Brandon, Mammy Evaline was left in charge of the place, and John the Baptist, her son, was to care for the horses and run them off on approach of the British. The house linen and silver Anne had buried with her own hands, and the family portraits had been hidden under the stables.

It was a sad journey, but one performed that day by more than one household.

Colonel Tillotson rode a part of the way beside the coach. "'Twill not be for long," he insisted cheeringly. "I have assurance from Mr. Henry that Washington will send troops before spring breaks. He thought it would be General Lafayette—the young French marquis who passed through Williamsburg, you remember. Would Washington himself could come!" he added fervently.

But his wife was not to be comforted. "Colonel," she cried brokenly, "I feel sure we shall never see Gladden Hall again."

More than once before spring came tiptoeing down the trees Anne looked out to the north from quiet Castle Hill, homesick for a sight of Greenway Court and Baron Fairfax. Weakness and age had at last sent the old man to his chair, and he sat through the long days sorrowfully patient, as his ancestor, the hero of Naseby fight, sat at Denton in Yorkshire, waiting the coming of the victorious banners of the king.

The beginnings of the struggle had found him doggedly wrathful.

"'Bill of rights,' sigh?" he would shout. "I want no benefit of it. I am a colonial and loyal."

And when his neighbors contended that what they stood for was the old issue for which their ancestors broke pikes at Marston Moor he turned his back upon them.

In the Old Dominion there was comparative tranquillity, but even in the forest he had heard the first blare of the king's armies in Boston and New York with a hungering fear that drew his eyes often wistfully toward Mount Vernon. There sat the lad he had trained and molded, "the first soldier in Virginia," a grave man. They whispered evil things of this man's loyalty now, but the baron for long shut his ears and would not hear.

The time came soon when Tories were hated, despised, driven by fire from their homes, their property confiscated. But this old man alone was not touched.

"Let the rebels come!" he had roared, pounding the floor with his thorn stick. "Let them come! I met the Indians here in '55, and I leave for no cursed rebels. The king may not be able to protect, but he will reimburse me."

But, Tories and Whigs passed by alike, and not a pound was touched in his storehouse, not a horse taken from his stables. When the foragers swept the valleys his field slaves slunk away with the rest, but he had not a house negro who did not stay with him to the end.

The final chapter was opened at last. Lafayette was marching southward with twelve hundred of Washington's own light infantry. The word had struck sharper than an adder's tooth—the bloody snows of Valley Forge, the pelting retreat through the Jerseys, want, rout, discouragement and despair! The king must win, and George Washington was gone too far even for love's forgiveness. Now he sent his rebels to his own natal colony to hurl them in a final desperate attack at the king's throat.

After this news the baron took to his couch and closed his doors against report. Through all the war Washington had found time to send gentle and tender letters to his old friend. These my lord had read, longing for some sigh of sorrow or of turning, but they had brought none. Now he read no more.

One morning Anne stood at the deep set window of her room at Castle Hill. Far away, their dim splendor relieved by golden gorges of early sunlight, reared the solitary mountains, hung with pale green, pale gold and blent lavender and graylike faded tapestries. The June breeze was soft with the first thrill of summer, blowing across the shelving fields. Birds were fluting in the tulip trees, and the dewed odor of roses lay on the garden, drenchingly sweet. The place seemed safe folded from the war that lay, a sullen fiend in a cloud, far away across the Virginia hills.

A distant clatter came to her, and she looked and listened where the eastern road bent behind clusters of trees. Almost before she had guessed the meaning of the sound a troop of dragoons, whose red coats proclaimed them British, dashed into view and rode at top speed toward the house.

The British! So far to the westward! What could it mean? Then, in clutching apprehension, she fled downstairs to Mrs. Walker's room, to find that lady already dressing with speed and trepidation. As she opened the door, the yard below swarmed with a confusion of soldiers and shrieking servants.

"Stay where you are," came Dr. Walker's voice from the next room. "I am going."

"No, doctor," Mrs. Walker opposed. "I am going myself." And go she did, Anne with her.

Aunt Daph', the cook, having fled from the kitchen, was crouched, shuddering, at the foot of the stair. "Dem's de Britishers, missus!" she moaned. "Dem's de Britishers!"

"I know it," answered Mrs. Walker calmly as a knock thundered at the door. "Go back to your kitchen."

The figure on the threshold bowed till his plumes swept the sill.

"Pardon me, madam—ladies," he began, "but I must ask of your hospitality a breakfast for myself and my officers. I may introduce myself? Colonel Tarleton of the British legion, at your service."

Anne caught an astonished breath at realization that she was standing before the most dreaded of Cornwallis' cavalry leaders. Could this red cheeked, petulant lipped lad be the dragoon of whose cruelty and daring she had so often heard? She courtesied slowly to his bow.

"I might add," announced the visitor, "that no harm shall be done this property. We have business farther on."

Farther on! Anne's mind leaped to the thought of Charlottesville, only six miles away. The Virginia assembly was in session there. And Henry! She must gain a little time.

"Let me see to the breakfast, Mrs. Walker," she volunteered. "Aunt Daph' is quite distracted."

Tarleton smiled, bowed again to her and clanked to the door. Then Anne caught Mrs. Walker's hand and whispered: "'Tis a raid on the assembly. We must keep them here as long as possible. Tell the doctor."

She had no time to speak further, for Tarleton re-entered with the others.

"I have been obliged to set a guard about the negro quarters and at the front and rear entrances of the house," he said. "We shall soon relieve you of this inconvenience. Ah, doctor, good morning!"

Anne betook herself to the kitchen and stirred Aunt Daph' to activity. While the great fire roared her brain was busy. She must get through that cordon of redcoats—must—must!

As the cook piled the irons with fragments of chicken, Anne's eyes, through the back door and window, took in the situation. Full a dozen troopers were grouped there, stretched lazily in the sun, their horses hobbled and cropping grass eagerly in a widening half circle. The quarters were on the farther side, out of sight from the kitchen. Seeing, she bade Aunt Daph' lay more of the chicken on the racks and herself fed the fire till its heat scorched her cheeks.

The negress raised her hands.

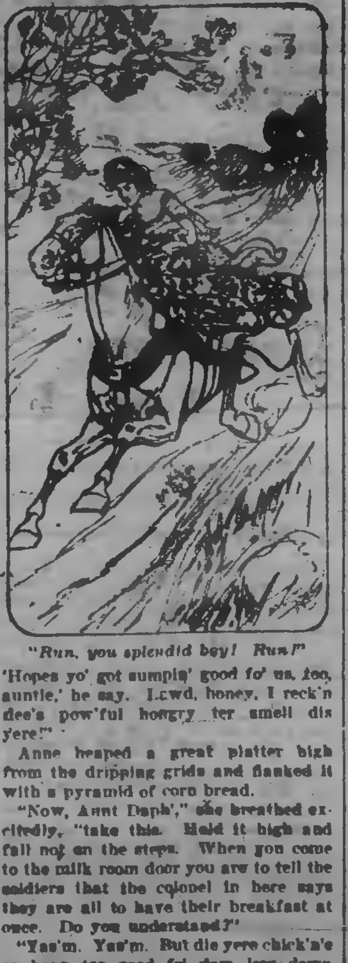
"Do as I tell you," said Anne. "They won't hurt you. Make no noise, and come back quickly."

The old woman made her way gingerly past the groups across the yard.

"Mis' Anne," she said as she came back, all her teeth gleaming, "one ob dem Britishers call to me jes' lak folks. 'Hopes yo' got sumpin' good fo' us, too, auntie,' he say. Lawd, honey, I reck'n dee's pow'ful hongry ter smell dis yere!"



"Run, you splendid boy! Run!"

Anne heaped a great platter high from the dripping grids and flanked it with a pyramid of corn bread.

"Now, Aunt Daph'," she breathed excitedly, "take this. Hold it high and fall not on the steps. When you come to the milk room door you are to tell the soldiers that the colonel in here says they are all to have their breakfast at once. Do you understand?"

"Yas'm. Yas'm. But dis yere chick'n'e er heap too good fa' dem low down nosin' debbles!"

Anne watched her through the door in a quiver of apprehension. Would they go? She prayed frantically that they would smell that savory odor. She heard the laugh of the officers in the next room and above it the tones of the cook outside, now scornfully belligerent:

"Yore cum' in dar say yo' is ter eat dis yere up mighty quick er yo' don' git nuttin' 'tall."

There was a murmur among the troopers. It was a fearful temptation. Then they succumbed before that delicate aroma, and while Anne held her breath the last guard had overcome his scruples and vanished into the milk room.

She did not wait an instant, but slipped out hatless and was away like a flash to the outer ring of horses. Her eye picked the speediest with the unerring judgment of the born horsewoman. She leaped to his back, took the yard paling and flew across the soft loam field to the highroad.

When Lieutenant Colonel Banistre Tarleton entered the kitchen smilingly to see why breakfast delayed he found the room empty, and sounds from the outhouse told him the rest. The petulant lipped lad became instantly a raging demoniac, and the crestfallen men tumbled out, mounting with a speed increased by threats and revilings.

A sight of the horseless trooper sent the leader's passion leaping to knowledge. "'Tis the girl!" he cried. "The deuce! She's off to warn them!"

Mrs. Walker wrung her hands as the last trooper galloped off after the rest on a horse impressed from the stables.

"God grant they don't catch her!" she prayed.

As Anne sped along the curving stretch of road over the low hill spurs she leaned to the horse's mane, crying to him: "Run, you splendid boy! Run! 'Tis to save the assembly!" And the great creature, slim, lustrous blood bay, snorted and settled to action, his limpid eye catching the terror-white as if he, stolen from some Virginia stable, knew what the words meant.

Gallop and gallop; she heard the red clods patter on the road behind as she went. One mile—two miles. The wind-warped trees stretched by in a whirling, drunken race of foliaged dervishes. Three miles—they must surely know by now.

She passed two riders and noted their glance of wonder. One called out to her, but she did not stop. The terrific pace made her breath come jaggedly, and it was only by a supreme effort that she kept her seat on the pommelless saddle.

The last two miles flung away in a dulled red roar.

There were groups upon the courthouse steps when she pulled up her frothing horse, and Henry himself pushed forward to her side.

Henry turned and repeated the message. It was caught up on all sides and bandied up and down the corridors. There was a rush for the sheds and hurried mounting. Then another cry spread: Jefferson—he was at Monticello!

"How much time?" asked Henry briefly of Anne.

"Ten minutes," she answered at hazard.

"Too little. They will be upon him before this." He brought his horse and vaulted into the saddle. "Will Tarleton know you have come?"

"Yes."

"Then you must not stay," he said firmly. "You shall ride with me."

Before she could answer a horseman came clattering in from a bridle path. It was Colonel Carter, and he took in the preparations at a glance.

"Good!" he shouted. "Lose no time, gentlemen. Captain Jouett has warned Monticello. The assembly stands dissolved, to meet at Staunton three days hence."

About noon hoofs rang behind them in the flinty road, and Henry and Anne reined their horses into the brush. Two more riders galloped by, to wheel and come back at Henry's halloo. They were Mr. John Tyler and Colonel Harrison. Fatigued and hungry as they were, both essayed to smile.

"Is Jefferson safe?" cried Henry.

"Aye," Colonel Harrison assured him. "The family are gone to Colonel Carter's, and all of the gentlemen who were at Monticello are in the mountains. 'Twas a narrow squeak."

"Whither think you we had best ride?" Colonel Harrison asked as they started.

"Lafayette is nigh the Rapid-Ann," said Henry. "I' faith"—with a smile at the girl beside him—"the man who named it should have seen you ride! Best to reach our own lines for the night, and tomorrow we will off for Staunton. Ely's house should be near our troops, and Mistress Tillotson can get safe escort to Fredericksburg."

At midafternoon they stopped at a small hut in a gorge and asked for something to eat.

After the meal and rest the four rode some hours through shaggy ravines strewn with wrack of storm, where the green veins of every growing thing ran flush with frenzied sap, then to the low valleys of the Rapid-Ann. And here at last spirals of smoke showed them where Lafayette lay encamped, waiting a junction with Wayne to march against Cornwallis.

The first challenge they met came from a detachment of Virginia riflemen, and, finding an old friend in their commander, Major Call, Colonel Harrison and Mr. Tyler elected to go no farther. Ely's house, Henry learned, was but a few miles beyond the picket lines, and as to the morrow's escort for Anne the major sent a lieutenant with them a mile down the river to headquarters to ask it.

It was a picturesque encampment through which they passed. There were few tents—mere wigwams of fresh cut boughs to shed the dew. Here and there fires of blazing fence rails glowed yellowly in the gathering twilight.

The tent of the acting colonel of the Virginia Continental regiment was pitched apart on a patch of beaten grass. Stools and a light folding table holding pen and paper sat just outside the open flaps, from whose angle a lantern hung, already winking in the dusk.

Benches were on one side, and here, while their horses were cared for, Henry and Anne seated themselves to wait. Near by the dusty silver of sycamores swayed against the shredded carnation of the sky, and from the distance through the warm evening came the hum of the camp, noises of mess preparing and the tramp and neigh of horses.

They sat awhile silent, Anne's every nerve tired. Henry watched her. How softly white her cheeks, how deep the longing in her eyes!

"'Twas a quick plan and a splendid ride," he said at length. "A brave act, as are all of yours!"

She cringed suddenly. "I hate that word so!" she implored, and he knew of what she was thinking.

All at once she looked at him, speaking earnestly: "Do you believe I shall ever see him? Oh, if he could but know—but know that I was not false to him in my heart! At first I thought I would be content to know he was alive, even if I never saw him again—if he hated me! But now—now, I would give my life to hear him say that he forgave me!"

It was as if all the pent up longing of the past time burst out in a flood. Her voice had sunk very low with the last words, for the lieutenant had approached again.

A horse pulled up before the tent, and its rider dismounted. He wore the uniform of a colonel of the line, and even in the half light both the watchers saw how strangely pallid his clear cut features showed beneath the straight black peruke he wore.

Carter's Shelter to be Furnished

Ald. McIntyre Got His Motion Through

The city will furnish the carters with a shelter and the carters must henceforth keep off the streets, that is, they cannot stand around waiting for some one to engage them. Ald. McIntyre, who has fathered the scheme reported last night that the carters refused to put a telephone in the new shelter, although it was understood they were to do so if the city secured a shed.

The carters claimed their license, $5.00, was all they should be expected to pay, and that the city should put in the telephone as well as furnish the shed. This brought out a strong opposition from the majority of the aldermen. But Ald. McIntyre guaranteed to keep the carters off the streets and make them use the shed, so he got his motion authorizing the property committee to spend the necessary money.

The carters, however, will soon lose all their business unless they put in a telephone, or else they will be hanging around the streets again.

Dainty Breakfast Served by Class

Of Twelve Girls at the Y.W.C.A. —A Pretty Arrangement

There was an interesting event at the Y.W.C.A. last evening, when the children's class in domestic science, under the direction of Miss Bawden, entertained the six ladies of the Board to a six-o'clock breakfast. The decorations of the table, cooking and entire preparations were carried out by twelve girls, members of the class. Miss Helen Macdonald and Miss Pearl Sheridan, daintily dressed in white, doing the serving to perfection.

Pretty menu cards with Shamrock decorations were place at each plate, and consisted of the following, —Oranges, cream, finan haddie, potatoes on half shell, toast, tea biscuit, stewed prunes, tea, coffee, and cocoa.

A dinner course of five lessons, which is open to new members, will next be taken up, and at the conclusion of the term, dinner will be served by the children.

The Ideal Laxative for Children

Mothers cannot be too careful in what they give children to move the bowels. Calomel, cascara, senna, salts, cathartic pills, castor oil, and purging mineral waters irritate the bowels—upset the stomach—and eventually lead up to chronic non-action of the bowels—Constipation.

Fruit-a-tives

are the finest medicine in the world for children.

It is just like giving the little ones apples, oranges, figs and prunes — because "Fruit-a-tives" ARE the juices of these fruits—but so combined that the medicinal action is increased many times.

LOCAL PEOPLE GOING WEST

C. P. R. Send Many Out to the Wheat Land Where They Will Take up Farms

The movement westward is steadily growing. Every week sees a large number of local people going to the land of the prairies, where they will take up farms and join the ranks of wheat growers. This week Mr W. McIlroy, C. P. R. city ticket agent has issued the following tickets,—

Lizzie Richardson, to Calgary.
H. G. Kay, to Manitou, Man.
P. Butler, to Edmonton, Alta.
Essie Calver, to Winnipeg.
Andrew Tedford to Carnegry, Man.
J. R. Brooks, to Calgary.
Alfred Oliver, to Quill Lake, Sask.

Boundaries of the City Wards

Mayor McWilliams Proposes to Change Them—New System Outlined

The question of changing the boundaries of the wards in the city, was brought up in the Committee of the Whole last night by Mayor McWilliams. He introduced it at the last council meeting, when he explained the proposed change and asked to have it referred to the Committee of the Whole. As was published in these columns before the idea of the change is to make it more convenient for the numbering of the fire alarm boxes.

The mayor's proposed division of the city into new wards is Ward 1, or South Ward, all south of Sherbrooke street, from the river to the western boundary; Ward 2, or the centre ward, all that section between Sherbrooke and McDonnel, and the river and Bethune street, Ward 3, or the west ward, all west of Bethune street and between Sherbrooke and McDonnel Streets; Ward 4, or north ward, all north of McDonnel street and west of the river: Ward 5, or the east ward, all east of the river.

This division of the city would be a little more equal as far as population is concerned, as the following table will show,—

	Present Population	When Changed
Ward No. 1	4818	3123
Ward No. 2	2400	2454
Ward No. 3	3274	3454
Ward No. 4	2436	3843
Ward No. 5	4957	2084

The average population for the five wards is 2992.

The council discussed the matter at length, but as there were a number who did not think that the change was advisable it was left over for another meeting. In the meantime, the fire, water and light committee will proceed with the installation of the fire alarm system. There are only four boxes which will be affected by the proposed change, and these will be left until the question is settled.

Headquarters for New Mining Co.

A new mining company has been organized with headquarters in Peterborough.

The provincial charter arrived yesterday. The new company is known as Milburn Cobalt Silver Mines, Limited, and among the promoters are Mr. J. A. Madill, of Kingston, and Mr. Isaiah Smith, of Milburn, N.J., together with the local gentlemen mentioned as directors. The company has acquired four claims — 160 acres in all—in Coleman township, near Cobalt. The property is said to be very valuable and promising.

Public notice is hereby given that under the Ontario Companies Act, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor-inCouncil has, by Letters Patent under the Great Seal of the Province of Ontario, bearing date the 8th day of March, 1907, been pleased to grant a charter creating and constituting without personal liability, Sydney Taylor Medd and Walter Stewart Davidson, barristers-at-law; Gustavus Lorenzo Hay, and Ernest Simpson Clarry, accountants, and Edward Bruce Fowler, manager, all of the city of Peterborough, in the county of Peterborough, and Province of Ontario, and any others who may have become subscribers to the memorandum of agreement of the company, and their successors, respectively, a corporation for the purposes and objects following, that is to say; "Subject to the provisions of the Ontario Mining Companies Incorporation Act, and with all the powers mentioned in Section Four of the said act, to carry on in all their branches, the operations of a mining, milling, reduction and development Company;" the corporate name of the company to be Milburn Cobalt Silver Mines, Limited, the share capital of the company to be two hundred thousand dollars divided into two hundred thousand shares of one dollar each, the head office of the company to be at the said city of Peterborough, and the provisional directors of the company to be Sydney Taylor Medd, Gustavus Lorenzo Hay and Walter Stewart Davidson, hereinbefore mentioned.

Havelock Will Send Deputation

Re Completion of Trent Canal—Wharf Desired at Trent Bridge

Special to the Review.

Havelock, March 18—A special meeting of the council was held on Saturday, March 16th, to consider the question of sending a deputation to join the Trent Valley Canal deputation to Ottawa to wait on the Government and petition that the southern portion of the Trent Canal be completed as soon as possible and also that a wharf be built at Trent bridge on the Trent River, where a good landing and stopping place could be afforded to freight steamers. Reeve Thompson and Councillors Campney, Jones and Knox were present and thoroughly discussed the matter and decided that all the Havelock council, including the clerk, join the deputation which leaves Tuesday noon by special train for the Capital.

New Lath Mill Established On Bank of Otonabee River

Mr. Fred Cook Will Mnnufacture Lath From Slabs Which Have Heretofore Been Used as Fuel Contracted With Cavendish Lumber Co. at Lakefield.

A new industry has been started in this city which should materially relieve one branch of the building trade. Mr. Fred Cook, painter and decorator has purchased a portable lath mill and put it up on the east bank of the Otonabee river, just across from London street. This location is an excellent one for Mr. Cook. A spur of the G. T. R. runs past the mill, which makes it very convenient for material coming in and going out.

During the past few years, the price of laths has been going up rapidly. It was not long ago, that the best lath could be purchased for 15c a bundle, and culls at 10c. Now the best lath costs 55c a bundle. No one knows the difference in the price as well as the building contractors, and the man who wants to put up a house.

Mr. Cook has contracted with the Cavendish Lumber Co. at Lakefield, to purchase all their slabs. This material formerly was used as fuel, but now it will be turned into good hard cash. The slabs are brought down by the G.T.R. and unloaded right at the mill, so that there is expense in handling. Then the process of converting the slab into laths is very simple and inexpensive. Very few men are required to run the mill and at the same time a large quantity of this valuable building material is turned out.

The present demand for lath is very great, and there will be a good market for the output of the new mill. Already several hundred bundles of laths have been made, and the mill will be kept running at full capacity as long as slabs can be purchased. Under present conditions the proprietor of the new mill stands to make a lot of money this season, and the local contractors will only be too glad to know that lath can be purchased in the city.

New Sign By-law Will Not be Enforced Until Council Meets

Largely Signed Petition From the Business Men Presented to the Council—Will be Considered at the April Meeting—May Pass New By-law.

As has already been stated in these columns, the merchants, business men and professional men in the city, are up in arms, against the new sign bylaw. A petition signed by eighty-eight business men was read to the council last night. The aldermen discussed the proposition and then decided that the mayor should instruct the police not to enforce the bylaw, until after the regular council meeting on the first Monday in April. At that time the whole thing will be thoroughly discussed and probably a new bylaw passed.

The petition received was as follows,—

To the Mayor and Council, of the City of Peterborough.

Gentlemen,—The undersigned ratepayers humbly pray, That the existing bylaw relating to projecting signs be not enforced by the council, but that the question of over-hanging signs be dealt with in a liberal spirit, and a new bylaw be passed, relating to same, permitting some official discretion to be exercised in regard to appearance and design. Your petitioners are in favor of a small license fee for every overhanging sign on a graded scale."

Special Dairymen's Meeting In Peterborough March 26th

The Dairyman's Association of Peterborough County will hold their first meeting under the auspices of the Eastern Ontario Dairyman's Association in this city, on Tuesday, March 26th. The Review has been furnished with the following official notice from the local association, and every farmer and dairyman is requested to cut it out and paste it in his hat.—

AFTERNOON SESSION.

An important meeting will be held under the auspices of the Eastern Dairyman's Association and Farmer's Institute on Tuesday, Mar. 26th, 1907, in the County Council Chamber, Peterborough, at 1.30 p.m. when addresses will be delivered as follows,—

By Mr. G. G Publow, chief dairy instructor for Eastern Ontario, subject, "The Cheese-Making Industry."

By Alex. Hume, Esq., of Menie, subject, "Selection and care of dairy cattle and the production of bacon."

FORENOON SESSION.

On the same day and place at 10 a.m., the annual convention of the Cheese and Butter Association of Peterborough Section will be held for the election of officers and other important business. Messrs. Publow and Hume will be present. A full attendance of all interested is requested at both meetings, ladies included.

Strange Evangelists Still at Work in Old Havelock School

All Who are Converted Must Solemnly Agree to Send One Dollar Each Year for Remainder of Their Lives—Large Crowds in Attendance.

Havelock, March 18.— The evangelists are still holding meetings at the old Havelock school house every evening, trying with all their might to convert all who attend. They do not take up any collections nor accept donations, but continue to supply everything to carry on the services. They do not seem to want the reward of their labors at present, but are laying up for their old age.

Every person they convert has to take a solemn oath that they will send them one dollar a year as long as they live in order to show their gratitude for having been delivered into the Almighty's Hands. These seem to be the strangest evangelists that have ever struck this part of the country and their odd manners and customs attract many to their meetings, who otherwise would not go.

Boston, March 18.—Arthur J. Burn, formerly of Peterborough, the famous champion long distance runner of Canada, who while in Boston last summer, won the five mile New England championship, and who did much other creditable work is soon to start here again.

On this occasion Burn is to enter the B.A.A. Marathon race which takes place in this city on April 19. Although much disappointment is felt in Boston over the action of the Canadian A.A.U. in suspending Tom Longboat, the Seneca Indian from Hamilton, who promised to become a great runner from one mile to fifty, it is pleasing to know that in the appearance of Burn will be supplied nearly his equal.

In a letter received from Burn from the Northwest Territory, where he has been on business, but where he has also found time to do some successful running, he says he expects to arrive in Boston about April 15, and is very desirous of arranging a race with Jimmy Lee, of Somerville, for either five or ten miles, to take place about a week before the Marathon race.

Burn says he is in excellent condition and will leave Calgary March 24 for Seattle, Wash., where he will compete in the Marathon race to be held there March 28, under the auspices of the Seattle Athletic club.

Owing to the good showing that Burn made while in the Northwest and the fact of his being in such good form, Calgary sportsmen are confident that he will return a winner from the Seattle run, and are prepared to back him strongly. In the Herald's road race of seven miles, which took place in Calgary last Christmas day, Burn had more than a mile to spare over the second man.

Young men generally are invited, and a pleasant evening is assured The Daughters of Erin Society will provide refreshments.

REV MR. MANNING TO SPEAK

The evangelistic meeting in George street church last evening was of great interest. Rev. J. G. Lewis preached from John 3, 14; "As Moses lifted up the serpent." Mr. Barber gave a very expressive solo. A number manifested a strong desire to give their lives to the service of God. It is expected that Rev. H M Manning will give an address to-night.

HOW TO GET ON.

The following story is told of Sir John A. Macdonald. He is said to have not quite reached his majority when he "hung out his shingle in Kingston as a full-fledged barrister and attorney. He was an alderman at 26, a Member of Parliament at 29, a Cabinet Minister at 39 and Premier at 42. It is said of him that in Kingston he met John Shaw and asked him the best way to become popular. The reply he received was "Join our lodge and run for alderman." Within two months John A. was an Orangeman and alderman.

BELL MEMORIAL.

An important deputation from Brantford will interview the Government tomorrow to ask a grant of $10,000 to the memorial to be erected in Brantford in honor of Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone. The deputation will be headed by W. F. Cockshutt, M.P., president of the Memorial Committee; Geo. Hately, secretary; John Muir, treasurer; A. J. Wilkes, K.C., and Ald. Pitcher, representing the City Council. About $40,000 is required, for the proposed monument, of which $12,000 has already been subscribed. The request will be strongly endorsed by many members of Parliament.

LOCAL OPTION CAMPAIGN.

Laymen and ministers from nearly all parts of East Northumberland, assembled in the Methodist church, Brighton, recently, when an organization for the furtherance of local option was formed. Mr. A. M. Peterson, B. A., of Colborne, was elected president; Mr. C. W. Sherwood, of Brighton, vice-president; Rev. L. S. Wight, B. A., secretary; Mr. E. M. Doull, Treasurer. Committees were appointed to represent each municipality. Mr. C. W. Sherwood, convener of the meeting occupied the chair.

AN ANGLER'S ELYSIUM.

According to advertisements, all summer resorts are alike. They are the best ever—but if fishing is better anywhere else than it is in 'Georgian Bay," we do not know where it is. There is a greater variety of fish in this water than anywhere else and they are always hungry. No one ever counted the fish in the Georgian Bay, but those that have been counted and eaten, and if you read the Government reports on fisheries, you know that Georgian Bay, supplies more fish than any other equal body of water in the world. The only place you can afford to fish is where the fish are numerous, big and delicious in flavor, and that place is Georgian Bay—so the fishermen say. Suppose you send for booklet, issued by The Grand Trunk Railway System, free, telling about the home of the bass, pickerel, pike and the noble trout family. Address J. D. McDonald, Union Station, Toronto, Ont. 2d.

Whitcroft Was Best Man on ice

Played Sensational Game Last Night—Kenora Beat Brandon

Winnipeg, March 18. — Kenora cinched the honors of the Manitoba Hockey League and successfully defended the Stanley Cup by defeating Brandon in the second game of the championship series by a score of 4 to 1. It was a desparately hard fought game, but the better team won out. This is what was anticipated, and upon the Thistles devolves the task of defending the cup and upholding the honors of the west against the Wanderers. Nothing definite has yet been done in arranging the final details of the series, but it is understood that very strained relations between the teams exist. The eastern visitors feel that they have been curtly and coolly treated, and the spirit of fine sportsmanship has not characterized their reception at the hands of Kenora. The Thistles on the other hand are incensed at the action of Foran in refusing to permit Smith and Westwick to play and fixing the date of the first game before the championship was settled. Whitcroft, formerly of Peterborough, was the star of this evening's contest, scoring three out of the four goals secured by the champions. He played a sensational game, attracting attention over even such favorites as Phillips, Smith and Westwick.

GRAFTERS WERE DEFEATED

The "Grafters" and Richard Hall & Son's septette played a fast and exciting game of hockey last evening at the Brock street rink from ten to eleven o'clock. Hall's counter hopper were the winners by the score of six goals to four. The match was keenly contested. The Grafters led at half-time by 4—1. In the second half Hall's bunch got busy and did some scoring. The full time score was four all. An extra ten minutes was played and the counter hoppers succeeded in tallying two more goals, making the final score 6—4.

The lineup was as follows;

Grafters		Rich'd Hall's
Sherwood	Goal.	J Baraclough
Lightfoot	Point.	Fitzgerald
Haskell	Cover.	G Davidson
Reilly	Centre.	T Gillespie
Herd	Right Wing.	B Duncan

KNOCKERS DEFAULTED.

The game which was to have taken place last evening, between the Knockers and Pill Pounders, between nine and ten o'clock at Brock street rink did not materialize. The Pill Pounders were all ready, and on the ice right on time, but only three of the Knockers were in evidence, with no signs of their other players. Some of them seemed to be under the impression that the ice was covered with water, but one of their men was told in the afternoon by the caretaker of the rink that the ice was in good condition. It was a lack of foresight on the part of the Knockers that they did not let the Pill Pounders know they could not play. Some of the Pill Pounders sacrificed important engagements in order to play. The Knockers have been asking for a game all winter, and when the opportunity came, they backed out at the last minute.

TIGERS WON

An interesting and exciting game of hockey was played last evening from seven to eight at the Brock street rink. The contestants were the Tigers and All Saints and the match resulted in a win for the Tigers by the score of six goals to three. The half time score was 3-all and it was only in the last four minutes of play that the Tigers scored their three goals.

In Favor of Civil Service Reform

Suggestion Made by Orillia Board of Trade

The following resolution, passed by the Board of Trade at Orillia, in favor of civil service reform, has been forwarded to Hon. J. Mr. Whitey, Prime Minister, and Mr. G. P. Graham, the leader of the Opposition:—

"That whereas in the opinion of your petitioners the present system of civil service appointments by political patronage is unsound in principle and deleterious in its results, it being obviously illogical and unbusinesslike, to appoint men to responsible positions for other reasons than their fitness to perform the duties involved; and, whereas, evils from patronage have been largely overcome in Great Britain by adopting a system of competitive examinations as the only means of entrance to the civil service, and by placing the service under the control of an independent commission; and, whereas, such a system if adopted in Ontario, would, your petitioners believe, ensure increased efficiency in the administration of the affairs of our province;

"Your petitioners, therefore, pray that the Legislature will take measures at an early date for placing the civil service of Ontario on a strictly non-partisan basis, by eliminating entirely the principle of patronage and by making merit and capacity the sole tests for entering the public service and for promotion therein."

Wonderful Zam-Buk Triumph!

Every mother knows with what rapidity sores, ringworm, ulcers, etc., spread from child to child. In Montreal recently most of the public schools were visited by an epidemic of itch in this way. A child is afflicted with scalp sores, itch or ringworm. In the course of play, one child puts on another's hat. In this way, or in a hundred and one more which children make possible, the infection spreads and sometimes a whole family is affected. Mr. J. C. Bates, of Burk's Falls says:—"My three children were all broken out with sores on face, hands and feet. Their condition was pitiable; and although I tried various ointments and salves the sores continued to spread.

"One day I saw a report telling how beneficial Zam-Buk was for skin diseases, ulcers, etc. I got a supply of the balm and applied it to the children's sores. Almost immediately they got relief, and the sores began to heal. Although the skin disease had defied all the salves I had previously tried, in one week Zam-Buk overcame the trouble, and to-day the children have not a pimple or spot or mark of disease on their skin. For this grand result I have Zam-Buk to thank."

READ WHAT ZAM-BUK CURES

Zam-Buk heals all skin diseases—eczema, scaly sores, ulcers, ringworm, poisoned wounds, barbers' rash, pustules, face blemishes due to blood poison, good also for rheumatism and neuralgia. It heals cuts and lacerations, stops bleeding, cures piles, cases fistula, reduces enlarged veins. It cures burns and scalds, and it is an excellent "first aid" remedy. It is highly antiseptic. All druggists and stores sell at 50 cents a box, or from ZAM-BUK CO., TORONTO, for price. 6 boxes for $2.50.

Otonabee Power Company and City Council Have Agreed

City Council Will Get 500 Horse Power at $15 if the Company Gets the Lease of Dam No. 4 for $600 per Year—Power Delivered After Transformed.

The power question re the five hundred horse power of the Otonabee Power Company, has been settled. For a couple of hours, the council and Messrs. R. R. Hall, M.P., and W. G. Ferguson, wrestled with the points upon which they failed to agree before. The result is that the agreement the council submitted before with some changes, was adopted and will go to Ottawa at once.

While the deputation is in Ottawa on Wednesday they will meet with the Deputy Minister of Railways, and endeavor to get him to give the company the lease at $600 per year. If that is done then the city gets power at $15.

His Worship stated that the first matter to consider was the offer of the Otonabee Power Co. Since the council met a couple of weeks ago he said he had communicated with Mr. Hall of the company, and he had consented to again endeavor to arrive at an agreement with the city, to supply it with electric horse power for new industries, or for local consumption. A letter also also sent to Mr. W. G. Ferguson, president of the Power Company, as follows,—

R. F. McWilliams, Esq., Mayor of Peterborough, Peterborough, Ont:

Dear Mr. Mayor,—Re Lease Dam No. 4.—In accordance with your request, we beg to submit herewith a draft of a copy of a resolution which we submit would be a reasonable provision to have inserted in our lease from the Dominion Government of Dam No. 4.

You will notice by the proposed clause, that if the City Council and the Company are unable to agree upon the rental to any new industry and the terms and conditions upon which electrical horse power is to be supplied, that the question of the amount of the rental and the terms and conditions may be submitted to the Railway Commission of Canada and its award shall be binding upon the Company.

We have had two engineer's reports upon the cost of the development of power at Dam No. 4. There is a very wide difference between their estimates. In view of this fact, it is impossible for us to say at what price power may be supplied, giving a reasonable profit to us. We submit for your consideration that it would not be fair to our present or future customers to supply power to a new industry at a loss to this Company, because if that were done, we would be forced to make general advances in the prices of light and power to our present customers, which we would be adverse to do. You can readily see that the supplying of power at a loss by our Company to a new industry would amount to a bonus, which bonus would be at the expense of our customers. We submit that if any bonus is to be given to any new industry that it should be given by all the ratepayers of Peterborough, instead of being given at the expense of such of the ratepayers of the city who happen to be our customers. The Railway Commission could take all the facts into consideration, and we have no doubt that they would come to some fair conclusion, which, of course, our Company would be satisfied to stand by.

We should esteem it a favor if you would kindly submit this proposition to the City Council as early as possible and let us know their conclusion in the matter.

Yours respectfully,
OTONABEE POWER CO.
LIMITED.

The draft agreement submitted by the company last night to the city and which was considered fair, was an entirely different proposition from any previous one. The last offer was based upon the company having to pay a much larger rental for the dam than was at first anticipated. It was considered by the council but was not satisfactory.

Mr. W. G. Ferguson, president of the Otonabee Power Company, and Mr. R. R. Hall were present and heard by the council.

Mr. Hall said, on behalf of the company, in submitting the new proposition, that upon getting other engineer's reports on the expense of developing the power of No. 4 dam, it was found that there was a difference of $25,000 or $30,000 in excess of the cost reported by the last engineer. Then to develop the power on the east side of the river, the roadway would have to be diverted and two bridges constructed over the tail race, at a cost of probably $12,000 each. He felt that if a clause was inserted in the lease, giving the company a black eye as far as new investors were concerned, would not be at all advisable. He therefore considered that a more fair and reasonable proposition should be submitted, and leaving the price of the power in the hands of the railway commission. He considered that this last proposition was an eminently fair one.

When the first offer was made Mr. Hall said the company thought the power could be rented at the tendered price, viz., $600 per year. But the Deputy Minister thought the Government should get more money, and the company will have to put it up.

He thought it was in the interest of the city that that power should be developed, and developed to its full capacity. If it is there are not enough people in the city to use even a large portion of it, and before the company can dispose of it, new industries will have to be brought in.

If the company has five hundred horse power to spare it would certainly be glad to dispose of it, and he thought that after the power was developed there would be no trouble whatever, in arranging at a proper arrangement and to price.

Ald. Morrow asked Mr. Hall if he did not think that if the city's deputation waited upon the Minister on Wednesday, if they could get the lease put through at the original price, $600? In that case would the company not give the city power at $15, and reserve it for say two or three months, so that the city could advertise it as an inducement to new industries.

Mayor McWilliams asked Mr. Hall if he would not agree to insert in the agreement that the company would hold five hundred horse power for the city, until such time as the company notify the council that all the power developed was used, and the five hundred in reserve for the city was needed.

This Mr. Hall said he would be willing to do, as it was exactly what their original offer was. But, he added, if the government raises the rental of the dam to $800 or $1000 the price of the power would be raised in proportion.

Then came up the question of how the power was to be delivered. The offer was to take the power off the high voltage wires, while the city wanted it delivered after it had been transformed.

This was the sticker.

There was a great deal of discussion about the two points in question, and Mr. Hall tried to drive as good a bargain as he could, and the council wanted to do the same thing. The amusing part of it was that both parties were endeavoring to put through both propositions only in different ways.

Finally Mr. Hall said that his company would undertake to deliver horse power at $15 per horse power for a term of ten years, instead of twenty-one years, to a distance of a quarter of a mile from the nearest pole line. This was immediately accepted by the council. Ald. Stevenson and the city solicitor, and Mr. R. R. Hall and Mr. W. G. Ferguson, adjourned to another room, and put in writing the agreement and then reported to the committee, and the second resolution re the lease of No. 4 dam was put through.

Social Evening at Charlotte Street

The usual weekly meeting of the Epworth League of Charlotte street church last evening took the form of a social evening. There was a good attendance of members. Mr. S. A. Clarke, in the absence of President Horsely, occupied the chair. For the first part of the evening games were indulged in, and a pleasant time spent. Two well rendered instrumental solos were then given by Mrs. Tremper. A male quartette, consisting of Messrs. Clarke, Prest, LeBar and S. Armstrong also gave several numbers, which were much enjoyed.

Refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

Pleasant Time at St. John's Hall

Mr. F. D. Kerr Gave Interesting Travel Talk Last Night

The fortnightly meeting of St. John's Young People's Association was held last evening in the school room. A large number of the members were present and thoroughly enjoyed the interesting programme provided. The president, Mr. Jos. Bell, occupied the chair. A short musical programme was given first, including vocal duetts by Mr. and Mrs. Firth and Mr. and Mrs. Greenslade. Mrs. Devey also sang a solo in her usual excellent manner. The musical numbers were much enjoyed and loudly applauded. Mr. R. Devey acted as accompanist for the evening.

The next and most interesting item on the programme was Mr. F. D. Kerr's lecture on the "British Isles." Mr. Kerr gave a most vivid and graphic description of his trip and of the many places of interest which he visited last summer. He kept his audience in an interested mood throughout and his address was replete with many pleasing features.

At the conclusion a hearty vote of thanks moved by Mr. S. Richardson and seconded by Mr. Mat. Drysdale was tendered Mr. Kerr and the other artists who so kindly contributed to such an enjoyable program.

The singing of the National Anthem brought to a close a very pleasant evening.

Now Running at Full Capacity

Peterborough Show Case Company is Very Busy at Present

The Peterborough Show Case Co. has recently received several orders and is now going at its full capacity.

The first output, consisting of two handsome silent salesmen, was placed yesterday in J. J. Cottingham's barber shop, George street. Goods are being shipped to other points and the prospects for the season are very bright. Mr. Harry Dunslow has taken in Mr. W. Theobald, of Berlin, an expert mechanic, as a partner. Mr. Theobald has arrived in the city and has assumed his duties at the factory, of which he will have supervision. Mr. Dunslow will now be able to devote more of his time to the sale of the goods which are fast winning for the Peterborough Show Case Co., a wide reputation.

DEEP INTEREST IN THE SERVICES

Large Numbers Attending the Mission at Park St. Church

A magnificent beginning last night for the week makes the outlook full of promise, at Park street church. The Y.M.C.A. quartette was in fine voice, and went far to awaken conviction in many hearts. Miss Ida Sanderson played the accompaniments. The sermon, which was unique and absorbing, was taken from Hosea 6-4, "Israel's goodness as the morning cloud, and as the early dew." The great point of the preacher, Rev. Mr. Torrie, was, people may be a good deal awake, but through carelessness perish. Lot's wife, the young lawyer, Felix Agrippa, though the tear was in his royal eye, he missed his chance. The path to hell is paved with good intentions. You are saved with Jesus; but without Jesus. The crowds attending are great. The conviction is deep and many are enquiring the way of life. A number of choice duets are arranged for this week. The Torrey and Alexander songs continue to charm the people.

6765.—A DRESSY SHIRRED WAIST

A little more labor expended upon a waist for nice occasions is never wasted for the pleasure in wearing a really beautiful garment is recompense enough. A strikingly pretty waist seen recently at a fashionable gathering is sketched for the benefit of the lover of beautiful clothes. The fabric of which it was made was silk voile beautified with threads of silk in another color. The shoulder edges and sleeves were gathered and shirred in such a manner as to not only bring out the charms of the material but those of the wearer also. A pointed tucker of lace gave the daintiest of finishes next the face, while a note of contrast was touched by the trimming bands of dark velvet. The waist is one which might be fashioned by the amateur sewer at home and for that purpose is reproduced here. The sleeves of the pattern may be long if preferred. For the medium size 2 7-8 yards of 20 inch material are needed, the waist being adaptable to silk, cashmere, veiling or chiffon.

6765.—Sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

4148.—A PLEASING LITTLE COAT.

Coats for small girls are always a subject of interest to mothers who fashion them, and a suggestion for one of good style and becomingness is shown. The front closes in double breasted fashion, while a deep tuck at either side of the front and back lets in extra fulness for the skirt portion and proves very becoming. The shoulder bretelles lend breadth of shoulder, so vital a feature of the newest coats, while tiny tucks retain the fulness of the sleeve at the cuff. The style is one suited to development in any of the cloths, or worsteds, while Rajah, pongee or linen would prove pleasing. A braid may trim it or simply the stitching. For the medium size 1 7-8 yards of 54 inch material are needed.

4148.—Sizes 4, 6, 8, 10, 12 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

MORE COSTLY WRECKS.

Two Mail Steamers on the Rocks—But All Lives Saved.

London, March 19.—Details received yesterday of the disaster to the White Star Liner Suevic, homeward bound from Sydney, N. S. W., by way of Cape Town, with nearly 600 passengers and crew on board, show that she struck the Brandies Rocks close under the Lizard Lighthouse at about 10.30 Sunday night, and will probably be a total wreck. Lifeboats and tugs from the Lizard and Falmouth soon reached the scene, and together with the Suevic's own boats, commenced landing the passengers. The women and children were first sent ashore. There were no fewer than 100 children on board, many of them being babies in arms, whom the local fishermen and their wives lifted out of the boats and carried through the surf to near-by cottages.

Rescued With Breeches Buoy.

London, March 19.—Almost within sight of the wrecked White Star Line steamer Suevic, the Elder Dempster Line steamer Jebba, from Calabar, Lagos and other West African ports for Plymouth and Liverpool, ran on the rocks under the cliffs near Prawle Point early yesterday morning. Her seventy passengers, many of whom were soldiers invalided home from the west coast of Africa, and her crew were safely taken ashore by the breeches buoy. Heavy seas were breaking over the steamer, rendering the lifeboats, which are standing by the vessel, useless. The Jebba will prove a total loss.

M'ELROY WINS CARLETON.

Has Over 600 Majority Over Independent Conservative.

Ottawa, March 19.—R. H. McElroy of Carp was elected to fill the vacancy in Carleton County for the Ontario Legislature caused by the death of G. N. Kidd. He was the official Conservative candidate against W. H. Hartin, Independent Conservative.

Five polls are to be heard from.

There was a bigger vote polled yesterday than at the general election, when the late G. N. Kidd won by 1,179 over J. Smith, Liberal. The figures now stand. R. H. McElroy, 1,477; W. H. Hartin, 860. Majority, 617.

Petrolia Girl Missing.

Port Huron, Mich., March 19.—Flossie Golden, 17 years of age, a comely girl, whose home is in Petrolia, has disappeared.

She came here some time ago to work for a prominent family as nursemaid. More than a week ago she walked from the house, saying she would be gone only a few minutes.

Three New Townships.

Toronto, March, 19.—Prosser, Lucas and Crawford are three new townships to be opened shortly for the benefit of those entitled to locate under the Veterans' Land Grant Act. They lie about 50 miles west of Lake Abitibi and consist of excellent farm land. They are six miles square each and will furnish 438 claims of 160 acres.

Triplets; Girls; All Well.

Comber, March 19.—Triplets, all girls, were born to Mr. and Mrs. William Manley of Staples, six miles from here, Sunday. The mother and children are all well.

RAILWAYS TO COME DOWN.

Railway Commission Declares Three Cent Rate Must Be Maximum.

Ottawa, March 19.—Sixty days from this date, the Grand Trunk Railroad may charge no more than three cents a mile passenger rate, either east or west of Toronto.

The board of railway commissioners, sitting here yesterday, decided that the maximum passenger rate to be charged in Ontario and Quebec, either by the Grand Trunk or the Canadian Pacific, shall be three cents.

Further, the Canadian Pacific must cancel its four-cent rate in Saskatchewan and Alberta, on the lines east of and including the Calgary and Edmonton Railway, charging only three cents. The board proposed to notify other railway companies of this action immediately, and to request them to inform the board whether they are willing to reduce their rates similarly, and, if not, to inform the board of the ground upon which they object to doing so.

Centenarian Dead.

Toronto, March 19.—Mrs. Featherstone Osler, one of the most distinguished and benevolent ladies that has graced the city's history, died yesterday at her residence, in her 101st year.

She was one of the very few centenarians in the Dominion, and was in every respect a remarkable woman. Her last birthday, Dec. 14, was the most memorable of her whole life, as it was on that day she reached a century of existence, and the occasion was made one of celebration and congratulation.

Salvador Joins Honduras.

Panama, March 19.—According to reliable information received here from Salvador, that country has allied itself openly with Honduras in the war with Nicaragua.

On March 10, 2,500 Salvadorean soldiers landed at Amapala and proceeded the next morning for Choluteca. This body of men came from San Miguel, in Honduras, and are under the command of Gen. Jose Dolores, Presa.

Knocked Down By Skater; Dies.

Winnipeg, March 19.—While skating Sunday afternoon Thomas Stoddard collided with another skater and was knocked down, becoming unconscious. He lingered until evening, when he died.

Elected By Returning Officer.

Winnipeg, March 19.—In the recount held in Morris yesterday the vote stood even, and Attorney-General Campbell was elected by the casting vote of the returning officer.

The bodies of Augustus and Mary Littlefield, the young women asphyxiated at Buffalo, were taken to Toronto for interment.

Boys Who Teased Old Man Cause Murder In New York.

New York, March 19.—Some mischievous boys were indirectly responsible for the arrest early yesterday of David Stanhoff, jun., of Brooklyn, on a charge of having murdered his friend and next door neighbor, John Hoffman. According to Stanhoff's story, he was returning home just after midnight when he came upon Hoffman beating two boys in front of his house. Hoffman was in a fearful rage, he said, and when Stanhoff remonstrated the other man turned upon him. Stanhoff declares that he was forced to fight to defend himself. One of his blows knocked Hoffman down, and as he fell his head struck the stone curb, fracturing his skull. He died soon after being taken to a hospital. Stanhoff was immediately arrested.

It is said a crowd of boys have been annoying Hoffman for some time, and it is supposed the two he was beating when Stanhoff interfered were members of the gang, whom he had caught.

Aged Farmer Suicides.

Woodstock, March 19.—Suspended by a halter from the limb of a tree, William Slawson, 68 years of age, a farmer, was found by his wife in the woods on his farm north of here Saturday evening.

Slawson told his wife he intended going to Maycock's farm. Evidently he went to the stable, got a halter and walked to the woods.

It seems he mounted a rail fence, fastened the halter around his neck and jumped.

Emmerson May Be Judge.

St. John, N.B., March 19.—It is stated in political circles that Hon. William Pugsley, Premier of New Brunswick, may run in St. John for the seat of the late Dr. Stockton in the House of Commons.

If he wins, the story goes that he will go into the Laurier Ministry in succession to H. R. Emmerson, who will go on the bench.

Another Torpedo Boat Damaged.

Les Sables, D'Oleanne, France, March 19.—The torpedo-boat destroyer Defi ran ashore during a thick fog near here yesterday, and damaged her bows, but she succeeded in getting off and reaching this port.

A Curious Coincidence.

Not so long since a stowaway was found dead under the main hatch of one of the Atlantic ocean steamers. He had concealed himself before the steamer left Liverpool and died of suffocation. Curiously enough, in his pocket was found a novel entitled "Doomed on the Deep."

THE RAILWAY DISASTERS

The recent report of the Dominion Railway Commission shows that 402 persons were killed and 144 injured by the railways of Canada in the last three years. Thirteen of these were killed and ninety injured since the first of this year. The above does not include the untold number of killed and maimed by our interurban electric railways, nor does it represent the large monetary losses suffered by the community through the destruction of mail, express and freight, incident to such catastrophes. Defective rails, broken rails, and spreading rails, tells the tale in the majority of our recent wrecks. Antiquated, worn-out and light rails rotten cedar ties, and inefficient road-bed inspection, make possible the harvest of death and destruction daily going on throughout the country. Corporate greed, coupled with the ever-increasing demands of commerce and travel, upon irresponsive and tight-fisted railroad corporations account for the present conditions of affairs.

After finding that sixty per cent. of the wrecks in the United States are caused by broken rails and defective or weakened roadbeds, the engineering board of the New York Central lines, has perfected an electrical device to detect "bad rails," on its system. When this road equipped as it is with 100-lb. standard rails, laid on the best roadbed money can make, deem it necessary to further provide against defective rails, it is high time railroads in Canada were compelled to tear up their old worn-out 70-lb. rails and replace them with heavier ones suited to the traffic and rolling stock of today. Further delay means further slaughter and destruction.

PEN POINTS

St. Patrick's Day is near and pleasant memories linger.

Will March go out like a lion? It has been very lamb like so far.

The man who does not clean his sidewalk is not as good a citizen as he who does.

Any one who would rob a school is as bad at heart as he who take money off a collection plate.

"When the wall paper days arrive, that means that the wall flower season is over for a while," remarked a young lady.

Winnipeg will have an all-night street car service. What a fine thing that will be for late stragglers.

This sort of weather reminds the majority young man, and the older one also—if he has not forgotten his courtship days—of [illegible] and care.

That spring is really here is most strikingly evidenced by the number of loafers on the street corners. They are an unfailing vernal barometer.

The city looks kind of deserted—with all its distinguished men away in Ottawa. What a fine looking lot of senators that deputation would make.

Friends of Mr. John Auld, M.P.P. for South Essex are booming him for a Senatorship. The rallying cry is for "Auld Lang Syne."

Another Chief Justice has resigned—this time in Nova Scotia. What's the matter with the judges? Do they want another increase of salary?

The Alberta Legislature, although it has met in only two sessions, has already statutes to burn. They were consumed in the fire which destroyed the office of the Edmonton Bulletin.

The Trent Canal deputation should shake Ottawa from centre to circumference to-day. It is hoped that the commotion will have some effect on the Government.

Legislators have been known to talk to empty benches, to the gallery and to the ceiling, but not with such dreadful effect that a ceiling would collapse, as was the result in the lower house of parliament in St. Petersburg.

Mr R. D. Gunn, of Orillia, the Grit lawyer, who ran against Mr. W. H. Bennett, M.P., of East Simcoe in the last Federal election, has received his reward. He has been appointed junior county judge of Carleton.

Ottawa would not feel at home without a Trent Canal stirring up things down there once in a while. The administration will shortly come to the conclusion that the Midland district is terribly in earnest about this matter.

The Belleville Intelligencer says that the Canadian General Electric Company may remove from Peterborough. We wish to tell our usually well informed cotem. that there is no more fear of the company's removal than there is of Belleville enjoying an industrial boom.

Mr Frank Wise, Superintendent of Little Lake Cemetery Co., gravely states that he saw the first flock of robins yesterday. That's nothing, Mr. Wise. Country burying grounds down east were visited last December of some "robbin'" them of their dead.

The death of Dr. A. A. Stockton, M.P. touched the members of the House of Commons as they have never been affected before. The scene was one rarely witnessed and was the most eloquent tribute to the sterling character, high sense of honor, elevated conception of the public duty and the noble principles of the departed.

The Navy League, Toronto, is making strenuous efforts to increase its membership. This organization is certainly worthy of support and encouragement. The Navy League is in no sense a partisan organization. It works for the Welfare of the Empire, the preservation of peace, and the prosperity of the British community. Its objects are:—To bring home to Canadians a sense of their dependence on and interest in the naval strength of the Empire. To press upon public attention the need for a Canadian Naval Defence Force. To show how Canada can best help the Royal Navy—locally—in time of war. As "knowledge is power," so want of knowledge is weakness. The League seeks to remedy the prevailing lack of information on naval matters by distributing literature on the subject to its members and the public press, and by promoting the teaching of naval history in schools.

Which would you rather possess, talent or tact? You may have both. But if only one, try tact. By its exercise you will make greater progress. Talent calculates clearly, reasons logically, makes out a case, as clear as daylight, and utters its oracles with all the weight of justice and reason, tact refutes without contradicting, puzzles the profound, with profundity, and without wit outwits the wise. Set them together on a race for popularity, pen in hand and tact will distance talent by half the course; talent brings to market that which is wanted, tact produces that which is wished for, talent instructs, tact enlightens, talent leads where no one follows; tact follows where the humor leads; talent is pleased that it ought to have succeeded, tact is delighted that it has succeeded, talent toils for a posterity, which will never repay it; tact throws away no pains, but catches the passion of the passing hour. Talent is certainly a very fine thing to talk about, a very good thing to be proud of, a very glorious eminence to look down from; but tact is useful, portable, always alive, always alert, always marketable; it is the talent of talents, the availableness of resources, the applicability of power, the eye of discrimination, the right hand of intellect.

The Trent Canal Outlet Discussed in the House

Will Be No Selection Till Other Routes Are Surveyed.

Premier Unable to Say if Extension of Manitoba Boundaries Will Be Provided For—Importation of German Cutlery—Discussion on Dominion Lands Accounts — Railway Company's Obligations to Employes.

Ottawa, March 19.—In the question of the hour yesterday Mr. McCarthy of Simcoe was assured by the Minister of Railways that there would be no selection of a western outlet for the Trent Valley Canal until all the available routes had been surveyed and reported upon.

Mr. Armstrong of East Lambton brought up the statement in the reports of J. B. Jackson, Canadian commercial agent at Leeds, England, that quantities of German cutlery and felt were being sent to Canada through British ports, and entered under the preferential tariff in the guise of British-made goods.

The Minister of Customs replied to the effect that severe penalties attached to such practices and the department was giving all possible attention to matters of this kind.

Manitoba Boundaries.

Mr Roche of Marquette asked whether the Government would introduce a bill this session providing for an extension of the boundaries of the Province of Manitoba.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied: "Owing to the expected early departure of the Prime Minister to attend the imperial conference it is hardly possible to give an affirmative answer to this question."

When the bill respecting the Grand Trunk Railway came up for third reading Mr. Bennett (East Simcoe) proceeded to divide the House upon his amendment providing that nothing therein contained should permit the company to relieve itself from any legal obligation to an employe for wrongful death or personal injury, but the Government weakened and accepted the amendment.

Dominion Lands.

The House resumed consideration in committee of the Dominion lands account bill. The Opposition insisted upon so amending section 10 as to make the records at the various land offices open for inspection as are the registry offices in Ontario. Mr. Oliver feared that such a course would lead to claim jumping. The department was often compelled to show leniency to homesteaders who might be technically in default.

The discussion took a wide range, being participated in by Messrs. Borden, Sproule, Roche, Lake and others. Mr. Oliver received no assistance from his side of the House. He insisted that the fact that many people went to the Northwest and did not find land to suit them was no reflection upon the land laws of their administration.

The Minister had emigrated with others to Manitoba in 1873. Many of the party returned to Ontario because they could not find any suitable land.

It was finally agreed to amend the section so as to required the agents in charge of the land office to answer enquiries from bona fide applicants as to any particular homestead. Mr. Oliver promised to draft a supplemented section to cover this.

Building Permit By-lay Was Referred Back to Committee

If Did Not Meet the Ideas of the Aldermen—Had Not Been Considered Carefully or Fully Enough—Property Committee to Get Busy Again.

The building permit bylaw which was at one time, and is still, considered a splendid thing for the city if properly handled, was up for discussion at the council meeting. A great deal of talking has been done since this matter was first introduced. It is originally Ald Johnston's idea and his plan was an exceptionally good one. But the bylaw as prepared by the property committee is quite different and it is very doubtful if it could be worked successfully.

The aldermen discussed it at great length last night and then sent it back to the committee for further consideration. The property committee did not thoroughly understand the new act and as it was practically new to the council, the aldermen would not pass it until they had studied it out, and quite properly so.

A building permit bylaw as outlined by Ald. Johnston in the local press and in the council was of great benefit to the city. But the one considered is of very little use insomuch that it does not go far enough. However, the property committee will report at the next regular session of the council, and if the bylaw does not pass then it will be no good for this year.

Ald Morgan moved and Ald. Leary seconded, that the following bylaw be passed;

A bylaw to amend the Building Bylaw of the city of Peterborough.

The Corporation of the City of Peterborough by the Council thereof, enacts as follows;

1. Bylaw No. 937 of the City of Peterborough is hereby repealed.

2. Bylaw No. 612 of the City of Peterborough, entitled "The Building Bylaw of Town of Peterborough," is hereby amended by adding thereto the following paragraph after paragraph 25 thereof;

25a That the owner or person proposing to erect or enlarge any building in the city of Peterborough or to repair or alter the roof of external walls of any existing building in the said city, when such work will exceed the sum of $100, shall, before doing so, file an application with the city clerk specifying the work proposed to be done, the kind of material to be used, the estimated cost of the proposed building or the improvements thereof as the case may be, and in case of new buildings or the enlargement of existing buildings, the dimensions of such new buildings or additions as the case may be and such other particulars that may be necessary in order to ascertain if the said buildings or alterations proposed to be done, will be in compliance with the terms of this bylaw and the City Clerk may require further information to be furnished as to the proposed buildings or alterations and repairs and if the said clerk is satisfied that the work proposed to be done is in accordance with the terms of this bylaw he shall grant a permit authorizing the said work and said work shall not be proceeded with until such permit is granted; provided also that when any of said work is to be done within the fire limits as specified in this bylaw, before said work is proceeded with, the said permit shall be countersigned by the city engineer.

25b That the owner or person erecting a building now in the course of construction or now enlarging any existing building shall, within two weeks from the passing of this bylaw, file in the office of the city clerk an application specifying the same particulars as are required by paragraph 25a hereof, and if the city clerk finds that the said work is being done in compliance with the terms of this bylaw he shall grant a permit authorizing the completion of said building or of said alterations and after the expiration of the said two weeks from the passing of this bylaw, any such work now in course of construction shall not be proceeded with unless and until such permit is granted.

Ald Bradburn and Ald. Elliott moved that the bylaw be referred back to the property committee to properly and fully consider it and report to the next regular meeting of the council.

Ald Morgan withdrew his motion and the amendment carried.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions made from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Held Banquet After Concert

At the conclusion of the St Patrick's Day concert at the Grand Opera House last night all those who took part were entertained at a banquet at McCallum's. An excellent spread had been prepared and the event was most enjoyable. Needless to say those taking part, and those in charge of the arrangements for the concert, were greatly pleased with the success that attended their efforts.

Mayor Ashdown, Winnipeg, and Mr. Aird are to visit Toronto with the object of negotiating a loan of $2,500,000 with the Bank of Commerce.

Short Session of City Council

Two Reports of Committees Received—Other Matters Taken up

A short session of the council was held last night after the meeting of the committee of the whole, when a couple of reports and a few other matters were introduced and passed.

All the members except Ald. Tovey were present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

Mr. Spence, as arbitrator in the matter between the council and Mr. Jam. Bogue, wrote the council that his reward was completed and ready to hand to either party, upon the payment of his fees of $100.

It was moved by Ald. Duncan and Ald. Johnston that the city treasurer be authorized to pay Mr. Spence's fees on condition that it includes the divers and all other expenses.—Carried.

The committee of the whole reported the business transacted, at the meeting just adjourned.

BOARD OF WORKS.

That the City Engineer be instructed to report on the best way of grading and water tabling the portions of the boundary between the city and the township of North Monaghan, which it is understood the city will maintain.

That when the Dickson Company has graded and water-tabled to the satisfaction of the City Engineer, the proposed street, 65 feet wide, running west from Burnham street, south of Hunter street, the city consent to the registration of the plan.

That the City Treasurer be authorized to pay for one hundred and twelve cords of stone, more than was previously authorized at $3.00 per cord on the certificate of the City Engineer.

That the matter of Mr. Hughes' complaint regarding a street railway siding on Park street, be referred to the Mayor and Chairman of this board, to confer with Mr Larmonth, manager of the railway, and that they also confer with Mr. Larmonth, in regard to a claim made by Mr. Foster for an accident on George street.

That the Street Commissioner be authorized to have the concrete mixer, water carts, and wheelbarrows repaired.

That the Street Commissioner be instructed to employ a man by the month to clean the crossings and crossings and gutters.

Moved by Ald. Wilson and Ald. Stevenson that a special Committee be appointed of Mayor McWilliams, Ald. Morrow, Stevenson, Bradburn, and Wilson, to look into the adoption of the Torrens system of land titles in Peterborough. Carried.

Moved by Ald. Elliott, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that the Sanitary Inspector be furnished with transportation to Brantford for the purpose of studying the garbage system in force there. Carried.

Moved by Ald. Stevenson and Ald. Bradburn that the revised agreement between the City Council and the Otonabee Power Company, re the lease of the water power at No. 4 dam, be passed. Carried.

St. Patrick's Songs in St. Andrew's Hall

Splendid Concert Held and Enjoyable Evening Spent

The St. Patrick concert held in St Andrew's hall last evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Andrew's church was a distinct success.

There was a large and representative audience which manifested its pleasure on many occasions with the excellence and attractiveness of the programme. All those who participated acquitted themselves admirably. Owing to the inability of Mr D. Hughes Charles to be present, the chair was ably occupied by Rev. J. G. Potter, who delivered a short opening address in which he welcomed the visitors and bespoke for them a pleasurable evening. He referred briefly to the great work of St. Patrick, the devoted missionary apostle and intimated that he would like to see in Peterborough a large union demonstration each year to do honor to the patron saint of Ireland. The chairman referred to the geniality, wit, love of honesty, reverence for worship and other admirable characteristics of the Irish, and congratulated the Ladies' Aid Society on the assured success of their concert.

The opening number was a song by St Paul's church quartette, Messrs. Crane, Nelson, Bennett and Gillespie They rendered "The Boys of the old Brigade" in fine form and had to respond to an encore, which they did, in the humorous selection of "The Teacher and the Tack."

Mr. Duncan Cameron has a fine, well developed tenor voice, and was heard with great delight in "Pretty Little Girl" and "Oh, Lucky Jim." as an encore number.

The Mandolin Club contributed an excellent number which was much appreciated. They generously responded to an encore. Miss Hope Miller demonstrated her mastery over the violin in a well rendered number. Her graceful bowing, clear expression and interpretative ability were cleverly brought out.

Miss Bella King sang very sweetly and effectively, "The Dear Little Shamrock," and was given a hearty recall, to which she pleasingly responded.

Mr Firth sang "The Veteran's Song" in good voice and with fine effect He had to answer an encore

Mrs. Patterson-Mowry was on the programme for a reading, "The Newsboy's Death," a pathetic story, graphically told by the talented elocutionist. She acknowledged a recall with a humorous parody on the Delsarte gestures, of a young lady which was greatly enjoyed.

Messrs. Louis Mendel and Frank Clarke gave an instrumental duett on the mandolin and banjo, which was one of the best numbers of the evening and was enthusiastically received Messrs. Mendel and Clarke gave a second selection in equally good style.

Miss E. Oberty sang "Kathleen Mavourneen" in a manner that pleased all. She was given a cordial reception and her vocalism was never heard to better advantage.

Mrs (Dr.) Prust contributed "My Colleen Bawn" most acceptably. Rev Mr. Potter, the chairman, referred to her excellent work as soloist in the choir and extremely regretted that she and Dr. Prust were leaving for the west to reside.

Mr. David Moore made his first appearance as a reader before a Peterborough audience and scored a distinct success. He gave two rollicking Irish stories in inimitable style and then one in negro dialect from Paul Lawrence Dunbar, 'When the Co'n 'pone's hot.'

Mr Gilbert Markle, in his violin solo was all that could be desired. Mr. Markle's ability is recognized and appreciated and his admirers were not disappointed in his superb playing last evning. He was in splendid form.

Mrs Devey added to the enjoyment and success of the evening in two capitally contributed vocal numbers, one being "Dear Heart."

In the final number, "An English Courtship," Mr and Mrs. Devey were very happy, Master Devey, playing the accompaniment. The number was highly amusing. The accompaniments of the evening were played by Mrs. C. S. McClelland in her usual efficient and painstaking manner.

After the concert those taking part in the choice programme presented were entertained to a dainty little supper by the Ladies' Aid Society Toasts were drunk and a very jolly time spent around the festive board.

Entertainment at Ennismore

One of the Best in the History of the Parish

"The most successful entertainment in the history of the parish," was the universal comment regarding the concert held at Ennismore last night, under the auspices of St. Martin's T. A. S. The hall was packed to the doors, and late comers were unable to gain admittance. The programme was most appropriate for a St. Patrick's day concert, and everyone taking part did splendidly

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick occupied the chair and the programme was contributed principally by talent from St. Martin's T. A. S., and consisted of songs, recitations, etc. Irish music of course, predominated. Mr. and Mrs. Kyle of Peterborough, gave two clever sketches, "Is marriage a failure," and "A touch of nature." Mr. and Mrs. Kyle are entertainers of the first rank and made a great hit. The sketches were excellently put on and pleased the large audience immensely. Mr. T. J. Begley and Mrs. Quinlan of Peterborough, also contributed to the programme. The concert was a great success in every way, people being present from all parts of the county. To those in charge great credit is due.

General Electric Had an Advance

Stock Sold at 127 Yesterday—Gained Over 4 Points

Toronto, March 18.—The recovery in Canadian General Electric was the feature of the local market this morning. The stock, which closed at 122 3-4, last week, advanced to 127 this morning, on purchases of a little over one hundred shares. The declaration of the regular dividend has helped the stock, which is also probably discounting a good annual statement.

Field Secretary of Home Missions

Rev. C. E. Manning Brother of Rev. H. M. Manning of Peterborough, Appointed

The Toronto Star on Saturday contained an excellent cut of Rev. C. E. Manning, who was recently appointed field secretary of Home Missions for the Methodist church in Canada.

The Star says;

"Some time ago we announced the appointment of Rev. C. E. Manning to the position of Field Secretary of Home Missions, Methodist Church in Canada. Mr. Manning will move from Kingston, where he is completing his second year as pastor of Sydenham street church, to Toronto, the new headquarters. Mr. Manning belongs to a "ministerial" family. Two of his brothers are Methodist pastors—Thomas in Windsor, and H. M., in Peterborough.

"The new Field Secretary entered the ministry in 1883. He has been pastor at Sault Ste. Marie, Bathurst and Clinton street churches, Toronto, and Dominion Square church, Montreal."

Arrangements for National Nights

Young Conservative Club Will Hold Two More Entertainments

At a meeting of the Young Conservative Club, it was decided to have an Irishman's night in the club rooms on Thursday, April 4th. Mr. R. E. Layfield will be the chairman and a good programme will be rendered.

On Thursday, April 18th, the season's fortnightly entertainments will close with a Scotchman's night, when there will be a big rally. Mr. Peter Gardner will be the chairman on that occasion.

Hon. Mr. Templeman has given notice of a bill to create a separate federal department of mines.

Irish Concert at Opera House Delighted Audience

The annual St. Patrick's Day celebration was held at the Grand Opera House last night, and a crowded house greeted those who took part in the splendid concert given. It was under the auspices of St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society, and was fully as great a success as the entertainments held in previous years under similar auspices. The Irish population was out in full force, and many other citizens of other nationalities were also present. The St. Patrick's day concert is becoming more popular every year, as it serves to recall the glorious traditions of Ireland's past, and to inculcate among those of the present day a desire to emulate the brave men and women of the days that are gone.

The programme presented last night was one that could not fail to please. The selections were most happy in their nature and were rendered in a manner that left nothing to be desired One of the features was the presentation of a one act Irish drama, "The Limerick Boy," a bright little piece with numerous funny situations, and clever dialogue, that caused much merriment. The cast of characters was splendidly taken, and ever one acquitted his or herself with great credit. As Paddy Miles, "The Limerick Boy," Mr. Jas. O'Brien could not have been improved upon. His witty remarks and clever acting were heartily applauded, and deservedly so, for his work was above the average. Mr. John McCabe made an ideal Dr. Coates, and Mr Fred Derocher, as Henry, the doctor's son, also portrayed that part well. Mr. Wm. Donovan took the part of Job, a Scotch Gardner, and did it well. He looked and spoke the part excellently, and was a real favorite with the audience. Mr Louis Bolin as Reuben, showed considerable histronic ability. The two ladies with the cast were Miss Nellie McCabe, as Mrs. Fidgett, and Miss Fanny Holmes as Jane, her daughter. Both portrayed their rolls excellently. The "plot" of the play hinged on the doctor's love for Mrs. Fidgett, and the doctor's son's love for Jane, Mrs. Fidgett's daughter. The doctor and Mrs. Fidgett do not look with favor upon the young people's love affairs, and try to prevent their marriage, but with the aid of Paddy Miles they outwit the elderly couple and are married. Of course they are forgiven before the close, and all ends happily, but not before many amusing situations have been created. The drama closed in a most happy manner. Mr. Brady sang in excellent voice, "Colleen Bawn," while the members of the cast went through the lancers during the chorus of the song.

The programme was in two parts, each of which was opened by the T. A.S. band, under the leadership of Mr. F. W. Miller. Their first number was "Sons of Erin," a collection of Irish airs, the rendition of which was enthusiastically received. The second number was a waltz, "Old Limerick Town," by Olcott. This most pleasing selection was also excellently given and evoked great applause. The band has made great improvement since the practices were commenced a few months ago. Much credit is due Mr. Miller and the members of the band for the splendid progress they have.

Mr. H. Ruthven Macdonald, of Toronto won golden opinions for himself by his splendid vocalism last night He has a robust baritone voice, under splendid control, and delighted the large audience. An encore was demanded and generously responded to each time he appeared. His first number was the popular song "There never was a Coward where the Shamrock Grows," by Feeney This selection made a great hit, as also did "The Dear Little Shamrock," which was his next number. In the second part of the programme he sang "King of the Elves," and "Eileen Allanah," and had to respond to an encore in each case. His rendition of "Eileen Allanah" was wonderfully sweet.

Miss Lavina Hallihan is always a favorite with a Peterborough audience, and last night was no exception to the rule. She appeared in two solo numbers and was given a warm reception. Encores were generously ed to in both cases. Her first number was Lady Dufferin's "Terence's Farewell," and her second Moore's "Love's Young Dream," in both of which she displayed her splendid vocal powers. One of her encores was the always pleasing number, "The Dear Little Girl." Miss Hallihan was presented with two beautiful bouquets.

The Mendelssohn Club, a local organization, composed of about a dozen excellent vocalists, gave two numbers, "Moonlight Will Come Again," and "Oft in the Stilly Night." An encore had to be given to the latter number. The club has been well trained and there is much harmony and beauty in their singing.

A quartette consisting of Messrs. Brady, Keen, Cunningham and Creedon, sang "Juanita," by Parks, and won enthusiastic applause. Their voices blended well and their rendition of the selection was most praiseworthy.

The programme closed with a tableau, "Erin." A dozen young ladies costumed in robes of green, formed the central figures. A large harp occupied the rear of the centre of the stage. Miss Nellie Hallihan sang, very sweetly, "The Harp That Once Thro' Tara's Halls," while the other young ladies made appropriate movements. The tableau was a most pleasing affair, and the applause was loud and prolonged as the curtain was rung down. Miss Hallihan was presented with a lovely bouquet.

Much credit is due Miss M. McCabe, who acted as musical director. Her work added greatly to the attractiveness of the programme.

On the whole the entertainment was thoroughly enjoyable, and was well up to the high standard of former years.

Snow Still Covers the Prairies of the West

There are still nearly two feet of snow on the western prairies and a blizzard was raging in Winnipeg last Thursday. This is the statement of Mr. A. J. Martin, of Douro, who returned home from the west this week Mr. Martin has spent the last two years at Arrow Head, British Columbia, and is home on a visit. He has ben away for two and a half years and is being warmly greeted by his many friends in the city and district. He in home on a visit and will remain for a few weeks.

Mr Martin says that when he passed through Winnipeg on Thursday a snow storm was raging there and the weather was much colder than in the east. All the way across the prairies there was a considerable depth of snow, in some cases as much as a depth of two feet. However the people of the west expect spring to come with a rush and are making preparations accordingly.

Cement Industry Has Made Rapid Growth in Canada

New Companies are Constantly Entering the Field—Lakefield Portland Cement Company to Open Branch in Montreal.

Attention has again been directed to the rapid extension of the cement industry in Canada, by the announcement that the Lakefield Portland Cement Company had perfected arrangements for the erection of a branch factory in Montreal. The company has placed an order for its electrical equipment with the Canadian General Electric Company, comprising 1,300 h.p. transformers, two 2,000 h.p. transformers, one 20 h. p. motor, twelve 100 h.p. motors, three 50 h.p. motors, and three 10 h. p. motors, all complete with the necessary switchboard, and speed controllers.

Several factors have contributed to the rapid development of the cement industry, chief among them being the reduction in the price of cement engendered by the adoption of modern machinery, the different uses to which Portland cement is now applied, coupled with an abundance of raw material. The manufacture of Portland cement in Canada practically dates from the year 1891, when operations were begun in a very small way, at Marlbank, Hastings County, and also at Shallow Lake, Grey County. The output of these two establishments, as a result of the first year's operations amounted to only 2,033 barrels, a trifle more than one of the larger modern plants would produce in a single day. In the following year the production was increased to 20,247 barrels. In 1893 it amounted to 31,924 barrels, and so on in geometrical progression, the output for each year during the next decade exceeding that of the previous year, roughly speaking, by 60 per cent. In 1901 four factories were making Portland cement, their total output amounting to 350,660 barrels. By the following year, the number of establishments had increased to eight, with an actual production of 522,899 barrels. In 1903 there were nine plants in operation with an output of 695,260 barrels, while in 1904, cement was made at no less than eleven establishments to the extent of 880,871 barrels.

Since that date factories have been started at Hull, Que., Belleville, Ont.; Sydney, C. B.; Wiarton, Ont.; Morden, Man.; Calgary, Alta., and Vancouver, B. C., giving the cement establishments of Canada, a combined annual capacity of 3,950,000 barrels, estimating 300 working days to the year

In the phenomenal growth thus noted improved methods and the introduction of modern equipment adapted to meet existing conditions, played a most important part. If old methods had been adhered to very few of the companies now conducting a thriving trade would be in existence today These include; The Lakefield, Lakefield; The Hanover, Hanover; Sun, Owen Sound; Imperial, Owen Sound; The Owen Sound, Grey and Bruce, Owen Sound; The Canadian, Marlbank and Strathcona; The National, Durham; Raven Lake, Raven Lake; The Ontario, Blue Lake; The International, Hull; Colonial, Wiarton; The St. Mary's, Belleville; The Manitoba, Morden.

The electrical equipment supplied by the Canadian General Electric Company to cement establishments has come to be regarded as the standard. The works of the Lakefield Portland Cement Company at Lakefield, to which reference has been made, were equipped by the Canadian General Electric Company, and now the order has been placed with this company for the equipment of the new branch at Montreal, which is an evidence that the appliances supplied by the Canadian General Electric are of a character that gives satisfaction.

A WIDENING RANGE.

The ever widening range, to which cement is being put should, of itself, ensure a bright future for the industry. Some few years ago the use of concrete was confined almost entirely to the construction of foundations exposed to the action of water. Of recent years the employment of concrete as a building material has come into general use. It is replacing brick and stone in some lines of work, and even wood has had to give way before it, as instanced by the tendency to use concrete flooring in fireproof buildings In the matter of fence posts and piles it has also supplanted wood to some extent. In the construction of pavements and bridges its use has become almost universal. For general building purposes its popularity is steadily increasing. Hollow blocks of cement of any size, shape or finish, are readily procurable, and since their introduction have been very much in demand. Architects are beginning to advocate the construction of walls of solid concrete, for not only do they possess the advantage of being fireproof, but are capable of a handsome exterior as well. All things considered, the cement industry of Canada seems destined to keep pace with the rapid development of the country.

Peterboro' Man Fatally Injured

Mr. Charles A. Humber of Goderich Fractured His Skull

The many friends in Peterborough and adjoining townships of Mr. Chas. A. Humber will regret to learn of his death in Goderich. Mr. Humber many years ago taught school at Keene and other points in this county. He was a brother of Mr. Orlando Humber of this city and paid a visit to Peterborough about a year ago Referring to his death a despatch says:—

In carrying a heavy article down a flight of stairs Mr. Humber accidentally fell headlong to the bottom, fracturing his skull and causing concussion of the brain. As the deceased was working alone in the house it was not till some time after the accident occurred that his delayed return home caused anxiety, when on search being made he was found unconscious on the cellar floor.

For years he served as councillor and latterly discharged the duties of police magistrate. He stood high in Masonic circles, filling high offices in Maitland Lodge, No. 33, Huron Chapter No. 30, St. Elmo Preceptory, No. 22, and with several degrees in the Scottish Rite.

Some Comment on Inspector's Report

Mr. Ball Should Pay Attention to the Fruit Stands

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—In his report our Sanitary Inspection said in reference to the fruit stores, that he strongly recommended that all the waste vegetable matter should be removed at least once a week, and further stated that it may not be so very objectionable from a sanitary point of view, but it certainly looked very bad.

Now, the Council did not create this office for Mr. Ball to be an apologist for the worst sort of disease in this city, nor was Mr. Ball appointed to pass as an expert in opposition to modern science and the best medical authority upon the death-dealing effects of decomposed vegetable matter. He was simply appointed to enforce the law rigidly without fear, favor or affection. His "recommendation" to remove the dirty stuff once a week, judging from experience in the past, would mean once a month. Again, Mr. Ball is not put there to make recommendations to delinquents, but to see that such removal takes place each and every day throughout the year. Imagine the stench and resultant disease from rotten fruit laying around during the sweltering days of spring, summer and autumn in the presence of a salaried sanitary inspector. Indeed, no fruit should be allowed to be stored, in the congested district of the city, were we sincere in our efforts to minimize infection and contagion.

Mr Ball deserves credit for his efforts to give us pure milk and in causing analyses to be made of different samples, but it strikes me that the milk vendors are forewarned by reason of its being announced in the press, and will be on the lookout when to give pure milk and when to give impure.

Yours, etc.,

ABSENTEE LANDLORDISM

To the Editor of the Review.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick in his St Patrick day sermon, spoke wisely of the baneful effects of absentee landlordism in Ireland, and the misery to the people, resulting therefrom. We suffer from the same cause in this city. Just think of the hundreds of thousands of dollars, that have gone from here, by reason of absentee landlordism, and which is ever increasing with the raising of rents!—No wonder so many people have to hustle to eke out a bare existence.

Yours, etc.,

Work on C. G. E. Transformer Building to be Resumed

Messrs. J. F. Beatty and J. Bell, of the Dominion Engineering and Construction Company, Montreal, and Mr. E. P. Clarkson, of the Canadian General Electric Company, are in the city preparing to commence work on the new transformer building of the C. G. E., the construction of which was commenced last fall. Mr. Beatty will superintend the work, Mr. Bell will be timekeeper, and Mr. Clarkson will act as inspector for the Canadian Genadian General.

It is expected that work on the building will be commenced at once. Men are now being engaged and between a hundred and a hundred and fifty will be employed on the job. It will likely take about two months to complete the building. The east wall is built up about four feet and the scaffolding is ready for the commencement of the construction of the west wall. The north and south walls have not yet been started, but once they are started they are built up rapidly as the walls are of concrete, which lends itself to rapid construction.

The news that work is to be resumed on the building will be received with pleasure by a number of men, who have not had steady employment for some time, but who will now have permanent employment for several months.

RATHER STRANGE IS SNOWFALL

Snow in Ennismore But Chemong Road is Bare

It is a curious fact, that there is much more snow in Ennismore, than in the stretch of country between Chemong and Peterborough. The wheeling on the Chemong road is fairly good, at least there is practically no snow to impede the progress of wheeled vehicles. But across the lake in Ennismore it is different. Snow still covers the ground there and sleighs are in general use. Yesterday the passengers for Ennismore, who went out on the stage had to walk from Chemong to their respective destinations in Ennismore, as the stage is now on wheels and it could not travel on the snow covered roads of Ennismore.

Loads are still crossing Chemong Lake on the ice but this can only last a few days longer.

ILLEGAL TO BET ON THE RACES

An Ottawa despatch says:—The Supreme Court has decided that open betting on races is illegal, which means the wiping out of the old system of betting from booths where receipts are given for the money handed over. It will thus effect Toronto, Hamilton, Fort Erie, Windsor and Montreal—the racing centres of Canada.

The case came before the court in the shape of an appeal by Jake Saunders, a Toronto bookmaker, who was fined in the police court there for taking bets at the Woodbine last spring. This case was appealed, and yesterday's decision not only sustains the police court fine, but also strikes a severe blow at racing. Justices Girouard and Davies dissented from the judgment.

Gatemen Back to the Flags

Gates are Not in Working Order To-day.

The G.T.R. gatemen to-day are using the old flag signals instead of the gates, owing to the latter being put temporarily out of business by the underground part being hampered by ice. Last night being unusually cold, the water froze and to-day the gates cannot be worked. They will have to be thawed out by one of the yard engines.

Annual Easter Thank Offering

Ladies Received $23.35—Mrs. Kilgour Honored by Members

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Charlotte Street Church was held yesterday afternoon at the parsonage. The meeting was the occasion of the annual Easter offering. There were about fifty ladies present and the offering amounted to $23.35.

The president of the society, Mrs. Kilgour, occupied the chair, and opened the meeting. A short programme was given and was as follows,—

Instrumental, Miss T. Elliott.
Vocal Solo, Mrs. Collier.
Reading, Mrs. Lightfoot.

A paper on missionary work among women, was read by Mrs. Allin.

Reading, Mrs. (Dr.) Morrison.

Miss S. Campbell acted as accompanist.

The most important feature of yesterday's meeting was the presentation to Mrs. Kilgour of a life membership certificate, and a gold pin. Mrs. J. K. Moore read the address, Mrs. Switzer presented the certificate, and Mrs. Allin the gold pin. Mrs. Kilgour, although greatly surprised made a suitable reply, in which she thanked her friends for their thoughtfulness. She has been president of the society for a number of years, and has been a most faithful and earnest worker.

HORSE TRIED TO RUN AWAY

Excitement on Hunter Street Last Night

A horse attached to a buggy made a dash for liberty, in front of the Oriental hotel, about nine o'clock last night, but the driver held onto the reins and prevented a runaway. The incident caused a crowd of people to gather, but the excitement did not last long. There was nothing frightened the horse. He was being driven east along Hunter street, when he suddenly made a jump and started to run, but the driver got him under control before any damage was done.

Rain and Mud Did Not Hinder

Large Number From Attending Park Street Church Revival

Through the rain and the wind, the people went to the revival at the Park Street Baptist Church last night. The evangelist expressed his appreciation of the large turnout on such a night. It was a meeting of great power. The Torrey and Alexander hymns, though sung every night are not losing interest but increasing in favor. An interesting feature of last night's meeting was a sweet solo, by Master Wilton Franton, a child of nine years. The sermon was from Luke 23:4, "I find no fault in this man." It was a clear presentation of the gospel and produced a fruitful aftermeeting.

The service for boys and girls in the afternoon was purely educative, and will prove of lasting benefit to the children. The last children's service will be held on Friday at 4.20. A baptismal service is being arranged for Easter Sunday. Song service tonight at 7.45.

ATHELTIC NIGHT AT OLD OPERA

Several Fast Bouts Will be Seen—Should Furnish Good Sport

Arrangements are about completed for the athletic tournament in the old opera house on Wednesday night, March 27th. The event is under the management of Mr. Billy Breen, trainer of the Peterborough hockey club and there promises to be a large number in attendance. Some first-class sport is assured as some exceedingly clever boxers have been matched and will furnish several lively bouts. Among those who have been matched, are the following,—Eugene Hurtubise of Peterborough, against Jack Thompson, of Hamilton; Pete Barry of Toronto, against Fred Broom, "the broncho," of Lindsay; and Pacer Wallace of Peterborough, against Jack Broom of Lindsay. There will be several other bouts between clever local men.

MARKET SQUARE SHOULD BE CLEANED

Many complaints are being made regarding the filthy condition of the market square. It is in anything but an attractive condition and whoever is responsible should see that it is cleaned up. It has not been touched since the snow commenced to melt and all the refuse that accumulated during the winter is still there.

"The sanitary inspector should take a look at the market," said a citizen to-day. "It is in anything but a sanitary condition."

The factory of the Spinning Wood Fibre Company, near Owen Sound, was consumed by fire.

WOMEN NOT TRUTHFUL

This Statement Has Been Unjustly Made, Because Modest Women Evade Questions Asked by Male Physicians.

Mme. Alfred Arcand Zula Ecclison

An eminent physician says that "Women are not truthful; they will lie to their physician." This statement should be qualified; women do tell the truth, but not the whole truth, to a male physician, but this is only in regard to those painful and troublesome disorders peculiar to their sex.

It is a terrible ordeal to a delicate, sensitive, refined woman to be obliged to answer certain questions when those questions are asked even by her family physician. This is especially the case with unmarried women.

Is it any wonder, then, that women continue to suffer and that doctors fail to cure female diseases when they cannot get the proper information to work on?

This is the reason why thousands and thousands of women are now corresponding with Mrs. Pinkham. To her they can and do give every symptom, so that she really knows more about the true condition of her patients, through her correspondence with them than the physician who personally questions them.

If you suffer from any form of trouble peculiar to women, write at once to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will advise you free of charge.

The fact that this great boon, which is extended freely to women by Mrs. Pinkham, is appreciated, the thousands of letters received by her prove. Many such grateful letters as the following are constantly pouring in.

Madame Alfred Arcand of 414 Dorchester Street, Montreal, Can., writes;

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Your Vegetable Compound was such a blessing in disguise to me that I am only too pleased to give my testimonial. About a year ago I contracted a severe cold at a critical time, which caused my periods to cease. I had very severe pains and sick spells, and this continued for several months with no abatement. Finally I decided to try your Vegetable Compound. After two weeks I became regular, had very little pain in the second month, and in three months' time I was restored to health. I consider your Vegetable Compound well worthy of praise."

Zula Ecclison, of 6 Erie Street, East, St. Thomas, Ont. writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I heartily recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a tonic and regulator for female troubles. I suffered for four years with displacement, and no one but those who have experienced this dreadful agony can form any idea of the physical and mental suffering those endure who are thus affected. Your Vegetable Compound cured me. Within three months I was fully restored to health and strength, and now my periods are regular and painless. What a blessing it is to obtain such relief when so many doctors fail to help you. Your medicine is better than any doctor or medicine I ever had."

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant for many years before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women.

Debate in the Legislature; Uphold Commercial Clause

Railway and Municipal Board Reject Proposed Amendments.

Companies Installing Public Utilities Must Be Protected — Liberals Oppose Assistance to University—Municipalities Must Not Sell Surplus Electric Power—Prison Labor on Roads or Farms.

Toronto, March 20.—In the course of the budget debate which occupied the attention of the Legislature at the afternoon and night sessions yesterday, Hon. Mr. Whitney, the Prime Minister, took occasion to emphasize the continued opposition with which the assistance to the university and schools of Ontario was being met by the Liberals in the House. He expressed surprise at it and thought it was time the people should be cognizant of the position which the Liberal party were taking. As for the Government, he was well satisfied that the aid given to education and agriculture was among Ontario's best expenditures.

The Prime Minister laid on the table a report of the Railway and Municipal Board in respect to several proposed amendments to the municipal law, introduced last session, particularly some introduced by Mr. McNaught with the intent of repealing the so-called "Conmee clauses." The Board reported against the latter proposition on the ground that many municipalities, rather than instal public utilities, used their influence and held out inducements to companies to construct them at a time when they would not pay. The companies, having operated the works in the lean years, municipalities should not, when the works were beginning to be remunerative, be permitted to construct a competitive system without acquiring the existing plant on fair terms. The Conmee Act provides that municipalities can acquire such works by arbitration at their actual value, making due allowance for depreciation, wear and tear, but allowing nothing for franchise or prospective profits. It appears to the Board that it would be more in the interests of municipalities to acquire existing plants on fair terms than to duplicate them and to have competition that might render the operation of municipal plants unprofitable and use the funds at large in order to make up the loss in an unremunerative business. The clauses are not regarded as in any way being a barrier to municipal ownership.

Selling Electric Power.

The Board also reported against an amendment allowing the construction by municipalities of conduits and the erection of poles for the conveyance of telegraph, telephone, power transmission and other wires and the renting of the same to public utility companies. This was regarded by the Board as a hazardous and unprofitable undertaking.

The Board was likewise adverse to municipalities contracting for more electric power or gas than they required and selling the surplus to consumers, or otherwise acting as middlemen. This should be left to the Hydro-Electric Power Commission. They also reported against power being given to municipalities to construct street railways on streets not covered by existing operating companies, on the ground that it would be a duplication of systems and a waste of capital.

Resumes Budget Debate.

Col. Atkinson (North Norfolk) resumed the budget debate. He took up at once the question of prison labor, advocating compelling the prisoners to do work on the roads or farm which would not come into competition with farm labor. The old Government's Montreal pulpwood concession was defended as in the best interests of the settlement of the Province. Col. Atkinson drew a picture of the Provincial Treasurer, Hon. Col. Matheson, as the fortunate inhabitant of a palace, "surrounded by orchards, vineyards and groves," which he had not builded, and "receiving gold, silver and precious stones" which his predecessors had earned.

Referring to the Provincial loan the speaker pointed out that a temporary loan should have been negotiated until the close of the South African war when money would have been cheaper. He would have renewed every six months until this time, if necessary.

The colonel expressed his belief in cheap power, but he feared the progress promised was not being made. He questioned whether it could be made. If the people were living in a fool's paradise in the matter, he believed in tearing away the veil.

The colonel closed by touching briefly in criticism on the local option clauses, the Toronto investigation into license matters, the employment of Mr. Thorne, "a thorn in the flesh," and the amendments to the Public Schools Act. He severely deprecated the uncalled for innuendoes concerning the late leader, now Senator Ross, to whom he paid a eulogistic tribute as the developer of the school system and the builder of the Government-owned Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway.

Mr. Allan Studholme, the Labor member from East Hamilton, followed. First he took a few rounds out of the Government on its prison labor contract, then he turned round and eulogized Hon. Adam Beck and the Government's power policy. Then he lapsed into a personal explanation. When he was accused of speaking too much, the press and the members forgot that he represented "the great army of wage-earners in Ontario, the bone and sinew of the Province." Mr. Studholme was proud of being a working man and of representing his fellow workers. On the six o'clock adjournment the Hamilton man was still speaking.

Opposition Criticism Weak.

Mr. G. Pattinson (South Waterloo) followed Mr. Studholme in a splendid address at night. Mr. Pattinson said that praise of the Provincial Treasurer or the budget from him might seem prejudiced. He preferred rather to direct attention to the fact that the Opposition criticism had been the weakest on record, in fact there had been no criticism at all.

Mr. Pattinson, who is a member of the first Hydro-Electric Commission, went into an endorsation of the power policy, correcting the impressions that seemed to have misguided Col. Atkinson.

"Oh, no," put in Hon. Mr. Mackay.

"I will convince the hon. member from North Grey that he is mistaken," said Mr. Pattinson.

"Impossible," declared the Prime Minister and Hon. Mr. Mackay in unison.

"Surely not," quoth Mr. Pattinson, "while the lamp holds out to burn, the greatest sinner may return." (Laughter and applause.)

Mr. Pattinson, continuing, took up the question of agriculture, the greatest of all Ontario questions and advocated further development along agricultural lines.

ONTARIO INSURANCE.

Toronto, March 20.—The abstract report of the provincial inspector of insurance for the year 1906 was presented to the Legislature yesterday. It overs only those companies making returns to the Ontario Government. These include one life insurance company (the Equity Life), purely joint stock fire insurance companies (Merchants, Queen City and Traders); weather insurance companies (the Huron Weather, Ontario Farmers' and Western Farmers'); the cash mutual fire companies, 14 in number; and the purely mutual fire companies, of which there are 69.

The fire insurance mutual companies of all classes show a gross amount at risk of $230,827,923. The surplus of general assets over liabilities is placed at $8,603,476. In 1906 the new business amounted to $86,832,695.

DYNAMITE IN CELLAR.

Dastardly Work of Upton Sinclair's Enemies.

New York, March 20.—Upton Sinclair, whose co-operative colony house, Helicon Hall, near Englewood, N.J., was destroyed by fire early Saturday morning, admitted Monday that there was enough dynamite found in the cellar of the building to have blown it to atoms.

This statement, with the finding Saturday afternoon of a stick of explosives near the wreck of the boilers, has spurred the authorities to more vigorous efforts upon the theory of incendiarism.

The police are working on the supposition that the place was set on fire, and will question several persons who are known to have had disagreements with Mr. Sinclair.

REVENGE BEFORE HE DIED.

Killed His Slayer and Fatally Wounded Latter's Brother.

Birmingham, Ala., March 20.—H. H. Chamberlaine, formerly of Richmond, Va., superintendent of the mines of the Crescent Coal Co. at Sleca, Ala., and Joe Creek, a miner, are dead, and Will Creek, the latter's brother, is dying as the result of a three-cornered pistol fight at the mines late Monday. The two miners were drinking and were creating a disturbance. When Chamberlaine tried to quiet them Joe Creek fired upon him, inflicting wounds which resulted in Chamberlaine's death. While lying mortally wounded, Chamberlaine fired several shots, one of which killed Joe Creek and fatally injured his brother Will.

Alberta Fixes Game Law.

Regina, March 20.—In the Legislature yesterday the second reading of the bill for the protection of game was made.

The amendment of the game laws was made necessary through the rapid settlement of the country. One of the features of the bill is the prohibition of spring shooting of wild fowl.

It was approved by the convention of game guardians last year, and is generally approved of, but the Government desires to get into line with public opinion, not only in this province, but throughout the American continent.

There also are provisions for limiting the amount of a sportsman's bag to ten grouse or prairie chickens for one day and 100 for the season, and forbidding the use of dogs in hunting deer.

Salaries of Judges.

Regina, March 20.—A resolution passed in the Legislature here yesterday provides that judges shall be paid $500 yearly as judges of Surrogate courts by the Provincial Government. A Surrogate judge will also be district judge and in that capacity will receive $2,500 a year from the Dominion Government for first year of service, and after that $3,000 a year.

Disaster in Mine.

Madrid, March 20.—A despatch received here from Cordova reports an explosion of fire damp in the Bal de Inferno mines at Fente Ovejuna. No precise details of the gravity of the accident are given, but it is said that a number of miners have been brought to the surface dying of suffocation.

Fire consumed the rear of the blacksmith and carriage shop of J. Wilson of Mill street, Listowel.

LABOR DISPUTES BILL

Passed in the House of Commons Yesterday.

Efforts to Refer It Back Were Futile—Government Accused of Emasculating the Bill in Interests of Railways—Railway Employes Included in Its Provisions—Power Export Bill Goes Through.

Ottawa, March 20.—On the motion for the third reading of Mr. Aylesworth's bill, to regulate the export of electric power, Dr. Sproule asked that this stage be postponed until to-day, when W. F. Maclean (South York) would move the amendment, of which he had given notice.

Mr. Aylesworth was not aware that any notice had been given.

The House, therefore, proceeded with the bill, and R. L. Borden offered an amendment, vesting the licensing power in the Railway Board, instead of the Governor-in-Council. He favored enlarging the Board.

Mr. Aylesworth thought the Railroad Board already had too much to do. The amendment was lost on division.

Dr. Sproule presented the amendment of which notice had been given by W. F. Maclean, requiring the power companies to provide the same facilities in the way of transmission lines for the people of Canada as they furnish to the people of the United States.

Interferes With Export.

Mr. Aylesworth objected to the amendment as unreasonably interfering with the export of Niagara power. He opined that one company could supply all the needs of Canada. Then why interfere with the other companies exporting their entire output to the United States? It seemed a wasteful policy.

Dr. Sproule was unable to see how there could be any Canadian customers if no transmission lines were built in Canada. The Maclean amendment was lost on division.

Mr. Lancaster (Lincoln) proposed an amendment forbidding any export of power over and above the amount retained in Canada, and also requiring a surplus of 25,000 horse-power to be kept in Canada.

Mr. Aylesworth would not accept the amendment.

Mr. Cockshutt believed that 200,000 horse-power could soon be consumed in Ontario. He anticipated the electrification of the present steam railways. Power could be produced at Niagara Falls for $5 per horse-power.

Upon division the amendment was voted down—yeas, 38; nays, 102 — a party vote.

The bill was then read a third time and passed.

Labor Disputes Bill.

Upon the motion for the third reading of Mr. Lemieux's labor disputes bill, R. L. Borden pointed out that the railways' labor disputes bill was sufficient, in his opinion, for preventing and settling strikes upon railways.

The railway employes in the main were opposed to having saddled upon them this new legislation. At any rate, they demanded, and they had a right, to be heard.

He moved that the bill be not read a third time, but that it be referred to a special committee with instructions to grant a hearing to all classes affected thereby.

Mr. Lemieux opposed this. It was the duty of the state not to permit a strike upon any great railway system until after here had been a most thorough public investigation. He understood that another coal strike in the West was imminent, and it was therefore important to pass the bill as soon as possible.

Mr. Bourassa thought that this legislation was largely experimental. It would soon have to be amended. He would therefore vote against the Borden amendment.

He also protested against the pressure being brought on members of Parliament by the railway brotherhoods. He thought that the bill had been largely emasculated by the Minister for political reasons.

More Trouble Coming.

After some further discussion by Messrs. Devlin, Pacquet, Verville and Ralph Smith, the latter not only supported the Government's policy, but expressed the hope that the bill would be rushed through quickly, as there was very serious possibilities of industrial troubles within the next three weeks.

Mr. Claude Macdonell said that the resolutions of all railwaymen were against the bill. They urged that the bill should be laid over until next session and opportunity given to them to place their case before a special committee.

Mr. Borden's amendment was defeated; Yeas 48, nays 106, a party vote, except that Mr. Pacquet (Conservative) voted against the amendment.

Mr. Armstrong (East Lambton) then offered an amendment excluding the railway employes from the operation of the act.

The House again divided. The amendment was defeated: Yeas 45, nays 106, a party vote, except that Barr and Pacquet voted against the amendment.

Mr. Lennox offered the same amendment in another form and it was defeated: Yeas 44, nays 104, a party vote.

The bill then passed.

Inland Revenue Receipts.

Ottawa, March 20.—The receipts of the Inland Revenue Department for February, 1907, are $1,182,891, being an increase of $108,441 over the corresponding month last year.

Bad Wreck Near Harbin.

Harbin, Manchuria, March 20.—As the result of a collision yesterday between a passenger train and a freight train at Turunshiche station, 17 persons were killed and 35 injured.

Took Carbolic Acid By Mistake.

Toronto, March 20.—Mistaking carbolic acid for whiskey, George Kelly, took a fatal dose on Monday night and died yesterday.

John Griffin died in the hospital in Montreal. He was struck by a fellow worker in the foundry of Warden King & Son, 35 Maisonneuve.

FRENCH TROOPS IN ACTION.

Had a Serious Reverse in Upper Guinea.

Paris, March 20.—The Echo de Paris publishes a despatch from Konakey, capital of French Guinea, West Africa, saying that a French column suffered a serious reverse in Upper Guinea while attacking the Thomans tribesmen, who were strongly fortified in a village. Seven French officers were badly wounded and eight sharpshooters were killed and 25 were wounded. The column entrenched itself and is now awaiting the arrival of artillery.

Brassaville, French Congo, March 20.—A French punitive expedition has administered defeat to the revolted Taddian tribesmen at the Village of Tiale. Sixty-two of the tribesmen were killed, while the French column lost four men.

NINE PASSENGERS HURT.

Colonist Special Derailed at Carlstadt—The Injured In Hospital.

Winnipeg, March 20.—The westbound colonist special was derailed at Carlstadt, 90 miles west of Fort William, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, seven coaches and the caboose leaving the track. Nine passengers were injured, one of them seriously, and the caboose, catching fire from the overturned stove, was destroyed.

The names of the injured are: J. H. Richardson, Albert Nesley, Geo. Taylor, William Russell, Mrs. Russell, W. A. Holland, Mrs. James Marshall, Mrs. Buttershaw, William Patterson. They are all in the hospital at Fort William. Mr. Richardson is the most seriously injured, his foot being so badly crushed as to necessitate amputation.

HAMILTON MEN RELEASED.

Street Railway Rioters Will Be Freed From Prison.

Ottawa, March 20.—Mr. Zimmerman, M. P., has been notified that the Minister of Justice has signed an order for the release of those parties who were convicted and sentenced in connection with being concerned in the riots over the street railway strike in Hamilton. Mr. Zimmerman has been pressing upon the Department of Justice this matter for a considerable time past. The order for release went to the Governor-General yesterday.

Peasants In Revolt.

Bucharest, Roumania, March 20.—The Agrarian movement in North Moldavia, where the peasants are in revolt against the exactions and tyranny of the farmers and the new taxes recently voted by the Roumanian Parliament, is rapidly spreading, and is causing much anxiety to the Government. The Town of Botosahni was raided Monday by two thousand peasants, who plundered the Jewish quarter and maltreated the Jewish storekeepers. Troops have been sent there and to other points where disturbances have occurred. The Government is preparing to take energetic measures to suppress the agitation.

Decides On Redistribution.

Ottawa, March 20.—The report of the special committee on the redistribution of the electoral districts of Saskatchewan and Alberta was presented to Parliament yesterday by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and is unanimous in favor of the following: Battleford, 18,051; Saskatoon, 27,751; Prince Albert, 20,878; Humboldt, 23,903; Mackenzie, 26,898; Qu'Appelle, 30,590; Moosejaw, 23,581; Regina, 29,706; Assiniboine, 35,263; Calgary, 26,402; Edmonton, 26,391; Macleod, 25,927; Medicine Hat, 22,363; Red Deer, 31,000; Strathcona, 29,431, and Victoria, 23,888.

Charged With Bigamy.

Sherbrooke, March 20.—Stephen Liddell was committed to the Court of King's Bench Monday by Judge Mulvean on a charge of bigamy. On Dec. 8th last the accused married a young Montreal girl named Bella MacDonald. At that time he was bandmaster of Cookshire band. The fact later leaked out that he already had a wife and family in the old country.

King Leopold Unconscious.

New York, March 20.—A despatch from Brussels says that, notwithstanding official denials, King Leopold, who is visiting the Riviera, had a cerebral attack a few days ago. He was unconscious for some time.

Ship Blown Over; 400 Aboard.

Copenhagen, March 20.—The Danish training ship Viking, with 400 workmen aboard, was blown over in a ship building yard in a storm here yesterday, ten men being injured.

HEARTS COURAGEOUS

BY HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES.

An orderly sprang from the tent to lead away the dancing horse, and the lieutenant saluted:

"A gentleman to see you, colonel. He requests escort tonight for a lady to Ely's and tomorrow to Fredericksburg."

The colonel had seated himself at a table and was spreading out a parchment map in the glow of the lantern. "Where are they?"

"They are here, sir."

As they came forward into the light the seated figure settled back in the shadow and shaded his eyes with his hand. The lieutenant saluted and withdrew a little distance.

When the colonel spoke, it was in a muffled voice. "Your name, sir?"

Henry told him.

"For what lady do you wish this escort?" The black peruke was bent over the table. The quill was scratching.

"For this lady."

Anne had been staring, breathless, fascinated, her eyes fixed in a humid pain. She took a step nearer, stretching out her arms, her lips trembling to a sob.

"Louis!" Her breath clung about the name. Henry swallowed an exclamation.

At the whisper the head lifted, and Armand's deep eyes looked at them out of a granite pale face. They went past her as if she had been the air and rested again on Henry.

"Her name?" he asked with an effort.

Anne drew back as if from a tangible blow. She flushed, and her eyes iced with a glint of the old, undying pride. She drew herself up and answered for Henry.

"Anne Tillotson," she said. But in spite of herself a throb of pain beat through the clear words.

A moment's silence, through which the pen wrote slowly. Then Armand rose unsteadily as the lieutenant came forward and thrust the order he had written into his hand.

"Conduct them," he said in a choked voice, and with his salute the tent flaps fell behind him.

"I warrant you found Colonel Armand a brusque cavalier," said the lieutenant as they pounded out of camp. "He is somewhat of a mystery, they say. No one knows where he came from. He joined the army in '77, and Washington took him up because he taught the militia brigades the drill like a French guardsman. He was at Valley Forge, too, and in New Jersey under Lafayette. He enlisted a legion of his own. It was cut to pieces at Camden. He's young, too, but he fights like Mad Anthony Wayne."

Anne had no reply to make. In the darkness she leaned her head to her horse's mane and wept with a rage of tears.

"He is fighting for us," she told herself over and over with a thrill, and ended it as often with a mental wail.

"But he will never forgive me—never—never—never!"

CHAPTER XVIII.

HENRY contrived to send early news of Anne's safety to Castle Hill, so that when she returned there she found the household undisturbed.

The sound of war had moved eastward down the peninsula. Lafayette, the "boy," who the British commander wrote could not escape him, without sufficient men to meet his adversary went playing chase the fox. He hung on Cornwallis' flanks, covering the American stores, anticipated his moves, harassed him, worried him with a thousand pin pricks. In return Tarleton and Simcoe played their wanton mischief, slaughtered the cattle, cut the throats of the young horses, destroyed the growing corn and tobacco and burned the barns. The path of the British front remained a trail of ruin and desolation.

Anne's sight of Armand at the river camp had seared her heart with a wish to be less far from him. She dreamed of battlefields on which he lay dying—and she still misunderstood, still unforgiven.

Letters meantime came from Betsy Byrd. Her father had been failing in health, was taking no part in the struggle, and so far Westover had been in no way molested. Francis was a captain in Weedon's regiment.

"Only think, dear," wrote Betsy, "'tis the same old man who kept the tavern at Fredericksburg. To think of Frank serving under him!" An unconscious indication of the maternal leanings.

If other were needed, it was easily to be found. General Arnold had stopped for dinner on his raid upon Richmond, and Cornwallis had crossed the river at Westover and had been entertained. Pages were devoted to a description of Tarleton, over whom Betsy went into raptures.

Spurred by her craving for nearer news of the armies than reached Charlottesville, Anne answered in person the invitation the letters held, rode to Richmond with Henry when he returned from the assembly at Staunton, and from Richmond came in two hours' sail to Westover.

The war had touched Mrs. Byrd lightly. She was as handsome and as peppery as ever and exhibited a certainty of British plans which Anne had occasion to remember later when there were no gentle whispers of investigating the self satisfied lady's conduct. She treated the visitor, however, on this occasion with consideration and refrained from using the word "rebel" oftener than she deemed necessary. Nor did she gibe at Francis' commission in the Continental army.

A week spent at Westover, the Byrd pinnace took Anne down the river to Burwell's, a proceeding at which Mrs. Byrd feebly protested, as the place was within a half dozen miles of Williamsburg, now the center of activity of both armies. But Anne reminded her that Colonel Tillotson was with Governor Nelson's militia in the neighborhood and would not be dissuaded.

The first hours of her arrival at Burwell's were gilded by two bits of news—one that her uncle was daily expected there, the other that Gladden Hall was as yet undisturbed.

But this latter gleam was soon to be clouded. Mammy Evaline appeared the morning after Anne's arrival, half crazed with grief and fear that was not appeased by the unexpected sight of her mistress.

She threw herself in a quivering heap and clasped Anne's feet.

"Lor' bress yo', honey!" she sobbed. "Dee' come at las'! Co'nwallis done ransack Gladden Hall las' night, en he sojers kyar'd meh 'po' boy erway wid 'em. Whut's we ter do, honey? Dee's dar now. Yo' reck'n dee done kilt him yit?"

An hour later Anne took the Yorktown highroad, mounted on the least tempting of the horses the Burwells kept hidden in the woods. Opposite Williamsburg she climbed a knoll, but could see little sign of life in its deserted streets. Small wonder, for Cornwallis was only a handful of miles away. Here she turned to her left into an unused bridle path leading by a short cut to Gladden Hall.

She went bodly enough, with many self assurances, and so, a bare half mile from the gates, rode full tilt upon a group of British soldiery resting in the shade.

They sprang to their feet as her horse went back upon his haunches, and two of them seized his bridle, but dropped it at a word from an officer. The latter came forward.

"Your pardon, mistress," he said courteously, but firmly. "You cannot pass farther in this direction."

"Why not?" she asked calmly. "'Tis the first time I was ever denied entrance to my own home."

He bowed now, with hat in his hand. "General Cornwallis occupies the house at present as his own quarters."

"In that case," he responded, "you may pass. I shall take pleasure in escorting you. I am one of the general's aids."

He mounted, and they rode in silence to the gates. Here and there a picket stepped from the roadside, but saluted as he saw her guide.

The aid stood aside as she entered the hall. Through the half open door of the drawing room she saw braided uniforms grouped about a table from which floated out the sound of laughter and the clink and tinkle of glasses, filled from the cellars.

"And they tell me," rolled a full voice, with a bantering chord in it, "that you would have snared the lot of them at Charlottesville were it not for a girl. Fie, colonel! A dragoon should have a sterner heart! Come, now, make a clean breast of it. Who was the light heeled damsel?"

Anne went red and white at this contretemps, and Tarleton sprang up with such an exclamation that Lord Cornwallis, who had risen also, looked astonishment from one to the other. Then the commander caught the situation and laughed, as did the whole company.

The merriment sent resentment to Anne's face, and the general sobered instantly into courteous contrition.

"You bear easy honors, mistress," he said, "therefore overlook our hilarity, which, I do protest, was yet ill timed in the pain which the hard usage of such a noble mansion must bring. I regret," he added, "that such things must be. War is not a tender game, and beauty must suffer with the rest."

"You mistake," she told him, quickly. "I come not to complain, but to ask a favor. A negro was taken on this property and is now held by your men. He has been my own body servant all my life. Surely you cannot lack for servants. I ask you now to give him back to me."

"It's the nigger named John the Baptist, I presume, sir," suggested one of the officers. "Colonel Dundas has him."

Cornwallis bowed, with an easy, good humored smile on his big, confident, masterful face. "We who enjoy the hospitality of this mansion can scarce refuse so light a favor to her who, under happier circumstances, should be our hostess. You shall have your body servant, mistress."

"I thank your lordship," said Anne, with dignity.

Seating himself, Cornwallis wrote a hasty line, folded the paper and handed it to her.

"Colonel Dundas' brigade lies with Simcoe at Spencer's ordinary on the Williamsburg road," he said. "He will give you return passes."

The officers rose as she swept a low courtesy from the threshold. The aid held her stirrup with deference, and she cantered down through the gates and took the west road with a joyfully beating heart and the written order in the pocket of her gown.

But she did not finish the journey. She had fared scarce half the way when a far popping came from the distance. The next hill showed puffs of smoke hanging above the trees, and she knew that the sound was the rattle of engaging musketry. Could her eye have pierced beneath that foliage she would have seen the first skirmish of Lafayette's campaign, the brilliant charge of McPherson's dragoons upon Simcoe's rangers.

She had pulled up, startled at the sound, when a low but familiar voice called her from the thicket.

"John the Baptist!" she cried.

"Yas'm, Mis' Anne, et's me," he responded, with a moist grin, parting the bushes. "I warn' gwinter curry no Brittisher hosses long. 'Twarn' no use'n 'em wallopin' me—meh hide's tougher'n whit leather."

"They let you go?"

He threw back his head like a baying hound and laughed loosely.

"Norm! Dem squinch eyed scoun'ls nuvver let nuttin' go. I kep' meh eyes skunt en tuk ter de bresh dis ve'y mawnin' slicker'n er weasel. Greased lightnin' couldn't ketch me! Whut yo' doin' heah, Mis' Anne? Whar yo' been?"

"At Burwell's."

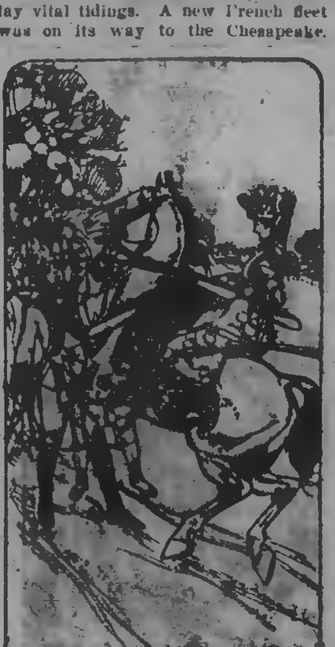
"Yo' jes' ride lickety cut down dar ergain. Dat's de bes' place. 'Speck Mars' John be down dar 'treckly."

* * * * * * *

For a fortnight Burwell's heard the grind and rush of the armies so near. At length this lulled. Cornwallis had withdrawn sullenly into Yorktown.

Then in early September a momentous message flew from lip to lip: Washington was coming! The wary commander in chief, pretending plans against New York, had led Sir Henry Clinton to recall part of his force from the Chesapeake and then, turning front, had marched with speed for Virginia, where Cornwallis lay with all his army in the elbow of the bay, leisurely fortifying.

Back of this swift march of 400 miles lay vital tidings. A new French fleet was on its way to the Chesapeake.



Two of them seized his bridle.

Lafayette drew his troops between the British and a retreat into the Carolinas. The patriot army was hastening down upon them from the north. Would Clinton scent danger and send ships to snatch Cornwallis from the closing jaws, or would the French fleet come in time to block the sea way out?

But Virginia knew nothing of this at first. She only knew that Washington was coming.

One night Anne was awakened to an unusual sight. Out on the jasper colored river came a succession of huge barges, and from them, above the plash of oars and creak of cordage, rose the hum of a multitude. She leaned far from the window to listen. How like phantom shadows the bristling floats swept past! "What can it be?" she cried.

"'Tis the French, come in the fleet of De Grasse," said Mr. Burwell. "It must now be at anchor in Hampton Roads. Thank God! Thank God!"

There was a thrill of rejoicing in his tone, but Anne's heart beat painfully. Hope and help were come to her land—to Virginia the beautiful, the tragic, the tender. The first promise of this help had come to it when strong arm called to counsel and counsel to strong arm and both feared to answer. And he who bore that message? Denied by her lips that called to him, dishonored by her hand that ached for a touch of him, what thought now had his heart for her?

The dark shapes passed on to the notch of Jamestown island that night and disgorged an army. Silently they filed up Archer's Hope creek and drew, with Lafayette's troops, the fatal cordon about Yorktown.

The fleet that brought them lay in the river mouth below, and when the British ships which Cornwallis had been promised hove to that same day, with fourteen hundred guns, De Grasse's watchful frigates battered them away.

On the day Washington's allied armies marched into Williamsburg, Anne stood with Colonel Tillotson on the steps of the capitol to see them pass. The Continentals were ragged, worn with painful marches in heat and rain, with stained rags covering old wounds, but with the unquenchable resolve in their faces. Rochambeau's French were uniformed in white, with rose colored facings, eager, debonair, carrying gold wrought standards that caught the sun.

Anne watched through smarting eyes. Somewhere, waiting these, among those other troops lying panting against the hills nearer Yorktown, was the one face which meant the whole war—the whole world—to her.

Steadily, under the enemy's fire, batteries rose along the parallels. From one to another of these rode Knox, placing his gunners, his round, jovial face creased in smiles, in his element at last. And these gunners for five days, from sunrise to sunset, hurled iron and flame upon the defenses.

The inner parallels crept toward the river bank, tightening the line. Here their advance was stayed by a redoubt on the high bank, thirty feet above the river. It had resisted all the force of the gunners.

"If we take that redoubt," said Washington to Knox on the afternoon of the fifth day of the bombardment, "Cornwallis must surrender."

Colonel Armand, with a handful of his troopers, reconnoitered that afternoon on the right, came near the river and in advance of the foremost American battery. From the redoubts far to the left came a scattering whistle of grape and now and then the grinding belch of a carronade. The air was full of the heavy, pungent smell of burned powder and the reeking scent of fresh turned earth.

His gaze had sought the wide river for a moment and turned up the stream with a look that was fixed and far away.

The voice recalled him. "Bring him here."

The man brought before him looked with a start, then smiled with a gleam of mockery on his ruddy lips. Armand's face was immovable.

"Still the same, colonel," the newcomer flaunted, with a glance at the other's uniform. "Still Captain Jarrat. My Philadelphia wound, as you see, proved not so bad. I am on my way now out of the precious rat trap yonder. I have small liking for these peculiar delays. Suppose you scribble me a pass through the lines."

"Sergeant," said Armand, "take this man to the trench and give him ten minutes to go back to his own redoubts."

A swarthy red came to Jarrat's face. "I would speak with you alone a moment. I have a communication to make."

At Armand's nod the others fell back. "What is your communication?" he asked sternly.

"You have covered your past very well, but I know you. Do you remember that day at the congress? Well, I am not dumb. Now, will you let me go?"

For answer Armand recalled his sergeant. "Give this man ten lashes," he commanded, "before you start him from the trench."

"Aye," said Armand slowly. "One for each stroke you gave the bondwoman at Gladden Hall."

The prisoner multiplied imprecations as they prepared his punishment, but took the blows in stony silence. Then he walked to the trench, tied a kerchief about his arm and, shaking his fist with a last livid curse at his captor, fled toward the fortifications.

That evening General Moses Hazen sat in his tent, the headquarters nearest the firing line on the right rear of the investing trenches, reading a closely written note. The handwriting, though unfamiliar to him, was that of Captain Jarrat. As he read and reread it, lines of perplexity came into his strong Canadian face.

"How was this brought?" he asked his orderly.

"With a dispatch flag from the eastern redoubt, sir," was the answer.

He was still perusing it when the orderly entered the tent to announce Colonel Armand. The general swore softly, crumpled the letter in his hand, hesitated, then nodded assent. His eyes were sharp gray, inset, and they fixed themselves intently on the officer as he entered.

"I am informed, General Hazen," said Armand, saluting, "that you have in charge the makeup of a column which will storm the enemy's tenth redoubt tonight."

"Yes."

"I wish to volunteer."

The general's keen eyes looked into Armand's steady ones. Then he rumpled his wig in thought.

"I accept your services," he said at length. "Colonel Alexander Hamilton will be in command. You will report to him at the right of the first parallel at dusk."

As the other passed out the general smoothed open the letter again. "And yet," he said slowly to himself, "Benedict Arnold was also a brave man."

* * * * * * *

At dusk in the muck-black trenches lay 400 men, compact, wide eyed, waiting the signal for storming. The earth silence was profound, and through it their breathing swelled like a ghostly tide. The hanging sky formed a whitish arch under which all movements seemed at a distance vague and formless. A spattering rain was dropping, and fitful jags of lightning knifed the low clouds. From the rear an occasional mortar was groaning, and from time to time a fiery rocket trail passed with a raucous shrieking overhead—a shot from the British batteries.

Met With Accident on Way to Church

Lakefield Lady Was Severely Injured.

Special to the Review.

Lakefield, March 20. —Mrs. Bygott mother of Mr. J. M. Bygott, met with a serious accident on Sunday last, which will confine her to the house for an indefinite period.

Mrs Bygott slipped and fell on the sidewalk on her way to church and broke her thigh.

OBITUARY

ISABEL STEWART.

The death occurred early this morning of Isabella Stewart, at the residence of her sister, Mrs. James Tighe, Roger street, after an illness of some weeks duration, from a cancer. The deceased was sixty-four years of age, and was born in County Donegal, Ireland. She came to this country when quite young, and settled in Peterborough, where she had resided practically all her life. She was the daughter of the late Matthew Stewart. The deceased was a highly respected citizen and a faithful member of St. Luke's church.

Two sisters and two brothers are left to mourn her loss. The sisters are Mrs. Jas. Tighe and Mrs. Wm. Tighe of east city, and the brothers are Mr. Jas. Stewart of east city, and Mr. Hugh Stewart of Marinetta, Wis.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at three o'clock from the residence of Mr. Jas. Tighe, Rogers street, to St. Luke's church, and thence to the Little Lake cemetery.

SITTING FALLS ON GOOD FRIDAY

It is understood that a change will have to be made in the date of the next sitting of the Division Court. In the list of sittings arranged by the judge, a sitting is fixed for Friday, March 29th. As this is Good Friday, and a public holiday, it is likely that some arrangement will be made, whereby the court will be held on some other day.

Saw Mills are Very Busy—Death of Well Known Resident

Special to the Review.

Apsley, March 18.—We are having fine weather at present. The crows have returned.

The mills in our vicinity are doing a good business. They are getting their cuts nearly finished.

Mrs. Geo. Wilson is very ill at present. Hopes are entertained of her recovery. Two doctors are in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Weir, of Harvey were in the vicinity last week attending the funeral of the latter's mother, Mrs. Jno. Bullird. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in their affliction.

We are glad to learn that Miss Katie Bullied is recovering from her recent illness.

Spring Assizes on April 8th

His Honor Justice Riddell Will be Presiding Judge

The regular Spring Assizes of the High Court of Justice will open at the court house on Monday, April 8th. His Honor Justice Riddell will be the presiding judge and there is a lengthy list of cases to be disposed of. It is expected that some of them will take up considerable time, and are said to be of an unusually interesting nature.

Chemong Ice is 28 Inches Thick

The ice across the Chemong Lake is still twenty eight inches thick, and loads are being hauled across the broad expanse of water, between Smith and Ennismore. This was the statement made today by Mr. Dan Whetung of Chemong, who was in Peterborough. Mr. Whetung stated that if the weather remained as it is at present, the ice on the lake would not break up for some time.

While in Peterborough today, Mr. Whetung called at the Review office and subscribed to the Daily Review. He desires to keep in touch with the latest happenings and placed his subscription accordingly.

ST. LUKE'S, ASHBURNHAM

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, will hold his weekly cottage meeting on Thursday, March 28th, at the residence of Mrs. Mark Curtis at eight o'clock.

A cottage meeting will be held at the residence of Mr. John Dixon, Drummond station, Otonabee, on Tuesday, March 26, at eight o'clock.

GOVERNMENT TO PROVIDE RIFLE RANGES FOR 57TH REGIMENT, PETERBORO' RANGERS

Major Mansell, Chief Engineer of the Militia Department, Was Here the First of the Week and Looked Over Several Likely Sites—Government Will Bear the Cost—Location Near Millburn's Hill is Looked Upon With Favor.

Negotiations are under way for the purchase of a rifle range for the 57th regiment, Peterborough Rangers. In all probability the range will be in condition for this season as no time is going to be lost. This will be gratifying news to the members of the regiment and to all lovers of good marksmanship.

MAJOR MANSELL HERE.

Major Mansell, chief engineer of the engineering branch of Militia Department, with headquarters at Ottawa, arrived in Peterborough on Saturday and remained here over Sunday. He was in consultation with Col. Miller, regarding the purchase of land for a rifle range for the local regiment and together they looked over several sites which are suitable for the purpose required. Among them were the Curtis farm, where the old range was located, and another property in Smith township between the second line and the Chemong road. If this site is chosen for the ranges the butts will be near Milburn's hill and the marksmen will shoot in that direction. Major Mansell took careful notes of the places visited and was satisfied that there would be no difficulty in securing a suitable location for the range.

FURTHER DETAILS

Major Mansell will shortly send a subordinate officer to Peterborough to secure further details and when this had been done it is expected that the government will purchase the land and proceed with the erection of the butts. It is understood that the Milburn site is looked upon with favor by local marksmen. It is easy of access and can be reached in a comparatively short time.

The range will cost the local regiment practically nothing. The government will pay for the land and bear the cost of putting into shape for shooting. A large tract of land will have to be purchased as there will have to be provision for firing over as long a range as 1200 yards.

NO RANGES LAST YEAR.

The 57th regiment was without rifle ranges last year and as a result the work of the corps was hampered to a considerable extent. Unless the members of a regiment are fairly proficient in marksmanship the efficiency of the corps is largely detracted from. To be able to shoot is one of the first essentials of a good soldier and it will be pleasing news that the 57th regiment is going to be provided with facilites for acquiring skill with the rifle.

Despite the fact that the local sharpshooters had no ranges upon which to practice last year they made an excellent showing at the D.R.A. meet at Ottawa last fall. Had they had facilities for practice during the summer there is no doubt but what they would have done much better.

It is to be hoped that the Government will lose no time in the matter of providing ranges for Peterborough's soldiers. With the new armouries and new ranges the regiment would boom as it never has before.

Work on Southern Outlet of Canal to be Proceeded With An Appropriation for This Purpose Will be Put in the Supplementary Estimates—This is the Inference From Hon. Mr. Emmerson's Reply to the Deputation.

(Special to Review)

Ottawa, March 20.

An appropriation sufficiently large to permit the Trent Canal to be proceeded with this summer, will appear in the supplementary estimates, which will be placed before Parliament during the next few days. Such is the only inference which could be taken from Hon. Mr. Emmerson's address to the large deputation from Peterborough, Campbellford and surrounding district this morning. The conference was held in the committee room of the Department of Railways and Canals, and there were present, fully one hundred and fifty representative men interested in the canal work. With Mr. Emmerson were Hon. R. W. Scott, and Hon. Wm. Patterson, and they both briefly addressed the deputation.

HON. H. R. EMMERSON
Minister of Railways and Canals.

The delegates met in the Windsor work on southern Hotel at 11.45 and went to Parliament Buildings in a body. They made a deep impression upon the government, and the work on that portion of the Trent Canal, between Rice Lake and Trenton will be started this summer. The speakers for the deputation were Mr. R. R. Hall, M. P., Mayor McWilliams and Mayor Doxsee and Mr. A. A. Mulholland, of Campbellford, Warden P. McNulty, and Dr. Jacks of Trenton.

New Officers Being Added to Strength of Regiment

There will be several changes in the personnel of the officers of the 57th Regiment, when the corps goes on parade this year. The departure of Major Dennistoun has caused a small shuffle among the officers of the regiment. There has been a general moving up the line as the result of the retirement of Major Dennistoun. Three new second lieutenants have been added to the strength of the corps, and they have already been sworn in. They are R. N. Merritt, A. G. Carruthers and Dr. Cameron.

Arrangements are now being made for the opening of the drill season early in April. A meeting of the officers will be held shortly to get everything in readiness and to arrive at a decision regarding the annual trip of the regiment. At the last meeting of the officers a committee was appointed to deal with the matter, and they will make a report when they meet again.

Where is Wm. Williams? Been Missing Since Sunday

Wm. Williams, of this city, who boarded on Dalhousie street, has disappeared, and the people he boarded with are looking for him. On Sunday last about 3 o'clock, he went out for a walk and has not been seen since. He is a man about 35 years of age. His height is five feet, seven inches has fair complexion, long black hair, clean shaven and broad face. When he left on Sunday he wore a suit of dark clothes. His board was also paid a week in advance.

His disappearance has been reported to the police and they will be pleased to hear if any one knows anything of the missing man. His boarding house people are anxious to know of his whereabouts.

Ancient Foresters Express Sympathy

Court Peterborough, No. 7680, A. O.F. has forwarded the following resolution of condolence to Mrs. Richard Foster and family;

To Mrs. Foster and family.;

We, the officers and members of Court Stanley, No. 7680, A.O.F., desire to express to yourself and family our sincere sympathy in this, your hour of sorrow. Your late husband was very highly esteemed by us as a friend and brother. We shall not soon forget him, but shall mourn his departure from our midst. We can but offer our consolation to you by pointing out that we believe he is gone to a better home, prepared by our elder brother, Our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, in whom the weary heart and sorrow-worn would shall find eternal rest, and we know that your loss and our's is his gain. And although family and fraternal ties are broken here, our prayer is that we all shall meet in the Heavenly Home where there is no more parting, for in Heaven we meet to part no more.

Signed on behalf of Court Stanley, A.O.F.,

T. HENDRY, C.R.
R J McWILLIAMS, Sec.
S. ADLAM, Treas.

AT THE SAME BUSINESS

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I see in last night's issue of the Review that I have been styled a lath manufacturer, and that I have discarded my business as sign and house painter.

Now, I have not had any dealing in laths, nor do I intend having any, I must say that I desire the Review to contradict the statement and let the people of Peterborough know that I am still in the same old business, and in the same old place.

Yours, etc.,

Popular Young Man Dies at Craigmont—Making Maple Sugar

Norwood, March, 18.—Word was received here on Monday by his friends, of the serious illness of Mr Thos. Graham, who has been working in the mines at Craigmont, north of Bancroft. Immediately Mr. Fred Robertson, his brother-in-law, left for that place, to do what he could in his behalf. The word sent held out very little hope for Mr. Graham's recovery. Mr. Graham is well known in Norwood, he having been born and brought up near the village. He is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham, of Asphodel. He is remembered here as one of the old Norwood football team.

Mr. George Davidson, of Brighton, is visiting his uncle, Mr. A. Davidson, Belmont street.

The farm and farm stock and implements of the late Wm. A. Howson, Hastings road, will be sold by auction on Wednesday, March 27th. This will be an important sale as Mr. Howson had a well stocked farm both in domestic animals and in machinery. The farm, which will also be sold, is in a good situation being only about two miles from Norwood and in a good state of cultivation.

A RUNAWAY.

Mr. John Fitzpatrick, of Asphodel, had the misfortune to be thrown from his cutter last Saturday, but was not seriously injured, although he was dragged a considerable distance by the lines before able to stop his horse.

The hotel property known as the King's Hotel, will be sold by auction on Wednesday, March 20.

Word has just been received here that Mr. Thos. Graham has succumbed to an attack of pneumonia. The remains will arrive on the C. P.R. 4.40 train on Wednesday.

OFF FOR OTTAWA

A deputation composed of the village council and also the township councils of this vicinity, went to Ottawa by special train on Tuesday to wait on the Government re the Trent Canal.

SAP'S RUNNIN'

The farmers are preparing for the sugar making season. The buckets and evaporators are being overhauled and supplies of new one's purchased, and everything put in readiness for the balmy days to come when the sugar maples will weep tears of gladness for the return of spring and the happy farmer shall go forth in the morning when the warm sun sheds his delightful rays after a night of frost. Then shall the trees drop their sweetness and the evaporators shall evaporate and the taffy pullers shall pull taffy and the small boy shall be happy, and the hens' nests will be jealously watched, for who will not remember the gusto with which, in his young days, he ate the eggs boiled in the sap and all around everybody was happy. And even today one can look back to the sugar making season as one of the happiest seasons of the year.

A little more taffy, please.

Will Master Bakers' Convention Meet in Peterboro This Year?

Decision Will be Reached This Afternoon by the Executive—Prominent Members Visit the City.

Will the next convention of the Master Baker's Association, come to Peterborough?

That is the question, which is being considered by the executive of the association, which is meeting at the Oriental Hotel, this afternoon. Messrs. R. J. Williamson, M. Bredin, R. E. Trent, Z. Hilton, and A. W. Carrick, of Toronto; A. Ewing of Hamilton, and Wm. Pratt, of Cobourg, members of the executive, came to the city last night. Today they are on a tour of inspection of the city. They have been asked to bring the convention here, and it is for the purpose of getting all the information possible, that they are in the city.

It is hoped that the executive will decide to hold the gathering here, and the local bakers will do all they can. The convention would mean a great deal to the city. There would be two hundred or more Master Bakers assemble for two or three days. Cheap rates would be given on railways.

Last year the convention was held in the City of London, in the month of July. An effort was made to hold it here last year, but was unsuccessful.

At the meeting today, will be decided the place and date of the convention.

The Spring Overcoat

Because a man can go without a Spring Overcoat at a pinch, sweltering in his winter overcoat or shivering without any over-garment at all through the weeks that span the interval from real winter to real summer, this garment has become a sort of badge of prosperity.

THE COAT

that has the most admirers this season is the Three-quarter Length Overcoat in Black or Oxford Gray. The long Swagger Raincoats in Coverts and Thibets, and the swellest of the swell Coats, the Paddock, with long handsome Skirts in Plain Gray and Black Thibets.

Black Vicuna, Three-quarter Length, at $13.00
Gray Thibet, Three-quarter Length, at $15.60
Covert Rain Coats, long swagger, at $10 and $12
Vicuna and Covert, in Paddock style, $16, $18 & $25

Our Coats have hand-padded shoulders, hand-made collars, with the best of hair cloth fronts. Some are handsomely silk lined and very luxurious garments.

FIRE DRILLS

The Canadian Mute says fire drill is now held twice a week at the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb. This was one of the first things to which Superintendent Coughlin gave his attention when he assumed office, and, with the assistance of Mr. W. J. Campbell and Mr. C. J. Peppin, he has devised what is perhaps the most complete and comprehensive system of fire drill to be found in any school for the deaf on the continent.

GRAND EASTER CONCERT.

A grand Easter Concert will be given by the Peterborough Conservatory of Music in the Charlotte street school room on Easter Monday, under the auspices of the Young Men's Guild of Charlotte street church. The soloists will be Miss Adamson, violinist, of Toronto; and Mr. Henry A. Laoutz, tenor, of Toronto. The Madrigal Club of the Conservatory, and the Conservatory orchestra, will also take part.

AN ANGLER'S ELYSIUM.

According to a advertisements, all summer resorts are alike. They are the best ever—but if fishing is better anywhere else than it is in 'Georgian Bay," we do not know where it is. There is a greater variety of fish in this water than anywhere else and they are always hungry. No one ever counted the fish in the Georgian Bay, but those that have been counted and eaten, and if you read the Government reports on fisheries, you know that Georgian Bay, supplies more fish than any other equal body of water in the world. The only place you can afford to fish is where the fish are numerous, big and delicious in flavor, and that place is Georgian Bay—so the fishermen say. Suppose you send for booklet, issued by The Grand Trunk Railway System, free, telling about the home of the bass, pickerel, pike and the noble trout family. Address J. D. Petition Should Not be Granted

No Necessity for Overhanging Signs of Merchants

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—That petition by some of our storekeepers and others having ground floor fronts, asking for the right to use overhanging signs, contrary to the by-law, should not be granted, for the simple reason that there is no necessity for it, because their wide fronts admit of sufficient space to extend their signs along and in a line with the front walls of the buildings over their doors, as well as on their windows beneath, as is now done. Then, why do they want to disfigure our streets and obstruct the view. Besides, it is only some of them that seek to usurp the right to thus unlawfully use such signs. The offer of a bribe to pay a small license fee would be the thin edge of the wedge to let in all sorts of obstructions as a right, if this were once conceded, and there is no telling where it would all end, and thus would the very object of the by-law be frustrated, and our streets would present an inartistic mass of cheap John signboards, with all the colors of the rainbow. Dear knows we are taxed enough already without adding another burden to our woes. It is true that the air we breathe is not taxed, but that is because of its impurity. Of course the foregoing remarks do not apply to those living in the upper flats and having narrow entrances, and no other front space on the street, but even in this case their signs should should be under some supervision.

Yours, etc.,
ESTHETIQUE.

No Curling During July and August

Mournful Message Inscribed at the Charlotte Street Rink

"The management have decided to suspend curling during the months of July and August of the present year." This is the notice that someone, with a humorous touch, has written on the blackboard at the curling rink. It caused considerable amusement among those who visited the rink today. The ice is still in good condition and several games were played yesterday. The rinks will be in good condition for several days yet, if the weather remains as cool as it is at present.

TELEGRAM WISDOM!

List to this from the Telegram; "Peterborough has some slight desire to play senior. Then Orillia and Peterborough could look back to the good old days, ere Bolton Kean got into the milk business and Lionel King strayed away from home. Four games, two in each town, would furnish enough excitement for the sunny summer time. Then, when the leaves begin to turn, the winners could play off with the winners of the Big Five. We teach you everything from the plainest shirt waist to the most elaborate toilette that can be found in the fashion books. We show you how to put together not only the lining but all the outer goods in entire skirts, [illegible], waists, sleeves, collars, etc. Why spend months at a dressmaking shop where you do nothing but hem, overcast, sew on hooks and eyes, and then after you have served months there What do you know about cutting? Absolutely nothing, for you will know no more how to cut out a dress at the end of a year than you did just the day you went there. So why spend your time there when we can teach you in two weeks. You can come and try for a week and see for yourself what its like as there is nothing to be paid in advance you certainly would not lose anything by trying. We have taught over 2,000 this way within the past 6 years in Western Ontario and all recomend it very highly.

Charge for full course is only $10 to be paid when course is completed if satisfied including one of most perfect fitting systems in use which we give free. We guarantee that the waists made by this chart will not draw nor pull out of skirt when raising arm.

AN EVENING CLASS will also be taught. In this class we will teach shirt waists, sleeves, and saques. This course will be $4.00 and hours from 7 to 9. We will teach at Peterboro from April 8th to April 20th. Hours for day class from 9 to 5. All wishing to learn be sure to see us at the Oriental Hotel on Saturday April 6th between 10 and 5 o'clock. This is positively the last class we will teach at Peterboro this year.

Interesting Debate Held Last Night

Between St. Andrew's Guild and Y.M.C.A. Debating Club

A most interesting and profitable time was spent last evening by the large number who attended the regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Guild of St. Andrew's church. A deputation from the Y.M.C.A. debating club were present and a debate was held, the Young Men's Guild upholding the affirmative side and the Y. M. C. A. fighting the negative. The debate was, "Resolved that labor receives an equitable share of what it produces. The affirmative speakers were Messrs. W. Richardson, and W. Langford, and the negative speakers were Messrs. Shiner and Lillie. The judges, who were Messrs. H. R. H. Kenner, C. E. Anderson and W. McLaren, gave their decision in favor of the negative.

Shortly after eight o'clock, the meeting was called to order by the president, Mr. Richardson. After the business of the evening had been concluded, Mr. W. S. Campbell was voted to the chair. After welcoming those present, the chairman asked the debaters to take their places.

Mr. Will Richardson, the leader of the affirmative was the first speaker. He began by defining the words "labor" and "capital". Labor was [illegible], and capital was the money invested in same work. The capital played the most important part. The wages of labor was regulated by the demand. It was capital that caused new factories to be built in this city, and as a result of the new factories the laboring man's wages was increased considerably. The speaker spoke of the opposition to capital. There was also a great deal of risk. It was the owners of the factories who suffered most if it was burned, not the laborers. He considered laborers were well paid. Labor is exceedingly high, and where one could start in business a few years ago, with $1,000, it now takes $2,000.

Mr. Shiner of the negative was next heard. He said capital was wealth, destined to be consumed in production of wealth. Capital he considered was a servant of labor. He thought if two men did the same amount of work they should receive the same amount of money. Laborers do not receive wages in proportion to the profits of the capital. In Cobalt men were digging in the mines for $4 a day and speculators were making immense sums of money. Mr. Shiner referred to what the leader of the affirmative had said regarding risk. He stated that the laboring man ran greater risks of life than men with capital.

Mr. Langford of the affirmative, said from hearing the last speaker he would judge he was a socialist. He said that he talked as if labor had done everything. He spoke of competition, and said competition keeps prices down.

Mr. Lillie for the negative, next spoke. He was a very fluent speaker. He referred to one point in the affirmative which spoke of Cobalt capital. He said it was a disgrace to the country. He added that capital and labor were dependent on each other. Capitalists risk money and laborers risk life. He said if labor unions raised wages then merchants and others raised their prices. As soon as times became good, then rents of houses went up. Laborers had not the same opportunity as capitalists.

Mr. Richardson of the affirmative, then made a few remarks, after which the judges retired. Whilst the judges were considering the debate an interesting discussion took place.

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, chairman of the judges, said they gave their decision in favor of the negative. He congratulated the debaters on their splendid showing. The Y. M. C. A. debaters treated the subject better and delivered it more capably than their opponents.

The Young Men's Guild debaters consulted their manuscript too much. Whilst they read well prepared papers, a debate was not for that purpose.

An adjournment was then made to a refreshment room, where a well-prepared banquet by the young ladies, was awaiting them.

After everyone had done justice to the good things, a toast list was run off, Mr. W. S. Campbell acting as toastmaster. "The King," was first honored in the usual manner, after which Mr. Mackay gave a well-rendered vocal solo. The next toast was that to "Our Guests." It was proposed by Mr. Geo. McDonald, and responded to by Mr. Shiner. Mr. Thompson then favored the gentlemen with a vocal solo. "The Ladies," were then honored, Mr. T. R. W. Black proposing the toast, and Messrs. W. McLaren and E. Dormer replying.

A pleasant evening was brought to to a close by singing the national anthem.

The Week's News From Lakefield

Lady's Death is Mourned—Peterborough Minister Gave Lecture.

Special to the Review.

Lakefield, March 20.—Miss Mary Strickland, who has been on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Strickland, for the past few weeks, returned to her home in New York on Monday last.

Mrs. E. R. Tate was in Peterborough on Monday last.

Mr. Arthur Marshall, who has been in the employ of R. Graham & Son, leaves on Saturday next for Toronto, having accepted a position with the Canadian Vacuum Company.

Mr. Brintnell of the Peterborough Radiant Gas Co., is in the village on business connected with his company.

Miss Elizabeth Richardson, eldest daughter of Mr. F. Richardson left for Calgary on Tuesday last, where she has obtained a lucrative position with a leading hardware firm.

CALLED HOME.

With great regret we record the death of Miss Maud Cox, daughter of Mr. Wm. Cox, sr., who succumbed to a lingering illness on Tuesday morning last. Miss Cox was one of the most highly respected and popular ladies in Lakefield and widespread sympathy is felt for her bereaved parents and the family.

Mrs. Evans Atwood, accompanied by her daughter, paid a visit to Toronto on Tuesday last.

Mrs. Richards, of Peterborough, who has been staying with her daughter, Miss Andrews, for the past few days, has returned to her home.

Mr. Alex. MacDonald left last week for his home in Metfort, Sask.

Miss Ella White, who, for some time past has been bookkeeper for Charlton Bros., in this district, left last week for Cobourg, where she has accepted a position in a telegraph office.

Mr. Bagshaw, Anglican lay reader at Buckhorn, spent all last week in visiting the lumber camps up north, prior to spending a few days of well earned rest in Toronto.

LECTURE WAS ENJOYED

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, of Peterborough lectured at the Grove on Tuesday night, his subject being "Success." Needless to say, his lecture, which was an intellectual treat was enjoyed by all who heard it.

Mr. Harry Hayes, of Peterborough, is in the city on a visit to his father, Mr. John Hayes.

LIGHTS WENT OUT.

The town hall was filled with a large and expectant audience on Monday night to view the moving picture illustrating the evil doings of "Peck's Bad Boy." Just as the entertainment was ready to start, the lights went out and no amount of coaxing of the wheel at the power house could set them going again. The entertainment is to be given on Wednesday evening instead.

Mr. Thos. Darcy is hard at work getting his restaurant into shape.

We understand that the all-night telephone service will be inaugurated some time this week.

Miss Kathleen Blomfield is spending a few days in Toronto visiting friends.

Mr. R. Johnson returned on Tuesday from a business trip to Toronto.

BILEANS SHOULD BE ON ALL FARMSTEADS!

"HANDIEST AND BEST HOUSEHOLD MEDICINE"

Farmers and farmer's wives say that Bileans are the handiest and most effective family medicine ever discovered. You have indigestion bad? Two Bileans taken after each meal will rid you of the pains like magic! Constipation, perhaps, is your trouble? Bileans cure it, without causing a single pang of griping! Headache, biliousness, heart trouble, piles and all disorders arising from faulty liver and stomach action, are cured quickly and surely by Bileans.

Mrs. V. Lavonture, of, Beaumont, Alberta, says: "For over ten years I was ailing—could not sleep, had pains, after food, constipation, headache, and seemed without energy. A few boxes of Bileans gave me back my health."

All druggists and stores sell Bileans at 50c per box, or from Bileans Co., Toronto, for price. 6 boxes for $2.50.

JEALOUS, NOT INSANE

Jerome Believes Case Against Thaw is Strong.

Cross-Examination of Experts Drags Along—Affidavit Not Feared By the Defence—What Both Sides Will Plead—Summing Up Commences To-day—Expert Gives Unexpected Answer—Guard Falls Asleep.

New York, March 20.—Unless all signs fail, to-day will see the completion of the evidence of the long-drawn-out Thaw trial, and on Friday the case will go to the jury, after nine full weeks before the court.

Thaw's attorneys stated last night that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw would not be recalled to the witness stand. The only thing she could do would be to again deny that she told Hummel that she had been beaten by Thaw, and deny again that she knew what was in the famous affidavit when she signed it. It is not believed that this would be of any value to the defence, as she has already told all her side of the story. The attorneys for the defence state that they do not consider that the introduction of the affidavit has done their case the slightest harm, while District Attorney Jerome is quoted as saying that he considers it one of the strongest features of his case.

A Day Each For Summing Up.

Under the agreement, each side will stake one day for the summing up. It it probable that Justice Fitzgerald will charge the jury Friday morning, and the case should go to the jury Friday night.

Mr. Delmas, in his address to the jury, will urge the acquittal of Thaw, on the theory that he was temporarily insane at the time he killed White. He will argue that the defence has shown beyond doubt that Thaw's mind was unhinged by the story which Evelyn Nesbit Thaw told him before they were married, and that it was while in a condition of mental irresponsibility that he took White's life. He will attempt to discredit Abraham Hummel, who has testified that Evelyn Thaw told him everything that was in the affidavit, by showing Hummel's record.

Jealous Man's Revenge.

District Attorney Jerome will urge the conviction of Thaw for murder in the first degree. He will claim that there is nothing in the case to show that Thaw suffered from anything more than jealousy, and that his hatred for White, who had been his wife's lover before he married her, with full knowledge of this fact, led him to revenge himself by taking White's life.

The case has been fought to the last ditch by both sides, and what the jury will do no one can tell. In case of a conviction there will, of course, be an immediate motion for a new trial. Mr. Delmas has saved all his exceptions, and his constant objecting may have served to inject reversible error into the case.

The Trial Drags.

District Attorney Jerome yesterday morning continued his cross-examination of Dr. Smith Ely Jelliffee, one of the alienists for the defence.

"In your answer to the hypothetical question, doctor," began Mr. Jerome, "did you interpret the question in the light of facts which are outside the question?"

"Why, in a way, certainly," answered Dr. Jelliffee. "My knowledge of the alphabet allowed me to read the question, but there is nothing about that in the question."

The cross-examination dragged along at great length, and was something of a surprise in view of Mr. Jerome's expeditious handling of the experts Monday.

Thaw is holding up remarkably well, but said yesterday that he, too, was beginning to feel completely tired out. He asked permission yesterday to retire for five minutes, and, when he reached the corridors leading to the prisoners' pen, lighted a cigarette and walked briskly up and down.

During the cross-examination of one of the experts at the afternoon session, Thaw's prison guard created much amusement by falling asleep in his chair.

He slumbered for several minutes, with his chin on his breast, before one of the court attendants gave him a sharp nudge. The guard rubbed his eyes and looked sheepishly about. He stood up during the remainder of the session.

When Dr. Evans, the last of the experts stepped down, Delmas asked permission to introduce in evidence one of the letters sent from Pittsburg by Mr. Lyon. Jerome objected, unless all the letters were admitted. The point was still being argued when adjournment was taken fifteen minutes later than usual.

Thaw Sends Cheque.

Pittsburg, March 20.—Mayor G. W. Guthrie of this city received the following letter from Harry K. Thaw yesterday, in which a cheque for $100 was enclosed to aid persons suffering from the flood of last week.

"Owing to demands upon me, I can only send $100 toward the relief of the sufferers by the unprecedented flood. A cheque for that amount is enclosed."

The mayor replied that no fund had been raised in Pittsburg, but that one had been raised in Allegheny, and asked what disposition should be made of the money.

Wife's Death Killed Him.

Paris, March 20.—Mme. Berthelot, wife of the distinguished professor of chemistry, died yesterday. Prof. Berthelot, when summoned to her deathbed, suffered an attack of syncope, from the effects of which he died.

300,000 Coming to Canada.

Ottawa, March 20.—Indications are that immigrants this year will number 300,000, or 50 per cent. increase over last year. Most of them will come from Great Britain.

French Warship Damaged.

George McLean, for ten years treasurer of the City of Brockville, is dead.

BUY

..SILVER BIRD..

AT 15 CENTS PER SHARE.

DON'T YOU REMEMBER

That within the past year you could have purchased Silver Queen at 80 cents, and that if you had done so you could sell it at $2.10?

Don't you remember that you could have bought Buffalo within the past year at $1.00, and if you had a few shares of it to-day you could sell it at $3.50 per share without any trouble?

And now, again, don't you remember the Temiskaming and Hudson Bay Company offering their shares at 40 cents and begging the dear public to take it? Perhaps you didn't buy any of it, but if you did you could $200.00 to-day for every 40 cents that you put into it.

Now, again, it has only been some two or three months since you could have bought Nancy Helen at $1.00. Perhaps you have some of it. If you have you can get $2.50 per share for it to-day.

Less than one year ago you could have got Nippissing at $4 per share, and if you had it to-day you could sell it at $12 per share.

The same can be said of the Colonial, the Right of Way and other shares. If you had bought them at their first issue price you could sell them to-day at from 300 to 700 per cent. in advance.

If you have not got any of these stocks referred to above, perhaps it is because some wise friend of neighbor advised you not to buy. Perhaps you went to some good and wise friend and said, "What do you think about buying this stock or that stock?" Perhaps he said to you, "Well, I don't know about this Cobalt proposition there may or may not be silver up there. If I were you I would not buy."

Now, are you going to go to your friend again and ask him whether you shall buy some of the first issue of SILVER BIRD at 15 cents per share, or are you going to back your own judgment? Here is the cheapest and best buy that was ever offered in the camp, and at the first issue price of 15c per share—inside property as much so as were any of these other companies of which we have written at the time they were placed upon the market.

Use your own judgment. Be your own money-maker. Don't discount your own business ability. Your own judgment will tell you that SILVER BIRD is a purchase. Look at the map and see where it is. Your own judgment will tell you it is bound to advance you in price. Why hesitate longer? Why not get in on the ground floor and make some money? This first allotment of 200,000 shares is not going to last forever the way it is going. The best evidence as to whether SILVER BIRD is a bargain or not is the fact that we are receiving many reservations from Cobalt.

We want to call your mind to this fact;—If you had placed $500 in Temiskaming and Hudson Bay at its first issue price of 40 cents per share you would now have the neat little fortune of $250,000 at the present market value, and still if you had bought $500 worth of this stock at 40 cents per share perhaps your legal adviser or your kind, wise neighbor or friend would have laughed at you at the time you purchased it and told you you had thrown your money away. Now, don't understand us as inferring that by putting $500 into SILVER BIRD it will be worth $250,000 within the next year. We don't mean to say that. Of course it is possible, but we don't claim it will positively do it. We are only drawing an example of how foolish it is for one man who thinks an investment is a good one asking another man, who knows nothing at all about the investment whatever, whether he thinks it would be well for him to make the investment. We know from personal knowledge that many investors have been kept from investing in the first issues of Cobalt stocks and who have made thousands of dollars simply because some one else advised them to keep out of it. We claim that the greatest profits are made by investing when the first issues are first placed upon the market. Now is the accepted time and the golden opportunity in SILVER BIRD. We firmly believe that Silver Bird will sell in the open market within the next six months at a dollar a share or more. We have come to this conclusion after having had the property thoroughly examined by competent and able mining men of years of experience. SILVER BIRD will never sell at a penny less than it is offered to-day.

We have mentioned the great advances that occurred in Temiskaming and Hudson Bay, in the Nancy Helen, McKinley-Darragh, Silver Queen and the Buffalo. We want to call your attention to the fact that SILVER BIRD is not as far away from the original discovery made by La Rose, on the railway at the point known as the Timmins mine, as these properties are. Let us again call your attention to the fact that Silver Bird is on a direct line with these properties and other properties that have developed far beyond the Silver Bird.

There is no question about it! This is one of the greatest opportunities, taking everything into consideration, that has ever been offered in the Cobalt camp.

Don't get the foolish idea that there is going to be any permanent depreciation in Cobalt mining shares or properties. Cobalt is only in its infancy. Within the present year Cobalt is going to see the greatest boom it ever had—for that matter the greatest boom that has ever occurred in mining shares on the American continent. Every indication points to this; besides, the development and production justify this assertion. The deeper the shafts are sunk the richer the ore becomes. The older the camp the further the developments are spread out from the original discovery.

We believe that NOW IS THE TIME TO MAKE MONEY IN COBALT and within the coming year our judgment will be fully carried out in this respect.

SILVER BIRD is absolutely inside property, consisting of twenty acres (patented), being the west half of the northeast quarter of the north half of lot 3, concession 6, Coleman.

SILVER BIRD is a mine in full operation, with two 25 h.p. boilers, steam hoist, steam drills and all machinery and buildings necessary to complete an operating mine.

SILVER BIRD is working two shafts and is in full operation both day and night, sinking upon three veins and in the same formations identically as in the O'Brien, Timmins and Right of Way mines and lying immediately between those mines and the Green-Meehan, Red Rock, Cobalt, Constant and Nipissing Extension. The veins are broadening out and are increasing in values, with depth now 40 ft. in shaft.

SILVER BIRD has no indebtedness; there are no incumbrances against the property or stock of company. The capitalization of the Silver Bird Cobalt Mines, Limited, is but $1,500,000, par value of shares $1.00 each, full paid and non-assessable, with 500,000 shares in the treasury. The first allotment of 200,000 shares are now offered to the public for subscription at 15 cents per share.

Considering the inside location of the property, development done, results obtained, low capitalization and the large amount of shares in the treasury, this is unquestionably one of the best bargains (if not the greatest bargain) that has been offered in Cobalt mining shares.

We predict this first allotment will be largely over-subscribed and we urge that early application be made.

BIRTHDAY PARTY WAS ENJOYABLE

Many Present at the Y. M. C. A. Last Evening

The "birthday party" at the Y.M.C.A. last night proved a most enjoyable and successful event. The attendance was gratifying, the programme of much merit, and the refreshments all that could be desired. The function was under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary, to the members of which credit is due for the manner in which the arrangements were made and carried out. The admission fee was regulated according to the age of those in attendance. One cent per year was charged, the money being handed in in little sacks of a pretty design which had been sent out with the invitations. The proceeds were most satisfactory and the Auxiliary will add considerably to their finances as a result of their enterprise.

The programme was an excellent one and was received with much applause. It consisted of an instrumental solo by Mr. Chas. Ackerman, two vocal solos by Miss Lillian Moore, two recitations by Miss Greta LeBar, violin solo by Miss Crothers, instrumental solo by Miss Lottie Davidson, two recitations by Miss Henderson of Montreal, and an instrumental by Miss M. Meldrum. Several encores were demanded and generously responded to by those taking part.

The refreshments were served in an adjoining room. This department was in charge of Mrs. Meredith, convener of the social committee, and the following assisted; Mrs. Herding, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Mason, and others. A candy booth, where many toothsome articles were on sale did a good business. It was in charge of Mrs. Foote and Mrs Dixon, with the following assistants; Miss Garbutt, Miss Elliott, and Miss E. Ackerman.

The Ladies' Auxiliary desires to thank those who so kindly assisted in the programme and all others who assisted in making the function the success it was. Credit is due Miss Stella Ackerman, secretary of the Auxiliary, for her part in making the arrangements.

The guests were received last night by Mrs. Mason, president of the Auxiliary, and Mrs. Davidson, vice-president.

Large Addition Will be Erected

By Mr. Brooks to the South Beach Hotel—Bright Prospects for Season

Mr. W. E. Brooks proprietor of the popular hotel at South Beach, Young's Point, was in the city yesterday.

Mr Brooks will this spring erect a large addition to his hotel. It will have ample accommodation for dancing and will add greatly to the comfort and convenience of this well managed resort. Already Mr. Brooks is receiving numerous inquiries with reference to summer visitors, and the prospects are that South Beach this season will be more largely patronized than ever.

Former Peterboro' Man Writes About the Canadian West

The Rapid Development of Alberta Along Agricultural Lines—Department of Agriculture Progressive—Reports of Severe Weather Exaggerated.

Peterborough people are always pleased to hear from former citizens who are now residing in the Canadian West. There are many ties that bind the East and West together that their interests might be said to be mutual. The following letter, which has been received from Col. E. B. Edwards, now of Edmonton, will be read with much interest here:—

Dear Sir,—There was held here during the first week of March a Stock Judging Show, which interested me very much, as indicating the progressive and practical spirit of this part of the country. It may be of interest also of people in the east. The Department of Agriculture of the Province of Alberta procured two large palace stock cars from Chicago, each of them one and one half times the size of an ordinary car, and got together a number of fine specimens of stock consisting of ten horses, four sheep, ten hogs, and thirty-six cattle—sixty animals in all—and sent them under the charge of a number of competent instructors to different points in the province where the stock Judging Schools were held. These schools were held at nine places in all; seven of them lasting one week and two of them two weeks each, making eleven weeks in all. The school at Edmonton lasted two weeks. There were from sixty to eighty farmers regularly in attendance through the fortnight, and at some of the classes there were as high as one hundred and fifty present. There were six instructors who took the work in turn. The mode of instruction was practical and thorough. A number of animals were brought in, and the instructor taking an animal of a particular breed, such as the Short Horn, explained the points required in an animal of the highest type of that breed. The members of the school were given an opportunity to examine the animals carefully, and they were then required to set down on cards, which were furnished to them, the number of points which they would give to each of the animals, taking every part in detail, from the nose to the tail. These were compared and commented upon by the instructor. Individual members of the school were also called upon to come forward and describe the different points of the animal, showing the reasons for preferring one to the other. The classes were held each morning and afternoon, and addresses with lantern views were also given on several evenings. At the close a competitive examination of the class was held. The class of farmers who were present and their keenness in the work impressed me with the idea that great things might be expected for this country. And for a new government in a new country to adopt such a thorough and practical method of assisting the farmers to perfect themselves in their work seemed to me most remarkable. At one of the sessions the Lieutenant-Governor and members of the Legislature attended.

SEED GRAIN FAIR.

The week following the Seed Grain Fair was held. Quantities of the finest seed grain were exhibited. Wheat, oats, peas and barley from the different parts of the province. Farmers from the Edmonton district won a fair share of the prizes. The wheat and oats were remarkably fine and they were shown in great variety. To give an idea of the character of the oats, I may say, that when the Grain Commission was sitting here in January, I saw a large number of samples tested by the Commission for weight, the oats being taken from the bins of farmers in different parts of the district just as they came from the threshing mill. None of the samples were less than forty pounds in weight to the bushel, and a number of them ran up to forty-five and forty-six pounds to the bushel.

POULTRY AND DOG SHOW.

At the same time that the Seed Fair was going on last week Poultry Show and Dog Shows was also in progress in different parts of the same building. The poultry both in the number of classes exhibited and the character of the birds shown, would have done credit to any poultry show in Ontario. The Dog Show was not very large, but there were some very handsome animals shown, the collies particularly being well represented.

REPORTS EXAGGERATED.

It is evident that the Province of Alberta is not going to be behind the older provinces in anything. You may have heard in the east some wonderful stories of the severity of the winter out here. The reports have been exaggerated. In January it was cold, but there was no wind, and the weather since February came in has been so delightful that no one would prefer the average Ontario winter to the winter, taken as a whole, that we have had here.

Yours truly,
E. B. EDWARDS.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions made from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous services of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists. Price, 75 cents per bottle.

BRIDGENORTH WERE VICTORS

Defeated Happy Thoughts in Close Game Last Night

With the score 3—1 against them at half time the Bridgenorth hockey team struck a whirlwind pace in the second half, in their game against the Happy Thoughts last night and won out by 5 goals to 4. The match was played at Brock street rink between seven and eight o'clock and was an unusually good exhibition of hockey. The visitors proved somewhat of a surprise and were in the game from start to finish. They were fast skaters and hard checkers and although not strong on stick handling, managed to break through the opposing defence frequently. They were good shots and missed few chances. The Happy Thoughts had a strong line-up and started out at a lively clip, but the heavy checking of their opponents soon took the steam out of them and they were not travelling with as much vim at the finish. Myers, King, McNern, E. Best and Foley did good work for the Happy Thoughts, while M. Cullen, Jopling and Mann were the pick of the men from the sawmill burg. The Bridgenorth boys have been handicapped by having no rink upon which to practice and that they have made such progress in the game under the circumstances, is highly creditable to them. Next year, it is said, they will have a rink, and then they can be depended upon to hold their own with the best of them. J. E. Crough acted as referee and gave every satisfaction. He had only to impose three penalties and they were for minor infractions. There was no rough work of any account. Foley, King and M. Cullen each spent a minute on the fence.

The lineup was as follows;

Happy Thoughts		Bridgenorth
	Goal.
Archibald		Kelly
	Point.
Meyers		Conway
	Cover.
E. Best		M Cullen
	Centre.
R. Best		Mann

THE NEW LATH MILL

Is Operated by Messrs. Ed. Cook and Mr. T. McGarrity.

The new lath mill which has been established in Ashburnham is not operated by Mr Fred Cook as wrongly stated in last night's Review, but by his brother, Mr. Ed. Cook and Mr. Thos. McGarrity. Mr. Fred Cook will continue his old business of painting and sign writing and has no intention whatever of going into the lath manufacturing business. The Review cheerfully makes the correction and regrets that it was misformed regarding the ownership of the new mill.

The Operation Was Successful

Captain Ackerman Recovering and Expects to Return to City Shortly

Major L. M. Hayes, secretary of the 57th Regiment mess today received a letter from Capt. W. C. Ackerman, who is in the Royal Victoria hospital, Montreal, regretting his inability to be present at the farewell banquet tendered Major R. M. Dennistoun of the 57th Regiment, last night. The letter was written by Captain Ackerman's nurse and stated that his recent operation for appendicitis had been successful and that he expected to be able to leave the institution about the end of the month. Captain Ackerman is Brigade Adjutant of the 10th Brigade Field Battery, and conveyed his greetings to Major Dennistoun, also expressing his regret at that gentleman's coming departure from the city.

Letters of regret were also read last evening from Messrs. K. G. Lech H. A. Morrow, E. A. Peck, E. L. Goodwill and others, who were unable to be in attendance, several of the gentlemen being called out of the city.

Proceedings of the Thaw Trial

Are Over-rated and Somewhat Exaggerated—Local Man's Opinion.

A Peterborough gentleman, who has just returned from New York, and who, on account of professional connections, had the entree to the Thaw case, states that it is more of a newspaper trial than anything else. There are scores of newspaper correspondents, and a net work of telegraph wires and cables in the hallway of the court room. The proceedings themselves are far from being as sensational as some would suppose.

Regarding Jerome and Delmas, the opposing lawyers of whom so much is heard, they are over-rated. They are clever in a way, but not in the same class as the late B. B. Osler or some leaders of the Canadian bar. Thaw himself bears a striking resemblance to Birchall, the Woodstock murderer of several years ago. There is a great deal of speculation as to the outcome of the trial, the prevailing opinion being that there will be a disagreement if not an acquittal.

Special Meeting of School Board

A special meeting of the Board of Education will be held tomorrow night to consider several matters in connection with the improvements to the North Ward school. The necessary money for the work, $25000, has been voted by the city council and the job has already been tendered on, but that was some time ago, and it is not known whether the tenderers will accept the work at the old figures, as material and labor have advanced since they were put in.

Sunday Law In Montreal.

Montreal, March 20.—Montreal bids fair to have a liberal Sunday observance law within the limits allowed by the act passed at the late session of the Quebec Legislature, which was the only Parliament to take advantage of the Dominion act to enact legislation of its own with regard to Sunday observance.

Notice of motion has been given to the city council by Ald. Lapointe, who is identified with the licensed victuallers, of his intention to move for a clear definition of the law as it applies to Montreal and for the repeal of several bylaws and their substitution by others.

Ald. Lapointe does not admit that it is the intention to make Montreal wide open so far as Sunday privileges are concerned, but it is not believed the mover's purpose is to place anything further in the way of restrictions. They may go as far as public opinion will permit.

Child Used For Beer Contests.

Ottawa, March 20.—There is a saloonkeeper in Hull who is said to use his 5-year-old son as an advertisement.

It is complained against him that he puts the child on his bar and challenges his customers to beer drinking contests.

The boy, it is reported, will drink as many as 20 glasses of beer in an afternoon.

Military Men Said Farewell to Highly Respected Officer

Major R. M. Dennistoun Banqueted by His Fellow Officers at the 57th Regiment Mess Rooms—Presented With Valuable Token of Their Appreciation—Many Warm Tributes Paid to the Worth and Character of Departing Paymaster of the Corps.

The officers of the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, last night, bade farewell to a popular officer and jolly comrade, in the person of Major R. M. Dennistoun, paymaster of the Regiment, who will leave shortly to reside in Winnipeg.

The banquet was held in the mess rooms and the proceedings were in every way worthy of the occasion. The event was one of rare enjoyment and camaraderie. The speeches were eloquent and brightened by many witty sallies. Several former officers graced the gathering, and military men of the present and other days joined heart and hand in honoring one of the most worthy and esteemed officer who has ever been connected with the Peterborough Rangers.

Surgeon Lt.-Col. Halliday, the president of the mess, made a genial chairman, while the secretary of the mess, Major L. M. Hayes, who is now paymaster of the corps, succeeding the guest of the evening, ably looked after the honors of the vice-chair.

The spread was a neat and attractive one, and reflected infinite credit upon the caterer, Mr Thomas Hooper. The tables were artistically decorated, and amid electric bulbs and silver candelabra, the red coats of the officers, relieved by the sombre dress of the civilians who were present as guests, made a scene that was unusually brilliant and resplendant. Had it a larger setting than that afforded by the comparatively confined quarters of the mess rooms, the picture would have been doubly attractive. The walls and ceiling were ornamented by bunting and the good, old Union Jack. About forty were present, and the capacity of the quarters was taxed to the utmost, but bon hommie and good cheer prevailed and the gathering will long be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to be present.

After full justice to the ample bill of fare, the speech making began. There were several toasts and all were loyally and enthusiastically honored.

During the early part of the evening the band of the 57th Regiment, under the direction of Mr. Rupert Gliddon, bandmaster, discoursed sweet music, which was much appreciated. The band was stationed in the drill hall and contributed the following excellent programme: March, "Gloria," Losey; Reminiscences of Ireland, Godfrey; (a) "Killarney," (b) "Baby's Sweetheart," K. R. Hen; Medley on popular songs "of the day, Mackie; Selection, "Songs of England"; March, "Maple Leaf," Baugh; God Save the King.

Several letters of regret were read by the chairman.

The toast to the King was proposed by Surgeon Lt.-Col. Halliday and was heartily honored.

OUR GUEST

Col. Miller then proposed the toast of the evening, that of "Our Guest," and said it was a pleasure to see such a large gathering and especially to meet so many old comrades and friends of other days. He referred to several previous officers of the regiment, to whom honor had been done in the past. Some had gone to the west, others had crossed the great divide, and a few had retired from the service. The regiment had offered its best to the great west and one of its earliest officers, Hon. F. W. G. Haultain, had located in that land and had become a nation builder. Again the regiment was called upon to offer its best in the person of Major Dennistoun, who was leaving shortly for Winnipeg. Col Miller referred to the time over 20 years ago, when the guest of the evening had joined No. 1 Company as a private at the camp in Cobourg and had performed the most menial duty with ready obedience. He had gone on filling one post and another with credit to himself and advantage to the regiment, until he had attained his present rank. He was always a willing worker and he wondered how the regiment was to replace such officers as Mr Dennistoun when they go away. (A voice "You cannot do it") Col. Miller continuing said that he looked into the faces of the young officers around him and hoped and believed they would do as well as those who had left. They would miss Major Dennistoun at the mess as well as his old familiar song, "Drill, ye tarriers, drill." The departing guest carried with him the heart-felt wishes of all those who knew him and if his success in his new home was as great as they had hoped for, it would be very great indeed.

APPRECIATIVE REMARKS.

Major Dennistoun, in responding, was accorded an enthusiastic ovation. He said that a man, after serving twenty-four years as a member of the corps must expect that the time will come when he would be called upon to say farewell to his brother officers. It was difficult to say farewell. The happiest days of his life had been spent in the regiment and he looked back over the period of twenty-four years as the best and most satisfactory of his career. It was a pleasure to say that his brother officers had so largely contributed to his enjoyment of military life; his mind travelled back on this occasion to the day when he first enlisted and his heart swelled with pride and he would never forget the occasion when as a lad, he bought a sword in London, and donned the old tunic, the scarlet sash, the braid patrol jacket, the straight peaked forage cap. This all brought back to him a rush of emotions which it was hard to suppress. Emotions were very strong when the past was being reviewed. The speaker referred to the time when the 57th, then a rural corps, was organized as a six company city regiment. The task was not undertaken without a great deal of apprehension. Col. Miller and he were the only active officers today who were connected with the regiment at its inception as a city corps. The sacrifices made by the officers at that time meant a great deal, but they had all been well repaid for such sacrifice in the splendid progress that the corps had made. The corps had been established on a firm financial basis, and in this respect stood differently from any other volunteer corps that he knew of, in the fact that there were only two funds, the officers fund and the regimental fund and all monies received went into these funds, which were efficiently administered by the officers of the corps.

MAJOR R. M. DENNISTOUN

Other regiments had what was known as company funds, but in the 57th all financial matters had been entrusted to the officers of the corps from the beginning.

During its twenty years' existence as a city regiment, there had not been any criticism offered against the management of the funds that had amounted to a bill of beans.

Major Dennistoun advised the officers to be as careful in the future of the finances as they had in the past, and to continue to retain the confidence of the regiment in the same marked degree as they enjoyed it at present. As the years rolled by responsibilities would increase, and he counselled his brother officers to be careful with respect to any financial obligations. Before undertaking anything in any particular year, the means had always been in sight to carry out the project. The regiment had never gone in debt and as long as it kept clear of it, it would be on the highway to prosperity.

They had all labored together to make the mess what it was today. Here they all met on common ground, and with one interest in view—the success of the 57th. In the petty routine of daily work there were many annoyances and sordid business cares and troubles, but in the mess they met for a common purpose. As soon as the uniform was donned, all outside daily vexations and difficulties were forgotten. The atmosphere was changed. They had one view and were animated by one purpose—that of service, and the defence of King and country. They were inspired by a high sentiment; their hearts were enlarged; they felt that they were better men and nothing had ever transpired to mar the pleasantness of their association or the aim they had in view. While the mess constituted some thirty officers it must be remembered that they represented four hundred of the finest young men of the city, whom they were leading forward to better things. They must be worthy of the trust committed to them and the responsiblities which fell upon their shoulders. He was glad to see so many young officers taking an interest in the regiment. Ideals were reached here which could not be reached outside. He liked to see men coming up from the ranks and he believed in giving a preference to them every time, as they made the best soldiers. They should not regard the mess in the light of a social club. There were duties to do upon the parade ground and in the ordinary routine work of drill and instruction, which they must not overlook. The day when an officer could rules by oaths had long gone by and now a spirit of obedience and respect was fostered by kindlier means.

He had great respect for Colonel Miller, the commanding officer of the regiment and was thankful to have had the honor of serving under him. He also referred in kindly terms to Col. J. Z. Rogers, Col. R. W. Bell, who was adjutant for ten years, Sergt. Major T. A. S. Hay, Capt W. H. Hill, Major Langford and others, who had been prominently identified with the progress and stability of the corps.

In closing he warmly thanked all for this splendid reception and said for whatever the west might hold in store for him, the time of his military career had closed in the annals of the 57th regiment, the only one with which he had been identfiied.

Col Halliday paid a warm tribute to the departing officer, his good judgment and sound common sense. He said Major Dennistoun had been a credit to himself, to his family, to the community and to the regiment, with which he had been so long connected. While the office of paymaster would no doubt be efficiently filled by another, they would find it exceedingly difficult to replace the personality and the friendship of the man who was shortly to leave the city. They felt that in the growing and larger city of Winnipeg, there was nothing too good for him, and believed that he would obtain a measure of success in his new home which would be exceedingly gratifying to the guest of the evening and his numerous friends.

A PRESENTATION.

At this juncture Col. Miller, on behalf of the officers of the 57th, presented Major Dennistoun with sterling silver plate, in the form of a silver charger, suitably engraved. He trusted the recipient would accept it, not for its intrinsic worth, but as a memento of the kindly feeling which inspired them now, and which always would.

Major Dennistoun, in acknowledging the presentation said that he would take much pleasure in passing it on to those who came after him. He noticed in the inscription the words "Quis Separabit" and although he was going to Winnipeg, the distance between Peterborough and that city would never divide the pleasant relationship between him and the many good friends he was leaving behind. The plate bore the coat-of-arms of the regiment, and the following inscription; "Presented to Major R. M. Dennistoun by officers of the 57th Regiment, March, 1907."

OTHER TOASTS.

Major E. H. Clegg proposed the toast of "Our Sister Corps." A suitable reply was made by Major Young of 24th Field Battery, who remarked that he had first enlisted with the 90th Regiment, at Winnipeg, twenty-one years ago, and he trusted that Major Dennistoun had not closed his military career, but might be successful in attaining the post of commanding officer of the 90th corps. Major Young referred humorously to his old charger, Blucher, and the number of officers, who had won equitation certificates when mounted on his back. He joined in wishing Major Dennistoun every success in the West. Captain S. T. Medd, of the 3rd Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoon and Lieut. Stroud of the signalling corps, of military district No. 3, also responded in suitable terms. Col. Miller recited "Glencoe" with fine effect, and Captain Cluxton, contributed a rollicking song.

Major Stevenson proposed the toast of "Our Financial Institutions," and eloquent replies were made by Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, manager of the Bank of Commerce, Capt. V. Eastwood, manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, and Mr. A. Montizambert, manager of the Bank of Montreal. All joined heartily in paying a tribute to the guest of the evening, who later sang, "Drill Ye Terriers, Drill" in splendid voice, those present joining in the chorus.

A toast was then offered in honor of Lt.-Col. Bell of Toronto, a former commanding officer of the corps. He referred to the pleasure that it gave him to be present, and his 22 years connection with the 57th Regiment. He had been away seven years, but pleasant memories still lingered. He dwelt upon the early struggles of the corps, and was glad to be present to bid God speed to his old friend and comrade, Major Dennistoun. Col. Bell was given an enthusiastic reception.

Mr. D. Hughes-Charles gave a charming vocal number, after which Major Dennistoun presented Major Hayes, the new paymaster with his "old cocked hat." The headgear was handed over amid applause, and Major Hayes made a suitable reply, amid the strains of "He'll be a General now."

Capt. Hazen Ritchie of the 24th Field Battery, then, asked all to drink to the health of Lt.-Col. Miller commanding officer of the regiment. Col. Miller, in replying, referred to the period, extending over forty years, that he had been identified with the corps and he was indeed proud to command such a regiment. He paid a warm compliment to the officers and also to the departing guest.

Major Hayes appropriately toasted "The Press," which was acknowledged by Mr. Dobbin of the Review, and Mr. Yokome of the Examiner. Lieut. R. P. Watt then favored with a song in good style.

"The Ex-officers," a timely toast by Major Hayes drew responses from Lt.-Col. J. Z. Rogers, a former commanding officer, Captain Ritchie, and others.

Capt. D. Walker, adjutant, was the sponsor for the toast of "The Regimental Babies." Lieut. J. D. Clarke and Lieut. R. N. Merritt, made graceful responses.

Capt. Cluxton proposed the concluding toast "The Ladies," and Mr. F. D. Kerr championed the cause of the fair sex, in an able speech. After a few remarks from Col. Bell and Captain Ritchie, and a song from Major Stevenson, the gathering broke up with "Auld Lang Syne," and cheers for the King, and the guest of the evening.

KEENE HOCKEY CLUB CONCERT

Will be Held on Friday Evening —Death of Respected Resident.

Keene, March 19.

Mr. Fred Taylor spent Sunday in Fenella.

Mrs. Howson, Cavanville, is the guest of her son, Mr. Gilbert Howson.

The Hockey club has secured the services of the Kyle Concert company, for their concert Friday evening, March 22nd. They will also have assistance from local talent. Mr. J. Harry Scriver, Mr. A. St. A. Smith, Miss Mabel Harrison and Miss Margaret Bryce will take part in the programme.

The death occurred Saturday, March 16th, in her sixty-third year, of Miss Agnes Anderson. The deceased had been ill for some time and the end was not unexpected. The funeral was held Monday, from the late residence of the deceased. Rev. D. D. McDonald officiated. A large number of friends and acquaintances of the departed attended testifying to the esteem in which she was held. Interment took place in Keene cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. John Lang, Richard Hope, J. Lang, A. Shearer, W. Miller, and J. Graham.

Miss Anderson was a native of Otonabee and was the daughter of one of the early settlers, the late James Anderson. She is survived by two brothers, John and William, both of Otonabee.

A local young man while returning from a social function a few evenings ago had the misfortune to have one of the shafts of his cutter broken and had to walk home ahead of the horse.

OBITUARY

MRS. JAS. MURPHY.

There passed away in St. Joseph's hospital last evening, Jennie Hirst wife of Mr. James Murphy, 657 Concession street. The deceased, who was thirty-four years of age, had been in poor health for some time. The immediate cause of her death was internal hemorrhage. She was confined to the hospital only a few days.

The deceased lady was born in Oshawa, and was married about sixteen years ago to her now sorrowing husband, who survives her, along with a family of six children—three boys and three girls, the youngest child being three and the oldest fifteen years. A brother, Mr. Henry Hirst of this city, is also left. The late Mrs. Murphy, who had lived here about eleven years, was a lady who was much esteemed by many friends, who will learn with regret of her untimely death and extend their heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved husband and family.

MRS WALTER HERKIMER.

Mr. J. H. Greer, received word yesterday of the death in Cobourg of his sister, Mrs. Walter J. Herkimer, at the age of 38. The deceased leaves a husband and four small children. The late Mrs. Herkimer was a half sister of Mr. Arthur Ash, also of Peterborough. A sad feature of her death is the fact that about two weeks ago her mother died.

MRS. ROBERT DINWOODIE.

The death occurred last evening about six o'clock, at St. Joseph's hospital, of Mrs. Robert Dinwoodie. The deceased was a life long resident of Campbellford. About three weeks ago she came to St. Joseph's hospital. She had been ill for a long time. She was 63 years of age. Her husband predeceased her a number of years ago. She was a daughter of the late Daniel Curling, of Seymour East.

The funeral will take place in Campbellford, the remains having been shipped there this morning.

The morning cup of coffee often shapes the day. It should be Chase & Sanborn's.

Real Estate is Rather Inactive

Comparatively Few Transfers so Far This Month

While there have been some transfers in real estate the agents generally report that this month has been rather dull, although the prospects for building are very bright and brick work has been begun on a few new houses.

It is stated that one local firm, who sold eighteen houses during March 1906, has so far, during the present month disposed of only three.

Other realty representatives also report that there has been little doing within the past two weeks, but they are looking ahead for a revival in the market and regard the present quietness as only temporary.

Received Cheque For Over $600

R. A. Morrow Carried Accident and Disability Policy—Sick 26 Weeks.

Mr. R. A. Morrow, jr., has received a cheque through Mr. G. B Stevenson for $650, from the Fidelity & Casualty Company, the accident and disability insurance people. Last August Mr. Morrow took out a $10,000 double indemnity policy with the Fidelity and Casualty Co. He paid the first premium of $60 and some time later took sick. He was unable to attend to his duties for 26 weeks and during all this time the company paid him $25 a week. Mr. Morrow wishes to express his sincere thanks for the company's prompt settlement of the claim. He is naturally delighted that he had the policy and he would not be without one now. His father, who has been dealing more or less with insurance companies all his life, says he never knew of a settlement made more promptly. Mr. G. B. Stevenson is the district agent and Mr. Geo. E. Elliott, special agent 3d1w

Delivered Able Lenten Address

Rev, Mr. Dicker of Toronto Preached in St. John's Church

The sixth of the regular mid-week Lenten services was held at St. John's church last night. The attendance was very good, and the sermon, delivered by Rev. A. G. Hamilton Dicker, A.K.C., of St. Luke's Toronto, was listened to with marked interest.

"Inasmuch as ye did not," were the words with which Rev. Mr Dicker began his address, saying that these are the least appreciated of probably any that are met with. While in our every day lives we even forget many things, how very probable then that we get behind in our spiritual welfare. Our spiritual account is becoming very large on the wrong side of the account. Many people appear to have the idea, or rather have not the idea, that many sins of omission are being daily committed. Large numbers of Christians go on their way, self satisfied, not thinking of their sins of omission. The reverend speaker said that God, however, considered these just the same and their punishment will undoubtedly follow

Continuing he gave an example of where omissions lead to very serious results. He asked to whom did Christ address these words. Were they to murderers and the worst of criminals? No! He thought they were rather directed against those of whom it might be said; "Ye did it not."

It is very important, Rev. Mr. Dicker stated, that we seriously consider how we stand in God's eyes as regards the manner in which we have disposed of our talents. Everyone is talented, the speaker said. They have the faculties of worshipping God, of praying to Him, and communing with Him. He explained the beauties of these gifts and how they should be appreciated. Further Rev. Mr. Dicker said that in the hurry of life people even forget their duties such as saying their morning and evening prayers and these will have to be answered for. He said that the talents given us by God are not to prove difficulties to us, but to assist in making man happy in this world and also in the next. He urged all to cease being neglectful and, turning over a new leaf, resolve to lead a more perfect life.

THE GREAT NORTH COUNTRY

Nimrod was a mighty hunter, but had he hunted in the "Temagami" region he would have been a mightier one. Nimrod hunted for glory, but Temagamians hunt for game. Those Indians who made the first canoe of birch bark long ago, were our greatest benefactors. The children of these Indians know the canoe, and they know how to use it, and if you go to Temagami this summer they they will paddle your canoe in their own superb way. They will be the best guides you ever had. Students who camp in summer along the Temagami lakes are able to do two years' work in one. Finest of fishing and hunting. Easy of access by the Grand Trunk Railway System. For information and beautiful descriptive publication sent free apply to J. D. McDonald, Union Station, Toronto, Ont.

Auction Sale of Market Tolls

Will be Held in Council Chamber To-morrow Morning

The annual sale of market tolls will take place in the City Council Chamber, to-morrow morning at 11 o'clck. Mr. Charles Stapleton will be the auctioneer. It is expected that the bidding will be brisk. Last year the tolls sold for $1,030. It is expected that they will probably go $1,100 this year. On the whole the market has been good and there has been no particular falling off in any line

SERVICES ARE NEARING CLOSE

Another Successful Meeting at Park Street Church

Two more nights only and Evangelist Torrie will cast the Gospel net into other waters. He has proved a very successful fisher, of men, at Park street church. The crowd last night was exceedingly large for a week evening service.

Miss Hamlin, of Midland, has been a valuable factor in the revival services. She sang very sweetly a solo just before the appeal was made last night and also took part in a duett with Mr. James Tranter. A very large and successful after-meeting was held when the workers were busy all over the church. The sermon was from John 7—37; "In the last day, that great day of the feast Jesus stood up and cried "If any man thirst let him come unto Me and drink." It was purely a Gospel message and many answered the invitation. Service tonight at 7.45.

Halliwell Raised Some Objection

To the Recent Appointment of Dr. Coughlin, of Peterboro'

A Brockville despatch says;—

Lieut-Col. J. Earl Halliwell, Grand Master, presided at the annual meeting of the Orange Lodge of Eastern Ontario, which opened here yesterday Civic and fraternal greetings were extended to the grand body, after which the grand master delivered his address, in which he attacked the Whitney Government on the appointment of Dr. Coughlin, of Peterborough, a Roman Catholic, to be the head of the deaf and dumb institute at Belleville. He said in part;

"This is a very unpleasant subject for me to deal with and I do not wish to say one word more than is necessary to place myself and the Orange Association, which I represent, in a fair and honorable position. The subject is unpleasant, because it borders on personality toward a man against whom I have no ill will.

OFFENCE TO ORDER.

"I have no feud with Dr. Coughlin; neither has the Orange Association, but I consider that his appointment to that particular position was a great injustice to him as well as an undeserved offence to us. I think we have a serious ground of complaint against the premier. First, for not consulting his colleagues of the Orange Association before making an appointment of this nature; and, secondly, having learned from them the strong objection on principle that we must have to the appointment, for not satisfying himself by some information that we had no reasonable grounds for our objections before making the appointment.

"I must inform you that in answer to my communication, Mr. Whitney, while refusing to discuss the merits of the subject by correspondence, expressed his willingness to discus the question with me at any time that I could call on him. In that he was quite fair and reasonable. Unfortunately, I have been physically unable to go to Toronto since this question arose. The only means I have of judging of Mr. Whitney's views are by his own statements as reported in the public press. From these I form the following conclusions; Mr. Whitney had not asked his colleagues how the Orangemen would view this matter. None of the Orangemen, either in the cabinet or in the house, had considered it worth while to inform him. He did not realize the danger that we see in appointing a man subject to the Roman hierarchy as the head of an educational institution composed largely of Protestant children."

Missionaries in The Presbytery

The Home Mission Committee of the Presbyterian Church, met in Toronto yesterday, and made appointments of students to labor in the different Presbyteries, during the summer months. Messrs. J. McLean Beaton and W. F. Orok. have been appointed to Peterborough Presbytery.

HOW YOU GET CONSUMPTION.

Most "lungers" allowed their power of resistance to fall very low. Favorable conditions were provided for the development of the baccilli. Consumption was the result.

But in a healthy body Consumption can't take root. The most potent health-maker is Ferrozone. Take it regularly and you needn't fear tuberculosis.

FERROZONE

Supplies exactly what the man verging on Consumption needs. It forms rich, nutritious blood, strengthens the nerves, puts vim and endurance into every organ of the body.

Price 50c per box or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

The Legislators Are Busy; Many Matters Considered

Discussion on the Joint Stock Companies' Bill.

Clauses Dealing With Incorporation, Re-Incorporation and Amalgamation, Go Through Committee—Shareholders and Auditors' Reports—Bills Passed Final Reading—Mr. Craig Opposes Lady Dentist.

Toronto, March 21.—There is no let-up to the Government's diligence. Again, yesterday, the Legislature held afternoon and night sessions. The time was earnestly devoted to advancing a number of bills of a non-contentious character and such speechmaking as resulted, was largely of an explanatory and technical character.

Mr. Kerr moved that a Select Committee be appointed to enquire into and report upon the claim of George O. Hays, of the Township of Roxborough, to Lot No. 9 in the 9th Concession of the Township of Marmora in the County of Hastings.

In speaking to the motion Mr. Kerr said the motion was made with a view to having this long outstanding claim finally passed upon.

The Prime Minister stated that he had interested himself in the case and on the advent of the present Government to power, had secured a payment of $200 for Hays in full of account, which he had accepted. Mr. Hays' claim arose out of an alleged discovery of gold in 1867, but he kept the discoverey secret. In view of the facts the Prime Minister could not endorse the motion, which was withdrawn.

Bills Finally Passed.

The following bills were given their third reading, and finally passed:

Mr. Crawford—Respecting the marriage settlement of Robt. Woods Priltie and Jane Priltie.

Mr. Jessop—To confirm bylaw 1,839 of St. Catharines.

Mr. Duff—To authorize the Mercantile Trust Co. of Canada to do business in Ontario.

Mr. Fraser—Respecting the City of Niagara Falls, also to confirm bylaw 9 of Port Colborne.

Mr. McNaught's bill respecting pawnbrokers, and Mr. Clark's bill to amend the election act were referred to the legal committee. Mr. Craig withdrew his bill to amend the municipal act.

Mr. Downey's bill to amend the assessment act by giving the appellant costs in a successful protest against an erroneous assessment got its second reading and was referred to the municipal committee.

Will Oppose Lady Dentist.

When the bill to permit Miss Sadie Holmes to practice dentistry went through committee Mr. Craig gave notice that he would challenge the measure on its third reading.

Other measures which went through committee were: Mr. Pratt's bill to incorporate the Policy Holders' Mutual Life Insurance Co., and Mr. McCowan's bill respecting the town of North Toronto; also two railway bills, Mr. Fraser's to incorporate the Niagara Peninsula Railway Co., and Mr. Morrison's to incorporate the Thurlow Railway Co.

Hon. Mr. Mackay objected to a clause in the latter measure. Companies, he claimed, should be permitted to locate their head offices wherever they chose.

While the House was in committee on Hon. Mr. Cochrane's bill respecting Burlington Beach, Mr. Reed (Wentworth) opposed the measure on the ground that it was not satisfactory to Saltfleet Township. Mr. Hislop (Huron) agreed with Mr. Reed.

The Prime Minister said no petitions had been received against the measure. He consented, however, to let the bill stand.

Mr. McDougal (Ottawa) said the measure was dangerous as it stood. If a change were desired there should be a special act creating a new municipality.

Hon. Mr. Foy's three measures governing the technical consolidation of the statutes were put through committee.

Joint Stock Companies.

The Joint Stock Companies Act was then taken up in committee, and ere the six o'clock adjournment had put through the non-contentious clauses dealing with incorporation, re-incorporation and amalgamation.

When the House re-assembled for the evening session empty benches were plentiful. There were present in all, but three Liberals, fourteen Conservatives, the faithful Studholme and Mr. Speaker. The attendance, however, developed as the evening proceeded.

The consideration of the Companies' Act in committee was continued. The second section of clause 36 created the first brief discussion. It stipulates the matters which must be laid before the shareholders at the annual meeting. One provision sets out that, if demanded by shareholders holding five per cent. of the capital of the company, the report of the auditors must be supplied to each shareholder.

Mr. Graham drew attention to the fact that many companies were family affairs. He was not sure that the 5 per cent. went far enough.

Hon. Mr. Hanna thought the report should be supplied on demand, the per cent. requirement being eliminated. There were difficulties, however. One drygoods house might be interested in obtaining information concerning the business of another at the cost of but one share.

"And it would be cheap information, at that," was the comment of the Liberal leader.

Hon. Mr. Mackay opposed the 5 per cent. requirement. He believed it was not sufficient and should be increased.

Mr. McDougal (Ottawa) said it was the privilege of Liberals to differ. In this matter he differed with Mr. Mackay and was in accord with the Provincial Secretary.

The clause stood.

Holding of Special Mettings.

Regarding the clause which provided for the calling of special meetings on the requisition of holders of one-tenth of the stock, Mr. McDougal enquired as to what provisions were made to ensure this.

"That is a reasonable question," observed Mr. Hanna. "There is no provision now."

"Then it is just a bluff," put in Mr. Mackay.

Mr. Hanna said the point would be met later.

In concluding the discussion Mr. Mackay remarked that he had been four years in the House, and he had never seen a bill brought down on which there had been so much work. He had never seen a measure with which so much care had been taken in regard to the citations of cases, references to the Imperial act and other authorities.

Mr. MacMillan (Glengarry) has given notice that he will move for an order of the House for a return of copies of all correspondence between the Nipissing Mines Co., or any officer of it and the Government, or any member of it, relating to the property or title to the property of the said company, or any part of it situate in the Cobalt District, or to any application relating to the said property or its title, or to the operation of the mines of the company, made by, or on behalf of the company, or any of its directors or officers.

Raid By Suffragettes.

London, March 21.—The women suffragists attempted a demonstrative raid on Parliament, more important and more numerous than any other previous effort, yesterday. The police had timely warning and made preparations that resulted in making the demonstration somewhat ineffective.

The only result was some amusing disorderly scuffles and the arrest of nearly seventy suffragists, who were at once liberated on bail.

The raid was led by Lady Harberton, who was assisted by the most prominent women who took part in the previous raids.

The women drove up in wagons and, after promenading before the Houses of Parliament, stormed the entrance of the House of Commons, where the police reinforcements, drawn up for the occasion, awaited the onslaught and drove the women back.

After this first rebuff the women made a second determined attempt to penetrate the police cordon, but to little purpose. In accordance with the instructions, the police employed as little force as possible.

G. T. P. To Get Central.

Fredericton, N.B., March 21.—In the budget speech in the House yesterday, Premier Pugsley announced that, within a few months, the New Brunswick Coal and Railway Co. property, known as the Central Railway, and owned by the province, would be sold or leased to the G.T.P., which would use it to divert traffic to St. John from Chipman, where the Central Railway and G. T. P. connect. The run to St. John is only 78 miles, several hundred miles shorter than to Halifax.

Firebugs at Work.

Toronto, March 21.—Incendiarianism is suspected as the cause of a fire which demolished the stable of Mrs. O'Halloran, occupied by J. Cameron at the rear of Mutual street last night. The damage was estimated at $1,000, and includes the loss of three buggies, three sets of harness and a quantity of rugs, etc. Three horses were rescued by the police.

IN GRIP OF BLIZZARD.

Intercolonial System Tied Up In Worst Snowstorm For Years.

St. John, N. B., March 21.—The entire system of the Intercolonial is in the grip of the worst snowstorm in many years. It extends from Montreal to Sydney.

The snowfall was heavy on the eastern division especially, and all freight cars and specials have been taken off to avoid a blockade.

The sky cleared last night, but a blizzard is piling up tremendous drifts. Every snowplow on the line is out trying to keep the tracks as clear as possible for passenger trains.

Capt. McIntyre, assistant police clerk, who spent 3 years at sea, says he has never known the barometer to fall so low as it did yesterday morning, when it was 28.10, or four-tenths lower than when the steamer Portland was lost six years ago in the Bay of Fundy, with great loss of life.

The street car service is demoralized. A drift threw a heavy car from the track and it crashed into a saloon, smashing everything before it.

Killed In Wreck of Barn.

Acton, March 21.—A severe windstorm Tuesday night completely wrecked the Acton House new stables, killing John McEachron and severely injuring J. C. McDougall.

St. Mary's Valley Swept.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., March 21.—St. Mary's valley was swept Tuesday night by a storm seldom equalled in the upper peninsula. The wind blew 60 miles an hour, demolishing telegraph, telephone and lighting service, and communication with the outside world was cut off until nearly noon yesterday.

Cattle Buried Under Debris.

Jarvis, Ont., March 21.—During the severe windstorm which prevailed Tuesday night, the barn of Mr. James Hazells, situated a short distance north, was blown down. Five head of cattle were in the barn. Workmen are at present endeavoring to liberate the unlucky beasts from their position underneath the debris.

DOUMA AND THE FAMINE.

Government Charged With Stealing Money Sent For Relief.

St. Petersburg, March 21.—Without any further allusion to the Ministerial declaration of policy, the Lower House of Parliament yesterday began the actual work of the session with the organization of committees, which in Russia are elected instead of appointed.

The proposal to appoint a special commission to organize famine relief led to a prolonged and animated debate, in which the various groups participated.

A peasant deputy boldly charged the Government with stealing the money intended for famine relief and referred to Assistant Minister of the Interior Gurke.

A Socialist resolution calling for a commission to investigate the whole system of famine relief for the last two years, was finally tabled by 325 to 149 votes.

The Socialists, who were supported by the Social-Revolutionists and part of the group of toil, were voted down by the Constitutional Democrats, Conservatives, Poles, Mohammedans and other groups. The Constitutional Democrats feared hasty action would precipitate a conflict with the Ministry.

Peasant Uprising Spreads.

Bucharest, March 21.—Peasants again yesterday invaded Botosahni and set fire to different parts of the town, especially the Jewish quarters. Troops intervened and several peasants were killed or wounded.

Brigadier Gen. Tell has been placed in command of the fourth army corps, whose headquarters are at Jassy, with full powers to suppress the agrarian revolt. A number of regiments have been ordered to Jassy to reinforce his troops.

The peasant uprising already has spread over the whole of Upper Moldavia, including the districts of Botosahni, Dorogoi, Jassy, Neamzu, Tutova, Baku and Roman. In spite of all precautions, the vandalism is spreading.

Japs Buy War Material.

New York, March 21.—Japan is continually receiving war material from the Krupp works, says a Berlin despatch.

Several Japanese officers are at Essen to take over guns, and Japanese engineers are employed at the Krupp works, something that concern, which maintains the greatest secrecy as to its methods, would not permit unless it had, or was desirous of cultivating, the closest and widest commercial relations with Japan.

Woman Strangles Child.

Winnipeg, Man., March 21.—After strangling her nine-year-old child with a suspender strap, Mrs. Ella Lisle, Port Rouge, yesterday attempted to cut her throat with a razor and ran screaming into the street.

The woman, who is thought to be suffering from emotional insanity, has been lodged in the provincial jail.

Two weeks ago a younger child died and there probably will be an investigation.

To Open Papal Papers.

Paris, March 21.—The Chamber of Deputies by 379 to 164 votes yesterday adopted a motion calling for a commission to examine and make public the contents of the documents seized at the papal nunciature after the expulsion of Mgr. Montagnini, secretary of the nunciature.

Hyman Soon to Resign.

London, March 21.—It was announced last night by a man in close touch with Mr. Hyman that the member for London will return to London "within a few days" and shortly after will place his resignation in the hands of the Speaker of the House.

St. Kitts' Enquiry Closed.

St. Catharines, March 21.—The civic investigation into the bribery charges was concluded yesterday, though the argument of lawyers was adjourned till Friday.

Charlton avenue Methodist church was re-opened at Hamilton yesterday and about $2,500 was subscribed at the services.

FLOODS IN CALIFORNIA

Severe Hardships and Many Drownings Are Reported.

Citizens Had to Take Refuge In the Trees For 48 Hours—Forced to Flee From Their Homes At a Moment's Notice—Danger Over At Pittsburg—Many Gallant Rescues in Boats—Two Persons Were Drowned.

Chico, Cal., March 21.—Flood conditions are still serious. The Village of Dreadful, near Oreville, has been entirely destroyed by the Feather River. More than two hundred men, women and children were driven to take refuge in trees and on tops of houses, where they were exposed to rain and cold for 48 hours. Small boats rescued many. One boat engaged in rescue work was capsized and seven were drowned. They were Mrs. J. R. Hogue, one child; Mrs. J. F. Dallis, two children; Mrs. Legallay and Stella Legallay. A relief train from Chico, with berths, clothing and provisions was despatched over the Northern Electric Road, reaching the scene after some difficulty. The rescue work continues. Fifty people are yet on the island, and there is much suffering among women and children.

Over Half-a-Million Loss.

Oreville, Cal., March 21.—It is estimated that the loss occasioned by the flood in Oreville will be not less than $650,000. The water is now falling as far as Montgomery street. All the business houses on this street are under six feet of water. A telephone office has been established in the second storey of the Union Hotel, and that is the only method of communication with the outside world.

Two Persons Were Drowned.

Stockton, Cal., March 21.—A report from Venice Island, in the San Joaquin River, says two persons were drowned there Tuesday night. At 1 o'clock yesterday morning, the flood had reached its highest point and the water commenced slowly to subside in the city, but there is still a great rush of water through the streets. In the business section of the city it is four feet deep.

Danger Over At Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, March 21.—Clearing weather and a cold wind have checked the rising streams at the head waters and all danger of another flood has passed.

Southern Pacific Blocked.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 21.—The coast line of the Southern Pacific has been blocked by a landslide that has closed the Santa Margarita tunnel, located in the mountains north of San Luis Coisco. The line will be closed to traffic for at least four or five days.

VICTIM OF REMORSE.

Woman Suicides After Charging Her Husband With Assault.

Stettler, Alta., March 21.—The wife of a German named Stribritz committed suicide a few days ago at her home in the Notre Dame de Lavoie settlement, some 20 miles east of here, by shooting herself through the heart.

Her husband, it seems, had been confined in Fort Saskatchewan for assault upon his wife. It is believed that during his imprisonment the wife carried on an intrigue with another man, and that remorse for this, augmented by the kindness with which the wronged husband treated her, caused her to commit suicide. She had intimated to a stepson of Stribritz what her intentions were and the husband, hearing of it, had taken every precaution to hide firearms. The deed was done, however, while he was away, and the body was found in an outhouse by the dead woman's children.

A DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

Railway Man Shot Wife Who Had Left Him.

Boston, March 21.—John Blake, an employe of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Co., yesterday intercepted his wife Mary, who refused to live with him, on Carson street, in South Boston, shot her, and then committed suicide. The woman may recover. It is said that Blake urged his wife to return to his home, and when she refused he shot her. As she fell Blake placed the revolver's muzzle in his mouth and fired four shots, causing instant death. Six children of the couple lived with their mother.

Hat Cost His Life.

Sault Ste. Marie, March 21.—During the storm Tuesday, Donald McDonald, while crossing the river on the ice bridge, tried to recover his hat, which blew off, but broke through the ice and was drowned.

S. Larson went in to try and rescue McDonald, and was swept under the ice.

He came up in another hole, after it was supposed he was drowned. He crawled out unseen and went to his boarding house.

Cashier and $68,000 Gone.

Charlotte, N. Y., March 21.—Frank H. Jones, assistant cashier of the Charlotte National Bank, is missing with $68,000 of the bank's funds. The bank has offered a reward of $1,000 for his arrest.

Affiliated With McGill.

Montreal, March 21.—Principal Peterson of McGill University announces that affiliation with McGill of the Prince of Wales' College, Charlottetown, P. E. I., is accomplished.

Lineman Killed on Pole.

Chatham, March 21.—A heavily charged electric wire crossed the wires of the G. N. W. here yesterday and D. Lozon, a lineman, was killed while working at the top of a pole.

Pope to Be Prince's Godfather.

Rome, March 21.—It is officially announced that the Pope has accepted the invitation to be godfather to the expected child of King Alfonso and Queen Victoria of Spain.

The Bulletin newspaper, owned by Hon. Frank Oliver, was burned down building were destroyed. The loss will be $50,000.

Montreal Live Stock.

Montreal, March 20.—Receipts were 400 cattle, 50 milch cows, 500 hogs, 200 calves. Altho supplies of hogs were much smaller the demand was not strong enough to absorb them and some holders had to have them slaughtered for their own account. There was an easier feeling and sales of selected lots were made at $7.12 to $7.25 per cwt., weighed off cars. There was no extra Easter beef offered and the butchers bought sparingly, preferring to wait until Monday's market, when liberal supplies are expected. Prime beeves sold at 5¼c to 5½c per lb.; pretty good cattle, 4¼c to 5c and the common stock, 3c to 4c per lb. Milch cows sold at $25 to $55 each. There were no really good calves on the market and prices ranged from $2.50 to $6 each.

HEARTS COURAGEOUS

BY HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES.

Nearest the open lay a little group of twenty. It was the forlorn hope, volunteers all, who were to lead the column. One of these was Colonel Armand.

At the signal the twenty rose as one man and hurled forward on a run. A hundred paces and a challenge rang out; then the parapets opened in spurting gusts of death.

The handful stayed for no sappers, but scaled the abatis, leaped the ditch and rushed upon the works with their spontoons. Above them, as they climbed, were hammering oaths, stabbing steel and leaning, thrusting forms.

The first point blank discharge had gone to waste, and Armand, dragging a grenadier headlong down by the shoulders, leaped the wall and cleared a space between two guns with his saber, a space filled a moment after by the inrush of the supporting battalion. The fight became a pandemonium of cries, grapples and yellow flashes. The bleeding shadows swelled instantly full of a vast, red smoke, of yells, of curses, of men trampled, struggling, grunting, underfoot.

Armand, lunging, turned suddenly upon a snaky form creeping in the shadow of the gun. When seen, the man pressed back into the human surge, Armand trailing him pantherlike. To the latter's saber be opposed a sword and used it well, but gave way steadily before the fury of Armand's attack, retreating across the space between the rear of the redoubt and the river bank, scarce ten yards in width—an acre now a melee of hand to hand encounters with sword, clubbed musket and bayonet.

"Surrender!" cried Armand.

For answer the other avoided a thrust and twisted to one side, and Armand, with the rush, feeling loose ground crumble under his feet, realized suddenly that he was on the very marge of the high bank.

At the instant a new uproar arose. Through and over the space plunged the third detachment sent to attack the redoubt in reverse.

The impact sent a soldier tumbling at Armand's feet as he sprang to regain his footing, and, taking advantage of the instant, his assailant hurled himself upon him.

As they toppled in the clinch Armand recognized his foe.

"Now, curse you!" shrieked Jarrat. Then they fell.

• • • • • • • •

The rush had carried the position, and within two hours tireless Continental spades had inclosed it within the second parallel, a result which carried consternation to Yorktown, where later in the evening, in Cornwallis' headquarters—now Governor Nelson's mansion, since the American gunners had tumbled his first selection about his ears—a group of aids were assembled discussing the situation.

The conversation was interrupted by the entrance of Jarrat, followed by two Hessians bearing a stretcher. He addressed himself to Lord Chetwynde.

"Will your lordship pardon me if I ask a view of this man?" He pointed to the unconscious form upon the sagging canvas.

"I am no surgeon," said his lordship languidly.

"He needs no treatment," Jarrat answered. "'Tis but a chance tumble on the head. He is a prisoner taken tonight."

"What the deuce Yorktown wants of prisoners I can't see!" drawled the other. "Colonel Dundas is in charge of the barrack, I believe. Why bring him to me?"

"For your identification. Colonel Dundas wishes certain verification. This man escaped, while under your sentence, from the Duchess of Gordon in '76."

The other bent his eyes upon the white face on the stretcher, then looked at Jarrat.

"Your lordship recognizes him?"

"Yes," said Lord Chetwynde slowly.

Next morning a dispatch started from Cornwallis to Clinton:

> Last evening the enemy carried my advanced redoubt on the left. The situation of the place is, therefore, so precarious that I cannot recommend that the fleet and army should run any great risk in endeavoring to save us.

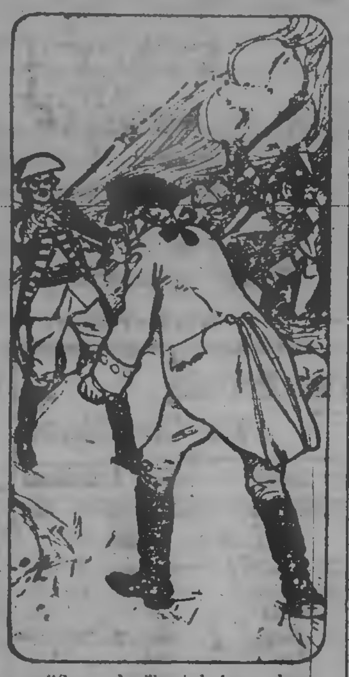
And so at 10 o'clock on the morning of Oct. 17, in the thunder of the guns, a red coated drummer appeared on the left parapet of the invested town. He stood silhouetted against the dun smoke clouds, beating a message that was lost in the roar.

But with the sight the cannonading fell silent. The smoke lifted, the musketry barked no more. And then the sound came clear, as sweet as cool rain in a fiery desert. He was beating the long "parley."

When the distant groanings died away in the air Williamsburg came out of doors to listen and wonder and rejoice. There in the afternoon Anne met Henry riding into Duke of Gloucester street with a deeper pain than she had ever seen in his dark face.

"What is it? What is it?" she cried. "Ah, he was only reported missing—missing! You are not going to tell me he is dead?"

Then he told her as gently as he could. One of Cornwallis' messengers had brought out the report that one, Louis Armand, captured two days before, was under condemnation in Yorktown to die that night at sunset.



"Surrender!" cried Armand.

She heard him with wide, terror struck eyes.

"To die!" she cried. "He was captured then. Let them believe what they may, he is a Continental officer—a prisoner of war! They cannot kill him. Why, they are negotiating now for surrender! I shall go to General Washington. He will not let them!"

He shook his head very gravely.

"Anne," he said, "my poor, dear child! The general officers of the American line know. They would not interfere. Jarrat's deviltry has won at last. He sent a letter out of Yorktown three days ago to General Hazen, denouncing Colonel Armand."

CHAPTER XIX.

IN little time Anne was mounted and on her way to the field of Yorktown, where the allied armies lay awaiting the outcome of that flag of truce.

Joy rested over all the wide camps, but there was none in her heart. She was conscious only of a dreadful, numbing ache and a desperate necessity to see him once more—to tell him. She had no further plan. The note she carried from Henry brought her without delay to the officer of the day, and the personal request it contained was not to be denied.

The sun was low when she passed the inner works and entered Yorktown between battered walls and gouged earth mounds which testified to the fierceness of the fire rained upon the British by Ferguson's and Machin's batteries. All about her were honeycombed streets cluttered with rich furniture, empty knapsacks, books, fragments of shells, iron caltrops, carcasses of men and horses, and horrors beyond description.

But she scarcely saw them. He was to die this night—this night—and the time was so pitifully short. The years he had fought must count for naught—all vanished before the weight of that one long-passed Philadelphia afternoon. What should have been his hour of triumph had become his hour of shame. And it was by her act!

The thought made her shudder as if with an ague. It seemed to her that God must have been blotted from the heavens—that there was no hope, no good, nothing but a colossal fate wheel which was rolling to crush Armand and her.

Where were the prisoners kept? She asked some one, who directed her to a barrack at the northern end of the town. Thither she pushed her way over foul refuse heaps and fetid ditches, through crowds of soldiers shouting loathsome doggerel, who jeered and caught at her, and past gold braided officers who cursed them savagely and made place. She noted none of these.

At the barracks entrance she met her first rebuff when a sentry barred her way.

"You have a prisoner," she explained, her breath fluttering. "His name is Armand. I would see him."

He answered only with an uncomprehending stare. As he turned she tried to pass through, but he thrust his musket across the door, with an angry Hessian grunt. A knot of soldiers tossed some German phrases to him from behind her, and he smiled at them stolidly over her head.

Then she became aware of a more kindly military face in the opening behind him. A hand touched the Hessian's shoulder; he faced about, saluted and moved off, and the knot of stragglers melted away.

"I am Colonel Dundas," stated the officer in the doorway. "Have you permission to see the prisoner?"

"No," she replied pathetically.

"This is a special order. None save the commander in chief can give such leave."

She sat down on the stone step, her eyes half closed, shaken by a dry sob. Not even to see him! It was ghastly!

Colonel Dundas was struck with her pallor. He was a gentleman and humane. "The prisoner who dies tonight is not under a recent condemnation, mistress," he said not unkindly. "And 'tis said he now holds the rank of colonel in the American army. Mayhap the Continentals will yet make protest."

She looked up with wide, miserable eyes. How could she explain it all to him? "There is no time—no time," she said with heavy lips.

He had turned away, but her voice recalled him. "Where is Cornwallis' headquarters? Tell me, quick."

"In the Nelson mansion," he answered. "Hope not on that, though. Surrender is deliberated, and the earl is under great strain."

"But he will at least see me."

He shook his head doubtfully. "You have still an hour."

Still an hour! How horrible to measure a life by minutes! Colonel Dundas watched her go with a frown of pity. War seemed more than stern to him at that moment.

Then he entered the door and sent for a chaplain to hold himself in readiness.

A sickness had climbed into Anne's throat before she reached the house. For a time she got no farther than the outer door. At length an officer, doubtless by reason of her evident distress, gave her a chair in what had been the drawing room. Scores of times she had sat in that selfsame room as gay as any guest. That she should be there now on such an errand seemed some hideous mockery of truth.

The British commander had before him General Washington's ultimatum as to terms of surrender—could see no one. So they told her, but she would not be satisfied. Her errand was a matter of life and death—concerned an execution within an hour. Twice the officer who had given her the chair went into the inner room. The second time he returned with a flush of mortification on his face.

"I dare not ask again," he told her.

She came out into the street at last when the sun was gathering crimson to its fall, her whole mind numbed, her body wrenching with nervous agony and with bruised shadows beneath her burning eyes. Instinctively she started in the direction of the barrack, and as she walked with uncertain footsteps her fingers went twisting a slip of paper they found in the pocket of her gown. Some soldiers were boiling a pot over a street fire of split boards, and as she passed them with the look of a sleepwalker she drew the paper out and looked at it.

Instantly a great thrill went through her to the tips of her fingers, and her cheeks rushed into flame. It was the hasty scrawl given her at Gladden Hall by Lord Cornwallis the day she had gone to him for John the Baptist.

This is what she read:

> My Dear Dundas—I suppose we must let the lady have her prisoner. Just give them passes out. CORNWALLIS.

She stood still a moment, afraid of the beating of her heart, cherishing a thought that was like a white coal in her brain. If she could! The soldiers were looking at her curiously, for women were rare in the town. If she could!

Then, clasping the paper to her breast, she ran with winged feet toward the barrack. As she neared the river bank the sun was a half disk of deep orange red.

The Hessian sentry was still on guard. But he had seen his colonel's previous greeting, and as she hastened up the steps he threw the door wide, and she ran through the corridor straight into Dundas' presence. He was sitting at his table, and a subaltern had just entered for instructions.

"I have it! I have it!" she cried and laughed—laughed joyfully with her heart quaking and fainting.

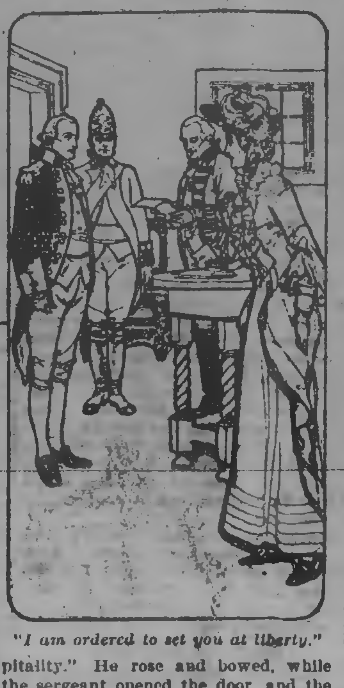
"You have it? I am glad." Dundas reached for the paper and read it, smiling. "General Cornwallis is surely occupied. He has e'en forgot to date it. However"— He struck a bell. "Sergeant, tell Major Needham his file will not be required tonight, and bring the prisoner Armand, fully clothed, to me."

She scarce heard what followed save to realize in a vague way that he was marveling at her miracle. But everything else vanished as Armand entered the room.

"Prisoner," Colonel Dundas announced, "I am ordered to set you at liberty. You owe so much clemency to this lady, who has interceded with Lord Cornwallis."

Armand had been pale when he entered. Having seen her, his face had grown quite colorless. He stood wordless, his shoulders lifting in a long, deep drawn breath.

"Here is a double pass," continued Dundas. "That, I believe, ends my hospitality."



"I am ordered to set you at liberty."

He rose and bowed, while the sergeant opened the door, and the two passed out into the noisome, brawling street.

The sun had set—the sky's golden ivory still moist for the first stroke of night's soft brush to paint in the stars. A thin new moon tilted over the musty purple of the river. Reaction was come. She shivered again and put out a hand toward him.

"Speak to me," she whispered.

"Rather," he said, "tell me at what house I can safely leave you."

"Leave me?"

"Aye. You have made me take my life at your hand. Spare me further humiliation if you can."

She had not thought of this emergency. Delay would spoil all. And even if he reached the American lines—ah, none knew better than she why he should not go there!

"I am in danger," she invented breathlessly; "in great danger—I cannot explain now—here in Yorktown. I have not a friend within the walls, no spot where I can be safe. I ask you to take me away."

"Let us go, then, toward the bastions," he said, turning.

"No, no!" She caught at his arm. "I cannot go into the American camp. Bethink you, 'tis night. I must get to Gladden Hall. See—here is the river. 'Tis but a few miles. Could you row me so far, think you, against the current?"

He did not reply, but led the way to a path which zigzagged down the bluff to the river. It was the spot where they had first met. Then the long stretch had bristled with shipping; now the wharfs had been pulled up to build rat rotted lean-tos, the bank was hollowed with dugout shelters from the shells, wherein wounded soldiers played at cards by new lit candles, and the water's edge was a jumble of ownerless barges and periaugers and a tohubohu of shouts and wranglings. Along the line of craft, where the tide scum shuddered in with spranglies of seaweed and chunks of wreckage, sentries patrolled ceaselessly with keep outlook for river deserters.

Armand chose a narrow skiff, found two oars for it and placed her in the stern as a lieutenant examined their pass. Then, with a strong shove, he sent the boat darting out on to the broad, smooth, unrippling current.

It had scarce drawn well away when a figure blundered down the bank.

"Call that boat in," he cried, "or have the sentries fire on it! That man's name is Armand. He is an escaping prisoner."

"Oh, no, Captain Jarrat," returned the lieutenant composedly. "You have the name all right, but he had a pass signed by Lieutenant Colonel Dundas. I know the signature well enough. This siege routine is playing the devil with your nerves, captain."

"A pass!" shouted Jarrat frantically. "By the ghost!" and went up the bank on a run.

Colonel Dundas was gone from the barrack, and Jarrat could no more get speech with Cornwallis than could Anne a half hour before. But the conference at headquarters ended while Jarrat waited, and the earl came out in no pretty humor. As luck would have it, Colonel Dundas was with him.

There followed an interesting scene, which left Lord Cornwallis in nastier mood than ever.

"She fooled Tarleton once," he swore. "Now 'tis you, Dundas. From under your very nose, too!"

And Dundas, perspiring, wholly astonished, hastened to order a longboat in pursuit of the skiff on the bare chance of overhauling the fugitives before they reached the American front.

Jarrat, however, made a different calculation.

His cobra hate, inflamed by the sight of Anne in the boat, leaped to a rapid conclusion. She had discovered that Armand had been exposed; they had taken the river way—the only way to avoid the Americans. So he argued. And whither did they fly? Where else than to Gladden Hall, now deserted, where she thought to conceal him till the hue and cry passed—where she may have hidden horses. The longboat would probably be baited by the shore pickets—the skiff might slip through.

Two hours after this ratiocination Jarrat was caught and held on the right skirt of the besieging army as a deserter from the town, and forthwith he demanded to be taken to General Hazen's headquarters.

There the general, seated in his tent, had just penned the last page of a letter:

> On the 14th, they had another Drobing. To-day, 17th, L'd Cornwallis sent a flag requesting a cess'n of arms & 2 Commiss'n'rs to form a Capitulation for the Army & the surrender of the shiping & posts of York & Gloster. Thus has the Earl been bro't to anchor in the height of his career. My next shall be more particular, in the meantime be assur'd of the Sincerity of y'r real friend and Ob'd't Humble Serv't.

He was shaking the sand box over the still wet signature when the captive was brought in.

"Three days ago," Jarrat began, "I had the honor to send to you a letter from the town in regard to a certain Continental officer."

The general sent the others out of hearing and bent his gray-black brows. "I have today heard of his condemnation," he said. "He is dead then. He has atoned. So far as I am concerned, his past shall be buried with him."

"But if," Jarrat continued—"if I should tell you that he is not dead; that the report of his condemnation was a trick; that he was not captured in the first place, but used the night attack to penetrate within Yorktown without exciting suspicion and so carry to Cornwallis full plans of the American works"—

"Your proof of this?" asked Hazen, his teeth set like a vise.

"The proof is that this very night he has been smuggled out beyond the Continental lines and lies at this moment in hiding in a house a half dozen miles from here waiting escape."

"Where is the house?" thundered the other.

Jarrat's lean lips smiled. "Pardon me if I make terms. In return for my freedom I will guide a detachment to his burrow."

"An this be true," said Hazen. He hesitated, but only for a moment. Then he called a sharp direction to his orderly.

"I must see General Lafayette," he said to Jarrat. "The cavalry legion is no part of my brigade. Colonel Armand was under division orders only."

But the marquis was making a tour of the works with the commander in chief and could not be found.

"It must not wait," fumed Jarrat. "He will be off."

General Hazen sat down and wrote a hurried order. "An he is not there, why, 'twill be merely a ride for naught," he mused. "An he is, there will be small question.

"Major Woodson," he said as a staff officer appeared, "take a relay of a dozen men immediately and go to the house this prisoner will show you. Should you find there Colonel Armand of the cavalry legion, arrest him."

"An he resists"— said Jarrat.

"The usual orders," the general answered. "Go!"

CHAPTER XX.

AS the skiff slipped out from the confusion of the town edge the moon, lifted like a paper sickle, silvered all the misty distance. A mile away across the broad expanse Anne saw the twinkling lights of Gloucester and to her left the campfires under the river bank slipping slowly back. But the current was steady and their progress necessarily slow. Ahead loomed the massive star shaped Fusileer's redoubt, with the British frigate Guadaloupe moored some way outside, and, passing, she clinched her hands till the nails struck purple crescents in her palms in a dumb terror of pursuit or alarm.

They were scarce come opposite this when a shot, a shout and a sound of oars tumbled upon thwarts came clearly over the water behind them.

"They have found it out!" she cried. "Row hard! Oh, would that I could help you!"

"Found out what?"

"I must tell you the truth. I have procured your escape by a trick. 'Twas not a true release which I brought to the barrack. 'Twas false. They are like to discover it at any moment and pursue us."

He stopped rowing. "You did that—for me? You spoke falsely when you said you were in terrible danger?"

"Row," she pleaded, leaning forward from the stern. "Stop not an instant. I have fooled Cornwallis. Think you he will forget that? Or, if they take us, that I shall go scot free? Would you see me in a cell?"

The boat shot forward with a jerk that made her catch her breath.

Trent Canal Construction Will be Continued South of Rice Lake

Hon. H. R. Emmerson Practically Stated That an Appropriation Had Been Placed in the Supplementary Estimates Contracts Will be Let and Work on Southern End Started This Year—Large Deputation From the District Interested Waited Upon the Minister of Railways and Canals—The Minister's Reply.

The deputation which went to Ottawa on Tuesday at noon have the extreme pleasure of announcing, and with a certain amount of assurance, that the lower end of the Trent Canal, from Rice Lake to Trenton, will be commenced this summer. It is true that not much work will be done in the way of dredging, etc., but tenders will be called and contracts let in a very short time now. The preliminary work will require several months, and by the time it is completed, and the contractors are ready to start, the season will be pretty well advanced and not much actual work can be done and therefore only a small sum of money will be required. Nevertheless a start will be made

It was generally understood that an appropriation for the Trent Canal would be made this session. In fact the announcement was made on Saturday that a sum had been placed in the supplementary estimates for that purpose. At the same time the presence of the deputation in Ottawa and the conference held with the members of the Cabinet made a good impression, and could not help but show the Government that the people living in the district directly effected, were unanimously and earnestly clamoring for water transportation between Georgian Bay and Lake Ontario

THE DEPUTATION

The deputation to the Minister of Railways and Canals was originated by the Board of Trade of Campbellford. That body sent out invitations to all the municipalities directly interested in the completion of the southern portion of the canal, to join with them. Among others were included the city and county of Peterborough. The council of this city was requested to handle the excursion end of it and Ald. Phelan, the chairman of the reception and legislation committee, took charge of the work. He arranged for a special C.P.R. train to leave the city at one o'clock, the tickets good to return any time up to Thursday. He made the arrangements for hotel accommodation and looked after his task in a manner most creditable to himself and very satisfactory to all those who took in the trip.

SPECIAL TRAIN.

Mr W. McIlroy, C.P.R. city ticket agent was in charge of the special train and he did all in his power to make things pleasant and comfortable for the passengers. Four elegantly furnished coaches comfortably fitted, pulled out of the station sharp at one o'clock. The train, however, was unfortunate. The freight traffic was particularly heavy on the main line and several waits were necessary until Smith's Falls was reached. After that the special made excellent time and it pulled into Ottawa in lots of time for supper. Coming home two special sleepers were attached to the regular train leaving Ottawa at eleven o'clock. These were dropped off at Peterborough and the passengers slept on until they were ready to get up. This was a great convenience to those who came home last night. A large number, however, stayed over until this morning

THOSE WHO WENT DOWN.

The deputation represented the residents of Peterborough, Campbellford, Trenton, Lakefield, North and South Monaghan, in fact all the townships in this county, Norwood, Havelock, Hastings and other places along the route of the canal between Peterborough and Trenton. There were about 150 on board.

Those who were on the special train going down were; Messrs Jas Johnston, W. H. Johnston, Geo J Young, G O Mathieson and J Thompson, of Havelock; A. W. Cressman, W. H. Smith, of Peterborough; Chas. O'Reilly, A. Breault, Geo J Sheary, of Norwood; John Brown, G. Dobbin, North Monaghan; Dr Burgess, Lakefield, Geo J Young, Havelock.

AT OTTAWA.

Going down on the train it was arranged that representatives of all the places interested in the canal, meet at the Windsor hotel parlors at half past eight. Accordingly a large number of gentlemen gathered at the appointed time. The object was to select the speakers who would present the case to the minister in the morning, and to select the different branches of the arguments for the different speakers. This was soon accomplished and the following speakers were appointed;

Mayor R. F. McWilliams to speak for the city.

Warden P McNulty for the county.

Mayor Doxsee and Major A A Mulholland for Campbellford.

Dr Jacks for Trenton.

The city council put up at the Windsor Hotel; the county council at the Grand Union; Peterborough citizens at the Russell House and the other delegates were divided.

At the Parliament Buildings

The time appointed for the interview with the Minister of Railways and Canals was eleven o'clock. At a quarter to the hour all the delegates met at the Windsor Hotel and proceeded in a body to the Parliament buildings. They were ushered into the committee room of the Department of Railways and Canals and were soon joined there by the Minister. Hon. Mr. Emmerson was accompanied by Hon. R W. Scott, Secretary of State, and Hon. Wm. Patterson, Minister of Customs.

The interview did not last much over an hour, as the speakers were all very brief. But the deputation came away well satisfied with the result of the mission and full of confidence that the building of the canal would be proceeded with this summer.

Mr. R. R. Hall, M. P., in introducing the deputation, said they were not coming to ask for something new or for something of which the Minister was not already fully aware. The main object of the deputation is to secure speed in the execution of the plans that all believed had already been prepared for the completion of the southern portion of the Trent Canal. Mr. Hall then called upon Mayor McWilliams as the first speaker

PETERBOROUGH'S MAYOR.

Mayor McWilliams stated that he had the honor to represent the City of Peterborough, in urging the government to complete the construction of the canal as rapidly as possible. The deputation was to strengthen in every way possible the Minister's hands, in placing a good substantial sum in the estimates for this work. His Worship then referred to the importance of solving the problem of securing the cheapest and most rapid transportation for the products of the Dominion, to and from the west. One of the most important features he said, is to complete the Trent Canal just as soon as possible. The Trent Canal district is unanimously in favor of the project, and by this deputation expressed to the whole House of Commons their opinions.

Mayor McWilliams then compared the relative cost of transportation of grain from Midland to Montreal by rail and by water. The distance is practically the same, but a barge will carry twice as much as the heaviest engine could draw, and the rate was also less by water.

The completion of the canal would also increase the development of electric power by 100,000 horse power, and thus convert Central Ontario into an industrial hive, which would be very beneficial to the whole Dominion.

MAJOR MULHOLLAND.

Mr. A. A. Mulholland of Campbellford, said that while the deputation last year was larger, it was no more enthusiastic than this one. When the canal was first projected, many years ago, it was a question of what the country might be. But the construction of the canal has not kept pace with the growth of the district. Thus it is now a question of what the province is. There is at the present time an embargo on all cargos to the sea and it should be removed.

Continuing the major stated that it was not necessary to say that the canal should be constructed. Everyone is fully convinced of that. What is wanted, is that the work be done immediately.

WARDEN McNULTY.

Warden P. McNulty in speaking, referred to the last trip to Ottawa, by the people of the Trent Valley district when the Minister promised to have large sums placed in the estimates for the completion of the work. All this deputation wanted was that the promise of last year be fulfilled and the work hurried along.

CAMPBELLFORD'S MAYOR.

Mayor Doxsee of Campbellford, dwelt upon the power question. A few years ago, it was possible to secure a license to build dams and develop power along the Trent river. But some years ago, the waterway was set aside for canal purposes and the power was tied up. As soon as the canal is completed, the development could go on, and the burden upon the people removed.

FROM TRENTON.

Dr. Jacks, of Trenton, on behalf of the people of Trenton district, wished to thank the government for its decision in going via the Town of Trenton, for the outlet of the Trent Canal. He agreed with the government that the decision was a wise one, and it would mean the building up of the whole district as a manufacturing district. A deputation from the lower end, four hundred strong, intended to wait upon the Minister, but had been cancelled when it was learned that the supplementary estimates would contain a sum for this work.

HON. MR. EMMERSON.

In reply to the deputation, Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, expressed his sincere pleasure at again meeting with a large deputation from the district through which the Trent Valley Canal will pass. If the presence of so many of these gentlemen in Ottawa did nothing else, it convinced him that they were imbued with faith in the Trent Canal. A few years ago, he did not think that the people had sufficient faith. His opinion, upon better acquaintance, had been changed. He had travelled up and down the waterway and had discovered the greatest enthusiasm in the project.

Personally he had heard and talked so much about the Trent Canal that he was thought to be a voice in the wilderness. But he hoped now to be able to prove himself more than a voice.

At this point the Minister apologized for the absence of the Prime Minister, Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He was engaged in winding up several matters before leaving for England to take part in the Colonial Conference. But he was now convinced of the importance of this great waterway.

Continuing the Minister said he had ventured to make some promises. In the first place he promised that complete and comprehensive surveys would be made of the entire route. This had been done and the engineer's reports had been placed upon the table of the House.

Next he promised that as soon as the reports were presented, a decision would be arrived at as to the outlets of the canal. This had been done as far as Trenton was concerned.

Again he promised, that as soon as the outlets were determined, the government would take into consideration the construction of the canal. The council has considered this question, and while a government cannot spend any money, until it had been voted by parliament, he hoped that within the next week, the people of the whole Dominion would know the result of the cabinet's discussion. He could not say how much money would be voted, but he did say that he was not asking for any more then he thought could be spent during the present year. Here he explained that the calling of tenders, the letting of contracts, and the preparations of the contractors to start work, would occupy a lot of time, and there would not be much of the season left to do actual work. However, as much money would be spent as it was possible to spend and do it wisely.

In closing, Hon. Mr. Emmerson said he had every faith in the Trent Canal, when completed, improving the transportation of the Dominion very materially. He promised that the matter would not be dilly-dallied any longer. He wanted to lift it out of the football arena of politics and to treat it as a purely business proposition.

SECRETARY OF STATE

Hon Mr. Scott said that during his thirty years connection with the Government he had been acquainted with many Ministers of Railways and Canals, but he had never met anyone so thoroughly interested in it, and so earnest in his endeavors as the present Minister. He had every confidence in Hon. Mr. Emmerson doing all in his power to complete the canal. The Secretary of State then referred to the necessity of transportation, and pointed out that the government had so many large and important schemes on foot, that it was impossible to grant enough money in one year to complete the Trent Canal.

Mr. Scott referred to the difficulty the government had to face in securing labor, even at double the wages. Several millions of dollars worth of contracts, have already been let in eastern, western or central Canada.

MINISTER OF CUSTOMS.

Hon. Mr. Patterson said it was only courtesy to appear before a deputation of his fellow citizens of Ontario. He took from what Mr. Emmerson had said, that if he has his way he will have the Trent Canal completed before long. Whether the amount of money in the estimates would be sufficient to complete the canal, he could not say, but it will be all that could be spent in one year. Personally, Mr. Patterson said for many years he did not have faith in the work of the canal, but since he became a member of the cabinet he looked into this question as he had into many other questions, and discovered that it had been greatly underestimated by the people of the province.

The deputation, then retired, and after dinner spent their time in various ways.

Receptien for The Deputation

Mr. R. R. Hall At Home at the Senate Restaurant

A very pleasant two hours was spent in a sociable free-and-easy manner by the Trent waterway deputation at the Senate restaurant in the House of Commons last night. Mr. R. R. Hall extended an invitation in the morning after the interview with Hon. Mr. Emmerson for all the visitors to meet him in the evening between 8 and 10 o'clock.

Mr. Hall's hospitality was accepted by nearly every one on the deputation and all had a most enjoyable time. Refreshments and cigars were served and the people from this district were made to feel at home.

An impromptu programme of songs and speeches were run off. Mr. Hall proposed the only toasts of the evening, "The King," and it was heartily drunk. The rest of the speeches were on the Trent canal and transportation. Among the speakers were the host, Senator H. J. Cloran, of Montreal, Senator Jas. Domville, of St. John, and Senator Geo. McHugh of Lindsay, Mr. W. H. Moore, representing the Canadian Northern, Mr. Crawford, M.P., from Manitoba, Mr. Dan Derbyshire, of Brockville, Mr. J. T. Schell, M.P., for Glengarry, and Mayor McWilliams, of Peterborough. A singular feature was that had the above speakers had their way the Trent canal would have been completed long ago.

A most enjoyable part of the programme was the several patriotic songs by Mr. W. McIlroy, Mr. John Belcher, of Peterborough, and Mr. John Tomley, M.P., for North Bruce

New Wharf for Peterborough

Otonabee Navigation Co. Applied for One at End of Street Car Line

The Public Works Department of the Dominion Government will construct a new wharf in this city at the end of the street railway company's Lock street line. It was mentioned in these columns last fall that there was every possibility of a request for such a work being sent to the department. Yesterday the Otonabee Navigation Co. made application to the Department of Public Works and in reply received every assurance that the work will go ahead this summer.

The proposed new wharf will replace the small affair at this point now. It will be for the general benefit of the public and will be greatly appreciated. The Otonabee Navigation Co. proposed to use this wharf very extensively for excursion purposes. In the past the poor accommodation has always been a draw back to this wharf. It was never used as much as it would have been had the conditions been better. Taking the street car down is much shorter and saves at least half an hour and for those who have made one trip through Little Lake and the locks, it is quite as pleasant. The new wharf will also be a great convenience to the people from down the river who come up to the city market to do business, and to excursionists it will be a boon.

Will Present The Crucifixion

Sir John Stainer's Immortal Masterpiece Will be Given in All Saint's To-night

Stainer's "Crucifixion" will be presented to-night in All Saints' church. The sacred meditation on the passion of our Blessed Saviour, consisting of solos, (tenor and bass), duets, quartette and choruses interspersed with hymns for choir and congregation, will be solemnly sung by the combined choirs of St. John's and All Saints', in All Saints' church at 8 p. m. to-night, under the direction of Mr. Richard J. Devey. Miss Bullen will preside at the organ. Printed copies of the hymns will be provided for the congregation.

Sixty-four thousand acres of surrendered Indian lands, part of which consists of the Coto reserves at Broadview will be put up for auction sale by the Dominion Government.

Will Hold an Open Air Service

The local assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew are arranging an open air service in Central Park on Good Friday afternoon at 3.15 p.m. Well-known local speakers will assist and a choir of men will lead the singing. Offers of assistance will be gladly welcomed by A. Kingdon, of St. Luke's, and R. J. Devey, of St. John's, on behalf of the local assembly.

New Representatives on Quarterly Board

Messrs. Andrew Brown, A. B. Cunningham, Geo. Minorgan, W. P. Admanson, Jos. Forster, T. B. Wright and Jas. Goodwin were elected society representatives to the Quarterly Official Board of Charlotte street church for the coming year. The election took place at the regular weekly prayer service which was held last evening. There was a good attendance.

The city of Vienna has bought out the two companies which control the undertaking business there.

AT GEORGE STREET CHURCH.

Another large congregation attended the revival services at George street church last evening. It was a splendid meeting and was productive of much good. Dr. Crothers preached a forcible sermon from the words, "Behold I stand at the door and knock." Miss Evelyn Chasty sang a solo. Rev. J. G. Lewis, of Mark street church will preach tomorrow evening. Rev. Dr. Crothers will conduct the service to-night. All are cordially invited.

INDEPENDENT PHONES.

At a public meeting held on Tuesday night at Stirling, it was decided by a number of farmers and business men, to organize a new telephone company, having Stirling as a centre. The lines will be extended through Rawdon, Sidney and eventually to other townships.

The Bell Co. was represented at the meeting, but they did not offer satisfactory rates. The new company will be known as the Stirling Rural Telephone Co. A large amount of stock has been subscribed already and construction work will be begun as soon as possible.

LADY LOST $45.

A Review representative happened to be at the police station today when a lady called there and notified the police that she had lost a light brown, leather pocket book, containing $45. It appears that about 11.30 this forenoon she went to the Bank of Montreal, and drew the cash. It was in nine Bank of Montreal five dollar bills. Putting them in her pocket book she went up George street, by way of Simcoe and called at a store after which she came back to Hunter street, where she boarded a car. Just as the car was moving off, she missed her pocket book, but still had the hand bag in which she carried it. It is thought that the lady must have in some way dropped the purse, as it was afterwards learned that she had not left it in the store. Someone has evidently picked it up on the street, and the guilty one had better return it to the police as they intend investigating the matter.

Alienists Declare Thaw is Insane

They Say That it Would be Dangerous to Release Him

Special to the Review.

New York, March 21.—Seven alienists employed by District Attorney Jerome in the Thaw case today signed affidavits for presentation to Judge Fitzgerald in the argument this afternoon for the appointment of a commission of lunacy to examine Thaw.

Six of the alienists, in their affidavits, declared that Thaw was suffering from a form of paranoia, that he should not be discharged from custody, that if he should be discharged, he would be dangerous to public peace and safety, and that it is reasonably certain that he will not recover.

The seventh alienist, Dr. Hirsch, agrees with his colleagues, except that he declares that Thaw cannot possibly recover.

Games Were Close And Very Exciting

Opening of Spring Basketball League at the Y.M.C.A.

The opening games of the spring basketball league were played at the Y.M.C.A. last night and the two contests were splendidly contested. Capt. R. Best's team defeated Captain Laing's quintette, by 37—31, and Captain Dobbin's bunch defeated Captain Richardson's team by the same score. Owing to some of the players not turning up the teams lined up slightly different from the way they had been selected, but this did not detract from the interest. Both games were fast and the outcome was in doubt right up to the last minute. Captain Best's team led at half time, 20—8, but their opponents did better in the second period and got 23 points to the winners' 17, but they could not pull down the lead. The Best-Laing game was played first and the teams were;

Laing		Best
	Back.
Dobson		R. Best
Elliott		Darling
	Centre
F Richardson		Emmerson
	Forwards
E Best		Staunton
Laing		Weatherstone

In the second game between R. Dobbin and W. Richardson, the half time score was 22—18 in favor of the winners. The teams were;

Dobbin		Richardson
	Backs
Brace		Fitzgerald
Turner		McRae
	Centre
R Dobbin		W Richardson
	Forwards
Loomis		Wallace
M Dobbin		E. Best

Mr Dingman refereed both games satisfactorily.

Next Wednesday night Dobbin plays Laing and Richardson plays Best.

GRIT AND TORY PLAY TO-NIGHT

Interesting Contest Promised at Curling Rink

There will be an interesting curling contest at the Charlotte street rink this evening at eight o'clock, when the annual battle between the Grits and Tories will be waged. There will be three rinks a side. The Tory skips will be Messrs. C. N. Brown, T. F. Matthews and Geo. Fitzgerald. The Grit skips will be T. Brightman, Sam Clegg and another yet to be selected. Tonight's competition is arousing great interest. The Conservatives expect to score a signal victory.

Easy Money for the Barbers

The Barbers' hockey team put it all over the Bartenders at Brock street rink last night, defeating them by 10 goals to 1. The razor men had it all their own way, owing to the brilliant work of Campbell, who scored almost at will. With Campbell off the teams would have been pretty evenly matched, and the game would have been much more interesting. As it was, there were many amusing features, and the spectators saw many things to laugh at. The teams played six men a side and lined up as follows;

Bartenders		Barbers
O'Shea	Goal	A Lewis
Guerin	Point	Darling
E Graham	Cover	Inkpen
Breen	Rover	Campbell
McDonough	R. Wing	Harrison
Halliban	L. Wing	Hayes

Guerin made some sensational stops at point and broke up all kinds of rushes. Eddie Graham at times also showed streaks of his old-time brilliancy. The bartenders scored their only goal near the finish of the game.

HOCKEY

THERE ARE OTHERS.

A newspaper or private individual that boasts long and loud about the hockey team of their town being the only thing that ever came over the pike shows a sorry lack of good judgment. Lindsay's case during the hockey season just closed, furnishes a good example of this. During the winter Lindsay citizens and the Lindsay press proclaimed to the world what wonders their Midgets were, and even went so far as to offer to beat Belleville, St. Michael's Juniors and the Stratford Midgets all in one night. Yet when it all was over the Scugogville players found that the Classic City bunch were more than they could handle on a March evening not long ago. Much the same kind of youths are found in every town and village in the country. When they play hockey they play on practically the same kind of ice, wear the same kind of skates, same brand of sticks, and chew the same kind of gum. Why the product of one town should outclass that of another under these circumstances is hard to be seen. Some one has to win however, and some one does land at the top of the [illegible] heap. But it is a good thing to remember that we, us and company are not the whole tip, and that the players from any other place on this sphere are not always "rank," "rotten," etc, etc. These remarks are applicable to all lines of sport.

Hall has a reputation for dirty work and nobody knows it better than Joseph himself. When Whitcroft was laid out on Saturday night Hall was at the other end of the rink, and he promptly started to the timekeeper's bench, remaining there till the trouble was all over. "I'll not go near there," he declared, "for they'll blame me, sure."—Winnipeg Telegram.

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women

Make Healthy Women.

Upon being taken into the stomach, the various ingredients are absorbed by the blood, and then find their way to every organ and tissue.

Some reach the uterine system. These allay inflammation, stop all drains on the system and make women regular.

Other ingredients stimulate the liver and kidneys in carrying off impurities from the system.

Others reach the nerves. These tone up the nervous system and supply vital energy, thereby curing the nervousness, irritability, and melancholy, to which so many women are subject.

The full effect of all the medicaments in the tablets is to arouse the entire female system to renewed life and vigor.

Improvement is noticed the first week.

Despatch From Kenora Says That the Games are Off

Kenora, March 20.—The Stanley Cup games are off. A conference of the managers of the two clubs was held here tonight, and no agreement was reached. Wanderers say they will return home. Kenora offered to play tonight if Wanderers could supply officials, but they could not, and said they would not play here, but wanted to play two games in Winnipeg. Kenora, of course, would not agree to such an ourageous proposition, and the Wanderers will now have to return east after a fruitless trip. Kenora offered to play an exhibition game in Winnipeg, but Wanderers would not agree.

Wanderers went to Kenora on a special train last night, but the Thistles refused to play, holding off for Friday night.

CRICKET

GILLESPIE WITHDRAWS

Harry Gillespie, who was nominated for the presidency of the C.L.A. announced yesterday that he would not be a candidate for that office. He says that his time is too fully taken up with other matters. Secretary Hall will receive his withdrawal as a candidate today.

C.L.A. CONVENTION.

The Canadian Lacrosse Association convention on Good Friday promises to be a busy session. The list of candidates for office is to date as follows:—

President—J. D. Bailey, of Toronto; H. S. Cameron, of Beaverton, and Harry Gillespie, of Toronto.

First Vice-President—J. M. Kearns, of Arthur, and C. A. Irvine, of Brampton.

Second Vice-President—Blaney McGuire, of Orangeville, and T. F. Doyle, of Newmarket.

Secretary-Treasurer—W. H. Hall, Toronto.

Council (ten to be elected.)—J. K. Forsyth, Toronto; A. P. Krausman, Elora; O. S. Eby, Hespeler; John McEachren, Toronto Junction; T. L. W. Tegart, Toronto; J. J. Kelly, Brantford, A. M. Regan, Peterborough, H. M. Jackson, Seaforth; G. W. Boyer, Bracebridge, J. D. Madill, Shelburne; G. G. Green, Bradford; C. A. Irvine, Brampton.

For the Presidency the race is between Mr. Bailey, who is now First Vice-President, and Mr. Cameron, who was the unsuccessful candidate last year. The appearance of Mr. Gillespie in the contest is not taken seriously, and it is not anticipated that he will go to a finish.

Big Celebration in Ennismore

Splendid St. Patrick Day Entertainment by St. Martin's T. A. S.

Ennismore, March 20.—Once more the capacity of the large township hall was taxed to its utmost to accommodate the large crowd that turned out from all parts to attend the annual concert given by St. Martin's T.A.S. Over five hundred people found seating and standing room in the hall and they came from Emily, Young's Point, Bridgenorth, Indian Village, Peterborough, in fact all the surrounding country had its representatives of eager listeners.

The programme was as follows;

PART I.

Overture by local orchestra.

Song, "I'm the Only Star That Twinkles on Broadway," by Wm. Bell.

Banjo selection, "Gimme me leaving," by J K Galvin.

Duett, "I'd rather play in my own yard," by Loretto Kennedy and Norel Crough.

Song "Colleen Bawn," by Mr. T. E. Kyle.

Clog dance by Mr. Quinlan, of Peterborough.

Song, "Rip Van Winkle," by Thos Begley

Sketch in one-act, "Is Marriage a Failure," by Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Kyle

PART II.

Irish airs by orchestra.

Song, "Little Colleen," by Eliza Flood

Step dance by P. M. Twomey, of Ennismore.

Song, "Rory Darling," by Miss Gertie Moloney.

Irish jig by O'Connor Brothers.

Banjo selection, "Whistling Mike" by J. K. Galvin.

Song, "Kitty Tyrill" by Evelyn Carew.

Song. "McGuire's Bike," by Wm. Bell.

Dance, sand jig, by Mr. Quinlan.

Song "Sweet Vale of Avoca" by Ida Galvin.

Song, "Waltz me Around," by Thos Begley.

Irish play in one act, "A Touch of Nature," by Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Kyle.

Song, "God Save Ireland," by junior choir.

God Save the King.

The above is the original program to which were added many hearty and well deserved encores.

Thos. Begley, a great favorite in Ennismore, was obliged to respond several times and sang as encores, "Girl Wanted," and "McNulty and his Duck."

J. K. Galvin, the old reliable, came before the audience several times and each time was most cordially received.

Misses Loretta Kennedy and Norel Crough were obliged to respond, and sang together, "When Papa Laid the Carpet on the Stairs."

Mr. T. E. Kyle was recalled three times and at each recall pleased the audience more and more. And right here we wish to state that Mr. and Mrs. Kyle are just what they advertise to be "Public Entertainers." They simply carry the audience with them. Their acting is of no ordinary quality. Mr. Kyle's portrayal of the "Irish Laborer" is simply perfect. Mrs Kyle is a highly educated lady, and her education and refinement are clearly reflected in all her acting. We bespeak a warm welcome to both Mr. and Mrs Kyle should they decide to visit Ennismore again in their capacity of entertainers.

Miss G. Moloney sang Rory Darling in her accustomed good form and received many well deserved compliments from Mr. and Mrs. Kyle for the excellent manner in which she accompanied them in their songs and plays.

Eveline Carew and Eliza Flood appeared for the first time before the footlights and both give much promise for the future. Their songs were well received as was also that of Ida Galvin.

The dancing during the evening was something new and most entertaining, Mr. Quinlan being obliged to come back several times.

The junior choir sang at the close, in excellent condition, "God Save Ireland."

Rev M. F. Fitzpatrick acted as chairman and one of the best concerts ever held in Ennismore was concluded by singing the National Anthem.

Miss Gertrude Moloney and Miss Ida Galvin acted as accompanists for the evening.

The local orchestra, under the leadership of J. K. Galvin, is composed as follows; Richard Hickson, Wm Hickson, Jos. Killen, J. K. Galvin and Miss G. Moloney.

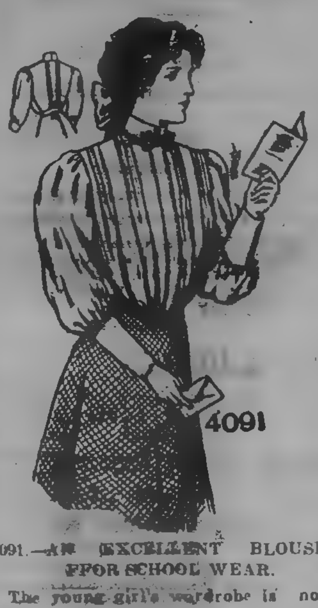
Shortage of Water at the Chaudiere

Ottawa Manufacturies are Waiting for Spring Freshats

The Ottawa Free Press says;—"The Chaudiere water power is in an extremely bad condition. Industries that are not thrown idle are operating at great expense in order to compete with unfavorable state of the river. One big firm is spending $120 a day extra on a staff of men trying to cope with the frazil and ice. J. R. Booth is prevented from carrying on the regular winter operations in his mill and most of the pulp grinders are thrown idle. The E. B. Eddy company is employing gas, gasoline, steam and electricity as supplementary power and some branches of the establishment are run entirely by this means. The river has dropped lower than has been seen for many a year. The manufacturers are anxiously awaiting the spring freshets to bring relief."

In Peterborough owing to the conservation of the water in the upper reaches there is plenty of water and the difference in height has not differed two inches in several months. This is very satisfactory to manufacturers and users of hydraulic power.

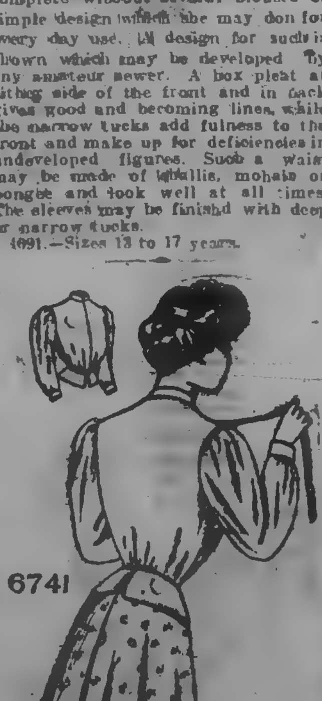
LATEST DEAN PATTERNS.



4091.—AN EXCELLENT BLOUSE FOR SCHOOL WEAR.

The young girl's wardrobe is not complete without several blouses of simple design which she may don for every day use. A design for such is shown which may be developed by any amateur sewer. A box pleat at either side of the front and in back gives good and becoming lines, while the narrow tucks add fulness to the front and make up for deficiencies in undeveloped figures. Such a waist may be made of challis, mohair or pongee and look well at all times. The sleeves may be finishd with deep or narrow tucks.

4091.—Sizes 13 to 17 years.



6741.—A SHIRT WAIST FOUNDATION OR LINING.

The shirt waist lining is qute indispensible to the woman who wears shirt waists, for it fills a variety of needs. The Parisian woman is wearing slips of silk or some thin material beneath all of her facey blouses and her American sister who strives to be up-to-date is doing the same. Furthermore many wear thin blouses all the year through by adding the extra thickness of the foundation lining on cool days. The pattern may be closed in front or back as desired and will be found an excellent one to own if one does any sewing for herself. For the medium size 4 yds. of 36 inch material are needed.

6741.—Sizes 32 to 40 inches bust measure.

Leave your order and 10 cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

TRY THIS FOR YOUR COUGH

Mix half ounce of the pure Virgin Oil of Pine with two ounces of Glycerine and half pint of Whisky. Use in teaspoonful doses. A famous throat and lung specialist, whose camp for consumptives in the pine woods of Maine has attracted great attention, declares the above formula will break up a cold in twenty-four hours, heal the lungs and cure any cough that is curable. The ingredients can be secured from any drug store at small cost.

Care should be exercised in securing the best quality of Glycerine and Whisky, while the Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) should be purchased only in the original half-ounce vials, which are securely sealed in a round wooden case, with engraved wrapper, with the name—Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), prepared only by Leach Chemical Co., Windsor, Ontario—plainly printed thereon. Cheap or adulterated Oils, which are sold in bulk, always create nausea, and never effect the desired results.

INVESTIGATE G.T.R. CLAIMS.

Opposition Want to Find Out Where Certain Money Went.

Ottawa, March 21.—Upon consideration of the report of the public accounts committee in the House yesterday Mr. Barker (East Hamilton) moved that the report be referred back with instructions to investigate certain claims of the Grand Trunk which were presented and disallowed and to demand the production of the certificates and vouchers for said claims, which have disappeared and to send for persons and papers.

In the first account presented to the Government the G.T.P. included large payments to lawyers and others and certain sums paid for preliminary expenses for which no vouchers were produced. The matters have been published quite recently in connection with the testimony taken before the committee.

Fielding Objected.

Some of these items, aggregating $162,000, were allowed by the railway department, but were refused payment by the Minister of Finance, who ruled that promotion expenses were not to be included in the cost of construction. Now these accounts cannot be produced, and there is a suspicion abroad that a large sum was charged and sought to be collected from the Government in order to recoup the G.T.P. for money spent in securing its charter from Parliament. The Opposition are anxious to trace back and find how this $162,000 was expended.

Another curious item was a charge of $46,000 for terminal facilities. Beyond question these so-called terminal facilities included townsites, and other real estate purchases for speculation. The majority of the public accounts committee refused to allow any enquiry, and the company had forfeited this amount rather than disclose what was included in these terminal facilities. The case was clearly stated by Mr. Barker.

Not to Be Investigated.

Mr. German (Welland) reported that the public accounts committee could only investigate those accounts presented to and paid by the Government. That committee was not authorized to investigate claims presented to the Government, but disallowed and not paid. The Government had advanced to the G.T.P. on account of the western sections some $950,000. Every dollar so paid was properly subject to investigation, but what was there to investigate respecting some other claim of $162,000, which the Government did not pay and which was long ago withdrawn.

Six Months' Hoist.

Ottawa, March 21.—In the Senate last night Senator McMullen's bill to forbid American labor men from coming to Canada to direct or assist in strikes, was given the six months' hoist.

$400,000 Stolen From Mails.

Paris, March 21.—An American mail bag, the contents of which was valued at approximately $400,000, has been stolen. The theft occurred either on board a steamship running between New York and Havre or between Havre and Paris.

The postal authorities have just placed the affair in the hands of detectives, although the theft occurred a fortnight ago. A cable enquiry to the New York postoffice brought confirmation of the fact that the mail bag in question had been embarked at New York.

The name of the steamer by which the mail bag was shipped has not yet been disclosed.

Leopold and Cabinet.

Brussels, March 21.—An acute disagreement exists between King Leopold and his Cabinet over the question of the Congo Independent State, the King considering the concessions made by his Ministers to the Parliamentary Congo commission to be unwarranted.

A special envoy from the Belgian Foreign Office has had an audience with King Leopold at Beaulieu, France, the result of which was unsatisfactory. It is believed in well informed quarters that the resignation of the Cabinet is certain as soon as the King returns to Belgium.

Duellist Hurt Each Other.

Paris, March 21.—A duel with swords that went to six bouts was fought here yesterday between Emmanuel Arene, Senator from Corsica, and Adolphe Brisson, a well-known journalist. Both contestants were wounded slightly.

French Ship In Collision.

London, March 21.—(C. A. P.)—The French sailing ship Massena, from Newfoundland, is a derelict in the English Channel, after a collision. Her crew of 17 were landed at Boulogne.

Lord Nevill Held For Trial.

London, March 21.—Lord William Nevill, fourth son of the Marquis of Abergavenny, was yesterday committed for trial on the charge of stealing jewelry. Bail was fixed at $25,000.

Ship Lost; 21 Drowned.

Springville Will Have Daily Mail Service in Near Future

Deputation Waited Upon Deputy Post Master General—Request Was Granted—Peterboro' Will be Distributing Point—New Local Train on C P.R.

Springville will have a daily mail service just as soon as the arrangements can be completed. A deputation from North Monaghan and Springville waited upon Dr. Coulter deputy postmaster-general, yesterday and presented to him their proposition.

It will be remembered that a meeting was held several weeks ago at the Oriental Hotel when the Springville people asked the C.P.R. officials to extend the Kendry siding and establish a station there with a daily train service. The C.P.R. very favorably considered the request for railway communication with that part of the township and it was proposed that a second local train between Havelock and Toronto be put on. This train would make one round trip daily, stopping at the new Kendry station. It was also proposed that a station and freight shed be erected for the accommodation of the passenger and freight traffic. In addition the railway company was to provide stock yards for the shipment of cattle, swine and horses.

All these things the C.P.R. agreed to do providing the Dominion Government gave them the contract for carrying the mails to Springville, and recommended the deputation to wait upon the postmaster-general.

Arrangements were made with Mr R. R. Hall, M.P., for the residents of North Monaghan to meet Dr. Coulter, the deputy. As a result a large number accompanied the Trent waterway deputation to Ottawa.

An interview was granted the Springville people yesterday afternoon. There were present Dr. Coulter and Mr. Armstrong, the railway service contractor, for the department, and the reeve, councillors and clerk of North Monaghan, Rev Dr Marsh, and Mr. Fred Wilson, representing the residents of Springville.

The conference was brief. The delegates stated that they wished a daily mail service via the C. P. R. They explained that at present the Springville mail was distributed at Port Hope, sent to Fraserville, and carried by stage 3 1-2 miles to Springville. It was only a three-times-a-week service and was very unsatisfactory. If the Government gave the C.P.R. a contract to carry the mail to Kendry siding, the people would have a daily service and get their Toronto papers in the evening.

The request will be granted. Dr. Coulter recognized the disadvantage it was to the people to get mail only two or three times a week and the expense of changing the system was comparatively little. In future, as soon as the C.P.R. and the post office department reach an understanding, and the railway gets the new station up and another train running, Peterborough will be the distributing point for the Springville mails.

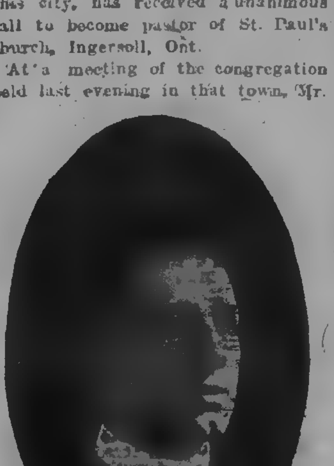
The deputation, upon being assured that they would get what they asked for, retired, well satisfied with their mission.

Rev. A. Bright Receives Call To St. Paul's Church, Ingersoll

Was Unanimous Choice at Congregational Meeting Held Last Night—Will Leave Shortly to Assume His New Duties.

Rev. A. Bright, B. A., who for nearly a year past has been assistant pastor of St. Paul's church, in this city, has received a unanimous call to become pastor of St. Paul's church, Ingersoll, Ont.

At a meeting of the congregation held last evening in that town, Mr. Bright was the unanimous choice and the call will be forwarded to him at once. He received word this morning of the invitation and will accept it.



REV. A. BRIGHT
Who Has Received a Call to St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Ingersoll.

Mr. Bright will succeed Rev. Dr. Hutt, who was for seventeen years minister of the congregation, and passed away in September last. Since the death of Dr. Hutt, several candidates have been heard, and among those who preached was Mr. Bright. He occupied the pulpit on Sunday, Feb. 24th, and on Sunday, March 3rd. He created a decidedly favorable impression.

Mr. Bright's many friends in Peterborough will congratulate him on his elevation to the pastorate of such an important charge as St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Ingersoll. The edifice is a large and handsome one, and will seat 1200 persons. The membership is 670.

It is understood that the stipend has been fixed at $1,500 a year.

Since coming to Peterborough in April last, Mr. Bright has, by his manly and courteous disposition, his genuine and unassuming Christian character, and his able, thoughtful, sermons, won a firm place for himself in the confidence and esteem of the community. He is a young man of brilliant parts and will take a high place in the profession to which he is devoting his talents and energies.

Fire Hall at Ottawa Was Inspected by Aldermen

Ald. Johnston and a Few Others Were Looking for Information and They Got it—Inspected the Fire Alarm System Also.

During yesterday afternoon Ald. Johnston, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, and quite a number of the aldermen, visited No. 2 fire department at Ottawa. The visitors were accorded a warm welcome by the chief, deputy chief and the men. They were made to feel at home and were free to go where and do as they pleased in the hall

The aldermen carefully inspected the hose waggon, fire engines and the ladder trucks. The department has two engines, one similar to the Peterborough engine, drawn by three big horses, and a smaller American make of engine, drawn by only two horses The harness used is all the latest make of safety fasteners and quick harnessing. This drew a lot of attention from the visitors, and some of the devices may be adopted here. As for the stables, they were all that could be desired. There is not the slightest odor and everything is as clean as a pin. The stable floors are all fitted with pans underneath which are washed out twice a week, and this does away with the smell

There are fourteen men engaged at No. 2 hall, and they are all paid. They start at $35 a month, and work up after several years to about $50 a month. The one great feature of the whole department is the thorough cleanliness of everything.

The aldermen then went to the city hall, where they were given an object lesson on the fire alarm system. Altogether Ald. Johnston and his associates put in a very profitable afternoon.

OBITUARY

ELLEN McNICHOLL

The death occurred this morning in this city, of Ellen McNicholl at the advanced age of 84 years. The deceased was born in Ireland and came to Canada when quite young, settling in Peterborough, where she had resided ever since. She leaves no relatives.

The funeral will take place on Saturday from 111 Stewart street to St Peter's Cathedral and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

AMUSEMENTS

"MY WIFE'S FAMILY."

"My Wife's Family," a sparkling farce comedy, the work of Stephens and Linton, will be the attraction at the Grand opera house Saturday, March 23rd. The comedy is in three acts of uproarious fun, music and amusing entertainment furnished by clever comedians, pretty girls, who are allotted many catchy and dancing numbers, that are sure encore bringers. "My Wife's Family" is a play that is clean, wholesome and being devoid of all horse play and suggestiveness too often found in the lighter forms of entertainment offered the theatre going public.

The cast employed in the merry comedy was selected with careful attention as to their fitness for the characters assumed, with a natural result of an evenly balanced company. The stage, scenic as well as the mechanical effects, are appropriate in every detail. A number of interesting and novel vaudeville specialties are introduced during the action of the play by various members of the company.

ENTERTAINED THE VISITORS

Local Bakers Banqueted Their guests.

The executive officers of the Master Bakers Association, who were in the city yesterday were entertained last night by the local bakers at an enjoyable little banquet at Hooper's palm gardens. A delightful time was spent, but in addition to the social side the event was one of much profit to all concerned as ideas were exchanged and plans for the improvement of conditions discussed. The officers of the executive, many of whom own large shops in the big cities, were able to give many valuable pointers to the local men. Mr. N. Lush acted as toastmaster in a most acceptable manner. Coleman Bros. contributed several well rendered vocal selections that added greatly to the pleasure of the evening.

The visitors left for their respective homes this morning.

How Peterboro' Goes After Things

Lindsay Post says;—When Peterborough citizens want anything they go after it in a way that impresses observers with their earnestness of purpose. Yesterday a special train left Peterborough for Ottawa with 200 citizens on board, their object being to wait upon the Minister of Railways and Canals with the request that steps be taken at once to proceed with the completion of the southern end of the Trent canal. Incidentally they will make a few other suggestions calculated to benefit Peterborough Under similar circumstances Lindsay might turn out a bunch of 25 or 30, but not without a lot of soliciting and urging.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS

The municipal committee of the Ontario Legislature has considered several amendments to the act, presented to them by the Ontario Municipal Association.

Although the proposition to enable cities to hold annual elections on the first Monday in December, instead of on the first Monday in January, as at present, was withdrawn ,the committee will recommend some change applicable to all municipalities. No exception will be made with respect to cities. It is probable the amendment will take the form of holding the contests earlier, so as not to interfere with the holiday season, when peace and good will should prevail instead of the acerbities and bickering so often prevalent in political strife, especially where the battles are waged on party lines. It is likely that something will be done in the direction of changing the dates this year.

The committee rejected the proposition that men who had not paid their taxes should be eligible for election as councillors. This is perfectly proper. A man who is in debt to the municipality should not be entitled to a seat at the council board If representatives do not pay their taxes how could it be expected that the citizens should do so. Aldermen should set the average ratepayer a good example and the committee has done well in checking the proposal to allow men to run for aldermanic honors who are in debt to the municipality.

Another important clause is that municipalities shall not be liable in cases of accidents on roadways, due to the road being out of repair, unless verbal notice shall have been given to the proper authority. A municipality cannot keep every street or road in repair all the time but now it is not likely that it will be held responsible for mishaps unless verbal notice has been given. This will be a protection to municipalities, and prevent, if the amendment becomes law, petty actions for damages, which many persons, who are always looking for damages from a corporation, are only too ready to enter.

Another proposition voted down was that sidewalks, pavements and sewers could be constructed as local improvements upon a two-thirds vote of the council. This would have taken the matter entirely out of the hands of the people and made the councils too powerful. Now, all the work will be proceeded with on the same lines as formerly, viz., when petitioned for and the petitions bear the requisite number of signatures and representation of the total assessed value on the street where the sewer or sidewalk is desired.

The committee did another good thing in rejecting the proposal that municipalities should be able to construct street railways even where there were already such railways, provided that no agreement between the municipality and the railway company be violated.

On the whole the amendments are progressive and satisfactory, without being too aggressive in character.

PEN POINTS

March 21st. This is the day that Ayers Almanac contains these magic words after the date "Spring begins."

The western fever has strongly broken out in this district. Each day several heads of households and even whole families catch it. Well, spring is the moving time.

There are in this age protagonists, suffragists, insurrectionists, alienists and deputationists. Peterborough has a liberal supply of the latter mentioned gentlemen.

"An advertisement says: Spruce up, gentlemen." In other words, 'leaf out,' 'branch out,' 'shed your 'eaves,' for is not spring here, and the male sex must do something to keep within sight of the millinery procession.

To-day is the day of spring millinery openings—but you cannot haul a man within 1,000 yards of the display. He knows only too well that those creations which are so "fetching" in style, will fetch the inmost depths of his pocket book before his wife is through with her purchases of spring headgear.

Edmonton is a live town, and the Edmonton Board of Trade is a live institution. At its recent annual meeting the Edmonton Board, besides appointing officers and council, appointed the following active committeds:—

Committee for the promotion of industrial and commercial enterprises.

Committee of transportation.
Committee of civic interests.
Publicity committee.
Wholesale section.
Retailers' section.
Manufacturers' section.
Financial section.
Professional section.
Insurance section.
Grain and milling section.
Real estate section.

Each branch has its active head, and each committee starts out to do its best for the object which the Board has in view—to make Edmonton a city of one hundred thousand people

Annual Roll Call At Murray Street

There Was a Large Attendance —Ladies Served Tea

The annual roll call of the Murray street Baptist church took place last evening. A choice tea was served by the ladies of the church from 6.30 to 8 o'clock ,after which the roll call was proceeded with. A large number of the congregation were present and answered to their names by quoting a verse of scripture. Others who were prevented from being present by illness, and some of the older people of the church, sent letters. During the evening Miss Clara Kidd rendered a vocal solo in her usual excellent manner.

A thank offering was taken up and amounted to about fifty dollars, which will be donated to one of the denominational missions.

This Church Was Aggressive

Prepared to Erect New Building in Coatesville

Had the Coates Manufacturing Co. gone on this year with the erection of their buildings and dwelling houses at the north end of the city—a proceeding, which at this late date is not likely—it is learned on good authority that work would have also been begun on a new Anglican church in that section. It would have served the Auburn district as well. The lot was purchased and the sanction of the Home Mission Board obtained and an appropriation set aside toward meeting the stipend of a curate. The new edifice would be located in St. Luke's parish, and would have been in charge of Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, who would have been assisted by a curate in looking after the rapidly growing interest of the parish.

This demonstrates one thing—that St. Luke's church is active and aggressive and would have been the first religious body to erect a house of worship in Coatesville. The move was certainly a wise and far-seeing one. In the meantime the project has not gone ahead as the negotiations between the Coates Co. and the city of Peterborough are in abeyance, and it is not likely that the Company will do anything this year. Mr. Dunwoodie the Company's Canadian manager, having as stated some time ago, been recalled to Scotland

Commission in Lunacy Will Likely Be Appointed.

Defence Abandons Thaw Letters In Order to Stop Adverse Witness—Court Adjourns Till Friday—Prisoner Declared To Be a Paranoiac—Expert For Defence Is Barred—Breeze Between Counsel.

New York, March 21.—The Thaw trial opened yesterday with a decided surprise, Attorney Delmas, for the defence, withdrew the offer of the letter which he wanted to put in evidence Tuesday afternoon. This letter was written by Harry Thaw to J. Dennison Lyon, a banker of Pittsburg.

Dr. Hamilton then took the stand. He is the alienist who has been under subpoena by both the defence and the prosecution at various stages of the trial. Dr. Hamilton has stated the belief that Thaw not only was insane when he shot and killed Stanford White, but has remained so. He does not appear as an employe of either the state or the defence, he has publicly declared, but has held himself ready to take the stand at any time and impartially give the results of the examinations he made of the defendant shortly after the tragedy. At that time he was engaged by the attorneys for Thaw, but when Judge Olcott left the case, Dr. Hamilton also withdrew.

Dr. Hamilton's Evidence.

Dr. Hamilton, after qualifying as an expert, under Mr. Delmas' questioning, said, that with other alienists, he had seen Thaw soon after his incarceration.

"Was there any medical or physical examination at that time?" asked Mr. Delmas.

"There was a medical examination as far as it went," replied Dr. Hamilton.

"What was that examination?"

Mr. Jerome at once objected. "This is a re-opening of the whole case," he argued. "Dr. Hamilton's evidence has no place here. It belongs in the case in chief and not in rebuttal. Dr. Hamilton has been here all the time and could have been called at any time."

"The district attorney," replied Mr. Delmas, "has on several occasions called your honor's attention to the fact that he is a quasi-judicial officer. He has no right to come in here now and attempt to shut out the truth."

"That is not so," broke in Mr. Jerome. "If the objection is made on that ground I will withdraw my objection. I am perfectly willing to re-open this whose case and let all the truth go in."

Court Adjourns.

The jury was excused until Friday morning, but Justice Fitzgerald will hold court this afternoon, to hear testimony regarding the appointment of a commission to test Thaw's sanity. On Friday morning Justice Fitzgerald will deliver his decision in the matter.

In addressing the court, District Attorney Jerome declared that if he could legally present to the court all the facts he possessed it would be shocked and horrified.

"We have no right to be trying this defendant in a court of law."

"So bitterly do I feel about this," he continued, "that I have served notice on counsel that if they have knowledge of facts I believe to be in their possession, I will call the matter to the attention of the appellate division of the Supreme Court."

Justice Fitzgerald said he would institute an inquiry before himself and not before the jury as to the present mental state of the defendant.

Jerome said he would lay before Justice Fitzgerald all the information he had and which he believed would result in a halt in the trial.

Thaw a Paranoiac.

Mr. Jerome told Justice Fitzgerald his own experts had informed him that Thaw is a paranoiac.

Jerome said the state's experts, while saying that Thaw knew the nature and quality of his act, thought that he is unable to advise his counsel as to the conduct of his case. When a prisoner is in that condition, the court should not proceed further.

Mr. Delmas asked if District Attorney Jerome intended his application to be for a commission in lunacy.

"I understand it," said Justice Fitzgerald.

"I make no application. I say to the court that I can prove the defendant is incapable of directing his defence. I leave the matter with the conscience of the court."

What is the Vocabulary of the Average Individual?

Character in "Singleheart and Doubleface" Could Express Herself as Adequately With 900 Words as Educated Persons Can With From 5,000 to 12,000.

What is the usual extent measured in number of words of a man's vocabulary? Many guesses have been made. The late Charles Reade in "Singleheart and Doubleface," remarked about one of his characters, an uneducated woman, had a vocabulary of a little more than nine hundred words, though she could express herself as adequately with them as educated persons whose vocabulary averaged, he supposed, something between five thousand and twelve thousand words.

There is no means of knowing how Charles Reade arrived at this computation, but, says the London Morning Post, it may be pointed out that adults are familiar with many words that they have rarely, perhaps never used. The difficulties in the way of counting accurately the number of words actually used by an adult, or even by a child over three years of age are almost insurmountable. A child may not use words that are perfectly familiar to him for months merely because he has no occasion to use them; for instance, words frequently used in the summer or in the country may never be used in town or in winter, but it is not so hard as Professor Kirkpatrick points out, in a paper on "A Vocabulary Test," to estimate the words that have a meaning for an individual. He calculated the number of words in his own vocabulary by going through an unabridged dictionary and counting the number of familiar words on every tenth page. Since then he has induced a number of students to estimate the number of words that have for them a fairly definite meaning on a few pages of the dictionary, and then calculating from this proportion of familiar words the total number of words they knew. He has estimated several of these forms of test, and one of the simplest has been to choose the first, second or last word, or any other definitely numbered word on every sixth page of an unabridged dictionary (such as Webster's, with twenty-eight thousand words on six hundred and forty-two pages), and then make an estimate from the proportion of words accurately defined by the student from among their selections.

We cannot follow Professor Kirkpatrick into all the grades of vocabulary knowledge which he discovered, but must be satisfied with saying that in schools and colleges alike be found very definite gradation according to age and classes, or, as we should say, according to "standards." Thus boys in what we should call the fourth standard had a vocabulary of about four thousand four hundred and eighty words, whereas boys in the seventh standard would have an vocabulary of eight thousand seven hundred words. In colleges the numbers continue to increase, and range from fifteen thousand six hundred and forty for freshmen to eighteen thousand seven hundred and twenty for seniors. A man's vocabulary usually goes on increasing till he is thirty.

Master Bakers' Convention Will be Held in Toronto

The annual convention of the Master Bakers' Association of Ontario will not be held in Peterborough this year. As announced yesterday, the executive officers of the Association were in the city yesterday looking over the ground, and held a meeting in the afternoon, when, after considerable discussion, it was decided to hold the convention in Toronto, on Aug. 14th and 15th. It will be remembered that at the annual convention last summer the Peterborough delegates extended an invitation to the Association to come to Peterborough, promising them a hearty reception and a royal time. Mr. M. Bredin, of Toronto, President of the Association, informed the Review last night that the reason they had decided to meet in Toronto was that, from an educational point of view, Toronto had the advantage. From the standpoint of entertainment Peterborough had many things to offer, in fact excelled in this respect, but the educational work of the Association is paramount, and Toronto could offer many things in the line line of model bake shops, the latest equipment, etc., that Peterborough could not do, although Peterborough bake shops compare favorably with those of any other city of its size in the province.

A new feature will be introduced at the convention this year, that of holding an exhibition of bakery products in conjunction with the convention. This should prove a most interesting and profitable innovation. The Association has also decided to offer a prize of $25 to be awarded to the architect who submits the best plan for a bake shop for a small city or town.

The members of the Association present were Mr. M. Bredin, Toronto, President; Mr. H. T. Trent, Toronto Secretary; Mr. A. W. Carrick, Toronto, Treasurer, and three members of the executive, Messrs. Hilton Toronto; A. M. Evans, Hamilton, and Jas. Acton, Toronto. They expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the way they had been treated in Peterborough, and were deeply grateful to the local members of the Association for the hospitality and attention shown them. It is understood that the convention will come to Peterborough next year.

SURSUM CORDA

Ye men of this fair Dominion, I say unto you, arise!
Are you going to let the sun go down, from the zenith of your skies?
Where are your noble poets and your men of worth and might?
Are they going to let your sun go down in never-ending night?

Is there no one left in all the land who can your minds unfold?
No one to stir the nation's pulse and raise her from decay,
As Rome was thrilled before the night obscured her glorious day?

For the sun of the Roman Empire set when her poets' lamp went out
And destruction fell on the Empire's throne, which was tottering with doubt,
And since that day full many a mighty nation's fell,
When knowledge failed to breathe o'er them, her magic guiding spell.

O, shades of immortal poets! Breathe o'er these poets of ours,
A double portion of wisdom, that they waste not time's sweet hours.
O, Shakespeare, come and dip their pens, where thou didst thine of yore,
That they may write for the sons of men, as they never wrote before

Poets, arise! And cast away your dreams of idle play,
Write words to burn to the nation's heart, and point the upward way,
Inflame on the minds of the men who stand, at their post on Duty's deck,
That Wisdom is the only thing can save this land from wreck.

Paid Tribute to General Booth

Rev. W. C. Allen Referred to Work of Great Salvationist

A large congregation attended the usual Wednesday evening Lenten service at St. Luke's church last night.

Rev. Wm. C. Allen, of Millbrook, preached an eloquent sermon from the words found in the 24th verse of the 9th chapter of St. Mark's gospel, "Lord I believe; help thou my unbelief." The speaker referred to the miracle of our Lord which resulted in the words of the text being spoken. A man comes to Jesus with his son who is possessed of a dumb spirit. He asks Him to heal his child. Jesus replied "If thou canst believe all things are possible to him that believeth." "Look at the poor man's faith, his cry of faith and the Lord's treatment of it," said the reverend gentleman. First the man was in great need. He had tried everything for his son and all had failed. Secondly the man deeply felt his utter helplessness. Thirdly, as a last resort his faith strengthened by his sense of helplessness he comes to Christ. He is told to believe and to wait. He asks Christ to help his unbelief.

The speaker asked "do we desire spiritual faith? Are we desirous of filling those conditions that it is necessary to fill that we might escape hell and gain heaven?" Looking at things business like we do not wish to be our own doctor, our lawyer or to do everything ourselves. Neither can we be our own redeemer, said the speaker. We must come to Christ even as the poor man came. The sense of our helplessness brought us to Christ. In all difficulties of life and in sorrows we should have faith and trust in God. He will help us if we only believe in Him.

The text does not imply that the man had no faith. He had faith, but he asked that it would be strengthened. Our faith is not perfect. The speaker urged the congregation to be genuine and sincere in their faith and pray that it might grow in strength. Depend upon it Christ will hear your calls and help you. Every day Christ answers our prayers. He gives us power to go about our daily work and sends us our bread.

In conclusion Rev. Mr. Allen paid a high tribute to the great work that General Booth of the Salvation Army who is now travelling through Canada, was doing in raising men out of the gutter and leading them to believe in the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Retail Liquor Merchants Not Admitted to A. O. U. W. Membership

A warm discussion arose out of a proposition to cancel the membership certificates of men employed in the retail sale of liquor at the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Ancient Order of United Workmen in Toronto on Tuesday. At the present time no person so employed has admittance to the Order, but the committee agreed that there should be no legislation with regard to present members.

Three Inebriates in Police Court

All Were Heavily Fined at This Mornings Session

three inebriates

Three drunks occupied the prisoner's box at the police court this morning, and resulted in the city coffers being enriched four dollars. Richard Greary was the first to answer the roll call. He came in from Ennismore yesterday, and indulged too freely in the liquid that cheers, and was unable to go home. He was picked up on the street and brought to the police station. He pleaded guilty and was fined two dollars to be paid in ten days.

A well known resident of this city also pleaded guilty to being drunk in a public place yesterday. He was fined two dollars to be paid in ten days.

Thos. Kelly of Trenton, who was fined five dollars a week ago last Monday for a Sunday drunk, appeared again this morning, on a charge of being drunk. He acknowledged the offense, and was fined two dollars to be paid forthwith. He had not the necessary, so he will spend the next ten days on the hill.

County Council Asked Help For New Bridge at Buckhorn

Deputation Waited Upon the Minister of Railways and Canals—Not Much Encouragement Given—Requested to Send Memorial to Department.

The members of the County Council headed by Warden P. McNulty, accompanied by County Engineer, John Belcher, Solicitor E. A. Peck, and Clerk E. M. Elliott, waited upon Hon. H. R. Emmerson yesterday afternoon. The object of the interview was in connection with the public roadway over the proposed new dam at Buckhorn or Hall's Bridge. This road, as everyone knows, is very much travelled. The various lumber companies operating in Cavendish, use it altogether for crossing the stream, and many residents of the township of Harvey also use it, and it is impossible to abolish the roadway.

The present bridge, while owned by the county, is built on the dam now in existence, and owned by the Dominion Government. The dam is to be replaced by a new one which will be built further down the stream, or just a little east of where it now stands. It will be something like four hundred feet long, or about double the length of the present dam.

The government has already expressed its willingness to allow the county to erect a bridge over its new dam. But the object of the deputation was to represent the facts clearly and to endeavor to get the government to take up part of the expense of the new bridge.

The county representatives, also pointed out, that in any case, the government would have to construct a footway over the dam, for the purpose of maintaining and controlling the stop logs, etc. The Councillors also pointed out that the construction of the dam, widened the stream, at the head of the former rapids and that lengthened the bridgeway by about two hundred feet.

Then the government maintains the right to dictate the nature of a bridge to be built. It recommended that it be made permanent. This means that steel super-structure must be used and then covered with cement. The cost would be at least $5,000

Hon. Mr. Emmerson, under whose department, the proposed dam at Buckhorn will be built, gave very careful attention to the representations of the deputation, and suggested that they should be embodied in a memorial and forwarded to the department. He thoroughly understood the situation as far as the county was concerned, but he would not state whether or not he would recommend any assistance. He pointed out that the government had already consented to assist the county very materially, when it was decided to carry the abutment high enough for the roadway. To do any more would be creating a precedent and all kinds of trouble. However, he consented to look into the matter more fully.

The county council adjourned and met at the Grand Union Hotel, where they appointed a special committee to prepare the memorial. The personnel of the committee is Warden McNulty, Councillor Moher, chairman of the roads and bridges committee; Councillor Thompson, chairman of the finance committee; County Clerk E. M. Elliott, County Solicitor E. A. Peck, and County Engineer John Belcher. This committee will meet shortly to undertake the preparation of the memorial, and then send it to the department.

Real Estate is Booming In the City of Vancouver

Former Peterborough County Man Tells the Review About the City on the Coast—It is Growing Rapidly—Winter Was Unusuall Severey.

Real estate is booming in Vancouver, the city is growing rapidly and building is very brisk. These were the statements made to the Review today by Mr. John Chase of Harvey township, who is home on a visit after spending five years in the metropolis of the Canadian section of the Pacific coast. Mr. Chase will spend a few weeks in the east and will then return to the city on the coast to resume his duties. Since going to Vancouver five years ago, Mr. Chase has had a good position in one of the large sawmills in that city. A large amount of lumber is manufactured in that city and there are several large mills in constant operation.

REAL ESTATE BOOM.

As stated above, real estate is booming in Vancouver, and those who invested in property four or five years ago, are coining money. It is only during the last two or three years that activity commenced to rule in the real estate market, and since the boom started prices have gone up with leaps and bounds. The steady influx of population, and the large amount of building going on, have been the principal factors in putting up the value of property.

Speaking of the weather at Vancouver, during the past winter, Mr. Chase said that it was unusually severe. Ordinarily there is very little snow falls on that part of the coast, a depth of three or four inches being about the limit. But this winter there was over a foot of snow and there was ice on the rivers and lakes fourteen inches in depth. Usually at Vancouver there is a heavy downfall of rain during the winter months, but this year it was different. Snow took the place of rain.

SNOW ON THE PRAIRIES.

Coming east, across the prairies last week, Mr. Chase said that they were then covered with snow and the weather was much colder than at the coast. Seeding will hardly be as early in the western provinces as in past years. But the people expect the snow to disappear rapidly when it starts and that spring will come with a rush.

Mr. Chase informed the Review that there are many former Peterborough people residing at Vancouver, and the majority of them are doing well, and like the country well.

Bewildering Array of Millinery Greets the Visitor This Season

Spring Openings Are Taking Place in Peterborough—Ladies Throng the Parlors and View the Magnificent and Varied Displays—Something About the Present Styles.

To-day was the opening day for the spring millinery displays in Peterborough. This afternoon the millinery parlors were thronged with crowds of people viewing the bewildering array of wonderful creations which the fiminine word designates hats. Mere woman loses her reason altogether as she wanders from table to table of summer headgear and confronts the problem of choosing.

This year the Peterborough establishments seemed to have rubbed more fairy dust than usual upon their fingers, for their creations are really lovely enough to make extravagance seem a virtue. They retain all of the quaint old album look of last year, but are softened in line somewhat and show beautiful combinations of colors.

The mushroom shape is seen in everything, and a very becoming, coquettish shape it is, too, lifted high on a wide bandeau. Flowers, flowers flowers, banks and banks of them are used in everything, and in every possible combination. They are in every shade from the most startling reds to the softest of pastel blues. And plumes, great, thick, curling plumes, dangling recklessly down the back and over the hair almost to the shoulder, are shown in profusion.

Among the favorite straws displayed are leghorns, Panamas and neapolitans

The newest shape, and one which bids fair to take precedence during the spring and summer, is the gypsy poke. This is a development of the popular mushroom shape. One hat of this shape was a Panama in the Nankin shade and trimmed in ribbon and flowers shading into the richest of deep browns. Indeed, brown which comes in every shade from dead apricot to the dark seal brown, promises to be the most up-to-date color of the season. There are a great many all-pink hats in the softest, the most beautiful tones of that exceedingly trying color; also blue ones in charming combinations of flowers, feathers and Dresden ribbon. One very fetching little toque was made of fancy braid and trimmed with rosettes of ribbon, and then almost covered with grapes, blue grapes, which would make Wizard Burbank turn gray with despair, but which were nevertheless charming and natural enough looking. Another hat, a sailor, in black and white, was so artistically blended as to give one the impression at first gray. A lot of black is shown, usually in combination with something in the way of decoration. One of the most pleasing things noticed was the number of sweet little bonnets with long, soft ties, for elderly ladies. Bonnets of this description are so much more becoming to elderly faces that the stiff, ugly hats, which have been worn so long and give most faces a peaceful, gentle look, which a hat can never give.

Fancy pins and buckles play an important part in hat trimmings this season, as do quills, which are used in all the severer types of early spring millinery.

Taken all in all, shades have never been lovelier, shapes more becoming, nor affects more artistic than those indicated for the coming season by the gorgeous display at the openings this afternoon.

ANOTHER HOTEL IN LAKEFIELD

Mr. Thos. Darcy Will Open One, Making Four in That Village

Special to the Review.

Lakefield, March 21st.—Mr. Thos. Darcy, of Peterborough, has leased the basement building here and will fit it up as a temperance hotel and restaurant. The establishment will have sixteen bedrooms and will be furnished in good style. The restaurant will be well equipped and will be kept open each day from six o'clock in the morning until twelve at night. This will make the fourth temperance house in the village. Mr. Darcy will continue to conduct the Burleigh Falls hotel and his temperance house in Peterborough. He expects to do a large business.

Peck's Bad Boy and his antics were displayed by means of moving pictures in the town hall last night. There was a good attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hayward, of Cobourg, who are visiting in the village, were in Peterborough to-day.

Ex-Ald. Robt. Hicks and Mr. E W Cox of Peterborough, were in the village yesterday.

Mrs. Hubbard of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is visiting her sister Mrs. E R. Tate.

Mr. Ray and family of Smith township, left today for the Northwest, where they will reside. They took a considerable quantity of settlers' effects with them.

Evangelist A. W. Torrey, who is a former student pastor of the Baptist church here will open a campaign of two weeks special services on Sunday next. He will be assisted by Rev. G V. Collins, pastor of the Baptist church. Mr. Torrey, after his mission here, will go to Kinmount and then to Hamilton.

Mr J. H. de la Fosse was in Peterborough to-day.

The all night telephone service in the village has been inaugurated. The continuous service is greatly appreciated.

There was considerable excitement in the village on Tuesday night when a very high wind prevailed. Two chimneys burned out and a large crowd collected. The chimney on Gray Bros. grocery store and one on Mrs Orlando Rogers' house, gave the inmates some anxiety. Fortunately neither building caught fire, although for some time an outbreak of flames was seriously threatened

WM WILLIAMS IS STILL MISSING

No Word Has Been Received as to His Whereabouts—Disappeared on Sunday

Nothing has been heard as yet of Wm Williams who disappeared from his boarding house on Dalhousie street last Sunday afternoon about three o'clock. Apparently no one has seen him, as no reports have been received by the police.

Williams had been employed for the past few months as a mechanical man with Dr Robertson, who has dental parlors on George street. Williams had resided in the city only a short time, having come here when Dr. Robertson opened his parlors. Previously, Mr. Williams lived in London, Eng., for thirteen years.

His friends are much alarmed over his disappearance, and are anxious to learn of his whereabouts. Williams is about thirty-five years of age. His height is five feet, seven inches. He had fair complexion, long black hair, clean shaven and broad face. When he left on Sunday he wore a suit of dark clothes. His board was also paid a week in advance.

These two desirable qualifications, pleasant to the taste and at the same time effectual, are to be found in Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. Children like it.

Man From Chemong Had 500 Pounds of Lunge for Sale

The Review is creditably informed that a man who resides in the vicinity of Chemong Lake was in the city yesterday with about 500 pounds of maskinonge, which he was offering for sale. The fish were caught with a snare, contrary to the provision of the game laws, which, however, permit the catching of maskinonge with hook and line

The man who was peddling the fish called at several local hotels and at a number of private houses and, it is said, had no difficulty in disposing of his catch. The lunge weighed from seven to twenty-five pounds each and were sold at 7c. and 8c per lb. The man who had them, informed some of his customers that they were caught in Chemong and Sandy Lakes, and that they were not the first lot that had been brought to the city during the winter. It is said that large numbers of maskinonge are being caught with snares in these waters and that they find a ready market. The man who had the fish yesterday was not an Indian, but a white man; and it seems too bad that the game laws should be broken in this manner. A local gentleman remarked today that if this thing was allowed to be kept up much longer, Chemong Lake would soon be depleted of its supply of lunge.

Four Feet of Snow in The North of New Ontario

There were four feet of snow in the northern part of New Ontario when Mr. Jas. N. Clarke, of Millbridge, left there this week. Mr. Clarke was in the city today engaging men to work on a contract he has for the Government on the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario railway, 450 miles north of Cobalt. The weather was still exceedingly cold when Mr. Clarke left the northern country the first of this week and there was four feet of snow on the ground. When Mr. Clarke passed through Cobalt there was about a foot of snow in the silver country.

Mr Clarke needs about twenty men to work on his contract and he hired several here today. He is paying 35 cents per hour. The men board in cars and it costs them $4.50 per week. Mr. Clarke left this afternoon for Millbridge, but will take his men to the north country about the first of April. He states that New Ontario is rapidly filling up with settlers and that everything is booming, especially along the line of the new railway. At one place a large log hotel has been erected and at it a night's lodging costs $2.00. When Mr Clarke left it was so crowded that men were sleeping on buffalo robes on the floor.

GRAND BLACK CHAPTER MEETING

Prominent Peterborough Men Are Elected to Office

Mr. Joseph Batten of this city, has been elected Grand Chaplain of the Grand Black Chapter of Ontario East, which held its annual meeting in Brockville this week. Mr. J. A. McWilliams of this city, has been made a member of the Grand Committee. The many friends of both these gentlemen will extend congratulations to them on attaining such high offices.

The session was held in conjunction with the forty-eighth annual meeting of the Orange Grand Lodge of Ontario East. The officers elected by the Grand Black chapter, which concluded its session yesterday were,—

Many Guests Had to go to Boarding Houses in Ottawa

The Ottawa Journal says: the need for increased hotel accommodation has seldom been more conclusively evidenced than last night. The presence of the Trent waterway deputations and other visiting bodies created a demand for rooms which the hotels could not handle. As a result the usual expedient of "doubling up" had to be resorted to in all of the larger hostelries at least. At ten o'clock it was utterly impossible to get a room at the Russell, Grand Union or Windsor, and those who applied were either offered the use of cots or directed to boarding houses. The Windsor placed probably a score or more in lodging houses in the central part of the city. The Windsor also made use of cots to a large extent to accommodate their guests. They had visitors bunking in all manners of little nooks and cubby holes.

Some of the smaller hotels were not so crowded and had they known the visitors could have secured more comfortable lodging for the night.

"The hotel question is getting to be a serious one," said the proprietor of one large hotel last night. "We never have any room to spare, and every now and then we have an overflow of this description on our hands. The city could stand several new hotels

Clever Swindler Now at Work

Large Number of People Taken in by Smooth Canvasser

Another smooth swindler is abroad and it would be well for the people of Peterborough to take heed. The Woodstock Express gives the following report of the operations of the fakir in that city:

It has just come to light that the old, old desire to get something for nothing has again resulted in a good many estimable Woodstock ladies falling victims to a wily swindler, who must have left the city many dollars the richer as the result of his extensive operations.

A short time ago a young man called at many homes. He had the winning ways and silver tongue of the professional canvasser. He represented himself as the agent of a Toronto firm, whose name he gave which manufactured and sold patterns of ladies' garments. His offer was a generous one. For one dollar he gave a certain number of patterns and, as an additional inducement promised that a well known ladies' magazine would be sent for one year. Fifty cents was to be paid at once, and the remainder on receipt of the patterns and the first copy of the magazine.

Needless to say, his customers were numerous and half-dollars clinked merrily in his capacious pockets. To those with whom he did business, he gave a receipt, with the name of the firm at the bottom, and initialed by himself.

Then the agent left the city, and his dupes waited patiently for the patterns. They are still waiting. One lady however, got tired and wrote to the address in Toronto where the pattern firm was supposed to be located. The letter was returned, with the advice that there was no such company in the city.

Truly, we live and learn.

HEDGING

FIRST WEEK

Girl wanted; German, Dutch or Swede,
Must be good looking and polite;
Good cook, and one we will not need
To watch to have her do things right.
Must care for baby, wash and bake,
And keep things looking clean and neat,
Must sweep and have the beds to make.
Address J. P., 10 Umpty Street.

SECOND WEEK.

Girl Wanted; White, with references;
Not over twenty-five years old;
Her looks are of no consequence
If she will do just as she's told.
No washing will she have to do;
She can sit down with us to eat;
Have Sunday afternoons off too.
Address J. P., 10 Umpty Street.

THIRD WEEK.

Girl wanted; White or colored; one
Who'd like a home-like place to stay;
There is no cooking to be done;
She can lay off at 3 each day.
Will let her have the parlor nights,
Where with her "steady" she can meet;
And she can exercise her rights.
Address J. P., 10 Umpty Street.

FORTH WEEK.

Girl wanted; White, black, green or blue;
Her age will cut no ice at all;
There's very little work to do;
Can halve the front room off the hall.
My wife will cook; we both will wait
Until she's had a chance to eat;
Her own conditions she may state.
Address J. P., 10 Umpty Street.

FIFTH WEEK.

Girl wanted; Any kind or size;
No matter if she cannot bake
Her own will she may exercise,
If our home she will not forsake.
In fact, she need't work a bit,
But simply stay there looking sweet.
Who knows a girl that this will fit?
Address J. P., 10 Umpty Street.

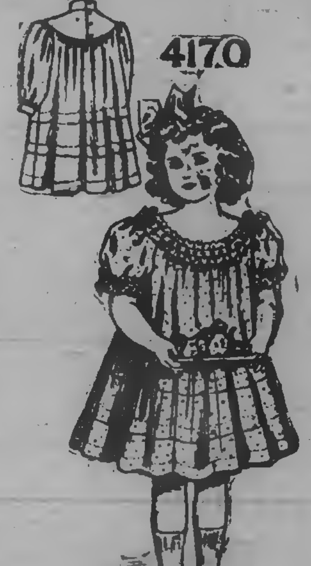
Latest Dean Patterns



4170.—A PLEASING LITTLE FROCK.

A dress which may be developed as a chic little party gown or as a simple dress for every day wear is sketched as a suggestion for the home sewer. The making is most simple so that the least experienced will find no difficulties and either a simple cloth or washing stuff may serve, or a French nainsook or mull for nicer wear. The round yoke may be plain or inset with narrow valenciennes lace, while the skirt portion needs no adornment aside from its tucks. The sleeves may be long to the wrist or in short puff style. The dress shown is finished at neck and sleeve edges with ribbon-run beading edged with narrow fulled lace. A dotted Swiss or dimity would prove most becoming developed after this pattern. The medium size calls for 1 7-8 yards of 36 inch material.

4170.—Sizes, 1-2, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, years.

The price of this pattern is 10c. Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

Received Cheque For Over $600

R. A. Morrow Carried Accident and Disability Policy—Sick 26 Weeks.

Mr. R. A. Morrow, jr., has received a cheque through Mr. G. B Stevenson for $650, from the Fidelity & Casualty Company, the accident and disability insurance people. Last August Mr. Morrow took out a $10,000 double indemnity policy with the Fidelity and Casualty Co. He paid the first premium of $60 and some time later took sick. He was unable to attend to his duties for 26 weeks and during all this time the company paid him $25 a week. Mr. Morrow wishes to express his sincere thanks for the company's prompt settlement of the claim. He is naturally delighted that he had the policy and he would not be without one now. His father, who has been dealing more or less with insurance companies all his life, says he never knew of a settlement made more promptly. Mr. G. B. Stevenson is the district agent and Mr. Geo. E. Elliott, special agent 3d1w

Nimrod was a mighty hunter, but had he hunted in the "Temagami" region he would have been a mightier one. Nimrod hunted for glory, but Temagamians hunt for game. Those Indians who made the first canoe of birch bark long ago, were our greatest benefactors. The children of these Indians know the canoe, and they know how to use it, and if you go to Temagami this summer they they will paddle your canoe in their own superb way. They will be the best guides you ever had. Students who camp in summer along the Temagami lakes are able to do two years' work in one. Finest of fishing and hunting. Board of Education Will Advertise for New Tenders

New tenders are called for the erection of the six-room addition, which will be built to the North Ward school. This was decided on at the special meeting of the Board of Education last night, when the matter was considered. It will be remembered that tenders were called for and submitted a couple of months ago, but the contract was not awarded at that time, owing to a delay regarding the Normal school. When the city council granted the board the $25,000 required for the purpose of building the addition to the north ward school a few days ago, it was found that the contractors, who had put in tenders when they were first asked, would not allow them to stand as the price of building material and labor has advanced since then.

The special meeting last night was to consider what was to be done. Chairman Fair presided, and the others present were Messrs. Dumble, Pringle, Hill, Robinson, and Morrison. The board went into committee of the whole to discuss the matter, and after some time, rose and reported that new tenders be called for. Accordingly this was done.

Tenders will be received by the secretary of the board up to Monday noon, April 1st Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of Mr. J. E. Belcher, architect.

Separate tenders will be received for the plumbing, heating and electric wiring of the building. An advertisement calling for tenders appears in tonight's Review.

Peterboro' Delegate Was Highly Honored

Mr. J. J. Turner sr. Elected D. D. G. M. for This District

Mr. J. J. Turner, P.M.W., of Peterborough Lodge, No. 69, Ancient Order of United Workmen, has returned from attending the Grand Lodge meeting held in Toronto this week. Mr. Turner was elected District Deputy Grand Master for Durham district. His jurisdiction will extend from Brighton on the east, to Bowmanville and Orono on the west, including Peterborough.

Mr. Turner made a strong effort to have the next sitting of the Grand Lodge in Peterborough, but was unsuccessful, the Toronto delegations influence being too strong. The session will be held in the Queen City in 1908.

There were nearly five hundred delegates in attendance and the proceedings were characterized by much harmony and enthusiasm.

On Tuesday evening the visitors were entertained by the lodges of Toronto and district, being afforded an evening of rare enjoyment at the Grand opera house, where they witnessed the comic opera, "Peggy from Paris."

Division Court Adjourned for Week

The Sitting Will be Held on Friday April 5th

Owing to an error in fixing the date for the March sitting of the first Division Court, the court would have to sit on Friday next, which is Good Friday, and a holiday. His Honor Judge Weller has therefore adjourned the sitting for one week, until Friday, April 5th.

Now is the time to place your orders for Awnings, Tents, Flags, etc., for Spring delivery.

Nervous Women

Their Sufferings Are Usually Due to Female Disorders Perhaps Unsuspected.

A MEDICINE THAT CURES

Miss L. Stowell

Can we dispute the well-known fact that Canadian women are nervous?

How often do we hear the expression, "I am so nervous, it seems as if I should fly;" or, "Don't speak to me." Little things annoy you and make you irritable; you can't sleep, you are unable to quietly and calmly perform your daily tasks or care for your children.

The relation of the nerves and generative organs in women is so close that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous debility, the blues, sleeplessness and nervous irritability arise from some derangement of the organism which makes her a woman. Fits of depression or restlessness and irritability. Spirits easily affected, so that one minute she laughs, the next minute weeps. Pain in the abdominal region and between the shoulders; loss of voice; nervous dyspepsia; a tendency to cry at the least provocation—all this points to nervous prostration.

Nothing will relieve this distressing condition and prevent months of prostration and suffering so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Lelah Stowell, of 177 Wellington St., Kingston, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Your Medicine is indeed a Godsend to suffering women, and I only wish that they all knew what it can do for them and there would be no need of their dragging out miserable lives in agony. I suffered for years with bearing-down pains, extreme nervousness and excruciating headaches, but a few bottles of your vegetable Compound made life look new and promising to me. I am light and happy and I do not know what sickness is, and I have enjoyed the best of health now for over four years. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has sent sunshine into thousands of homes and hearts."

Will not the volumes of letters from women made strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound convince all women of its virtues? Surely you cannot wish to remain sick and weak and discouraged, exhausted each day, when you can be as easily cured as other women.

LABOR BILL IN SENATE.

Findings of Arbitrators Should be Accepted by Disputing Parties.

Ottawa, March 22.—In the Senate yesterday, upon the second reading of the Lemieux Labor Disputes Bill, Mr. Scott explained that the measure was drawn with the single idea of promoting peace in industrial Canada, while avoiding injustice to any individual or class.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell said he had followed in the press the comments of the employers and the unions on the bill, and as neither was fully satisfied with it, he had come to the conclusion that it must be a pretty good bill. He had noted that many amendments had been made to it in the Lower House, which had no doubt improved it, and made it more acceptable to both sides. As amendments had been accepted from the Opposition the measure was in no sense a party one.

Senator Cloran thought the bill a good one and was a credit to the Minister of Labor. The measure would remove friction between capital and labor. The country had been notified by the authorized leaders of labor in Parliament and out that the bill should go into force at once.

Senator Ferguson would have been glad if the Senate had been given more time before being asked to give second reading to so important a bill. While against coercion by labor, Senator Ferguson thought that the sympathy of the Senate should always be for the organization of labor, for capital was always organized. As the bill applied only to industries which were public utilities, which meant mines and railroads, it was probably only a tentative measure, which would be followed up by further legislation.

Senator Ferguson said he would like to have seen the bill declare that the find of the board of arbitration should be accepted by the parties to the dispute. He said that the Commons had given the bill thorough consideration and therefore the Senate might be able to get through with the measure within a reasonable time.

Maritime Trains Snowbound.

Moncton, N. B., March 22.—Train service on the I. C. R. is completely demoralized. No trains have arrived from the north since early Wednesday and Wednesday night's Montreal express from Halifax is still here.

Maritime expresses, both Wednesday's and yesterday's, are stalled at Harcourt.

A special with double engines left here yesterday for Harcourt to lend assistance, but got only a few miles and is buried in snow.

All branch lines throughout the province are closed. In some cases drifts and tracks range from 16 to 20 feet deep.

C. P. R. to Build More Lines.

Montreal, March 22.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy gave out a statement yesterday in regard to the lines that will be under construction by the C. P. R. and for which allowances have been made in the appropriations.

The company has in hand extensions amounting to nearly 1,000 miles of new lines, while 700 miles of double tracking is to be done, as compared with 1,000 miles of construction on the Great Northern, 1,900 on the Grand Trunk Pacific and 1,500 on the Canadian Northern.

Run Over By C. P. R. Train.

Montreal, March 22.—An unknown man was killed by a C. P. R. train yesterday morning near the Angus shops. He was badly mangled, and his head and arm were cut off. The remains were brought to the morgue but so far have not been identified.

Two Poles were asphyxiated in a lodging house at Montreal yesterday.

STOP CHINESE LABOR

"Asiatic Ordinance" to Be Introduced in the Transvaal.

New Government Makes Strong Pronouncement — Will Exclude All Asiatics—Employment of Chinese to Cease as Soon as Possible—Britain Must Sanction It—Aliens Will Be Repatriated.

Pretoria, Transvaal, March 22.—The first Parliament of the Transvaal colony, under the newly-granted constitution, met here yesterday morning in the hall in which the late President Kruger presided for so many years over sittings of the Upper Volksraad of the South African Republic.

In a speech at the opening of the Legislature, the Earl of Selbourne, High Commissioner for South Africa, said:

"My Ministers have resolved that the employment of Chinese in the mines shall cease at the earliest possible moment. As to the Chinese already employed there, my Ministers will not take any steps to prevent their repatriation at the end of their indentures, unless they are convinced that such repatriation will have to take place before an effective substitute, either in the form of other unskilled labor or improved mechanical appliances, has been found."

The disposition of the new Government of the Transvaal to exclude all Asiatics from work in the mines is shown by the fact that the "Asiatic ordinance," recently disallowed by the Earl of Elgin, Secretary of State for the Colonies after it had passed the late Legislature, is again published in The Official Gazette here, indicating that among the first acts of the new Parliament will be a re-enactment of this measure, in spite of the opposition of the Imperial Government.

Dare Not Disallow It.

London, March 22.—The "Asiatic ordinance" which the Transvaal Parliament proposes to re-enact, although at the present time aimed specially at British Indians, who are ousting the small white traders in the Transvaal, is equally intended to exclude the Japanese or other Asiatics who are immigrating to South Africa in increasing numbers.

Sir Gilbert Parker, who represents colonists in the House of Commons on this question, is quoted yesterday in an interview as saying:

"If, as I am sure it will, the Transvaal Parliament re-enacts the Asiatic ordinance, the Imperial Government will hardly venture to disallow it again, as over 99 per cent. of the whites in South Africa thoroughly approve of it."

A.O.U.W. OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

Fewer Changes Made In Constitution Than For 20 Years.

Toronto, March 22.—All the principal officers of the Grand Lodge of the A.O.U.W. were re-elected yesterday, and Toronto was again named for the next place of meeting. The officers:

Past grand master, Ald. J. M. Peregrine, Hamilton; grand master workman, C. E. Cameron, Iroquois; grand foreman, S. D. Morris, banker, Rodney; grand overseer, Major J. J. Craig, M. P. P., Fergus; grand recorder, M. D. Carder, P.G.M.W. for the 29th year, Toronto; grand treasurer, F. G. Inwood, P.G.M.W., Toronto; grand solicitor, A. F. G. Lawrence, Toronto; grand medical examiner, J. Milton Cotton, M.D., Toronto; grand guide, W. Charles Mikel, barrister, Belleville; grand inside watchman, W. W. Burgess, Mimico.

Fewer changes were made in the constitution than in any year for two decades, as general satisfaction exists.

SUICIDES TO ESCAPE WOMAN.

Englishman Hears His Brother's Wife Is Coming to Him.

Montreal, March 22.—Jack Freebody, a well connected Englishman, committed suicide yesterday because the girl who had jilted him in England and married his elder brother had changed her mind and was on her way to Canada to seek him.

He killed himself in the boarding house of H. Waugh, 167 St. Antoine street. He was about 25 years of age, and had been employed by the C.P.R.

Mr. Waugh went to No. 6 police court and informed Capt. Bourgeois that a man had just cut his throat. Capt. Bourgeois went back with Mr. Waugh and found Freebody dead on the floor of one of the bedrooms. At the left side was a knife and a razor.

In the pockets were $24.23, a gold watch and ring, and in his grip were letters from his mother and sister in England.

EXPLOSION IN A SCHOOL.

Plumber Took Lighted Match Too Near a Leaky Gas Pipe.

Chatham, March 22.—A plumber with a lighted match and big leak in the gas pipe at the Collegiate Institute were the cause of a terrific explosion here yesterday that shook the whole school and tore up gas pipes all over one room. The plumber was severely burned about the head and hands, and had a narrow escape from being burned to death. There was a panic in the school, but this was soon allayed.

The school house at Charing Cross, near here, a frame building erected 25 years ago, was burned to the ground last night. Loss $3,800.

Perished In the Storm.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., March 22.—This morning Oliver Mason, a prominent farmer and horse-dealer, aged fifty-two, of Hopetown, near Charlottetown, was found dead in a field near his home. He perished in last night's storm. He left Charlottetown in the evening, and after crossing Hillsboro River it is presumed his horse ran away. This morning the animal was found near Hillsboro Bridge.

A young man thought to be from Hamilton and named Beattie, was fatally injured by jumping off a train at St. Thomas.

BIG BILL FOR LOBBYING.

House of Commons Upholds Action of Public Accounts Committee.

Ottawa, March 22.—The House yesterday resumed the debate on Mr. Barker's resolution respecting the missing vouchers of the G.T.P. for $162,000, as brought out by examination before the public accounts committee, and Mr. Bennett (Simcoe) concluded with a strong arraignment of the methods of the Laurier Government.

Mr. Pardee (West Lambton) defended the policy of suppression. So long as the G. T. P. received no money upon the vouchers it was nobody's business what they contained.

Mr. Ames (Conservative, Montreal) said that the question was most important. It dealt with a great national work. The Government was a trustee of bonds of the G.T.P. It owed a duty to the British investors. This only required a Government to see to it that proceeds of the sale of these bonds were applied exclusively to the cost of construction.

Mr. Shannon, the accountant in the railway department, had performed a public service in refusing to approve the claim of $162,000 presented by the railway company. The only reward that he received was to be promptly transferred to another field of action. He was overruled by his superiors in the railway department, and this account was apparently approved by the Minister of Justice. Afterwards the Department of Justice receded from its position, and the Finance Department refused to pay it.

Spent In Lobbying.

The claims included vast sums—many thousands of dollars paid in bulk at various times to Mr. Wainwright. Mr. Wainwright could not, and would not, put on paper what he did with this money. He could not get or produce receipts from the men among whom this money was distributed. There was no doubt but that the money was spent in lobbying, and it must have been very sinister lobbying, said Mr. Ames.

Was it strange that some members of this House were anxious to prevent tracing that money from Mr. Wainwright to those who received it? For this reason the Government and the railway company joined hands to keep the details of that lobbying from coming to public notice. The Government had compounded a felony.

Mr. Ames pointed out that $3,500 was paid to Adolphe Caron and large sums to certain lawyers far and above the value of any legal service they might have rendered. Large sums were paid to Mr. Wainwright for "advertising," but no details were given or receipts produced in this connection.

Witness Went to Europe.

As to one item of $56,000, Mr. Wainwright refused to say what he did with it. Mr. Ames more than intimated that it was spent in lobbying the G.T.P. bill through Parliament. He believed that Mr. Walker of the G.T.P. had gone to Europe to avoid testifying before the public accounts committee.

J. C. Walsh, the newly-elected Liberal member from Montreal, admitted that the railway company had erred, but was the Government responsible?

Alex. Johnston (Liberal, Cape Breton, N.S.), the Liberal whip, repeated the argument that the public accounts committee was sufficiently occupied examining claims that were paid without chasing after claims that were not paid. He moved an amendment to the effect that it was not the duty of the public accounts committee to enforce the production of testimony not relevant to the payment of public money.

Mr. Lennox (Simcoe) scored the Government. He pointed out, amid cheers and laughter, that Mr. Shannon, the honest accountant, who stopped the steal, was now exiled at Moncton.

The House divided upon Mr. Johnston's amendment, and the same carried: Yeas 114, nays 49—a party vote. Messrs. Bourassa and Lavergne supported the Government.

The bill was reported without amendment, read the third time and passed.

The Deputy Governor will give consent to bills to-morrow and the Senate will then adjourn to April 4.

RESERVES CALLED OUT.

Roumanian Government Will Suppress Disorders.

Bucharest, Roumania, March 22.—All the army reserves have now been called out to join the colors, with the result that the Government has at its disposal plenty of troops to enable it speedily to suppress the agrarian troubles. Large numbers of Jews from Jassy, Vaslui, Botesahni and other Moldavian towns, which have been terrorized by the excesses of the peasantry, have arrived here, seeking refuge and assistance. They assert that the Russian portion of the population largely participated with the peasants in the plundering and incendiarism at Botesahni. According to the latest advices received here from that town quiet has been restored there.

Precipitated a Riot.

The calling out of the army reserves at Berlad, Moldavia, led to serious rioting. The men, as a rule, were peasants who sympathized with those who had been raiding the country, and some 350 of them, before donning their uniforms, paraded the streets of Berlad, smashing windows by wholesale and plundered several shops. The police ultimately restored order.

The reinforcements now going on to the front are large drawn from Wallachia, so as to avoid the possibility of the soldiers fraternizing with the disorderly peasants.

Nurses Indicted For Cruelty.

Cleveland, March 22.—Six former or present attendants of the state hospital for the insane here were indicted for attacks on patients by the grand jury yesterday.

Thunderstorm In Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, March 22.—Winnipeg had its first thunderstorm of the season yesterday. There was considerable rain and the snow is fast disappearing.

Chas. Fosgren poured hot water on some dynamite at a C.P.R. camp at Lodge, and was instantly killed by an explosion.

NEW JOINT STOCK BILL

Reported In Legislature and Now Ready For Final Stage.

Succession Dues Exemptions—Bequests to Charitable and Educational Institutions Not Dutiable—Will Consolidate Dairy Schools—Liability For Misstatements In a Company Prospectus.

Toronto, March 22.—Hon. Mr. Hanna's bill respecting joint stock and other companies was reported in the Legislature last night, and is now ready for its third reading.

Succession Dues Exemptions.

In committee of the whole Hon. Mr. Matheson carried two amendments to the bill to consolidate the Succession Duties Act. Bequests to charitable and educational institutions are not now dutiable, and the exemption will be extended to subscriptions for such purposes remaining unpaid at the subscriber's death and paid out of his estate.

It was also decided to make the bill exempt from duty insurances not exceeding $5,000 written in favor of preferred beneficiaries. This will facilitate the payment of fraternal and other insurances, and convenience persons of small means. Preferred beneficiaries include husbands, wives, parents, children, sons and daughters-in-law and lineal descendants.

Bills Sent For Burial.

Bills to amend the High School Act, introduced by Mr. Clapp and Mr. McGarry, were relegated to the burial yard of the legal committee.

Mr. Craig's bill to amend the same act got a second reading.

Second readings were given Mr. Craig's and Mr. Macdiarmid's bills to amend the Municipal Act.

Third readings were given the bills respecting the Village of Port Perry, the Village of South River and the Town of Kincardine.

The Government bill to amend the Surveys Act passed committee.

Hon. Dr. Reaume's bill respecting colonization roads got its second reading.

Consolidate Dairy Schools.

In reply to Duncan Ross as to the intentions of the Government in regard o the Western Dairy School at Strathroy, Hon. Nelson Monteith stated it was the intention of the Government to consolidate the two dairy schools in the western part of the Province, and after this year to carry on all instruction work at the Central Dairy School at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. Nothing had yet been decided upon as to the disposal or future use of the building at Strathroy.

Joint Stock Companies.

Consideration of the Joint Stock Companies Act was again proceeded with in committee of the whole.

Liability of a promoter for misstatements issued in a prospectus was discussed and led to an amendment which exonerates him when the promoter is acting solely in a professional capacity and without personal share in the company. His status would be similar to that of a lawyer pleading a cause.

Hugh Clark enquired what was in the bill to prevent the evil of overcapitalization. It caused more trouble than anything else in company methods. He suggested that the number of shares in a company should be limited, their value varying with the amount of the company's capital.

Province Responsible.

Everything that could be thought of in the way of precaution, said Mr. Hanna, had been done in connection with companies operating municipal franchises. The province was responsible and had the power in such cases, whereas the Dominion had joint jurisdiction in the case of mining and manufacturing corporations. To impose too strict terms upon these companies would drive them to Ottawa, and, incidentally, deprive the province of revenue.

Hon. Mr. Graham also favored limiting the number of shares. Regardless of the Dominion, the Province should declare itself against overcapitalization. Other Parliaments would be compelled to follow the lead. Closer scrutiny might be exercised over applications for increase of capital.

All the conditions in applications made could not be considered, thought Hugh Clark.

Mr. McDougal thought that shares should not be sold below par. People getting $1 shares for 15 cents thought they were getting a dollar's worth, which of course they were not. The capital should be so limited that the shares could not be sold under par. Watering of stock was accomplished by issuing shares at a discount and then endeavoring to pay dividends on the par value. A New Jersey company coming into Ontario should not be permitted any powers not belonging to an Ontario company, he thought, replying to J. P. Downey.

Public Takes the Chance.

Dr. Lewis did not think the public could be protected. Mining stock sold at ten cents to poor men often became very valuable in the following year. Another mine where the vein petered out might not be worth ten cents after selling at a premium.

Part twelve of the act, dealing with companies operating municipal franchises and public utilities, which is very largely new, was stated by Hon. Mr. Hanna to differ from the first draft of the bill. Sir William R. Meredith and Mr. Justice Anglin had given special attention to the clauses and unless particular reason could be shown, he would be very slow to change it. Mr. Hanna mentioned this in replying to Mr. McDougal, who objected to what he considered might be the possible operation of section 157, which reads:

"The Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council may direct the issue of letters patent in terms and conditions different from those applied for."

Italy Swept By Hurricane.

Rome, March 22.—A hurricane, which has caused serious damage, has swept over Italy. Several vessels are reported to have been wrecked.

HEARTS COURAGEOUS

BY HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES.

"Where are you heading?" she asked presently, for he had turned inshore.

"The French battery is just ahead. 'Tis the extreme left of the circling Continental front. Beyond that is safety, mademoiselle."

"I will not land there. You must pass the American lines. You must take me home to Gladden Hall."

"But"—

"Row, row!"

"I beg you to allow us to land," he urged. "The regiment of the Gatinais lies behind that bluff. They will not dare to pursue into the French trenches."

"An you are afraid"—

Oh, what it cost her heart to say that!

Armand bent to the oars and increased his speed. Neither spoke. She was suffering a like apprehension now of arousing the American pickets on the shore. At any other time, doubtless, there would have been challenges, but on this night, the first of many weeks, the Continentals rested and made merry, waiting the signing of the articles of surrender. The skiff passed the danger point, and for awhile there was no sound save the slap of tiny waves like children's hands against the stem and the muffled din of the pursuit, which drew on with dogged persistency.

"They will not fire," she said at length in a low voice, "for fear of arousing the Americans. They have a ship's boat full, but they row crooked and uneven. Yet they come on fast—fast. Tell me, could we get back to the Continental works?"

"'Tis impossible now. They are between us and them. Gladden Hall is the nearest refuge."

"Are you certain?"

"Yes, mademoiselle."

"Listen," she confessed then, "I have deceived you. I made you take me past the Continental line because—because you yourself cannot go there. You must not go there. 'Tis not only the British who would seize you now. Ah, do you not understand? You have been denounced. 'Tis known that you are the same who, they think, would have misled the congress."

"Informed against?" he said. "Again?"

"Oh, what a ghastly thing for you to say to me! 'Twas Jarrat—Jarrat. Row ashore and fly."

"Where?"

"Anywhere, anywhere," she cried wildly, "only so it be to safety! Haste! They gain on us!"

"If we land they are certain to take us. You cannot go afoot as fast as they."

"I shall not go. You shall leave me there. Row! Row!"

"And why should you care for my life?"

"Ah, will you stay when my heart is breaking? There is no time to talk now. What is anything they may do beside your life? I beseech you—I command you to run in. I never intended you to take me farther."

"You would be safe if we could reach Gladden Hall," he said. Then he stood up and threw off his coat.

Her tears came at this. "There is no one at the hall to protect," she wept. "Not a slave to beat them back. Not a weapon. Tarleton sacked it. Ah, you do not believe me because I deceived you before! But this is the truth—I swear it is the truth!"

He made no answer, but set the boat's bow straight up the stream and rowed as she had never seen a man row before. She felt the timbers shiver and creak, heard the deep intake of his breath and saw the splendid play of the arm muscles beneath his shirt sleeve. Then, entering, ever more insistent, came the creak of the pursuing craft.

The moonlight fell whitely on the shore they skirted. Two miles—three miles—past the shallows of King's creek and Corbin's point. Every tongue of land, every wedge of forest, how well she knew them! But how slowly they fell behind! There was no longer danger of arousing the Continental pickets, and the pursuers' voices came clearly, gibing at the error of their prisoner which had carried him past the line of safety and made his taking certain. Once Anne heard the officer who led give sharp command to put down a gun.

A scant 200 yards was all there was between the two boats when Armand sprang upon the wharf of Gladden Hall. "Leave me," she begged faintly, "and save yourself! You have yet time."

"Give me your hand!" he commanded peremptorily. He took it and led her, running, up the sloping lawn.

Its unkempt forlornness was softened by the kindly moonlight, and not until they reached the front of the house did its gray desolateness become all at once apparent. The panes in the windows were broken, the white pillars battered, the front door swinging, the yard unsightly with rubbish.

"'Tis deserted!" Despair was in his tone.

"I told you that."

"Are there no horses?"

"The barns are burned. Leave me, leave me and go!"

He hurried her to the front door, and they entered, hearing as they did so the larger boat bump the planking. Without a word he shot home the bolts in the great door and drew her into the dining room, now overscattered with broken crockery. He locked both doors of this room, smashed the sashes of the porch windows with a chair, brought together the heavy outer blinds and slid the bars. As he fastened the second the pursuers came tumbling to the porch. Anne, meantime, taking a clew from him, had managed to fasten one of the windows in the opposite side. He sprang to secure the other before the soldiers reached the back of the house.

This shut out the last of the moonlight, and the room became a black darkness. Outside was a deadened clamor, curses and shouts to fetch ship's lanterns and search the empty quarters for an ax. Anne could hear Armand's convulsive breathing.

She had groped her way to the sideboard and opened its candle drawer. A tiny half inch end rewarded her. Flint and steel still hung in their accustomed place. She struck them and lighted the wick with trembling hands.

As she did so a heavy body came hurtling against the other side of the inner door. "Better give up, you weasel," panted a voice.

Armand answered loudly, "If I do will you promise to let the lady go?"

"No, no!" Anne besought in an agony. "You shall not give yourself up to them! They would not hold to such a promise."

With her cry, however, whirled a scramble of curses. "We'll lay you by the heels and take the girl back, too, curse you!" And a rain of blows descended on the door, while a crash against one of the blinds shook the wall.

Leaping back, Armand dragged out the heavy mahogany sideboard, now slashed and dented, and set it against one door. The other he re-enforced with the overturned table and bound this to its place with the twisted window curtains. Last, he wrenched an iron from the fireplace and stood waiting. At the same moment the candle end collapsed, the wick dropped, flickered and went out, and darkness fell around them again.

A lull had come in the attack. Evidently a consultation was being held. The blackness seemed to lie upon Anne's soul like a heavy weight, and Armand's silence became unbearable.

"What shall we do?" she asked dully. "We cannot hold out for long."

But there was no reply.

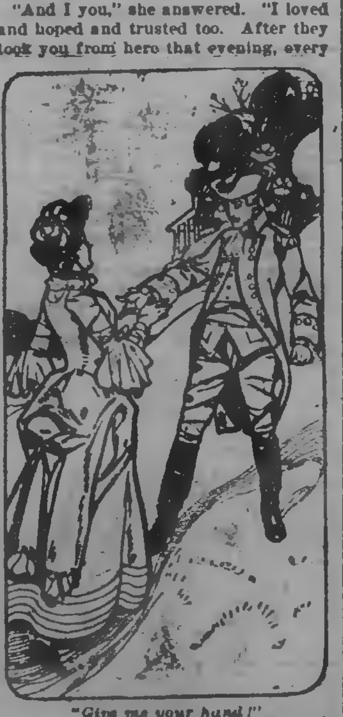
"I—I am so frightened," she said piteously. "'Tis dark! Come to me, Louis!"

She listened, but he made no stir.

"You will not come to me, will not pity or comfort me?" she entreated through the void. "Yet tonight I tried to save your life."

"For what end? You who took from it all that makes life sweet! I trusted you!" She shrank at the ring of scorn in his voice. "I trusted you!"

"And I you," she answered. "I loved and hoped and trusted too. After they took you from here that evening, every night when I went to bed I said a prayer and kissed my poor hand to you in the dark. And I have done so every night since then—every night, Louis."



"Give me your hand!"

Something like a sob sounded in the room, and she stretched out her arms toward it.

"I tried to keep my promise. You remember when they lashed the bondwoman? She woke with a crazed brain, and the packet—your packet—was gone. All those months I searched and found it at last by chance. I did not get to Philadelphia with it till—that morning."

There was no farther answer, and she slipped on her knees, feeling a yearning that was like a poignant sickness.

"You must hear," she went on pleadingly, clasping her fingers, "and believe me or my heart will break. Fate put me in the recess of the window at the Red Lion tavern, Louis. I saw Jarrat give you the forged message—saw you fight and run him through. I knew you were true—true to your master's honor and your own."

"You accused me!" The words stung her. "Accused me to the Continentals!"

"Listen! Listen to me!" she prayed desperately. "I must tell you it all now—now at the end. Jarrat showed me the paper—the contract that bound you to give your life—your life! And I knew you would do it. Oh, what that meant! I would have given my own life a hundred times to prevent it. Can you think what it cost me to stand in that room and say that—that of you? Your face was dreadful! I thought I should die when you looked at me!"

"So you killed my honor!"

"No, no! Not that—I did not mean that, Louis! I had such little time to think—such small time to reason. I had only time to feel—to feel as a woman will, and to act. I had to defeat the contract to keep you from going back to the prison—to death. I thought I could clear you at the last, I who knew you were true, because I had the packet—the true message. Only I promised my soul that I should not speak within the month."

Her voice broke a little here, then went on in a sudden pathos of pleading: "What know we women of soldier's duty or soldier's honor—we who are cherished and toasted all our lives? We know only to love, to follow—and—and—to save what we love in spite of all the world!"

There was a movement now, a step.

"Then I took the packet, Louis, into the congress to Dr. Franklin that very hour, and I could not tell you what I had done—and you escaped them. I thought you had gone to your death. And you didn't know! You never knew. Oh," she sobbed, "if you would only forgive me, only touch me, only lay your hand on my head"—

She heard a stumble, a smothered cry. The iron bar clanged against the floor. An arm, groping, trembling, touched her wet cheek.

"My God! And I doubted you!" Armand's voice thrilled her in a great burst of grief-wound joy. "You gave the message? My darling, my darling!"

She felt herself caught up in his arms in the dark, shuddering, crying, panting incoherent phrases, kissing his face, his rough coat, his epaulets, strangling with fierce terror and ecstasy of love and feeling his passion strain and fold her. It seemed to her that all of life and death was concentrated in that one embrace—that nothing existed in the world but the delirium of that single sweet bitter moment.

A medley of shouts and ax blows on both of the doors at one time sent her into quick spasms of dread. A panel splintered, a shaft of light and an arm thrust in. Armand released her, struck once with the iron bar, and the man fell back, cursing, with a broken arm.

"Shoot!" one shouted. "Are we to be bayed by this rat?"

"Don't fire," came the response. The order was imperative.

The blows began again. Another panel crashed, and the holes let in more light. It fell upon Anne's pallid lips and showed her Armand's white sleeves and pale face, set, but calm. A blow struck the lock of the other door. It yielded, and the oak swung in against the stout sideboard.

Anne felt her limbs grow cold.

"Lost, lost!" she murmured and leaned dumbly against the wainscoting.

Suddenly a fusillade of musketry woke the echoes out of doors, and a crisp shout garnished it. "File out of that hall and lay down arms!"

There arose a saturnalia of revilement from the hall. Then, as it died, the voice asked, "What mean these active hostilities in a period of armistice?"

"'Tis a sortie for an escaped prisoner," came the jarring mirth of Jarrat. "Well, major, I think you will have need yourself for all the prisoners to be found here."

Anne had gone from one terror to another and bitterer one. "The Continentals!" she moaned.

The crisp voice approached the splintered door. "Colonel Armand," it said, "I arrest you in the name of the United States of America. Do you surrender?"

"By whose orders?"

"The general's commanding the Second brigade."

"I am a colonel of independent cavalry," answered Armand clearly. "I acknowledge orders only from the division commander."

Jarrat laughed.

Sharp directions followed. The axes cut wider fissures in the panels, and through these muskets obtruded and took aim. "My orders are to take you alive, to shoot if you resist. I give you five minutes to open that door."

Anne ran to Armand and threw herself into his arms. "Ah, you must not! For God's sake, give yourself up! I will tell it all to General Washington. He will hear and believe me. I will"—

"Think you it would be credited?" he asked gently. "And if not"—

She clung to him, weeping. "But you have fought so. There is that! Oh, 'twill give me your life—your life! That is all I want! I care not for shame or report, so I know it is not true! Ah, pity me! And 'tis my fault! Oh, this must be a hideous dream come to punish me!"

"I used to dream," he said, "of you and me so wed—in honor."

"Oh, I would wed you in dishonor, in disgrace, in death! See," she said hurriedly, "here is my mother's wedding ring. I have always worn it about my neck. I love you! I love you!" She laid it in his hand.

"Put it upon my finger," she whispered. "Say it after me, 'I, Anne, take thee, Louis, to my wedded husband.'"

A strange fire had come into his face.

"'I, Louis,'" he repeated solemnly, "'take thee, Anne, to my wedded wife.'"

"'To have and to hold from this day forward, for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health'"—

"'To have and to hold from this day forward, for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health'"—

She was sobbing now so that she could scarcely frame the words:

"'To love and to cherish—till death us do'—join, Louis! It cannot, it shall not, part us!"

"My own love!" he said in choked tones, and held her quivering against his breast.

"The time is up," said the voice.

Anne clasped Armand with her young arms—tightly, desperately, as if her warm, yielding body, her face fragrant with white fragrance, could keep back the death that looked from those muzzles.

His hands disengaged her own to pin to his coat a yellow bauble he had taken from his pocket, and then, as she clung, her strained senses became conscious of a wheeling plunge of horsemen at the porch, hurried steps, a voice shaking with a strange vibration, asking questions in broken English.

At the sound Armand threw back his head and stood like a stone image.

There was a pause. Then—

"Louis Armand," said the sibilant, halting tongue, "I command you to open thees door! You will not, eh? You know who I am?"

The sideboard fell with a crash, the splintered door tumbled upon it, and Armand stood to attention in the blaze of lantern light. At a glance Anne knew the officer who stood in the doorway, surrounded by a glittering staff. He was the major general commanding the division.

"You surrendair, then? Good! An' where, Major Woodson, is the informair who has done such brilliant sairvice to denounce—eh? Come stan' beside me, M'sieu Jarrat, an' let us overwhelm thees villain!"

He advanced a step into the room, his bright eyes on the pair.

"Ha! An' you theenk I have never recognize you, Charles, all thees time—me who was your old brother in the College du Plessis? Me—Lafayette? Take off that wig! Take it off, I tell you!"

Mechanically, Armand put his hand to his head. He drew off the black peruke, and, all at once unconfined, his brown, curling hair fell to his shoulders, the ends just touching the yellow Cross of St. Louis which sparkled like a topaz on his breast. The act transformed him. The set mouth was gone, the face all softened to youthfulness.

"Louis Armand, the impostor, seized at Williamsburg!" shouted Jarrat. "Armand, who escaped the clutches of the congress! Armand, the traitor, gentlemen. Tear off his cross!"

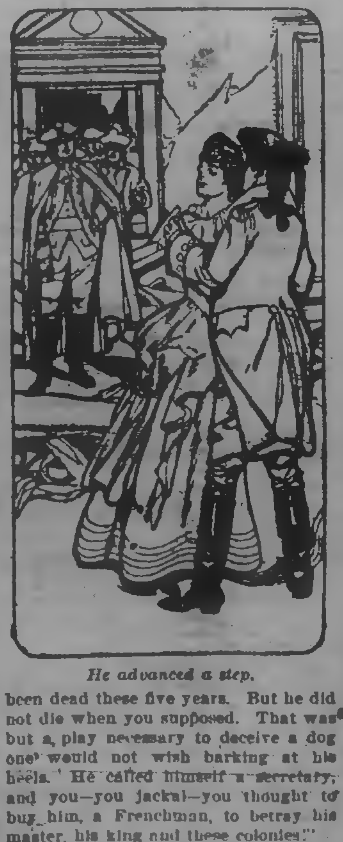
One of the circle about Lafayette turned facing him with an oath, but the general was before him.

"No!" he cried. "No! Not Louis Armand the traitor, but Charles Louis Armand, colonel of Armand's legion and Marquis de la Trouerie!"

There was an instant of silence that turned a babel behind the speaker.

"A lie!" shouted Jarrat. "A lie! The Marquis de la Trouerie is dead!" Anne had risen, trembling, speechless, her eyes fixed and glittering.

"Aye," said Armand sternly, stretching his arm toward him. "He has been dead these five years. But he did not die when you supposed. That was but a play necessary to deceive a dog one would not wish barking at his heels. He called himself a secretary, and you—you jackal—you thought to buy him, a Frenchman, to betray his master, his king and these colonies!"



He advanced a step.

Lafayette laughed like a child. "He bribe him to be—what you theenk, gentlemen?—to be himself! A rare pleasantree, eh? And the congress, they theenk he trick them in seventeesix. They would arres' him yet, when he is denounce'—even my General Hazen!"

Jarrat had fallen back, his face black, his fingers convulsively working, his teeth gritting one on another like pebbles in the hand.

Armand's eyes were upon Anne, though he seemed to address all present:

"The marquis had a mission, and he found it to his purpose to—to become himself. He found many thorns in his way. But he found one rose—one rose so pure and fragrant that he wished to gather it. He found a lady—a lady of Virginia, who loved him and believed in him. The marquis was living then. He found himself in peril, and he trusted her. And at last—he thought she had betrayed him."

"Ah, my friend," cried Lafayette wistfully, "these long months seeing you, and I have never told you I knew you—never asked wherefore you hid yourself from all. Was I not a friend, Charles?"

"Then," Armand continued, "God forgive his unbelief! Then was when he died!"

A great lovely light had come to Anne's face and smiled from her colorless lips—a light more lovely than the aurora over snows.

"Is it true?" she faltered, looking at him in a sort of unbelieving wonder. "Is it true? And will he live again?"

For answer he knelt down at her feet and put his lips to her hand. She felt tears upon it.

When they looked up they were alone in the room. From the yard came the rattle of bridle chains and the bustle of mounting. Lafayette met them on the threshold.

"I have search' all the place for a—what you call it?—sidesaddle," he laughed, "an' there ees one at las'. Colonel, ma'amselle, you shall ride to town wit' me. We shall all be jus' like big children tonight! Ah, I have forget—you did not know that only two, t'ree hour ago, Cornwallis has surrendair to the Americans!"

THE END.

Bermuda's Government.

The Bermudans govern themselves under a veto power which is practically never exerted, says World's Work. Their constitution is almost ideal. Here is a little world of its own, with a population of 17,000 souls. The good citizens elect their representatives to a house of assembly, and they administer the affairs of the colony with economy, justice and success. Here, as in every English colony, one is impressed with the great respect for the law. Like many of the West Indian islands, the Bermudas have almost no crime. The two jails at St. George and Hamilton look like summer boarding houses, and Charles Dudley Warner tried to become a "paying guest" with the jailer at St. George, to share his pleasant tropical home and relieve his lonesomeness and ennui.

Pea Soup and Electric Baths.

Two savants have just announced the discovery of a means of prolonging life indefinitely. A Frenchman says a certain sort of electric bath solves the problem, and a Massachusetts man declares that pea soup is the elixir so long searched for. The French physician is a comparatively young man, who employs the bright vocabulary of youth, in which, it is said, there is no such word as "can't." The New Englander is ninety-three years old and has been growing young, so he asserts, since he discovered the rejuvenating qualities of pea soup and eschewed all other meat and drink with a view to turning back the hands of the clock.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Crucifixion Ably Presented

The Oratorio Was Enjoyed by a Large Audience

A crowded congregation last night followed, with reverent attention, the combined choirs of St. John's and All Saints' in the first of two performances of Stainer's "Crucifixion." in Peterborough.

The one in All Saints' church last night was a thorough success, and the chorus deserve all praise for their painstaking, earnest work. The service opened with hymn No. 108, and prayers with New Testament lesson introduced the subject of the evening

The tenor solo work was enturated, to Mr H Morphet and Mr. Geo. Chandler, with excellent results, both singers being heard to great advantage. Mr. Morphet's special number, "And they laid their hands on Him and took Him," was sung with the proper dramatic intensity it demands, and its difficult intervals in rapidly changing keys, were correctly and pleasingly sung. Mr. Chandler took up the tenor solos of the latter half of the work and achieved a great success. Possessing a pure tenor voice, his work last night was strikingly good ,especially in the long solo, "King Ever Glorious," which can only be handled by a soloist who has great command of voice, and exceptional sweetness of tone. The baritone opening solo was well sung by Mr. Edwards, "Could Ye No. Watch,' and Mr Hague Sawers took the difficult recitatives in the work in his usual able manner, his hardest number being "And as Moses Lifted up the Serpent." Mr. Greenhalgh partnered Mr. Chandler in the duet, "So Thou Liftest Thy Divine Petition," with good results and Mr. McCabe and Mr. Allen took up the trial sentences, etc. One of the best numbers, "God so Loved the World," was sung without accompaniment by a small chorus, in a most effective manner every word being distinctly heard. The chorus work cannot be too highly praised. The attack was good, and being well balanced, the tone obtained by them was a credit to their training. The chorus. "Fling Wide Thy Gates," is a fine number, also "From the Throne of His Cross," in which Stainier wrote that marvellous dramatic passage, "Crucify."

Miss Bullen came out of a trying position with great credit, for the tasteful work on the organ. The whole of the training was undertaken by the organist of St. John's, Mr. Richard J. Devey, and last night he again proved his ability to handle a large number of voices. A few weeks only have been spent in training, but that they have not been wasted, ample proof was given last night.

The rector, Rev. Wm. Major, led the short service before the oratorio, and also sang through all the work.

The last performance will be in St. John's church at 8 p.m. on Good Friday, by the combined choirs of All Saints' and St. John's.

Immense Drifts Block Traffic

Intercolonial Railway is Utterly Demoralized—Hardly a Train Moving

Moncton, N.B., March 21.—On the I.C.R today, almost complete demoralization exists ,affairs on the Northern Division being in particularly bad shape. No trains have arrived from the north since early yesterday morning, and last night's Montreal express from Halifax is still here on account of the fearful condition of the road which, in many places is blocked by drifts 19 to 20 feet in depth. The Moncton-bound Maritime Express, both yesterday's and today's are still held at Harcourt. Yesterday's train remained for the greater part of the day at Kent Junction ,and last night progressed as far as Harcourt.

Despite the fact that the train was equipped with two locomotives and a big snow plow, it made only a few miles' headway, and the train men abandoned any attempt to get through, returning to Harcourt after leaving one locomotive and a plow to try and force a way through the drifts.

A special train was sent out from Moncton today to try and make headway through to Harcourt, so that the express could be run to Moncton.

Young Man Took Away Pool Ball

But P. C. Newhall Recovered it —May be Police Court Case

On Thursday night several young men played a game in Mr. Pappas' palatial pool rooms at 327—329 George street. After the game was ended they left somewhat suddenly. When they had gone the attendant in charge discovered that one of the balls was missing. As the young men were out of sight nothing could be done. Yesterday morning P. C. Newhall walked into Mr. Pappas' cigar store and, pulling a pool ball out of his pocket, asked the proprietor whether it was his. The ball was at once identified and the officer thanked.

This was a prompt recovery and reflects great credit upon the vigilance of P. C. Newhall. A police court case will probably result as a consequence of the theft.

Extensions to C.P.R. Railway

Will Construct 1500 Miles of New Road Bed.

Montreal, March 21.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, today gave out a statement in regard to the new lines that will be under construction this year by the Canadian Pacific Railway, and for which allowances have been made in the appropriations. This statement shows that altogether the company has in hand extensions amounting to 958 miles of new lines, while the double tracking that is to be carried out comprises another 535 miles making altogether nearly 1,500 miles, as compared with 1,000 miles under construction on the Great Northern, 1,900 on the Grand Trunk Pacific, and 1,500 on the Canadian Northern.

The double tracking includes 426.7 miles from Winnipeg to Fort William, and 108 miles from St. Anne's to Smith's Falls,

Officer Commanding Will Retire in Coming September

Col. Miller's Five Year Tenure of Office Will Have Expired Then—Will be Succeeded by Major Stevenson

Lt.-Col. Miller, who for the past five years, has been commanding officer of the 57th Regiment, will retire from the command of the corps in September of this year. His tenure of office expires then, when he will have completed the term of office allotted commanding officers. He will be succeeded by Major Arthur Stevenson, who is now senior major of the regiment.

Lt.-Col. Miller's retirement will cause quite a shuffle among the officers and there will be several promotions as a result. Major Clegg, who is now junior major, will become senior major; Captain Bennet, who is now senior captain, will become junior major, and will be succeeded in the senior captaincy by Capt. Mills. There will be other changes all down the line.

Lt.-Col. Miller has been one of the best commanding officers the regiment has ever had. During the four years and a half that have elapsed since he took command the corps has made splendid progress, and was never in better condition than at the present time. He is one of the best commanding officers the regiment has ever had, and his retirement will be learned of with regret. However, he will retain an active interest in the regiment, and do everything within his power to advance the interests of the corps.

In Major Stevenson, the regiment will secure a good commanding officer. He is popular among all ranks and has had many years' experience in the militia, and the 57th will no doubt continue to go forward under his command.

Dynamited Ice Blockade at Railway Bridge Over Creek

Worked All Day Yesterday, but This Morning the Channel was Blocked Again—Damage is Slight and the Floods Not as Bad as in Past Years.

The Downie street creek is once more creating a lot of labor and worry for the property owners along its banks. The very mild weather of the past few days has caused the volumn of water to increase tremenduously. Up to yesterday, however, no damage or any particular trouble was anticipated, although the water was over the road in some places. But yesterday the ice started coming down in large blocks. These lodged themselves against the trestle work at the missing link bridge and blocked the water. It backed up against the Wm. Hamilton Co's. property and threatened to damage it considerably.

The Grand Trunk Railway Company yesterday put a gang of men to work on the ice blockade at their bridge near the Protestant Home. The men worked hard for a long time without any effect and finally dynamite was resorted to, and before they quit the bridge was pretty well cleared.

During the night however, the ice again accumulated and this morning the men are again at work for the Grand Trunk company, but unless it starts to rain it is not expected that any trouble will be experienced.

The Bethune street bridge is blocked underneath and Street Commissioner Harry Evans was up early this morning examining it and later put men to work clearing it out. Other men are at the corner of Brock and Aylmer streets breaking up the blockade there. Taking the situation on the whole it is not nearly so bad as it has been for many years past.

Peterborough Retail Grocers Are Warm for Organization

Local Correspondent for the Canadian Grocer Expresses Feeling in This City—Independent of the Wholesale Grocers.

Peterborough just now is ripe for the organization of a retail grocers' association. It has been felt by the grocers for a long time that such a move should be made. The men catering to the necessities and luxuries of the inner man are not ignorant of the great benefit an association would be to them. They are perfectly aware of all that, and so far not a man has said he would not join in the undertaking. On the contrary, nearly everyone has said that he would gladly do all he could to help it along.

Since the agitation has been started by the Canadian Grocer the merchants have [illegible] their interest in the movement. They have read the letters in The Grocer from H. C. Beckett and from the other correspondents. They fully appreciate the weakness of individualism in trade and the strength of unity. They agree with many of the suggestions thrown out and have several others to offer which would be applicable to the whole Dominion.

The trouble here is who will take the lead? A grocer in business catering to the public every day cannot take up the organization without great loss to his own business. At the same time it is felt by many that the organizer should be a man who understands, the grocery business.

One suggestion is that an outside man, that is, a local man not in the grocery business, be engaged to call on every grocer in the city; explain to him the object of the association in detail, then ask him to sign a paper agreeing to become a member and to help the movement along. After this work has been completed and the great majority of the grocers had signed, a meeting could be called, and the organization proceeded with. None of the members would be injured by those who stayed away and for the simple reason that the majority would control the trade.

One great object of the association, aside from any relationship with the wholesale houses which, of course, would be one of the main features, is to establish a "slow pay and dead beat system." Hundreds of dollars are lost every year, in fact thousands of dollars, by the professional "dead beats," and this city as well as every other city is full of them. With an organization the permanent secretary would be authorized to go over the books of each grocer every month and pick out the "slow pay and dead beat" accounts. These names he would keep alphabetically in a book, and whenever a merchant desired any information about a person desiring credit all he would have to do would be to call up the secretary and walk down and see him. A complete list of such accounts could be kept and the merchants saved hundreds of dollars.

Another object is to establish and maintain throughout the entire city a one price system. The executive would be empowered to watch the market and regulate the local prices so that the customers would get the full benefit of any reduction and still the merchant would do business at a profit. It would abolish the system of cutting prices, selling at and below cost and every man would be on an equal footing.

As far as joining in with the wholesale men or accepting any assistance from them, other than mere suggestions, the merchants here would strongly oppose it.

Market Tolls Bring Better Price Than Last Year by $30

W. A. McIlmoyle Bid $1060 and Got the Privilege—Annual Sale Conducted by Auctioneer Stapleton—Five Bidders in the Ring—Price isSatisfactory.

Mr W. A. McIlmoyle will collect the market tolls and act as market clerk during the ensuing year, starting April 1st, 1907, until March 31st, 1908 He will pay the city just $1,060, for the privilege, or $30 more than last year.

This morning at eleven o'clock Auctioneer Chas. Stapleton sold the market tolls. The sale took place in the city council chamber and the place was crowded with spectators many having to stand. There were only five bidders, but the bidding was brisk, although the man wanted to get the position as cheaply as possible

Before the sale took place the property committee met in the city clerk's office and decided upon a reserve bid. This bid last year was $1,000 and the committee adopted it again as they considered the privilege was worth just as much today has it has been for the past five years. In fact it should be worth more ,as the city is growing rapidly and the shipment of cheese, live stock, etc., is on the increase. The patronage of the market is equally as good, while the fees have not been reduced. It is true that two or three other weigh scales have been put in by private parties, but these do not materially effect the actual income of the market.

It was just eleven o'clock to the minute when Auctioneer Stapleton entered the council chamber, followed by the mayor, Ald. McIntyre, City Clerk Armstrong and City Treasurer Adams. The auctioneer stated that it was time to receive bids and requested those who anticipated bidding to occupy seats inside the railing.

Those who put in their deposit cheques and entered the ring were;

John Riddell.
W. A. McIlmoyle.
Jas. B. Brown.
Henry Snider.
Walter Fisher.

Henry Snider started the bidding going by offering $500. This was quickly raised by $100 bids until it reached $800, offered by Mr. Brown the clerk in 1905. From $800 it was raised by $10 bids to $980, and then Mr. Brown raised it to $1,000. $10 bids after that brought the price up to $1,060, and it was sold to Mr. McIlmoyle.

The bids made were as follows;

Henry Snider $500.
W. A. McIlmoyle $600, $850, $910, $960, $1,040 and $1,060.
Walter Fisher $700, $870, $890, $920, $980 ,$1,010. $1040.
Ja. Brown $800, $860, $,880, $930, $1,000, $1020, $1050.
John Riddell $900,$950, $970.

For the past five years the price of the market tolls has varied from $1,320 in 1905 to $1,000 in 1904. The prices for the past five years are as follows;

1902, Warren Hall, clerk, $1270.
1903, Wm. Taylor, clerk, $1020.
1904, Thos. J. Lee, clerk, $1000.
1905, Jas B Brown, clerk, $1320.
1906 Henry Snider, clerk, $1030.
1907, W A McIlmoyle, clerk, $1060.

Bank of Commerce Has Bought The R. M. Dennistoun Residence

Price Paid Was $8000 and the Property Will be the Future Home of the Local Manager—Mr. D. Hughes Charles Will Move in Early in April

A transfer of property has been made which will be of interest to everyone in the city. It will also cause a little speculation throughout the whole province. Some time ago Mr. R. M. Dennistoun announced his intention of leaving for the west and at the same time put his handsome residential property on Water street on the market. A number of bids were made for it, but none were satisfactory, until the Bank of Commerce stepped in and purchased it.

The price it is understood was about $8,000, and the property will be a valuable asset to the bank.

The property was purchased as a permanent and official residence for the local manager, Mr. D. Hughes Charles, who has for the past five years been at the head of the institution here. He will be the first manager to occupy the bank's house and will move into it as soon as Mr. Dennistoun moves out, the first part of April. Just now Mr. Hughes Charles is living at 21 Scott street. Being given a free house is practically giving the manager an increase in salary of $500 or $600 and everyone in the city will be pleased to hear of his good fortune.

BELMONT GETS GRANT

Word has been received to the effect that a grant of $600 has been made to the township of Belmont, by the Ontario Government, in response to the request made by the deputation which waited on the ministers some weeks ago, in connection with the outbreak of smallpox which occurred in the township some time ago.

Prompt Response to Want Advt.

How Mr. Fred Skitch Quickly Recovered His Collie Dog

Here is an instance of the drawing power of the want ads. of the Review. Customer writes copy, orders the advertisement inserted and before it is set up in cold type gets results. That's giving the public something for their intentions to pay money.

Mr Fred Skitch, of the Canadian Express Company came to the Review this afternoon and ordered in an advertisement describing a collie dog that had escaped from the hands of the express company while in transit. To Mr. Skitch's surprise the dog was delivered to him within five minutes. And Mr. Skitch was gratified, and pleased, for the dog had been sent C.O.D., and there was fifteen chances out of twenty that it would not be recovered.

The dog, a fine collie, was expressed to Mr. Z. Burnham, of Otonabee, from Palmerston, yesterday. While the delivery van was standing at the Customs House, the dog made his escape, having cleared the slats of the crate enough to let him peak out. He made his way to the Review office during the afternoon was taken in, fed and kept all night. He decided to stay where he had been treated with unlooked for courtesy and consideration, and remained, to fall into Mr. Skitch's hands, who led the dog away, well pleased to secure his charge. The moral of all this if it has any moral, other than a collie dog, and $10.00 express charges, is to advertise in the Review.

Easter Windows of R. Hall & Son

Beautiful Millinery and Easter Goods are Artistically Displayed

The beautiful display of Easter goods in Messrs. Richard Hall & Sons' dry goods store windows, is attracting great attention these days and many complimentary remarks are expressed in admiration of it. The large south window is very pretty. A row of narrow strips of white tissue paper dotted here and there with bunches of purple violets forms a very pretty background. A doll dressed in the latest spring style is shown in this window, and it is here the up-to-date spring millinery is displayed. The next window going north is where the draperies and house furnishings are shown. Here the color is all one and this lends attractiveness to the window. The north window is one of great beauty and artistic arrangement. Pictures of many different spring scenes formed in a row make a very pretty background. A large gold chain looped under the pictures is hung across the back of the window. Here the spring mousselaines are displayed to great advantage. The work of dressing these windows so artistically was done by Mr. H. O. Macdonald, who is an expert in this line. Mr. Macdonald always has very prettily dressed windows and his Easter one this year is no exception to the rule, and is equal to any of the best dressed windows in large cities.

Parties who wish to claim and take away their toboggans from the Jackson Park slide of the Street Railway Co. can do so during Friday or Saturday, (22nd, and 23rd) up to 8 p.m. each evening Toboggans left at the slide or at owners' risk.

ON CHARGE OF STEALING SOAP

Jas Wilson was arrested this morning by P. C. Newhall in the Royal Hotel. Geo. Stevens, in whose employ Wilson was, complained of him having stolen a quantity of soap and sold it. Wilson was brought before the magistrate at police court this morning. He was charged with being a vagrant. He pleaded not guilty. He said that he had work and a home and he did not call that vagrancy. He was remanded for one week. In the meantime an information will be sworn out against him, by the junk dealer, for stealing.

TRUANCY CASE.

An East City resident appeared in police court this morning, charged by Truant Officer Cochrane with not sending her boy, who is under the age of fourteen years, to school. The mother of the boy said that he was nervous and he would not go to school. The register showed that the lad had only been to school five days this year.

His Worship said that he thought the fault was with the parents. He would, therefore, fine the boy's mother five dollars, to be paid in five days.

Woman Gets Back Her Lost Purse

The lady who was reported in yesterday's issue as having lost a light brown purse, containing forty-five dollars, has fortunately recovered her money. She did not drop it on the street as was thought. When she got on the car she carelessly laid her purse on a seat. In a few minutes she missed it. She thought that she had left it in a store, and hurriedly got off the car to go back and get the money, but found it was not at the store. Some time after, the lady left the car, the pocket book was picked up by the street car conductor. This morning Chief Rozzel was notified that the money was at the street railway office. The lady will no doubt feel very grateful to the street railway conductor who found the money, and she may have the same by calling at the Radial Railway office.

ONTARIO BANK CASE

Shareholders Gathering Evidence for Their Proposed Suit.

The Toronto Star says;

The advisability of taking action against the old directors of the Ontario Bank is under consideration, and it is said that J. G. Langton, chief clerk under former manager McGill, has been examined within the last few days. A Toronto shareholder says he is willing to contribute $1,000 towards a civil suit, if the money is needed. A bank official said recently that, so far as he could see, it might be three years before the Ontario Bank's affairs were finally settled.

Pie Social Held at Coldsprings

Proceedings Amounted to Over $30.00

The committee in charge of the pie social held in the Sunday school hall at Coldsprings, cleared about $30. as a result of their enterprise. A large number were in attendance and the event was a most enjoyable one in every respect. Mr. Robert Henderson contributed several well rendered vocal solos and selections on Mr. Hicks' gramaphone were also an enjoyable feature. The baskets were sold by auction and were disposed of readily. Some of them brought fancy prices. The money raised will go towards the erection of the new Sunday school hall.

Property Used as Dumping Ground

City Should Not Use Government Land for This Purpose

Sergt. Major Brittain of the 57th Regiment, called at the police station this afternoon and complained of the city authorities using the Government property adjoining Central Park as a dumping ground. During the past few days, since the cleaning of the streets began, all the refuse has been emptied behind the drill shed. The sergeant major thinks it no place for the dirt of the city. This is a spot where a number gather during the summer months, and it certainly will not be a desirable place if the city continues to use it as a dumping ground.

LEARN DRESSMAKING IN TWO WEEKS

We teach you everything from the plainest shirt waist to the most elaborate toilette that can be found in the fashion books. We show you how to put together not only the lining but all the outer goods for coats, skirts, wrappers, waists, sleeves, collars, etc. Why spend months at a dressmaking shop where you do nothing but hem, overcast, sew on hooks and eyes, and then after you have served months there What do you know about cutting? Absolutely nothing, for you will know no more how to cut out a dress at the end of a year than you did just the day you went there. So why spend your time there when we can teach you in two weeks. You can come and try for a week and see for yourself what we like as there is nothing to be paid in advance you certainly would not loose anything by trying. We have taught over 2,000 this way within the past 6 years in Western Ontario and all recommend it very highly.

Charge for full course is only $10 to be paid when course is completed if satisfied including one of most perfect fitting systems in use which we give free. We guarantee that the waists made by this chart will not draw nor pull out of skirt when raising arm.

AN EVENING CLASS will also be taught. In this class we will teach shirt waists, sleeves, and [illegible]. This course will be $4.00 and hours from 7 to 9. We will teach at Peterboro from April 8th to April 20th. Hours for day class from 1 to 5. All wishing to learn be sure to see us at the Oriental Hotel on Saturday, April 6th between 10 and 5 o'clock. This is positively the last class we will teach at Peterboro this year.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Officers and Men of No. 7 Company at Festive Board

Enjoyable Banquet at Hooper's Palm Gardens Last Night—Several Splendid Addresses Were Given—The Company is in Excellent Condition.

One of the jolliest gatherings ever held in the Palm Gardens was the annual banquet of No. 7 Company of the 57th Regiment last night. Everyone present had a most enjoyable time and it was with regret that "Auld Lang Syne" was sung. The esprit de corps which is one of the outstanding features of the local corps was never more in evidence than last night. Everything passed off in a most harmonious manner and, as several of those present stated, everyone was glad to have his uniform on again.

About thirty sat down to the excellent spread that had been prepared by Mine Host, Hooper and full justice was done the many good things that made the tables fit for the inspection of a king. The occasion was graced by the presence of Col. Miller, commanding officer of the regiment, and Sergeant Major Brittain, whose excellent speeches added greatly to the evening's pleasure. The popular commanding officer of the company, Capt. R F McWilliams, acted as presiding officer. The other officers of the company, Lieuts. Kelly and Best were also present.

The toast to the King was proposed by Capt. McWilliams and responded to in the usual way, a heartily sung "God Save the King." Capt. McWilliams then proposed the toast to the commanding officer of the regiment, Col. J. W. Miller. In doing so he said that the regiment had every reason to be proud of its commanding officer. Col. Miller had entered the ranks as a private and through his ability and close attention to duty, had risen to the highest office that it was in the power of the regiment to bestow. As a soldier and a gentleman, Col. Miller was a model for the members of the regiment. The toast was honored with much enthusiasm, the company singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" with a will and a swing.

COL. MILLER.

Col Miller, in replying, gave a spirited and patriotic address, in which he referred to the soldier's high calling and to the nobility of training in order to be able to defend efficiently, King, country and home. In his preliminary remarks Col. Miller said it gave him much pleasure to be with No. 7 company at their annual banquet. It was a company of which he was always proud. He referred briefly to his length of service in the militia. He had joined in 1864 and had been in the service ever since. He thought that drilling was one of the best recreations that existed. It improved the man both physically and morally. What nobler work could a young man undertake than preparing himself for the service of his King and country? Let those scoff who may, but when trouble arises, it is the soldier who is ready to fight for the defence of his country. The men of the Canadian regiments had never faltered when the bugle sounded the call to duty. They had shown that they were not afraid to risk their lives and to brave the hardships of a soldier's life when the Fenians had threatened our country's borders, at the time of the Riel rebellion and later in the Transvaal. They had marched side by side and held their own with the best troops of the Motherland and, when the time arrived, had not flinched, but had gone down to the dust fighting for the defence of Queen and country. He recalled the eagerness of the members of the 57th regiment to enlist at that time and of the fine military spirit which had always existed in the corps. Col. Miller urged the men to serve their officers well and to do everything in their power to advance the interests of the regiment. They had good officers, everyone of them was filled with the desire to make the 57th regiment the best in Canada and they should be given hearty support.

SERGT-MAJOR BRITTAIN

The formality of a toast list was dispensed with and Sergeant-Major Brittain was called upon for a speech. On arising he was enthusiastically received. The sergeant major was in a reminiscent mood and gave an interesting account of some incidents in his military career. As is generally known Sergeant-Major Brittain was formerly a member of the permanent corps of Canada, and is a thorough soldier. Drawing on his own experiences he gave the men some good advice, urging them to do their very best, to have a high ideal and to keep it constantly in view.

CAPT. McWILLIAMS.

Captain McWilliams then addressed himself to the members of his company and briefly reviewed the history of that unit of the regiment. He was proud of No. 7, he was proud of his men and of the support they had always given him. They had never failed when they had been called upon. He regretted that it would be impossible for him to take an active part in the work of the company during the first six or eight weeks of the present drill season, owing to his numerous civic duties and he bespoke for Lieut. Kelly, who would be in temporary charge of the company, the same splendid support that had always been given him. He did not have to ask that this be done; he knew the men would be loyal in their support.

OTHER SPEAKERS

Lieut. Kelly, in a short address, paid a tribute to the commanding and other officers of the regiment, and particularly to Capt. McWilliams. The captain of the company was a man of whom they had all reason to feel proud. The speaker impressed upon his auditors the necessity of soldiers obeying orders. This was the soldier's first duty and it should be observed in every branch of the service.

Lieut. Best also gave a short address, which was received with much applause. Bright speeches were also made by Sergeant Hall, Corporal Spencer and Pte. Wood. The toast to the press was proposed by Lieut. Kelly and responded to by the representatives present. "Auld Lang Syne" brought a most enjoyable function to a close.

MEDICAL MEN HELD MEETING

Several Matters Were Considered —Interesting Paper Read

The Central Ontario Medical Association met last evening in the Bank of Montreal chambers.

A large number of the medical men were present and there was an interesting meeting. The president, Dr. F. P. McNulty, occupied the chair. Dr. Neal read an instructive paper on the subject of "Haemophilia." A discussion on Dr. Neal's paper followed, in which everyone took part. The Osteopathic Bill, which is now before the Legislature was also discussed by the Association.

OBITUARY

MRS. JAMES ARMSTRONG.

At the ripe old age of seventy-seven years, Mrs. James Armstrong entered into her rest. Born in England, Mrs. Armstrong, whose maiden name was Margaret Bustin, came to Canada with her parents, when only a child of three summers and settled on the fourth concession of Cavan. There she lived until her marriage to the late James Armstrong, when they took up their new home on the second concession, where she resided until the last. Her husband predeceased her some seventeen years ago. Mrs. Armstrong may be said to have been one of the oldest residents of Cavan and certainly none was more respected than she, a kind and helpful neighbor, a good mother and a consistent friend to all who knew her. Four sons and three daughters are left to mourn the loss of the absent one, viz; George, of the first concession; Arthur, of the third and David John and Thomas at the old home. The daughters are Mrs. Robert Gardiner, Carmel; Mrs James Armstrong, Perrytown; Mrs Edward Patton, Glamorgan and Mrs William Grey, Millbrook. The funeral took place on Friday last to the Presbyterian cemetery, Millbrook, a very large gathering of friends being present to show their sympathy and respect.

MRS WM HOOTON.

There passed away on Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. Jones, Mariposa township, an old and respected resident of Cavan, in the person of Isabella Meharry, relict of the late Wm. Hooton.

The deceased was 76 years of age and had been ailing for some time. Her husband predeceased her by some fourteen years. The late Mrs. Hooton, who was a faithful member of the Methodist church, leaves a family of four sons and four daughters to mourn her death. The daughters are Mrs. George Haygarth, Long Point, Ont.; Mrs. H. Jones, Mariposa township; Mrs. S. T. Wilson, Omemee, and Mrs. J. W. Bidgood, Chesterland, Ohio. The sons are Robert, John, Mark and George, all of whom reside near Fairmont. Mr. Henry Meharry, of Peterborough, is a brother of deceased, while two sisters, Misses Eliza and Mary Meharry, reside near Fairmont.

Many friends will learn of the death of Mrs. Hooton with keen regret.

The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the residence of her son, Mr. George Hooton, lot 17, con. 13, Cavan, and proceed to 9th line cemetery.

WARM WELCOME IN INGERSOLL

Chronicle Says That Town Will be Pleased to Greet Mr. Bright

The Ingersoll Chronicle says;

At a well attended congregational meeting of St. Paul's church Wednesday night, it was unanimously agreed, after a couple of ballots had been taken, to extend a call to Rev. Alfred Bright of Peterborough, at a salary of $1,500 a year.

The names of all the candidates who have been heard were submitted to the meeting and Mr. Bright received a very large proportion of the votes cast.

Mr Bright is a young man who made a very favorable impression when he preached here recently, and the congregation of St. Paul's church are to be congratulated on their choice. Many outside of St. Paul's church will be pleased to welcome Mr. Bright to Ingersoll.

WEDDING BELLS

HENDERSON—PLUNKETT

The home of Mrs. W. Plunkett, sr. Keene, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Wednesday evening, when her daughter, Miss Annie Plunkett was united in marriage to Mr. William Henderson. The bride was prettily attired in point d'esprit over white silk and wore a veil and orange blossoms. Miss Newton, of Peterborough, acted as bridesmaid and wore pink silk. Mr. Walter Henderson, brother of the groom was groomsman. Little Miss Isaac of Peterborough, made an attractive flower girl.

Many pretty presents were received. Miss Lillian Campbell, during the ceremony, played Mendelssohn's wedding march. Rev. D. D. McDonald officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson will reside in Otonabee.

About sixty guests were present, including Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Faint, Mr. and Mrs. H. Newton, Mr and Mrs W. H. Isaac, Mr and Mrs. Arch. Weir, all of Peterborough and Mr. and Miss Clarke, of Toronto.

ELLIOTT—KERR

Mrs. Mary Kerr, of this city, and Mr. Wm. Elliott, of Otonabee, were quietly married on Wednesday night at the residence of Mr. Edwin C. Howson, 780 Water street, Rev. J. J. Wright performed the ceremony in the presence of a few friends of the uniting parties. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott have taken up their residence in Otonabee.

COWARD—CAIN

At St. Andrew's manse, on Wednesday evening, Mr. Maynard Coward son of Mr. Thomas Coward, of Otonabee, was united in marriage to Miss Minnie Cain, daughter of Mr. J. Cain of Pontypool. Rev. J. G. Potter officiated. The bride was becomingly gowned in a pretty champagne suit of raw silk with hat to match. Miss Mabel Elliott, the bridesmaid, was attired in cream serge with hat to match. The groom was supported by Ben Seabrook. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold watch and chain, to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet, and to the groomsman, gold cuff links.

Mr and Mrs. Coward will reside in Otonabee township.

FLETCHER—BRAY

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Johnson, Silcote, on Wednesday, March 13th, when her sister, Miss Anna B. Bray, of Cavanville, was united in marriage to Mr. George T. Fletcher, of Minnedosa, Manitoba.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Fraser, of Annan, in the presence of a few immediate relatives of the bride.

The bride, who was given away by her brother-in-law, was becomingly gowned in her travelling suit of grey tweed, with waist of embroidered linen.

The bride and groom were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher left Owen Sound on Thursday, and will spend a few days with friends at Markdale, Millbrook and Port Hope, before leaving for their home in the west.

Overseer Watt on the War Path

Will See That Fishery Regulations are Strictly Enforced

In connection with the reported sale in the city this week of 500 pounds of maskinonge, Fishery Overseer Watt stated today that he would be glad to have any person acquainted with any violations of the fishery regulations to advise him of the facts and he will see that the offenders are promptly brought to time. The name of the informant will be held strictly confidential. All those who desire to see the fish of the inland waters protected, should assist in seeing that the law is enforced. The overseer cannot be all over, but when a complaint is made to him or he hears of a violation of the regulations, he is not slow in ferreting the matter out. He will prosecute all offenders. The 'lunge may be caught any time with a hook and line, except between April 15th and June 15th. It is unlawful, however, to snare or spear 'lunge at any season or to offer them for sale, as it is alleged, was the case in the city this week. It would be utterly impossible for an angler to catch 500 pounds with a hook and line, and the fisherman is liable if fish were offered for sale.

The overseer is investigating the complaint and will see that the practice of snaring or spearing 'lunge is stopped.

RUSSIAN ASSASSINS ARE PAID.

Slayers Got From $2 to $2,000 For Each Murder.

St. Petersburg, March 22.—Sensational testimony to the effect that the Reactionary League of the Russian people hired men to murder Ivan Petrunkevitch, the noted Liberal member of the first Parliament, and also contemplated the assassination of M. Ramischwill and M. Dzhaparidge, former members of Parliament, to terrorize that body, was given at the trial of the murderers of Professor Hertzenstein, the member of the Lower House, who was killed near Terieki, Finland, on July 31, which was resumed this week in Finland.

The prosecution placed on the stand a soldier named Kriks, who had been a member of the fighting organization of the reactionary party, and who testified to receiving various sums of money from M. Yushketvitch, a leader of the league of the Russian people, in order to induce him to kill M. Petrunkevitch.

Kriks gave details of various crimes committed by the group and furnished a mass of hearsay evidence, detailing the murder of Professor Hertzenstein and the plot to assassinate M. Ramischwill and Dzhaparidge. He said the prices paid for assassinations ranged from a couple of dollars for minor murders to $15,000 for killing Professor Hertzenstein.

The testimony was admitted by the court, and the trial of the defendants was adjourned until April 16.

CHANNEL TUNNEL BILL.

British Parliament Gives the Project Its Death Blow.

London, March 22.—The revived project of tunneling the English Channel received its death blow, at least for a long time to come, by the announcement of the Government's decision against the enterprise in Parliament yesterday.

Premier Campbell-Bannerman, in the House of Commons, and the Earl of Crewe, lord president of the council, in the House of Lords, made identical announcements to this effect, which were echoed and approved by Mr. Balfour, the Opposition leader in the Lower House. It is understood the bill will be withdrawn.

"Even if the military dangers could be guarded against," said the Premier, "their would be a feeling of insecurity, leading to constant demands for increased naval and military expenditure and creating a feeling of alarm, which would not be compensated for by the advantages of the tunnel."

BIG BLAZE IN MONTREAL.

Firms on Notre Dame Street Lose $100,000—Fireman Injured.

Montreal, March 22.—Fire which caused $100,000 damage broke out in Notre Dame street at five o'clock yesterday morning. The firms interested are the Canada Tag and Label Co., D. Morrice, Sons & Co., wholesale woollens and cottons, and the Hudson Bay Knitting Co.

Joseph Bernuer, a fireman, fell 70 feet, from the top floor to the cellar, the man escaping with but a few scratches.

The loss to the Canada Tag and Label Co. will amount to $50,000; to the Hudson Bay Knitting Co., $30,000; to D. Morrice, Sons & Co., $10,000, and to the buildings, $15,000.

British Steamer Beached.

Hakodate, Japan, March 22.—The British steamer Farnley, from Tacoma, Feb. 10, for Taku, has been beached near here after having sustained extensive damage. It is supposed that she struck a floating mine in the Strait of Tsugaru. Divers are examining the vessel which must discharge her cargo before proceeding.

Famine Riot Menaces China.

London, March 22.—A special despatch from Shanghai says Viceroy Tuanfang of Nanking predicts a general uprising in the famine stricken districts unless prompt relief is provided. The viceroy, it is added, has memorialized the throne for $1,000,000 to purchase rice in Siam and Annan.

BRITISH WON FIGHT.

But Natives Put Up a Hard Battle Losing 300 Men.

London, March 22.—News has arrived of a fight in December between a British force and a robber band of Tibuks, west of Lake Tchad, Africa.

The British besieged a fort, which was captured with difficulty and with the loss of 11 killed and 42 wounded. Among the latter were two officers. Most of the casualties were caused by arrows.

The Tibuks lost 300 killed and wounded.

76 Suffragettes Go to Jail.

London, March 22.—Seventy-six "suffragettes," arrested Wednesday for brawling within the precincts of Parliament, were sentenced yesterday to from $5 or a fortnight in prison, to $10 or a month imprisonment.

They all elected to go to jail, and were taken away in the prison vans amidst the mingled cheers and jeers of the crowds outside the police court.

Earl Grey Praises Booth.

Ottawa, March 21.—Gen. William Booth of the Salvation Army addressed the Canadian Club yesterday on the work of the Army. There were present the Governor-General, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, R. L. Borden, Hon. Mr. Emmerson and Speaker Sutherland.

Earl Grey, in moving a hearty vote of thanks to Gen. Booth, said it had been his privilege to have Gen. Booth as his guest at Rideau Hall, and it was a privilege he would not easily forget.

Eddy Estate Tax $105,143.

Ottawa, March 21.—The balance of the succession tax on the E. B. Eddy estate has been paid to the province, $75,000 had been paid and the balance is $30,143, making a total of $105,143.

While the victim of insanity Mrs. John J. Leslie, of Winnipeg, strangled her nine year old daughter, and then attempted to take her own life.

Some Changes in No. 7 Company

Lieut. Kelly Will be in Command During First Part of Drill Season

Owing to his numerous duties in connection with his position as mayor of the city, and the many demands made upon his time by civic affairs, Captain R. F. McWilliams, of No. 7 Company will not be able to take active command of the company for the first couple of months of the drill season. Until Capt. McWilliams is able to enter again into active military life, the company will be commanded by his senior lieutenant, Lieut. Kelly, who is well qualified for the position. Lieut. Kelly is an enthusiastic officer and couples with his enthusiasm several years military experience. Captain McWilliams expects to resume command of his company about the first of June.

No. 7 company needs about twelve new men, but it is not expected that there will be any difficulty in securing desirable recruits. Several new non-commissioned officers have also to be appointed.

Special Services Close To-night

Last Opportunity to Hear Rev. A. W. Torrie at Park Street Church

Tonight Evangelist Torrie gives his last address and the special services close with a thankoffering to cover the expenses of the mission. Miss Hamlin of Midland, who has rendered such valuable service, will contribute one or two selections. The pastor is very anxious that all who arose during the meetings, desiring salvation will be present tonight, when they will be presented with a most valuable Christian-life card, containing "Hints on True Christian Living," "Growth in Grace" "How to begin a Christian Life," and "How to use the Bible," a most useful souvenir of the revival. Come early as a full house is expected. Song service, begins at 7.45 o'clock.

LOOKING AFTER DAIRY INTEREST

More attention has been paid to the dairying interests at this session of the Ontario Legislature than has been devoted to it for many years. The chief reason lies in the fact that Mr. J. R. Dargavel, President of the Eastern Dairymen's Association, occupies a seat in the House as the representative from Leeds. He has been untiring in his efforts to secure greater assistance from the Government in keeping with the importance of this immense industry. Its importance is beyond question, but the difficulty in the past, has been that its true importance has never been recognized either inside or outside the Houses of Parliament, not excepting even the majority of those engaged in the industry. The Legislature has interested itself in stock raising, in the Fruit and Vegetable Grower's Associations, horse shows and exhibitions of all kinds.

The Dairy interests have also received some attention at the hands of the old Government, but this session the industry has been given a boost that will impress its importance upon the users, as well as the makers of butter and cheese.

This impetus is directly due to the persistent efforts of Mr. Dargavel, who has urged the Government to take hold of the matter in a business-like way. He has pointed out that in 1905, there were 953 cheese factories east of Toronto, making returns to the Government.

In these there were manufactured 1,299,976,393 lbs. of milk, utilized in the manufacture of 124, 762,795 lbs. of cheese, having a market value of $13,204,888. Of course this does not represent the full volume of the industry, as many factories do not send in any returns.

In the district east of Toronto, there were also operated 25 creameries that produced butter to the value of $100,000 in cash to the farmers. This year, there are over 1,200 factories east of Toronto, and the output, based on the average for several years, cannot be valued at less than $16,000,000. This is independent of the creameries output.

The significance of this immense industry, and its bearing upon the import trade of Canada, particularly Ontario, have been underestimated by the majority of Governments. During last year for example, $28,000 was spent in connection with the dairying instruction in the section east of Toronto. Of this amount, $4,000 was to assist in the erection of a dairy building at Ottawa, $2,000 for the Eastern Dairymen's Association, and $6,500 for the eastern dairy school.

The fact was patent to the Hon. Nelson Monteith, Minister of Agriculture, that some of the products of the eastern section were not up to the standard, and this had an ulterior effect upon the cheese and butter from Ontario as a whole. It effected it in reputation on the British markets, and consequently in price. Mr. Dargavel pointed out that it required the same amount of good material to make the good article, as it did the bad one, and that those who needed instruction most were, in the dairy business as in all others, the last to want it or receive it. The suggestion was made to the Minister, that the whole question of dairy instruction should be taken out of the hands of the dairy associations, and placed in the hands of the Government. The Government would have to forego the $13,500 paid by the cheese factories and creameries towards the cost of instruction. But this was a mere trifle when the great necessity for the uniformity of standard, and the adoption and employment of the most modern methods of manufacture were considered. As a result of the efforts of Mr. Dargavel, the whole question of cost of instruction has been taken over with the purpose of placing the cheese and butter industry of the province of Ontario on the high plain of excellence, where the products shall be second to none in the world.

PROMISING SENATORSHIPS

(Belleville Intelligencer.)

Our friend Nathaniel Vermilyea, may congratulate himself on the fact that he is not the only one who has been deceived by the powers that be.

In a discussion the other day in the House of Commons, upon the question of Senate appointments, Mr. Bennett enquired whether it was correct that Dr. Spohn, who was a member of the House in 1891, had a written pledge given by the first minister, that he was to have a seat in the Senate. He (Bennett) had it on the authority of a gentleman, whose word he believed to be perfectly good that he had seen such a letter. In this letter written in 1891, the Prime Minister pledged himself that in the event of the Liberal party coming into power, Dr. Spohn's claim for a Senatorship would be considered. He asked whether it was true that Dr. Spohn had such a letter in his possession.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he always had been blest with a good memory, but he could not remember a letter written ten years ago.

Mr. Bennett—It was in 1892.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier—That is worse.

Mr. Bennett may take it for granted that the letter was written and is in the possession of Dr. Spohn. Dr. Spohn, was, at the time the promise was made, asked to sacrifice himself once more in an attempt to capture a riding, and the price was to be a Senatorship. Sir Wilfrid has evidently a convenient memory.

He did not deny the existence of the letter. It was more convenient to forget.

Sir Richard Cartwright was a little more adroit when a similar question was asked him in the Senate by Sir Mackenzie Bowell, as to the letter said to have been written by him, promising a seat in the Senate to Mr. Vermilyea. His reply was "when the letter is produced we will discuss it." Cunning old fellow!

Neither of these gentlemen denied, writing the letters, but dexterously squirmed out of answering by forgetting and demanding their production. If the truth were known scores of such letters were written, in addition to verbal pledges given.

Come, Sir Wilfrid and Sir Richard, make your promise good. Now is the time, there are three vacancies in Ontario. Give one of them to your devoted follower, Mr. Nathanael Vermilyea. Has he not earned it?

Thaw Insane Say Alienists; Latest About Thaw Trial

Seven of Them Sign Affidavits in Regard to Thaw.

Will Be Presented to Judge Fitzgerald To-Day—Prisoner Too Dangerous to the Public To Be at Large—Delmas Bars Dr. Hamilton From Giving Evidence—Thaw Suffering From Paranoia.

New York, March 22.—District Attorney Jerome yesterday presented to Justice Fitzgerald eight affidavits in support of his contention that Harry K. Thaw is in such a state of lunacy or insanity as to be incapable of understanding the proceedings against him, or of making his defence.

The court was in session for less than an hour, Delphin M. Delmas, for the defence, stating that their answer to the district attorney's proposition was not ready. Justice Fitzgerald allowed both sides until Saturday afternoon to file such affidavits and exhibits as are to be offered.

Neither the jury nor Thaw was in court yesterday. The jury having been excused until to-day, when there will be a brief session, and a formal adjournment until Monday morning. By Monday Justice Fitzgerald, it is expected, will be ready to announce his decision.

Dr. Hamilton Turned Down.

Jerome pleaded for permission to examine Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton orally, but, in the absence of a waiver of professional privilege on the part of the defence, Justice Fitzgerald said he would not allow the alienist to be examined at present.

Justice Fitzgerald added significantly that he would take judicial notice of everything which had been adduced in evidence during the nine weeks of the trial.

Dr. Hamilton testified Wednesday that, in his opinion, Thaw is not capable at present of directing his defence. The question was put to Dr. Hamilton by Attorney Gleason of the defence, and Jerome now contends that the defence thus waived the matter of professional privilege.

The attaches of the district attorney's office are inclined to the belief that Dr. Hamilton, having already stated his opinion to Justice Fitzgerald, the latter deemed it unnecessary to precipitate an argument as to the waiving of professional privilege. The defence seemed inclined to the view that Justice Fitzgerald held, that Dr. Hamilton's evidence could not be taken into consideration, and that, consequentally, the district attorney's position was materially weakened.

Affidavits of Experts.

Jerome's affidavits, submitted yesterday, embraced the opinion of his seven experts, and a statement by Irvin S. Cobb, a newspaper reporter, who furnished the text of the statement which Thaw issued at the conclusion of Jerome's long and severe cross-examination of his wife.

Jerome called particular attention to one signed by Dr. Carlos F. McDonald, in which he declares he is firmly convinced that Thaw is suffering from paranoia, and that he is and for some time has been incapable of understanding the proceedings against him.

The reporter, Cobb, sets forth the facts connected with Thaw's dramatic manner of issuing his statement concerning Jerome's cross-examination of Evelyn Thaw.

All these facts were narrated at the time; Thaw's insisting that the reporter should sign and seal an envelope containing the original of the statement and should compare the original with the typewritten copies which were handed to him for distribution among the other newspaper men at the trial.

Jerome Is Convinced.

Jerome occupied most of the short session with a personal explanation of the reasons which hindered him from earlier calling the attention of the court to Thaw's present state of mind. He said he had long been convinced that the defendant was of unsound mind, but he had no way of legally bringing the matter to the attention of the court until Dr. Hamilton was put on the stand by the defence.

Jerome said he could not have called Dr. Hamilton on account of the professional privilege the defence could have interposed as a bar to any testimony the expert might have had to offer.

Delmas declined again to waive any privilege with regard to Dr. Hamilton, on the ground that, if the district attorney's contention as to the present insanity of the defendant is sound, his lawyers have no right to waive anything for a lunatic.

All the attorneys were present, however, when Justice Fitzgerald took his place on the bench. Mr. Delmas alone was heard by Justice Fitzgerald. Twice Mr. Hartridge attempted to enter into the argument, but each time he was rapped down by the justice.

THE CARE OF CHILDREN'S TEETH

The following is a timely paper, read by M. P. Carrigan, D.D.S., Strathroy, before the West Middlesex Teachers' Association, in Strathroy, and approved as sound and proper teaching by Dr. Gowan, of this city:—

In regard to this subject of "The Care of Children's Teeth," I may say that I attach great importance to it. So much of an individual's after life depends on the care, education, training and guardianship of childhood that we cannot very well over-estimate the value of these things. And because among children there is no more prevalent disease than the decay of the teeth, I maintain that their care should be considered carefully.

Examination has shown that fully 86 per cent of school children have decayed teeth. This is considered so important a fact in certain European countries, it has been deemed wise by the department of public health to have these teeth examined by properly qualified dentists at stated intervals. Those in authority have recognized the fact that without good teeth these children cannot properly masticate and assimilate their food, and for this very obvious reason they can never become as important or useful citizens as they might under different conditions.

Every dentist has had the pleasure of seeing patients improve very materially in general health and appearance, after having their diseased and decayed teeth restored to a condition of health and usefulness.

Now to-day, I would like to talk very practically to you about the teeth and mouth, so that you may be enabled easily to advise and direct your pupils in the care of these organs, and in so doing I know that you can render them a great and good service.

A noted physician's constant advice to his son was, "Keep your back straight." The advice was good, and it should be given to every boy and girl, but it is not one whit more important than if he had said, "Keep your mouth clean."

When we consider that the mouth is the portal of the body through which all the food passes, to nourish and build up this body—that all that enters there contains the sum total of the blood supply, is it any wonder that we emphasize its cleansing? Some people take great care to prepare clean food—served on clean plates and eaten with clean silver, and then immediately defile it by thrusting it into filthy mouths. Do not think this is a rare happening. It occurs every day in thousands of homes, where to all outward appearances people are scrupulously clean.

When we arise early in the morning go to the mirror and protrude the tongue. Examine it carefully. You will find it covered with a viscid coat of brownish material, which you may partially scrape off with the blade of your penknife. This deposit is composed of insoluble food particles, saliva, and precipitates of the saliva, and in it is a supply of bacteria or germs. The deposit covers the tongue, the teeth, the gums, and all of the surrounding tissues. Food as food, and in its proper place, is not filth, but if it stays for hours in the mouth, and the process of fermentation takes place, it becomes filth, and it has no use or economy. It should be removed like any other kind of filth. It has become a menace to health and normal conditions. If left there it defiles the food taken into the mouth, and no one would for a moment eat food with which this filth were mixed outside of the mouth. Not only does it defile the mouth and stomach, but when left around the teeth it helps to make an ideal home for the germs which indirectly cause decay of the teeth. The mouth is in this way kept in a chronic condition of filth; disagreeable and fetid breath results, and these conditions, when accompanied by a mouthful of decayed teeth, gradually but surely undermine the general health, and there is developed conditions which lead up to general debility, anaemia, septicemia, chronic dyspepsia on the one hand, or diphtheria and pneumonia on the other hand.

Before proceeding with specific rules for the cleansing of the mouth and the care of the teeth, let me name some reasons why the teeth should be properly cared for.

So as to prevent pain and suffering from toothache, much of which may lead to impairment of the health.

So that the child may be able to properly masticate its food, and in so doing nourish the body.

In order that the temporary teeth may either be lost too early in life nor retained too long. By being lost too soon the jaw develops unevenly—the permanent teeth may not have enough room, and the facial expression may be completely spoiled. By being left in too long the permanent teeth may be prevented from ever erupting, or as is more likely, they do erupt, but they come in so much out of place that the child's appearance is greatly altered.

So that no large cavities may form—a small cavity does not so much weaken the tooth, and small fillings do not so much disfigure the patient.

In order to prevent the humiliation of losing the natural teeth and the inconvenience of wearing artificial ones. That a youthful appearance and beauty of face may be preserved.

Hundreds of young people by neglect have been robbed of what beauty they once possessed by their teeth being neglected so long that they were forced to lose them early in life before the contour of face and the lines of the feature became mature and fixed. Could anything be more humiliating and cating to a sensitive nature?

And now, what instructions could you as teachers give to your pupils to prevent a great deal of this pain and trouble?

1. That the teeth and mouth should be thoroughly cleansed at least once a day, and oftener, if possible. The best plan would be to cleanse the mouth before breakfast—after each meal, and before retiring. How should this cleaning be done? Well, in the morning a tooth brush should be used vigorously on the teeth, gums and tongue. A plentiful supply of good fresh water should be used. After each meal the mouth should be thoroughly rinsed with clear, cold water, and after all food particles are thus removed, the teeth may be brushed with clean water. The rinsing and brushing prevents the accumulation of much filth and prohibits the process of fermentation in the mouth cavity.

2. Tell them that a tooth brush with fine, firm bristles is the best. One rather small is better than a large brush, because it can be used better between the cheek and the teeth.

3. The teeth should not be brushed with ashes, charcoal, salt, soap or gritty substances. These injure the enamel, while the soap injures the gums. Never brush against the gum margin.

4. Encourage them to frequently examine their teeth in the mirror, to be on the lookout for cavities—to distinguish between permanent and temporary teeth—and to see that their teeth are free from stains and deposits of tartar.

5. Make plain to them the superiority of the natural teeth over artificial teeth, as far as beauty, comfort and utility is concerned.

6. Impress on them the advantage of frequent periodic visits to their dentist for examination of the teeth and the removal of tartar.

7. Tell them that the very poorest teeth, if taken in time, and properly cared for, are so good that it pays to have them attended to. Often mothers of children, while they are well able to pay for treatment, will tell you that they intend to allow the teeth to go uncared for, as they are not worth filling. This occurs often from a lack of knowledge, and much to the chagrin of the poor children, they are forced to lose their teeth.

8. An aching tooth may be treated and made permanently useful.

9. Abscessed teeth may often be treated and saved.

10. It is not dangerous to have an abscessed tooth extracted. The danger lies in not having it extracted if it is necessary, or in not having it treated before blood poisoning develops.

11. Tell them that they get four permanent molars—one on each side above and below—when they are six years of age. That these teeth are often mistaken by mothers for temporary teeth; that they are allowed to go uncared for until they have to be extracted. That the loss of these—first molars as they are called—has a tendency to weaken and deform the jaw and rob the face of its beautiful contour and fulness.

12. That neglect makes it necessary to have large, unsightly fillings, when, if taken in time, the fillings would be small and no so unsightly.

13. That some people's teeth require more care and watching than others.

14. That food properly masticated is far more beneficial than food swallowed without thorough mastication.

15. That bad breath can be overcome and prevented by great care of the mouth and teeth.

16. That a tooth that loosens in its socket can after be tightened and restored to usefulness by care and treatment.

17. That it is just as important to save the back teeth as the front ones.

ZAM-BUK SAVES A FARMER'S ARM

SOME SENSATIONAL PROOFS OF ITS HEALING POWER.

Every day brings interesting instances to light of the wonderful healing power of Zam-Buk, the herbal balm. Mr. Wm. Snell, a Langeenburg, (Sask.) farmer, says; "I saved my arm by using Zam-Buk. I had a terrible scalding accident and the arm after the injury 'took the wrong way.' When I started to use Zam-Buk it was all swollen up and discolored, and I feared it would have to come off. In a few days Zam-Buk killed the poison, reduced the swelling, and finally healed the arm completely."

ECZEMA CURED. Mr. J. E. Cusick, of 349 Wilson St., Hamilton, says;—"Every winter I used to have eczema on the back of my hands. Last winter I was especially bad—so bad that I had to be off work for three weeks. While suffering acutely I was advised to try Zam-Buk and did so. I could not have believed anything could have healed so quickly! It just seemed to dry up and clear away the sores, and in a wonderfully short time my hands were quite cured."

PILES CURED. Mr. Neil Devon, of Webbwood (Ont.) says;—"For eight years I tried all kinds of things for piles, but got nothing to do me any good until I struck Zam-Buk! That completely worked a complete cure."

Zam-Buk heals all skin diseases, cuts and bruises, eczema, scalp sores, ulcers, chapped places. Spring pimples, scrofulous ailments, poisoned wounds, swollen glands, boils. As an embrocation it cures rheumatism, sciatica, etc. All druggists and stores sell at 50c a box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 6 boxes for $2.50. Send 1c stamp for dainty trial box.

Annual Meeting Midland League

Will be Held in Y. M. C. A. Hall To-morrow Afternoon

The annual meeting of the Midland Association Football League will be held to-morrow, March 23rd, at one o'clock, in the Y.M.C.A. parlors. Among the important business to be dealt with will be the consideration of having an intermediate and senior series in the league for 1907. The election of officers will take place and also a representative will be appointed to attend the annual meeting of the Ontario Football Association at Toronto, which will probably be held on Easter Monday. Representatives from the various clubs wishing to enter the league this year are requested to be on hand on behalf of their respective clubs.

Northern Route of Trent Canal

Influences are at Work to Delay its Construction

The Barrie Gazette prints the following letter, dated March 15th, which leaves no doubt as to the influences that have been at work to bring about a delay in the construction of the northern outlet of the Trent Valley Waterway,—

Dear Mr. McCarthy—I have your letter of yesterday's date, referring to our conversation regarding the route of the Trent Valley Canal from Lake Simcoe to the Georgian Bay. In view of your protest against the decision as to the route, until more definite information is available, as to the cost of the route you favor, namely from the east end of Kempenfeldt Bay to Nottawasaga Bay, I have decided to have a survey made, and Mr. Butler has given instructions to have it gone ahead with at once. Yours faithfully,

H. R. EMMERSON.

There is one satisfactory piece of information in this letter—that the survey of the Nottawasaga route is to be begun at once.

Quaker Football Club Reorganizes

Officers Elected for Year—Will Enter Two Teams in Midland League

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Quaker Football team was held last evening in the Y. M. C. A. hall.

It was a very enthusiastic gathering and the plans for the coming season were interestingly discussed.

A large number of last year's players were present as well as some new ones, who intend to enter the game this year.

In the absence of the president, Dr. Morgan, Mr. Jack Sullivan occupied the chair. The secretary-treasurer's report was read by Mr. B. T. Huston and the finances of the club were shown to be in a very satisfactory condition.

It was unanimously decided by the members to retain the name of the club, that is the Quaker Football Club.

The election of officers was then proceeded with and resulted as follows,—

Hon.-Pres.—Mr. W. H. Denham.

1st Hon. - Vice-Pres.—Dr. Burnham.

2nd Hon. Vice-Pres.—Mr. T. F. Matthews.

Patrons and Patronesses—Mr. and Mrs. R. F. McWilliams, Mr. and Mrs. J. Crane, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Neill, and Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Hall.

President—Dr. Morgan.

1st Vice-Pres.—T. J. Wallace.

2nd Vice-Pres.—Mr. Chas. Sisson.

Manager—Mr. Percy Fitzgerald.

Secretary-Treasurer — Mr. B. T. Huston.

Executive and Managing Committee—Messrs. Ray Best, Rich. Evans, and Jas. Doris.

Representatives to Annual Meeting—Messrs. Ray Best, and B. T. Huston.

The election of a captain was left over until the first practice.

It is thought probable, that there will be an intermediate and senior series in the Midland League this season, instead of a junior and intermediate series, as last year. The representatives to the annual meeting on Saturday next will advocate forming a senior and intermediate series and the Quaker Club will enter teams in both series.

A letter from Mr. McPherson, manager of the football team of Fall River, Mass., champions of the New England States, who are on a tour of Canada, was read by the secretary. They are playing games in several western cities of Ontario and would like to arrange a game with the Quakers of this city. The secretary was advised to write Mr. McPherson, and let him known of their terms. In all probability a match will be arranged for them to play here the latter part of May. The Fall River team play in Montreal, and their idea is to play here on their way to that city.

The meeting then adjourned.

Grits Won the Annual Game

Tory Curlers Were Five Points Down Last Night

In a small-sized way the Grits got back at the Tories last night for the severe drubbing they were handed out in the annual curling match last season. The Libs. managed to pull out a victory in a three-rink contest, the score being 31—26 in their favor. It was a great struggle and the losers have nothing to complain about. There was a rumor that the Grits had put salt on the ice, and that the Tories' stones were "doped" but there is no proof of any underhand work having been done. The ice was rather heavy and this is said to have favored the Grits as they are used to being up against tough propositions. The rinks and scores were as follows;

Grits	Tories
G Maitland	S Sharpe
W S Dodds	D Hall
A Moore	R M Waddell
S Clegg	C N Brown
Skip 6	Skip 12
G B Stevenson	T R Merrett
J Gibson	W H Denham
W Lang	J Bogue
C E Frost	T F Matthews
Skip 12	Skip 9
Dr Wightman	W R Read
J E A Fitzgerald	A Webb
W J Thompson	R Neill
J H Connal	G Fitzgerald
Skip 13	Skip 5

It is not likely that there will be any more curling this season as water covers the ice today and the roller skating people expect to start work on Monday preparing the floor for roller skating.

LACROSSE

SHAMROCKS TO ORGANIZE.

A meeting of the Shamrock Lacrosse Club, has been called for Monday evening next, at the Oriental hotel at eight o'clock, to organize for the season. It is hoped there will be a large attendance. The prospects for the club this year are exceptionally bright. Do not forget the meeting on Monday evening.

LINDSAY'S PROSPECTS

Lindsay Post; The probability of having a junior team in the C.L.A. this season has made a stir in lacrosse circles in town, and the Canadian national game may receive an impetus in "baseball" smitten Lindsay. Already some enthusiasts have got out their hickories and plans are rife among athletic circles in town for the coming season. If encouragement were given by our citizens, the "lacrosse spirit" would find a ready soil to mature in, among Lindsay sports.

OBITUARY

MISS MARY SMITH

The many friends in this city of Miss Mary Smith of Pittsburg, will regret to learn of her death in that city yesterday afternoon. She had only been ill a short time, and when the end came the word was telegraphed to some friends of the family here. The deceased lady was a daughter of the late John Smith, who resided here for many years. She was born in Peterborough and lived here until some ten years ago when she moved to Pittsburg.

Of the large family, there is only one brother left in the city. He is Thomas Smith, and he boards at the Cavanagh House. The rest of the family is scattered. A brother lives in New Mexico, another in Washington State and one in British Columbia. One married sister resides in Johnstown, and Miss Nellie Smith, the youngest, lives in Johnstown.

Miss Nellie Smith was with her sister when she died, and left Pittsburg last night for Peterborough, where interment will take place. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

MRS. MARTIN CONNORS.

The death occurred this morning about 11 o'clock, of a highly respected citizen of Peterborough, in the person of Mrs. Martin Connors. The deceased was widely known, and the news of her death will come as a great shock to a wide circle of friends. The late Mrs. Connors had been ill for a long time, suffering from nervous debility. A rather strange thing is that her two brothers died last November within a week of each other. The deceased's maiden name was Margaret Ritchie. She was 51 years of age and was born in Port Hope. She was married to Martin Connors in 1878. They have resided in this city for the past 29 years, coming here from Port Hope.

A husband and two sons and one daughter are left to mourn her loss. The sons are Messrs Thomas and John of this city. The daughter is Miss Clara also at home.

The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, from the family residence, the City Hotel, to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery for interment.

AMUSEMENT ENTERPRISE

Mr. Pappas Asked to Take Agency for a "Five Cent" Show

There is a probability that a "five-cent" amusement show may be opened in Peterborough.

Yesterday Mr. Huylingmeyer, who represents one of the largest amusement firms in the United States, with headquarters in Philadelphia, Pa., was in the city in conversation with Mr. M. Pappas, the local cigar dealer and pool room proprietor. Mr. Huylingmeyer made this local merchant a most attractive offer that will probably be accepted. Mr. Huylingmeyer wanted Mr. Pappas to take the local agency for a "five-cent" show for his company. This means that Mr. Pappas will acquire a suitable property and put on a "moving picture" show with suitable music, etc.

Mr Pappas is looking into the matter, but states that it is difficult to secure a suitable stand as every place on George street is taken up.

Good Price for His Residence

Mr. J. B. McWilliams Sells His House to Mr. W. R. Harstone

Mr. J. B. McWilliams has sold his handsome residence at the corner of London and Water streets, to Mr. W. R. Harstone, for the sum of $7-650. Mr. Harstone will take possession of the new property in about a month, and will move his family in. Mr. McWilliams has been unwell for some time, and he will move to his cottage at Burleigh Falls just as soon as the lakes are free of ice, and will spend the summer there. As yet he does not know whether he will build in Peterborough again or not.

Mr. McWilliams built the residence just sold in 1889 and has made it his home ever since, and after he moves away his familiar figure will be missed by the neighbors.

Parties who wish to claim and take away their toboggans from the Jackson Park slide of the Street Railway Co. can do so during Friday or Saturday, (22nd, and 23rd) up to 8 p. m. each evening. Toboggans left at the slide are at owners' risk.

Will Rev. Ketchen Return to This City?

The Hamilton correspondent of the Mail and Empire says;—There is a feeling among the congregation of McNab street Presbyterian church that they may lose their popular pastor, Rev. H. Beverley Ketchen, who has been here for the last two years.

Mr. Ketchen came here from Peterborough, where he was assistant to Dr Torrance. Since the probable resignation of the latter, the congregation of McNab street church expect he will get the call to his old church.

Wreckers Tampered With the Track

Special to the Review.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 22. — Train wreckers tampered with the Pennsylvania Railway tracks near Stewart Station, east of Pittsburg early today and sent the New York and Chicago Limited, into the ditch, injuring many of the passengers and crew. Only three Pullman's remained on the track, the mail car, baggage car, and three forward sleepers followed the engine. Among the passengers was Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland, who was slightly bruised, and suffered severely from the shock. Fire followed the wreck, and one of the cars was burned.

Resisting Jews Put to Death

Special to the Review.

Bucharest, Roumania, March 22.—The roused peasants who have hitherto refrained from killing are now blood mad, and every Jew who offers the slightest resistance, is put to death instantly. In the last twenty-four hours seventy-five murders have been reported and more than three hundred Jews have been badly wounded. Numerous cases of horrible outrages, perpetrated against women have come to light.

Benefit Fund for Mrs. McCourt

Peterborough people will be given an opportunity to contribute to the fund for the benefit of Mrs. McCourt, mother of "Bud" McCourt, the Cornwall hockey player, who died as a result of a blow sustained in the Cornwall-Victoria game a few days ago. "Bud" McCourt was the only son of a widowed mother and was her only support. As a result of his untimely death she is left in very unfortunate circumstances.

Mr. C. G. Graham today received a letter from Mr. George Styles of Cornwall, who has interested himself in the benefit fund for Mrs. McCourt, asking that something be done in Peterborough to raise a fund for her assistance. If it were earlier in the season a benefit game would have been played, but as this is impossible, another plan will have to be followed. It is likely that a subscription list will be opened and contributions received and acknowledged at the local newspaper offices. Further particulars will be announced tomorrow.

If every lover of hockey in Peterborough, would contribute 25c towards the fund, a handsome donation would be sent from this city.

Street Cleaning Has Been Started

Street Commissioner Harry Evans put a force of men to work on the streets this morning scraping the roads. One of the town teams on the road scraper made several trips up and down the main streets, and all the top layer of the winter's accumulation was shoved off to the side. Then the men with shovels and hoes piled it up, and the department's new team carried it away. In one or two places the road is perfectly dry and dust was flying.

As far as streets are concerned, there are very few cities in Ontario which can beat Peterborough. Toronto and Ottawa come last on the list, Mr. Harry Evans is largely responsible for the creditable condition of the streets, and the City Council realize that in him they a first class man.

Crocuses Are in Full Bloom And the Air Warm and Balmy

Col. H. C. Rogers Returns From Victoria, B. C., and Speaks of Conditions on the Coast—Enjoyable Family Reunion Held--Real Estate Has Doubled in Value During Past Year--Some Experiences on the Road Home.

"When I left Victoria a week ago, the crocuses, snowballs, and other flowers were in bloom, the air was balmy and everything most attractive," remarked Lt.-Col. H. C. Rogers, postmaster, who returned from the West at noon to-day after a month's leave of absence. He accompanied his son, Captain Harry S. Rogers, C.E., of London, Eng., on a trip across the Continent, and returned with him, leaving him at North Bay. Captain Rogers has recently been appointed surveyor of prisons in England and Wales, by the Home Government, and enters upon his new and important position on April 1st. He starts this week for the Old Country on the C.P.R. steamer, Empress of Ireland from St. John, N.B. It was with the object of paying a visit to his mother in Victoria, B.C., that Captain Rogers crossed Canada, and his father, as stated, accompanied him.

In British Columbia a family reunion was held for several days. All the members of Col. Rogers' family were present, except two sons, Mr. Walter Rogers, barrister, of London, Eng., and Lieut. Guy Rogers, R.E., of the Indian staff corps, who has been granted eight months leave of absence and is now on the Pacific on his way to Victoria. He will take a trip around the world, and will, in a few weeks, visit Peterborough, and spend some time here with his father. Lieut. Guy Rogers expected to reach Victoria before the Colonel left for the east, but was not able to accomplish the task. Those who spent a jolly two week altogether in Victoria, B.C., were Col. Rogers, Mrs. Rogers, three sons and two daughters, the former being Captain H. S. Rogers, London; Eng.; D. M. Rogers, barrister, Victoria, and Dr. H. B. Rogers, superintendent of the hospital located at Chemainus, which is some fifty miles from Victoria. Mrs. G. H. Barnard and Mrs. H. S. Robertson, of Victoria are the daughters. The many friends of Mrs. Rogers will be pleased to learn that she is enjoying good health in the West. "Yes," said the Colonel today, when asked about his trip, "I enjoyed every minute of it—in fact it seemed all too short. In Victoria there has been more winter than for fifteen years past but the thermometer never went more than fifteen degrees below freezing point. There was some snow, but it did not last long, going away very soon after it fell. Everything is looking attractive in the western capital. Real estate has advanced fully one hundred per cent. during a year or two. Many wealthy Winnipeggers, in order to escape the rigors of winter in the prairie city, have bought handsome houses in Victoria and spend several months there each year. This has proved to be a great impetus to the real estate market."

"Yes, I spent a couple of days in Vancouver. That city is forging ahead rapidly, and there is a tremendous boom in real estate. A large number of buildings are going up and the future is very bright."

While away, Col. Rogers met several former Peterborough people, all doing well. He saw Hon. Mr. Green, a former member of the McBride Government, and had an interesting chat with him.

This is the third time that the postmaster of Peterborough has crossed the continent, and it is, therefore, no new experience for him. On the way back, the train was 24 hours late in reaching North Bay. There were three delays owing to wrecks of freight trains along the line. Near Calgary, there was a detention of seven hours in the fiercest kind of a blizzard, and another delay of nine hours occurred near Fort Williams, owing to a derailment of a train carrying settler's effects for the west. Several horses were killed in the smash.

Col. Rogers says there is still considerable snow on the prairies. The rush of immigrants and settlers to Canadian West is large. Several outgoing trains were met on the way home.

Evangelistic Meetings in Park St. Church Were Successful

Last night was a fitting close to a most successful series of revival meetings at the Park street Baptist church.

Every seat was taken and the Sunday school hall was thrown open for the overflow.

The sermon by Rev. A. W. Torrie, was addressed to young converts and workers with a tender appeal to the unsaved to decide for Jesus. A number responded and came to the front. A larger number who rose, did not come, and were lost to the workers in the crowd. The Park street church are a happy people, rejoicing in large additions to membership. The finances were equal to the expenses of the revival and all is happily wound up. Mr. Torrie thanked all who had contributed to the success of the revival, making especial reference to the courtesy of the press, with their kindly notices each day, casting the weight of their valuable columns on the side of truth and righteousness.

The choir received much praise for their part, the Y.M.C.A. Quartette and Miss Hamlin of Midland.

Sermons tomorrow will be preached by the pastor. His morning subject will be "An Eventful Journey," and the evening "A Great Catastrophe." A large baptismal service is arranged for Easter Sunday.

Minister of Railways Reviews Work of Year in His Department

Hon. H. R. Emmerson Claims Surplus of $61,915 on Year.

Intercolonial Line In a Flourishing Condition — May Be Extended to Toronto — Heavy Expenditure on Canals—Mileage of Canadian Lines —Freight Rates Cheap on I. C. R.— 1907 Promises Great Prosperity.

Ottawa, March 23.—The extension of the Intercolonial Railway to Toronto was the hope expressed by Hon. H. R. Emmerson in reviewing the year's business of that road yesterday.

He also said he looked forward to the day when the road would stretch from sea to sea.

The Minister of Railways claimed a surplus of $61,915 on the year's operations.

Mr. Emmerson made his annual budget speech. He pointed out that heretofore this speech had been confined to a financial discussion of the I. C. R. He felt that this year the speech should be extended to a review of all the more important work of the Railway Department. It was a vast department, employing nearly 14,000 men, and under its jurisdiction was included not only the Government railways and its system of canals, but also the new transcontinental railway.

The expenditures upon canals were large, and the money was voted without complaint by Parliament. During the past ten years there had been expended upon capital account not less than $24,000,000. During this period, $1,452,000 had been expended on the Lachine Canal, $1,005,600 upon the Sault Ste. Marie Canal and $3,076,000 upon the Welland Canal. Upon the Trent Valley Canal, now open from Healy's Falls to Lake Simcoe, there has been expended during the past ten years $3,738,663, which included the cost of surveys.

Mileage of Canadian Roads.

Turning to railways, the Minister pointed out that the total mileage of Canadian railways in 1896 was 16,387 miles and subsidies granted by the Dominion Government between 1867 and 1896 amounted to $90,395,692. In 1906 the total mileage had increased to 21,518 miles, and the total subsidies from Confederation to 1906 had increased to $105,734,201.

Taking up the I. C. R. Mr. Emmerson reminded the House that the road as completed and equipped in 1876 was long since out of date. The Government had been compelled to virtually rebuild the road and to buy new rolling stock throughout. This had been done on every trunk line in America during the past ten years. He was glad to say that the I. C. R. had kept pace with the best, except that not enough had been done towards reducing grades.

Expansion on I. C. R.

Referring again to statistics, Mr. Emmerson pointed out that the mileage of the I. C. R. had increased from 1,172 miles in 1896 to 1,477 miles in 1906. In 1896 there were 204 locomotive engines; in 1906 the number had increased to 347. The number of cars had increased from 6,667 in 1896 to 10,819 in 1906.

The engine mileage during this decade had increased from 4,714,000 to 7,304,511.

"Freight rates," said the Minister, "are cheap on the Intercolonial Railway."

Taking the I. C. R. as a unit, or one dollar, the United States roads charge $1.88, New Zealand $1.79, and Victoria $1.88 per ton mile.

The gross revenues of the I. C. R. for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, were $7,643,829, gross expenses $7,581,914, surplus $61,915.

To this surplus was to be added the profits of the Windsor branch amounting to $31,966. From this total should be deducted the net loss for the year on the Prince Edward Island Railway of $36,982, but this deficit of the Prince Edward Island Railway showed a betterment of $116,000 over the year terminating June 30, 1905.

Mr. Emmerson, at the evening session, assured the House that, prosperous as had been the past years, the current year would be even more prosperous. For the first six months the gross receipts had been $4,047,556; a surplus of $377,656. True, there must be faced an expenditure on capital account of $1,000,000 for rebuilding the shops destroyed by fire at Moncton. He showed by elaborate statistics that passenger and freight rates were quite low on the Intercolonial Railway and then sought to forecast the future of the road.

From Sea to Sea.

There were several propositions. One was to divide the system between the C. P. R. and G. T. R. He asked if this policy was favored by the Opposition. Personally, the Minister looked forward to the day when the Intercolonial Railway should stretch from sea to sea, but soon, and very soon, he hoped to see it start for the West. He hoped soon to see it extended to that splendid industrial capital of Canada, the City of Toronto. (Applause.)

Hon. John Haggart said that the speech was unsatisfactory. What was the Grand Trunk Pacific going to cost? Was it to be built, as the Premier promised, for $13,000,000?

As to the International Railway, was it true that since 1897 there had been expended the tremendous sum of $25,000,000 on capital account?

Mr. Emmerson claimed a surplus of $61,915. Did it exist? How about capital expenditure? During the past year this country had sunk $3,765,000 on the Intercolonial Railway, and calling it "capital account" did not help the matter. This country had spent during the past year more than $3,000,000 upon the Intercolonial Railway over and above the earnings of the road.

Progress of the Thaw Trial; Attorney Jerome Will Appeal

If Judge is Opposed to Appointment of Lunacy Commission.

Generally Thought That Thaw Will Be Sent to Mattewan—Jury Are Excused For Four Days—Counsel to File Affidavits—Commission Will Consist of Alienist, Lawyer, and Layman—Prisoner Very Uneasy.

New York, March 23.—A perfunctory session of the Court was held yesterday morning. Judge Fitzgerald excused the jury until 10.30 Wednesday morning, pending his examination of affidavits in the insanity issue.

Harry Thaw came in very nervously, and nodded jerkily to his friends.

His wife was in court, dressed in blue and looking quite refreshed.

Mr. Hartridge appeared for the defence.

Thaw left the court when the jury retired. He was very uneasy during his short appearance.

Delmas Was Away.

Mr. Delmas was not absent yesterday through any disagreement among counsel, but simply owing to the unimportant nature of the proceedings.

Behind the action of District Attorney Jerome in getting on the record at the Thaw trial the statement that the defendant is insane lies a determination on the part of the prosecution to make one of the most bitter legal fights ever known in this country, and have the question of Thaw's sanity settled beyond any and all doubts before his fate shall be placed in the hands of the jury. This means the decision of Judge Fitzgerald will not play such an important part as was generally supposed.

Jerome May Appeal.

An adverse decision on the District Attorney's suggestion that a commission be appointed will not stop Jerome in his efforts to have such action taken. It will simply spur him to greater activity along these lines. Mr. Jerome is thoroughly convinced that Thaw is in such a mental condition at the present time that he should not be on trial, and there is more than one legal road open to him to accomplish his purpose. The easiest and most simple is a direct appeal to the appellate division of the Supreme Court for a writ of prohibition to restrain the jury from any further consideration of the case of Thaw until the appellate division has passed on a motion for the appointment of a lunacy commission.

Thaw's Peculiar Desire.

Thaw yesterday, in his cell, is protesting against the naming of a commission in lunacy. He insists that his lawyers permit him to address a memorial to Judge Fitzgerald. They have refused to allow it. They evidently fear that the memorial might prove dangerous to their client.

Lunacy Commission.

If Justice Fitzgerald decides to appoint a Commission in Lunacy it will consist of three members, an alienist, a lawyer, and a layman. The alienist must necessarily be one who has not figured in any way in the case. The Commission, if chosen, will examine Thaw, and report to the court. If it were to find him sane, the trial would be resumed; if otherwise, Justice Fitzgerald would be obliged to order Thaw's confinement in the Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Mattewan.

Bigamist Gets Two Years.

Toronto, March 23.—Bert Windsor, aged 22, was sent to the central prison for two years less one day on a charge of bigamy. Windsor, a boxmaker, pleaded guilty to the charge of having two wives. He has a court record, for cruelty, non-support and theft.

NO BRAIN STORM HERE

Slayer of Famous London Merchant to Hang.

Rayner, the Man Who Shot William Whiteley, Sentenced—Was Not His Son—Tried, Convicted and Doomed In a Few Hours—Counsel Sets Up Insanity Plea, But Judge Waves It Aside.

London, March 23.—Horace George Rayner was arraigned in the Central Criminal Court yesterday, charged with the wilful murder of William Whiteley, the dry goods merchant, of Westbourne Grove, on January 24th. The general interest taken in the case was evidenced by the crowded court room, many women being among those present. In his opening statement, counsel for the prosecution, whose assertions were subsequently corroborated on the witness stand by Louisa Turner, who lived under Mr. Whiteley's protection, disposed of the fiction that Rayner was an illigitimate son of the man he killed.

The rest of the evidence presented in behalf of the prosecution was merely a repetition of the Police Court testimony regarding the murder.

George Elliott, counsel for Rayner, in his opening speech for the defence, said it was not part of his case to prove that the prisoner was a son of the late Mr. Whiteley. Rayner, rightly or wrongly, believed he was his son and counsel was going to show that Rayner was insane, in the legal sense that he was a degenerate, whose mind was tainted, defective and weakened by the over-indulgence of two generations of his family in drink.

The jury, after being absent nine minutes, returned a verdict of wilful murder, and Rayner was sentenced to death.

OCEAN CLAIMS TOLL.

54 Ships and 199 Lives Lost During the Winter.

Boston, Mass., March 23.—A total of 199 lives and 54 ships have been sacrificed to the storms and treacherous coasts of New England and the Maritime Provinces for the winter just ended, according to the statistics compiled by the Associated Press yesterday. Of the vessels, no account has been taken of the dozens that have been driven ashore, but later refloated, and the figures do not include the loss in Connecticut waters. The long list of dead is swollen out of all proportion to those of many previous years by the sinking of the steamer Larchmont in Block Island Sound the night of Feb. 11, with an estimated loss of 150 lives. This was the one great disaster of the year in these waters, the largest loss of life in any other single wreck occurring in the foundering this month of the Newfoundland schooner Harry Louis, with her entire crew of eight men.

As usual, the Nova Scotia coast has proved the most disastrous to shipping this year, claiming 16 vessels, but Newfoundland was not far behind with 14 craft. The American coastwise fleet was the heaviest loser, with 35 ships and 175 lives, while the British loss was 18 ships and 24 lives.

A TERRIFIC INDICTMENT.

Chicago Labor and Bridge Whist Parties.

Vancouver, March 23.—Claiming that investigation into the labor market shows the supply of labor in the Province equal to the demand; that society women who want the Chinese poll tax reduced want it so that they may have more time to enjoy bridge whist parties, pink teas and other unproductive frivolities; that the importation of cheap workmen is designed to cheapen labor and save employers from the necessity of raising wages to a figure in keeping with the advanced cost of living, that the Provincial Government is controlled by employers, and that the importation of cheap labor will cause industrial troubles and an exodus of Canadian workmen, the Trades and Labor Council passed a series of resolutions condemning the Provincial Government's immigration policy. Copies were sent to Premier Laurier and the Premier of each Province.

BERESFORD NOT SULKING.

Denies Report That He Will Run For Parliament.

Chicago, March 23.—While passing through this city Lord Charles Beresford was shown a cable despatch, dated Feb. 13, which said he was in a huff, declined to rule the Channel Fleet, and might run for Parliament.

In comment, the Admiral said he did believe ships for reserve service should not be withdrawn, and felt that the Home Squadron should be under his command as Admiral of the Navy.

"As for running for Parliament," he concluded, "that is beyond my intention. It sounds too much like sulking and a sea dog like myself will not sulk."

Wireless 'Phone Works.

Berlin, March 23.—Count Arco, in his wireless experiments, has succeeded in obtaining distinct exchanges of words in a tolerably natural voice at a distance of two miles, by using poles 30 feet high.

Rear-Admiral Manney, who was a delegate of the United States to the international congress on wireless telegraphy at Berlin, and Lt.-Commander Howard, U. S. N., the American naval attache here, have been present at a series of private exhibitions of the wireless telephone apparatus and have been able to talk with each other at somewhat less than three miles.

Killed by Falling Tree.

Cobourg, March 23.—A fatal accident occurred in the woods on the Card farm, in Haldimand Township, when a man named Alcorn of Baltimore was struck by a falling tree and instantly killed. He leaves a family.

Chas. Fosgren poured hot water on some dynamite at a C.P.R. camp at Lodge, and was instantly killed by an explosion.

HORSE RACING AT FAIRS.

Provision For Legal Action Against Societies Violating the Law.

Toronto, March 23.—Yesterday was a typical Friday afternoon at the Legislature. The attendance was slim, there were no discussions and a limited amount of routine business was put through. As previously intimated the hope to finish the session by Easter has been abandoned, and the House will adjourn next Thursday afternoon over the holiday. Arrangements are being made to enable the members to visit the Agricultural College at Guelph on the Tuesday following Easter.

On motion of Mr. Downey Toronto Junction's terminal railway bill, reported against the previous day, was referred back to the committee for reconsideration.

Mr. Graham said he had no objections, but the course was unusual.

Desired to Be Fair.

The Prime Minister said it had been shown that some parties interested had not had an opportunity of being present, and it was the desire to be fair to all.

Mr. McMillan (Glengarry) secured an order of the House for a return, of copies of all correspondence between the Nipissing Mines Company, or any official thereof and the Government, or any member thereof, relating to the property, or title thereto, of the said company, or any part or parcel thereof, situate in the Cobalt District; or to any application relating to the same; its title, or to the operation of the mines of the company, made by or on behalf of the company, or any of its directors or officers.

Hon. Mr. Monteith, Minister of Agriculture, introduced a Government measure to amend the agricultural societies act. It gives legal status to Mount Forest, Chesley, Peterboro, McKellar Township and Forest agricultural societies, and amends the act of last year by providing that legal action can only be taken against societies by members of the then current year and the previous year where the clauses prohibiting horse racing are alleged to be violated.

No amendments were offered to Hon. Mr. Foy's bill respecting the printing and distribution of the Statutes, and it passed through committee.

Road Bill Stands Over.

Mr. Graham called attention to the illness of Mr. C. N. Smith (Sault Ste Marie) and in compliance with his request Hon. Dr. Reaume's bill respecting Colonization Roads was not given its final reading.

The following bills were given their third reading:

Mr. Pratt—To vest certain lands in the rector and churchwardens of Trinity Church, Waterford.

Mr. Pratt—To incorporate the Policy Holders' Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Mr. McCowan—Respecting the town of North Toronto.

Second Readings.

Bills read a second time were:

Respecting the Pembroke Southern Railway Company; respecting the City of Hamilton; respecting the Canadian Niagara Power Company; to confirm bylaw No. 33 of the board of trustees of the Roman Catholic Separate Schools of the City of Ottawa; respecting the Town of Cornwall and the Morden Bedstead Company; respecting the Township of Cornwall; to confirm bylaw No. 729 of the Township of Cornwall, and bylaw No. 634 of the Township of Charlottenburg; respecting the Windsor Gas Company, Limited.

MAYOR HITS MEMBER.

Blows Struck In Corridor of Halifax House of Assembly.

Halifax, March 23.—In the corridors of the House of Assembly yesterday afternoon J. A. Johnson, deputy mayor of the City of Halifax, struck and knocked down Dr. March, a member of the House of Assembly and representing the County of Lunenburg.

Dr. March accused Johnson of taking away some business from him in connection with insurance matters, the accusation leading to wordy altercation, when Johnson struck March three heavy blows. March fell in a heap on the floor.

March was under the influence of liquor at the time. The altercation took place while the House was in session. It is understood the matter will be brought to the notice of the Legislature and Johnson will be called before the bar of the House to answer for his conduct.

Actress Beats Customs.

Port Huron, March 23.—A young man from Sarnia appeared at the Government's auction sale of smuggled goods here yesterday and bid in a seal skin coat for $200 against all comers.

It was learned that the coat was seized a year ago, when Mrs. Hamilton of Brantford, a pretty Canadian actress, tried to cross the border with it in company with her fiance, a Brantford physician. She refused to pay the duty.

The coat cost her $400 originally, but, even with the extra $200, she believes she has beaten the customs for once.

Mrs. Booth Frees Murderer.

Auburn, N.Y., March 23.—James Flaherty of Brooklyn, who has been in prison since Nov. 28, 1882, serving a life sentence for the murder of his wife, received notice yesterday that he had been granted a special commutation by Governor Hughes. The commutation was secured largely through Mrs. Maude Ballington Booth. Flaherty is 60 years of age.

British Reject Metric System.

London, March 23.—The House of Commons yesterday, by 150 to 118 votes, rejected the bill proposing to introduce the metric system in Great Britain.

Fonthill Merchant Self-Slain.

Fonthill, March 23.—Max Root, a business man, killed himself by shooting yesterday. He was about 24 years of age and leaves a widow and a child.

Dr. Reginald A. Daly, a graduate of Victoria University is leaving a Government position at Ottawa to take a professorship in Massachusetts.

PEASANTS DRIVE OUT JEWS.

400 Homes Devastated and More Than 100 Shot By Troops.

Vienna, March 23.—The seriousness of the situation in northern Moldavia, growing out of the agrarian disorders, has not been exaggerated, according to the latest telegraphic reports reaching here from Czernowitz, on the border.

From the estimates of the damages made last night, it appears that 400 farms in Moldavia have been devastated, 8,000 fugitives have fled over the Russian frontier into Austria, and a total of 10,000 Jews left homeless.

The number of dead and wounded cannot be given accurately, but the reports of yesterday give a total of about 85 men killed and 150 wounded.

The outbreak seemed to have been partially suppressed yesterday. The Roumanian Government is still sending troops into the afflicted district. Practically the entire Province of Moldavia has been involved.

Revolt Against Trust.

The movement is really more agrarian than anti-semitic. The peasants are in revolt against the great farming trust, which has leased half the cultivable land in Moldavia. The absentee landlords who control the trust are Jews, which fact brings the ire of the peasants down upon any and all Jews that they meet; and to this antipathy is added strong racial feeling.

On Thursday 500 peasants tried to invade Michailoni. Despite the fact that there were sufficient Roumanian troops there to stop the rioters, the peasants at first got the upper hand, because the soldiers, acting upon the orders of the prefect of the town, were not permitted to open fire.

In the face of the menaces of the furious peasants, however, some of the soldiers did fire, killing 15 of the rioters and wounding 45, whereupon the peasants withdrew.

Town Set On Fire.

A more successful attack was made at Vaslui, south of Jessy. Two thousand peasants forced their way into the town. The prefect of Vaslui did not have sufficient troops to stop the onward march of the infuriated countrymen. He stood by a helpless witness while the rioters plundered practically all the buildings on the three principal streets of Vaslui, and then set them on fire, which completed the work of destruction.

The prefect appealed for reinforcements, and the peasants, in ignorance of this step, remained in the town until the soldiers arrived. Then ensued a serious fight up and down the burned streets. The soldiers were victorious, but 20 rioters were killed and many wounded.

The entire Roman district was up in arms. The authorities were powerless and the peasants pillaged, burned and devastated everywhere. All the buildings in the villages of Halancosti, Herlesti, Holeisteni and Ninolusen were demolished.

MAXIM'S LATEST DEVICE.

New Safety Detonating Fuse Invented After Ten Years' Experimenting.

New York, March 23.—Hudson Maxim, inventor of high explosives, made the dinner tendered by the Canadian Club last night to Sir Percy Sanderson, the retiring British consul-general at this port, the occasion of the first announcement about a new safety detonating fuse which he has invented after ten years' of experimenting.

He declared such a device has been the aim of inventors for years. By means of it, he said, it is at last possible to send an armor-piercing shell through armor and cause it to explode at exactly the distance behind the armor desired by the gunner. It will not matter whether the armor is one inch or 12 inches in thickness, the inventor asserted.

FAST TRAIN DERAILED.

No One Injured—Track Was Tampered With.

Pittsburg, March 23.—Train No. 23, the Chicago Limited from New York for Chicago, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, while going about thirty-five miles an hour, was wrecked early yesterday at Stewart, Pa., about seventeen miles east of here. The engine and the first five cars were derailed, but not one was hurt, and the passengers were transferred to the three rear cars and bought to this city where another train was made up and they continued their journey. It is said that evidence leading the officials to believe that the track had been tampered with was found at the scene of the wreck.

Costly Lumber Hard on Settlers; Great Suffering in the West

Remedy is Suggested by Regina Alderman Who Advocates Export Duty and Putting All Manufactured Lumber on Free List.

Ottawa, March 21.—Ald. Wilkinson, of Regina, was again on the stand before the Lumber Enquiry Committee to-day. He mentioned the names of several men who he knew who were prevented from going into the lumber business by the Retailers' Association. He had been shown a document from which it appeared that the dealers threatened to blacklist any of the mills furnishing lumber to the Regina Supply Co.

The witness could not say that the price of lumber was retarding settlement but undoubtedly it was increasing the hardships of the settlers Smith Bros. and Mr. Wilson, of Renfrew, were refused supplies of lumber on the ground that they did not belong to the Retailers' Association.

He submitted a resolution from the Regina Board of Trade thanking Mr. Herron for moving in connection with this inquiry. He had no doubts of the existence of a great combine restraining the lumber trade. A great deal of suffering and hardships had been caused to settlers who had been able only to provide the merest shelter for themselves and their stock.

SUGGESTS A REMEDY.

He suggested as a remedy that an export duty be put on all lumber and logs, and that the import duty be removed on all grades of manufactured lumber. If an arrangement could be made between the Federal and Provincial Governments whereby the latter could acquire timber lands, the Provincial Government would be in a position to deal with the question. He suggested further that a commissioner be appointed at the various commercial centres, such as Winnipeg, Brandon, Regina, Moose Jaw, Calgary, and Edmonton, whose duty it would be to hear complaints and make inspections as to the grades of lumber being sold by the dealers, and that the consumer be allowed to buy through him, at a price in excess of the wholesale price, of, say, $2 per thousand, one dollar of which was to go into the Public Treasury, and the other dollar to the dealer, through whom the order came. This would enable the consumer to get his lumber very near the wholesale price, and also give the local dealer a margin of profit.

PROFIT WHEN ASSOCIATION FORMED.

Mr. Theodore Ludgate, of Arrow Head, B.C., said he had been operating at that point for the last five years. He declared that during 1905 he ran his mill at a loss, and gave the committee the data upon which he arrived at this conclusion. Mr. Lancaster figured out on this basis that Mr. Ludgate's loss in that year would be $35,000.

The witness attributed the loss to lack of organization amongst the millmen and competition from the American lumbermen. Last year with the organization and no American lumber to compete against, he figured out that he had made a profit of 70 cents a thousand, on the average, without allowing for anything for depreciation. The proceedings of the committee were cut short by a division in the House.

Are the Planets of Our Solar System Inhabited?

Rev. Dr. Marsh Dealt With This Interesting Question in a Paper on the Planet Neptune at the Y.M.C.A Hall Last Night--Progress of the Peterborough Branch of the Royal Astronomical Society.

That the Peterborough branch of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada is going to be a most successful institution was evidenced last night when an address on the planet Neptune was given in the Y.M.C.A Hall by Rev. Dr. Marsh, of Springville. The keen interest that is being taken in astronomy in Peterborough since the organization of the local branch of the Association, was shown by the large number who were in attendance and the close attention with which the speaker's remarks were followed.

Rev. J. G. Potter, a member of the Association, occupied the chair and in addition to the paper read by Dr. Marsh, there was a short musical programme. A duett was sung in excellent voice by Mr and Mrs. Greenslade, and a violin solo by Mr. Gilbert Markle, in his usual artistic and finished manner, added greatly to the pleasure of the evening. Miss Clarry acted as accompanist.

Dr Marsh's talk on the planet Neptune was exceedingly interesting and his auditors derived much pleasure and profit from it. He avoided technical terms as much as possible, and used language that was readily understood by those present, even though to many of them astronomy was a subject of which they had very little knowledge.

Neptune, said Dr. Marsh, was the most remote planet in our solar system, which is composed of the sun, moon, earth, and the planets Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune. No unaided human eye, said Dr. Marsh, had ever seen Neptune. It passed along its lonely way, far from the view of man. It was a star of about the eighth magnitude, and could be seen with the aid of an ordinary telescope. A view of Neptune was a glorious sight. It created a thrill within the human breast, the mystery of it was entrancing, and it caused transports of joy that no words could express.

The speaker gave an interesting account of the discovery of the planet Neptune. Its discovery was due to the sole power of numbers, to mathematics alone. All the bodies in the solar system have an influence over each other and to a certain extent control each others movements. Astronomers had discerned disturbances of the planet Uranus in its orbit and they knew that the cause of these perturbances was the influence of another planet. Their studies of the sky revealed the information that the disturbances were not caused by the influence of any of the then known planets. Astronomers then set about by mathematical calculations to find the place in the sky where the unknown planet must be situated. On August 31st, 1846, one of those who had been making calculations with this end in view, announced that he had located the place in the heavens where the unknown planet must be situated. In September of the same year, he sent a letter to this effect to the Berlin Observatory. The letter was received on September 23rd, and the night being clear, one of the astronomers there, turned his telescope on the part of the heavens directed in the letter and lo, the new star appeared. The discovery of Neptune went a long way to prove the accuracy of modern astronomy.

A TRIP TO NEPTUNE.

The speaker asked his audience to take with him a trip to Neptune How would they reach it. To take a railway train travelling at the rate of a mile a minute it would take 5,310 years to reach their destination, if, they travelled on a cannon ball shot from the mouth of one of the most powerful of the big guns in use at the present day it would take 255 years; if they travelled at the speed of a telegraph message, it would take six hours: if they took a car of light and travelled at the rate of speed at which light flashes through the atmosphere, it would take six hours The only way to visit Neptune was in thought. A flash of the mind and they are there in a second.

The planet Neptune, said Dr. Marsh, was 35,000 miles in diameter, or over four times as large as the earth, which was 8,000 miles in diameter. The strongest telescope of the present day, reveals to the eye no markings on the planet Neptune. It was of a greenish yellow color, when viewed through a telescope and astronomers had ascertained that Neptune had atmosphere, although it contained certain gases which did not exist on earth. The gravity of Neptune, however, was almost similar to terrestrial gravity. Astronomers did not know what the motion of Neptune was, It might, however, be very fast, like that of some of the other planets. It took the planet Neptune 164 of our years to complete the journey of its orbit, and to do this it travelled at the rate of 2.35 miles per second.

ARE THE PLANETS INHABITED?

Are Neptune and the other planets inhabited? This was a question that had often been asked him, said the speaker, and in dealing with this question he did not wish to be dogmatic, but what he said could be taken as food for reflection. Some persons said that it would not be possible for human beings to live under the atmospherical and other conditions that existed on some of the planets. This was no argument against the belief that life existed on the other planets "Has God not adopted," said Dr. Marsh, "the plan of adaptation to existing conditions? The air we breathe is full of life; the strongest acids and deadliest poisons teem with life. Is it not within the pale of reason to believe that other planets may be inhabited? The inhabitants may not be like us; they may be widely different, but it is not reasonable to believe that the plains and the valleys and the mountains of the other planets do teem with millions of happy beings, who offer up their adoration to the same God whom we worship and serve?"

OTHER BUSINESS.

At the conclusion of Dr. Marsh's address, Dr. Neal read the report of the last meeting held at Charlotte street church on February 6. The report recommended the appointment of the following officers for the Peterborough branch of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, a committee having been appointed at that time to complete the work of organization;

President, Rev. Dr. Marsh.

Vice-President, Mr. Wm. Pringle

Second Vice President, Mr. D. Walker.

Secretary, Dr. Neal.

Treasurer, Mr. D. Eason.

Committee, Messrs S. W. Lowry, Collier and Dr. McFall.

The local branch has now a membership of between thirty and forty and it is steadily growing. The membership fee is $2.00 per annum, which entitles those joining, to a full membership in the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada. The members of the Society also receive the Canadian Astronomical handbook for the year, the Journal of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, which is published bi-monthly, and also the annual report of the Society. Dr. Marsh last night outlined the benefits to be derived from a membership in the Society. Astronomy, he said, was one of, if not the most interesting study known. It was the most exact of the sciences and furnished a field for unlimited research.

The local branch of the Society will meet every two weeks. The date for the next meeting has been left to the committee. The inaugural lecture of a series will be given at the next meeting. The members of the society are enthusiastic and the Peterborough branch, from every appearance, will have a most successful future. Many new members joined last night.

HEART DISEASE

AND THAT IS NO IDLE STATEMENT TO CATCH THE UNWARY, BUT A THOUSANDS OF TIMES OVER PROVEN AND VOUCHED FOR FACT—AND THE MYSTERIOUS POWER OVER THIS DREADED DISEASE LIES IN THE FORMULA OF

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart

A cure that has stepped to the bedside of a sufferer in the clutch of death. A cure that has unloosed the grip and stopped the pain in 30 minutes and gently led the heart-wracked soul out from the darkness and despair to the brightness and happiness that comes to one whose heart beats true, whose blood tingles with life and vigor. Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart is not heralded as a miracle worker, but it has many miraculous cures to its credit.

Weak heart—weak blood—weak nerves travel hand-in-hand, and you find the symptoms in such sensations as palpitation, fluttering, shortness of breath, weak and irregular pulse, smothering spells, chilly sensations, fainting spells, swelling of feet and ankles, weariness, tired feeling; all these presage heart disorder and you cannot afford to neglect them. Dr. Agnew's Cure for the heart is a tried remedy—the sure remedy—the quick acting remedy—a real life saver.

Says Drugs do Not Cure Disease

Medical Professor of Laval Makes Startling Statement

St. Johns, Que., March 21.— A few days ago the Medical Association of the Counties of Chambly, Iberville, Laprairie, Napierville and St. Johns, held its regular meeting. There was a good attendance of the members.

The News says, in report of the meeting;

Dr. C. N. Valin, Professor at Laval University, Montreal, delivered a lecture on the relative values of diet and drugs in the treatment of disease. Assisted by a series of diagrams, he showed conclusively that diet was of far greater importance than medicine.

He instanced a number of cases which had come under his observation, both in his private practice and in his hospital patients, in which he performed cures solely by a judiciously prescribed diet, and with his charts he was able to show in a graphic manner, the exact reasons why the diseases gave way to correct dietary.

To sum up, Dr. Valin showed that while the effect of drugs was more or less problematical and, in any case, did not cure disease. Diet, on the contrary, could be shown almost mathematically, to effect a cure, by eliminating all the causes which contributed towards the prolongation of the disease.

The lecture was most eloquently delivered and listened to with the closest attention by those present.

Likens Ireland to Dominion

Members of House of Lords Cites Precedent of Home Rule

London, March 21.—Lord Loreburn the Lord Chancellor, in the House of Lords today, said it was written in destiny that Home Rule for Ireland must come. One force working for the change was the instinctive love for freedom and self-government in this country, which deters our people from imposing a yoke on other countries. We had in past history the example of Canada when self-government was given He agreed there was not an exact parallel, but human nature was the same in both countries. The result of giving self-government to the Dominion under circumstances of considerable difficulty had been the appeasement of much ill-blood in that country, the reconciliation of those not of race and kindred with ourselves, but in alliance with us under the British crown, which he hoped would be an indissoluble connection.

Lord Lansdowne replying, said he could only draw an inference that something approaching the system of colonial government was ultimately to be set up in Ireland.

There is at the root of the Irish case the insurmountable fact that Ireland is within a stone's throw of these shores. However, we might be disposed to show good will or exhibit confidence in the Irish people we could not afford to run the risks we could afford to run with colonies in remote parts of the Empire. The case of Canada was not similar.

WEDDING BELLS

CHALLICE—GIBSON

An event of more than passing interest took place at the residence of Mr. Robert Gibson, of Carmel, when his second daughter, Kathleen May, was united in marriage to Frederick James Challice, second son of Mr. John Challice, of Cavan, on Wednesday afternoon, the 20th. Miss Mabel Hammil, the organist of the Presbyterian church, Garden Hill, presided at the piano. As the sweet strains of the wedding march floated through the spacious home, the bride entered the drawing room leaning on the arm of her father. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Wm. Challice, and the bride by Miss Lillian Gibson.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Wm. Johnston, Millbrook, after which the many relatives and friends came forward and wished the happy young couple much joy and prosperity through the journey of life. The many beautiful and costly presents showed the esteem in which the bride and groom are held. After the signing of the register all sat down to a sumptuous dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Challice will live in Cavan.

CITY AND VICINITY

EKO CAMP DANCE.

Among the many social functions which usually take place during Easter week, will be the annual dance of Eko Camp on Easter Monday, in the Forester's Hall. This is always one of the pleasant events of the season, and is looked forward to with great interest by a large number of young people.

A HIGH LICENSE.

Accepting the challenge of the premier, and acting along the line possible to them under the law, as pointed out by the Government last year and again this year, the temperance people of Collingwood have taken up the matter of getting the license fee raised to a prohibitive figure. They will ask the council to pass a bylaw making the fee $25,000.

APPOINTMENT MADE.

Among the Knox College students appointed to mission fields in Ontario is Mr. T. A. Symington, who has been appointed to the field in the vicinity of Round Lake district, Belmont. At the last meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery, Rev. A. E. Camp, requested to have a student in that district and his petition has already been complied with.

ASPHODEL MAN'S INJURY.

Ed. Scott, son of the late Paul Scott, of Asphodel, while assisting at a sawing at Mr. Robt. Knox's on Friday last, met with a very painful accident. The machine was fitted with a circular saw and Mr. Scott went to cut up a small hard wood pole when the stick jumped and his hand came in contact with the teeth of the saw, splitting the first finger and thumb and also the tips of the second and third fingers. His injuries were attended to by Dr. Wilson.

LEAVING FOR WEST.

Rev Mr. Reddick, Methodist minister, preached his farewell sermon at Chemong, Wesley and Lakehurst last Sunday. Mr. Reddick will be married on Tuesday to Miss Young of Seagrave, a former teacher of Albert College, Belleville. The young couple will then proceed to Kittamaat, B.C., one of the Grand Trunk Pacific ports, where there are many Indians to whom Mr. Reddick and his wife will carry the gospel

HAD GOOD YEAR.

The annual meeting of the Havelock Electric Light & Power Co. was held in the council chamber at Havelock on Monday when the report for the past year was read to the shareholders. The officers, President Wm. Fairman, Manager Dr. Holdcroft, Secretary A Rose and Directors Geo. Young and Wm Webb, were re-elected by unanimous consent. The receipts of the company have increased exceedingly well during the year and the prospects for the ensuing year are even better.

A LIBERAL OFFERING.

The annual missionary services in connection with the Tweed Methodist circuit were held on Sunday. Rev. J. P. Wilson, B.A., pastor of Bridge street Methodist church, at Belleville, and ex-President of the Bay of Quinte conference, delivered three interesting and impressive sermons. The offering for missions from the Tweed congregation, amounted to nearly $300, while the Lodgeroom congregation subscribed $72. Special music was rendered by the choir at the evening service, Mr G. A. Gregson assisting.

A LARGE DREDGE.

The Lakefield Portland Cement Co.'s huge dredge at Drummond station, Otonabee, has been completed and steam turned on. The dredge will be used for digging out blue clay and placing it on the cars for shipment to the works at Lakefield. The next work to be done is the laying of a railroad siding from the main G.T.R. track to the dredge. This will begin as soon as the frost is out of the ground and will be completed by May 1st. One cut on this siding will involve the removal of at least one thousand cubic yards of gravel and sand.

A GRACIOUS ACT.

In the gracious and thoughtful act of Queen Alexandra in cabling her admiration of the noble, self-sacrificing conduct of Miss Maxwell, the heroine of the Hochelaga school fire, and her deep sympathy with the sorrowing mother and other relatives, we have another sample of that tender, womanly feeling, that goodness and kindness of heart, which have so greatly endeared Her Majesty to the people of the British Empire. Nothing probably could bring more consolation to the mourners of the victims of the terrible tragedy in the sister city than this identification of the Queen with the humblest of her royal husband's subjects in their hour of grief and trial, than the unsolicited tribute from the most exalted lady in the land, to the noble woman and sister, who gave up her life to save the little children entrusted to her care

As Clean as a Whistle.

Any one who has witnessed the manufacture of a rustic whistle can be at no loss for the origin of the saying, "As clean as a whistle." A piece of young ash about four inches long and the thickness of a finger is hammered all over with the handle of a knife until the bark is disengaged from the wood and capable of being drawn off. A notch and a cut or two having been made in the stick, the cuticle is replaced, and the instrument is completed. When stripped of its covering the white wood, with its colorless sap, presents the very acme of cleanness.—London Answers.

Trent Canal Will Cost $4,500,000

To Complete Says Hon. Mr. Emmerson—$3,760,000 Already Spent

Ottawa, March 22.—On motion to go into supply, Hon. Mr. Emmerson rose to make his annual statement of the operations of the department of railways and canals. Taking up first the canals of Canada, Mr. Emmerson stated that from 1897 to 1906, the expenditure upon the canals had reached a total of $23,879,792 82. At Port Colborne, there had been expended over $1,500,000 in addition to the expenditure made by the department of public works. On the Trent Valley Canal, there had been expended in the ten years $3,760,000, including the lift lock at Peterborough.

In reply to Hon. Mr. Haggart, the minister said that the approximate cost of completing the Trent Valley Canal, at an eight-foot level from Lake Simcoe to the Georgian Bay would be about $1,500,000, and from Healey's Falls to Trenton about $3,000,000

Parties who wish to claim and take away their toboggans from the Jackson Park slide of the Street Railway Co can do so during Friday or Saturday, (22nd, and 23rd) up to 8 p. m. each evening. Toboggans left at the slide are at owners' risk.

How Recent Increases in Cost of Building Material Affect This City

All Lines Have Advanced Materially--It Costs Ten Per Cent More Now Than it It Did a Few Weeks Ago--Some Interesting Information About Building Prospects in Peterborough.

While building operations will be unusually active in Peterborough during the present spring and summer, the number of dwelling houses that are going to be erected is not as large as that of last season. This was the statement made to the Review yesterday, by one of the largest local contractors, who has a large amount of work on hand for the building season which is now just opening. While the number of dwelling houses to be erected is not as large as that of last year, building operations will be even more active than in 1906. This is occasioned by the many large public buildings which will be commenced during the coming summer. These include the new armory, new collegiate institute, the normal school, and the new Catholic church, which is to be erected at the corner of Romaine and Aylmer streets. In addition to these, several new business blocks will be built, although no definite information about them is yet forthcoming. At no time in the in the history of Peterborough has so many large public buildings been in course of construction at one time, as will be the case during the coming summer and never before has the erection of new buildings involved such a large expenditure of money. It must not be supposed, however, that no dwelling houses will be erected in Peterborough this summer. Such is far from the case. Many fine new residences will be built, but they will not be as numerous as in 1906. Last year was an exceptional year, as regards the number of private houses erected in Peterborough. It may be several years before such a large number will be erected in one year again.

MATERIAL GOES UP.

The Review's informant further stated that to put up a building of almost any kind at the present time would cost from ten to fifteen per cent. more than it would have last year. The price of all kinds of building material has gone up while higher wages are demanded and are being paid to all classes of labor.

For instance, the minimum scale for carpenters this year, is 27 1-2 cents per hour; last year it was 25 cents. This is only the minimum. In the majority of cases, more money than this has to be paid. The stone masons, brick layers, hod carriers, and all classes of labor required in the construction trades are demanding higher wages and so keen is the competition for men that the contractor has to pay the money asked or go begging for the laborers he requires. The fact that so much building is going on in the city during the summer, will not have a tendency to improve matters from a contractor's point of view. There will be work for everybody who wants it and the laboring man will be more independent than ever, and can pretty nearly dictate as to what wages he shall be paid.

ALL LINES AFFECTED.

During the past two months the price of all lines of building material has gone up. Lumber has increased in cost $2 to $3 per thousand, laths, doors, window frames and sashes, nails, hinges, locks, etc., have all gone up in price. It will even cost more to paint a house, this year than in 1906, as it costs more to purchase white lead, owing to an advance in the market for this article. On the whole, a house or other building will cost from ten to fifteen per cent. more this year than last.

A CASE IN POINT.

Just to emphasize this point, it may be pointed out that when the board of education asked for tenders for the erection of a six-room addition to the north ward school about two months ago, MacIntyre Bros. submitted a tender for the work, the figure for which it is stated was $18,000. For various reasons, the board were not in a position to award the contract until a few days ago, and when they decided to do so, they found that the tenderers would not allow their tenders to stand, owing to the advances that had taken place in the price of building material, and in the wages for carpenters and other classes of workers. MacIntyre Bros.' tender was the lowest and they offered to go ahead with the work, if the board would make an advance of ten per cent. on the price of their tender. This the board refused to do and new tenders are advertised for as a result. It is said that the new tenders will run from $19,000 to $20,000 or perhaps, even above the outside figures. The tendency of the day seems to be towards higher prices and the contractors will have to protect themselves against advances that may take place during the time the work is under construction.

PLANS BEING PREPARED.

It is expected that work on the new Catholic church in the south end will be commenced during the next few days. Architect John Belcher is now at work on the plans and it is the intention to have everything in readiness for the commencement of work, as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

The Dominion Engineering and Construction Company of Montreal, has resumed work on the new transformer building of the Canadian General Electric Company and expect to have it completed in about two months.

Mr. Frank Mason will erect a new dwelling house on McDonnel street. The contract for this work, has already been let.

Building Permit By-law Again

Ald. McIntyre's Proposed By-law Not Acceptable—Must be Re-drafted

The property committee has been requested by the committee of the whole council to reconsider the building permit bylaw. The committee were supposed to have gone into it thoroughly several weeks ago. But when the bylaw came up in the council for discussion the chairman of the property committee and the members of committee had nothing to say about it. They could give the aldermen no information and finally one member stated that the said bylaw had been rushed through the committee without discussion.

The idea of the bylaw is an excellent one and probably the council will not have another measure this year, so generally popular with the people. But the bylaw the property committee had prepared and submitted to the council is not worth the paper it is written on. The real purpose of the scheme has been lost. For what reason, no one knows and the chairman offered no explanation. That is why it was sent back to his committee to be considered and fixed up.

When the matter of issuing building permits first came up, it was a wide measure and, if carried out, would make a great difference in the appearance of the city, which would be most creditable. It would also enable the city officials to state almost to a dollar, what the building and improvements in the city amounted to for the year, six months, or any time desired. It would also be of valuable assistance to the assessors or assessment commission. But the first and last ideas have been dropped out of the bylaw.

The original intention, which was so favorably received, was to divide the city into three zones. The present fire limits was to constitute one zone, a second zone was to cover a little larger area outside of that and the third zone would be outside of that again. In the first zone the buildings were to be of a certain class, walls a certain thickness, etc. In the second zone the walls were to be solid brick, nine inches thick, or possibly the very best class of veneer structures. In the outside zone the ordinary veneer, clap board, or rough cast houses might be erected.

Everyone recognized the benefit of such an arrangement. It would mean the city would, in time, be well built, and there would be no danger of one property damaging the value of another. For instance, if a man erects a house worth $5,000 on a certain piece of land another man may under the provisions of the bylaw the property committee tried to put through, put up one worth $500 or $1,000, or even less. Under the original idea that could not be done. All buildings in certain sections would be of the same class and the appearance of the city and the value of real estate would be greatly increased.

Then the system the property committee's bylaw proposed for securing a permit is very weak. All that is necessary to secure a permit is to furnish the city clerk with a statement of the estimated cost and the dimensions of the building. There is no provision for the locality of the building, the kind of walls, the kind of chimney, how the work is to be done, nor is there any clause calling for a plan of said building to be filed. These are very essential features. Unless the assessors, or even the city officials or private citizens, know where a building was erected, or the class to which it belonged, the city would be better if the bylaw was not passed at all.

Ald. McIntyre's bylaw would would permit this city to be built up like some of the other older cities Ottawa is a good sample. Nearly every alderman who went around the Capital in the day-time remarked on the irregularity of the buildings. Good houses and miserable little shacks are all mixed together in some parts of that city. Such a condition of affairs is not desirable there.

POTATOES AND EGGS CHEAPER

Were Both Plentiful on To-day's Market

The feature of today's market was a drop in the price of potatoes. Good tubers could be had for 85c. per bag whereas last week they could not be purchased at less than 90c. to $1.00 per bag. There was a fair supply on hand today and one of those who had a load of potatoes for sale, informed a Review representative that there would be no scarcity of potatoes this spring, as the majority of farmers have some for sale in addition to a supply for their own use.

Eggs too, were down a little today. Eighteen cents was the ruling figure, although a few sales were made at 19c. per dozen. Butter changed hands at 24c to 26c per pound There was plenty on hand for everybody and it is likely that prices will commence to come down in a few days.

Poultry was scarce and was in fair demand. Chickens sold at 60c to 80c per pair and turkeys sold at $1.50 to $2.00 each.

Pork and beef were unchanged in price The former sold at 10c and 11c per pound and the latter at 5 1-2c and 6 1-2c.

Hay was quoted at $14 and $15 per ton. Only a few loads were offered for sale.

AMUSEMENTS

A GRAND CONCERT.

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, managers of the Grand opera house, are endeavoring to secure a return engagement early in April of Mrs. Le Grand Reed, who appeared here early in February, on the occasion of the visit of the Pittsburg orchestra. Mrs. Reed is one of the foremost singers of the day, and was heard to great advantage when she appeared here. No doubt there are a great many people in this city who would like to hear here again, and will appreciate the efforts of Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, to secure here. She will be assisted by a number of artists, in the persons of Mr. Kelley Cole, tenor, New York; Mr. Carl Grien Auer, cellist, and Mrs. Edith Cave Cole, pianiste.

In order that the management of the opera house may ascertain whether it will be advisable to secure this engagement, a guarantee list will be circulated on Monday morning.

Nassau Family Had Close Call

The residence of Mr. J. H. Deslealie of the C.G.E. Company's power house at Nassau, was destroyed by fire one night this week. The members of the family were awakened in their sleep and had a close call, escaping in their night clothes. Very few of the household effects were saved. The dwelling was completely destroyed. The fire is supposed to have started from a defective chimney. The house belonged to the C.G.E Company. Mr. Deslealie had a small insurance on his household effects, but not enough to cover his loss.

AN EVIDENCE OF KINDLY SPIRIT

Rev. Canon Davidson Thanked St. Luke's for its Co-operative Efforts

Rev. Canon Davidson conducted the regular weekly Friday evening Lenten service in St. Luke's church last evening. In addressing the congregation Canon Davidson took occasion to preface his remarks with a few words of greeting. He referred to the hearty spirit and co-operation which had been evidenced by the rector and people of St. Luke's in connection with the special Lenten services. This was much appreciated by the congregation of St. John's church. It was certainly an inspiration to see such unity on the part of two churches, in one communion, and it would doubtless be productive of much good. The union of effort on the part of St. Luke's with St. John's was warmly reciprocated, especially during the Lenten season.

New Grocery Business to Start In Peterborough on April 13th

Mr. A. W. Lockhart Has Secured a Lease of Messrs Porter Bros.' Upper Store—Has Been With Mr. Dutton for Past Two and a Half Years.

Mr. A. W. Lockhart, who has had charge of Mr. R. A. Dutton's grocery department for the past two and a half years, makes the announcement that he will enter the commercial world for himself. He has secured the lease of Messrs. Porter Bros. upper store on George street and he will open up a full line of groceries and provisions, and in future he will be pleased to meet the public at that stand. He will leave Mr. Dutton on the ninth of April, and will open his own store on the 13th.

Mr. Lockhart is a first-class grocer, and has a very large business connection in the city. For eight years, before going with Mr. Dutton he was with E. F. Mason & Co. He understands the business, and there is no reason why he should not make a success of it.

Lost Post Office Order for $75, Did Mr. Dan Whetung

Mr Dan Whetung, postmaster at the Chemong Indian village, has had a somewhat anxious time during the past few weeks. He had a vision of himself being $75 out of pocket without any return for the money gone and nobody likes to be the principal in a deal of that kind.

A short time ago the school teacher at Chemong received a post office money order for $75. He endorsed it and Mr. Whetung gave him his $75 and took possession of the money order. So far everything had been lovely, but the trouble started when Mr. Whetung lost the money order and for a time he was afraid that he was going to be out $75. It is understood that he placed the matter in the hands of a local legal gentleman who communicated with the government officials at Ottawa and explained the case to them, with the result that Mr. Whetung will be recouped for his loss. The government is very strict in matters of this kind, however, and bonds have to be furnished that the amount will be returned to the government if the missing money order turns up.

Mr. Whetung's many friends will be glad to hear that he is not going to lose anything. It is understood that the genial postmaster declares that he will in future wear a stronger elastic band around his pocketbook.

Parties who wish to claim and take away their toboggans from the Jackson Park slide of the Street Railway Co. can do so during Friday or Saturday, (22nd, and 23rd) up to 8 p.m. each evening Toboggans left at the slide or at owners' risk.

EVENTS TO-NIGHT

Grand Opera House — "My Wife's Family."

SATURDAY BIBLE CLUB.

This club at the Y.M.C.A. will have a most interesting session this evening. A social hour will be spent after the study. All members are cordially invited.

TAKE IT TO "MY VALET."

If you have a spring suit you would like to have cleaned, ready to put on when the weather permits "My Valet" will clean it properly, press it and send it home. Both phones. Wesley Bros. 204 Charlotte-st.

AT ST. ANDREWS.

At St. Andrew's church tomorrow the pastor, Rev. J. G. Potter, will preach at both services. The morning subject will be "Christianity Illustrated," and the evening, "The Greatest Imperialism." Song service at the evening hour.

AFTER THE DISTURBERS.

Mr. W. F. Kerr, of Cobourg, county crown attorney, has written to a Warkworth citizen, asking for the names of those who took part in the recent charivari at the edge of that village. If Mr. Kerr secures the necessary names, there will be another "little time" in the old town.—Cobourg Sentinel-Star.

NEW SAFE ARRIVES.

A large burglar-proof safe, manufactured by the Goldie, McCulloch Co., of Galt, was delivered to one of the city banks this morning. It is covered with asbestos and is one of the latest and most up-to-date safes manufactured. The safe will be placed in the bank's vault. The operation of unloading this large, heavy article, attracted a good deal of attention this morning.

PALM SUNDAY.

Tomorrow being Palm Sunday, His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, will bless the palms at 10.30 o'clock mass. Palms will be distributed at the Cathedral door, before the service.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

The regular meeting of the finance committee will be held on Thursday night.

ALL COMMITTEES.

All the committees will meet next week for the purpose of preparing their reports for the regular council meeting.

BUILDING PERMITS.

The property committee will probably meet Monday night to take up the building permit bylaw and get it into such shape as the council will either pass it or turn it down.

CHARITY BOARD.

The regular meeting of the charity board will be held in the clerk's office on Monday night. The board has had a strenuous time all winter, but now that the spring—has opened up, the work is falling off.

"THE RACE—HOW TO WIN."

This will be the subject at the evangelistic meeting for men at the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday at four o'clock. The speaker will be Rev. A. H. Brace. There will be special music by the male choir. A hearty invitation is extended to all men to attend.

NEW HOUSES.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

The Board of Health will meet on Monday morning at nine o'clock, when Sanitary Inspector Ball will make another report. The inspector has been busy on several matters but he says that the reports are far worse than the facts. He has found very few cases worth mentioning and practically none that were bad. The Board of Health chairman will no doubt be very pleased to learn of this fact.

AAN EARLY CALL.

At three o'clock this morning, Street Commissioner Harry Evans was called out of bed on account of a blockade of ice at the McDonnel street bridge. During the night the ice came down the creek in great cakes and lodged just west of the bridge and the water started backing up and flooded some property. The commissioner however, put three charges of dynamite into the blockade and by seven o'clock, everything was running smoothly again.

CAN THIS BE TRUE?

At a prayer meeting in a certain city church this week, the subject of the Sunday school lesson for tomorrow was studied. The topic is "Temperance" and the lesson is from the 28th chapter of Isaiah. In the discussion it was stated by one business man that there should be temperance in all things. He said that he had heard it remarked that certain Peterborough ladies smoked cigarettes. Can this be true? So far as can be learned it is not, although the custom is said to prevail to a certain extent among the fair sex of Kingston. But, then, Kingston is vastly different from Peterborough.

Said Farewell to Popular Young Man

Mr. Percy Johnston of North Monaghan Leaving for Regina

Mr. Percy Johnston, son of Mrs. Matthew Johnston, who resides in North Monaghan, about two miles out of the city, will leave on Tuesday next for Regina, Sask., where he will locate.

Last night about thirty-five of his friends assembled at his mother's residence, to bid him goodbye. A very pleasant evening was spent in dancing and other amusements. A bus load of young people drove out from the city and took part in the festivities.

Mr. Johnston is a popular young man, whose many friends will join in wishing him every success in the West.

Butter Factory Was Established

Kawartha Butter Co., of Bobcaygeon, to Start Operations on April 1st.

Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie returned this morning from Bobcaygeon where he had been for several days installing a plant for a new butter factory. The new firm is a co-operative association, and has rented the cheese factory building. It will be known as the Kawartha Butter Company, and will start operations the first day of April. The capacity of the plant is about one ton of butter a day, although it is not expected that this quantity will be made the first year or two. The butter factory will run during April and May, and will then close down, and cheese will be made during the summer months. Then next fall, butter will be made again, and will be in charge of Mr. Jos. Kelso.

NO COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

On Monday Night—Holidays in Sight for the Aldermen

There will be no meeting of the city council or the committee of the whole on Monday night. This is the second time this has happened this year and if the aldermen continue to be so negligent the ratepayers will certainly stop their salaries. In speaking of so extraordinary a condition of affairs this morning His Worship stated that the council had caught up with its work, so that after the next regular meeting the council could look for a holiday. This may look alright on paper, but the poor aldermen will not know what to do with themselves on Monday night and worst of all they will have no excuse for getting down town in the evening. His Worship will have to get busy and collect some more matters to take up in committee of the whole.

THE AARON COX HOMESTEAD is being sold by the Executors of the Estate. This is a splendid property—a whole block, having on it one of the finest double houses in the city, with good stables, etc. It is in the finest residential part of the city, and has a large frontage on Rubidge street available for new houses.

MASS MEETING AT OPERA HOUSE

Everything Arranged for the Big Gathering To-morrow

A mass meeting will be held in the Grand opera house tomorrow, Sunday, March 24, at four o'clock p m.

The meeting is arranged by the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. There will be an orchestra-choir of sixty voices.

The speakers will be Mr. Jos. P. Cleal of Chicago and Toronto, Rev. Canon Davidson, and Rev. Wm. Major. Rev. E. A. Langfeldt will be the chairman. Everybody is invited. A collection to defray expenses will be taken up.

Fire Water and Light Meeting

Two Important Matters to Come up for Consideration

The fire, water and light committee will hold a very important meeting on Tuesday night. Two matters especially will be taken up, viz., the completion of the rules and regulations governing the new fire hall and the appointment of a foreman for the new hall, who will also have full charge of the new alarm system. This man will have to be an electrician and understand both outside and inside wiring. He may also be expected to look after the street and house wiring of the various electric companies in the city. While in Ottawa this week and in Toronto some time ago, the fire, water and light committee gathered a lot of information which will be valuable in completing the new rules and for getting the department properly started in the new hall.

Zutoo

Regarding your Zutoo Tablets I beg to say: I have been a sufferer from headache since childhood and have used all, or nearly all, of the so-called "cures" on the market, till warned by my physician to discontinue their use on account of their bad effects on the heart. Some months since my attention was called to your Zutoo Tablets and I have been using them ever since with the most gratifying results. I find they cure a "sick" or "nervous" headache in a few minutes and leave no bad effect. My family use them whenever needed with equally good results. I have frequently given them to friends who were suffering from headache and they never fail to give quick relief. I find them a good remedy for "sour" stomach as well as headache. I always carry them in my grip on the road and would not be without them at any cost.

SOLD LIQUOR AFTER HOURS

East Riding Hotelman Fined $50 in County Police Court

Hotelkeepers in the east riding of Peterborough county who sell liquor after hours are apt to find their profits cut down. One of them came up before His Worship County Magistrate Edmison this morning, charged with selling liquor after the hours prescribed by law and was fined $50 and costs amounting in all to $55. No evidence was taken as the defendant pleaded guilty and the magistrate imposed the minimum fine of $50. The prosecution had four witnesses on hand ready to proceed with the case, but when the hotelman pleaded guilty, it was not necessary to take any evidence. A fine of $50 is the minimum penalty for an offence of this kind.

Two Transfers in Real Estate

Property is Changing Hands at a Good Figure

The three-house brick terrace and the frame warehouse, formerly occupied by T. Kinnear & Co., have been sold to Mr. A. Low. The property belonged to Mr. T. H. G. Denne, and is located at the corner of Simcoe and Bethune streets. It is understood that Mr. Low, paid about $8,000 for the terrace and warehouse.

A three-house brick terrace on Dalhousie street belonging to Mr. John Carlisle was sold yesterday to Mr. Wm. Little. The price was between $3,000 and $4,000.

The foregoing transfers were effected through Messrs. A. Brown & Co., the well-known real estate dealers.

R. A. Morrow Carried Accident and Disability Policy—Sick 26 Weeks.

Mr. R. A. Morrow, jr., has received a cheque through Mr. G. B. Stevenson for $650, from the Fidelity & Casualty Company, the accident and disability insurance people. Last August Mr. Morrow took out a $10,000 double indemnity policy with the Fidelity and Casualty Co. He paid the first premium of $60 and some time later took sick. He was unable to attend to his duties for 26 weeks and during all this time the company paid him $25 a week. Mr. Morrow wishes to express his sincere thanks for the company's prompt settlement of the claim. He is naturally delighted that he had the policy and he would not be without one now. His father, who has been dealing more or less with insurance companies all his life, says he never knew of a settlement made more promptly. Mr. G. B. Stevenson is the district agent and Mr. Geo. E. Auto Bus Will Begin Trips Very Early to Chemong Park

Cottagers Are Desirous of Occupying Summer Homes in June—The Association Will Take Steps to Prevent Illegal Fishing in the Lake—Summer School at the Park.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Chemong Park Cottagers' Association was held last evening in the Bank of Montreal chambers. A large number of the cottagers were present, and the prospects for the coming season were interestingly discussed.

The president, Mr. Alex. Elliott was in the chair. The first question that came before the meeting was the subject of transportation. The auto car, which ran between Peterborough and Chemong Park last year, will again be run this coming season. A much better service will be given, and the farmers who drive along the Chemong road, need have no fear, as this year the car will be under the control of a capable chauffeur. Mr. Ed. Hanna, who has had considerable experience, will be chauffeur this year.

A number of cottagers are desirous of being out at their cottages by the first of June, but in previous years the bus did not begin its regular trips, until the 15th of June, the same date as th steamers of the Trent Valley Navigation Company.

Mr. I. Eastwood, who looks after the interests of the auto bus was present, and stated that, if there was a sufficient number of passengers to guarantee the running of the car, they would run it the first of June. To those cottagers who have children attending the city schools they would give children a special rate of 15c a trip, or eight tickets for a dollar. It is likely that the majority of cottagers will move out by the first of June.

ILLEGAL FISHING.

The Cottagers' Association also intend to take steps against the illicit fishing in Chemong Lake. It is reported that a lot of unlawful angling in the lake has been going on and the association will affiliate with grounds up generally.

SUMMER REGATTA.

A committee was appointed for the purpose of looking after the regatta, which will likely be held the the government officials and have someone watching, and prosecute all those who break the laws.

An appropriation was made by the association for trimming the trees in the park, and fixing the first week in August. The committee consists of Messrs. A. A. Hollingshead, Milne Hamilton, Howard Hopwood, Mr. Merrett and Mr. Walter B. Davidson.

MR. ALEX ELLIOTT
President of Chemong Cottagers' Association.

SUMMER SCHOOL.

The summer school of the Methodist Sunday schools and Epworth Leagues will be held in Chemong in July this year, and it will likely mean that about two hundred people will be at Chemong for ten days.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Chemong Park Association will be held at the yacht club at the park, the first Saturday in July.

CITY ENGINEER'S REPORT READY

To be Presented to Board of Works on Wednesday Night

It is expected that the city engineer will have his annual report ready to present to the board of works on Wednesday night. This report is a big affair and represents an immense amount of labor. Not only will it show the exact amount of work accomplished by the board of works last year, but it will place before the board the work which must be done this year. Mr. Hay has spent a great many hours at night on this report besides attending to all his duties in the day time, and the council will be surprised when they see it.

It is also expected that Ald. Duncan, chairman of the board of works will have his plan of campaign for the season of 1907, ready and place it before the committee for consideration. It is understood that Ald. Duncan will follow pretty much the idea adopted last year, viz., lay out all the work in sight at the present time, and then get things in such shape that on the first day of May the department can start to work and carry it right through without interruption. While the scheme is a perfectly sound one, and the most successful way of conducting the business, the chairman fully realizes he will have no snap himself. He has already had his equilibrium disturbed, and the work has not started, so that the prospects for Ald. Duncan getting up early in the morning and staying up late at night, during the summer months, are very bright.

Found Dead From Gas.

Toronto, March 23.—John Mackenzie, aged 26 years, was found dead from gas on the floor of his bedroom by his wife yesterday morning. Mackenzie came home in an intoxicated condition and his wife, fearing his violent temper, took her two children to her sister, in Weston, where she spent the night. She returned to her home in the morning. In order to get in she was compelled to crawl through a window. The house was full of gas, and investigation revealed Mackenzie lying face downwards in a corner. He had evidently risen from bed to turn off the gas, and had lost his balance, dragging the fixture down with him.

Much Ore Being Taken Out at Star of the East Mine

Mr. R. J. Munro Has Returned From a Trip to Barrie Township—Ore Being Mined is Exceptionally Promising—Expert Will be in Charge of the Milling.

Mr. R. J. Munro has returned from a trip to Barrie township, where he spent some time at the mine of the Star of the East Mining Company, in which he is interested. Mr. Munro states that everything is going ahead satisfactorily at the mine and that the outlook for a good supply of the yellow metal was never brighter. About fifteen men are employed steadily at the mine and have been working all winter. The shaft is about 220 feet deep with numerous tunnels branching off and extending far into the earth. The workmen have devoted all their attention to getting out ore. No milling has been done, the object being to get out as much ore as possible and then commence milling it when the weather becomes warmer. Between 350 and 400 tons of ore have already been taken out and it is expected that about 600 tons will have been taken out before milling is commenced. Milling can be done much more readily during the spring and summer season than in the winter. Mr. Munro states that the ore which is being taken out is exceptionally rich and should yield well when put through the mill. It is of better quality than the ore mined in previous years, and should return a large percentage of gold.

When the milling of the ore is commenced an expert will be put in charge of the work in order that the best results may be obtained. No expense will be spared to see that this work is well done. On the whole Mr. Munro was well pleased with the way everything was being carried on and is satisfied that the Star of the East Mine is a good proposition.

Whitcroft Played Dashing Hockey

Winnipeg Press Refers to the Former Peterborough Man

The Winnipeg papers to hand today, contain lengthy reports of the second match between Kenora and Brandon, in which Fred. Whitcroft played a sensational game. Regarding the former Peterborough player's work, the Free Press says:

"Whitcroft of the Kenora team, put up a dashing article of hockey, easily the best he has shown since he came west. This was possibly due to the fact that more attention was shown to the wing men than to the ex-Peterborough player. He shot three of the four goals, a feature of his play being a commendable readiness to bore in on the nets. Tom Phillips was closely marked, and did not show his usual scoring ability, but it was evident that he was endeavoring to promote more combination play on the line, and paying less attention to individual effort. Alf. Smith played a dashing game on right wing, while Westwick was most useful at rover. The defence of the winners was steady at all times, Eddie Giroux doing exceptional work in goal.

The Telegram says: Whitcroft was going some on the Thistle forward line, his work being the best of any of the forwards. He helped out the defence a lot, besides scoring three of the Thistle's goals......Fred Whitcroft was the hardest worker on the Thistle forward line. He was consistent in both going down and coming back, which was more than could be said of the others.

FAMINE RELIEF WORK.

Premier Stolypin Admits Government Has Made Mistakes.

St. Petersburg, March 23.—After a long debate yesterday in the Douma on the formation of a "Famine Relief Commission," in which the Social Democrats and other Radicals fought the Centre party, who defended constitutional control of the commission, as proposed by M. Roditcheff, Constitutional Democrat, Premier Stolypin announced that the Government fully joined in the proposition made by M. Roditcheff, and would give its full assistance to the work of the commission. M. Stolypin's speech was delivered in a conciliatory manner. He admitted the Government had made many mistakes in the famine relief work.

The Premier's announcement of the Government's agreement with the Constitutional Democrats was the first approval by the Government of the policy of that party.

FOR PENNY POSTAGE.

Australian Government Open For Reciprocal Arrangements.

Melbourne, Australia, March 23.—The Federal Government has decided to introduce a bill during the next session of Parliament establishing a two-cent rate of postage on letters not only throughout Australia, but with all parts of the British Empire and all foreign countries that will deliver two-cent letters from Australia.

Bridge Swept Away.

Southampton, March 23.—Denny's bridge, on the Saugeen River, two miles east of here, was carried away by the ice at noon yesterday. The river is now jammed full of ice for a mile up from the mouth, and fears are entertained for the safety of the Victoria street bridge.

The Saugeen Electric Light Company's plant, which supplies light for Southampton and Port Elgin, was also damaged, and last night both towns were in darkness owing to the high water.

Train Struck Street Car.

BOY'S HEAD CUT OFF.

Four Year Old Lad Run Over By Street Car.

Toronto, March 23.—Ronald Young, the 4-year-old son of Albert Young, was run over and killed by a southbound Dovercourt car in charge of Motorman William Hurst, yesterday afternoon.

The baby's head was severed from its body and the right arm was crushed.

Little Ronald was playing on the sidewalk in front of his home. He wandered down the street and made for the tracks.

The people on the corner did everything to attract Hurst's attention, but to no avail. The car came on and, as Hurst applied the brakes, 60 yards below where the child was struck, the car threw the baby off the fender under the wheels.

A Proven Cure For Indigestion

A healthy stomach does two things.

1st—gives up enough gastric juice to digest food—and —2nd—churns food, by means of its muscular action, until digestive juice and food are thoroughly mixed.

An unhealthy stomach is either too weak to properly churn the food or it does not give up enough gastric juice to make digestion complete.

Then you have Indigestion—Heartburn—Distress after Eating—Sour Stomach—Headaches—and finally chronic Dyspepsia.

"Fruit-a-tives" cure Indigestion and Dyspepsia because they give you a healthy stomach.

"Fruit-a-tives" actually strengthen the muscles of the stomach—increase the power of the churning movement—and also enable the stomach to excrete sufficient gastric juice to completely digest every meal.

Thousands have been cured of Indigestion and Dyspepsia by "Fruit-a-tives" alone.

"Fruit-a-tives" also cure the Constipation and Biliousness with which so many Dyspeptics suffer.

"Fruit-a-tives" are intensified fruit juices, combined with tonics and antiseptics—and are an infallible cure for all Stomach Troubles. Try them. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50. At all dealers or from

UNION LABEL

A TIMELY WARNING

The attention of Sanitary Inspector Ball has been called to the unsanitary condition of a number of back yards, and as soon as the snow disappears he will insist that these places are given a thorough cleansing.

It is the duty of the city and of every individual citizen to guard against disease and one of the most effective means of doing this is to maintain a condition, approaching as near as possible to perfect cleanliness. Disease germs may lurk in millions in the very places in which their presence is least suspected.

At this season a thorough inspection should be made of all open closets in the city, and the owners should be required to thoroughly cleanse and disinfect such places. The practice of depositing refuse in certain localities within the city limits and permitting it to accumulate, and the custom of filling up pits, etc., with the same material is a sure means of breeding disease, not only in the places in which the refuse is deposited, but also on the thoroughfares along which the stuff is carted to its destination. Clean up, by all means, clean up.

A FRANK DECLARATION

The Toronto Electric Light Company is anxious to increase its capital to the extent of $1,000,000. The Queen City Council is urging that delay be granted pending the decision of the legislature with respect to the city's bill to expropriate the plant. Mr. Whitney, in addressing the joint deputation from the city and company this week, did not give any vague promises or "serious consideration" reply. His answer was frank and fearless—the same spirit being manifested as characterizes all his public utterances. Mr. Whitney speaks to the point with clearness and decision, his remarks are sturdy and manly. Talleyrand, the great French diplomatist, once remarked that language was given us to conceal thought. Alas! how many politicians and public men seek to live up to this definition and in equivocal, plausible, terms try to court support and win applause from opposing interests—to please all and give offence to none. Mr. Whitney, in addressing the large delegation on electric matters was candid and outspoken. He said:

"We are told that we are doing all sorts of things with regard to the money market and the rights of the investors. We are told, too, of the feeling in Britain as to our attitude towards the rights of investors. We have the Globe telling us on the 13th instant that 'There is reason to believe that the revolutionary element in the Whitney Government is gaining the upper hand, and that Mr. Beck is fighting for his cheap power project with his back to the wall.' What are we to believe, the statement made here today, or this highly honorable, chivalrous statement with regard to the government and a member thereof?

"He (Mr. Beck) is fighting with his back to the wall, and alongside of him, with their backs to the wall, is every other member of this government. That is the truth and it is well that it should be thoroughly understood.

"When we were being criticized with regard to what our action would be we took steps to prevent anything but a fair construction being placed upon the acts. That has gone to Great Britain; taken there at my request by persons acting for me. I have been in communication with the leaders of finance in Great Britain, and they do not believe that any vested right will be affected injuriously by any action this government may take. Whatever temporary effect there may have been by legislation of ours is another matter. We are conscious that we will never do any act, which will do an injury to any company, without justification."

A JUST REBUKE

When the Boer war was being waged in South Africa there were many criticisms offered as to the movements, tactics and organization of the British Army in Transvaal and Orange Free State. These critics could have ended hostilities in a week or two if only their advice had been followed and their suggestions adopted. The "arm chair" censors flourished and grew purple with indignation because the War Office did not see fit to pay any attention to their screeds. In much the same spirit editorials frequently appear in the American papers doling out paragraphs as to how Canada should be governed, how her internal affairs should be arranged, her tariff regulated, and her public undertakings managed. These articles are generally more or less patronising and condescending in tone. It would be a good plan for certain newspapers to mind their own business and seek to cure social, moral and industrial ills at home. Then too, a vast amount of ignorance is displayed in these meddlesome editorials. It is refreshing, therefore, to find that one man has the courage to speak out through the columns of the New York Times and perhaps the pointers contained therein may make some of the critics hesitate and think. Mr. John Young, who resides in New York City, says;

"If the Canadians are a 'fine people and good neighbors now,' why not leave good enough alone?

"Suppose the editor of an English journal used his influence in trying to bring about the disruption of the American Republic as you seem to use yours to cause Canada to break away from the British Empire, would you not cry him down as an unfriendly Briton?

"Canada, as a part of the British Empire, is as free as New England considered as a part of the American Republic. The Lady of the Snows has the right and power to regulate her own commercial laws. Your Congress does not give New England the power to regulate hers.

"As for Canada's new Sunday law—well, this law will not make our good neighbors bad ones. Canadians have learned a lesson from their big neighbor. They see that a people whose character is not moulded by religion will sooner or later become morally incapable of conducting great enterprises, and you know this is Canada's century."

CABINET OF OLIGARCHS

(Winnipeg Telegram.)

Nearly three months ago, the Canadian people were cordially requested to raise their voices in glorification of the minister of finance and his newly introduced "scientific" tariff. It seems after a lapse of ninety days or so, that the tariff is so highly scientific and complicated as to baffle the understanding of Hon. W. S. Fielding and doubtless the three other eminent statesmen who paraded up and down the country securing data and handing out to Grit newspaper reporters ready made interviews with a lavish hand. No, the tariff seems to be far from being a finality. The minister of finance has cogitated for three calendar months and has decided that in respect of no less than one hundred and twenty items he was all wrong. So he arises in parliament and requests the house to shove duties up here, pull them down there, wipe them out entirely elsewhere and add a bounty to them in another place. This is high finance; this is scientific tariff making by a gentleman, who, we are told, possesses the ability of Thiers, Gladstone, Pitt, Peel and John D. Rockfeller all rolled into one.

hTe cold truth is that what W. S. Fielding and his compeers most ardently desire is an adjustable tariff, which they can swing around remodel, dilate and diminish just as they please. And their very humane endeavor is to be allowed to do this without let or hindrance from the parliament of Canada. In a word they want to manage the tariff by Star chamber methods; they want to be able to shove on taxes—when it pays them—and to take them off—also when it pays them—exactly as was the fashion in the good old days of Thomas Cromwell, and Wolsey. The latter financiers, it must be stated, were responsible to the king. The Laurier-Fielding clique desire to be responsible only to themselves. Thus by means of their "intermediate" tariff stratagem, they can make a ten per cent. cut in the ordinary tariff, and a twenty-five per cent. inroad on the British preference, whenever to suit their own or their party's needs, they choose so to do. All that is necessary, should a manufacturer become restive, is for the cabinet to announce that it will make a reciprocal arrangement with one of half a dozen countries producing goods like those made by the Canadian. That is all that is needed; parliament, under this beautiful Fielding fiscal system, need not be told a word about the change. The manufacturer will wake up some morning and find his business destroyed—that's all.

Of course, another part of the Fielding scheme is to be able to coerce Canadian manufacturers by threats of setting the big American dog on them. Campaign funds are going to be required more and more at Ottawa, and no matter how profitably boodling operations can be carried on by means of Arctic steals and steals by which the government buys land at an enormous price—a percentage to be returned for party funds—there will be a call from Ottawa for more and more. The intermediate tariff is to be used as a means to get money, not alone from the manufacturers, but from farmers and gardeners and miners and smelters.

VAUDEVILLE IN CHURCHES

A Hamilton preacher once said that if by standing on his head in the pulpit, and by no other means, he could draw a congregation to hear him preach the gospel, he would cheerfully stand on his head in the pulpit. That is the excuse given by the New York minister who, some time ago, had a professional whistler in his church to whistle operatic airs. The novelty of the thing drew a big audience in the church, and that was the minister's justification for the introduction of such a novel feature into the evening perf—that is to say, service.

A judicious admission of vaudeville "turns" into the ordinary religious services might prove successful in drawing the non-churchgoing class to church. The performances of a song-and-dance team, a contortionist or acrobat, a juggler, a black-face monologue artist, interspersed among the hymns and prayers and lessons would certainly relieve the proceedings from the charge of monotony, even if they did not tend to make the minds of the audience receptive to gospel truths from the pulpit.

It may well be doubted if these grosser methods of attracting crowds to the churches will become general in our time. And yet what are they but a logical, if extreme and ridiculous, extension of the notion that the church may legitimately be used as a place of entertainment as well as a house of worship? At a Methodist church in Toronto coffee and cake are served after the Sunday evening service, avowedly for the purpose of attracting young people. What is usually the real purpose of the elaborate music, the ornate ritual, the common aim to make the service "attractive?" Why, to attract, of course. The only difference between the ordinary methods of attraction and those employed by the New York minister and the Toronto church is that the former keep within the bounds of the "sacred," while the latter are purely secular.

But let us not do injustice. All elaborate and ornate church services are not made so in order to draw the non-churchgoing class. In some cases—let us hope in many—church services are made beautiful simply because of the belief that the spirit of worship can be stimulated in the worshippers by beauty of form, sound and color in the service. Art is thus made the handmaid of religion.

That, however, is not the motive which suggests such "attractive" features as whistling solos and coffee and cake and church sensationalism generally. Is not this present day tendency a symptom of religious degeneration? At least is it not a symptom of pulpit degeneration? Why this craving for crowded churches! If the preacher has "fit audience though few" why should he lack the inspiration to deliver his message—if he have one? One of the most effective sermons ever delivered was preached to an audience of one—to a poor woman who went to a well to draw water and found the Preacher there, waiting.—Hamilton Herald.

PEN POINTS

Only eight more days of March in the progress of the year 1907.

Are you planning for your Easter holiday trip?

It is gratifying to learn that the Peterborough market is not on the decline. The fees this year will net $30 more than last year.

Seventy-six suffragists, who made a demonstrative raid on parliament, in London, England, were arrested for brawling and will each spend a month in gaol. Thus will the tongue of these would-be female voters be silenced for thirty days.

Miserable man! No sooner will he get over the spasm of buying his wife a new spring bonnet, than he will have to beat carpets and put up with two or three weeks of spring housecleaning, annoyances, and disturbances. This is indeed a trying world.

Discussing the question of "the two cent a mile" railway fare, the Toronto News says: We believe the time is not far distant when the two cent rate may be an accomplished fact in the older and more thickly populated portions of Ontario. Certainly in Western Ontario the traffic is quite as heavy as in Western New York, where the two cent rates applies, or in the State of Michigan. The railroads are not dealing generously with the people of this province, particularly with those upon branch lines, considering the enormous increase in traffic in the last ten or twenty years.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions made from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenn fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous services of the system. A Farm Paper Run by Farmers

New Company Capitalized at $50,000 Secures Control of Farming World

A new company, capitalized at $50,000, nearly all of which is paid up, has purchased the Farming World. The large majority of the shareholders are practical farmers, among them being several of the leading breeders and agriculturists in Canada. Among those closely identified with the management of the company are the Hon. John Dryden, ex-Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, Mr. Wm. Smith, president of the Ontario Horse Breeders' Association, and Mr. F. W. Hodson, late Live Stock Commissioner for Canada. Mr. J. W. Wheaton will continue to act as managing editor, assisted by a strong staff of editorial writers, among whom are Hon. Mr. Dryden. Mr. C. W. Nash, an old and experienced Farmers' Institute worker, has been secured as a permanent member of the editorial staff.

The Home department is edited by Miss Laura Rose of Guelph, who for many years has been associated with the Women's Institute movement in Ontario.

THE SERVICE

The service at the Gospel Hall tomorrow night will be of special interest. Mr. T. C. Young will preach and Mr. G. W. Mulligan will sing a new song, "I stand all amazed," written by C. H. Gabriel, the author of the famous Glory Song. Mr. Gabriel's new work is said to be fully equal in merit to his previous effort that is being sung all around the world.

The service commences at seven o'clock and all are cordially invited.

Golden Fleece Mine Activity

About five weeks ago a party of American capitalists paid a visit to the Golden Fleece Mine near Flinton, and on leaving took away with them a quantity of ore for assay. Two of the party, Mr. E. R. L. Gould, president of one of the leading banks in New York City, and Mr. Charles Ingram, of Baltimore, returned to the mine last week, accompanied by an expert miner for the purpose of taking out a large quantity of the ore for a more complete test. They completed their work on Monday of last week and for some reason known to themselves only, without waiting for an assay of the ore taken on this trip, they decided to at once close an option on the mine. On Tuesday they went to Napanee accompanied by Mr. John Guinn and Mr. P. A. Wickware, owners of the mine and closed the bargain for 6 months' option for which they paid the sum of $2,000. It is their intention to put in an air compressor plant at once and operate the mine on quite an extensive scale.—Madoc Review.

Mass Meeting in Grand Opera House

Will be Held To-morrow Afternoon at 4 O'clock—Public Invited

Mr. Jos. P. Cleal, who comes to Peterborough this week to address the mass meeting in the opera house on Sunday afternoon is a good speaker, and a very interesting man. Born in the United States, he was educated in England, returning to this side to take up business. He began on the lowest wrung and has worked his way up, until now he is Canadian manager of the huge Dayton firm, the National Cash Register Co. Mr. Cleal is essentially a man's man, and in his addresses he reaches out and touches all classes of men most successfully. All who take in the special service on Sunday at 4 p.m. will be well repaid for their effort. Miss Helen Davies has kindly promised to sing "The Palms" and Mr. George Chandler, of St. John's will sing a selection from "Elijah." The local assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew cordially invite everybody to attend, as the meeting is not for men only.

Nestling in a frame of beautifully wooded shores lies a series of beautiful lakes, one hundred and forty-five miles north of the City of Toronto, Ont., and known as the "Lake of Bays Region." A chain of seven lakes studded with lovely islands, with hotels throughout the district and a good steamboat service to all points, attracts the tourist, angler and sportsman. Just the out-of-the-way sort of place to visit during the summer months. For all particulars and free illustrated publication, apply to J. D. McDonald, Union Station, Toronto, Ont. 2d.

Roller Skating on Good Friday

Ice is Being Removed From Charlotte Street Rink

Peterborough will have roller skating on Good Friday. If the plans under way at present do not miscarry and there seems no reason why everything should not pan out as expected. Yesterday afternoon a gang of five men commenced work, removing the ice from the rink on Charlotte street and will have the floor cleared today. The floor has not been injured by the ice and will be in shape for skating in a couple of days. Some improvements have to be made before the rink can be opened for skating so that it is not expected that everything will be in tip top shape until Friday of next week.

Family Frozen to Death.

Bathurst, N. B., March 23.—On Wednesday afternoon, during a heavy gale, the roof and the upper portion of John Comeau's house was blown down. The family had to leave the house.

Comeau took one child to the nearest house, a quarter of a mile distant, and was returning for the rest of the family when he got lost in the storm.

Reaching the house the following morning, in a very exhausted state, he found his wife and three children in the snow, frozen to death.

Alleged Count Decamps.

Rev. Father Galvin Lectures Before Ladies' Literary Society

An Instructive and Eloquent Address on "King Lear"--An Able Review of Shakespeare's Tragedy--Pleasing Musical Programme Presented.

A musical programme of an exceptionally brilliant character, and a discourse of a decidedly intellectual nature was that presented to the large and appreciative audience at the regular meeting of the Ladies' Literary Society of St. Peter's T.A. S. in the assembly hall last evening.

Rev. Father Galvin was the lecturer of the evening and delighted the audience by his very eloquent and exceedingly interesting discourse on "The Art of Shakespeare, as exemplified in King Lear."

The speaker introduced his subject by first stating the elementary rule for the guidance of speakers, namely, take for granted that the hearers know nothing of the subject under discussion. He also stated the advantages and disadvantages of this rule, and then proposed making use of it in the consideration of the very broad subject which he intended discussing. A general consideration on art then followed, in which the definition of art was clearly given. Art was defined as (a) The result of rational rules about the making of a thing; (b) The expression of the beautiful. The first was shown to be applicable to the mechanical arts, or arts of utility and to embrace the trades which require manual labor and skill; the second to be applicable to the esthetic or fine arts, which call forth the exercise of taste and imagination, and to embrace painting, sculpture, music and poetry. Poetry to which dramas belong is classed as a fine art and is therefore an expression of the beautiful. Shakespeare's plays express the beautiful both intellectually and morally, and are therefore real works of art. As an exemplification of this fact, the lecturer gave a very eloquent discourse of "King Lear," one of Shakespeare's tragedies, showing clearly wherein were exemplified moral and intellectual beauties.

This tragedy was based on a legend of British history in which King Lear, King of Britain, fatigued with the cares of royalty, determined to withdraw from public life and commit the government of his kingdom to his three daughters. The frank sincerity of Cordelia, his youngest daughter, so displeased the infatuated monarch that he resolved to disinherit her and divide her patrimony between her two sisters, Goneril and Regan, who were entrusted with the protection of their deposed father. Cordelia, disinherited and disowned by her father, was espoused by the French King and at once left the presence of her father and sisters. The two daughters no sooner found themselves free from parental control, than they subjected the king to a diminution of his retinue, and by their cruelty and ingratitude, drove him to an adjacent heath, where he was met by Edgar in the disguise of a lunatic, assumed in order to elude the indignation of his father, the Earl of Gloucester, whose credulity had been imposed on by the villanous suggestion of Edmund, his natural son.

The mental powers of Lear were overwhelmed by his great sufferings and his mind became unbalanced. In his extremity he was secretly relieved by Gloucester. The treacherous Edmund informed Goneril and Regan of Gloucester's kindness towards their father, and as a punishment for this his eyes were torn out by Regan's husband. Shortly after this he is met and recognized by his disowned son, Edgar, who, unknown to his father, takes him under his protection.

Cordelia, hearing of the sad plight in which her father was, induced her husband and the French King to send a large army to his relief. Owing to the tender assiduities of Cordelia and the skilful treatment received from the doctor in her service, Lear's intellect was partially restored.

A general engagement between Cordelia's troops and the English forces soon after ensued, in which Lear and Cordelia sustained a total defeat, and were committed to prison, where orders were received to hang Cordelia. Regan was poisoned by her sister Goneril, who afterwards stabbed herself in despair. Edmund was killed in a combat with his wronged brother, Edgar, and Lear died of a broken heart. Thus ended one of Shakespeare's most heart-rending tragedies.

The moral beauties, which the speaker showed clearly to be exemplified throughout this tragedy, were that filial ingratitude is punished even in this world, and that guilty consciences are never at rest, also the great moral truths enunciated throughout. Shakespeare so presented the evil characters in the play as to render their vices odious, and the good characters in such a way as to elicit sympathy. The intellectual beauties exemplified were those of arrangement and expression, as, for example, the easy and connected flow of the dialogue, the forcible terms, the manner of presenting the story, the appropriate figures and the delineation of characters.

This able discourse was characterized by its lucidity of style and conveyed to the audience most accurately the minute details of this tragedy, which is deservedly celebrated among Shakespeare's dramas as a work of art.

The musical part of the programme, which preceded the lecture, was especially bright and attractive; those taking part acquitting themselves in a most creditable manner. The various renditions demonstrated remarkable ability on the part of the performers.

Indians Selling One of the Islands in Rice Lake

It is understood that negotiations are under way for the sale of one of the islands in Rice Lake belonging to the Indian reservation, to an American gentleman, who desires to secure the property for a summer home. A meeting of representatives from the three branches of the tribe, those at Hiawatha, Chemong and Scugog, was held a few days ago, when the sale of the island was discussed and a satisfactory agreement arrived at regarding the matter. A local legal firm is now arranging the details of the sale, which will be completed in a few days. It is understood that the Indians are receiving a handsome price for the island, which is one of the prettiest in Rice Lake. The gentleman who is purchasing it, will erect a large summer home, and make it an ideal place for spending the hot summer days and for enjoying the cool breezes of the lake, the excellent fishing and the many other delights of that region.

It is a peculiar fact that before a sale of any of the land at the three reservations can be made, the three bands have all to be consulted. In the sale of property one band cannot act independently of the other. Of course the government has to ratify any sale of land in connection with the reservations.

Kaladar Citizen Ended His Life

Shot Himself Through Head With Winchester Rifle

Wm. T. Berry, who lived with his wife and son about a mile from Kaladar station, committed suicide last week by shooting. For some days he had been threatening to take his own life, but his threats were not taken seriously. After dinner, during which meal Berry showed no signs of mental aberration, the son left to visit his sister, who lives near, and on his not returning, the father sent his wife to bring him home.

When Mrs. Berry returned Berry was missing, and a search revealed his dead body, seated in a closet, with a Winchester rifle between his knees and the muzzle lying against his throat. The bullet had passed upward through his head and pierced the roof.

Berry, who was 65 years of age, was a veteran of the American Civil war.

Big Season Cut of Cavendish Co.

The Firm Has 23,000,000 Feet of Timber on the Dumps

The lumber camps are breaking after a very fine winter's work, the weather having been most favorable for work in the woods. Mr. Jas. Powers was in the village this week, having closed his operations of jobbing for the Cavendish Co. This company had five large camps of their own, besides jobbers and have twenty-three million feet of timber on the dumps, about two-thirds of it being good pine. Mr. Cresswell, forest superintendent, has had a busy winter, but a very successful one.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

The auto is an eighteen horse power one, equipped with every modern convenience, including a Russian leather top. It will have a speed of forty miles an hour. The auto will be delivered to Dr. Frederick about April 5th.

No Females in the Local Jail

There are fifteen prisoners in the county jail at present, which is about the usual number of the year. Mr. Nesbitt's guests are all males, no females being in the jail at the present time. This is rather an unusual condition of affairs, as it is rather seldom that there is not one or more female inmates at the home on the hill. The sentences of several of those in the jail will expire during the next few days and they will be allowed to go forth to bask in the spring sunshine.

THE MIDLAND FOOTBALL LEAGUE ANNUAL MEETING HELD TO-DAY

There Will be a Senior and Intermediate Series--Encouraging Reports Presented—Prospects for Season are Bright.

The annual meeting of the Midland Football League was held this afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Y.M.C.A. Those present were: Messrs. W. McIlroy, president; Jack Sullivan, of this city, who represents Oshawa; B. T. Huston, Ray Best, representing the Quakers; Mr. Sherin, Omemee; H. Tribe and W. Butters, of Cobourg, and Dr Morgan and T. J. Wallace.

President McIlroy was in the chair. The first business was the annual report of the secretary, Mr. John Sullivan. There were ten teams in the league last year, 3 teams playing intermediate and 7 junior. The Quakers were the winners of both series. The report showed the finances to be in a satisfactory condition, there being a small balance on hand. Mr. B. T. Huston was appointed auditor. Secretary Huston in his report, proposed the forming of a senior and intermediate series.

Mr T. J. Wallace thought three series would be too many for the league to look after. In the senior series, there were sure to be three teams—Peterborough, Cobourg and Oshawa, and probably Bridgenorth and Port Hope. Bowmanville is desirous of entering a junior series that they might play for the junior championship of Ontario.

It was moved by Mr. B. T. Huston, seconded by Mr. R. P. Best, that the Midland League form a senior and intermediate series. This motion was unanimously carried.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election of officers was then proceeded with and resulted as follows:—

Hon President—Mr. J. R. Stratton.

Hon. President—Dr. Burnham.

President—Mr. W. McIlroy.

1st Vice-President—Mr. Butters, Cobourg.

2nd Vice-President—Dr. Devitt, Bowmanville.

Sec.-Treas.—Mr. Jack Sullivan.

Executive Committee—Mr. H. Tribe, Cobourg; Dr. McWilliams, Keene, T. J. Wallace, Peterborough.

MIDLAND FOOTBALL LEAGUE OFFICERS

DR. BURNHAM
Honorary President

MR. W. McILROY
President

DELEGATE APPOINTED.

Mr. Jack Sullivan was appointed delegate to the annual meeting of the Ontario Football Association, which meets in Toronto on Easter Monday. Mr. Sullivan was advised to arrange at this meeting that the winners of the junior intermediate and senior series of the Midland League might play off for the championship of Ontario.

Some proposed amendments to the rules were discussed after which the meeting adjourned.

Honorary Officers of Cricket Club

Well Attended Meeting Was Held Last Night

A meeting of the Peterborough Cricket Club was held last night in the Y.M.C.A. The president, Dr. Burnham, was in the chair. The only business transacted last evening was the election of some honorary officers. The election resulted as follows,—

Hon.-Pres.—Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P.

Hon 1st Vice-Pres.—Mr. D. Hughes-Charles.

Hon. 2nd Vice-Pres.—Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M. P. P.

Patrons and Patronesses—Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Merritt, and Mr. and Mrs. James Kendry.

A meeting of the Cricket Club will be held two weeks from last night for the purpose of arranging for practices and to transact any necessary business.

Membership tickets, the price of which is $2.00, can be secured from any of the following persons:—E. H. Wood, E. H. Lovekin, Cyril Hill, W. Sheffield and C. Moore. The secretary of the club, Mr. E. H. Wood, will be pleased to furnish any information that may be desired, and also to hear from persons desiring to arrange matches. One of the members of the club will go to Toronto next week to purchase an outfit, and play will be commenced at Nicholls Oval just as soon as the weather permits.

To-morrow Will be Palm Sunday

To-morrow will be Palm Sunday. Palm Sunday is the one before Easter Sunday, and is in commemoration of our Lord's triumphal entry into Jerusalem, where he was going in a few days to die on the cross. As Jesus made his entry into the holy city the multitude strewed palm branches in the way. Hence the day is called Palm Sunday.

Who is Boss of Central Park?

Street Commissioner Has Trouble of His Own—Four Sided Fight is on.

"Who is running the Central Park?" asked the street commissioner this morning. "First one man comes along and tells me to put the scrapings off the road on it. Another, who belongs to the militia, says take it off again. Another fellow belonging to the Horticultural Society, tells me not to listen to the soldier. Another says, dump it on our property. The Mayor says he will not have it dumped on the soldiers' property. What am I to do?"

The street commissioner, however, is still drawing the road scrapings on to Central Park and he is dumping on both sides of the armories. He will continue to do so until he gets proper instructions to stop.

Going back to the annual meeting of the Horticultural Society it will be found that the Society requested the City Council to have the scrapings drawn on to Central Park. The intention was to use it in levelling up the ground, and so that it could be made a beauty spot after the two buildings were erected. The request was granted and the scrapings were dumped just east of the armories.

This made the quartermaster of the 57th Regiment angry, and he ordered the work stopped. The president of the Horticultural Society ordered the street commissioner to go ahead and not listen to the quartermaster. The colonel of the regiment said go ahead and dump the stuff on the west side of the building. The Mayor says he, for one, will not have the dumpings near the armories. However, the material is being dumped there.

Later the quartermaster said he will issue rubber boots to the militia to wear during drill this summer, and there the matter stands.

No 'Lunge Were Offered for Sale

Inspector Watt Has Thoroughly Investigated the Case

Fishery Overseer John Watt has made a most searching investigation into the story that 500 pounds of maskinonge were offered for sale in the city this week. Mr. Watt has visited every possible place where the 'lunge would likely be sold, and has found out, beyond a doubt, that the fish were disposed of, or even offered for sale. The whole story is evidently a pure invention and has been circulated by some irresponsible parties, who evidently thought that the affair was a good joke. Their sense of humor is not to be commended. The overseer will be glad to receive any information at any time of violations of the law, and he will not be slow in punishing the guilty parties. No fear or favor will be shown.

CURLERS WILL HOLD SMOKER

Presentation of Prizes Will Take Place on Wednesday Evening

The Peterborough Curling Club will hold a smoking concert at the Charlotte street rink on Wednesday evening next, March 27.

A good programme will be presented and the annual prizes will be handed over to the winners. It will be a fitting finale to a most successful season. The proposed change in width of the curling rings and the grouping of the Ontario Curling Association in this district will be discussed.

HOCKEY

ORIGIN OF THE O. H. A.

The Ontario Hockey Association came into existence on November 27, 1890, and the Queen's Hotel, Toronto, was its birthplace. One of the leading spirits in the formation of the body that now embraces teams from all over the province, was J. A. Barron, formerly of Lindsay, but now Judge, of Stratford. He was then a member of the Dominion Parliament, and a hockey player, as well. He, with Henry Ward, M. P., for East Durham, Hon. Arthur Stanley and a few others, held a meeting in Toronto, when the association was organized. Judge Barron acted as chairman of the meeting and was elected one of the vice-presidents. The judge was a star forward in the early days, and took a deep interest in the progress of the association. He was again elected a vice-president the following year. Judge Barron was one of the best hockeyists in Ontario, and he maintained his reputation until he hung up his stick.—Port Hope Guide.

LEARN DRESSMAKING IN TWO WEEKS

We teach you everything from the plainest shirt waist to the most elaborate toilette that can be found in the fashion books. We show you how to put together not only the lining but all the outer goods in coats, skirts, wrappers, waists, sleeves, collars, etc. Why spend months at a dressmaking shop where you do nothing but hem, overcast, sew on hooks and eyes, and then after you have served months there

What do you know about cutting? Absolutely nothing, for you will know no more how to cut out a dress at the end of a year than you did just the day you went there. So why spend your time there when we can teach you in two weeks. You can come and try for a week and see for yourself what its like as there is nothing to be paid in advance you certainly would not loose anything by trying. We have taught over 3,000 this way within the past 6 years in Western Ontario and all recomend it very highly.

Charge for full course is only $10 to be paid when course is completed if satisfied including one of most perfect fitting systems in use which we give free. We guarantee that the waists made by this chart will not draw nor pull out of skirt when raising arm.

AN EVENING CLASS will also be taught. In this class we will teach shirt waists, sleeves, and saques. This course will be $4.00 and hours from 7 to 9. We will teach at Peterboro from April 8th to April 20th. Hours for day class from 9 to 5. All wishing to learn be sure to see us at the Oriental Hotel on Saturdas, April 6th between 10 and 5 o'clock. This is positively the last class we will teach at Peterboro' this year.

NAME OF NEW BOAT IS THE OTONABEE

Selection Made on Saturday Night—Vernon Craig Won the Prize.

Otonabee will be the name of the new twin-screw steamer being built for the Otonabee Navigation Co. It was selected on Saturday night, and the person to win the prize of a family season ticket for sending in the correct name was Mr. Vernon R. Craig. There were over three hundred names received, mostly from the city and immediate neighborhood, although some came from Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, Lindsay, Port Hope and other places.

The directors after duly considering the long list of names submitted finally erased all names until the ultimate choice lay between Otonabee, Hiawatha, Chippewa, Hepburn, Trentonia, Kenora, and Canada.

After due consideration, deciding by both euphony and historical association the choice conferred upon "Otonabee." This is a particularly happy choice, Otonabee being not only a euphonious word, but also connected with the past history of Peterborough's inception, and with the river that forms so important a link in one of Canada's future great highways of transportation, the Trent Valley Canal. It was up the Otonabee that the sturdy voyagers made their adventurous trip while seeking a location for the then unborn City of Peterborough.

As was previously arranged the name of the boat was selected first and then the person who sent in that name first was to secure the prize. The fortunate person was Mr. V. R. Craig, son of Mr. J. D. Craig, the well-known furniture dealer.

The Otonabee Navigation Co. has also closed a contract with the Polson Iron Works Company of Toronto, for the machinery for the new steamer. The boilers and engines will have capacity of three hundred horse power, with a minimum speed of fifteen to seventeen miles an hour. This will make the Otonabee the fastest boat by long odds on the river. The machinery will arrive in a few days, and it is expected that the first trip will be made on May 24th.

BOATING ON THE OTONABEE RIVER

The ice in the river below the locks dam, broke yesterday and today the river is open fully half way down to Crawford's Grove. Mr. Harold Rye, proprietor of the Otonabee Boat House has started work already, getting things in shape for the opening of the boating season. He says the going down of the ice did not affect his wharf at all and no repairs will be required to it. There is a lot of work, however, in getting the old boats fixed up and painted, etc. Then some of the yachts which were wintered at Rye's have to be repaired. After that Mr. Rye will start building new boats for next season's work, and it is expected that he will have quite a number more than he had last year. Boating down the river has become so popular the last two years that the boat house has proved to be a profitable proposition. This year it should be better than ever on account of the fire which destroyed so many private boat houses. The season will open on the 24th of May, this year as usual.

THE AARON COX HOMESTEAD

is being sold by the Executors of the Estate. This is a splendid property—a whole block, having on it one of the finest double houses in the city, with good stables, etc. It is in the finest residential part of the city, and has a large frontage on Rubidge street available for new houses.

IMPROVEMENTS TO HIS PROPERTY

A. Rountree's New Liquor Store on Water Street Being Fitted up.

Mr. Arthur Rountree has a gang of men at work, remodelling his premises on Water street, nearly opposite the post office. This place was occupied as an office by the Big Dipper Gold Mining Co. for some time, but Mr. Rountree will use it for his retail liquor business. This morning the whole front was taken out, and a new one is being put in. Other improvements and alterations will also be made and when completed the store will be in good shape. The proprietor expects to move in about the first of the month.

YOUR SUMMER OUTING.

If you are fond of fishing, canoeing, or the study of wild animals, look up the Algonquin National Park of Ontario for your summer outing. PETERBORO' TO HAVE NEW DAIRY

Sexsmith Bros. Starting One on the Kincaid Farm

A new dairy will be started in the city within the next few days. Some time ago Sexsmith Bros. purchased part of the Kincaid farm, which is about two miles down the river in North Monaghan, and are about to start a 30 cow dairy. They have already secured a large number of customers and as soon as they can get their affairs straightened around they will put one or more waggons on the road and deliver good pure milk to the citizens of Peterborough.

NOT A HOLIDAY

Good Friday Should be Observed in a Proper Spirit.

At St. Luke's church yesterday, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, in speaking of the observance of Good Friday, stated that he hoped the members of his congregation would recognize it as a holy day and not as a holiday. He trusted that the people would refrain from attending all amusements and pass the day in a proper spirit and with a realization of its solemnity and significance.

LAID TO REST

Funeral of Mrs. Martin Connors Largely Attended.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Martin Connor, whose death occurred on Friday last, took place yesterday afternoon and was very largely attended. Many people turned out to pay their last token of respect to the memory of deceased. The service at both St. Peter's cathedral and the cemetery, was conducted by Rev. Father Galvin. The pall-bearers were Messrs. H. Phelan, P. Grady, Richard Sheehy, Wm. Rudkins and J. Carter.

The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful. Among them were "Gates Ajar," from Mr. J. Carter; "Heart" from guests of the hotel; wreaths from Mr. Alex. Elliott, and High Life Club; "Star" from Baseball Club; wreath from Turf Club; wreath from Never Learn Club; wreath from A. A. Hollingshead, and cross from Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Graham and family.

CALL FOR YOUR SKATES AT ONCE

The Brock street rink is closed for the season and the management request that all persons who have skates there will call for them as soon as possible. Mr. Jack Thirnbeck will be there a few days longer, and all skates that have not been taken away within the next one or two days will have to remain there until next season.

AUTO CAR BROKE CHAIN YESTERDAY

Mr. Fred Darcy took a small party party of young men and ladies in his new auto-car to Lakefield yesterday afternoon. The day was not too bad, but the roads were by no means ideal for motoring. However, the trip there was made without mishap, but coming home the chain broke and the big machine was unable to proceed. Efforts were made to repair the thing but without success and the party had to walk back to the village and drive home, arriving here about midnight, very tired and splashed with mud. This morning the chain was repaired and Mr. Darcy started back for his auto. He says that he will not go to Lakefield again until the roads get better.

UMBRELLA AND SHOES.

Their Importance in the Eyes of the Indian Native.

India is so vast that different etiquettes prevail in different districts. We have no standard etiquette, no standard dress. We mostly copy European etiquette while with Europeans. Even a Bengalese shakes hands with a Bengalese, speaks in English for a few minutes and then breaks forth into the vernacular. We shake hands with a European on parting, but by mistake again touch the hand to the brow in a salaam, so we both shake hands, salaam and do the like, and no sober minded European ever cared for the anomaly.

The umbrella is the emblem of royalty, the sign of a rajah, so natives generally fold their umbrellas before a rajah and not before anybody else, however great. It is not a part of the dress, but a protection from the rain or sun, a necessary appendage, just like the watch and chain. You might as well ask a European to take off his waterproof coat. A cooly is not bound to fold his umbrella when a brigadier general rides past. But a menial generally closes down the umbrella on seeing his master, whom he considers his king. But no Indian, however humble, ought to fold up the umbrella, even before a magistrate, because he is neither the master of the humble passerby nor his superior officer, nor is he bound to salaam him. But if he does, no harm. In a word, natives generally fold the umbrella before a master or a superior officer and not any other citizen, however great, and this is no insult.

While going to see a native chief in his palace the native visitor or official takes off his shoes if the reception room has a farash and the rajah is sitting on his musnud. But if he is received in the drawing room, furnished after the European style, the shoes are allowed. In some states no natives can go to a rajah without a pugree. In others the pugree is taken off and tossed at the feet of a rajah.

It is ridiculous in a European (from the Hindoo point of view) to order a native to take off his shoes. This is what we ask our priest to do, so that we may touch the dust of his feet. A munshi when mildly rebuked by his sahib took off his shoes, but recounted the whole scene to his better half, saying, "Sala hamara gor ka gurda lenay magta!" ("The brother-in-law wants the dust of my feet.")—Indian Military Gazette.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

No man ever landed a particularly easy position by trying to dodge work.

Almost every man imagines he would do a lot of philanthropic stunts if he had the money.

Why is it that the people with nothing to do but sit around and visit are such dreadful bores?

Some people imagine that by being impudent they are showing others they are "as good as anybody."

When a father and son are in business the son can usually tell of a lot of mistakes his father makes.

Almost any married man can make his friends smile by saying he is perfectly free to do as he pleases.

When the carbolic acid bottle finds itself next to the cough medicine on the shelf, Death stops sharpening his scythe to lean back and be merry.

"Checkmate."

"Checkmate!" represents "shah mat"—"the shah is dead." "Shah," in fact, entered our language long ago via Arabic and old French, arriving in the form of "check." "Chess" is really "checks," kings, and the cry of "Check!" means your king is in danger, hence the verb and substantive "check" in all their English meanings—"check," which was originally the counterfoil of a bill that served to "check" fraud; "checkered," from the aspect of the chessboard, and "exchequer," from the checkered pattern of the tablecloth on which the king's accounts were kept with counters. All these we owe to the Persian sovereign's title.—London Chronicle.

The Bosnian Roasting Jack.

A curious variety of the old fashioned roasting jack is used by the peasants of Bosnia and Herzegovina when roasting sheep whole, as on the occasion of a wedding ceremony. One often sees near a running stream a long pole having one end revolving freely in a socketed peg, while the other, overhanging the water, is equipped with miniature paddles. This is the Bosnian roasting jack. The sheep to be cooked is impaled on the log, a fire is lit underneath, and while the current spins the paddles and the pole merrily round the big joint is cooked literally to a turn.—Wide World Magazine.

Why She Was Pleased.

Tess—Did Mr. Borem ever call on you? Jess—Yes; he called last evening. I was quite delighted when the girl brought up his card. Tess—Oh, come now. You weren't really delighted? Jess—Certainly. You see, if she hadn't brought up his card I might have gone down to him, thinking it was some one else.

Suited For Something.

"Your little boy may become president some day."

"I hardly think so. Archibald is too modest and retiring."

"Oh, well, he may get to be vice president."

At Hakodate, Japan, the British steamer Fernley has been beached, after having sustained extensive damages.

NINE-TENTS OF THE DEATHS FROM CONSUMPTION COULD HAVE BEEN AVOIDED.

Dr. W. A. Evans, an eminent practitioner of Chicago, in a recent address, emphasized the importance of physicians recognizing the symptoms of tuberculosis in its early stages. Dr. Evans says that nine tenths of the deaths attributed to consumption could have been prevented if the patients' symptoms had been accurately interpreted when first made manifest.

The only safe method is to assume from the very first that consumption really is present in all cases where there is the slightest reason for suspecting its presence, and to prescribe in accordance with that theory.

Coughs and colds, soreness in the chest or difficulty in breathing should have prompt treatment, as the lungs are then in a peculiarly receptive condition for the tuburcular germ.

A noted specialist, whose camp for consumptives in the Pine woods of Maine, has attracted great attention, because of his remarkable cures there, advises the use of the following simple formula, which is said to break up a cold in twenty-four hours, and cure any cough that is curable: Take one-half ounce Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), two ounces of glycerine, and eight ounces of good Whisky. Shake well and take in teaspoonful doses every four hours.

The ingredients can be secured from any good prescription druggist at small cost, and are easily prepared. The patient should be careful to secure the Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) in the original half-ounce vials, put up expressly for druggists to dispense. Each vial is securely sealed in a round wooden case, with engraved wrapper, with the name—Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), prepared only by Leach Chemical Co., Windsor, Ontario—plainly printed thereon. It is always well to remember that the object of an imitator is to deceive. There is no known substitute for Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure).

SILK OF THE SPIDER.

The Delicate Machinery That Spins the Liquid Threads.

The spider is able to secrete at least three colors of silk stuff—the white, which forms the web, and the enswathement of captives and the egg cocoon; the brown mass that fills the cocoon interior and the flossy yellow between that and the inside of the sac. The glands end in minute ducts which empty into spinning spools regularly arranged along the sides and upon the tips of the six spinnerets, or "spinning mammals," or "spinning fingers," which are placed just beneath the apex of the abdomen. The spinnerets are movable and can be flung wide apart or pushed closely together, and the spinning spools can be managed in the same way.

The silk glands are infolded in muscular tissue, pressure upon which, at the will of the spider, forces the liquid silk through the duct into the spool, whence it issues as a minute filament, since it hardens upon contact with the air. One thread as seen in a web may be made up of a number of the filaments and is formed by putting the tips of the spools together as the liquid jets are forced out of the ducts. When the spinnerets are joined and a number of the spools are emptied at once their contents merge, and the sheets or ribbons are formed which one sees in the enswathement of a captive or the making of Argiope's central shield. This delicate machinery the owner operates with utmost skill, bringing into play now one part and now another and again the whole with unfailing deftness and a mastery complete.—Dr. H. C. McCook in Harper's.

A QUEER HOUSE.

The Novel and Famous Fossil Bone Cabin In Wyoming.

"The queerest house in the world," said a zoologist, "is undoubtedly the famous bone cabin in Wyoming, near the Medicine Bow river. This cabin's foundations are built of fossil bones.

"Bones of dinosaurs—jaws of the diplodocus, teeth of the brontosaurus, knuckles of the ichthyosaurus, vertebrae of the camarasaurus, chunks of the barosaurus, the cetiasaurus, the brachiosaurus, the steglosaurus, the ornitbolestes or bird catching dinosaur—all entered into this wonderful cabin's foundations, making it the most curious and most costly edifice in America.

"This hut was built by a Mexican sheep herder who had happened by chance on the grandest extinct animal bed in the world. This was a plot about fifty yards square, wherein lay in rich profusion the bones of all the animals of the reptilian age. The heaviest and the lightest, the largest and the smallest, the most tranquil and the most ferocious, lay side by side.

"The place was evidently once a river bar, and the dead bodies that floated down the stream were here arrested to lie for hundreds of thousands of years till a sheep herder came along and, rooting among bones as big as bowlders, set about the building of the world's queerest cabin."

Grip Facts.

The grip is not simply a bad cold, and this fact is worth knowing. It resembles a cold in some respects, and colds are often wrongly diagnosed by the victims as grip. The grip is a malady which has laws of its own, both as to origin and progress after development. According to the doctors, it must run its course—"there is no special remedy that can directly destroy the infection, no drug that can kill the bacillus or neutralize its toxin." This also is worth knowing. The main thing is to nurse with care and give the system the best possible aid in its efforts to throw off the poison.

Not Thirsty.

Jane, the bright new maid, always anxious to please, had been intrusted with the care of a little aquarium, in which the goldfish had always thrived very well until Jane came on the scene. The first day she arrived she gave them fresh water, as instructed, and then left them to their own devices. But, alas, one morning the little fishes were found floating feebly on their backs. "Jane," called the anxious mistress, regarding her pets with concern, "have you given the fish any fresh water lately?" "No, ma'am. Bless their little hearts, they haven't drunk the water I gave them last month yet!"

THE SPANISH ESCURIAL.

It Is a Marvelous Specimen of Ancient Architecture.

The Escurial, the palace of the Spanish king, an architectural marvel, formerly described as the "eighth wonder of the world," is now seldom spoken of even by those who are ready to go wild over much less pretentious structures. The cornerstone of this "Spanish St. Peter's" was laid by Philip II. in 1563, but it was 302 years (1865) before the monstrous building was pronounced finished. It was built by Philip in fulfillment of a vow to "erect the finest monastery in the world" should his forces be successful in their great battle with the French. That battle was fought at St. Quentin on Aug. 10, 1557, St. Lawrence day, and in order to honor that saint as well as to fulfill his vow the king had the foundation of his great memorial laid off in the shape of a gridiron, the implement of torture upon which the goodly Lawrence is reputed to have suffered martyrdom.

To those who have never visited the Escurial the size of the gigantic structure is beyond comprehension. It is 740 feet from north to south and 580½ feet from east to west, the square towers at each corner rising to a height of over 200 feet. Within this monstrous building are the king's palace, a cathedral, a monastery of 200 cells, two colleges, three chapter houses, three library buildings, five large halls, six dormitories, three hospitals and over 3,000 other rooms. In order to make St. Lawrence's gridiron complete, the building is built in quadrangular form, with seventeen rows or ranges of monstrous stone structures crossing each other at right angles, these forming the gridiron's ribs, the handle being a wing 470 feet in length. The church, which is a part of this vast pile of masonry, is 364 feet long, 230 feet wide, with a dome 330 feet in height. It is estimated that the building cost $50,000,000.

FAMOUS ARCHERS.

Stories of Wonderful Skill With Bow and Arrow.

The expression "drawing a long bow" does not of necessity mean the telling of a falsehood. It sometimes refers to a wonderful story, which may be true enough, but which is so marvelous as to require a firm trust in the veracity of the narrator to enable the hearer to believe it. Some of the longest bows of this sort have been drawn about bows and arrows.

These stories began long ago. Virgil in the "Æneid" tells of four archers who were shooting for a prize, the mark being a pigeon tied by a cord to the mast of a ship. The first man hit the mast, the second cut the cord, and the third shot the pigeon as it flew away. The fourth archer, having nothing left to shoot, drew his bow and sent his arrow flying toward the sky with such speed that the friction of the air set the feathers on fire, and it swept on, like a meteor, to disappear in the clouds.

The stories told of Robin Hood's archery, illustrated by his wonderful performance as Locksley in Scott's "Ivanhoe," are also a decided strain upon a sensible person's credulity. The famous story of William Tell, doubted by many persons, is believed by others to have a foundation of fact. There was a Dane named Foke of whom the same story is told, and William of Cloudesley, an Englishman, is said to have shot an apple from his son's head merely to show his expertness.

Most stories of bows and arrows relate to the accurate aim of the archers, but a Frenchman, Blaise de Vigenere, tells one that shows the tremendous force with which an arrow may be propelled if the bow be strong and long enough. According to his own account of the matter, he saw Barbarossa, a Turk, admiral of a ship called the Grand Solyman, send an arrow from his bow right through a cannon ball.

Where Snow Falls.

If you are not a lover of snow, go to Malta, which is the nearest spot where you are certain of complete immunity. If you are fond of it, the suburbs of St. Petersburg will furnish all you need to ask, for there you may be sure of it for 170 days in the year. The happy medium is supplied by Copenhagen, with thirty days, while Palermo, Rome and Venice, with one, two and five days respectively, may be recommended to those who merely care for snow as a casual and fleeting guest.—London Chronicle.

THE DETECTIVE STORY

Origin and Growth of the Clever Amateur Sleuth.

VOLTAIRE WAS HIS CREATOR.

The Great French Writer Introduced Him to the World of Fiction—The Genius of Poe and Gaboriau and Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes.

Most persons who read detective stories, and most literary critics, too, believe that this very popular form of fiction was invented by Edgar Allan Poe. They point to his story of "The Purloined Letter" as being the first of its kind—the first in which is introduced the man of keen mind, of close reasoning and of constructive imagination, who is able to piece together certain facts that are known and then by brilliant deduction to pass from them to other facts which are not known, but the truth of which he is able to establish beyond a doubt.

Poe himself had a mind precisely of this character—the mind of a mathematician, subtle, logical and capable of searching analysis. He once gave a remarkable illustration of what he could do as an investigator of mysterious crime. A young shopgirl named Mary Rogers was found murdered under circumstances which excited great public interest in New York. The police were completely baffled, though they advanced a theory which was plausible in part. Poe, taking the facts that were admitted, wove them into a story, the scene of which he laid in Paris and which he called "The Mystery of Marie Roget." Then from what was known he passed by deductive reasoning to what was quite unknown and worked out a solution to the puzzle which no professional detective had been able to explain. Years afterward the confession of a dying man afforded proof that Poe was right and that he had reconstructed accurately the whole series of events which led to the death of Mary Rogers.

This remarkable achievement fixed in the public mind the notion that this use of logic blended with imagination was original with Poe. As a matter of fact, it is almost certain that Poe, who was deeply versed in French literature, got the suggestion of the method from reading certain passages in the oriental tale called "Zadig," by Voltaire. In this book a young man is questioned as to whether he had seen a stray dog and horse that might have passed him on his journey. In reply he describes very accurately the peculiarities of both, though he had not seen them. He had deduced his knowledge from observing certain indications along the way—the nature of the footprints and many other signs which the ordinary person would either not have noticed or would have been too dull to understand. Here is really the germ of the conception which Poe so brilliantly elaborated in the story of "The Purloined Letter," where we find exhibited the striking contrast between the working of a usual mind and the achievements of a mind of exceptional power and training.

Poe's central figure, the amateur detective, was afterward caught up and elaborated with great effect by several French writers, of whom the chief was Emile Gaboriau. Gaboriau gave the world the character of M. Lecoq in the remarkable novel of that name. Lecoq is a professional detective, but appears in that book as a novice, inexperienced, but full of intelligence and enthusiasm and obliged to work out his clews against the secret opposition of his official chief, Gevrol, who is jealous of the young detective. In the background is the interesting figure of the real amateur detective, old Father Tire-au-Clair ("Bring-to-light"), a retired tradesman who studies crime from sheer love of the intellectual puzzle which it affords him and which he solves by purely scientific deduction.

Sir Conan Doyle in creating Sherlock Holmes openly acknowledged his great indebtedness to Poe. Like Poe's hero, Holmes works apart from the official police and is consulted by them when they are wholly at a loss. Many of the incidents in the Holmes cycle of stories were suggested by the inventions of Poe. Yet it is only fair to say that Doyle has gone one step further than his master. Poe's characters are abstractions. They are like chessmen on the board and excite interest only because of the complexity of the problem which they are made to solve. Doyle's characters, on the other hand, are drawn with sympathy and a shrewd insight into human nature. They entertain us by their whims and individual traits no less than by the adventures through which they pass. Thus Holmes' addiction to the cocaine habit, his trick of smoking great quantities of shag tobacco when thinking out a problem, his dislike of women, his skill as a boxer—in fact, a score of traits all give him individuality and make us think of him as a fascinating character quite apart from his powers as a deductive reasoner. And it is so with the minor personages as well—Watson, the somewhat obtuse chronicler of the adventures; Lestrade and Gregson of the official police and Moriarty, the arch criminal.

But, however brilliant Poe may have been, or however ingeniously Gaboriau may have spun tangled plots, or however ably Conan Doyle may have given life and reality to the central figure of his stories, they all derive their inspiration, whether consciously or not, from the clever tale told by the famous Frenchman before Poe saw the light.—Scrap Book.

FRANKLIN'S GARB.

The Philosopher Often Taken For a Quaker, Though He Was Not One.

Benjamin Franklin was often taken for a Quaker, but the philosopher did not belong to the Society of Friends. Franklin, being a simple citizen of Philadelphia, wore clothes of a fashion set by the Quakers, a plain gray or drab suit. He continued to wear this costume while he was in France. Once when his court suit was not ready he appeared in his "republican" garb before Louis XVI. He became the fashion in France and indeed in nearly all Europe, and it was at one time the proper thing for young republicans and litterateurs to dress a la Franklin. The German historian, Schlosser, describing Franklin's appearance in the French drawing rooms, speaks of "the simplicity of his external appearance, the friendly meekness of the old man and the apparent humility of the Quaker." In truth, the humility and the meekness were mostly matters of appearance, and the Quaker aspect was only an aspect. Franklin was brought up by his parents in Boston in the Congregational church and was intended by them for the ministry. When he went to Philadelphia, he says in his autobiography, he paid his "annual subscription to the only Presbyterian minister or meeting we had in Philadelphia." But he distinctly avows his disagreement with Presbyterian doctrine and later was quite as ready to welcome and assist Whitefield, the Methodist, with whom he also openly disagreed. Later still, he took a pew in an Episcopal church, but he was never a communicant Episcopalian. He says much about religion in his autobiography, explains how he became a deist in his youth, but abandoned the doctrine because it was not useful in making men good. His own creed he declares to be belief in God and in the immortality of the soul. "Though my scheme was not wholly without religion," he writes, "there was no mark of any of the distinguishing tenets of any particular sect."

HE GAINED HIS POINT.

To Do It the Actor Spoiled the Play and Lost His Position.

An American actress who had toured in England was telling her experiences and related an incident that amused her. She said:

"In a play produced in the provinces there is a scene in which the hero strikes the villain, who slinks away without seeking to defend himself. One night in a large manufacturing town the young fellow who played the deep dyed scoundrel remarked to the leading man before the curtain rose:

"'I say, old chap, I've got my fiancee out in front tonight with her father and mother. Now, of course they don't know anything about our business, and I'm afraid it would rather hurt me with them if I received a blow and got away in the usual cowardly fashion. So, dear old chap, can't you omit the blow tonight?'

"'But, my boy, the management will fine me 2 shillings!'

"'Well, I'll pay the fine.'

"'Oh, yes! That's all very well for you, but what do I get out of it? Nothing but a bad name with the powers that be.'

"'Oh, well, I'll give you 2 shillings extra, or, better yet, you hit me as usual, and I'll hit back! They'll fine me, not you, and I'll give you the 2 shillings besides. You see how I'm situated. I shouldn't like the girl to mix me up with the character I play. Outsiders are so funny that way.'

"So the compact was made, and that night when the hero cried, 'Sir Daniel Deepwater'—or something of that sort—'base offspring of a noble race, take that!' Sir Daniel not only 'took that,' but gave it back with such force that 'the pit in cheers rose at him,' including his relatives to be by marriage, and he walked off the stage in triumph.

"I am sorry to add he lost his situation, but he gained his point."

His Suggestion.

"That young woman is not intelligent, amiable or even decently courteous."

"Oh, but her father is worth a million dollars."

"Then I think she should be required to display a notice to that effect."

American Money in Hastings Gold

Proposal to Re-open the Unused Madoc—Eldorado Line

Belleville, March 22.—An important mining deal was made a few days ago when United States capitalists, represented by Mr. E. R. L. Gould, president of a New York City bank and Mr. Charles Ingram, of Baltimore, accompanied by a mining expert, who has with them examined the Golden Fleece gold mine, closed a bargain with the owners, Messrs. John Guina and P. A. Wickware paying them $2,000 for a six months' option. It is the intention of Messrs. Gould and Ingram to put in an air compressor plant, and to operate the mine on an extensive scale during the currency of their option, so that they will be enabled to form a satisfactory idea of the value of the property before taking final action in the matter.

A meeting was held at Madoc village on Friday last between Mr. Loud, representing the Grand Trunk Railway Company, and a deputation from the Board of Trade and Mining Association as to the operation of the branch line between Madoc and Eldorado, which has been for several years unused. Among the speakers was Mr. W. R. Hungerford, president of the Association, who stated that the line would serve a magnetic iron mine, a hematite iron mine, the Eldorado copper mine, which has 100,000 tons of ore in sight, as well as quarries of slate, sandstone and freestone, all of fine quality, but disused owing to lack of railway facilities. Other strong representations as to traffic for the line which would be of very great advantage to an important part of the North Hastings district made. Mr. Loud will report to the executive of the railway at Montreal.

Local Company Supplied Plant

The Canadian General Electric Co has completed a large order for the electrical apparatus used for conveying electrical power from Lac du Bonnet to the city of Winnipeg a distance of some 65 miles, for the Winnipeg Electric Railway Company. This is one of the largest, most modern, and best equipped water power installations in the Dominion, and enables the vast power generated by the Winnipeg river to turn thousands of wheels in the Prairie city. The complete cost of this great plant will amount to about $4,000,000, and will enable many new industries to operate there that the high price of coal would otherwise embarass or prohibit.

THE NEW STYLES THIS SPRING

Shirt Waist Boxes.

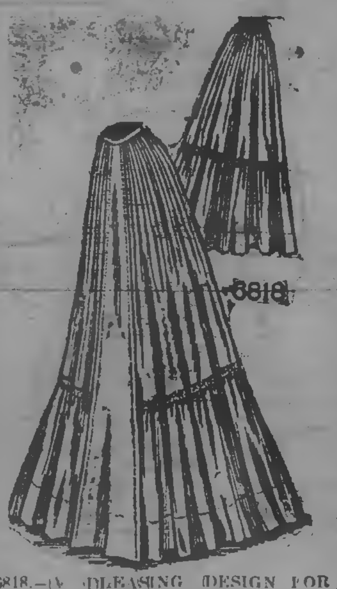
Very frequently shirt waist boxes may be bought at reduced prices in the shops, owing perhaps to the coverings, which do not always suit the taste of the purchaser or harmonize in tone with the furnishings of the room for which they are desired. These boxes are very useful not only for shirt waists, but for children's short clothes and shoes, and are often used for patch boxes. They can be easily reupholstered and made more fanciful with little trouble. One seen recently had a box plaited flounce or valance around the box of a dainty patterned cretonne, and the lid was covered smoothly with the same. The inner lining was of self colored chintz corresponding with the dominant shade in the cretonne. Sometimes rollers or casters are used to give more height to the box when it is to be used as a seat. In this capacity it is well to stuff the lid with hair or cotton, and the edges may be finished with a narrow furniture gimp.

Pressing Needlework.

Many handsome, heavily embroidered pieces cannot be dampened or made wet. In such cases lay the piece, inverted, over several thicknesses of a dampened white cloth. In short, the ironing board is dampened instead of the piece. The depth of soft folds allows the raised parts to sink in, so that when the pressing is done they stand out well.

A Dishwashing Hint.

In washing vessels which have been used to prepare eggs in any way or to hold batter of any kind of dough allow a cold water spigot to run upon them first. Hot water cooks the eggs and stiffens the floury pastes, making it doubly difficult to clean the pot, pan or kettle in question.



6818.—A PLEASING DESIGN FOR SUPPLE MATERIAL.

The new skirts show all degrees of dressiness and elaboration and a pleasing suited to supple material, is sketched. The skirt consist of a front gore in panel effect and circular sections tucked over the hips and lengthened by a straight gathered flounce. The skirt is not difficult to fashion and proves most graceful and becoming as part of a gown or in soft silk or net for wear with a lace waist. It is most attractive upon wearers of some slenderness, though almost any one would find it becoming. For the medium size 5 yards of 44 inch goods are needed.

6818.—7 sizes, 20 to 32 inches waist measure.

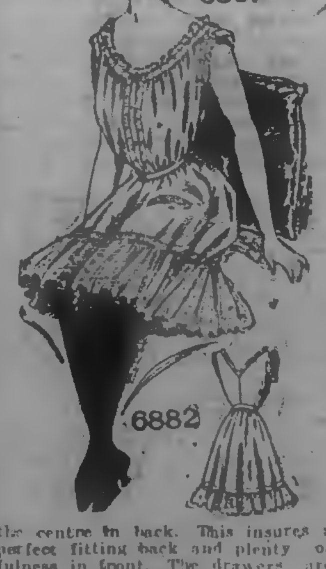
The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and 10 cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

FOR EASTER WEAR

6881, 6882.—A PRETTY ONE PIECE CORSET COVER AND CLOSED FRENCH DRAWERS.

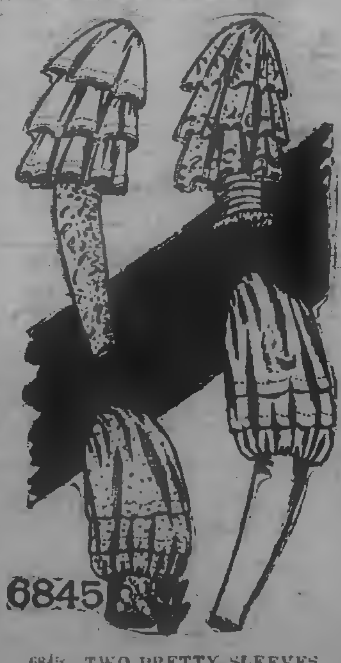
Every woman who makes her own undergarments likes to own reliable patterns for such articles as she makes. Here are shown excellent models for corset cover and drawers of latest fashion. The former is a one piece garment with its seam at the centre in back. This insures a perfect fitting back and plenty of fulness in front. The drawers are closed ones in regulation or garter length. They may be finished as simply or elaborately as desired, nainsook, lawn or muslin being suggested materials. For the medium size 1 5-8 yards of 36 inch material are needed for the corset cover and 2 1-4 yards for the drawers in regulation length.



Two Patterns.—6881—5 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure. 6882—Sizes, 20 24, 28, 32 inches waist measure.

The price of these patterns is 20c, but either will be sent upon receipt of 10c.

Leave your order and 10 cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.



6845.—TWO PRETTY SLEEVES.

Sleeves are often a momentous question in the fashioning or remodelling of a dress for they are sure to be the date index, and no one wishes to have her frock out of fashion. Here are sketched two pretty sleeves which are easily fashioned and add greatly to the appearance of a dress they complete. The first is composed of three ruffles which end just above the elbow, so that only a pretty cuff finishing is to be seen below in the elbow length sleeve of this style. The other is a puff showing two tucks running around which widens the sleeve below the shoulder—a late fancy of Dame Fashion. Either of these sleeves may be in full or elbow length and may be made attractive with lace or other adornment. In the medium size the sleeves require 2 yards of 27 inch material for either pair.

6845—Sizes small, medium and large.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

CRACK NUT SUNDAY.

Queer Method of Hearing a Sermon Still In Use In England.

"One fine autumn Sunday I attended a service in a north of England country church that would have driven a New York preacher clean crazy," said the man who travels. "The congregation didn't do a thing but sit around and crack nuts. Fancy a New York minister talking to a crowd of that kind! The modern preacher likes to have things quiet when he talks. It disconcerts him to hear a baby cry or a woman cough or an old man snore. If he is put out by such trifles as these, it is interesting to conjecture what he would do if he were to take hold of a congregation where everybody brought nuts to crack during the sermon.

"Worshipers, it seems, used to do this in England and even in our own states during colonial days. This disturbance was not a weekly occurrence by any means. If it had been, the poor preacher would have undoubtedly left his flock to administer spiritual consolation to suit themselves. But as it happened only once a year he was forced to endure it. This one day which was attended by such remarkable license came the Sunday before Michaelmas day and was called 'crack nut Sunday.' Nobody, no matter how pious he might be, hesitated to avail himself of the peculiar privilege granted him, and men, women and children came to church with their pockets stuffed with nuts, which they complacently cracked and munched during the sermon.

"It was that kind of a sermon that so impressed me with its oddity. It can be easily imagined that when forty or fifty people get to cracking nuts with all their might the noise is apt to be something terrific, and many times the minister was hard put to it to 'hear himself think.' That custom, from being regarded with high favor for many years, finally came to be looked upon as a nuisance, and the habit was suppressed, except in a few remote localities, although the act of suppression was attended with considerable difficulty, so firmly had the nut cracking fever taken hold of the fancy of the people."

TURPENTINE.

Moths will leave if it is sprinkled about.

Turpentine and soap will remove ink stains from linen.

Turpentine will remove wheel grease, pitch and tar stains.

Clean gilt frames with a sponge moistened in turpentine.

It will exterminate roaches if sprinkled in their haunts.

A few drops on a woolen cloth will clean tan shoes nicely.

A few drops added to water in which clothes are boiled will whiten them.

An equal mixture of turpentine and linseed oil will remove white marks from furniture caused by water.

Ivory knife handles that have become yellow can be restored to their former whiteness by rubbing with turpentine.

Carpets can be cleaned and colors restored by going over occasionally with a broom dipped in warm water in which a little turpentine is added.

Splendors of Cafes.

The cafes and hotels of New York are rivaling each other in the almost oriental splendor with which they have fitted up small rooms for dinner and after theater parties. At one cafe near Broadway the sides of one of these rooms are composed entirely of mirrors, after the French fashion, while the ceiling is covered with green leaves and grapes, bunches of pink and purple grapes of glass, within which are electric lights. The effect is that of a beautiful arbor. Another cafe has mirrors reflecting small red lights throughout the room, while the ceiling, also of mirrors, is an exquisite imitation of moonlight, the effect of which is obtained by electrics inclosed in globes of the color and sheen of moonlight seen through a delicate tracery of faint green leaves.—Exchange.

A Sad Case.

A Chicago physician was one day called to attend a sick child in a "shabby genteel" quarter of the Windy City.

"Madam," said the doctor to the mother, "you should send this child into the country for several weeks each summer."

"I am sorry to say, doctor," responded the woman, "that we are not rich enough to do that."

"Then," suggested the physician, "have her sent by the fresh air fund."

"Oh, doctor," exclaimed the woman, "we are not poor enough!"

Too Selfish.

Citiman—What's the matter with all you Swamphurst fellows? You don't seem to like my friend Backlots. Subbubs—No; he's selfish. Citiman—Oh, come now! Subbubs—That's what he is. A barn near him caught fire the other night, and he put it out without waiting for the rest of us members of the Swamphurst Hose to reach the scene.

The Comfortable Fortune.

"What is your idea of a comfortable fortune?" asked the ambitious youth.

"One," answered the man of experience, "that is big enough to buy you everything you want and not big enough to attract the attention of the grand jury."

A Novelty.

Guest—I hear you are going to give up housekeeping. Host—Sh! Not so loud! My wife wants to have the satisfaction of discharging the cook.—Puck.

Resting a Mantle.

When some people wish to clean the fittings of an incandescent burner they are often puzzled about a place for the mantle. The mere contact with a hard substance will sometimes shatter such a fragile thing, therefore resting it on a table is a risky proceeding. But when this method is applied the mantle can be safely removed. Insert a hatpin or knitting needle in the loop at the top and then balance the pin across an empty tumbler. The mantle then rests inside, where it is safe.

HAVE A CUP OF TEA

Mr H. P. Kennedy has issued invitation cards to his numerous customers in the city and all ladies to attend a demonstration of his superior teas ,to be given in his store on the afternoons of Wednesday and Thursday of this week, and on Thursday evening from eight to ten o'clock. Mr. Kennedy claims to have the best line of 40c. teas on the market, and equal in quality and flavor to tea usually sold at from 50c. to 60c and takes this unique manner of proving the same to those who may attend, besides demonstrating as well that he has made more than usual efforts to provide for a supply of the choicest Easter meats that may be purchased. As can be seen by an advertisement in another part of this paper, his object is a two-fold one, to show his customers the quality of meat that he has laid in, as well as partaking of the tea and light refreshments to be served by one of the city's best caterers.

PETERBOROUGH BOY HIGHLY HONORED

Mr. B. H. Brooks is New Chief Engineer of Electrical Construction Co. of St. Louis

The many friends in Peterborough of Mr. Burton H. Brooks, formerly of this city (who is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. W.H.Wrighton) will be pleased to learn that he has been appointed Chief Engineer of the Electrical Construction Company of St. Louis. The company are installing four large exchanges in Detroit. The southern portion of the state of Michigan will be the seat of their general telephone development.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks have taken up their residence at 86 "The Plaza," Detroit, Mich.

Referring to the resignation of Mr. Brooks, from the position of Chief Engineer and General Superintendent of the Citizens' Telephone Company of Columbus, Ohio, to accept a more responsible post, a Columbus paper says,—"B. H. Brooks, Consulting Engineer of the Citizens' Telephone Company, who superintended the installation of the automatic phone system of Columbus, has resigned to become Chief Engineer of the Electric Construction Company of St. Louis. He will leave at once for Detroit, where the company has a large contract. Mr. Brooks is a graduate of Cornell, where he received his mechanical engineering degree.

OBITUARY

CHILD EXPIRES.

Ina May Morrison, the nine months old child of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morrison of Springville, died this morning at the residence of her aunt, Mrs. George Benton, 275 Dalhousie street. The child had been suffering for several weeks from eczema, and was for some time in Nicholls' hospital, for treatment. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock from 275 Dalhousie street to Little Lake cemetery.

MRS. OTTO, TORONTO

Many friends in Peterborough will sympathize with Mrs. Rupert Gliddon in the loss she has sustained in the death of her mother, Mrs Otto, which occurred at her home in Toronto Friday night. Deceased was 68 years of age and had been ill for some time with anaemia.

The funeral took place in Toronto this afternoon and Mr. and Mrs. Gliddon were in attendance.

Dominion Bank is Nearly Ready

Frame Structure Taken Down This Morning—Fine Quarters

The wooden structure which has been around the new quarters for the Dominion Bank was removed this morning and for the first time the public was allowed to gaze upon the work which has proceeded under cover during the winter months. On Saturday night the heavy winds shook the frail structure so that it had to be propped up and the sidewalk blocked.

The Dominion Bank's new premises are now about completed and the contractor fully expects to be away from the place by April first, the time called for. From outward appearances the Dominion Bank will have one of the most handsome places of business in the city.

BOUND FOR THE WESTERN PLAINS

Mr Jos. Succee, who left last Wednesday with his family for Rosthern, Sask., where he will take up farming, writes to the Review to have his paper sent on to him. At the time of writing he was rocking along the C.P.R. between Ignace and Kenora. The whole country is covered with snow and Lake Superior is still frozen over. The weather is fine, however, and the party are all enjoying their trip They passed their two cars of effects near North Bay but expect those cars will arrive soon after the passenger train.

SCHOOLS CLOSE THURSDAY NOON

Sewer for Dickson Co's Property Will be Investigated at Once

By a Committee of the Board of Health and City Council—Bylaw to Compel the Connection With Sewers in Certain Area—Milk Inspection Goes Forward.

The Board of Health, while half an hour late in starting, got through a lot of business this morning. Mr. Wm. Eyres occupied the chair and others present were Mayor McWilliams and Messrs. Hill, Schneider, Inspector Ball, and Medical Health Officer Dr. Bingham.

The first matter taken up was reports from the city engineer on draining two sections of the city. The first report was as follows;

"As requested, I have examined into the possibility of draining that part of Harvey street between Antrim and Smith streets, and find that by keeping the sewer close to the surface—not more than four feet deep—on Antrim street, it will be practicable to drain this section, and a part of Smith street, east and west of Harvey street.

T. A. S. HAY,
City Engineer.

Inspector Ball reported that one house in the neighborhood was connected with the river, which was very wrong. The other houses, and there are many good houses, have no connection and not even a cess pool.

It was moved that the Board recommend the council to construct a sewer on Harvey street.—Carried.

DICKSON CO. PROPERTY.

City Engineer T. A. S. Hay reported on the Dickson Co. property sewer as follows;

"The nearest approach to the sewer system by the land mentioned is on McDonnel street near Waterford, and on London street, 175 feet east of Harvey street, and on Water street at the intersection of Dublin and Water streets.

"The company's land on the north side of London street and west of Waterford, can be connected to London street sewer only at the west side of the lot, as London street falls rapidly from the east end of the sewer. The land on the east side of Waterford street, both north and south of London, is too low to allow of any connection with that part of the system.

"The same difficulty exists with the property on Harvey street between London and Dublin streets, and on Dublin east of the centre of block between Water and Harvey streets.

"Other property owners in this locality have long been desirous of having sewer connection. Prior to the construction of the sewer on Dublin street between George and Aylmer streets, levels were taken to ascertain the possibility of laying that sewer low enough to allow of draining the lots on Harvey-st. north of London, but it was found that it would necessitate a depth of excavation of 20 feet for the greater part of the distance and the cost would be excessive, the fall very slight, and the area served so small that it was not considered practicable and would not relieve Waterford street ,which is lower still than Harvey street. This section of the city will require a separate outlet and entail additional expense for septic tank.

"At some future time it may be joined to the 12-inch sewer laid in 1901 by the American Cereal Co. on Quaker street, by extending that sewer to London street. At present that sewer reaches to the elevator and discharges, through a septic tank into the river, a little above the bridge.

"The extension of this sewer to London street will depend upon the filling in of the north end of raceway, as otherwise it would be difficult and costly to pass through or under the head gates at London street,

T. A. S. HAY,
City Engineer.

A committee of the chairman, Mr. Parker and Mr. Neill was appointed to co-operate with a committee from the council and look into this matter and see what can be done.

MILK INSPECTION.

A letter from the provincial analyst was received stating that he could handle twelve samples of milk per day ,but did not want to receive any on Saturday.

The matter was left with the inspector, with instructions to send two or three samples of milk from each person selling milk and after he has reports on all of them, to prepare a report for the Board.

CONNECT WITH SEWERS.

Sanitary Inspector Ball reported on the sanitary condition of the district in which connection with the sewer system will be made compulsory. The area reported on is as follows;

On Water street, both sides from Charlotte to Brock; on Brock from Water to Aylmer, south side; Aylmer east side to Charlotte; Charlotte, north side to George.

The inspector called at 181 places and found only 106 closets connected with the sewer. There are 23 boxes used; 29 pits in use, and in 23 cases there is no connection at all. In other words, there are of the 181 places inspected, 75 not connected with the sewer.

It was moved that the council be asked to pass a bylaw to compel all property in the area outlined above, in front of which there is, or may hereafter be a sewer, to be connected with the sewer system, and to have all privy vaults, etc., in that district removed, and that the council be asked to give this matter immediate attention.

The inspector was instructed to take proceedings against any party dumping any offensive matter in the river or creek within the city limits

The council was recommended to take steps to provide a sewer for Chambers street.

Rifle Ranges Will Require Large Tract of Property

It will cost the Government a tidy sum of money to furnish the Peterborough Rangers with suitable rifle ranges. It is said that nearly 200 acres of land will have to be purchased in order to have the ranges satisfactory. They will have to be at least 1000 yards in length as facilities will have to be provided for shooting at 1000 yards. Then they will have to be a considerable distance in width to allow a fairly large number of marksmen to shoot at one time. But in addition to the width required for shooting a much wider track of land will have to be purchased to make the ranges safe. Were this not done there would be a possibility of bullets getting beyond the ranges and causing damage and endangering human life. This will have to be stringently provided against.

A gentleman connected with the local regiment stated today that about 200 acres would have to be purchased to provide suitable and safe ranges. As the property will be situated close to the city it will be seen that the cost is going to come pretty high. But as the regiment cannot do without the ranges it is not expected that this will deter the Government at Ottawa from proceeding with the matter. An official from the Militia Department is expected here shortly to go into the matter further.

Handsome Peterborough Boat Goes to the Lakes at Muskoka

Mr. Ed. Milburn, of Toronto, Purchased the Hull From Mr. J. B. Odette—Price $700—Will be Fitted With 16 h. p. Buffalo Motor and Several Additions Will be Made.

Mr. Ed. Milburn, of Toronto, brother of Mr. Oliver Milburn, who is with Mr. Sanderson, the jeweller, has purchased a handsome gasoline boat from Mr. J B. Odette. The craft is what is known as a cruiser with a three-quarter cabin. It is thirty-one feet long by seven feet wide, and when it is launched, it will make eleven miles an hour. The boat was purchased by Mr. Oliver Milburn for his brother, but on Friday Edward was in the city with an expert from Toronto and looked the craft over before closing the deal.

As the hull stands at present it sold for nearly $700 and by the time it is ready to go into the water it will have cost about $2,000. Among other improvements a lavatory will be put in, also an ice box and several other things which will add comfort to the passengers while on a trip.

The hull was built by Mr. Odette about a year ago and has been stored at the Peterborough Canoe Co.'s factory since. It was built there by the owner, who has been connected with the firm for many years The alterations and improvements will be made here and then it is likely the hull will be shipped to Toronto to be fitted for the machinery An order has already been placed for a 15 horse power, four cylinder Buffalo motor.

After the new boat has been completed it will be sent to Muskoka where it will ply on the Muskoka lake during the coming season. It is not certain yet whether the boat will be sent to Toronto to be fitted with machinery or kept here until the season at Muskoka is open. But once it goes on northern waters it will be one of the handsomest, most comfortable and fastest crafts around that famous resort

MUSIC AT GEORGE ST.

The musical services at George Street Church yesterday were unusually interesting. At both morning and evening services, Mr. Pym of Millbrook, rendered a solo. He has a splendid baritone voice and his selections were greatly enjoyed. At the evening service Mr. G. W. Mulligan rendered the solo, "Calvary," in splendid voice.

REVIEW LETTER BOX

ABOUT NEPTUNE

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I notice in the Examiner's report of the lecture given by Dr. Marsh on Friday evening last, on the planet Neptune, he is credited with saying that the distance of the planet from the sun is two billions of miles, and travels in an orbit of seventeen billions of miles. Now, if it is the mean distance that is meant, two billions would be the semi-diameter of the orbit, and four billions, the diameter, which multiplied by 3 1-7, would give 12 3-7 billions of miles, not 17 as stated by the Examiner. But even this is not correct, as the real mean distance is 2,746,000,000 miles, which gives something over seventeen billions of miles for the circumference of this orbit or the distance travelled in 164 years at the rate of 21406 miles per diem. Now those who were present will remember Dr. Marsh saying that astronomy was the most exact of all sciences, and as the object of the lectures is to educate; it would be well to have them correctly reported. However, the Examiner may have started on the journey mentally to Neptune, with the Rev. Dr. Marsh as requested, and found that the distance was too great for him, and lopped off a few hundred millions of miles at one end of the line. Still I must thank the Review and Examiner both, for the extended reports of the lectures, and your Mr. Editor for the space in your valuable paper, and remain,

Yours and Exactly,
R. A. S.

Peterborough, March 25, 1907.

OBSERVANCE OF GOOD FRIDAY

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I cannot understand the hypocrisy of our local clergy in accepting the loan of the Grand Opera House on Sunday, March 24th, to hold a mass meeting for the furtherance of the "Gospel of Jesus Christ," when the management of the same house are holding a 'show' there on the most sacred day in the Christian year, viz., Good Friday. Surely our clergy should condemn such a thing, or are they so far in the service of "Mammon" that they close their eyes to sacrilege when done by the rich or any other person who contributes to the church.

A concert held in such a place on a Sunday would meet with severe condemnation from all good and pious people, yet Good Friday, is a far more sacred day than any Sunday. It is the day on which our Blessed Lord died for us all, clergy and theatrical managers alike, and surely our minds should be filled with solemn meditations rather than the frivolities of the play. When will our clergy grapple with the real sins and hypocrisies which are so potent to our sight, and speak out fearlessly as did He whom they profess to serve.

Yours ,etc.,
TRUTH.

Peterborough, March 25, 1907.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT PARK ST. CHURCH

The large and interesting congregation on Sunday night at Park street Baptist church, bore evident marks of the two weeks' revival. The pastor preached from "Come thou and all thy house into the Ark.—Gen. 7—1.

Committees were formed for the examination of candidates for baptism for the week.

B.Y.P.U. tonight with an address by P. W. Doon, of England.

On Tuesday afternoon the Ladies' Aid meets with Mrs. D. Hunt, of Westcott street.

Public service in the church on Wednesday. The pastor will preside. It will take the form of praise and thanksgiving in which the young converts will take part. A song sermon and baptismal service for Sunday next.

BOAT BUSINESS VERY PROSPEROUS

Many Canoes Being Shipped Out—New Stern for Motor Boats.

The canoe business in the city is at its height at the present time. All three factories are running to their full capacity and are making big shipments every day. One day last week the Peterborough Canoe Co. shipped thirteen canoes to New Ontario for an exploring party. This week the company expects to make two shipments of a car-load each to the Northwest and to New Ontario and there are orders ahead now enough to keep them going for a long time and still they keep coming in.

At the present time the canoe business is the best it ever was, and is continually improving.

The Peterborough Canoe Co. has just finished its first compromise stern motor boat. It is a small one made from the model, but it embraces all the latest ideas in motor boats. The compromise stern is just between the old fan-tail and the torpedo sterns, and is considered by far the most satisfactory for gasoline. Several more off this model will be made at once and orders have been received for two. For this year a few of the old style sterns will be built, but it will not be long before only the compromise stern will be used.

GEORGE STREET CHURCH

The special revival services will be continued at George street Methodist church this week. Services will be held each evening except Friday, at 7.45 o'clock and every effort is being made to make them especially interesting. Rev. Dr. Crothers will be in charge and will be assisted by Rev. Mr. Manning. The meetings last week were productive of much good and it is expected that many will be led to accept the better life this week.

There will be no service on Friday evening when the annual concert of the Mission Band will be held. This will be a most interesting event and it is anticipated that a large number will attend.

There will be a service on Good Friday morning at 11 o'clock when a collection for the poor of the city will be taken up.

The annual thank offering meeting of the Women's Mission Society will be held at the parsonage on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Next Sunday morning at 7 o'clock there will be a sunrise prayer meeting.

SOME GOOD RULES FOR EVERYBODY

A prominent merchant of New York city carried these Rules of Conduct in his pocket book, accompanied by a memorandum to this effects; Read these rules at last once week;

Never be idle.

Make few promises.

Always speak the truth.

Never speak ill of anyone.

Live up to your engagements.

Be just before you are generous.

Earn money before you spend it.

Drink no kind of intoxicating drinks.

Good character is above all things else.

Keep your own secrets if you have any.

Never borrow if you can possibly avoid it.

Never play at any kind of games of chance.

Keep your promise if you would be happy.

Make no haste to be rich, if you would prosper.

When you speak to a person, look him in the face.

Save when you are young, to spend when you are old.

Never run in debt unless you see a way to get out again,

Avoid temptation, through fear you may not withstand it.

Even live (misfortune excepted) within your income.

Small and steady gains give competency with tranquility of mind.

Your character cannot be essentially injured except by yourself.

If anyone speaks evil of you, let your life be so that none will believe him.

If your hands cannot be usefully employed, attend to the civilization of your mind.

The twenty-seven celestials arrested when the Hamilton police raided a Chinese tea store, which they had reason to believe was a gambling joint, were acquitted.

The scraper is at work on Water street in front of Victoria Park.

THOSE AT SEA.

The prayers for those at sea were offered in St. John's church yesterday for the safe voyage to England of Miss Gibbs, late of the Barnardo Home.

LADIES' AUXILIARY.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. will be held this evening in the Association rooms. A full attendance of members is requested.

SCHOOLS CLOSE

The Collegiate Institute, Public and Separate schools will close for the Easter holidays on Thursday of this week, and will reopen on Monday, April 8th.

WILL BE SOLD

The late Aaron Cox residence and property is being offered by the executors by public auction at the Munro House, on Tuesday, April 2nd.

BOARD OF TRADE.

The annual meeting of the Board of Trade will be held tomorrow evening in the city council chamber. A full attendance of members is requested.

WHO TOOK THE GATE.

Someone took a small gate from the old Allum homestead on Hunter street on Wednesday night last. The police would be grateful, for any information as to the whereabouts of the gate.

WANT STATION REMOVED

Omemee residents are anxious to have the present station removed to a point nearer the village. A ticket office will shortly be installed up town. This will be a decided convenience.

ROLLER SKATING

It is expected that roller skating will be resumed at the Charlotte street rink on Friday next. The floor is in good shape and is being gone over with a sandpapering machine.

CLOSED FOR THE SEASON

The Brock street skating rink has closed for the season. The past winter has been a most successful one. There was constant skating at the rink from early in December.

STILL MISSING.

There has been no word received as yet concerning Wm. Williams, who disappeared from his home a week ago yesterday. He evidently has gone where no one knows him and where he is sure not to be found.

TENNYSONIAN LECTURES.

In order that there may be no misunderstanding about the course tickets for Rev. Dr. Symonds' lectures on Tennyson, the Review is requested to state that they are transferable, and may be used by several parties in attending the lectures.

ROLLER SKATING.

Roller skating is constantly growing in public favor. Toronto rinks are making barrels of money, and the proprietors of the Peterborough rink have leased the Belleville rink for the coming season, and also control a rink in Oshawa.—Lindsay Post.

MACHINE DESTROYED.

Mr. J. J. Cocks, grocer, corner of Water and McDonnel streets, has recovered the gum slot machine which was stolen from the front of his store. It was found by Mr. Robert Beavis, who resides in East City. The machine had been broken open and completely destroyed. Only the woodwork was left intact. The thieves had left it in the lumber piles across the river.

A NEW FACTORY.

Mr. T. W. Oke, of Cobourg, has bought the property of Mr. Richard Dawson, on Hunter street east just west of the Maple Leaf hotel, East City. The transfer was effected through Messrs. Elliott & Co., real estate dealers. Mr. Oke will erect a furniture factory and planing mill on the property and will take up his residence in this city.

AUTHOR'S NIGHT

The Y.M.C.A. Debating Club will hold its regular bi-weekly session on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. A new and interesting programme has been arranged. It will be a night with the great authors. A number of writers of prose and poetry will be taken up. All members are invited.

ICE THICK ON STURGEON LAKE.

The very cold weather that occurred last winter, put a deep coating of ice on Sturgeon and other lakes. As yet, notwithstanding the warm weather we have had, the ice is as firm as ever. Mr. John Hayes came up the lake and river a couple of days ago with a heavy load of logs. Mr. Robert Graham, a well-known resident at Sturgeon Point, reports the ice to be three feet in thickness.—Lindsay Post.

A GOOD SUGGESTION.

The skating season has come to an end, and the rink is closed until next season. The young people who heretofore nightly patronized the rink are now at a loss what to do with themselves. Promenading our main thoroughfares is the chief diversion, and we would suggest that they spend some of their spare time at the Public Library reading room.—Lindsay Post.

GOOD MUSIC.

Palm Sunday was characterized by special music appropriate to the day, in the Charlotte street church yesterday. In the morning the anthem was "The Palms," by Faur, arranged for choir, solos being taken by Miss Belleghem and Mr. Jas. Browne. At the evening service "Jerusalem," by Parker, was the anthem, the solos in which were also taken by Miss Belleghem and Mr. Browne. After the sermon in the evening service Miss Olive Howell sang "Only a Little While."

QUEEN ZEPHRA.

The two repeat performances of this beautiful spectacle on April 3rd and 4th, are to be given as a benefit for the young people participating in Queen Zephra. It is the intention of the company to engage a suitable hall and tender a reception and dance to all those who assisted in making Zephra such a great success. Mr. Booth will arrange the entire programme, and will act as master of ceremonies on that occasion, and a delightful time is assured. The smaller children will be entertained in the afternoon, and the adults in the evening. A full rehearsal is called for Tuesday afternoon and evening, April 2nd, at Y.M.C.A.

REMOVAL OF CHURCH

At a special meeting of the Mill street congregation, Port Hope, held on Friday evening, the business in connection with the transfer of the church land to the G.T.R. was concluded. There was a large attendance and not one member voting against it, the resolution carried. The money will be paid immediately, and the special committee are rapidly getting plans in shape to build. The services in the old building will be continued for a few Sundays, but not many, as the building must be removed by May 15th.

A STIRRING ADDRESS

There was a fair attendance at the evangelistic meeting for men at the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday at four o'clock. One of the most stirring, convincing addresses of the season was given by Rev. A. H. Brace, who spoke on the subject, "The Race—How to Win." He spoke on the course, the runner and the conditions of success. He concluded with a most earnest appeal to unsaved men to take Jesus Christ. Messrs. Thornton and Callendar sang a duet, which added much to the impressiveness of the meeting.

A SOCIAL HOUR

The Saturday Bible Club held a very enjoyable hour of good-fellowship after the lesson on Saturday evening. It was the first social of the season under the auspices of the Bible Club. Mr. Berry presided at the piano and gave several excellent selections besides playing accompaniments for those who sang. Messrs. Lane, Seddon, MacLaren and W. Colman rendered well selected songs, which were heartily applauded. Mr. A. Airries recited and Mr. Williamson read an account of "How the Wiggses Spent Labor Day." All the numbers were much enjoyed. Later, refreshments were served, the evening being brought to a close with "God Save the King." The officers of the Bible Club are:—President, W. Sliner; Secretary, Wm. MacLaren; leader of study, Mr. J. C. Shook. The club has an enrollment of 35.

Afternoon Tea

DEAR MADAM:

We cordially invite you to attend a DEMONSTRATION OF KENNEDY'S TEAS, to be given in our Store on the afternoon of Wednesday and Thursday, March 27th and 28th.

Tea and light refreshment will be served from 3 to 6 each day, and Thursday evening 8 to 10, under the direction of Mr. Thomas Hooper.

We will esteem it a favor if you, accompanied by friends, can make it convenient to attend. Yours respectfully,

H. P. Kennedy

Mr. Keith Will Come

Accepts the Pastorate of Knox Presbyterian Church

Mr. J. W. Bennet received a telegram this afternoon from Rev. Henry J. Keith, M. A., of Smith's Falls, accepting the invitation to Knox church. Mr. Keith preached here some time ago, and the members of the congregation will be pleased to know that he has accepted the unanimous call to Knox church.

MR. DAWSON KENNEDY WILL GIVE ADDRESS

On Joseph Howe and Thomas D'Arcy McGee at Conservative Rooms

The next public entertainment in connection with the Young Conservative Club will be held on Thursday, April 4th. Mr. Dawson Kennedy will give an address on Joseph Howe and Thomas D'Arcy McGee. Mr. Kennedy had the pleasure of seeing and hearing both of these great orators when they loomed large in the public life of Canada, and his reminiscences of them will prove very interesting and instructive. No doubt there will be a large attendance, as Mr. Kennedy is a gifted speaker. Mr. Harry Phelan will be the chairman of the evening. On Thursday, April 11th, there will be an "Irish Night" at the Young Conservative Club rooms. Mr. R. E. Layfield will be the chairman.

On Thursday, April 18th, there will be a "Scotch Night" when Mr. Peter Gardner will preside.

TORONTO TRAIN SIX HOURS LATE TO-DAY

Owing to Freight Cars Being Derailed at Brady's Siding.

The C.P.R. express from Toronto which reaches Peterborough every day at 11.38, was over six hours late today, being held at Myrtle station owing to the line being blocked.

The delay was caused by several freight cars being off the track, at Brady's Siding, a station midway between Myrtle and Burketon. It appears that the freight train which was east bound, was going into the siding when three or four cars were derailed at the frog.

An auxiliary was sent up from Havelock to clear the line. It is reported that the track was torn up for some distance. No one was injured in the mishap, but it is rumored that the damage to property will be considerable.

There was great disappointment in the city, owing to the detention of the train, and the Toronto papers had not reached Peterborough at a late hour this afternoon.

The 11.38 C. P. R. express is generally on time, and the delay today was the longest in several months.

Brady's siding is about forty miles west of Peterborough, and as stated, is between Burketon and Myrtle.

WANDERERS TOOK THE FIRST GAME.

There was another surprise in the hockey world on Saturday night when the Wanderers, of Montreal, defeated the Kenora Thistles at Winnipeg by 7 goals to 2. The ice was rather soft and this favored the challengers, who outweigh the Thistles by a large margin. They used their bodies to good advantage and soon used up the lighter Thistle men. Alf. Smith and Whitcroft were the stars of the Kenora line-up. The former Peterborough boy is said to have played a great game.

The second game will be played tonight, and unless something surprising happens, the Wanderers will likely bring east the Cup, as goals count in the two games.

House Work Need Not Wear Her Out

The drudgery of house work seems never ending to tired-out, dispirited women who suffer from female complaints or irregularities. Inflammation and ulceration cause fearful bearing-down pains which are aggravated by much standing on the feet, and lifting necessary in house work.

But let no woman despair of relief from this torture. That famous tonic reconstructor of diseased or disordered female organism.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

has cured more than one million American women, and it will cure you. When troubled with painful irregularities, when backaches and headaches drive out all ambition, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will bring back health, strength, and happiness.

It Made Me a Well Woman

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than doctors or medicines. I suffered for four months with suppression of monthly periods. Headaches were a daily occurrence. Pains in my back and limbs made it hard for me to attend to my domestic duties.

The medicines I had taken did not help me, and I was in misery and despair until one day I read an account of your Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and I thank God that I did so, for it not only regulated my monthly periods, but made me a well woman.

MADAME CAROLINE MARTINEAU, 22 La Chapelle St, Quebec, Que.

Do not let disease make headway. Write at once to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and will contain information of great value to you. Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Mass Meeting in the Opera House Sunday Afternoon a Big Success

Twelve Hundred People Filled the Place to the Very Doors—Excellent Music by a Choir of Sixty Voices—Splendid Addresses by Local Clergy and Mr. Jos. Cleal.

Twelve hundred men, women and children crowded the opera house yesterday afternoon. It was the occasion of the first mass meeting which has been held in the city this year, and it was the first time the Brotherhood of St. Andrew ever undertook such a large work. The Brotherhoods of St. John's, St. Luke's and All Saint's churches, joined together and established a precedent, which not a few hope to see followed up.

The mass meeting so far as attendance and co-operation on the part of the audience was concerned was more than the most optimistic dared to anticipate. Every seat on the ground floor and in the balcony was occupied, while the gods contained a large number. Every person joined in the singing when possible, every head was reverently bowed in prayer, and while the different speakers were expounding the Gospel of Christ, the large audience sat in rapt attention.

The personnel of the audience was, as one speaker stated, inspiring. There were laborers and mechanics who seldom step over the threshold of a church, there were mothers there with their little children, young ladies and young men, business men and professional men, all sitting together as one great family, met for the same purpose. A similar sight is never seen in any one church. Then, the Christian fellowship feeling displayed by the audience was creditable to all.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew, deserve great credit for introducing the mass meeting, and for the very successful manner, in which they carried it through. The arrangements were all that could be desired and there was undoubtedly a great deal of good accomplished. As a matter of fact, hundreds of those in the opera house Sunday afternoon were not at all backward in expressing the pleasure it afforded them to attend, and hoped that the Brotherhood would make this, only the first of a long series of such meetings.

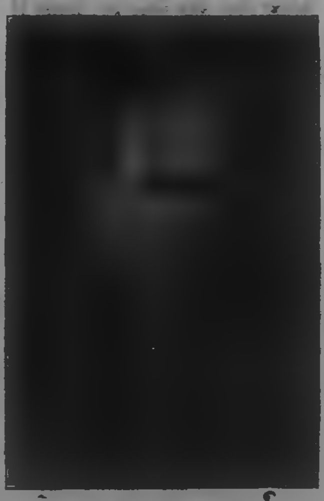
On the platform was a choir of sixty voices, representing the three Anglican Churches. These musicians, accompanied by the orchestra led the singing. Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, rector of St. Luke's, occupied the chair, and extended a hearty welcome to all present.

The service was opened with the singing of the Brotherhood hymn, "Jesus Calls us o'er the Tumult," which was heartily sung by the large audience, after which Rev. Wm Major read the prayers and the Apostle's Creed was said.

Rev E. A. Langfeldt said it was an inspiration to see such a large number of people present. It was indeed an encouragement and he hoped all would go away blessed as a result of being present.

Mr. Geo. Chandler was then heard in a well rendered selection from "Elijah." Miss Helen Davies was also heard to great advantage in the rendering of "The Palms."

Rev Canon Davidson then gave an inspiring address on the subject of "Help." The reverend gentleman said we all needed help. It was an evident fact that it was impossible for us to stand alone. Satan makes a pretence of helping, but his is the wrong kind of assistance. In many dangerous moments we feel the need of some help and we desire to be helped. If you think you cannot be assisted by your fellowman, come to the church. It can help you in many ways. Look to Christ and He will give you that spiritual help, which is above all other assistance that can be offered you.



REV. E. A. LANGFELDT,
Who presided at the big Sunday mass meeting in the Opera House.

MR. CLEAL'S ADDRESS

Another hymn was sung, after which Mr. Joseph P. Cleal, a prominent Brotherhood man of Toronto, addressed the gathering. Mr. Cleal, in his opening remarks, said he was glad to see such a large number present. They certainly had some good purpose in coming and he hoped that purpose would be realized. Mr. Cleal's address was a masterly effort. He is a fluent, earnest speaker and touches everyone with his fervent appeal, and his words are far-reaching in their effect. He based his instructive address yesterday afternoon on the question which Pontius Pilate asked when Jesus was brought before Him. "What shall I do with Jesus, which is called Christ?" Pontius Pilate's question was one which was troubling many today. The speaker gave a vivid picture of the circumstances which resulted in these words being spoken. Jesus revealed to Pontius Pilate the true man. Pontius desired to wash his hands of the responsibility of dealing with Christ. He knew he was dealing with a just man. He turned Him over to another. The speaker said it was not only the Roman governor who tried to wash his hands of this question, but many of us today were trying to put it onto others. We can put it by, but it still looms up and will have to be answered. Face the question earnestly and study it and you can settle it. "Why can it not be answered?" asked the speaker. The image of Jesus Christ is in all men to help them, but they also need the help of their fellowmen. We are all loyal Canadians, said Mr. Cleal and did we ever stop to consider what made our ancestors and the Anglo-Saxon race outstrip all others in civilization? It is the answer to that question of Pontius Pilate. It is manhood that makes a nation.

Discoveries of great works of Science, Art and Electricity will make a place famous, but manhood is above all these in the making of a nation. The world is calling for men with a purpose in every walk of life. Men should keep striving till they reach the high standard of life which nearest resembles the life of Jesus Christ. The speaker remarked that we were often too busy looking after ourselves to go and help men. He urged the Brotherhood of St. Andrew to get after the men and save them from falling and going down deeper and deeper into sin. Mr. Cleal said he would rather go after a man or boy who had a leaning toward the bad side. He said he was often better than the one who told you he was on the good side. The speaker referred to a game in which the players had to keep in line and follow their leader. It was the same with religion. It is a game and players must keep in line. He urged the young men to get in line and be good and consistent church goers. The church wants the service and nobility of a young man. Do not wait until your declining years to give yourself to Christ, but give yourself to Him when young that you may be of service to the Master. Be not like counterfeit money. Whilst it bears the image of the sovereign, yet it lacks the ringing sound that good money has. Just so, whilst many of us bear the image of the Master, we lack the enthusiasm of a Christian. The speaker, in conclusion, said we could not but afford to be Christians, and he urged all to lead an earnest and Christian life.

The meeting was then closed by the singing of a hymn and the benediction pronounced by Rev E. A. Langfeldt.

A collection was taken up at the door to defray expenses, which were very heavy. Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons very kindly gave the opera house free of charge and assumed all expenses. Thus the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, under whose auspices the meeting was held feel very much indebted to Messrs. Turner for their generosity.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH

The following meetings and services will take place at St. Luke's during this week.

The fortnightly meeting of the Men's Guild will be held at the residence of Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., Water street, tonight at 8 o'clock.

The Girl's Auxiliary meets tonight at eight o'clock in the infant class room.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew meets on Tuesday at eight o'clock in the infant class room.

The monthly meeting of the W. A. will be held on Thursday at 2.30

The weekly Lenten services will be held on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock.

On Good Friday morning prayer will be said at 10 a.m. From 12 noon to 3 p.m. the "Three Hours' Suffering of Our Redeemer upon the Cross," will be commemorated, and addresses on the "Seven Words from the Cross." will be given by the rector. The collection on Good Friday is for the Evangelization of the Jews. Those who do not want to remain in church for the three hours may come, and go while the hymns are being sung.

There will be no Mission Band meeting on Friday.

The Holy Sacrament of Baptism be observed on Easter evening, and on Easter morning at ten o'clock.

The rector asked for contributions of flowers for the decoration of the chancel.

Last night Mr. J. P. Cleal, manager of the National Cash Register Co. gave a soul stirring address at St. Luke's on "Daniel." A large congregation was present. Miss Lillian Moore gave a most excellent rendering of "The Palms."

The chancel of St. Luke's church was decorated with palms, emblematic of the significance of the day.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

A regular meeting of the Young People's Society will be held in St. Andrew's church this evening. Rev. Dr Marsh, of Springville, will give on "Some lessons to be learned from notable men and women outside the Bible.

The Presbytery of Peterborough will hold a special meeting in the church to-morrow.

The regular weekly prayer meeting will be held on Wednesday evening.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

The pulpit in St. Paul's church was occupied yesterday morning by Rev. Dr. Torrance, and in the evening by Rev. A. Bright.

The regular weekly prayer meeting will be held on Wednesday night.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be dispensed in St. Paul's church on Sunday, April 14th. The class for communicants will meet on Wednesday evening next at 7.15 o'clock.

At the evening service on Sunday, Miss Helen Davies sang "The Palms," with splendid effect. Mr. James Dawson also rendered a solo in good voice.

The Home Missionary Auxiliary of St. Paul's and Knox churches will hold its regular monthly meeting in Knox church on Wednesday afternoon next at 3.30 o'clock.

MURRAY ST. CHURCH

The Young People's Society meet to-night at 8 o'clock.

To-morrow night at 8 o'clock Rev. J. R. Webb will give his lecture on "A Vocation in London and Paris," illustrated by stereopticon views.

On Wednesday evening the usual prayer meeting will be held. After the meeting the semi-annual business meeting of the Baraca class will be held.

MARK STREET CHURCH

The Epworth League meets tonight at eight o'clock. Mrs. S Taylor will lead the meeting, and Rev. Mr. Lewis will take the topic.

SUBALTERNS SCARCE

And Right Men Don't Get the Non-Coms'. Jobs.

An Ottawa despatch says: The annual report of the militia council says there is still a regrettable deficiency of qualified subaltern officers and competent section commanders. A considerable amount of inefficiency also appears to exist in the non-commissioned ranks, men without experience or knowledge of their duties being often appointed sergeants or corporals for other than military reasons. This is being inquired into.

The council records again the conviction that twelve days' training is too short a time to enable the soldier to attain even moderate acquaintance with his duties. The allotment of sixteen days to the field artillery has had a markedly good effect. Attention is again called to the fact that the area at Niagara is quite inadequate, and a suitable site to replace the camp there is needed.

MONDAY, MARCH 25, 1907.

THE FIELDING TARIFF

Nearly three months ago the Canadian people were cordially requested to raise their voices in glorification of the Minister of Finance, and his newly introduced "scientific" tariff. It seems after a lapse of ninety days or so that the tariff is so highly scientific and complicated as to baffle the understanding of Hon. W. S. Fielding, and doubtless the three other eminent statesmen who paraded up and down the country, sleeping in their seats, securing data and handing out to Grit newspaper reporters ready-made interviews with a lavish hand. No, the tariff seems to be far from being a finality. The Minister of Finance has cogitated for three calendar months and has decided that in respect of no less than a hundred and twenty items he was all wrong. So he arises in Parliament and requests the House to shove duties up here, pull them down there, wipe them out utterly elsewhere, and add a bounty to them in another place. This is high finance; this is scientific tariff making by a gentleman who, we are told, possesses the ability of Thiers, Gladstone, Pitt, Peel, and John D. Rockfeller all rolled into one.

The cold truth, as the Winnipeg Telegram points out, is that what W. S. Fielding and his compeers most earnestly desire is an adjustable tariff, which they can swing around, remodel, dilate and diminish just as they please. And their very human endeavor is to be allowed to do this without let or hindrance or criticism from the Parliament of Canada. In a word, they want to manage the tariff by Star chamber methods; they want to be able to shove on taxes—when it pays them—and to take them off—also when it pays them—exactly as was the fashion in the good old days of Thomas Cromwell and Wolsey. The latter financiers, it must be allowed, were responsible to the King. The Laurier-Fielding clique desire to be responsible only to themselves. Thus, by means of their "intermediate" tariff stratagem they can make a ten cent cut in the ordinary tariff, and a twenty-five per cent inroad on the British preference whenever, to suit their own or their party's need, they choose to do so. All that is necessary, should a manufacturer become restive, is for the Cabinet to announce that it will make a reciprocal arrangement with one or half a dozen countries producing goods like those made by the Canadian. That is all that is needed; Parliament, under this beautiful Fielding fiscal system, need not be told a word about the change. The manufacturer will wake up some morning and find his business destroyed—that's all.

Of course, another part of the Fielding scheme is to be able to coerce Canadian manufacturers by threats of setting the big American dog on them. Campaign funds are going to be required more and more at Ottawa and no matter how profitable boodling operations can be carried on by means of Arctic steals and by deals by which the Government buys lands at an enormous price—a percentage to be returned to the party funds—there will be a call from Ottawa for more and more. The intermediate tariff is to be used as a means to get money not alone from the manufacturers, but from farmers and gardeners and miners and smelters.

PEN POINTS

Port Hope has at last secured a convention. The next meeting of the Orange Grand Lodge for Ontario East, will meet in the lakeside town.

Joseph Phillips got five years in the penitentiary, for making false returns in connection with the York County Loan affairs. There are not many who will regard the sentence as unduly severe.

Just one word in your ear, young man. There's a nice cushioned seat waiting for you in some church, and if you hold it down you'll feel a whole lot better on Monday morning than if you did the statue act, in a Front street doorway. Just try it and see.—Belleville Intelligencer.

The Liberal party in Ontario is to make a special effort to attract the labor vote. Having everything to gain and nothing to lose, the promises made the workingmen will be liberal. If the time should ever come for their redemption, the labor men will have an opportunity of appreciating how the temperance people felt after an experience of several years of promise and hedging.—Montreal Gazette.

The Ontario Government has decided on increasing the grant to the Salvation Army for immigration purposes from $7,000 to $16,000 for the current year, as a mark of its appreciation of the Army's work. The object is a deserving one and the money will be well and wisely expended. General Booth stated in his address in Toronto the other day that the Army intended bringing 20,000 immigrants to Canada this year.

There are said to be no less than 6,000 miles of railway under contract for the present year in Canada. The Railway Age reports 11,912 miles of railway under construction in the United States. In Canada the M.C.R. has new lines mapped out to the extent of 1,492 miles. Other big items are the Grand Trunk Pacific contracts amounting to 1,900 miles; Canadian Northern, 1,500 miles, and Great Northern, 1,000; This is truly Canada's growing time.

The department of railways seems to be an easy one for a tired official to work. Mr. Emmerson brought down a statement recently, explaining that one of his clerks whose pay had been increased by 50 per cent. since 1899, had been absent one hundred and ninety days since July, 1905. Part of the time he was on leave without any reason given, and for the rest he furnished a medical certificate. The superior officer at Moncton, refused to certify the pay roll in his case, but the delinquent went to the general manager, who consulted the minister, and payment for the whole time was ordered. The clerk in question has other occasions shown that he has a peculiar pull with Mr. Emmerson. It is an influence which does not depend on his efficiency in the public service.

Next Sunday will be Easter Sunday. The impressive anniversary will be observed by special services in Peterborough churches, and sermons and music appropriate to the occasion will be contributed. The origin and meaning of the glad Easter tide is interesting. The word "Easter" is derived from the name of a Saxon goddess, "Ostarra," or "Osterr." She was the personification of the East, of the morning and of spring. The month of April was dedicated to her and was called "Easter month" among the Angles and Saxons. Her worship struck deep in Northern Germany, and was carried to England by the Saxons. Among Christian Germanic peoples the name was adopted as the name of the Christian Passover—the atonement wrought by the death of Christ on the Cross—and of the festival commemorating the resurrection of Christ. At first this Christian Passover was celebrated on the same date as the Hebrew, the 14th day of the month Nisan, but later a change was made to the following Sunday, doubtless primarily to accentuate the difference between Judaism and Christianity. The way in which Easter day is now determined is that of the first Sunday after the paschal full moon (14th day of the calendar moon, or the full moon which happens upon or next after the 21st of March.) If the full moon happens on a Sunday, then Easter day is the first Sunday following. Good Friday is commemorative of the crucifixion.

ADVICE AS TO GOOD FRIDAY

Attention of Catholics Called to Amusements on That Day

At the different services at St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday, Rev. Father McColl drew attention to the presentation of Kerry Gow at the Grand opera house on Good Friday, and also to the probability of there being roller skating on that day. He felt that it was not necessary for him to ask all faithful Catholics refrain from the places of these amusements on Good Friday, which was a day of special religious significance.

Building Operations in Peterborough

No Less Than $615,000 Spent in New Buildings in 1906

An Ottawa despatch says;

The Labor department has issued an interesting report on building operations in Canada last year. It applies to 41 cities of the Dominion an estimate of the toal values of the buildings erected being obtained in each case.

The total value of buildings erected in these cities was $58,140,294. Of this total the City of Toronto contributed $13,160,398, being the locality in which building was most active in 1906. The City of Winnipeg stood second, with a total of $12,760,450. Montreal third with $8,600,300 and Vancouver fourth with $4,235,910. The remaining cities in which the value of building, during 1906, exceeded $500,000 were;

Port Arthur,	$2,894,760.
Hamilton,	$2,124,815.
Edmonton,	$1,869,069.
Ottawa,	$1,728,975.
Calgary,	$1,482,984.
London,	$1,200,000.
Fort William,	$1,152,240.
Moose Jaw,	$843,221.
Brandon,	$748,672.
Victoria,	$699,300.
Halifax,	$688,315.
Peterborough,	$615,000.
Belleville,	$600,000.

FOREIGNERS ARE NOT DESIRABLE

Will Have to Pay Double License Fees to Shoot in Ontario Woods.

Deer licenses for those not residents of Ontario, $50; wild duck licenses for those not residents of Ontario, $25. Such was the decision of the fish and game committee of the legislature yesterday. Last year a license fee of $25 carried everything, including deer.

At some length the committee discussed, and finally decided to leave to the House, an amendment providing for the issue of fishing leases on Crown lands, covered by water, with such rights, rentals and conditions as are deemed expedient. The suggested amendment provides that no one lease shall cover more than two square miles, nor be granted for lands nearer than 20 miles from other leased land. The free passage of fish into or out of reservations must not be hindered.

Serious Loss of Verulam Farmer

Cow Kicked Lantern Over—Barn Was Burned

The Fenelon Falls Gazette says,—On Monday evening last a fire occurred on Mr. Henry Sproule's farm near Red Rock in Verulam. Mrs. Sproule, had gone with her children, to visit her father, Mr. Lancelot Junkin, two or three miles distant; and about seven o'clock, Mr. Sroule went to the barn to attend the live stock, before going to fetch his family home. Unfortunately he placed the lantern on the floor a little too close to one of the cows, which kicked it over, and some hay or straw caught fire. After stamping it all out, as he imagined, he hitched up his team and started for his father-in-law's, but the fire was not out, and the barn was in flames a short time after Mr. Sproule left. Some neighbors assembled as quickly as possible; but not quickly enough to do any good. The building which contained the vehicles and implements, stood near the house and escaped destruction, but the barn and some sheds were burned, together with the whole of their contents, which included nine cows, two calves and a quantity of hay and grain. We regret to learn that but little of the loss is covered by insurance.

CHARGED WITH BLOCKING CROSSING

C.P.R. Alleged to Have Stopped Traffic on George St. for Eight Minutes

At the police court this morning before his Worship Magistrate Dumble, W. B. Dodd agent for the C. P. Railway, was charged with having on March 21st allowed cars to ing or March 21st allowed cars belonging to the C.P.R. to stand on the track across George-st., thus obstructing the street so that street cars and other vehicles were unable to get by for a period of eight minutes. W. H. Moore appeared for Mr. Dodd and pleaded not guilty. He asked for an enlargement until tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock in order that they might bring the engineer of the train as a witness. The engineer would be passing through here tomorrow morning and the train will remain long enough to allow him to give evidence at the police court.

The Ashburnham Creek Overflow

Water Covered Douro Street But no Damage to Property is Reported

The creek running through east city has during the past week, risen considerably, but the worst results are past and few people, if any, have suffered. Mr. Alex. Fitzgerald, street commissioner, has kept a watchful eye on the creek and prevented any overflows which occurred in other years as a result of the ice becoming jammed. Where the creek passes Douro street, the water was much higher than anywhere else. Here it rose over the sidewalk and road and for awhile it was impossible for one to travel this way. The gardens bordering on the creek were also plentifully watered and in some cases cellars were flooded.

At the corner of Mark and Hunter streets the lot on which is situated Weir and McIntyre's wood yard, is completely covered with water and Mr. Weir has been busily employed preventing his wood being carried down the stream. The creek is not so high this year as in previous years, due probably to the fact that the amount of rain which has fallen so far is not nearly as heavy as usual, neither was there a great fall of snow this year.

The Fire Insurance Agents May Organize

Circular Issued Suggesting That United Action be Taken

A circular letter issued within the last few days suggests that fire insurance agents throughout Canada, form an association for mutual protection, and for the furtherance of common interests. The concluding clause says,—

"In many of the United States, there are associations of agents, embracing nearly everyone actively engaged as a fire insurance agent, and it is a question if the time has not come when it would be wise for the agents in Canada to organize to combat some of the evils and practices from which they suffer, including, non-resident brokers and also insured who freely import insurance without payment of duty, while crying out for protection on their own goods."

Special Services at the Cathedral

This being Holy week, there will be special services at St. Peter's cathedral, as follows,—On Thursday, at eight o'clock, a.m., His Lordship Bishop O'Connor will celebrate mass and blessed the oils to be used at the services during the year. Afterwards the blessed sacrament will be conveyed to the repository in the sacristy, where it will remain until Good Friday. There will be a service, Thursday evening at eight o'clock.

On Friday morning at nine o'clock, mass of the pre-sanctified will be celebrated, three o'clock in the afternoon, stations of the cross, and at 7.30 o'clock, the sermon on the passion, will be preached.

On Saturday morning, mass will be celebrated at seven o'clock, during which the paschal candle in the baptismal and the Easter waters, will be blessed.

Dairy Meetings Held To-morrow

Annual Meeting of the Cheese and Butter Association

An important meeting will be held under the auspices of the Eastern Dairymen's Association and Farmers' Institute, tomorrow, Tuesday, in the County Council Chamber, Peterborough, at 1.30 p. m., wher addresses will be delivered as follows;

By Mr. G. G. Publow, chief dairy instructor for Eastern Ontario, subject, "The Cheese-Making Industry."

By Alex. Hume, Esq., of Menie, subject, "Selection and care of dairy cattle and the production of bacon."

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock the annual convention of the Cheese and Butter Association of Peterborough Section will be held for the election of officers. Messrs. Publow and Hume will be present. A full attendance of all interested is requested at both meetings, ladies included.

Port Hope Gets New Factories

While Cobourg Fails to Land Any New Industries

It seems strange that Port Hope have been adding to their factories right along, and have still applications for more, and Cobourg, even will all its advantages, has not an applicant. Why don't our manufacturing committee do something. Why don't they act? They cannot wait until people come to them. They must make our town, and its resources, its advantages and its decidedly better chances than even our Port Hope friends know. We believe that Couns. Kerr and Maher are on this committee, then why don't they act. They are not there for figure-heads, they must do something or else resign from the honorable position that they hold. We say, gentlemen, move on, you cannot occupy a corner and keep others away. Then do something, or else acknowledge that you are incompetent.—Cobourg Sentinel-Star.

Winnipeg Tribune on the Final Game

Says Whitcroft Was the Star of the Thistle Attack

Regarding the final game between Kenora and Brandon, the Winnipeg Tribune has the following to say: "And by the way, Eddie Geroux played one of the best games of the season in goal for the Thistles. Geroux possibly did not have as many hard shots as Quinn, but he was hard worked on many occasions and once or twice came out of the nets to save the situation. Whitcroft was the star of the Thistle attack. It was by long odds the best game that he has played in the West, and it was a great game. His work around the nets of his opponents was particularly good, he scoring no less than three of the four goals made by the Thistles. Alf. Smith, too, did sterling work on the wing, while "Rat" Westwick was prominent throughout. Tommy Phillips did not show up with his accustomed brilliancy, but it was because he tried to work more into combination."

New Post Office at Drummonds

Daily Mail Service Began To-day —Robert Carey Postmaster

A new post office has been opened up at Drummond's Station, on the line of the G.T.R. between Peterborough and Belleville. Mr. Robert Carey, who is a brother of ex-County Councillor John Carey, of Otonabee, is the postmaster. There will be a daily mail service which began today. The mail will leave Peterborough each afternoon on the two o'clock train. The opening of the post office at Drummond's will be a decided convenience for many residents in that vicinity who heretofore had to go to Keene for their mail, necessitating, in many cases, a drive of three or four miles. The residents at and near Drummond's, now have their own post office.

POWER COMPANIES SHOULD GET BUSY

Cobourg Paper Thinks it is High Time for Action

There is a lot of talk of electric power says the Cobourg Sentinel-Star, but, we, as the poor unsophisticated voter, would like to know what good there is in talk. We can all talk, but the man that acts is but per cent the best man for the public. Let us have some of this power, let us enjoy before we die the privileges of light and heat from the vast resources of our country. If it is to be Niagara, let us have Niagara power; if it is to be Healey Falls, Burleigh Falls or Baltimore, let us have it. Anything rather than this suspense. What we say is, give us power from where or how, we don't care a continental. We are living in a live age, we cannot wait like in age of Methuselah, or sleep like Rip Van Winkle. We must be active, or we will rust and rot, and die with vast resources in our brain, but no way of using these resources. Our electric light franchise runs out soon. Have we to renew at ruinous rates, or must the municipality run the power? We are a long suffering people, and suffer on from year to year, and only get the cold hand of hardship. What is Deputy Reeve W. J. Maher now doing? Why don't he apply that Baltimore waterfall and give us electric power as well as water? It is up against him to logically get over this conundrum. But seriously, we trust in the interests of the public that he will.

Will Basketball be Forbidden?

The Toronto News on Saturday night contained an article regarding basketball and the Y.M.C.A. Those connected with the gymnasium department of the local Y.M.C.A., are of the opinion that to do away with basketball would be a bad move. The article is as follows,—

Will basketball be forbidden in the Y.M.C.A.? is the question that is agitating the minds of many admirers of this game, who for some years past have detected a tendency among physical directors and others to discourage the pastime.

So far any opposition encountered by the devotees of the sport on this side of the line, at least, has been sentimental than real but the movement, if indications count for anything, will soon take concrete form and it would not surprise those observers of the trend of events if the game received a severe setback before next season.

Just where the opposition originated is not quite clear, but that it is a reality and constantly growing in strength among physical directors throughout Canada, there is no room for doubt.

NERVE WRACKING.

"The game has been receiving more attention than it is entitled to, to the detriment of other, and more healthy and invigorating branches of athletic effort," explained a prominent Y.M.C.A. worker to the News yesterday.

"It is the most strenuous and nerve wracking indoor sport in the athletic world. This is generally acknowledged, and the fact has led a number of physical directors to make enquiries into the effects of the game on the system, in general, and these enquiries have convinced many, that it should be discontinued in our Y.M.C.A.'s."

BAD MORAL EFFECT.

"Apart from the game itself and its injurious physical effects upon the boys, it is felt that in encouraging it the Y.M.C.A. is making a rather radical departure from the course it professes to follow. After all it is not the policy of the association to monopolize and hold all the trophies that are put up for athletic competition.

"Too close pursuit of athletics is liable to cause us to forget that one of our main objects is to prepare a boy morally as well as physically for the battle in after life.

"We cannot give basketball credit for stimulating the moral side of the boy. Rather do many authorities claim that his warps his nature, stimulates too keen a spirit of competition and develops as few other sports does the win at all cost tendency."

BRUTALIZES A BOY'S NATURE.

"Thus we find the player resorting to mean, degrading tricks in order to win games. I contend also, that it brutalizes a boy, and my observation leads me to believe that the longer the game is participated in, the rougher the play grows.

"Further, from the gymnasium standpoint, the encouragement of basketball works a hardship to other members who are not devoted to the game. In fact it frequently happens that the entire membership of a Y.M.C.A. is deprived of the use of the gym for athletic exercise, just to accommodate ten players who wish to play basketball."

BASKETBALL

Two more fast games of the Y.M.C.A. Spring Basketball League will be played Wednesday night in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium begining at eight o'clock sharp. Captains Best and Richardson come together first, then Captains Laing and Dobbin meet at nine sharp. Both games will be fast and provide good sport. No admission fee will be charged. Everybody welcome.

SINGLE HORSES SHOULD BE USED

The Bobcaygeon Independent says, —In the province of Quebec, much of the hauling is done by single horses. In this province the single horse is rare, and pairs of horses are most of their time doing work, that would be as well done by single ones. Teams are continually walking around with mere jags behind that an ordinary well built horse could draw. Mr. Brooks is setting a good example with his black pony, drawing a full cord of green slabs from Grant's saw mill for delivery around too. The little horse draws over two tons at a load by actual weight, and does it with reasonable ease, steadily every day. Ask any teamster to draw two cords of wood, and see how he will look. No sir, he will go pottering around with his two horses, drawing more likely three-quarters of a cord. The same with gravel or sand. Teams go trotting around with jags behind them of three or four barrows full. What is the sense of making good roads and raising heavy draught horses, if the same vehicles are to be used generation after generation. It is nothing but habit or custom, and want of ordinary common sense. Teaming in this district is costing double what it should cost, or another way of putting it, the same amount of work, should be done with half the horses.

SELECTIONS

AMERICAN VIOLINISTS.

New Methods In an Art That Is Old. A Pittsburg Romance.

One of the musical instruments whose popularity never seems to diminish is the violin, alias the fiddle. There is a story to the effect that one of the pioneer settlers of western Pennsylvania gave 1,500 acres of land in exchange for a beautiful instrument made by Steiner, the successor of the renowned Stradivarius, and the land thus given is the site of Pittsburg. Then there is the story of the violin maker in New York who bought up old rafters to turn into instruments, some of his choicest productions being carved out of the wood taken from St. Matthew's, a downtown church razed about half a century ago.

In the country districts the fiddler who presides at dances in barns or town halls is as prominent a figure as ever, and in the schools of music the student of the violin is in a fair way to become the nucleus of the future American orchestra, which today is largely made up of Europeans. In Boston George W. Chadwick, the well known composer, has introduced the practice of using members of the big Symphony Orchestra to sit alongside the pupils composing the Conservatory orchestra and "speed up" the performances. All advanced pupils are required to attend the rehearsals regularly, and the performances are under the direction of Mr. Chadwick himself. There is a good deal of public spirit behind this undertaking, for as the Symphony Orchestra has the support of a banker, Major Henry L. Higginson, so the Conservatory, where this amateur orchestra is training, has a magnificent concert hall, the gift of a Boston merchant, Eben D. Jordan.

Every player in this amateur organization is provided with a fine instrument, if not his own, then one loaned to him. One of the leading manufacturers of violins is authority for the statement that the instruments made in this country are worthy of comparison with any ever made of old and that it is a mistake to assume that the art of manufacturing fine violins passed away with the school of Cremona; hence the assurance that music students in the United States have as many if not more advantages at their disposal than those who study abroad.

In some parts of the country expertness with the violin is a feature of home training, but nowadays American music schools, particularly schools in cities where there are first class professional orchestras, are devoting more attention than ever to the development of players gifted with an aptitude for the art of Paganini.

Iron Production.

The leading technical paper of Germany points out that the United States is striding forward so fast in the production of iron that now it not only leads all the other nations individually, but comes near to surpassing them all combined. In 1905 Germany produced 11,000,000 tons, England 9,500,000, the others smaller amounts down to 47,000 tons produced by India, while the total product of the world outside the United States was 31,000,000. Yet in that same year we produced 23,000,000 tons, more than half the outside world's total product. Figured by percentages, the gains of Canada and Japan are more remarkable than ours. As compared with 1904, Canada very nearly doubled and so did Japan.

Charleston's 3 o'Clock Dinner.

Most of the people in Washington dine between 5 and 7 o'clock. This is called an early dinner, but the Washington people always were a slow set. The usual hour of dining in Charleston is 3 o'clock. It is an old English custom, we believe. At any rate, we fancy it is something of that sort because we cling to it so tenaciously. It is a very inconvenient hour to most people who are engaged in business, but it is the habit and very hard to break. We have the advantage of from two to four hours over the people of Washington, at any rate, because we are just that much ahead of them on the principal feast of the day.—Charleston News and Courier.

Horsehair.

The raw horsehair used in the manufacture of haircloth for upholstering purposes is just now high priced in this country because of the situation which during and since the Russo-Japanese war has prevailed in Russia, whence most of the hair comes. The best of such cloth must have a certain width of weave, which depends upon the length of the hairs, and in this respect the Russian horses are superior, having tails which sweep the ground. Much of the weaving is done in this country. For the narrower weaves of the cloth, used by tailors in lining coats, the hair from American horses on the western plains is used.

Pompous Policemen.

Herr Muerbe, a Dresden schoolmaster, on visiting Halle lately went up to a policeman and, touching his hat, begged in a courteous tone to be directed to his destination. The policeman stared at him and told him that if he desired a reply he must speak more respectfully and take off his hat. This was too much for Herr Muerbe, who asked the policeman not to be insolent. Legal proceedings followed, and the court decided that, while Herr Muerbe was not obliged to take off his hat when addressing a policeman, he must pay a fine for using the word "insolent."

Chas. Fosgren poured hot water on some dynamite at a C.P.R. camp at Lodge, and was instantly killed by an explosion.

IMITATION PEARLS.

They May Be Detected by the Hole Drilled Through Them.

The means of ascertaining the genuineness of pearls, which are frequently imitated with marvelous skill, is especially important to the layman, even though the jeweler may quickly detect them. Imitations are usually lighter than real pearls and generally are brittle, although some are made solid of fish scales and do not break so easily, while the holes, which in the real pearl are drilled very small and have a sharp edge, are in the false larger and have a blunt edge. As a rule, the imitation pearls are like hollow spheres of glass colored internally with a coating imitating the orient of natural pearl.

The manufacture of these articles embraces two series of operations—the production of the sphere and the introduction of coating. The spheres are produced by the glassblower, who by aid of an enameler's lamp solders the extremity of a tube when the substance is of the right consistency. In this way are obtained very regular little spheres that serve for the composition of the ordinary quality of false pearls.

In the more beautiful imitations the tube employed is slightly opalescent, and the glassblower, besides, gives to the little spheres while they are yet malleable certain slight perceptible inequalities of surface by gently tapping them with a small iron bar. This gives them a still greater resemblance to natural pearls, which are very seldom absolutely regular.—Exchange.

WEIGHT OF PLANETS.

It Is the Mass of the Body That Counts With the Astronomer.

If a ham weighing thirty pounds were taken up to the moon and weighed there, the "pull"—the attractive force of the moon upon the ham—would amount to only five pounds. These would be another weight of the ham for the planet Mars and yet another on the sun. A ham weighing thirty pounds at New York ought to weigh some 800 pounds on the sun's surface; hence the astronomer does not speak of the weight of a planet, because that would depend upon the place where it was weighed. But he speaks of the mass of the planet, which means how much planet there is, no matter where it might be weighed.

At the same time we might, without any inexactness, agree that the weight of a heavenly body should be fixed by the weight it would have in New York. As we could not imagine a planet in New York, because it may be larger than the earth itself, what we are to imagine is this: Suppose the planet could be divided into a million million million equal parts and one of these parts brought to New York and weighed. We could easily find its weight in pounds or tons. Then multiply this by a million million million, and we shall have a weight of the planet. This would be equivalent to what astronomers might take as the mass of the planet.

A Use For His Hat.

A funny incident of a drawing room meeting was recently noticed. A grave looking gentleman, with an unusually tall hat, entered and, seeing no rack in the hall, placed his hat on the floor just behind the door. Pretty soon another grave man entered, with a large, dripping umbrella, and, peering anxiously for the usual receptacle, saw in the gloom the hat resting on the floor. His eyesight was probably poor, for he mistook it for one of the new umbrella holders, and in it he deposited his dripping umbrella. This was an example for those who followed, and in a short time the solemn looking hat was stanchly holding a dozen umbrellas. At the end of the meeting the water in the hat was an inch in depth.—London Tit-Bits.

A Thirsty Cat.

"Perhaps you think the old water in the milk joke has been worked to death, but I've found a new variation of it," said a south side man recently. "You know, I have a small negro girl as a nurse for my children, and one of her duties is to tell stories to the kids just before bedtime. They always listen intently to what she says, and last night I decided to listen too. This is what I heard:

"'An' de cat, she got thirsty, an' got thirstier an' mo' thirsty, an' finally she went to a pan ob milk sittin' in de pantry to get a drink ob watah.'

"I told the story to our milkman this morning, and he didn't laugh at all."

Absentminded.

The judge was at dinner in the new household, according to the Philadelphia Ledger, when the young housekeeper asked:

"Did you ever try any of my biscuits, judge?"

"No," replied the judge. "I never did, but I dare say they deserve it."

An Odd Animal Community.

Natural enemies of the animal world are sometimes found living together in extraordinary communities. J. G. Millais in a volume on animals quotes this experience of an observer: "On one occasion when ferreting I bolted a fox, a cat, a stoat and several rabbits and rats out of the same earth. The fox bolted first, after giving the ferret a nip across the back, from the effects of which it died an hour later. Next came the stoat and then the cat, both of which I shot. Then followed the rabbits and rats promiscuously. It was a large burrow on the bank of a deep, dry watercourse and often held a fox when I ferreted it afterward."

Talking Through a Human Body.

To talk through a human body or a row of human bodies, for the matter of that, is one of the weirdest of the electrician's feats. If a telephone wire be severed and the two ends be held by a person, one in each hand, but far apart, it is quite possible for two individuals to carry on a conversation through the body of the medium as readily and as distinctly as if the line had been properly connected.

Johnny's Horrid Finish.

"If you don't quit eating so much, Johnny," exclaimed Mrs. Lapeling, horrified at the gluttonous propensities of her youngest, "the first thing you know you'll be a regular filibuster!"

Feminine Bravery.

Tom — Do you think women are braver than men? Dick — Yes, I do. I never saw one yet that wouldn't take a chance at marriage. — Detroit Free Press.

A Normal Disadvantage.

"Why do reformers so often come to grief?"

"I have often asked the question," answered Senator Sorghum. "I think it must be because they take up politics as an incidental diversion instead of a regular business. It's the difference between the amateur and the professional."

Shopping Politeness.

"Never point, my dear," said the mother gently.

"But, mamma," objected the little girl, "suppose I don't know the name of the thing?"

"Then let the salesman show you all he has in stock until he comes to the article that is desired."

An Inference.

Father—Young Upperten is going to propose for your hand soon. Daughter How do you know? Father—I hear he has been making inquiries as to my financial standing.

A Question.

"My wife thinks she will never find a better cook than the one we now have."

"Humph! Uh—er—say, what would you call your wife, a pessimist or an optimist?"—Cleveland Press.

Those Wicked Clubs.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

"KERRY GOW."

Joseph Murphy's famous play "Kerry Gow," with Allen Doone in the title role, will be the attraction at the opera house next Friday matinee and night. "Kerry Gow," is a play of mechanical excellence, a theatrical play of great merit. Allen Doone, as an actor of Irish characters is a model of excellence, who possesses a fine, robust, tenor voice and in calling attention to this charming play the "Kerry Gow" from a mechanical standpoint, where will be found upon the stage better realistic effect than the blacksmith shop with its real forge and bellows (which squeak), its real sparks and cinders, its real anvil and horseshoe, its real smoke and blacksmith; then too, there is the exciting horse race, so natural, that while we all know how it will probably end, we are kept on edge for fear that the machinations of villainy will be successful. Finally it is only when these real carrier pigeons have brought their several messages, that we draw a sigh of relief, and then finding ourselves wondering what inspiration it was that dominated the author as he conceived this beautiful drama.

MY WIFE'S FAMILY.

"My Wife's Family" pleased large audiences at the Grand Opera House on Saturday afternoon and night Many ludicrous situations were involved in the presentation of the piece, which was in the broadest sense of the term an uproarious family mixup The play was clean, wholesome and devoid of all horse play and suggestiveness too often found in the lighter forms of entertainment. It was in three acts, and the company, while not strong numerically, was above the average and kept the audience in roars of laughter. Arabella Nagg as "My Wife's Mother," was probably the best in the cast, and as the talkative mother-in-law could scarcely have been improved upon J G McDowell as Doc. Knott, was the principal fun maker of the company, and said and did many ludicrous things. Several good musical and dancing specialties were introduced during the acts and made decided hits with the audience.

The next attraction at the Grand is "Kerry Gow" on Good Friday. Allen Doone, Ireland's sweet singer, has the leading role and is said to be an actor of far above average ability. Lovers of Irish drama in the city and others will give Kerry Gow a hearty welcome.

Senseless Evil of Profanity

Too Much of it Heard on the Streets of Peterborough

A local citizen to-day called the attention of the Review to the prevalence of profanity on the streets of Peterborough, especially among boys and young men, who appear to delight in the use of blasphemous language. He thought that an example should be made of some of the guilty ones. "It does not appear to be known to the people at large," he said, "that the use of profanity is forbidden by law, that one citizen may cause the arrest of another for this offence, and that any policeman is as liable to dismissal in failing in his duty in this or in any other respect. The law is a good one, and there is need for its more strict enforcement. Boys and young men swear and use the most repulsive language in public places, deriving from the gutter some notion that their abandoned conversation makes men of them, whereas those forced to listen to them, experience no sensation but that of utter disgust. There should be more arrests and fines, there should be a crusade against this senseless evil."

Dummer Horse for the West

Mr. Robt. Hunter Left in Charge of Fine Animal To-day

Mr. Robert Hunter, of Dummer, left this afternoon for Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, in charge of the fine Percheron stallion, which has been the property of a syndicate of Dummer and Douro farmers for the past couple of years. It is likely that the animal will be sold to a syndicate of Western farmers as several handsome offers have been made for him. Mr. Hunter expects to remain in the west for several weeks.

Rev. H. M. Manning Will Speak To-night

There was a large attendance at the revival service in George street church last night and the meeting was the best one held yet in point of attendance and interest.

Rev. Dr. Crothers delivered an impressive address from St. John, 3rd chapter and 16th verse; "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

The service this evening will be conducted by Rev. H. M. Manning, pastor of Charlotte street church. The public is cordially invited to attend.

EXPRESSED THANKS

At the regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. last evening, a resolution was passed, expressing the appreciation and thanks of the auxiliary to Mr. C. B. BE BRIGHT—WELL—STRONG
BUILD UP WITH FERROZONE

Ferrozone Adds Vigor and Strength to the System, Purifies and Enriches the Blood, Vitalizes the Nerves and Assures Permanent Good Health.

Let your fight for health begin now, before you feel any warning of physical collapse.

Your whole system needs a thorough cleansing. Likewise, the blood should be purified, made rich and nutritious.

The one cure for that tired, drooping feeling is Ferrozone, the acknowledged king of all tonic medicines.

To restore your appetite you need Ferrozone, certainly you do.

You need it to restore your nerves and to enrich your depleted blood.

The strongest reason why you need Ferrozone is because it will build up your run-down system and make you well.

It's because we know Ferrozone is absolutely certain to cure that we urge everyone in poor health to use it. If depressed, tired, nervous, sleepless, Ferrozone will make you cheery, bright and happy, because it will make you well.

FERROZONE
A Good Appetizer.
MR. AUBREY B. TEMPLEMAN, of Mechias, writes: "I have found the greatest satisfaction in using Ferrozone, and consider it is the best tonic made. I was all run down a few months ago, and in a very miserable state of health. I took a few boxes of Ferrozone, and was surprised at the result. Ferrozone drove away that dull, heavy feeling, and put my system in splendid order. I am never nervous or sleepless, and have a hearty appetite. This is all due to Ferrozone, which I recommend in the strongest way possible."

FERROZONE
Gives Real Vigor.
MRS. NORMAN MACADAM, of Bridgeport, writes: "I am in good health to-day as the result of Ferrozone. Before using Ferrozone I was tired and miserable, lacked energy and ambition. But Ferrozone altered all that. It has built up my system, and given me more real vigor than I ever had before. Ferrozone is a good tonic."

Ferrozone Makes the Weak Strong—the Sick Well

Ferrozone is sold only in 50c boxes, containing 50 Ferrozone Tablets. Six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

Will Sir Wilfred Laurier go to the Colonial Conference?

Mr. Bourassa Says His Duty is to Canada First.

Some Dramatic Moments in the House—Suggestion of a Six Weeks' Adjournment — "Saw-Off" is Indignantly Denied—Mr. Bourassa's Motion For an Investigation Into the Fowler Charges.

Ottawa, March 26.—There were dramatic moments in the House yesterday. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's announcement that he might not attend the colonial conference; R. L. Borden's proposition to adjourn the House for six weeks on Wednesday next; Mr. Bourassa's trenchant charge that the Premier's duty was to remain at home until he had redeemed the honor of Parliament; Mr. Foster's half humorous and audacious retort that if Mr. Bourassa got too gay (the word he used was "rusty") they (the Government and Opposition) might combine to squelch him, promptly repudiated by R. L. Borden's indignant denial that any "saw-off" had been arranged, or was contemplated, followed each upon the other in quick succession, and fairly flashed in the tense atmosphere of the Chamber, electric with apprehensions of to-day.

The House settled back with a sigh of relief when at last the orders of the day were called, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier moved the address for the increase in provincial subsidies.

Isinglass Post Cards in Mail.

Dr. R. W. Walsh (Conservative, Quebec) called the attention of the Government to the fact that postcards made of isinglass were going through our mails, to the great danger of postal clerks and to the public generally. Mr. Lemieux, the Postmaster-General, promised attention.

Mr. Templeman introduced a bill to create a department of mines. This department will include the mines branch of the interior department and the geological survey now connected with the Department of Inland Revenue. One of the present Ministers is to act as Minister of Mines. As a matter of fact, Mr. Templeman, the Minister of Inland Revenue, will be appointed.

Bourassa's Motion.

Hon. George E. Foster interpolated the member from Labelle, Mr. Bourassa, who had given notice of bringing up certain matters to-day affecting members of Parliament; how did he intend to proceed?

Mr. Bourassa said that he proposed to bring up the matters referred to upon motion to go into supply. The first Minister had stated that the report of the insurance commission had made no charges respecting the member for North Toronto, Mr. Foster, which required the attention of this House. Mr. Bourassa could not agree to this. He would, however, offer an amendment to-day, upon going into supply, which would quote from the report of the commission and the comments of the press thereon. The amendment would refer to Messrs. Foster, Fowler, Bennett and Lefurgey, and also to the statements made by Mr. Fowler respecting the connection of Ministers and members with "women, wine and graft."

Mr. Foster: You are taking a leap in the dark.

Mr. Bourassa: Perhaps.

May Not Go.

R. L. Borden asked the Prime Minister whether there was any foundation for the newspaper reports stating that he might not attend the colonial conference.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier feared that he might be unable to go. He desired to go, but owing to the slow progress of the business of the House, he was "contemplating the possibility of canceling the trip."

Mr. Borden then moved the adjournment of the House so as to discuss this matter. It would be a great misfortune, he said, for Canada not to be represented at the conference.

To obviate this possibility, the opposition would make almost any sacrifice or concession. He suggested that when the House adjourned Wednesday next that it stand adjourned for six weeks.

No Saw-Off.

Mr. Borden emphatically denied that there was any saw-off respecting the Fowler charges and other scandals. Any such charges was false and unwarranted. The House should not prorogue until these charges were disposed of. He feared that Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not wish to attend the conference and had always intended to send some Minister in his place.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier resented this insinuation. He was anxious to do his duty, but his duty might be in Ottawa, instead of in London. He hoped to get away. He believed that he could get away by the 5th if the Opposition co-operated with him in hurrying up prorogation.

Hon. George E. Foster thought it important for Sir Wilfrid Laurier to be promptly on hand. No Government bill embodying any question of policy remained undisposed of, except Mr. Oliver's Dominion Lands Act. It would do no harm if that bill was laid over.

Canada First.

Mr. Bourassa continued: "I think if any enthusiasm is exhibited by our Prime Minister or any one else, that the Campbell-Bannerman Government can be safely trusted to stamp it out. The British Government would be just as pleased if all the Premiers remained at home. A former Government issued the invitations, and the present Government, as a matter of courtesy, merely did not recall them. The duty of the Canadian Premier is to Canada first and the Empire afterwards.

"Just now," said Mr. Bourassa, "the most important question before Parliament is the honor of Parliament, Ministers, ex-Ministers and members are under grave suspicion. Let us redeem the honor of Parliament."

Col. Sam Hughes made the novel suggestion that there be no recess for the Easter holidays. Let the House sit on Good Friday and every day from now on until April 5. He did not believe in so many holidays.

Dr. Sproule made a vigorous speech. No friend of the Empire could but lament the failure of Canada to attend the colonial conference. It would have a tendency to put an end to all future conferences.

Mr. Borden's motion to adjourn the House was lost without division, and the House then took up the address to the King, moved by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, praying for an amendment to the B. N. A. Act so as to increase provincial subsidies.

Mr. Crockett (Conservative, N. B.) claimed that the increase to New Brunswick was only apparent; indeed, it would mean a loss. The increase in all the subsidies would cost New Brunswick 42 cents per capita.

Mr. Martin (Conservative, P.E.I.) criticized the inter-provincial conference. It had not attempted to deal with any question before it except the financial question. The question of representation should be settled.

He offered an amendment that all railway debts charged against the province be cancelled and that all interest upon such debts be refunded.

Mr. Roche (Halifax) advised concessions from all sides. Probably no province could ever be entirely satisfied.

Upon the Martin amendment the House divided and the same was lost; yeas 34, nays 96, a party vote, except that Pacquet (Conservative, Quebec) voted with the Government, as did Hughes, the Liberal member from P. E. I.

TROOPS DRIVEN BACK.

Peasants In Roumania Outnumbered Them In Fight.

Bucharest, Roumania, March 26.—There have been several serious conflicts between peasants and troops, notably at Bacess, where 2,000 armed peasants attacked a company of soldiers. The troops fired several volleys, killing 40 peasants and wounding large numbers, but the soldiers were so greatly outnumbered that they finally were obliged to retreat.

At Teleoraman, Wachia, peasants sacked the synagogue and burned 40 houses. The rioters also demolished and pillaged Zimnicea.

The army reserve men are fraternizing with the marauders and participating in the plunder.

Thousands of peasants surround Bosieri De Vede, with the intention of looting if a favorable opportunity arises. The troops there are few.

The total number of troops now in Moldavia is 32,810, but large reinforcements are still required.

DUEL IN MONTREAL.

Unknown Men Exchanged Shots On Sunday Night.

Montreal, March 26.—A duel was fought between two unknown men on Sunday night in a vacant lot in the centre of the city, corner Dorchester and Sanguinet. The sleepers in the neighborhood were awakened by four shots and saw four men leave the lot and enter a cab and drive rapidly away. They were apparently the worse of liquor and had quarrelled. The snow told the tale, for there were two stations fifteen paces apart. The police from the station a block away came and investigated, but there was no clue, and the cab number is not known. There were no blood marks on the snow.

The Speaker's Condition.

Toronto, March 26.—At an early hour this morning Hon. Mr. Speaker St. John lay very critically ill.

Perfectly conscious, but hardly noticing anything around him, the Speaker lay fighting a grim life and death struggle at close quarters with the inevitable dark angel.

Not before 7 a.m. will the physicians, who are gravely watching the case, be able to even prognosticate the result.

"Very critical, but not hopeless," is the utmost the doctors can say.

Dr. Bruce said immediately after the operation that a man of Speaker St. John's physique would be in a very critical state for 48 hours, but it is hoped that Mr. St. John's regular life and habits will help him through the ordeal.

FRANCE AND MOROCCO.

Troops to Occupy Oudja Until Reparation Is Made.

Paris, March 26.—The Moroccan situation, which has been forced into the background for a year past by acute internal problems, has been brought to the front by the assassination in Morocco City of Dr. Mauchamp.

Members of the chamber from the department of Saone et Loire, where Dr. Mauchamp lived, will interpellate the Government to-day. M. Fernand Rubief, Radical Socialist, will read a number of letters from the doctor, in which he complains bitterly of his abandonment by the French authorities, giving instances of their slackness and inactivity.

Furthermore, the Socialists are able to seize this opportunity to attack the Government in retaliation for their recent defeat in the matter of the strike by the electricians of Paris.

The ministry is fully alive to the importance of the situation and is ready to offer a full explanation to the chamber.

The decision of the Cabinet yesterday to send French troops to occupy Oudja, in Morocco, was unanimous. The occupation of this point will be continued until full satisfaction has been accorded.

The French demands include the punishment of the murderer of Dr. Mauchamp, indemnity for the family of the victim and the appropriation of a large sum for the foundation of a charitable institution in Morocco in memory of Dr. Mauchamp.

POISONED HER BABY.

Mohawk Waif Placed on Trial For Her Life.

New York, March 26.—Jennie Burch, a quarterbred Mohawk, who in September last poisoned the infant son of Herbert Winship, a wealthy farmer, of Cowles' Corners, Putnam County, was placed on trial yesterday for her life at Carmel, N.Y. It is her fifteenth birthday anniversary.

On the day of the baby's burial she flung herself upon the child's casket and sobbed out a confession of how she had fed the infant a poisoned peach. She said she had loved her little charge, and because of her great love had killed it.

Medical men and other men of science who have examined and studied the girl differ as to her sanity.

Jennie Burch was a waif, and was given a home by the Winship family four years ago. The farmer and his family treated the girl as one of their own.

The girl is to be tried before Supreme Court Justice Mills, who has appointed two lawyers to defend her. It is believed they will attempt to prove insanity at the time of the murder.

AGED WOMAN MURDERED.

Son Arrested On Suspicion of Having Killed His Mother.

San Francisco, March 26.—A brutal murder was discovered at North Oakland yesterday. The body of Mrs. Martha Soderberg, 64 years old, was found hidden in a closet of her home. Erland H. Sodenberg, her son, a stevedore, has been arrested on suspicion of being the murderer. Saturday night he came home intoxicated and quarreled with his mother. When found, Mrs. Soderberg's body, partially clad, was in an upright position and wrapped in a blanket. Her throat was cut, face gashed and one leg almost severed. It is thought that the murderer intended to cut the body up and carry it to the bay, a short distance away.

DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

Man Shoots His Wife, Then Jumps Through Window.

New York, March 26.—Andrew Anderson, aged 45 years, of Brooklyn, late Sunday night shot his wife, Amberg Anderson, aged 46, killing her instantly. Anderson then inflicted a gash in his own throat, and rushing madly to the roof of the 3-storey tenement, where the couple lived, jumped to the yard below. Although Anderson's skull was fractured he got up and ran for some distance before he could be taken into custody. The man was conveyed to a hospital, where he was declared to be in a critical condition. Jealousy was the cause of the tragedy.

Killed His Little Brother.

Toronto, March 26.—With its head crushed in, the 6 months old baby of Nathan Winberg of 226 Chestnut street, was found dead in its cradle at 10 o'clock last night. The infant was killed by its 6-year-old brother.

The father reported the circumstance to the police. He said he left the house at 6 o'clock with his wife, leaving the infant in charge of his 6-year-old boy, Hymie.

Returning at 10 o'clock Winberg found the infant dead. Hymie said the child began to cry and he struck it several times on the head with a stove lifter, crushing out the infant's life.

Farthest North Railway.

London, March 26.—Spitzbergen will soon boast the possession of the farthest north railway in the world, which will be built ten degrees further north than the so-called Lofoten Railway, which crosses the Arctic Circle in Northern Scandinavia. The object of the new line is to work the coal deposits of Spitzbergen, which are situated in the interior of the island. The new line will connect them with the coast. The first plan for an earth surface line was abandoned, owing to the natural difficulties. It is now proposed to construct an aerial suspension railway on the Bleichert system.

Senator Berthelot Entombed.

Paris, March 26.—Senator Berthelot and his wife, who died March 18, were entombed in state in the Pantheon yesterday in the presence of a brilliant assemblage, including President Fallieres, the Cabinet Ministers, diplomatic corps, members of the French Academy, judges, deputies, senators and deputations from the learned societies.

William Walter Woodruff died at Niagara Falls, aged 71. He had been mayor, councillor, town solicitor and postmaster of the town.

THAW DENIES RUMOR,

Says There Is No Dissension Between His Counsel.

Evelyn Nesbit Permitted to Visit Her Husband for First Time on Sunday—Prisoner Sanguine as to Result of Trial—Jerome Will Rebut Affidavits of Defence — Feared Thaw Might Kill Someone Else.

New York, March 25.—Harry K. Thaw last night made public another statement, this time denying a rumor, which he believes is current, that there is a dissension among his counsel. He also refers to the affidavits filed with Justice Fitzgerald by his attorneys, opposing the appointment of a lunacy commission to examine him.

The monotony of Thaw's Sunday at the Tombs was broken by an unexpected visit from his wife. This was the first time since his detention that the prisoner was allowed to receive callers other than his counsel on Sunday.

Mrs. Thaw had come to the Tombs with a message for her husband, and was agreeably surprised when told that she might visit him. The two were together for a half hour, and when Mrs. Thaw left she said:

In Excellent Health.

"Harry is in excellent health, and is sure everything will come out in his favor."

During the afternoon, which he devoted chiefly to correspondence, Thaw received a note from Lawyer Daniel O'Reilly, explaining that none of the legal staff would call during the day, and that Mr. Hartridge and the writer were busily engaged in preparing briefs to be presented to Justice Fitzgerald to-day.

Twelve Affidavits.

District Attorney Jerome for about two hours dictated to a corps of stenographers a long statement to be used in rebutting the statements sworn to by Thaw's mother, his lawyers and his alienists, and contained in the twelve affidavits filed by the defence Saturday.

It was reported, but not confirmed, that Mr. Jerome intends to present, not only facts refuting the affidavits presented by the defence, but to submit to Judge Fitzgerald new and corroborative facts supporting the affidavits on which he originally made his suggestion to the court that Thaw's present sanity should be enquired into.

Letters to Lyon.

In his attempt to show that Thaw is insane, District Attorney Jerome filed with his affidavits a number of letters written by Thaw to J. Dennison Lyon, his banker in Pittsburg. Some were written prior to White's death, and some subsequent to it, from the Tombs. They were made public Saturday night through Assistant District Attorney Garvan.

Ill-Spelled, But Sane.

The letters are odd specimens of correspondence, being, in the main, disconnected sentences, with not a few misspelled words, yet they apparently show an appreciation of the practical matters of the life the young Pittsburg man was leading before he was locked up in the Tombs for shooting White, and his plight when he was imprisoned. The contention of Mr. Jerome is, however, that their incoherence and other characteristics, show that the writer is not sane.

Might Seek Other Victims.

The view is taken by prosecution experts that if Thaw were allowed to go free, he would likely have a recurrence of his paranoiac rage and kill some one else. Neither his wife nor Mrs. Holman would be safe. Even Jerome, who has angered the prisoner on several occasions, might be the victim of one of his delusions.

STUDENT SPECIAL WRECKED.

Six Killed and Seventeen Injured In Crash With Limited.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 25.—A special train on the Santa Fe Railway, carrying scores of students home from an intercollegiate field meet at Claremont, collided head-on with the outbound limited train while both were moving at a rapid rate within the city limits last night.

Six persons were killed and seventeen injured, several of them probably fatally.

The Ottawa Electric Railway Co. have voluntarily raised the pay of their employees, 10c a day, thereby increasing the pay roll $10,000 per year.

Bowel Troubles

Liver pills, cathartics, mineral waters, often make Constipation worse. They merely irritate the bowels and force them to move—stop taking purgatives and the bowels become "tight" again.

"Fruit-a-tives" are the one certain cure for Constipation because their action is upon the liver, "Fruit-a-tives" are a liver tonic. They stimulate the secretions of bile by the liver, this bile causes the bowels to move in the natural, regular way and completely cures Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives are fruit juices with tonics and antiseptics added. In "Fruit-a-tives" one atom of bitter replaces one atom of sweet in the fruit juices, forming a new compound which is many times more active, medicinally, than the fruit juices could possibly be. 50c. a-box—$2.50 for 6 boxes. SUNDAY GAMES O. K.

Bishop of Carlisle Speaks of Artificial Sins.

London, March 25.—The Bishop of Carlisle declared himself in favor of Sunday games in the course of a speech which he delivered at Carlisle, at a meeting in support of the National Sunday Observance movement.

"I am distinctly in favor of opening museums and picture galleries on Sunday, but I would have people of leisure act as custodians and guides to visitors to these places," he said.

"It is the same with Sunday games. Recreation is not a sin. We have enough sins in the world, without going about manufacturing artificial sins."

Lid On At Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, Ont., March 25.—The new Lord's Day Alliance law was strictly enforced yesterday at Niagara Falls.

Not a souvenir, ice cream or tobacco and cigar stand was open yesterday, nor an American paper sold in the city.

Many of the residents wended their way to the American city and spent the day and their money there, and the Canadian city was as quiet as a churchyard at midnight.

Rev. T. Albert Moore, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, was here last week.

Ontario Girls to Beware.

Hamilton, March 25.—The Hamilton police have been asked by the American immigration authorities at the Falls to investigate reports of girls being taken from Hamilton, Toronto, and Brantford, and other places in Ontario, to Buffalo for questionable purposes.

The traffic in young girls between here and Buffalo is said to be astounding, according to information furnished the police.

Shaken Again.

Kingston, Jamaica, March 25.—A violent earthquake shock occurred here at 6.40 Saturday evening. The people were panic-stricken. A number of walls damaged in the previous quakes were thrown down. So far as known nobody was hurt. The tourists on the steamship Bluecher just missed the experience, as she sailed shortly before the shock was felt.

Hot In Washington.

Washington, March 25.—All previous records for hot weather in Washington for March were broken yesterday, when, according to the officials of the weather bureau, the thermometer at 2.40 o'clock registered 92 degrees.

Falls Dead On Hot Stove.

Brockville, March 26.—While moving about the kitchen at the home of his brother, John Avery, living near Mallorytown, was stricken with apoplexy and died almost instantly yesterday.

He fell across a hot stove, and the body was slightly burned before members of the household noticed him. He made no outcry.

Avery was about 55 years of age.

900 AGED MEN POISONED.

Old Soldiers Eat Tainted Meat—One Men Dead.

Leavenworth, Kan., March 25.—One death resulted yesterday among the 900 old soldiers at the National Soldiers' Home here who were poisoned Saturday by eating tainted hash.

The victim was William J. Cook, 64 years of age, a member of the 4th Missouri Cavalry. He leaves a widow at Mexico, Missouri.

About seventy-five of the veterans are still in a serious condition, but it is not thought any of these will die. The majority of the others made ill have recovered.

A report that some of those affected were missing was emphatically denied at the home last night. The Government physician said only those who were already suffering from disabilities and were in a weakened condition were seriously affected.

The Government physicians and nurses at the home have worked to the utmost since noon Saturday, and probably have succeeded in saving a score of men who were in a dying condition when found.

The infection worked slowly, nearly four hours having elapsed between the eating of the meat at breakfast and the development of the symptoms.

Then men began to drop off by scores. Ambulances and stretchers were in demand, and many old men lay for hours without the possibility of attention.

THROWS SON TO WOLVES.

Father Destroys His Child to Save His Own Life.

Budapest, March 24.—Johann Horvath, a peasant of Kapi, yesterday threw his 8-year-old son to wolves to save his own life.

He was driving home from Eperies with the boy, when four wolves got on the track of his two-horse cart and overhauled it, the road being in bad condition owing to the melting snow.

Horvath was unarmed, and as the wolves were about to attack him he seized his boy and threw him into the road, when the wolves tore him to pieces.

Horvath escaped, and on reaching Kapi told how the horrible sight of the wolves devouring his child had so fascinated him that he kept looking back until they were out of sight.

A village council was summoned to discuss his conduct, and it was decided to lynch him by clubbing him to death in Hungarian fashion.

His life was saved by the appearance of the police, who had been informed of what was happenings, and Horvath was arrested.

YOUTH AGAIN KIDNAPPED.

Millionaire's Grandchild, Once Stolen By Mother, Disappears.

Berlin, March 25.—A despatch from Hanover says that "Eddy" Krieger, 12 years of age, son of George Krieger of Chicago, who married the daughter of Dr. Bart, a millionaire, has been kidnapped by two masked persons.

The boy's father, after securing a divorce from his wife in America, secretly brought the boy to Germany and entrusted him to a friend in Hanover, where he was educated.

The mother, who has since married a Dr. MacDonald, came to Germany, obtained possession of the boy and took him with great secrecy to Hamburg, from which place he has mysteriously disappeared.

FOUR KILLED IN SNOWSLIDE.

Eight Men Buried Eleven Feet Deep At Logging Camp.

Vancouver, March 25.—Eight men, four of whom were killed, were buried under 11 feet of snow at a logging camp at Howe Sound Saturday.

The snow fall had been so heavy that the foreman decided not to attempt to do any work. The eight men had stayed in the donkey-engine-house when the others went to their boarding-house.

A great pile of snow gave way and crashed down on the engine-house, and, when the men were dug out, only four were found to be alive.

TRAIN GOES THROUGH TRESTLE.

Plunges 25 Feet to Bottom — Three Employes Killed.

Portsmouth, Ohio, March 25.—A Norfolk & Western freight train plunged through a 25-foot trestle yesterday near Lucasville. The trestle was undermined by the flood. The train fell to the bottom. Fireman D. S. Hutton was crushed to death and Engineer J. T. Houser was fatally injured. The brakeman was caught in the wreck and his body cannot be found.

"Resolute" Victim Found.

Toronto, March 25.—What is supposed to be the body of Thomas Topping of Deseronto, the second engineer of the ill-fated barge Resolute, which went down at the eastern gap last November, was picked up in Toronto Bay by Capt. Kingston of the tug Roy Mack, Saturday afternoon.

The captain noticed the corpse imbedded in the ice, and telephoned for the ambulance. The corpse was taken to the morgue.

Although the features are scarcely discernable, Michael Haney, the mate of the Resolute, is satisfied that the corpse is that of Topping, as is also Thomas Barrett of Toronto Junction.

Big Flour Mill Merger.

St Catharines, March 25.—A big flour mill deal has just been completed by the amalgamation of the Hedley Shaw Milling Co. and the Maple Leaf Milling Co. of Kenora.

The new company will erect the largest mill in the Dominion at Kenora, besides greatly increasing the output of both local mills.

There also will be a large number of elevators established in the west.

The Shaw Co. already has plants here, in Thorold and in Oakville.

Winnipeg Taxes Seers.

Winnipeg, March 25.—A new city law taxes palmists, phrenologists and fortune tellers $250 a year in this city.

It will cost Hamilton $30,000 to instal an Electric pump with a capacity of nine million gallons of water daily.

WRECKER OF YORK LOAN

Sentenced to Five Years in the Penitentiary.

Nemesis Overtakes Joseph Phillips After Two Years—Pleads Guilty to Making False Statement of Mortgages and Liabilities — Other Charges Are Dropped—Scathing Remarks by Judge Winchester.

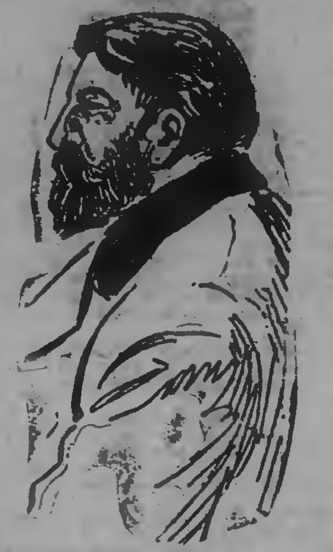
Toronto, March 25.—To the surprise of even Crown Attorney Drayton, Joseph Phillips, former head of the York County Loan and Savings Co., pleaded guilty in the Sessions on Saturday to a charge of making a false return.

Phillips was indicted for publishing a false statement, viz., the annual statement of the year ending Dec. 31, 1904, in which the company's mortgages on land were overstated by $8,465.20, and the liabilities to shareholders were understated to the extent of at least $1,000,000.

Five years in the penitentiary was the sentence.

How He Took It.

Although his gaze only dropped to the floor when it was pronounced, Joseph Phillips received the sentence of five years in Kingston penitentiary as a blow.



JOSEPH PHILLIPS

The former president and manager of the York County Loan and Savings Co. had expected a better fate; a lighter sentence. He argued that his services rendered to the National Trust Co., liquidators of the concern he wrecked, his turning over to them the shares of the Toronto Life Co., aggregating $58,000, would count for him. Instead, at the end of a long address delivered to the shifting Phillips, as the latter stood, clad in his heavy overcoat, in front of the prisoner's dock, Judge Winchester handed out the maximum penalty for the offence to which Phillips had, a few moments before, pleaded guilty.

122,000 Victims.

In passing sentence Judge Winchester said in part: "There are about 122,000 poor people, servant girls, widows and others, who put their savings into this company and have been disappointed. Had you taken them into your confidence and asked them to wind up the company when the Government took away your lapses, you would have escaped these charges.

"The evidence shows you were using the funds of the company and the shareholders could not have reached them if you had succeeded.

Must Punish Fraud.

"All these frauds must be punished if the public is to be protected.

"The charge is a most serious one. Our national institutions must be carried on with all honor and honesty. In this you have failed.

"I will only pass sentence on the false statement to which you have pleaded guilty, but I have considered all the others and the fullest penalty of the law should be inflicted. You will be imprisoned in the penitentiary for five years."

The other charges were dropped by the crown attorney.

O'Brien Buries Hatchet.

London, March 25.—William O'Brien, Nationalist member of the House of Commons for Cork, has announced his intention of absenting himself from the present session of Parliament, in order to avoid further friction with the Irish party, which has now virtually accepted the Government's proposals for Irish legislation. Thus there is no longer any serious divergence, Mr. O'Brien explains, between himself and the party. It is understood further that Mr. O'Brien and his friends have decided to drop all pending litigation with the followers of John E. Redmond.

$30,000 Fire at Kingston.

Kingston, March 25.—Soon after two o'clock yesterday morning fire broke out in McKelvey & Birch's store on Brock street. The fire brigade kept the flames in the hardware and stove departments but the three floors were entirely gutted. The plumbing department and workshops were untouched.

The loss is $30,000 on stock and building, with a fair amount of insurance. The fire started from a defective electric wire.

Editor Left $22,000,000.

Breslau, Prussia, March 25.—Heinrich Von Korn, proprietor of The Schlesische Zeitung, is dead. He was 78 years of age and left a fortune of about $22,000,000. The paper has been in the family for 175 years. It is Conservative in politics and represents the views of the landed nobility.

To Hang April 9.

London, March 25.—The high sheriff has fixed April 9 for the execution by hanging of Horace George Raynor, convicted of the murder of William Whitely.

No decision has yet been reached at Calgary at the miners' conference, in respect to the scale of wages.

FIGHT WITH A BEAR.

Two Men Won In a Battle With Infuriated Bruin.

Vancouver, March 25.—To be suddenly attacked in dense timber by an enraged she-bear in defence of her two cubs, and without any firearms to defend themselves, was the thrilling and unpleasant experience of Mr. G. Young and Mr. E. T. Barnum at Lake Coquitlam.

Messrs. Young and Barnum are timber cruisers, and had nothing but a small handaxe and a hastily improvised club. A couple of crashing leaps through the underbrush brought the bear within a couple of feet of Mr. Barnum, who was slightly in advance. The animal reared on its hind legs and attempted to close with the man. Mr. Barnum, who had nothing but a stout stick in his hand, dealt the bear a desperate blow on the snout. This sent her head down for a moment and allowed Mr. Young to get busy with the axe which he was carrying. The two little cubs came to their mother's aid, and blow followed blow, few of them seeming to have any effect as the two men were at too close quarters to defend themselves effectively. Finally, Mr. Barnum sidestepped and distracted the bear's attention for a moment, which allowed Mr. Young to land a knockout blow just behind the ear with his axe. But the animal was game, and even in her death struggles clawed and bit savagely at the two men.

WHO KILLED BARRON?

Application to Have Murder of Hamilton Policemen Re-Investigated.

Toronto, March 25.—J. Bidwell Mills, of Hamilton, has applied to the Attorney-General to have the Barron murder investigation opened up again. The complaint is made that the case was not properly handled by the local authorities. Policeman Barron was shot by two unknown men one dark night near the Mills residence, whom he attempted to arrest.

A provincial officer may be put on the case if it is decided to open it up again. A convict, who escaped from the London jail some time after the murder and who is now serving a term of seven years in Kingston, is suspected of being connected with the deed.

About the time of the Barron murder two men were in Hamilton, and while there were in company with two girls, whom it is said the police have located. Statements made while the man suspected was in jail in London are regarded by the police as sufficient warrant to have the case opened up again.

HON. J. W. ST. JOHN ILL.

Speaker of Ontario Legislature Operated Upon For Appendicitis.

Toronto, March 25.—Hon. J. W. St. John was operated on at the General Hospital last night for appendicitis. The operation was successful, but there will be considerable anxiety for 48 hours until the patient passes the crisis.

It appears that Mr. St. John was only taken ill at 10 o'clock on Saturday night. Local applications were used, but at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon Mr. St. John was so much worse that the doctors held a consultation and appendicitis being diagnosed an immediate operation was decided upon. The patient reached the hospital at 10.45 in an ambulance, and by midnight the operation was over.

A WONDER HE LIVES.

Electrician Had 12,000 Volts Pass Through His Body At Niagara.

Niagara Falls, Ont., March 25.—With his right hand and arm burned black, his face and left foot scorched, and his whole nervous system a wreck, William Reid lies in the General Hospital, a puzzle to physicians and electricians, who cannot understand how he remains alive. Reid is an electrician, and is employed by the Canadian Niagara Power Co. as a switchboard operator. Saturday while on duty he got his hand in contact with the copper part of a switch, and received a shock of twelve thousand volts. His home is in Hamilton.

FLOOD TIES UP CALIFORNIA.

Two Men Drowned By Capsizing of a Boat.

San Francisco, March 25.—Following a severe rainstorm, railroad and telegraph communication is almost entirely suspended over the greater part of California. The rivers in the interior valleys are rising, and the area of the flood region is rapidly extending.

The railroad blockade is almost complete. No regular trains are running into or out of San Francisco.

Two mail carriers, F. Griend and T. Dassonville, were drowned near Fair Oaks Saturday by the capsizing of a boat.

N. S. Cabinet Changes.

Halifax, N.S., March 25.—The vacancy in the local Government caused by the election of Attorney-General Drysdale to the bench was filled on Saturday morning by the appointment of Hon. M. Pipes, formerly Commissioner of Works and Mines, as Attorney-General. Christopher Chisholm, member for Antigonish, is appointed Commissioner of Works and Mines and O. T. Daniels, member for Annapolis, appointed member of the Executive Council.

Two Dead In Fire.

Catskill, N. Y., March 25.—A hut on the mountain side of Cairo, in which resided the brothers, Henry and Rufus Denton, and their sister, all over 70 years old, was burned to the ground before daybreak yesterday. Henry and the sister perished in the flames, and Rufus, who was removed to the county alms house, is badly burned about the head and body.

Battleship In Collision.

Weymouth, Eng., March 25.—A collision occurred yesterday off Portland between the British battleship Africa and the Peninsular and Oriental Line steamer Ormuz, bound for Australia. Both vessels sustained slight damages.

A semi-weekly steamship service between Montreal and Fort William, will be inaugurated this spring.

DOCTOR ASSASSINATED

Mob in Morocco Attack French Mission Station.

Europeans Besieged In Their Houses —British Consul Fires On Crowd— Two Men Killed—Troops Sent to Dispose the Mob—Two Warships Despatched to Tangier—May Precipitate Change In Policy.

Tangier, March 25.—Despatches from Morocco City say that the killing by a mob of Dr. Mauchamp, who was connected with the French Geodotic Mission, was followed by a general attack upon the Europeans besieged in their houses, and that the British consular agent was forced to fire and killed two persons.

The pasha finally sent troops to drive off the mob. The troops are still guarding the houses, although comparative calm has been restored.

French Warships For Tangier.

Toulon, March 25.—The armored cruiser Jeane d'Arc, and the third-class cruiser La Lande, sailed yesterday for Tangier.

French Cabinet Called.

Paris, March 25.—Premier Clemenceau, Minister of Foreign Affairs Pichon and Minister of War Picquart conferred yesterday concerning the Morocco situation and it was decided to summon an extraordinary meeting of the Cabinet for to-day.

Public opinion is greatly exercised over the assassination of Dr. Mauchamp, which, it is argued, should be the signal for a complete change in the French policy in North Africa.

MURDER FOLLOWS CRITICISM.

Man Slain For Commenting on Child's Nervousness at School.

Carmi, Ill., March 25.—Rehearsal of closing exercises at a country school house near here Friday ended in a tragedy and the arrest of a farmer for the murder of a man who had been his friend and neighbor for years.

George Nicholson and John Kurd were seated together, listening to and criticizing the recitations given by the children. Both had little daughters taking part in the program, and there was no hint of trouble until Nicholson's little girl started to say her piece.

Kurd made a remark on her nervousness, which Nicholson resented, and in a moment both men were quarrelling. Nicholson drew a revolver, and, pressing it against Kurd's side, fired. Kurd died instantly.

Provincial Appointments.

Toronto, March 25.—The following license commissioners have been appointed:

Prescott—Robert Rown McEvoy, Francois Xavier Cadieux, Octave Martin.

West Nipissing—J. F. Templeton, David Laporte, Adrien Deslauriers.

Jonathan Hall Shields succeeds William Hixon Young, resigned, as police magistrate of Halton County.

William George Mahaffy, Bracebridge, and George Herbert Sedgewick, Toronto, solicitors, have been appointed notaries public.

Robert Edwin Stevenson, Bradford, succeeds W. R. Strong, resigned, as clerk of the second division court of Simcoe County.

George McDonald, Pembroke, succeeds William Jewell, resignel, as bailiff of the first division court, Renfrew County.

Laurier Sails April 5.

Ottawa, March 25.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated yesterday that he fully intends to said for England on April 5.

The Opposition will do nothing to delay his departure, and should the Bourassa resolution regarding "women, wine and graft," on Tuesday prove too troublesome Parliament will be prorogued for forty days.

This will give the Premier time enough to go and return from London.

R. L. Borden is suffering from a throat affection that threatens him temporarily with loss of voice, but he expects to be fully recovered by Tuesday.

The general impression here, for some reason, is that the threatened exposures on Tuesday will fizzle out. Tremendous social pressure is being brought to bear upon both sides to "forget."

May Succeed Strathcona.

Ottawa, March 25.—It is stated on the best of authority that Sir Frederick Borden, Minister of Militia and Defence, in the very near future will succeed Lord Strathcona as Canadian High Commissioner in London. This is conditional.

Should something happen here within the next few days, the Minister of War will not go to London, but, if that something does not take place, Sir Frederick is to take the High Commissionership.

All this will, it is said, come to pass in the face of Lord Strathcona's pronounced disinclination to relinquish the office he has held so many years.

Judge Fitzpatrick to Retire.

Ottawa, March 25.—It is rumored to-day, and apparently upon good authority, that Chief Justice Fitzpatrick is to retire from the bench on May 1.

Mr. Aylesworth is entitled to the succession, and it is said that the number of judges will be increased at the next session so as to provide room for one or two additional judges from the Province of Quebec.

Suicides In Lodging House.

Toronto, March 25.—A most deliberate suicide came to light on Saturday night at a York street lodging house, when an unidentified man, who had applied for a room Friday night, was found dead in bed.

One end of a piece of tubing was in his mouth, the other being fastened to the gas jet. Every mark of identification had been carefully obliterated.

Eight men were buried and four killed in a severe snow slide at Brittannia, near Vancouver, B. C.

Measles Scourge On Warship.

Newport News, Va., March 26.—The outbreak of measles on the United States battleship Georgia, which will delay the departure of that vessel for Guantanamo, scheduled for to-day, has developed into an epidemic. More than 50 men have been taken to the naval hospital at Portsmouth.

Windsor Man Held Up.

Windsor, March 26—James McClory, a Windsor man, was held up near the C. P. R. bridge last night by two men and $54 was taken from his pockets. McClory refused to deliver on first demand, and the highwaymen followed him.

Booth At Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, March 26.—General Booth was the guest at a banquet given the Canadian Club last night.

New Department Added to Store

Mr. J. J. Howden is Branching out in Business

Mr. J. J. Howden, meat merchant 401 George street, has added a new department to his business. He has been appointed by the Davies Company, Toronto, as agent for their special blend of teas, in Peterborough.

Mr. Howden will, on Easter Saturday, give one package of the best 40-cent tea free, with each dollar's worth of meat purchased. This is a liberal offer and, no doubt, will be taken full advantage of by many families in Peterborough. Mr. Howden handles the very choicest meats, canned goods, catsups, etc. His advt. appears in another column.

The Champion Mean Woman

Local Milkman Would Like Some One to Beat This

"For the meanest woman in town recommend me to a late lady customer of mine," said a local milkman to a Review reporter today. "The woman lives on Aylmer street," he continued, "and until a few days ago, was a customer of mine. But I'm not supplying her with milk any longer, and thereon hangs a tale. She used to take a half pint of milk daily, and as she bought pint tickets she tore them in two and gave me the half of one each day. This went on very well for some time but one day she gave me a smaller piece of ticket than usual and I took it without complaint. Next day the ticket was also smaller than usual, but I still made no murmur. The third day the pasteboard was also small so I took the three pieces, put them together, and found that they just made one whole pint ticket."

"Now what do you think of that for meanness," said the vendor of the lacteal fluid. "I concluded I was better off without that class of customers and now, we only speak as we pass."

MR. ST. JOHN'S CONDITION

Speaker Passed a Trying Day and the Outlook is Still Critical.

Although he rallied from the operation for appendicitis which he underwent at the General Hospital, Toronto, on Sunday night, Hon. J. W. St. John, Speaker of the Ontario Legislature was in an extremely critical condition all day yesterday. He recovered from the anaesthetic within two hours, and all day yesterday he suffered a good deal from vomiting. At an early hour this morning, it was said that no decided change was expected either way for some hours. Dr. Bascom, Dr. Herbert Bruce, and Dr. W. P. Caven made frequent calls at the hospital to attend him. If his present condition continues for the next twelve hours, he will have passed the danger point, and a turn for the better will take place.

Pastor of St. Paul's Church Has Sent in His Resignation

Rev. Dr. Torrance's Resignation Considered at Meeting of the Presbytery of Peterborough This Morning—Left Over for Further Reference--Other Business

The Presbytery of Peterborough met at St. Andrew's hall this morning at nine o'clock, according to the motion of adjournment at the last meeting held a couple of weeks ago. Rev. E. A. Camp, of Havelock moderator, presided. The following were those present; Rev. Messrs. J. G. Potter, Peterborough; G. A. MacLennan, Norwood; J. F. MacFarlane, Warkworth; Dr. Torrance, Jas. Ross Peterborough; Wm. Johnson, Millbrook; H. Peckover, Omemee ; S. S. Burns, Lakefield; H. C. Reeves, Campbellford, J. G. Wright, Peterborough; and D. A. Thompson, Hastings, Clerk of the Presbytery.

REV. DR. TORRANCE
Who Has Resigned the Pastorate of St Paul's Church.

The elders present were Wm. Cuthbertson, Norwood; Wm. Fawler, G. M. Roger, Wm. Shea, Robt. Harrison, Wm. Madill, Sheriff Hall and J. Coyle Brown, Peterborough.

On motion the Presbytery agreed to sit behind closed doors.

A communication was received from the congregation at Brighton asking to mortgage certain church property. The request was laid on the table till next meeting.

Messrs. Reeves and MacLennan were appointed to support the claim of Rev. Peter Duncan before the General Assembly committee on the aged and infirm ministers' fund.

The next regular meeting of the Presbytery will be held in St. Paul's church, Port Hope, on the second Tuesday of July at 2 p.m.

Rev G. A. MacLennan reported anent the conference with regard to the union of Mill street church, at Port Hope, with St. Paul's congregation of that place. The committee conferred with the congregations separately but found that it was impossible to bring about a union. It is likely that the Mill street congregation will erect a new church.

Rev. J. F. MacFarlane reported on behalf of the committee appointed to confer with the officials of St. Paul's church, Peterborough anent the relations existing between pastor and people. The report was received, fully discussed, and its recommendations considered seriatum. Finally it was agreed that the report be laid on the table for further reference.

DR TORRANCE RESIGNS

Rev. Dr. Torrance tendered his resignation as pastor of St. Paul's church. On motion of Mr. MacLennan the Doctor's resignation was laid on the table and the congregation cited to appear in their interests at a meeting of the Presbytery to be held in St. Andrew's church, Peterborough, on April 11 at 9.30 a.m.

Two Men Killed in Wreck on C.P.R. at Myrtle Yesterday

Havelock Auxiliary in Charge of D. J. McDonald Sent to the Scene—Twenty-five Men Taken From City—Accident Caused by Mistake--Two Men Seriously Injured.

As a result of the serious wreck on the C.P.R. at Myrtle yesterday, no Toronto paper or mail was received in the city until after half past ten last night. The collision occurred about half past ten o'clock just before the local mail train from Toronto was due, and as a result the train was held up all day.

As soon as the accident happened, the auxiliary from Havelock was started to the scene. The crew was in charge of Mr. D. J. McDonald, roadmaster on the Toronto to Ottawa division, and he had about twenty-five men from this city with him, in addition to the regular crew from Havelock. The men worked like trojans all day. They had a big proposition to face, but with such a man as Mr. McDonald at the head, their task was made comparatively light.

In speaking of the wreck one of the men said it was one of the saddest sights he had witnessed in a long time. The two men killed were well known railroaders and had been with the company for a number of years.

The cause of the collision was a mistake which anyone was liable to make, although one of the chief features of an engineer's or a conductor's duty is to take nothing for granted. Had this been followed out nothing would have happened.

The east bound and the west bound freights had orders to pass at Myrtle. The train from the west was travelling at good speed and when it arrived at Myrtle another freight was standing on the siding. It was taken for the one to be passed at that point and the Toronto train went right through, only to meet the east bound freight in a dense fog outside the yards.

A despatch from Toronto tells of the wreck as follows,

Toronto, March 25.—Two men killed, two seriously injured, and two freight trains wrecked, form the casualty list of a head-on collision which occurred on the C.P.R. about two miles east of Myrtle station, about half past ten this morning.

The dead men, Fireman C. Jones and Brakeman H. Howes, were removed from the wreck about two hours after the collision.

The trains came together in a dense fog. The eastbound freight was hauled by engine No. 759, and it was to this engine that Fireman Jones belonged. Engineer Kyle escaped with slight injury. Brakeman Howes, who was in the cab of engine 1488, was scalded to death.

The westbound train was hauled by engine No. 1488. Engineer S. Binns sustained injuries to his shoulders and arms, while his fireman, C. Heise, was injured about the legs, shoulders and arms.

The trains were going at the rate of about thirty miles an hour. In the westbound freight there were eighteen cars, all of which are reported to have been derailed. In the eastbound freight there were between twenty-five and thirty cars. Five cars have been completely demolished.

The eastbound freight was in charge of Conductor Cook, while William Davis was conductor of the westbound train. Both men belong to Toronto Junction.

The wreck is said to have been the result of a mistake in orders by Conductor Cook of the eastbound train. The trains, it is reported, should have crossed at Myrtle.

Wrecking trains arrived on the scene of the collision about one hour afterwards, and the men directed their efforts toward the recovery of the bodies from engine 759. The engines are little better than a heap of scrap iron, and the bodies when recovered, were so badly burned, bruised and scalded, as to be almost unrecognizable. The fire that started immediately after the collision, was extinguished before it had made great progress.

Immediately after the wreck some of the train hands who escaped, hastened to Myrtle station and obtained medical succor for the wounded, besides communicating the circumstances to the head officials in Toronto. Farmers residing in the vicinity, gave what relief was possible.

Charles Jones, fireman, lived at 39 Victoria street, Toronto Junction. Henry Howes, brakeman, 39 May street, Toronto Junction; Stanley Binns, engineer, 21 Quebec avenue, Toronto Junction; Clifford Heise, engineer, 264 Major street, Toronto.

Binns has been in the employ of the C.P.R. about three years. Jones has been in the employ of the C.P.R. for seven years.

Howes has been in the employ of the C.P.R. for over 10 years.

PASSENGER SPEAKS.

Mr. J. E. Moir, traveller for Brown Bros., stationers, Toronto, was a passenger on the C.P.R. train from Toronto yesterday, which was delayed so long on account of the wreck.

In speaking to the Review today he said the freight train going west had a light engine and a number of empty cars. The other one, coming east, was drawn by a Mogul engine with a lot of cars full of steel. When they collided the light engine was smashed to bits but the empty cars weren't injured. The cars containing the steel were badly smashed. Mr. Moir says both men that were killed were on the east bound. One of them it would appear was in the act of jumping when he became lodged between the cab and tender of the engine and met his death. The other was in the tender and was scalded to death. Mr. Moir says they were delayed at the scene of the wreck for an hour before the train came and some were taken back to Burketon, where they took a train for Lindsay. Others who were coming to this city, remained at the wreck till last evening about 10.30 o'clock when they arrived here. They passed the time in watching the clearing up, and put in the time as best they could.

Mr. Moir arrived in Peterborough this morning, by way of Lindsay.

AN EYE WITNESS.

Mr. John Morgan, of the Religious Tract Society, of London, England, was also a passenger on the C.P.R. express train, which was delayed yesterday on account of the wreck near Myrtle. He was on his way home after a trip to the coast. He left Toronto at 9.15 yesterday morning. It was just eleven o'clock when they got to the scene of the accident, and told it would be some time before they could proceed. During the long delay Mr. Morgan took several snap shots of different scenes of the wreck, which he showed to the Review to-day. They are splendid reproductions and give one an idea of what the smash-up was like. One picture plainly shows the body of the fireman lodged between the cab and tender of the engine. Another one depicts an engine and six box cars lying on their side, and of people who Mr. Morgan said were looking for the body of one of the dead men. Mr. Morgan has certainly several fine pictures of the wreck, which he will take back to England as souvenirs of one of the most striking experiences of his trip. Mr. Morgan says the people spent the time in watching the cleaning up, and some amused themselves by playing cards in their car. The C. P.R. provided them with their meals.

ANOTHER REPORT.

Another despatch on the wreck says:

Myrtle, March 26.—A head-on collision, in which two freight trains smashed together, killing two men and seriously injured two more, occurred yesterday morning on the C. P. R., a couple of miles east of this station.

The dead are Fireman C. Jones and Brakeman H. Howe, who were caught in such a position under the debris of the freights that their bodies were not removed until nearly two hours after the collision occurred.

The tragedy was precipitated by two things — an alleged mistake in orders on the part of the conductor of the east-bound train, coupled with the fact that both trains were running at the time in the midst of a dense fog, to thick to permit either engineer to avoid the danger in time.

Scalded to Death.

The eastbound freight was hauled by engine No. 759, and it was to this engine that Fireman Jones belonged. Engineer Kyle escaped with slight injury. Brakeman Howe, who was in the engine cab, was scalded to death.

Two Injured.

The westbound train was hauled by engine No. 1488. Engineer S. Binns sustained injuries to his shoulders and arms, while his brakeman, C. Heise, was injured about the legs, shoulders and arms.

The trains were going at the rate of about 35 miles an hour. In the westbound freight there were 18 cars, all of which are reported to have been derailed. In the eastbound freight there were between 25 and 30 cars. Five cars have been completely demolished.

The eastbound freight was in charge of Conductor Cook, while Wm. Davis was conductor of the westbound train. Both men belong to Toronto Junction.

At this juncture it is said that the eastbound freight, in charge of Conductor Cook, should have crossed at Myrtle.

Bodies Mutilated.

An hour after the event a wrecking train was on the scene and strenuous efforts were made to get at the bodies of the crew. The impact reduced the engines to scrap iron and the bodies, when they were found, were almost unrecognizable.

They were badly burned, bruised and scalded. The fire that started immediately after the collision was extinguished before it had made great progress.

OBSERVANCE OF GOOD FRIDAY

Mr. E. A. Peck Replies to Some Criticism Offered by Anonymous Correspondent

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—The letter signed "Truth" which appeared in last night's Review, is so unjust to the local clergy, that I venture to ask a little space to comment on it. With "Truth's" views on the proper observance of Good Friday I quite agree, but why he should go out of his way to charge our clergy with hypocrisy, to suggest they are in the service of Mammon, etc., I do not understand, nor, indeed, do I understand why you should see fit to give such statements publicity.

There is altogether too much criticism of the clergy indulged in. They are, as a rule, devoted to their calling, earnest, faithful, self-denying. They labor frequently under great discouragements, are under-paid, often unjustly censured, and seldom receive from their congregations the support in their work which is due them.

Such wholesale denunciations as are indulged in by "Truth," do no good. They tend to injure, but not to advance the cause of Christianity. I would like too, to ask you, Mr. Editor, why you and your contemporaries publish anonymous letters of this character? A bright, kindly or instructive letter, no one could take exception to; but when a letter contains an attack upon an individual, or body of men, the writer's name should invariably be attached, or the papers should refuse to publish it. Why do you assist any man in giving vent to his malice, against another, or others? You cannot escape responsibility, as you set up the type, and issue the statements to the world. Can a man who injures another, plead successfully, that, while he loaded and fired the gun, another provided the ammunition. Yours, etc.

E. A. PECK

THE SUNDAY MASS MEETING

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—At the end of your excellent report of the mass meeting on Sunday appears a paragraph stating that the opera house was given free of charge. Most people who gave to the collection (taken, by the way, by Mr. Turner's own staff) imagined that the cash was to pay the expenses of the gathering and help along the missionary work of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. I heard Mr. Turner say that "he was taking up the collection to defray his own expenses of light, heat and orchestra," and he turned down the men who were officially appointed by the local assembly to take up the collection. What amount was collected is known to Mr. Turner only for he consented to pay the expenses of the gathering and did not state the total receipts. My own opinion is that he was well paid and the hot-air talk about generosity in this connection very much out of place.

I am, Sir, yours truly.

SOME GOOD SUGGESTIONS

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Rev. Dr. Marsh, the president of the Peterborough branch of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, intimated at the last meeting that he would like to see its members take part in the series of lectures about to be started, and thus relieve him of part of the work. I would therefore suggest as a commencement, the following list beginning, with the officers of the Society:—

1 How to compute the distance between the planets, by Wm. Pringle.

2 The chromosphere and photosphere of the sun and their relation to life on this mundane sphere.

3 Confirmation of the nebular hypothesis by spectrum analysis, by Dr. Neal.

4 Cosmonogony, or the origin of the heavenly bodies, by D. Eason.

5 Astrology, or how to tell one's fortune, a true science, by S. W. Lowry

A CARLOAD OF PIANOS

The cut, made from a photograph, shows the unloading of a car of pianos consigned to the J. M. Greene Music Co., of Peterborough, at the G.T.R. freight yard, corner Charlotte and Aylmer streets. The pianos were all New Scale Williams, made at Oshawa. The car contained sixteen pianos. This afternoon a procession was held to give publicity to the firm's enterprise and push in doing things in a fairly big way. After the procession the pianos were delivered at the warerooms of the company, Grand Opera House block. This makes the fifth car of pianos received by the J. M. Greene Co. and placed in homes in the county. Idlw

Brantford City Council Will Have no Assessment Commissioner

A Brantford despatch says,—By a vote of nine to seven the City Council passed a bylaw last night abolishing the Assessment Commissionership and thereby discharging Mr. Donald Thorburn from the office which he has held for the past year. The old system of having two assessors will be reverted to. They will be Mr. J. C. Watt, and Mr. Q. S. Ludlow. The Estimates Committee reported in favor of a rate of 20 1-2 mills on the dollar. The report was referred back to the committee with a view to reducing the rate to 19 1-2 mills.

Burglars Busy in Port Hope

Burglars gained entrance to Mr. Craick's residence, King street, last evening while Mr. and Mrs. Craick were at church and made a thorough search of the house. Two pocket books, one belonging to Mrs. Craick and one to Miss Cumming who is visiting there, came under there notice and the contents of eleven dollars in cash and a return ticket to Toronto were taken. A gold ring belonging to Mr. Craick was also stolen. It is believed that this is the work of local men and Chief Bond, who is at present working on the case will spare no effort to capture the guilty party. —Port Hope Guide.

TAILORS ON STRIKE.

An Ottawa despatch says. — Over fifty journeymen tailors employed in several local establishments went on strike this morning, because their demand for 14 per cent. increase pay has not been granted. The present scale of wages is 20 cents per hour. Some of the master tailors were willing to grant a 10 per cent. increase, which the men were disposed to accept, but the union stood out for its full demands. About half the tailors are now on strike and the rest will probably go out.

Another point at issue is the demand that girls shall be recognized as members of the union, and this the employers will not concede.

LAURIER ASKED TO NAME MEN

Who, Report Says, are Mixed up in the Ottawa Scandals

A Montreal despatch says.,

"Wine, women and graft," is the heading of an article appearing in Le Canadien, and never before, perhaps, has the true significance of the Fowler charges been so apparent as in this French Conservative organ of today.

In the first place Le Canadien reproduces an article in Le Canada, in which the federal government's mouth-piece seeks to displace the real signification of the accusation made by the man from New Brunswick. In the end Le Canadien poses the following terrible question to its Liberal confrere;

"Is it true that an ex-minister left the cabinet under false pretexts, the true reason being that he had a woman affair on his hands with which all Ottawa was familiar from start to finish and from top to bottom?

"Is it true, or is it not true, that this ex-minister enriched himself in a most scandalous fashion?

"Is it true or is it not true that three ministers of the crown now in office, are unfortunately mixed up in affairs concerning certain women whose names are known and often repeated in a most scandalous manner?

"Is it true or is it not true that two of these ministers are noted for disgraceful orgies, and which are carried on in the face and before the eyes of everybody, causing comment and scandal, which, to say the least, is anything but edifying?

"Is it true or is it not true that one of these ministers was put out of a theatre by a policeman because this little statesman was accompanied by a woman troubling the peace? Now, let us get at the bottom of the stories which are circulating in all the clubs and on the street

YES OR NO.

"Are they true, or are they not? Let us have this matter cleared up once and for all. If they are true it is the bounden duty of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to drive the accused from his government and from parliament. If they are not true, let a serious investigation be instituted in order to establish their falsity.

"It is in the public interest," concludes Le Canadien, "that such accusations should cease. Let us have an end of this orgie business now and forever."

Le Nationaliste also has its say anent the Ottawa matter and, of course, that paper wants an investigation.

Addressing the government of the day, Mr. Bourassa's organ says.

"The man of 'wine, women and graft.' Is it you, Mr. Lemieux? Is it you, Mr. Brodeur? Is it you, Mr. Bureau? or is it you, Sir Wilfrid Laurier? You repudiate, no doubt, such a question. If you have no care for your reputation, how do you imagine that we can respect you? We do not say that the accusations of Mr. Fowler are founded. It may be, in fact, that they are not But of all the members of the cabinet there is not a single one of them who will have the right to pass along the street holding up his head if he refuses to demand of Mr. Fowler the proof of his assertions or to make a retraction.

"The member for Labelle has a duty to perform. Let him not be afraid to poke up the dung heap, as it is a necessity to all those who wish to thoroughly cleanse the augean stables."

Railway Case Not Finished

Evidence Heard on the Charge of C.P.R. Blocking George St. Traffic

The case of W. S. Dodd, agent for the C. P. Railway, charged with allowing freight cars to stand on the George street crossing for eight minutes, thus obstructing the street, was proceeded with at the police court this morning. Mr. W. H. Moore appeared for the C. P. R. and pleaded not guilty.

P. C. Newhall was the first witness called. He said that he lives at the south end of the car line. He was on a car coming to work last Thursday morning. When they turned at Lake street, the train was standing on the crossing. The car came on up George street. It did not stop but was not going very fast. When they reached the crossing the freight cars were still there The motorman on the street car sounded his gong. Witness asked the conductor how long he was going to keep them waiting. The conductor did not seem to be in a hurry to move. Mr. Newhall timed the wait and they were delayed 8 minutes. He always got to the police station at twenty minutes to eight other mornings ,but Thursday morning it was 12 minutes to eight.

Mr. Arthur Killinbeck ,the motorman on the street car, was the next witness called. He noticed the freight cars on the crossing when they turned at Lake-st. He did not come up very quickly as he was ahead of time. He sounded the gong at the crossing. He heard P. C. Newhall speak to the conductor. The delay meant a loss of time as he did not reach his destination at Charlotte street at the scheduled time

Mr. Dodd, C.P.R. station agent, was next called. He said he knew Mr. Barnes, the conductor of the freight train. He arrived at 7.35 Thursday morning. He did not see him nor did he see the cars standing on the crossing.

Mr Barnes, the conductor, who had charge of the freight that morning was next sworn. He said he registered at 7.35 .The engine, tender and five cars had passed George street Three other cars were put on the cereal siding. Mr. Barnes said the cars may have stood half a minute on the crossing and only for the purpose of shunting.

His Worship did not conclude the case this morning, but reserved judgment for one week.

The Men are "on the Pink"

Big Crowd Will Attend Ateletic Smoker To-morrow Night

Seats are selling rapidly for the big athletic and musical smoker, which will be held in the old opera house tomorrow night. The event promises to be a big success, and Billy Breen, who is managing the affair, states that those who attend will get big value for their money. The fistic bouts promise to be the best ever held there. Some of the fastest men wearing the padded mittens in Canada, will take part and the wrestling bouts promise to be no less interesting. The local men, who are on the programme, are billed to furnish some surprises.

In addition to the athletic contests, there will be a good programme. Billy Breen, George Lynch, and Joe Guerin are among those who will contribute. Their reputation as entertainers of the first water is so well-known that further comment is unnecessary.

The event is the talk of the sporting fraternity of the city, and they will be out in full force tomorrow night.

LACROSSE

RIGHT YOU ARE

As soon as the weather conditions are suitable, lacrosse practice will begin. There are a number in town that play the game and a good many more who intend learning it. There's not a better game, boys, and it should be made popular in Lindsay.—Lindsay Post.

UXBRIDGE UNPLEDGED.

Uxbridge, March 25.—There was a bit turnout at the lacrosse meeting on Friday night at the Bascom House In the absence of President Low, Capt. Sharp presided, and the following officers were elected: Hon. Presidents, James Nokes and Charles Kelly; President, Wm. Low; First Vice-President, C. Griffiths; Second Vice-President, C. Urquhart; Secretary-Treasurer, A. W. Nix; Manager, Ben. Coombe; Executive, intermediate, P. Gordon, W. Holmes, H. Lott, jr.; Roy Foster, J. Whitney, J. Harman. Ben. Coombe and Capt. Sharpe were appointed representatives for both teams at the C.L.A. convention in Toronto. While the delegates go to the meeting unpledged, a resolution was passed favoring the candidature of Harry B. Cameron, of Beaverton, for the Presidency.

The steamer Bornu, for the Canada-Mexico route, has arrived in Halifax from Liverpool. She will replace the Dahomy, which went ashore last spring at Louisburg.

The League Held Splendid Meeting

The usual weekly meeting of the Charlotte street church Epworth League was held last evening and took the form of a missionary meeting. Mr. Goodwill occupied the chair, and gave a short talk on several features of missionary work. Papers were also read by Mrs. George and by Miss L. Bushnell. The subject of Mrs. George's paper was the Life of Mr. Black one of the pioneer missionaries of Nova Scotia. Miss Bushnell's paper was on "Missionary work in Japan."

Wanderers Win The Stanley Cup

THE WANDERERS' CUP.

Winnipeg, March 25.—The Stanley Cup will repose in the tepee of the victorious Wanderers at Montreal for another year, at least, for, although the Kenora Thistles trimmed them in a battle royal tonight, the lead obtained by the challengers on Saturday night was too great to be overcome. The score tonight was 6 to 5 in favor of the Thistles, leaving Wanderers four goals up on the series. With altered conditions, which suited their style of play, the ice being hard and keen tonight, the Thistles were not like the same team who met their Waterloo in the water on Saturday, and their brilliant display of old-time form delighted their followers. They were in no way discouraged by the great task before them when they went on the ice, but went at it with dogged determination to pull a victory out of the fire. They made a supreme effort, and certainly died hard. It was brilliant hockey from the first face-off to the final call of time, much faster and more spectacular than at the previous match, while the score kept the interest of the great crowd at a fever heat. It was regarded as the greatest game of hockey ever seen here, there being no comparison at any stage with that of Saturday night.

St. Luke's Young Men Will Assist

In Furthering the Envelope System of the Church

The Young Men's Guild of St. Luke's church held its fortnightly meeting last night, at the residence of Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., Water street.

A large number of the members were present, and the affairs of the Guild were interestingly discussed. It was decided by the members to assist the finances of the church by furthering the envelope system among the young people. It was also decided that some of the members should act as ushers at the series of lectures to be given by Dr. Symonds at the Y.M.C.A. from April 8th to 13th. A pleasant time was then spent in social intercourse, and refreshments were served. After expressing thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Turner for the hospitality extended the Guild, the meeting dispersed.

St. John's Church Regrets the Departure of Miss Gibbs

In St. John's church on Sunday, Rev. Canon Davidson referred to the departure from Peterborough of Miss Gertrude Gibbs of the Barnardo Home staff, who is now on her way to London, England. She had been a most devoted and earnest worker in St. John's parish, and her removal would be greatly regretted. Miss Gibbs had been identified with the local institution for about fifteen years, and was for several years visitor for the Home, her work taking her over the greater part of the province of Ontario. She will continue to be associated with the Dr. Barnardo institutions in London, England, and many friends will wish her every success and prosperity.

BOILER EXPLODED.

Sleeping Railroad Men At Cleveland Thrown Into Panic.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 26.—Between fifty and sixty sleeping railroad men were thrown into a panic by the explosion of a boiler in the railroad Young Men's Christian Association building at Collingwood, and the temporary home of Lakeshore railroad employes, early yesterday. The building is a three-storey structure. Fire followed the explosion. The dining room was wrecked. So far as learned no lives were lost.

A Fagin At Stratford.

Stratford, March 26.—Benjamin Bearnbaum, a Jewish pedlar, who was found guilty of receiving stolen goods yesterday, is said to have encouraged boys to steal by buying the proceeds of their thefts.

A manufacturer accused a boy of shoplifting a few days ago and the case was traced to Bearnbaum.

It was brought out in the evidence that he had paid boys a few cents for small articles of brass and lead, among other things.

Judge Barron reserved judgment until to-day (Wednesday).

Collision At Dover.

Dover, England, March 26.—There was an exciting collision yesterday outside the harbor, between the Calais and Ostend mail steamers, both inward bound. The Princess Henriette, from Ostend, crashed into the Lord Warden, from Calais, making a hole below her water line, smashing her cabins, deckway, and carrying away her boats. The Princess Henriette's bows were badly damaged. The sixty passengers of the Lord Warden were landed without any of them being injured.

Close British Museum.

London, March 26.—The reading room of the British Museum is to be closed for six months beginning next month. This is necessary in order to give the two million volumes in the library a thorough inspection as well as to repair the dome, which is said to contain several dangerous looking cracks, and besides paint is necessary. According to an attendant, it has been just fifty years since the interior of the library was painted.

24 Hurt In Theatre Panic.

Greenfield, Ind., March 26.—Twenty-four persons were injured, some seriously, and a two-storey building, occupied by a five-cent theatre with moving pictures, was wrecked last night by an explosion of natural gas, used to heat the building.

About 200 persons were in the theatre and in the panic that followed men, women and children rushed for the doors, trampling on one another.

England to Get Red Hat.

Rome, March 26.—In addition to the consistory to be held April 15, at which seven cardinals are to be created, the Pope will hold another consistory at the end of the year to appoint foreign cardinals.

England having been without a representative in the Sacred College since the death of Cardinal Vaughan, will have one cardinal, the candidates being Archbishop Bourne of Westminster and Bishop Hedley of Newport, England, and the Right Rev. Francis Aiden Gasquet, abbot president of the English Benedictines.

Strong claims are being made on behalf of the United States for two more cardinals, one in the east and the other in the west, but nothing has been decided on this subject.

Douma Fights Court-Martial.

St. Petersburg, March 26.—The question of drumhead courts-martial, the institution of which forms the bitterest grievance of the Liberals against the Stolypin Ministry, was raised in the Lower House of Parlament yesterday on a motion of the Constitutional Democrats for the appointment of a committee to draft and submit immediately a bill providing for the abolition of this summary procedure.

Several Opposition orators narrated the heroic deaths of various persons condemned by drumhead court-martial and a Cossack deputy demanded that the army "be no longer used for hangmen's work."

Belcourt For Senator.

Windsor, March 26.—It is reported on good authority that N. A. Belcourt of Ottawa has been tendered the Senatorship made vacant by the death of Senator Casgrain.

The appointment will not meet with the approval of Liberals in this section. It is felt there are men in Essex who have rendered services to the party entitling them to preferment in this instance.

Weddings of Years Illegal.

London, March 25.—It has just been discovered by an official in the Registrar General's office in London that marriages which have taken place in the Chapel-at-ease, at Brownstown, near Modbury, Devonshire, during the past thirty years are illegal.

The official found that the building had never been licensed for the solemnization of marriages, and that, consequently, all those which have taken place are irregular.

The matter has been laid before the Home Secretary, and a bill is to be introduced into Parliament during the present session to give validity to the marriages.

Prisoners Should Eat Together.

Kingston, March 25.—The clause in the grand jury's report this week calling attention to the practice of handing each prisoner in the penitentiary his food and then marching him off to his cell, where he must eat it in solitude, without knife or fork, has very properly evoked a protest, both silent and printed. It is held to be no valid excuse for this inhuman practice that some time ago a few unruly men, when 500 of their fellow-convicts were at dinner in one room, attempted to use their knives and forks on a guard.

Struck by Lightning.

Clinton, March 25.—A severe electrical storm passed over this section on Saturday night. The barn of Mr. Wiltse, on the London road, was struck by lightning and burned, 20 head of cattle being cremated. Another barn on the Huron road was destroyed.

Speaker St. John is Very Ill; Unable to Attend to His Duties

Sympathetic References by Members in the Legislature.

Mr. J. S. Duff Chosen As Acting Speaker—First Time Since Confederation House Has Been Called Upon to Do This—University Arbitrators—Agricultural and Horticultural Societies.

Toronto, March 26.—For the first time since confederation the Ontario Legislature was called upon yesterday to choose an acting Speaker, owing to the illness of its presiding officer. Once before, during the presidency of Speaker Ballantyne, that gentleman was absent one day, when Mr. Baxter, his predecessor, was selected.

On the assembling of the House the clerk notified the members of the Speaker's absence through illness, and asked them to select a substitute.

The Prime Minister, Hon. Mr. Whitney, expressed great regret for the reason for the Speaker's absence. "It is," he said, "the fervent wish from the heart of every member and of every person in the Province who know him that he may have an early recovery. He holds a very high position in the regard of all members of this House."

Mr. Whitney pointed out that it was necessary under the rules of procedure to elect a member to act as Speaker for the day, and on the morrow to elect a member to act for that day. On the third day a member of the House would be selected to act for the balance of the session.

The Prime Minister then moved, seconded by Mr. Foy, that Mr. James S. Duff (West Simcoe) be appointed Speaker for the day.

Mr. Graham joined in the Prime Minister's expression of sincere regret. The Opposition appreciated to the full the Hon. Speaker's abilities and were filled with admiration for him. Every member held him in the highest esteem.

Mr. Duff Called to Chair.

Mr. Duff was then called to the chair, and slowly read the prayers, following which he announced the return for the Carleton bye-election.

Hon. Mr. Whitney asked the suspension of the rules to introduce a bill providing for the incorporation of the village of Newstadt, Grey county. By some oversight evidence of the publication of the bill had not been tendered to the standing orders committee and it was important to the municipality in question that the bill should go through.

A second time the Prime Minister asked that the rules be suspended—this time to introduce a bill respecting the town in request. By mistake a large amount of territory had been taken into the town of Cobalt, which was not intended. The bill was to rectify the error.

Both bills got their first reading.

A bill of purely formal character respecting the University of Toronto was introduced by Mr. Whitney. It provides for the appointment of an arbitrator or arbitrators to replace the official arbitrator, who in this case is an interested party.

Hon. Mr. Monteith's bill to separate agricultural and horticultural societies was read a second time.

Bills Finally Passed.

The following bills were read a third time:

Respecting the town of Seaforth—Mr. Eilber.

Respecting the Huntsville and Lake of Bays Railway Company—Mr. Mahaffy.

To incorporate the Current River Power Company—Mr. Smyth.

Confirming tax sales in the townships of Etobicoke—Mr. Lennox.

Respecting fines, penalties and forfeitures—Hon. Mr. Foy.

Replying to Hon. Mr. Graham the Provincial Secretary said that between March 1, 1904 and March 1, 1905 there were 19 prosecutions instituted by the license inspector for South Renfrew against the hotelkeepers of Arnprior. The fines imposed netted $310. For the corresponding period of 1905-06 there were seven prosecutions, and the fines reach $170. For the corresponding period of 1906-07 there were three prosecutions and the fines imposed were $20.

These Boys Should be in School But They Are Not

There are some lively times these days around the premises at the corner of Charlotte and Bethune streets, used as a place for storing junk by a local firm, the members of which are of foreign birth. A gang, or rather two or three gangs of boys are in the habit of loitering about the place continually during the day, and appear to delight in annoying two young Jews, who are employed by the junk firm. It is said that the boys manage to steal considerable from the establishment, and then sell it to the Jews again. This morning there was a lively row on at the place in question. A couple of young Jews accused several boys of having stolen some old rubbers, and the boys resented the charge rather strenuously. There was some loud talk and not a little swearing done by the young lads, who, from what reputable persons in the vicinity state, do not think a great deal about taking the stuff that is not their own. Some of them it is said make a business of stealing junk, wherever they can get it, and then selling it for whatever it will bring.

The boys are within the school age and something should be done to get them off the streets, and to have them sent to school, as the only thing they appear to be proficient in at present, is the use of profane language and the art of giving "lip" to those who remonstrate with them.

It might be well for the truant officer to pay a visit to this locality some morning and take a note of what is going on.

Building Permit By-law Has Two New Clauses Added to it

Assessors to Inforce the By-law and Post the Permits on the Buildings—Assessors to be Made Permanent—Refuse Ground Contract Was Renewed.

The Building Permit Bylaw will be returned to the council on Monday night practically unchanged, except for the addition of a couple of new clauses. The property committee discussed the matter at some length and decided that no changes were needed in the original bylaw, except that the $100 for repairs was changed to $200.

Besides the building permit bylaw one or two other matters were disposed of, and a lot of time was used in discussing the proposed changes to the fire limits bylaw. This matter will come up in the committee in a short time, and there promises to be a big fight over it. The chairman last night, after the talk, was alone in his opinion, that the fire limits should not be enlarged by another zone.

Members present were Ald. McIntyre, chairman; Mayor McWilliams, Ald. Stevenson, Morgan, Elliott, and Bradburn.

In opening up the question, the chairman read the proposed bylaw to the committee.

The bylaw, said the mayor, only provides for the issuing of building permits. It does not make any change whatever in the fire limits. It proivdes for the issuing of permits in all parts of the city. The committee was unanimously in favor of the principle of the bylaw. The only change he said, the committee of the whole made, was to insert a clause providing that repair work costing less than $100 did not require a permit.

Several of the property committee recommended that the sum mentioned be changed to $200. This, however, does not allow a new building costing less than $200 to be put up without a permit.

His Worship stated that a clause should be added providing for an easy way for any person to ascertain whether a permit had been taken out. In Toronto, he said, a permit certificate was posted on the building in a conspicuous place.

Ald. Elliott, thought that the assessors should countersign the permits and then tack them up. In other words the assessors would be made building permit inspectors, and he recommended that they be paid an additional $50 per year.

Chairman McIntyre thought the assessors should be furnished with the information, and also act as building inspectors. At present, in case the assessors call at a lot and the foundation is only built, the owner only has to pay taxes on the foundation for the first two years as that is all he can assess for. If the assessors are building inspectors they will have all the information necessary to assess the completed house the first year.

The other aldermen objected to this. They claimed the first year's taxes was a sort of bonus to the people who invested their money in building.

Moved by Mayor McWilliams, seconded by Ald. Elliott that the city solicitor be instructed to prepare a clause to add to the bylaw, that the permits be posted in a conspicuous place on the building being erected or repaired.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Elliott, seconded by Ald. Stevenson, that the assessors countersign the permits and see that they are posted, and that this clause be added to the bylaw.—Carried.

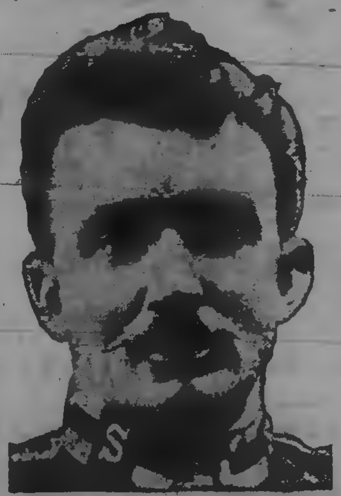
Mayor McWilliams and Ald. Morgan voted against the motion and it was up to the chairman to vote. The chairman wanted to know if he had to vote. He thought the last motion should go through separately. He hesitated for some time and then voted for the motion, and it was declared carried.

PERMANENT ASSESSORS.

Moved by Ald. Elliott, and Ald. Stevenson, that the council be recommended to instruct the city solicitor to prepare a bylaw making the present assessors permanent to work in whatever districts the council sees fit to place him from year to year.

There was a vote of two to two, and the chairman was again compelled to vote, and he supported it also, and the motion carried.

Moved by Mayor McWilliams, seconded by Ald. Elliott, that the council renew the agreement with Thos. McWilliams for the rental of the property as a refuse and dumping ground for the city, and for taking care of same, at the requested price, viz., $400 per year.—Carried.



WHAT A PROMINENT SALVATIONIST OWES TO ZAM-BUK

Mr. R. C. Blurton, a prominent Salvation Army worker, who occupies the proud position of Deputy Band Master at the Temple Toronto, has just proved how wonderfully beneficial Zam-Buk is in cases of skin eruptions, pustules, etc. He says:—

"Pimples and sores broke out all over my face and neck, and notwithstanding all I did to try and remove them, they continued to increase. They were not only unsightly, but very painful, and I was sadly troubled how to get rid of them. I was advised to try Zam-Buk and for several days I applied it to the face and neck, gently anointing the sore place. In a few days I perceived a marked improvement. The sores were not so angry and some of the inflamed patches became lighter in color. I persevered with Zam-Buk after getting this satisfactory state of affairs and it did not take long before the balm demonstrated its healing powers. I found it a splendid remedy, and it cleared both my face and neck in fine form. I would strongly recommend Zam-Buk to all who suffer from any skin eruption, whatever, and I trust the publication of my experience will lead others to prove how beneficial Zam-Buk is."

Zam-Buk is a sure cure for eczema, itch, blood poison, ulcers, chronic sores, ringworm, children's rashes, spots, etc. It also cures cuts, burns, bruises, chapped hands, enlarged veins, piles, and all diseased or injured conditions of the skin and subjacent tissues. All druggists and stores sell at 50c a box, or post free from the Zam-Buk Company, Toronto, for price. 6 boxes sent for $2.50. Send one cent for dainty trial box.

Young People of St. Andrew's

Rev. J. G. Potter and J. J. Wright Delivered Able Addresses

The Young People of St. Andrew's church met last evening in the school house. A large number were present. Rev. Dr. Marsh, of Springville, who was to have lectured on "Lessons learned from some notable men and women outside the Bible," was unable to get here on account of the wreck on the C.P.R., which occurred yesterday. Rev. J. G. Potter occupied the chair and gave a short address in which he paid a high tribute to the life of the late Principal Grant, whose life, he said, had a great influence on his own. Rev. J. J. Wright also gave a short address. It is likely Dr. Marsh will give his lecture at some future date.

NUMBERING THE HOUSES

Every house in the City of Stratford is now numbered. When Mr. Austin Killer returned to the City Hall last night, with his men, the job was completed. The last part of the city to be done was Romeo Ward. People, perhaps, hardly realize the amount of work there was in the numbering. It was not a matter of tacking up numbers, but every street had to be measured, and in the residential part a number was put in every twenty feet. This measuring was nearly all done by Mr. Killer. It was he that looked after the detail, while Mr. Parsons, of course, generally superintended the work. The expeditious and thorough manner in which it was done is a credit to both.—Stratford Herald.

First Drill of 57th Regiment

The first drill of the 57th Regiment will be held on Tuesday night of next week. Orders to this effect have been issued as follows:—

Headquarters,
Peterborough,
March 26, 1907.

Orders by Lt.-Col. J. W. Miller, Commanding 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers.

The regiment will parade for drill, at the armories, at 8.00 p.m., on Tuesday, April 2nd, 1907, and, until otherwise ordered, on each subsequent Tuesday at the same place and hour.

By order,
D. WALKER.
(Capt.) Adjutant.

Every man should turn out the first night, as it is important that a good start should be made. It has been found in past years that a good start means a good season.

Clarence Muddams of Vancouver, aged 16, had his head blown off by a rifle in the hands of 13-year-old Robert Little. They had been playing with the firearm.

HIS FAREWELL SERMONS SUNDAY

Rev. Mr. Stirling Will Preach for the Last Time Next Sunday

The Rev Jas. G. Stirling will preach Easter sermons at Lakehurst, Buckhorn and Rockcroft on Sunday, April 1st. These sermons will also be his farewell sermons.

The amount at present subscribed for the erection of a Presbyterian church at Buckhorn is $580.00. A suitable and commanding site for the proposed building will soon be purchased.

Handsome Windows for the Sanctuary

Messrs. Gough Bros. Present Three Stained Glass Windows for New Church

Three beautiful stained glass windows have been presented by Messrs. A. and R. Gough, of Toronto, formerly of Peterborough, to Rev. Father George Williams, of Toronto Gore, for the sanctuary of his church, in honor of their father and mother. The subjects are St. Joseph and the Holy Family, the Immaculate Conception, and St. Patrick, after whom the church is named.

THE MASS MEETING

That was a unique gathering held in the opera house on Sunday afternoon. It was most successful and beneficial, viewed from any or all standpoints. The local chapters of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew deserve credit for the management of the assembly and for carrying it out with such satisfactory results. While all the features were commendable, only one complaint seems to have been heard. A writer signing himself as "Truth," in a letter to the press last evening, raised some objection to the Brotherhood accepting the loan of the opera house, when the proprietors had closed a contract to put on an attraction on Good Friday. Neither the Brotherhood nor the clergy are in any way responsible for what attractions are brought to the theatre nor for the dates on which they appear. "Truth" charges the clergy with hypocrisy, yet has not the courage to raise an objection over his own name.

No movement looking to the public good, no union of interests or forces, no advanced step in Christian activity and service was ever taken without some criticism or fault finding.

The Review believes that the mass meeting cannot fail to prove of great assistance and benefit to all. It was devoid of any sensational or spectacular effects and a deep spirit of devotion, earnestness and helpful purpose pervaded the gathering and characterized the splendid and elevating addresses. The meeting reached many who, for some reason or other, do not see fit to attend any of the city churches. There was no "preaching" in the ordinary sense of the term, no fault finding, or scolding, but hearty, earnest singing and words pointing to the desire to help all in leading useful moral lives, and directing the listener to higher and better things.

All need help; it is impossible for any man to stand alone and the question which Pontius Pilate put to the people, "What shall I do with Jesus," must be answered by all men. Mass meetings are held weekly in many of the principal cities and it is hoped that others will be conducted in Peterborough.

THE NEED OF LOCAL WORKERS

It is estimated that Canada this year will require between 60,000 and 100,000 men to carry on railway and other extensive works in progress at various points in the Dominion. The rush of emigrants is so great that the outgoing steamers are crowded to their utmost capacity, and several hundreds of persons who intended sailing early, have been disappointed.

Right in the rich agricultural country surrounding the flourishing city of Peterborough there is need of at least fifty farm hands and as many domestic servants.

Mr. George H. Howson, the immigration agent for Peterborough district, has had many applications, which he is unable to fill. Farmers are offering from $15 to $25 per month and board to good farm hands, while domestic servants can find any number of desirable places at wages ranging from $8 to $15 per month. It appears that the majority of immigrants, who have arrived so far, are bound either for Toronto or Western Canada. It would be advisable for some of them to get off at Peterborough and see what this county has to offer. There are good positions awaiting at least 100 strong, healthy men and women who are anxious to work, are content with fair wages, and encouraging prospects. Toronto district offers no better advantages than Peterborough, and it would be well for some of the new arrivals to spend at least a year or two in Old Ontario before going further west. The farms in this vicinity are well tilled and productive, and new settlers in the fair and progressive Province of Ontario cannot find a more attractive or fertile spot than in and around Peterborough. They will be accorded a warm welcome here, and will find, if they are earnest, active and zealous, that no part of the Dominion offers better inducements than in this rich and enlightened section.

a time to halt.

Is there going to be stringency in the money market? Are the present good times drawing to a close? It would appear, judging by the financial horoscope, that the monetary outlook in Ontario is all right, but the same happy condition of affairs is not likely to prevail in the west. It seems that in certain towns there has been too much booming of real estate, values have been unduly inflated, and speculation and investment have been rife. The fictitious figures placed upon certain western property, especially city lots, cannot last forever. The prices asked in numerous centres are away beyond what present conditions or future prospects justify. Water seeks its level and so do realty values—although it may take time. The future cannot be mortgaged too heavily with impunity. Every town springing up in a day, or located at some crossroads point in Western Canada, is not going to be a second Winnipeg or Vancouver, as many Western real estate men would lead the effete East to believe.

The progress, expansion and development of the West are yet in their infancy, but there is no use in painting the future in too dazzling colors or placing too much credence in the chimerical creations of every real estate man.

The prosperous city of Lethbridge in South Alberta, is the centre of a fine grazing and agricultural district, but look at what the banks are doing in that centre. The following despatch gives some idea that a halt must be called in the booming, the speculation, and the borrowing of money on real estate, that have been going on;

"Instructions have been received by the Lethbridge bank managers from their respective general managers to refuse to advance money on real estate and to reserve bank funds for the encouragement of the more stable enterprises. This is a general order to all their branches and is not in any way the outcome of any special activity in real estate in Lethbridge.

"The stringency of the money market the world over demands care that funds may be available for debentures, mortgages, and the assistance of industries, wholesale houses and other non-speculative businesses. The higher rate of interest likely to result from the present financial situation may interfere to some extent with building operations throughout the continent."

WHY THIS CLOAK?

There seems to be a conspiracy of secrecy at Ottawa to prevent the Opposition finding out the particulars in connection with accounts presented by the Grand Trunk Pacific, amounting to $162,000.

Three times by a straight party vote the Committee on Public Accounts refused to send for the statements and vouchers covering the original claim made against the Government for construction work in the prairie and mountain section. The auditor of the Grand Trunk who made up the account was summoned to appear, but disregarded the summons and sailed for the Mediterranean. His assistant testified that the statements presented to the Government and kindly returned to the company had been destroyed. The accounts from which it was made up remained, but when the witness was asked to produce them, Mr. Fielding and Mr. Emmerson, supported by a Liberal majority in the Commons voted down the motion. As the account presented called for nearly a million dollars, and the suppressed items amount to $162,000, and cover outlays for promotion, legislation and preliminary expenses of doubtful character, the country has some right to know who got the money.

Why it is that the Government is so determined that the country shall not know how it happened that, just at the time the Ministry was giving out this extraordinary railway contract under which the company gets a transcontinental road, practically at the expense of the taxpayer, the Grand Trunk has to pay $162,000 in "preliminary expenses"? Why is it that the Government keeps these expenses so secret? Why is it that the entire force of parliament is exerted to prevent us from knowing who got the money?

The restraining and reformatory power of publicity is seldom sufficiently recognized, and in the management of financial institutions of a semi-public nature it is often more effective than complicated restrictions, while it lacks their hampering and injurious influence. The Insurance Commission proposes that each company submit a quarterly statement regarding stocks and securities purchased or sold, with the par and market value of each and the rate of dividend they pay. This is supplemented by the recommendation of many drastic restrictions in regard to the investment of insurance funds in securities. While it is possible for grave abuses to arise in the investment of such funds, the danger would be minimized by the publishing of the reports suggested, provided it were supplemented by regulations which would insure full information reaching the public. It would be wise to try the effect of such a plan before materially increasing specific restrictions. There is but little danger in allowing the companies considerable discretion in making investments, so long as they are made in the open light of public criticism.

The same good influence may be brought to bear in regard to the outlay on new business and renewals. It has been proposed to circumscribe such outlay in the interest of policyholders. In this, as in the matter of investments, the choice is between permitting operations that may develop into grave abuses and establishing restrictions that may have an injurious effect in hampering new and progressive companies. The best course would be to allow the companies all the liberty it is certain they will not abuse. Publicity will certainly lessen the tendency to abuse freedom in this regard, and will proportionately lessen the need of injurious restraints. If companies know that every excessive outlay in the scramble for new business will be revealed to the public the wisdom of prudence and of conservative methods will be continually before their eyes. Closely bound up with this is the question of salaries, and while these in a private corporation, are not a matter of public concern, insurance business is so much a partnership with the public that there are good grounds for a certain measure of supervision. The Commission recommends the restraint of a vote of the directorate on all salaries over a certain amount, but it may be found that to take the public fully into confidence in such matters would be more effective in accomplishing the desired results.

The question of method in publicity is all important. Reports to the Superintendent of Insurance are very well as far as they go. The resultant records give the inquisitive and those already well informed a good basis for comparison. But, more seems to be needed to insure the full benefit of popular criticism as a restraining and guiding influence. A report or statement for the public, to be presented when soliciting insurance and made in a prescribed form, could be made a valuable feature of a scheme of publicity. Give the prospective insurer a chance to say if salaries are excessive, if too much is spent on new business, if investments in securities are sound or merely made to further other enterprises of the directors, and there will be a continuous restraining influence that may be more effective than a multitude of embarrassing restrictions. A full and fair test of the possibilities of publicity will show how far other and more direct legal restraints are necessary.—Toronto Globe.

The land speculator in Alberta will have to pay a tax for education. This will be good news to the actual settler, says the Lethbridge Herald, who has had to pay for the support of his township school, while a man or company owning probably the entire township adjoining escaped without putting up a cent.

The mail service in certain parts of Ontario is bad enough, but in the west it is a great deal worse, particularly between Edmonton and Lethbridge. A paper in the latter city says,—It usually takes the Edmonton papers about five days to reach her, and we know of one instance where a letter, mailed at Belleville on the same day one was mailed at Edmonton, reached here along with the Edmonton letter. It is time postoffice departments wakes up to the needs of the country and gets busy and improves the service, before a hundred or more new towns come into existence.

If young men wish to succeed in business, they must not spend their time and money in simply having a good time. They must not be discontented with the little place in which they are in because they think they are too big for it. The way to get into a large place is to outgrow the one you are in, grow until it is so small that it will not hold you any longer. A man who sits shrunk up and worthless in a little place, because he thinks it is not worth while to grow enough to fill that, he has little prospect of getting into larger ones. Fill the place that you are in. Fit yourself for higher usefulness. To do that you must do do something besides play, though that may be innocent in itself.

Ice Gave Way; Had Close Call

Mr. Peter Thompson and Sister Had Unpleasant Experience

Just last week, while Mr Peter Thompson and his sister, Miss Nellie of Hiawatha, were returning from visiting friends at Roseneath, by way of Rice Lake, they struck some bad ice, near Rock Island, and almost lost their lives. Mr. Thompson and his sister were in a buggy and while nearing the north west shore of Rock Island, the block of ice gave way, throwing the occupants into the water. The horse succeeded in getting out with the buggy, while Mr. and Miss Thompson also managed to get out onto sound ice.

As Mr Thompson was unhitching his horse the block went down again. The horse acted very courageously in the water, and, after the fourth block breaking away, the animal perished. Mr. Thompson and his sister were taken to the home of Mr. Amos Shearer, where they were attended to, and now they do not feel any the worse of their dip.

Presentation to Worthy Couple

Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Removing From Westwood to Lindsay

Westwood, March 26th.

The home of Mr. John Francis was a busy place on Friday, 15th, when the friends and neighbors and gathered to bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Francis, who are leaving our district. Some seven years ago Mr. Francis bought the 200 acre farm and stock of the late Job Humphries. He has recently sold the same to Mr. Wm. Humphries who has recently returned from California, U.S. and will move to Lindsay, where he has a position awaiting him. Mr and Mrs. Francis have been exceedingly popular in this district during their stay here, so on Friday evening he was presented with a handsome gold headed cane, while Mrs. Francis was the recipient of a lovely silver tea service. An oyster supper and pleasant evening was enjoyed by all who regret the departure of the above.

Owing to Mr. Francis leaving our vicinity a new councillor for Asphodel will have to be elected. Mr. Francis has done faithful services for the township for the past four years.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Harris left for their home in Manitoba last week.

Mr. George Lancaster has rented his farm to Messrs. Lynch and Fox and will go west in a short time.

Mr. Willie Cameron and Charles Stuart left for the west on Friday last.

Mr. James Morgan is able to be around again.

Mr and Mrs. James Dickson, of Keene, were the guests of Miss Georgina Warner on Sunday.

Cradle.—To Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Lancaster, of Birdsall's station, a son, on March 21st.

Mr. Thompson McDonald, of Montana, has been visiting his sister, Mrs R. Wilson, for the past week.

Mr. Alex. Leitch was visiting at Mr. Thos. Cardwell's on Sunday.

Dr. Harris has left our village. We hope to have another doctor soon.

A large crowd attended the sale of farm stock and implements on Wednesday last of Mr. Hamilton Moore. One horse, 4 years old, sold for $180, one cow $61, another $59, and other stock accordingly. Mr. Moore will move to Norwood.

Miss Morton, the lady evangelist, has been conducting a series of revival meetings in the Methodist church during the last two weeks. Miss Morton will remain until the 31st inst.

We regret the departure of Miss French, our school teacher, at the Easter vacation. She will be succeeded by Miss White.

Respected Douro Resident Expires

Death of Mr. William O'Brien, for Many Years Township Clerk.

Mr William O'Brien, for thirty-one years clerk of Douro township passed away at his home on Monday afternoon about five o'clock. The cause of death was cancer of the mouth, from which the deceased had been ailing for about a year.

The late Mr. O'Brien was 62 years of age and was born in Douro on a farm near the present home of the family. He was educated in Douro and for many years taught school. He later devoted his attention to farming and, as already stated, he ably filled the position of township clerk for thirty-one years and was succeeded about a year ago by Mr. John G. Allen. The late Mr. O'Brien was highly respected and had a large number of warm friends. He was one of the county auditors for some years, and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of all. He was thrice married. His first wife was Isabel McDonald, daughter of the late Charles McDonald, of Otonabee, and sister of Mrs John Doherty, of this city. She died about 28 years ago. By this union two children were born—Mrs P. G. Towns, of Douro, and Mr. Charles Edward O'Brien, of Sandon, B.C. The deceased's second wife was Elizabeth McIntosh, the daughter of the late Donald McIntosh, of Warsaw. She died about 24 years ago. Two children were born, but both passed away some years ago.

Mr. O'Brien's third and surviving wife is Mary Sullivan, daughter of the late Dennis Sullivan, of Douro. Three children were the fruit of this union. They are Mary, Kate and William, all residing at home. The sympathy of many friends will be extended to the wife, family and relatives.

The late Mr. O'Brien was a lifelong Conservative. He leaves two brothers and four sisters. The brothers are Michael, of Douro, and Thomas, of Peterborough. The sisters are Misses Margaret and Julia O'Brien, of Peterborough; Mrs Ed Walsh, of Douro, and Mrs. Dennis Guerin of Douro.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, Douro, tomorrow, Wednesday morning, at nine o'clock to St. Joseph's church, Douro, and thence to St. Joseph's cemetery for interment.

Cheese Men Death on Turnips As Feed for the Dairy Cattle

Annual Meeting of Cheese Men Held This Morning--Every One Condemned Turnip Feeding--Officers Elected--Splendid Address by Mr. G. G. Publow, Chief Dairy Inspector.

The cheese men are death on turnips. They condemn the use of them as feed for dairy cows, in every shape and form and quantity. Turnips fed by one or two farmers will spoil a whole batch of cheese. Turnips reduce the price of the cheese, lower its standard, and ruin the reputation of the factories of the district. No matter how hard a maker works or how much pains he takes with his cheese, a turnip flavor he cannot blot out, and his efforts are futile.

The cheese men intend this year to root out the turnip feeders. If farmers will not stop using these roots as feed, proceedings will be taken against them, and they will be punished in such a way, that they will fuly realize the damage they have been doing. Before taking this step, however, the farmers will be given all kinds of instruction and every opportunity to cease the practice.

The annual meeting of the cheese men was held in the county council chamber this morning. About 25 were present and after the election of officers a number of excellent addresses were delivered, from which much benefit will be derived.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the cheese men will hereafter be held on or about the middle of April. This action was taken on account of the few cheese men who attend in March. The roads are usually very bad in March, and farmers also fail to attend. It is felt that there will be a larger attendance of both cheese men and farmers in April.

On motion the minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

President Campbell in making a few remarks stated that from the financial report it appeared that the Peterborough cheese and butter makers was a poor organization. There were only three dollars in the treasury and he sincerely hoped that all the cheese and butter makrs would contribute at least 50c for the general good of the society.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The next matter taken up was the election of officers which resulted as follows ;—

President.—A. H. Campbell.
Secretary.—H. J. Crowe.

This concluded the business of the meeting and Mr. Ward, instructor for Peterborough district, was called upon to address the members. In opening he expressed his pleasure at being present, but was sorry to see so small an attendance. He had travelled through this section for the past eight years and he considered that there had been a most satisfactory improvement in the cheese and butter industry. The past year was especially a prosperous year.

Mr. Publow asked him what were the weak points in this section, if any.

In reply Mr. Ward said that the milk producers were now realizing the necessity of having the raw material right. He said a few ice houses had been erected in th district the past season, but not very many. These cool curing establishments were very necessary to the success of the dairy industry.

Mr. Publow asked how the turnip question was here.

Mr. Ward stated that he was sorry to say that some of the farmers did use turnips. But on the whole Peterborough was pretty free. The practice was the worst in the east. If he was judging cheese and found a turnip flavor he would cut it five points out of a total of 45. He liked turnips, but did not like them in cheese or butter.

Mr. J. A. Kerr, of Belleville, cheese buyer, said he was greatly interested in Peterborough cheese and was sorry to say that last fall the farmers did use turnips. In May, June, and the first week in July the cheese was the best in the country. After that the hot weather affected the cheese and they had hot weather cheese. This was due to the poorly constructed curing rooms. Then along in October some of the factories which made beautiful cheese had turnip milk. It was alright to use turnips for feed but it will not do for farmers selling to factories. The people will not buy the cheese. He strongly urged the farmers to stop using them. In the Belleville section he said, they made September cheese the whole season through, and it was certainly the best.

He said the factories should establish more cold curing rooms. Turnips should be cut out altogether.

Mr. Campbell remarked that he would cut ten points for turnip cheese, which is equal to one cent per pound.

Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie said that most of the cheese factories at their annual meetings had condemned the feeding of turnips and he thought that there would be a big improvement.

Mr. Cameron, of Campbellcroft, instructor for part of Peterborough, also condemned turnips being fed to cows whose milk went to the cheese factories.

Mr. Hume said there were only half a dozen cheese factories in Campbellford district which feed turnips and they went to Peterborough Cheese Board. He was always under the impression that the Peterborough cheese men all feed turnips. In the section east of Campbellford they were the first in the province to cut out the feeding of them. He said there was no need of raising turnips for feed for dairy cows. He was a farmer and he admitted that there was a feeling of antagonism between the farmer and cheese maker, which should not be. They should work together.

Mr. G. G. Publow, of Kingston, chief dairy instructor for eastern Ontario was the next speaker. In opening he strongly condemned the feeding of turnips. He saw some of the cheese in Montreal which was very pronounced with a turnip flavor, but other cheese was flavored with mustard. It was a very serious mistake to feed turnips for either cheese or butter. A few factories in a section goes a long way in condemning the whole section. If it was only the few factories which suffered it would be all right. Peterborough has had a splendid reputation for fancy cheese and he hoped they would maintain it.

Continuing he said the object of the meeting was to raise the quality of the produce. It was the duty of the instructor to give the makers the most up-to-date information. This year there will be 24 instructors for eastern Ontario, starting from Yonge street, Toronto, through to Quebec. These men will have charge of certain districts and will also act as sanitary inspectors. They will visit every factory and give instruction, and inspect the quality of the milk. This official will also be able to go to the very farms where the poor milk comes from and have the supply improved. A special effort will be made this year in many ways. Bulletins are being prepared to send to the schools to instruct the pupils in the care of milk. Then the Woman's Institute is taking it up. The cheese factories must be kept clean, the maker and all his utensils must be kept clean, and the instructor will pay particular attention to this mater. Anyone keeping milk in rusty cans or in unsanitary places they will be made to rectify it, and the instructors duty will be to instruct the farmer.

To protect the producers and makers a board of directors has been appointed and no one is forced to adopt any of the inspector's suggestions until they go the directors. They are only asked to do what is fair. The object of the instruction is to get all the cheese uniform in the whole province. This cannot be done unless all the makers co-operate with the instructor. There is no fee for the instruction and every one is asked to help on the work.

In reference to the making of cheese he said he was confident that most of the makers knew their business. But this spring, he said, the first cheese would likely have to go right into consumption. With this in view he said the makers would do well to watch the markets and know before they start just what kind of cheese they want. For early consumption you want quick ripening cheese, while later in the season they will want the slow ripening. In the past the chief aim has been to just get the cheese to pass. The object should be to get the best. The people want a nice mellow, smooth, good smelling and tasty cheese, or fancy cheese. This will bring the best price and is just as easily made. He recommended uniformity in size and quality and in appearance, clean and attractive.

It is said that Canada has the poorest cheese factories in the world, yet Canada has the best makers and other countries are sending here for instructors. Other countries make better cheese than does Canada. If that is so than it is up to the maker to find out where the defect is. If it is the factory or the condition of the milk it is the makers duty to inform the producers and rectify the fault, by pointing out to them what they are losing in dollars and cents.

The object of the instruction this year is to learn the defects in the cheese industry and to get right down to the bottom and start there to build it up on a proper basis. If the milk producer is not doing his best he should be told of it. The first thing to be done is to get the cheese delivered in a proper condition. The farmers will not attend the meetings so it is the duty of the instructors and the makers to point out the defects to the farmers. Go to their farms and teach them. If the farmers continue to do wrong after they have been instructed the pualty which is attached to the new bill will be imposed and the indifferent farmer will be forced to make the improvements. The same applys to the factories.

The two features absolutely necessary is to have the milk kept in proper condition and to have the factory in such condition that the temperature is right and keep the place perfectly clean.

FRED BROOKS WAS RUN OVER

National Bus Knocked Him Down—His Head Was Cut and His Shoulder Hurt

Master Fred Brooks, son of Mr. J. M. Brooks, was knocked down and run over by the National Hotel bus this morning. The little fellow was playing with his cart and as he crossed from the Central Milling Company, towards the C. P. R. Station, the bus struck him. It was going to the 11.38 train and the accident was witnessed by several persons. Little Fred's head was badly cut and his shoulder was injured. No bones were broken, and he will soon be all right again. He was carried into the Central Milling Co.'s office until a doctor arrived, when he was taken to his home on Dalhousie street.

Will be Inducted to New Pastorate

Rev. Mr. Keith at Knox Church on April 11th

Rev. H. J. Keith, M. A., of Smith's Falls, will be inducted into the pastorate of Knox church on Thursday April 11th, at eight p.m. The call to Rev. Mr. Keith was considered at a meeting of the Presbytery this morning, when it was sustained. Mr. W. Shea and J. Smith, on behalf of the congregation of Knox church, appeared before the Presbytery and were heard in support of the call. Arrangements were made for the induction of Rev. Mr. Keith on the above date, Rev. Dr. Torrance to preside, Rev. Mr. Peckover to preach, Rev. Mr. Potter to address the minister, and Rev. Dr. Marsh, the people.

HAVE A CUP OF TEA

Mr. H. T. Kennedy has issued invitation cards to his numerous customers in the city and all ladies to attend a demonstration of his superior teas to be given in his store on the afternoons of Wednesday and Thursday of this week, and on Thursday evening from eight to ten o'clock. Mr. Kennedy claims to have the best line of 40c. teas on the market, and equal in quality and flavor to tea usually sold at from 50c. to 60c and takes this unique manner of proving the same to those who may attend, besides demonstrating as well that he has made more than usual efforts to provide for a supply of the choicest Easter meats that may be purchased. As can be seen by an advertisement in another part of this paper, his object is a two-fold one, to show his customers the quality of meat that he has laid in, as well as a partaking of the tea and light refreshments to be served by one of the city's best caterers.

OBITUARY

WM. McGREGOR.

The death occurred this morning at seven o'clock, of Wm. McGregor, at his late residence, Driscoll Terrace, East City, after an illness of only a week's duration. The deceased was thirty-four years of age, and was the second son of the late David McGregor, who predeceased him just two months ago. He was born in this city and lived here all his life. He was a barber by trade. Ten years ago he was married to Miss Margaret Murphy, of this city, who, with seven children, the oldest eight years of age, and the youngest, a baby only five weeks' old, is left to mourn his loss.

He is also survived by his mother, four sisters and one brother. The sisters are Mrs. Jas. Munro, Toronto; Mrs Faux, Chicago, and Misses Lizzie and Annie, East City. The brother is Mr. David McGregor, of this city.

The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, from the family residence, 334 Driscoll Terrace, to the Little Lake cemetery, for interment.

Left to Guard Baby Brother ; Toronto Child Kills Infant

Father Out and Boy Was Unable to Quiet His Charge Crushed Skull With Stove Lifter--Sad Story in a Queen City Home.

A Toronto despatch says:—The six-months'-old infant child of Nathan Winberg, at 225 Chestnut street, was killed in its cradle last night by its brother, Hyman, aged 6, in whose care it had been left by the parents while they went out to the Synagogue on McCaul street. Its skull was crushed in by a stove-lifter, with which the little boy had struck it repeatedly because it cried, and would not go to sleep.

When huband and wife returned they found the baby dead in its cradle and "Hymie" explained to his father that he had "cradled" the baby with the "key," which is the term they use for stove-lifter. It was nearly an hour before a doctor could be found, and when Dr. Brefney O'Reilly reached the house, the little one was cold in death. The police and the chief coroner were notified, and it will be decided to-day what will be done.

Winberg is in poor circumstances, and with his wife and three children, lives in two rooms in the basement, at the Chestnut street address. Recently he had a job with the Canada Foundry Company, but for the past few weeks he has been without employment. The room in which the baby was killed contains one bed, in which the entire family sleep, a stove and a couple of chairs.

Last night at 8 o'clock husband and wife went out to the Synagogue on McCaul street, where the usual Easter observances were being held. Before he went, the second child, a little boy of 2 1-2 years, was put in the bed, and Hymie, the eldest, was told to rock the cradle until the baby went to sleep. The father returned for a few minutes about half an hour later and found all well. Hymie was rocking the cradle, and the father promised him some candy if he would be good until his mother came home. He returned to the church and waited until the end of the service, after which he started home with his wife at ten o'clock.

When he got inside he went up to the cradle, and he noticed that the baby's head appeared to be bruised. He picked the child up, but it had ceased to breathe. It was still warm, however.

When the doctor arrived the baby had been dead for more than an hour. The right side of its skull was crushed, but no blood had been drawn. The skin of the head showed the black scar kleft by several blows. Dr. O'Reilly said that the skull was scarcely any thicker than brown paper, so that comparatively little contact would be sufficient to fracture it.

Will the Price of Milk Remain at 6c Per Quart?

Milkmen Will Hold a Meeting Shortly to Consider What is to be Done—Summer Price May be Six Cents Per Quart.

Many people believe in the saying that whatever goes up must come down, but a large number of the householders of Peterborough are wondering if the old saying is going to prove true as regards the price of milk in this city. The price of the lacteal fluid went up to six cents per quart last fall and many are wondering if it is going to come down. In past years it has been the rule of the milkmen to advance the price of milk to six cents per quart in the fall and then to reduce it to five cents per quart in the spring.

Will this be done this year? This is the question which householders have been asking each other and their milk vendors during the past two or three weeks, as the time is now approaching when the milkmen in other years reduced the price to the summer figure, five cents per quart.

One of the largest of the local milk dealers stated to the Review today that it was likely that milk would remain at six cents per quart during the summer season. He pointed out that, while everything else was advancing the price of milk had remained stationary for many years. The men who kept the cows had to pay higher wages for their hired help, the cost of feed had increased materially and in practically every way it cost them more money to place the milk at the customer's door than it did a short time ago. Under these circumstances he considered that the milkmen would be justified in maintaining the present price.

The milk dealers will hold a meeting shortly when the matter will be discussed and an agreement reached regarding what stand is to be taken.

Have no Contract to Supply Wood

The Cavendish Lumber Co., of Lakefield, write the Review, denying that they have made any agreement with a local gentleman to supply slabs, edging or wood of any kind, in connection with a new lath mill, started in Peterborough a few days ago.

It May Not Always Be Wise to Deal at a Store Because It is Big

But the chances are that it became big because it was wise to deal there.

We look back with pride on the growth of this business in the last three years, and we believe there lies before a store of this size and character an era of progress and a field of usefulness hitherto undreamed of.

We are not allowing our dreams of future greatness, however, to interfere with the work at hand.

We want to turn $20,000 of Goods into cash before April 1st, and no consideration of price or profit will be allowed to influence us in any way.

Everything marked at the price which will ensure a clean sweep, and everything sold on the "money-back" plan.

Peterborough Juniors are Ready for the Lacrosse Fray

Club Was Reorganized Last Night Night With List of Able Officers—Team Will be Entered in the Junior C. L. A.

At an enthusiastic meeting at the Oriental hotel last night the Young Shamrock Lacrosse Club was reorganized for the season of 1907. There was a large attendance of interested persons and if the same spirit of harmony and enthusiasm which pervaded the meeting last night is kept up during the season, the Peterborough youngsters should land near the top of the pile. Officers were elected, delegates appointed to the C.L.A. convention, it having been decided to enter a team in the junior series and general arrangements made for the coming season. Mr. R. M. Glover acted as chairman and Mr. W. Metheral was secretary pro tem.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The election of officers was first taken up and resulted as follows;

Patrons and Patronesses. — Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. J. MacPherson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Derocher, and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wasson.

Hon. Pres., H. Lebrun.
Hon Vice Pres., A. Doris.
Pres., George Lynch.
1st Vice Pres., W. Crowley,
2nd Vice Pres., M. J. Mahor.
Sec. Treas., Ernest Ford.
Manager, R. M. Glover.
Ass't Manager, Chas. Barber.

Committee, H. White, F. McGrath, W. Metheral, E. Saunders, and the captain of the team, to be elected later. If the captain elected is one of those already on the executive, another man will have to be elected to make the five members, of which the executive is to consist.

It was decided to change the name of the team to that of the "Peterborough Shamrocks," it being felt that this would be more distinctive than "Young Shamrocks" the name under which the team went last year.

The delegates from the Peterborough Lacrosse Club, Messrs. W. D. Davidson and A. M. Regan, were appointed to represent the Shamrocks at the annual convention of the C.L.A. in Toronto on Friday, of this week. They will be instructed to support the proposed amendment to raise the age limit for the junior series from 20 to 21 years. It was unanimously decided to place a team in the junior C.L.A.

The executive committee were instructed to have membership season tickets issued, to be sold at $1.00 each. They will entitle holders to admission to all the home games of the club. It is expected that there will be no difficulty in selling about 150 tickets, as those who buy them will have the privilege of seeing some splendid lacrosse and besides their sale is about the only way the club has of raising funds. The team will practice at Riverside Park where their games will also be played. Arrangements for practice hours are now being made. Several other minor matters were also discussed last night, such as the procuring of new uniforms, arranging for dressing quarters, etc.

The Shamrocks should be able to place an excellent team in the field this year. Nearly all last season's players are available, and some of them are about as handy with a gutted stick as can be found in Ontario today. The team should be stronger than last yearand will no doubt be near the top of the ladder when the season is over. Practices will be commenced just as soon as the grounds are sufficiently dry.

Local Bowling Record Was Broken on Saturday Night

Mr. Clare Gutterson holds the record for the highest single string score at the Majestic alleys, Water street. In one frame, while rolling on Saturday night, Mr. Gutterson made a score of 243, which, as far as can be learned, is the best single frame score ever made in Peterborough. The record at the Majestic alleys previous to Saturday night was 222.

Mr Gutterson only made seven on his first frame. Then followed three spares and the remainder were all strikes. To those who are not familiar with the game, it may be of interest to know that 150 to 175 is considered a good score for the average bowler.

Some excellent scores are being made at the Majestic alleys these days. The members of the High Life team, who are entered in the big Canadian bowling tournament, which opens in Toronto next week are practicing steadily and are rolling well. They should make a good showing in Toronto, although they will be competing against the best bowlers in Canada.

The game of balls and pins has many devotees in Peterborough, especially during the spring season, when there is not much activity in outdoor sports.

David Hurlingham, was elected president at the annual meeting of the Prince Edward County Reform Association.

MEN ARE NOT INTERESTED

Will Not Read Advertisements Written Exclusively for Women.

Unless a man learns something from an advertisement he can't be bothered reading them. And that is why few men read ads, for most of the columns published are written for the ladies.

When a man knows that the difference between Blunoz serge and cheap tweeds is caused by the use of the fine long strong hair of the Australian sheep for the Blunoz and the short ends for tweed, he knows why the latter is prickly, rough and weaker than the long woven strands. That is why the Blunoz serge suit in the Semi-ready store at $20 is better value than the tweed suit at the same price—if a man wants a suit for wear.

Wanted to Stay in Ashburnham

Considerable Amusement on Hunter Street East

Considerable amusement was caused on Hunter street east this morning, by the antics of a shantyman, who had imbibed too freely of the flowing bowl. He was in charge of two companions, who were trying to bring him across the bridge to the main part of the city. But apparently he had a deep love for Ashburnham, somewhere down deep in his heart, for he objected to following in the direction of the wise men of olden days. He dug his feet into the crossings and struggled gamely to stay in east city. The trio were resting in front of the Rapid Tool Company when last seen this morning.

Aldermen are Making a Howl

About Staying at Meetings Until Nearly Midnight Every Night

Most of the aldermen are raising an awful howl about so many meetings and such big sessions. One well-known member said he had tried for a month to get one evening to do a little private business, but was unsuccessful. The evening sessions of the council and committees very often could be cut down. The aldermen go to the meetings without ever preparing themselves. They do not know what is coming up and when a matter is brought up, they do not understand it. This necessitates a great deal of explanation and a lot of unnecessary talk. Some of the aldermen have been complaining about it for some time, and they say they will not attend the meetings if the system of doing business is not changed.

CURLERS HAD JOLLY SMOKER

Presentation of Club Prizes at the Rink Last Night

Many enjoyable events have been held at the curling rink, but the smoker last night was perhaps one of the happiest affairs ever participated in by the local knights of the brooms and stanes. It was a fitting wind up to the most successful season in the history of the club and was characterized by a large attendance of the curlers, a good program, and plenty of good cigars. The function was held in the reception room downstairs where a piano had been placed in order that the musical part of the programme might be carried out to better advantage. President T. F. Matthews occupied the chair and presided in his usual acceptable manner.

One of the events of the evening was the presentation of the club prizes to the winners of the rink and points competitions. The presentations were made by Mr. Matthews, who in doing so congratulated the winners on their success and the excellent way in which they had curled. The prizes were awarded as follows:—

Second prize, rink competition.—Mr C. Rutherford's rink.

First prize, points competition.—Mr J. H. Ferguson.

Second prize, points competition.—Mr R. N. Merritt.

Messrs. Rutherford, Ferguson and Merritt were not able to be present, but the other recipients made suitable responses.

Vocal numbers were splendidly rendered during the evening by Messrs. W. S. Davidson, Walter Stocker, W. H. Denham, Harry Evans and John Crane. The latter also acted as accompanist in his usual accomplished manner. Many of the old favorites were sung and encores had to be frequently given.

Mr W. G. Ferguson gave a short talk on curling stones in which he brought out the point that many of the members of the local club were using granites that were not heavy enough. This had been found to be a serious disadvantage when playing against rinks using heavy stones. He recommended that the first and second men of a rink should use 44 or 46 pound stones and let the skip and vice skip use whatever weight they could handle to the best advantage. The majority of the curlers in the eastern provinces use 50 pound stones.

Mr. R. Neill also gave a few words of advice along the same line emphasizing the point that more attention should be paid to the little details in order to achieve success in curling. He thought that this had been neglected to some extent in the Peterborough club in the past.

Short speeches were also made by Messrs. W. H. Moore, E. H. D. Hall and others. During the early part of meeting there was a general discussion regarding some matters in which the club is interested, among them the stand to be taken by the delegates from Peterborough at the annual meeting of the Ontario Curling Association to be held in Toronto early next month.

The gathering was brought to a close by the singing of Auld Lang Syne and the National Anthem.

GAVE LECTURE AT MILLBROOK

"A Night in the Skies" by Rev Dr. Marsh

Rev. Dr. Marsh, of Springville, lectured last night in the town hall, Millbrook, under the auspices of the Presbyterian church of that place. His subject was "A Night in the Skies" this lecture being practically the same as the one that delighted a large Peterborough audience a few weeks ago. The hall at Millbrook was filled to excess and the lecture was unanimously considered one of the greatest treats ever enjoyed by a Millbrook audience. Dr. Marsh illustrated his remarks with a large number of splendid stereopticon views.

Plan now open at Soden's Book store of the concert on Easter Monday evening by the Conservatory of Music.

The Telescope Will be Subject

Of Inaugural Lecture of Astronomical Society

The inaugural lecture of the Peterborough branch of the Royal Astronomical Society will take place on Friday evening, April 5th, at the Y. M. C. A. hall when Rev. Dr. Marsh, president of the local branch, will give an address on the "Telescope." The use of the telescope is one of the first things that must be learned by the astronomical student and the inaugural lecture will give the members an excellent opportunity of making themselves familiar with this interesting instrument. It is expected that there will be a large attendance.

Everything Ready for the Bouts

Toronto and Lindsay Men are Here Ready for the Fray

Pete Harry and Tom Daly, of Toronto, arrived in the city at noon and expressed themselves as being in splendid shape for their bouts at the old opera house to-night. Great interest centres in the go between Harry and "Broncho" Brown, of Lindsay. The Lindsay man is in the city and is accompanied by about twenty supporters. Another bunch of Lindsay sports are coming down on the nine o'clock train. Fred Brown, of Lindsay, who will enter the ring against Bill Wallace, of Peterborough, is also in town and says he never felt better. Tom Daly, of Toronto, will go up against a local unknown, who is billed to furnish a surprise.

In the wrestling line Eugene Hurtubise will meet Jack Thompson, of Hamilton, Harry Staunton will meet Mike O'Toole and there will be another bout between two local men, who will serve up something good in the "rassling" sphere.

Chris. Graham will referee all the events and there will be a musical programme furnished by Billie Breen, Geo. Lynch and Joe Guerin. The opera house has been fitted up specially for the occasion and those who attend will be surprised and delighted at the improvements which have been made.

The bouts are the chief topic of conversation among the sporting fraternity of the city and there will be a big crowd on hand.

Lindsay and its Street Cleaning

After quoting from the Peterborough Review as to the excellent methods employed in Peterborough for removing the mud from the streets, the Lindsay Post says;

"Why cannot the same plan be followed in Lindsay—not about May 1st, but now? The cleaning need not be thorough, and can be repeated early in May. The sight of the manure strewn streets is almost enough to sicken a delicate person."

The journeymen taylors of Ottawa are on strike.

Laurier Evades the Enquiry Into Charges Made by Fowler

Mr. Bourassa's Motion in Regard to Fowler Charges.

Severe Criticisms in the House—Great Crowds Hear Labelle Man Drive Cabinet Into Hurried Conference—Sir Wilfrid Laurier Refuses to Investigate—Mr. Fowler Says Insurance Report Is Wrong.

Ottawa, March 27.—Great crowds waited in the corridors yesterday afternoon and filled and overflowed the galleries as soon as the doors were opened. The members, too, were promptly in their places, and all eyes were turned to where, side by side, sat Henri Bourassa and Armand Lavergne.

There was some slight delay as Mr. Fielding wished to put through a proportional vote on supply, the fiscal year ending on Saturday next.

It was 3.30 when, upon motion to again go into supply, Mr. Bourassa rose to propose his amendment, moving for a complete investigation of all the charges and scandals respecting Ministers and members of Parliament, including Mr. Fowler's famous charge of "women, wine and graft."

Mr. Bourassa spoke from a nonpartisan and almost a judicial standpoint, and at various times received applause from the Opposition.

Mr. Foster Interrupts.

Duncan Ross (Liberal, B. C.) shut off any discussion as to the charges against him, by invoking the rule that a member is not permitted to quote from a past debate. No one else got behind this rule, and the Speaker was not interrupted, except by Mr. Foster, who repeatedly protested that the findings of the Insurance Commission were "deliberate misrepresentations."

Mr. Bourassa finished his speech at 5.30, and the Government was so deeply impressed with the gravity of the occasion that Sir Wilfrid Laurier made no attempt to reply, and after a somewhat embarrassing pause, Mr. Carvel (Lib., N. B.) was evidently put up to talk until 6 o'clock.

Between 6 and 8 o'clock there was a Ministerial conference.

Bourassa's Speech.

When Mr. Bourassa arose, there was slight applause, so slight indeed that both sides were inclined to greet the speaker with a loud guffaw.

"I am well aware," said Mr. Bourassa, "that I am not very welcome to either side of the House to-day, but it is not my mission to do the work of the man with the muck rake. I have no personal enmity against any member of this House, nor have I any political motive. Both parties, as at present constituted, are indifferent to me."

He then traced the history of the Royal Insurance Commission. The Commission had heard witnesses and reported its findings to Parliament. These findings affected certain members of Parliament so seriously that it was full time for them to be indicated or to have their guilt established. These gentlemen were Messrs. Foster, Fowler, Lefurgey and Bennett.

The matter had come acutely to public attention by an episode between one of these four (Mr. Fowler) and Mr. Ross (Yale-Cariboo). Mr. Ross having referred to this report of the Insurance Commission.

Mr. Fowler had replied, "If any attacks are made upon my private character from your side of the House I will show up your connection with Jim Hill. I will tell the inside truth about the Hyman story, and I will expose the connection of certain Ministers and Ministerial members with women, wine and graft."

Fowler's "Notice."

This was a notice served upon the Government that the findings of the Insurance Commission respecting certain Conservative members must not be alluded to.

What had been the effect of that notice? Was the Government frightened by Fowler's threat? Apparently so.

"Under the pretence of the Premier's trip to England, under one pretence or another," he said, "the two parties are hurrying up prorogation and steering clear of any discussion of the report of the Insurance Commission. Is it any wonder that the press and the public are agreed that a saw-off has been arranged between the Government and the Opposition?"

There could be no reason, continued the speaker, why an investigation should be resisted. The Premier on this occasion had stated that the session could not close without Mr. Fowler's charges against his Cabinet being investigated. R. L. Borden had declared that no opposition would come from his side against any investigation against any Conservative member. Indeed, he had protested that he favored the immediate investigation. Mr. Bennett of East Simcoe had very manfully asked, and even demanded, investigation. Why, then, has no one moved for a committee? Clearly it was up to the Government, up to the Prime Minister, to see that a committee was appointed.

Such committee to have power to employ and hear counsel, to send for persons, papers and records, to examine witnesses on oath or affirmation and to report to the House during the present session.

Sir Wilfrid Replies.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier declared that Bourassa's resolution was unique in character. It was in form an amendment to a motion to go into supply. It could, therefore, not be amended. It must be adopted, if at all, holus bolus, the proper with the improper, the true with false.

Mr. Bourassa had protested that he wished to clear the air, to separate the honest from the dishonest men in Parliament.

"Sir," exclaimed the First Minister, theatrically, "every man in this House is an honest man—(applause) and his character cannot be taken away by the tittle tattle of the street or by the reckless talk of any man not brave enough o make a charge."

"We cannot investigate mere rumor. Let charges be made against any member, and I will guarantee a full and speedy investigation."

The Premier denied that there was any saw-off. Had not the leader of the Opposition entered his solemn denial?

Facts In Report.

The Premier, examining the Bourassa resolution in detail, declared that there was no occasion to investigate Messrs. Fowler, Foster, Lefurgey and Bennett. All the facts had no doubt been brought out before the Insurance Commission. The findings of that Commission might be right or wrong. Personally he had no opinion; he had not made up his mind. He hoped that there might still be time to discuss that report at this session.

If Mr. Bourassa had any charge to make, let him make it and it would be investigated if it kept Parliament sitting for three months. But in the name of the dignity of Parliament he protested against such a speech as the member for Labelle had made today.

Borden Criticizes Laurier.

R. L. Borden severely criticized Sir Wilfrid's course, in not making his speech and announcement immediately after Mr. Bourassa's speech and having connived at Mr. Carvell's intervening with an unfair attack on Mr. Foster.

Borden Will Support It.

Mr. Borden evidently sprung a surprise upon the Government when he announced in closing that, while wishing that the resolution of Mr. Bourassa had been drafted differently, he would vote for it.

The House divided upon Mr. Bourassa's statement, and the same was defeated, yeas 66, nays 109—a party vote, except that Bourassa, Armand Lavergne and Robitaille (Liberals) voted for the amendment, and Foster and Fowler (Con.) declined to vote.

The House adjourned at 12.20 a.m.

FEMALE SPY MURDERED.

Illicit Distillers of Liquor Attack Two Women.

Danville, Va., March 27.—A special to the Register from Stuart, Va., which is about 75 miles from Danville, says that as a result of an attack by a mob of men on Sunday night, Annie Hall, a white woman, residing near Charity, Patrick County, was shot to death, and her sister, Jane Hall, seriously wounded.

The accounts of the murder are very meager, and it is supposed to have been the work of illicit distillers of whiskey. The murdered woman and her sister lived in a cottage with their nephew, and it is alleged that they had been acting in the capacity of spies and had been reporting to the revenue officers the whereabouts of the illicit distillers and the names of the operators.

YANKS IN THE WEST.

Farmers Are Pouring In From the States Daily.

Saskatoon, March 27.—From twenty-five to thirty cars of settlers' stock and general effects are being unloaded at the present time at the yard here. Monday a train of twenty-three cars came in from Minneapolis. On board were men and families from Southern Iowa, Illinois and Nebraska. The day on which the party pulled into Minneapolis there were 150 cars of settlers and effects gathered in later cars waiting to be sent along to destinations in Western Canada. All these who have arrived declare themselves but the advance guard of many hundreds and thousands of good American farmers who are preparing to follow this spring from a dozen States.

THEY WANT SIR WILFRID.

London Daily Comments On His Possible Absence From Conference.

London, March 27.—(C. A. P.)—The Evening Globe, discussing Laurier and the coming conference, says excuse would willingly be made for Sir Wilfrid were Canada faced with any grave public crisis or any extraordinary pressure of political business, but the Dominion barometer has indicated set fair for some time past, and it will not pass unnoticed that the debate which first showed Sir Wilfrid's hand was not brought about by his own initiative palm. It says if there were any real possibility of Laurier being absent from the Colonial Conference it would go far to frustrate the whole purpose and potentialities of that gathering.

May Shell the Peasants.

Bucharest, Roumania, March 27.—Four thousand peasants from the districts of Teleorman and Vlashica have joined forces and are now marching on Bucharest.

A minor state of siege has been proclaimed here, and the military authorities have taken measures to prevent the revolted peasants from invading the city.

Should the latter refuse to retire, orders have been issued to the troops to use shrapnel shells.

Ran Down By Royalty.

Lisbon, March 27.—While Mia Pia, the Dowager Queen, the mother of King Carles, and Prince Alfonso, brother of the King, were going to a theatre last night in an automobile the car ran over a woman carrying an infant. The child was killed and the woman dangerously injured. The Dowager Queen was overcome with emotion and wept. She had the woman taken to the hospital in the automobile.

Threw a Bomb.

Bialystok, Russia, March 27.—A bomb was thrown yesterday at Governor-General Bogslevski while he was out driving. The Governor-General was uninjured, though the force of the explosion broke all the windows in the street, and his coachman was slightly wounded. The bomb-thrower escaped.

Cigarette Kills Paralytic.

Philadelphia, March 27.—Campbell A. P. Snodgrass, a helpless paralytic, 56 years old, was burned to death in his bed here yesterday. He was an inveterate cigarette smoker and accidentally set fire to the bed clothing.

GUELPH WRECK VERDICT.

Train Was Going Sixty Miles An Hour, "a Dangerous Rate."

Guelph, March 27.—The finding of the jury, empannelled to examine into the recent wreck on the G.T.R. near Guelph, shows that the train was going at the rate of sixty miles an hour, which they considered "a dangerous rate of speed, considering the season, the weight of the rail and the engine."

Rebel Defeated.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, March 27.—A letter received here yesterday by the Venezuelan Consul from Caracas says that Gen. Juan Pablo Penalosa, who was reported early in the month to have started a serious rebellion in the State of Tachira, Venezuela, has been defeated; that he is being pursued by the Government troops, and that his capture is shortly expected.

Held for Robbery.

Windsor, March 27.—Norman Livingston, the wayward son of a Canadian clergyman, is held by the police on suspicion of being implicated in a highway robbery which occurred after midnight on London street west, when James McClory, a tunnel employe, was held up and robbed of $45 by two men.

Kills Prohibition Bill.

Halifax, March 27.—The prohibition liquor bill came up in the House of Assembly yesterday for a second reading. The galleries were packed and great interest was taken in the anticipated debate.

Things took a quick turn, however, and the bill was killed by the Speaker, who ruled it out of order as unconstitutional.

Shot a Chinaman.

Port Arthur, March 27.—The coroner's jury in the case of the Nepigon shooting returned a verdict in effect that Ching, the Chinaman, came to his death from a bullet fired from a pistol in the hands of one Derome, but that in the opinion of the jury the shooting was accidental and without intent to do harm.

Mr. St. John Improving.

Toronto, March 27.—Hon. J. W. St. John, Speaker of the Legislature, who underwent an operation for appendicitis in the general hospital Sunday night, made splendid progress yesterday and at midnight was resting easily. It was stated that he was out of danger, unless unforseen eventualities occur.

Two Cent Fare Bill Passed.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 27.—The Senate yesterday passed finally the House two-cent railroad fare bill.

The increased provincial subsidies will cost the Dominion $2,361,000 extra.

APPOINTS COMMISSION

Will Examine Thaw as to Present State of Mind.

Man Who Will Decide Thaw's Fate—Evelyn Weeps On Learning Judge's Decision—Thaw Has No Doubt of the Result—Jury to Be Excused Indefinitely—Affidavits Were Too Much At Variance.

New York, March 27.—Justice Fitzgerald yesterday unexpectedly handed down a decision ordering a commission in lunacy to enquire into the present state of mind of Harry K. Thaw. The decision of the three disinterested men named to conduct the enquiry will guide the future action of the court as to ordering Thaw to an asylum for the insane or directing that the indefinitely interrupted trial for his life shall proceed.

Justice Fitzgerald announced the appointment of the commission privately in his chambers. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw was there with the lawyers, and it became her task to break the news to her husband in the Tombs. Tearful when she left the judge's rooms in the criminal courts buildings, the young woman, who has been such a conspicuous figure in the trial from first to last, was smiling and cheerful when Thaw was brought from his cell to the hospital ward of the prison to meet her.

Thaw accepted the court's decision philosophically and once more declared he had no doubt the commission would declare him a sane man.

The personnel of the commission named by Justice Fitzgerald lends a new distinction to this already notable case.

Personal of Commission.

The men who will determine Thaw's mental capacity are Morgan J. O'Brien, former justice of the appellate division of the state supreme court; Peter B. Olney, former district attorney of New York County, and a lawyer of high legal attainments, and Dr. Leopold Putzel, a practicing physician and authority on mental disorder.

Former Justice O'Brien is one of the trustees, with Grover Cleveland, of the Hyde Stock in the Equitable Life Assurance Society purchased by Thos. F. Ryan, just prior to the insurance investigation. When he was a candidate for re-election to the bench in 1901, as a Democrat, Justice O'Brien was unopposed. President Roosevelt made a trip from Washington to Oyster Bay to cast his ballot for him.

Before being elected district attorney of New York County in 1883, Mr. Olney had been a member with Wm. C. Whitney of the commission appointed in 1879 to revise the laws of the state affecting public interests in New York City. He is a graduate of Harvard.

Dr. Putzel is a graduate of the Bellevue Hospital medical school, and has had a long experience in that institution. He is qualified before the state medical board as an examiner in lunacy.

Will Excuse Jury To-Day.

The Thaw jury was ordered on last Friday to report before Justice Fitzgerald to-day at 10.30 o'clock. At that hour there will be a brief court procedure, the jury being excused indefinitely.

No date has been fixed for the first meeting of the commission. There probably will be some definite announcement on this matter to-day, as the law under which the commissioners appointed directs that they proceed with their enquiry forthwith.

It is probable that Thaw will be asked first of all to submit to a rigid physicial examination. Having undergone several of these since his incarceration, he is somewhat nervous on this subject, but it was said last night by his counsel that he would do everything in his power to aid the commission with its work, and that he hoped for an early opinion as to his sanity.

Justice Fitzgerald based his decision on the conflict of affidavits as presented by the opposing counsel, saying they were too diametrically at odds to permit of a decision other than in favor of an impartial enquiry.

ESCAPES THE GALLOWS.

Sentence On Regina Murderer Commuted to Life Imprisonment.

Ottawa, March 27.—An order-in-Council has been passed and approved by Lord Grey yesterday, changing the death sentence passed upon Josiah Gilbert, of Regina, sentenced to be hanged on April 5, for the murder of B. Henderson, a farmer, to imprisonment for life.

Gilbert was sentenced to be hanged in November, but has had three respites to permit his case being taken to the Supreme Court. The last respite was to April 5th.

Cannibalism In China.

Shanghai, March 27.—The famine-stricken Chinese have been practising cannibalism in localities where the distress is most acute. Authenticated cases have been few, but it is feared cannibalism will spread unless relief can be more speedily and more widely distributed.

The spread of fever continues and the heavy rains are increasing the general misery. Spasmodic rioting has occurred, but the outbreaks have not been serious.

Large orders for grain have been placed in America, Australia and Manchuria, with the stipulation that they must be filled as promptly as possible.

Helped Him Suicide.

New York, March 27.—With the innocent aid of his little six-year-old daughter Violet, Theodore Schmidt, a painter, who was partially paralyzed, committed suicide Monday with illuminating gas. Schmidt instructed the child to bring a piece of rubber hose from the kitchen, attach it to a gas jet, wind the other end around his neck and place it in his mouth. He then told her to turn on the gas and go to play.

William Lyle, convicted of manslaughter at the Assizes at Portage la Prairie, was sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary.

London, March 26.—Liverpool and London cables are steady, at 11c to 12¾c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 8¾c to 9c per lb.

Toronto Live Stock.

Toronto, March 26.—Receipts of live stock at the city market as reported by the railways since Friday last were 54 car loads, composed of 831 cattle, 480 hogs, 480 sheep, 277 calves and 6 horses.

Exporters.

Not many offered and few wanted, as space on ocean boats is scarce. A few lots weighing 1200 to 1300 lbs. each sold at $4.90 to $5.35, the latter price being paid in only one or two instances for extra choice Easter cattle. Bulls sold from $3.75 to $4.25 per cwt.

Butchers.

There were some odd cattle of prime quality, as will be seen by prices given below, brought Easter market prices, but these were the exception and not the rule, as regards prices paid. Best loads sold at $4.65 to $5 per cwt; fair to good $4.30 to $4.60; medium butchers' and good cows $3.85 to $4.25, fair cows $3.40 to $3.75, canners and common cows sold at $1.50 to $2.75 per cwt.

Feeders and Stockers.

Harry Murby reports little doing, as there are not many offering, altho there is considerable demand springing up for both stockers and feeders. Short-keep feeders are quoted at $4.60 to $4.85 per cwt. Steers 1000 to 1100 lbs. each are worth from $4.20 to $4.60 per cwt. Stockers, 600 to 700 lbs. each, are worth from $3.25 to $3.75, according to quality.

Milch Cows.

About 40 or 50 cows were on sale, none of which were of extra quality. Market was slower than usual and prices ranged from $30 to $55 each. One car load was sold at an average of $39 each.

Veal Calves.

Deliveries large, the bulk being of the common kind, few choice veal calves being on sale. Prices ranged from $3.50 to $6.50. A prime new milk-fed calf would bring $7 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Prices for good quality were firm. Export ewes $5 to $5.50, rams $4 to $4.50 per cwt., yearling lambs, ewes and wethers sold from $7.25 to $7.60 for the bulk, and one choice lot $7.85 per cwt., common stuff sold from $6.50 to $6.50 per cwt.

Hogs.

Receipts light, prices steady, at about $6.90 for selects and $6.65 for lights and fats.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

East Buffalo, March 26.—Cattle, receipts, 300 head; slow and easier; prices unchanged. Veals, receipts, 250 head; active and steady; $4.50 to $10.50. Hogs, receipts, 2600 head; slow and 10c to 15c lower; heavy, $6.50 to $6.60; mixed, yorkers and pigs, $6.55 to $6.60; roughs, $5.60 to $5.85. Sheep and lambs, receipts 2400 head; active; sheep, steady; lambs, strong; lambs, $5 to $8.40, a few at $8.50; sheep, mixed, $3 to $6.

Chicago Live Stock.

Chicago, March 26.—Cattle—Receipts, about 3000; market steady; common to prime steers, $4 to $7; cows, $3.25 to $5; heifers, $3 to $5.25; bulls, $3.40 to $4.60; calves, $2.75 to $7.75; stockers and feeders, $3 to $5.25.

Hogs—Receipts, about 16,000; market 5c to 10c lower; choice heavy shippers, $6.15 to $6.17½; light butchers', $6.20 to $6.25; choice, light, $6.25 to $6.25; packing, $5.80 to $6.12½; bulk of sales, $6.12½ to $6.25.

The Teachers Must Qualify; Dr. Payne Heard in Legislature

Government Deals Very Fairly With Separate Schools.

Amendments to Public School Act—Levies for Salaries of Teachers—Mr. Crawford Appointed Deputy Speaker—Sunday Car Question—Government's Policy Is for Sabbath Observance.

Toronto, March 27.—In a brief address which breathed the broad spirit that characterizes the Government in educational matters, Hon. R. A. Pyne, Minister of Education, yesterday introduced two important measures to the Legislature.

In his address Hon. Dr. Pyne expressed the hope that matters of educational policy would be approached apart altogether from party feeling. He trusted the sentiment which would pervade both Government and Opposition members would be a desire to best serve the interests of the education of the youth of Ontario. "The bills may produce much discussion," declared the Minister, "but it is my desire that it will redound in every way possible to the encouragement and success of the schools in the rural districts of the Province."

Qualifications of Teachers.

Regarding the measure to require qualification of certain teachers, the Minister said that the recent decision of the Privy Council had come suddenly upon some of the Separate School teachers. It was for this reason it was proposed to give present teachers just and ample time to qualify.

The act to amend the Public Schools Act provides that every corporation, society, etc., having in its custody any child shall be entitled to send it to the public or separate school in the locality in which the child resides. It further provides that where boards of trustees establish continuation classes, or unite with other boards for such purpose, that they may levy according to the equalized assessment of each municipality. The township council shall pay to the trustees their actual disbursements for maintenance and transportation of their pupils, and shall receive such legislative and county grants as may be determined. The act also provides that the outlay may be made to cover dental and medical inspection and to maintain free evening lectures for the citizens at large. The trustees may permit the school house to be used for any educational or lawful purpose which in their discretion they think proper. Urban school boards may spend such sums as they see fit on encouraging gymnastics and athletic exercises, not to exceed $200 where the annual registered attendance does not exceed 3,000, and $50 additional for each additional thousand in attendance.

Levies For Salaries.

Section 12 as amended provides that the county is to levy an amount equal to the amount of the legislative grant. Where a township in an organized county has an equalized assessment of $30,000 for each public school section, the township is to raise $300 for each teacher or principal teacher, and an additional sum of $200 for each assistant teacher. In townships in the territorial districts the amount is $150 for each teacher and $100 for each assistant. The sums so levied must be applied to teachers' salaries only.

The act respecting the qualifications of certain teachers provides that on proof, satisfactory to the Minister of Education, the Department may grant permanent professional certificates valid in the Roman Catholic schools to persons belonging to religious and educational communities, who, prior to July 1, 1907, have had not less than seven years' experience in teaching—five of which must have been in Ontario—provided that the competence of such person is attested by the provincial inspector, or that before Dec. 31, 1908, they shall have completed one summer session of training of four weeks' duration, provided by the Department of Education. Third class certificates may be granted to persons who have not before July 1, 1907, had at least three years' experience in Ontario, but such persons before December, 1909, must have obtained the academic standing prescribed for third class certificates, and shall by September, 1909, have completed the term of professional training at a model school or one summer term of professional training. Similar conditions surround the granting of second-class certificates, the time being extended to corresponding dates in 1911.

The provisions made shall also apply to public schools in which the French, English or German are the languages taught.

Those requiring first-class certificates must complete the examinations by 1912 and until that time they are legally qualified to continue teaching under the conditions specified.

Mr. Crawford Deputy Speaker.

Immediately on assembling the Prime Minister informed the House that he was glad to say that it was reported that the Speaker was progressing favorably. He moved, seconded by Hon. Mr. Foy, that Mr. Thomas Crawford (West Toronto) be elected Speaker for the day.

Mr. Crawford ascended the dias amid applause and read the prayers.

The Government benches applauded vigorously when Hon. Mr. Whitney and Mr. Ferguson entered with Mr. R. H. McElroy, the member-elect for Carleton, who was introduced by the Prime Minister. Mr. McElroy sits at the end of the front row, next to Mr. Bowyer.

Hon. Dr. Reaume introduced a measure to amend the act for the improvement of Public Highways. It provides that as the county councils are now composed of the reeves and deputy reeves of townships, a county council bylaw shall suffice for the adoption of a road system under the act, instead of thus depending, as is now the case, of getting the consent of all the township municipalities. Provision is also made whereby towns and villages not separated from counties may take advantage of the act and become partners with the Government in securing good roads in their own boundaries.

Sunday Street Cars.

Dr. Smellie (Port Arthur) protested against the Prime Minister killing the Sunday street car clauses of the Port Arthur bill. "I know Mr. Whitney is consistent," said he, "and that consistency is a jewel, but Port Arthur isn't in the jewellery business."

Hon. Mr. Whitney said the Government was there as servants of the people. A large majority of the people of Ontario were opposed to Sunday cars. "If we act in hostility to the known desire of the people we represent," he said, "we must expect severe censure." The action of the Government in this matter had been endorsed by hundreds of letters and telegrams.

Mr. Sam Clarke (Northumberland) said it was easy for some people to talk. Ninety per cent. of them had no need for cars, anyway. He thought the Alliance was overworking itself.

Dr. Smellie opined that it was an injury to the church in some cases.

Hon. Mr. Whitney said there might be room for honest difference of opinion on the matter, but he defined the Government policy as opposition to Sunday cars.

NO HOME RULE FOR IRELAND.

Lord Rosebery Says Irish Are Disloyal People.

London, March 27.—Presiding at a meeting of the council of the Liberal League, held here yesterday, Lord Rosebery said Great Britain would never tolerate a separate Irish Parliament. Such a proposal went far beyond anything the late Mr. Gladstone intended.

"A system suitable for Canada and Australia," Lord Rosebery added, "would be different in a contiguous island, which, in its public declarations, prided itself on its disloyalty."

Continuing, the speaker said he doubted if the Government's promised measures for Ireland would go to extremes, but it was a pity the Government's principal men were making speeches leading the country to believe that something radical was intended.

He, Lord Rosebery, owed no allegiance to the present Government, nevertheless he congratulated it on its success thus far.

He feared, however, it was promising too much. If it made any general attack on property, as was threatened, its existence would be speedily ended.

U. S. AND CANADA.

Reciprocity Not to Be Negotiated By Bryce.

London, March 27.—Replying in the House of Commons yesterday to a question of Mr. Arnold Forster, a former war secretary, Foreign Secretary Grey said the general regulations respecting commercial reciprocity between the United States and Canada, which had been left unsettled in 1898, had not been re-opened in the recent negotiations of Ambassador Bryce and would form no part of them.

Secretary Grey had not heard that Secretary Root proposed the adoption by Canada of the United States tariff against Great Britain and all other countries and then the establishment of free trade between Canada and the United States.

Mr. Bryce had been empowered to do his best to settle the outstanding questions between the United States and Canada. Negotiations respecting commercial reciprocity would technically form part of such outstanding questions, but neither the United States nor Canada, so far as Great Britain was aware, had shown any desire to reopen the matter.

TROOPS INVADE PERSIA.

Russian Soldiers Sent to Quell Enraged Natives.

Teheran, Persia, March 27.—Serious disorders have broken out at Sebsewar, necessitating the intervention of Russian troops.

The lawless natives of the vicinity have risen, and are attempting to force an entrance into the city. Two Russians have been killed and a number wounded.

The lives of all the Russians are in danger.

Reinforcements of Russian troops are reported to have started for Sebsewar.

What Russian troops were doing in Sebsewar has not been stated. Recently it was denied that Russian troops were entering Persia. Sebsewar is a city of 18,000 people, in the Province of Khorasan, and is about a hundred miles from Russian territory. Great Britain has been reported to be very closely watching developments in Persia, where Russian aggression is feared.

Rainwater For the Face.

Rainwater should always be used for the face, if possible, especially if the skin is at all delicate and susceptible to sunburn or cold winds. If this is not procurable, the water should be distilled, and those who have not the means of doing this at home can easily procure a large supply of distilled water for a very small sum. Even when these precautions are not taken the water used for the face should be boiled and then left to cool, while a small bag of oatmeal powder should be kept at hand to squeeze out in the basin, a little powdered orris root added to the oatmeal giving the water a delicious and refreshing scent.

Famous Surgeon Dead.

Wiesbaden, Germany, March 26.—Prof. Von Bergmann, the famous surgeon, died here yesterday. He was operated upon Sunday for appendicitis. He presided at a special meeting of the Berlin Medical Association last July to discuss the treatment of that ailment. He served in the Austrian-Prussian War of 1866, the Franco-Prussian War, and the Turko-Russian War, and last year attended the Sultan of Turkey and his daughter. Early this year he treated the late Shah of Persia, and received a fee of $22,000. He had charge of the surgical clinic at Berlin.

No decision has yet been reached at Calgary at the miners' conference, in respect to the scale of wages.

THREE FACTS
For Sick Women To Consider.
FIRST.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful periods, displacements of the female organs, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.
SECOND.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.
For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, inflammation of the female organs, weakness and displacements, regulating the periods perfectly and overcoming their pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the change of life.
THIRD.—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.
Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.—Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge. Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

The Mouse and the Lion.

By Constance D'Arcy Mackay.

Copyright, 1906, by P. C. Eastment.

"My dear," said Grace Seward as she crossed the wide hotel veranda, "who do you think has come?"

Marion Page looked up brightly from the book she was reading. "The king of Patagonia," she suggested.

"Nonsense, Marion! Don't be silly! This is really somebody out of the ordinary—a real social lion! I give you three guesses. Take the first."

"But I'm no good at guessing," protested Marion. "You'll have to tell me."

"Well, then, hold your breath! It's Burton Sturgis!"

"Burton Sturgis!" repeated Marion slowly.

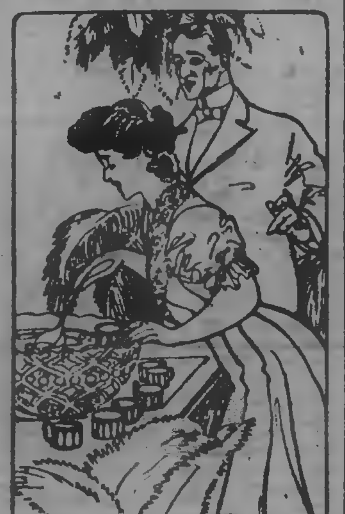
"Isn't that a sensation?" cried Miss Seward, sinking into a chair at Marion's side with a swish of beruffled skirts. "Fancy such a great explorer, writer and statesman as he is choosing to stop at Windmere for a day! I've always been taught to suppose that such people avoided hotels in the height of the season, haven't you? But it seems he lived some place near here when he was a boy, and he wants to stop and see it on his way through. I suppose famous people always want to visit the haunts of their early life, don't they? And Mrs. Barrington-Sells happens to know him, so she's going to give a tea for him in one of the hotel cottages this afternoon."

"A tea?"

"Yes, a tea. You might know she'd never let a lion escape. It's in the Farquhar cottage, I believe, and you are to serve fruit punch."

"I?" echoed Marion.

"Yes, you. Mrs. Sells told me to tell you. She was coming to ask you herself, only there isn't time. It's nearly half past 10 now, and you haven't the faintest idea how much there is to be done before this afternoon. I should be scurrying about this minute instead of sitting here talking. There are oceans of people to be invited—all Mrs. Sells' friends—and the cottage to be put in order, and the decorations—we've simply robbed the flower beds. And Mrs. Sells wants to know if you won't take the trap this morning and get her some ferns and trailing vines. There are a lot up the road by Benders'. You know the way. I'd come with you, but I have to fill the vases and half a dozen other things."



"BUT THEY'RE SO ELUSIVE," LAUGHED MARION.

She skipped down the veranda steps and then paused. "What are you going to wear?" she asked.

"Mercy," laughed Marion, "I haven't had time to decide!"

"Well, then, I hope you'll choose your gray silk mull. It's perfectly fascinating. You look like a dear little mouse in it. I'm going to grace the occasion in pale blue. That's not a pun." And Miss Seward rushed across the lawn with the same impetuosity with which she had arrived.

A few moments later Marion drove briskly along the road, a scissors and garden knife on the seat beside her.

"To think," she mused, "that he should come today!"

For two years past Burton Sturgis had stood to her for an ideal, a hero to whom she had meted out a generous share of girlish hero worship. His books occupied a favorite corner of her bookshelf, and a picture of him, cut from a current magazine, was tucked away in a drawer of her desk. She had known that it was possible that she should some day meet him. Still she had not thought that it would be as soon as this. Indeed, she might have known him before had she made the effort to do so, but Grace Seward's description of her as a mouse suited her exactly.

"I'm afraid it doesn't take a gray gown to make me one either," she mourned as she stood cutting the vines, the sunlight glinting on her soft hair. "I'm not a bit good at gushing, like the other girls."

"A mere mouse," she repeated to herself that afternoon as she sat in a fern embowered corner of the tiny reception room behind a huge cut glass bowl filled with pineapple lemonade and its attendant sherbet cups and plates of delicate wafers. Beyond, in the drawing room, was a swirl of pink and white and blue, a mass of fluffy gowns and pretty wearers, and in the center of them the portly figure and triumphant face of Mrs. Barrington-Sells. Beside her, immaculate in white flannels, stood Burton Sturgis, a tall, thin man with a commanding profile and dark hair lightly touched with gray.

"He's just as I imagined he would be," murmured Marion, "even to the little bored look that settles around his eyes and the quick way he has of throwing back his head."

Every now and then a group of girls would drift up to her table with little exclamations and thrills of laughter. "Oh, thank you, Miss Page! How cool and delicious! Oh, girls, isn't Burton Sturgis fascinating, and aren't his books too lovely for anything? Let's go back and talk to him again." And the group would break away from Marion and return to the ring that surrounded the great man. From time to time Marion caught snatches of their feminine chatter. "Your charming books, Mr. Sturgis! Adorable! Quaint! Delicious!"

Presently Mrs. Sells broke away from her circle and waddled up to Marion with Burton Sturgis in tow.

"My dear," she wheezed, "let me present Mr. Sturgis. Mr. Sturgis, Miss Page. See that he has enough, Marion," and, playfully waving her pudgy hand at them, she went back to her other guests.

"It is a thirsty day," said Burton Sturgis, taking the sherbet cup that Marion held out to him. "Do you think you could manage to put in another cherry, Miss Page? I'm awfully fond of cherries."

"But they're so elusive," laughed Marion. "They always seem to slip out of the ladle. I just think I've caught one, and then it gets away."

"It's like the small boy and the minnow," agreed Burton Sturgis, his bored look giving place to a smile. "There! You've missed it again!" as a refractory cherry with a little splash sank to the bottom of the bowl.

"I doubt if you could do as well!" cried Marion.

"What do you bet?" he said boyishly.

"Two wafers and half a macaroon."

"Done!" He seized the ladle and was in the midst of an excited dipping when Mrs. Sells came toward him like a ship under full sail.

"They're calling for you, Mr. Sturgis," she said, "and this room is too small to hold them all. We shall be mobbed if we don't hurry."

He put down the ladle with a regretful look. "I suppose I'll have to, then," he said and followed her with lagging steps.

Marion leaned her chin on her hand and looked after him. Her moment of moments was over. She had met her idol face to face, and not one word had she spoken of all that his personality and work had meant to her in the past two years. A flush passed across her face. "I might at least have told him that I had read his books," she said to herself, "but it's too late now. I've had my chance and lost it. What a little stupid he must think me if he thinks of me at all!"

Then the line of chattering guests began to thin. One by one they were departing. Mrs. Barrington-Sells' round face was lit with contentment. It had been a most successful afternoon.

"Even she had something to say to him," thought Marion disconsolately. There was a quick step at her side. She looked up. It was Burton Sturgis.

"Well, that's over!" he cried, with a shrug of delight. "And, heavens, but I'm glad to be back in this corner with you! Do you know, Miss Page, you're the only girl this afternoon who hasn't said 'Quaint, lovely, charming and delicious!' I'd like another cherry, please. And will you do me a favor?"

"Delighted," cried Marion gayly.

"I've decided to stay over another day, and there's a place near here I'd like to show you if you'd care to see it. Will you come driving with me tomorrow?"

For an instant his eyes held hers. Understanding, humor, camaraderie and a something deeper than all these passed between them.

"I should be glad to," said Marion.

Splendid Concert Held at Keene

Under the Auspices of the Hockey Club—A Coming Assembly

Keene, March 27.—Mr. J. Harry Scriver, who has been visiting in the village, left for Toronto Monday.

The Misses File gave a very enjoyable progressive euchre party Friday evening.

The annual skaters assembly will be held in the town hall Friday evening, April 5th. The patrons of the skating rink, are each entitled to invite one guest.

The hockey club gave a concert in the town hall Friday evening. Owing to the bad roads the attendance was not as large as it might otherwise have been. Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Kyle, Peterborough, gave the greater part of the programme. They were assisted by Misses Mabel Harrison and Margaret Bryce, and Messrs. Harry Scrivor, and A. St. A. Smith. Mr. P. T. Pilkie acted as chairman.

Miss Kathleen Powell is spending the holidays with her aunt, Miss Bessie Reed.

Master Harold Smith, Peterborouhg, is spending the holidays in Keene.

The farm stock and implements of Mr. James T. Nelson, who is giving up farming, were sold by public auction Tuesday. Fair prices were realized, one horse selling for over two hundred dollars. Mr. Nelson will reside in Allandale.

VERY ARTISTIC WINDOW DRESSING

Grafton Co's. Windows Represent the Cross and Gates Ajar

The art of window dressing is constantly advancing towards perfection. At Christmas time it was thought that nothing more artistic or attractive could be conceived. But this Easter season has proven that the men who throw things together so picturesquely have not been idle. Two evidences of the study put on this system of displaying goods are found in the windows of Grafton & Co. The north window was trimmed by Mr. Fred Freeland and it is decidedly novel and attractive. In the centre is a large white cross erected on a platform, led up to by three steps. This is covered with a glittering, white material, while five purple electric lights on the standard and cross piece give a most beautiful effect. In the front of the window are two white pillars and the background is all white. Blooming hyacinthes, cala lillies and daffodils and men's clothing complete the picture.

The south window, which is the work of Mr A W Goode, while in different style, is equally attractive. It represents "Gates Ajar," and the figure of a little boy with hat raised, is entering the gates. Flowers and smilax are also used extensively, while boys' clothing and Easter novelties, in ties, shirts, and hats are displayed.

General Booth was banquetted by the Canadain Club at Winnipeg, when 600 professional and business men turned out.

WILL BE GIVEN AN ALLOWANCE

Pastor of St. Paul's Church to Get Substantial Sum

With respect to Rev. Dr. Torrance, for thirty-one years pastor of St. Paul's church, whose resignation was laid on the table of Presbytery yesterday in order that the congregation may be cited to appear before that body on April 17th, it is learned that a retiring allowance will be voted the doctor; and that is the reason the resignation was laid over by Presbytery. For some time past it has been reported that Dr. Torrance asked a grant of $1000 a year for ten years. This is not correct as Dr. Torrance named no specific sum in his communication to Presbytery, so a member of Session stated this morning. It is learned however, that the retiring pastor, in view of his long and faithful services will be dealt with in a liberal manner by St. Paul's congregation.

OBITUARY

CHAS. P. SCLATER.

Mr. Chas. P. Sclater, secretary-treasurer of the Bell Telephone Co., Montreal, passed away this week in that city.

Mr Sclater was 67 years of age. He is survived by Mrs. Sclater and six children, four daughters and two sons.

The deceased was born at Dover, England. He was a son of H. Sclater, a retired officer of the Royal Navy. On the formation of the Bell Telephone Company he became its first secretary-treasurer, and occupied that position up to the time of his death.

THOS. H. VANN.

Thos. H. Vann, a highly respected citizen of Bowmanville, dropped dead of heart failure on Monday in the office of Messrs. M. D. Williams & Son, undertakers, in that town, where he was employed as an accountant. Last week he had a fainting spell in the office, but after receiving a stimulant seemed better.

The late Mr. Vann was born in England about 75 years ago, and in his younger days was a very enthusiastic Oddfellow. He was for many years with the Upper Canada Furniture Company and later was employed by the Northumberland Paper Company at Campbellford.

Mr. Vann leaves one son, Mr. Harry Vann, Ingersoll and one daughter, Miss Florence Vann, at home. His wife predeceased him some years ago.

MRS W A LEVOISE.

The remains of the late Mrs Wm A Levoise were taken from the family residence, 354 Water street this morning to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence by the early G.T.R. train to Lindsay. The body was then removed to the residence of her brother, Mr. Patrick Collins, Ops township. Interment will be made tomorrow in St. Luke's cemetery Downeyville.

The deceased, whose maiden name was Ellen Collins, was the wife of Mr. William A. Levoise. She was 37 years of age, and had been ill, but a very short time and her death was most untimely. She was born in Ops township and had lived in this city, for the past six years. Her husband is the proprietor of the Club Knitting Works.

Besides her husband she leaves two boys and one girl to mourn her loss. They are Lawrence, Wilfrid and Helen. One brother, Mr. Patrick Collins, lives in Ops, and two sisters, Mrs. Lawler and Mrs Johnr in Rochester.

MARGUERITE FAGAN.

The death occurred this morning in Toronto of Marguerite Fagan, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fagan. The child's death was due to congestion of the brain.

The remains will be brought to Peterborough for burial, and the funeral will likely take place tomorrow from the residence of Mr. P. O'Donnell, corner Stewart and Smith streets.

Over a Hundred Men Working On New Transformer Building

Steel Work is Completed and Everything is Ready for the Concrete Walls to be Run Up—Work is Progressing Very Favorably—Will be Done in Two Months.

At the present time there are about one hundred men, carpenters, mechanics and laborers, engaged on the new transformer building for the Canadian General Electric Co., This mammoth structure was started last fall by the Dominion Construction Co. of Montreal. The work now is in charge of Mr. Beatty and is progressing under exceedingly favorable circumstances.

The steel work, which was manufactured by the Canadian General people themselves at the Canada Foundry Co., of Davenport, is now all in position and the men have nearly completed this part of the work. The contractors are now preparing to erect the walls, which will be of reinforced concrete throughout. The foundations are finished. The whole building, including the foundations, will be steel and concrete not a single brick or stone being used, except for the fire place and ovens.

The new building, it is expected, will be completed within two months and then the work of installing the plant will commence. The machinery will be the most modern and up-to-date it is possible to secure, so that the company will be able to turn out the best work in the fastest time possible. Among other machines the new building will contain one fifty-ton crane for handling the heavy transformer bodies, while in the annealing room will be a smaller crane.

The addition will mean a very large increase in the number of hands employed and will be a good thing for the city. As yet no decision has been arrived at regarding the second addition, for which tenders have been called.

Cleanliness is the Secret of Success in the Dairy Business

Messrs. Hume and Publow Address the Farmers on the Necessity of Keeping Perfectly Clean the Stables, Dairy, Factory, Utensils and the Men Themselves for Success.

The afternoon session of the Cheese and Butter Makers Association of Peterborough was very satisfactory. It was devoted particularly to the producers or farmer's end of the dairy industry. There were qutie a number of farmers present, although not nearly so many as should have been. Mr. E. M. Elliott, ex-president of the association, made reference to the fact, that farmers generally, including Peterborough county, were very negligent in attending meetings or lectures, which were arranged especially for their own good. There was no other reason in the world why farmers were so far behind the times that they refused to take advantage of opportunities afforded them to improve themselves and their farms.

The addresses were of especial interest to the farmers, and if they paid any attention to what was said to them, there will be a great improvement in the cheese and butter turned out of the local factories. Mr. Publow and Mr. Hume both dwelt particularly upon the necessity for perfect cleanliness on the farm, in the dairy and in the factory, and on the benefit of cool curing.

THE DAIRY HERD.

Mr. Alex. Hume, of Menie, gave an able address on "The Selection and Care of Dairy Cattle." In the first part he pointed out the great necessity of choosing some of the well-known dairy breeds of cattle and then studying the individual cow. Take the best cow in the herd, that is the cow which is the most consistent milker, the cow which gives the big flow for the longest space of time, and endeavor to raise the standard of all the other cows to the same level. He strongly advocated raising well-bred cattle for the dairy. If means are limited, purchase a thoroughbred bull calf and breed it to the best cows in the herd. As soon as possible buy heifers or cows from well-known breeders of thoroughbred stock. Pick out the best milking cows in the herd, and breed to the bull of a known good milking strain. The day for low grade cattle has passed, and farmers all want good cattle.

In selecting heifer calves, he recommended that only the calves from the best dairy cows be selected and that they be raised for dairy purposes. Keep them inside for the first twelve months and grow them fast. Do not let them get fat or they will turn to beefers, which is directly opposite to what is desired for dairy cattle.

As for the quality of milk, Mr. Hume said we should not be satisfied with anything less than three or four per cent. of butter fat. The farmers want a good cow, well bred, which gives a large flow of milk and gives good milk. These qualities can all be had from breeding, although there is no certainty that a calf will be as good as desired. It requires great skill in mating. Still he advocated breeding your own cows because it was very hard to buy good cows.

He strongly advocated the selection of one particular breed at the outset and to stay with that breed. Better results are obtained in this way.

WATCH YOUR COWS.

The keeping of a record of the cow is the only thing for a farmer today. He should keep a true record of what it costs to feed a cow, and he should weigh her milk several times a week. The next important feature is the feed. Breeding and feeding go hand in hand, and this is the proper time to plan for the feeding of the hard for next winter. Plan for a good supply of ensilage corn, clover hay and roots. But above all things do not feed turnips. Men say "turnips can be fed safely, but they will not be fed safely. There is no reason why turnips should be fed. Mangolds are just as good, and there is no danger at all from them. They are a little harder to grow, but they pay for themselves. Then always allow for a good supply of good grass for the cows, and do not forget the ensilage for dry weather and winter.

The care of ensilage is very important. The only way of course to keep it is in the silo, and he recommended the cement silo. The best balanced ration for the dairy herd is the common red clover. This should be fed in liberal quantities.

The next feature mentioned was that the farmer should have for dairy cattle, a good barn with good stables. Make the stables convenient for feeding, water, and in cleaning out, as well as comfortable for the animals. [illegible] have water in front of them. With cement floors with a trough behind will carry off all the liquid. This should be kept clean. The cow should be kept clean.

PROFIT IN CLEANLINESS.

Mr. G. G. Publow, of Kingston, chief instructor for Eastern Ontario, took up the farm side of dairying. He said that after the farmer has the herd, and has fed them, so that they give lots of good milk, it was absolutely necessary for the milk to be kept properly until it reaches the factory. The man who produces the milk, is the man who should know best, what condition the milk should be delivered in. The essential is that it be pure, sweet and properly cooled. The farmer should be very careful not to send milk to the factory from any cow, which is not in the very best of health. Great care should also be taken in the sanitary conditions of the cow and the stable. The cow should be groomed regularly and the stable should be kept clean. It is impossible to get good, pure, clean, milk from a dirty cow.

CARE OF MILK AND DAIRY UTENSILS.

Mr. Publow said one should look upon the milk as a crop, and treat it in a way especially adopted for it, the same as hay and grain are treated in their particular way. Milk for the factory should be just as carefully handled as milk for the city. The best results can be obtained in no other way.

Milk after milking should [illegible] mediately cooled to sixty-five degrees. Higher than sixty-five degrees will lessen the length of time it can be kept. Once the milk is cooled to sixty-five degrees, it can be covered. To do this is not a very easy thing, because the farmers have not the proper appliances. The best way to do it is to pour the milk over a cold surface in a thin layer. There is always a certain amount of animal odor in milk, and this gives it an opportunity to evaporate. The next thing to do is to fill the cans with cold water or ice to cool them. Mr. Publow recommended the use of ice as it cools so much more quickly, and that is the secret.

To keep milk from Saturday night to Monday morning, the milk should be cooled to fifty-five degrees and done quickly. The quicker it can be cooled the better. After it is cooled, cover it over to prevent dust getting in; prevent the milk absorbing any odors, and to prevent the cream from hardening.

After the farmer has got his milk to the factory, and had it accepted his duty does not end there. He has had an object in view in getting the milk delivered in the very best of condition. But he should see that the cheese maker is making the very best kind of cheese and that he is making all the cheese he possibly can out of the milk. A maker should get two and six-tenths pounds of cheese to every pound of butter fat. But when it takes ten or twelve pounds of milk to make a pound of cheese, the farmer should find out the reason why. A good skillful maker should be secured, and he should be given a strictly up-to-date factory, and the very best utensils to make the cheese with. The whole question said Mr. Publow, of profit and loss, and high and low prices in the dairy business, depends upon the cleanliness of the stables, dairy, factory, utensils and men who work at the business. The cleaner, the purer and the sweeter the milk, butter and cheese is, the higher price the farmer receives, and the greater demand is created for the products. Cleanliness is the secret of successful dairying.

MR. YOUNG SPEAKS.

Mr. Young, president of the Peterborough Cheese Board, was present and made a few remarks to the farmers. He was greatly interested he said in the cheese industry. He was particular to condemn the turnip feeding. No man should feed turnips at any time as it will taint the milk and cheese or butter. The cost and trouble of raising mangolds is no greater than that of turnips. Mr. Young then took up the question of securing a better class of cheese boxes. The present boxes are not to his mind, nearly as strong as they should be, and they are expensive also. He also thought the cheese should be drawn to the station by tender and not by any farmer who might come along.

NEGLIGENCE OF FARMERS.

County Clerk E. M. Elliott, ex-president of the cheese board, in expressing his pleasure in having Mr. Publow and other speakers, said that he was surprised because so comparatively few farmers turned out to a meeting. All people interested in iron industries and commercial enterprises, turn out in full force to their meetings. With the dairymen, whose industry is one of the largest and most important, they do not take the trouble to attend a meeting. They should turn out as they are the only ones benefitted in a monetary way.

Mr. Ward and Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie also briefly addressed the gathering. After they had finished, the gathering broke up with a vote of thanks to Mr. Hume and Mr. Publow.

Travel Talk at Murray St. Church

Rev. J. R. Webb Lectured on Trip to London and Paris—Some Fine Views

A most interesting address, beautifully illustrated with lime-light views, was given last evening at the Murray street Baptist church, by the pastor, Rev. J. R. Webb, on the subject of "A Vacation Spent in London and Paris."

The lecture was under the auspices of the B.Y.P.U. In a few opening remarks by Mr. E. Hooker, president of the society, the speaker of the evening was introduced.

Mr Webb began his lecture by tracing his trip from Montreal, where his congregation presented him and Mrs. Webb with tickets for a trip abroad, and also to attend the Baptist Congress meeting in London. They took the steamer "Canada" on July 1st, 1905. Their first stop was at Quebec. There were thirteen in the party and not one of them was sick a day during the voyage. After a delightful sail of nine days they landed at Liverpool. The party did not stop in Liverpool long, as they were anxious to get on to the Congress in London where they visited many places of historic interest. Beautiful views of St. Paul's Cathedral, which edifice Rev. Mr. Webb and party had the privilege of going through were shown. A view of Westminster Abbey was also shown, as well as views of the Royal Exchange, Rotten Row, a fashionable centre of London; Whitehall, and the London monuments. As each picture was being shown, Mr. Webb gave a vivid description of them.

From London an excursion was made by the party to Cambridge and Ellstone Green. It is at Ellstone that a beautiful monument is erected to the memory of John Bunyan. At Cambridge the company visited Cambridge University, and also the famous Cam river bridges, pictures of which were displayed. The visitors then went on to Twickenham on the Thames, where the beautiful old villa of the late Pope the poet, is situated.

The sightseers then journeyed on making visits to Windsor Castle, and to the place where Thos. Gray's immortal elegy was written. As the picture of the historic graveyard was being shown, Miss Hazel Kidd recited a portion of the famous elegy.

Rev and Mrs. Webb and party then left England and crossed the channel to France. Normandy was the first place visited. Many pictures were shown depicting interesting features of life there. When a picture of the Island of St. Malo was thrown on the canvass, Mr. Webb said it concerned the Murray street Baptist church more than any other picture shown. It was on the Isle of St. Malo that the late Rev Mr. Gilmour was taken prisoner on his way across from Quebec to Scotland. The late Mr. Gilmour was a former pastor and preached his last sermon in the Murray-st. church. It was during the late Mr. Gilmour's imprisonment that the speaker became converted.

The tourists next went on to the beautiful, yet immoral city of Paris. Here the chief places of interest were visited, including the famous Louvre, the Church de Notre Dame, the Church de Madeline and the Eifle Tower, which is 948 feet high. From Paris a Cook's tour was made by the party to Forsythe, a short distance from the city.

Mr Webb concluded his interesting and instructive address by paying a high tribute to the late John Walton, who was deacon of Murray street church for a number of years and whose picture was thrown on the canvass. He also heartily thanked Mr. G. H. Williamson, of the Y. M. C. A. for kindly attending to the lantern.

The meeting was terminated by closing exercises pronounced by Mr. Hooker, president of the Society.

Women Reeled Along Street Almost Helplessly Intoxicated

Pitiful Spectacle on Hunter Street Last Night—Were Accompanied by a Male Companion Who Was Also Drunk.

Persons on Hunter street about 11 o'clock last night witnessed a spectacle the like of which is not often seen in Peterborough. Two women, one about 35 and the other several years younger, were trying to make their way west along the north side of the street, but their progress was slow and uncertain as they were reeling from the effects of liquor. They were accompanied by a tall man with a black mustache, who was also badly intoxicated and was apparently the companion of the women in their debauchery. He tried to help the women along by taking them by the arm, but as he was not in much better condition than his companions he was not of much assistance and several times the trio nearly went tumbling in the mud. As long as the trio held together they were able to hold their feet, but when one of the women broke away she made several widely deviating circles before she came back to the embrace of her comrades again. The man of the party objected to the presence of some young men who were coming along in the rear and stopped and challenged them to fistic combat, but was told that he "was drunk and to go on about his business."

It is said that the women were for some time last night lying helplessly intoxicated on one of the cement walks at St. John's church and that they were in a bad condition from the cold and wet before their male friend came along, roused them and started for home. They disappeared from view along Hunter street west after someone had notified the police.

It seems to bad that liquors should be sold to women who become helplessly drunk. The two last night presented a sorry spectacle as they reeled along through the muddy streets, lost to all sense of shame.

The final rehearsal for the presentation of the above work in St. John's church on Good Friday, at eight p.m. was held last night. There was a large attendance and the work was pleasingly rendered.

ABOLISH POLL TAX.

At the meeting of the Chatham City Council, Monday evening, a resolution was passed, endorsing the action of Mr. P. H. Bowyer, M. P. P., in introducing in the Legislature a bill to abolish the poll tax.

NO ENTRANCE EXAMS.

At a meeting of the Principals' Association of Waterloo County, in Berlin, a resolution was unanimously passed, opposing the request of the Public School teachers of Toronto to the Government, that the entrance examinations be abolished.

Display of Easter Meats

Wednesday and Thursday, March 27th and 28th

We have made special preparations this year for our display of Easter Meats having secured the CHOICEST STEERS AND HEIFERS from some of the best farmers in this district, besides we have secured a shipment of Choice Cattle from Western Ontario. We have also arranged for the Best Veal Calves and Spring Lambs that money can buy.

In our Provision Department special preparations have also been made, and in connection with this year's display we wish to draw special attention to the Superior Quality of Kennedy's Tea.

Arrangements have been made with MR. THOS. HOOPER to serve tea to the Ladies each afternoon from 3 to 6, and Thursday night from 8 to 10. A cordial invitation is extended to all the Ladies of Peterborough and surrounding district.

HAVE STARTED WORK.

A large gang of line men, belonging to the Bell Telephone Company, arrived in the city last night, and today started work on the installation of the new fire alarm system. The work, will, it is expected, be completed by the middle of May, although the line work will likely be put up by April 15th.

MR. ST. JOHN'S CONDITION.

Indications in the condition of Hon. J. W. St. John early this morning, were more hopeful than in the past two days. Although he has not passed the danger point, he was reported at one o'clock this morning to be resting well, much better, in fact, than on the previous two nights that he has been in the General Hospital.—Mail and Empire.

CALL FOR YOUR SKATES.

Though the Brock street rink was closed for the season there are still several pairs of skates there. Mr. Jack Thornbeck will be at the rink Saturday afternoon and night in order that the owners of the skates still there, may call and get them. Skates left at the rink after Saturday will be at the owner's risk.

WINDING UP COMPANY

A winding up order was granted yesterday in the affairs of the Stratford Cordage Company. The petitioner was the Traders' Bank, which recovered judgment against the concern for $4,445, but was unable to collect it. The capital stock of the company was $40,000 of $100 shares. Of this $9,700 was paid up. The President was Mr. Nelson Richardson, who put in an affidavit stating that the company's factory was leased to the Perth Flax & Cordage Co. for $8,000, which could be considered as an asset. The winding-up order is not to issue for a month. The London & Western Trust Co. is liquidator of the concern.

All Union Barber Shops will be closed Good Friday.

Charles P. Sclatter, secretary-treasurer of the Bell Telephone Company, of Montreal, is dead.

HARRIER CLUB WILL ORGANIZE

Time for Cross Country Runs is Now Close at Hand

A meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Harriers Club, which was formed last fall will be called shortly to organize their summer runs and sports. It will soon be time for cross country runs and paper chases, and at the first meeting a paper chase will probably be arranged. All the boys interested are asked to watch the papers for further notice and a full turnout is requested for the first meeting.

BASEBALL

SOME HOT SPHEROIDS.

Chicago, March 26.—The sporting goods house of A. G. Spaulding & Bros., was partly destroyed by fire Sunday night, the damage being $350,000. The fire which started in the basement, is thought to have burned nearly an hour, before it was discovered. The flames spread through the five floors of the building.

JUNIORS TO ORGANIZE.

A meeting of the Y.M.C.A. junior school boys will be held in the Y.M.C.A. Thursday afternoon, to organize a baseball team, and talk over prospects for a junior association football team, both teams to be placed in the school leagues this summer. Thursday afternoon is a holiday, and a big turnout of the boys is expected. Every member is invited to be present, especially those interested in the games of baseball and football. A meeting of the senior school boys will be called shortly to organize a baseball team.

BASKETBALL

TWO GAMES TONIGHT.

Two fast basketball matches will be played in the Y. M. C. A. senior spring series tonight, when Richardson and Best come together at eight o'clock, and Dobbin and Laing meet at nine. All the teams are evenly matched and the contests will be good. No admission fee will be charged. Everybody welcome.

HOCKEY

FUND FOR MRS. McCOURT.

Ottawa, March 26. — The Victoria Hockey Club of Ottawa tonight opened a fund for the assistance of Mrs. McCourt of Cornwall, mother of the late Owen McCourt, who was killed in a hockey match there a few weeks ago. In addition to those placed in the various business houses of the city, the lists have been sent to the hockey clubs of Montreal, and the Ottawa Valley.

Mr. Henry Smith, father of the famous Smith boys, and Mr. Bernard Slattery, of Ottawa, have been appointed treasurers of the fund. Alf. Smith has been communicated with and asked to take a subscription out West, before he returns after playing in the Stanley Cup series with Kenora. A great benefit performance will be given in the Russell Theatre here in aid of the fund on April 5, and this will be repeated in Cornwall, matinee and evening, on the following day.

RECEPTION FOR CHAMPIONS.

Montreal, March 26.—The Wanderers will be given a big reception when they return to Montreal. It is hoped that they will arrive here on Friday evening. A preliminary meeting of a committee of officials who did not go on the trip was held today. A general plan of reception was outlined, and it included bands and a dinner.

INSTRUCTION IN HELIOGRAPHING

Will be Given Members of Local Signalling Class

It may be news to many to know that Lieut. Stroud and Sergt. Crowley, who are in charge of the local signalling class brought with them to Peterborough, a heliograph, the instrument used for flashing signals for several miles, and of which so much was heard during the South African war. The machine will be explained to the members of the class and they will be instructed in its use in the near future. The heliograph will be included in the equipment of the local signalling corps, when it is organized.

TO TRY BILL AGAIN

Professional Nurses Will Introduce to Legislature Measure Formerly Defeated.

"The Nurses' Bill will be up before the Local Legislature, before Parliament prorogues." So says a good looking nurse who claims to know. "Well it will be beaten again," remarked the man to whom the statement was addressed. The wearer of the white uniform and red cross, was of the opinion that the bill would pass this time. "It was terribly misunderstood by the medical fraternity and the press," said the nurse. "This time, however, a clear draft of the bill will be outlined, and it will be seen that we do not want to shut out untrained nurses or demand exorbitant fees, but merely want the profession recognized as it should be." According to the speaker, all the nurses want is their stand recognized, and the general elevation of the profession. This they deserve.

Proprietors, Peterboro'

Labor Conditions in Peterboro' Were Active During February

The Cost of Building Will be Materially Increased Over Last Year—Increase in Wages Granted to Several Different Trades.

Ald. W. J. Johnston, the local correspondent for the Labor Gazette sends the following encouraging report for the month of February, from the city of Peterborough;

The month of February was very active, though usually a quiet month for labor. A great deal of repair work and alterations were under way. New quarters for the Dominion Bank, the Royal Bank, and the Bank of Commerce, were employing a number of workmen. The cutting and storing of ice gave employment to 27 and 10 teams. The outlook for the coming season is very bright. The George Matthews Company is enlarging its present buildings, more room being needed. The King Edward public school is being pushed to completion. The new armories and Normal school have been contracted for and will be constructed during the coming summer. The new Collegiate Institute building will be under way as soon as the season opens up.

The building trades were well employed, but a number of industries were handicapped by a shortage of cars. The Quaker Oats Company has been running 24 hours per day, but had to shut down night operations on account of not being able to get sufficient cars to import grain from its mills.

Shipments were heavy for the winter season. Banking, wholesale and retail trade were active.

The bricklayers have decided to ask that after June 1 the minimum rate per hour be 40 cents, an increase of 5 cents over last year's rate. A number of bricklayers were getting the 40 cent rate last season. The carpenters and builders' laborers will also ask for an increase in wages.

Lumber and building materials of all kinds have advanced in price, and the cost of building will be materially increased over that of last year.

The House of Refuge is now completed, the farm is being stocked and will be in full running order for spring.

A carpet cleaning industry has been established and will be in full operation by March 1.

The Customs receipts for January, 1907 were $36,357.75, being $11,217.05 increase over the same month in 1906. Ten years' ago receipts for the whole year were $45,000.

The City Council is taking up the matter of issuing building permits. In the past no part of the city came under these regulations except the fire limits.

The rate of taxation for Peterborough has been fixed at 17 1-2 mills for year 1907.

CONDITION OF LOCAL INDUSTRIES.

Agriculture. — Work was confined to looking after stock, getting wood out, hauling produce, etc. The report of the Harwood Creamery shows the following output;

Total lbs. of butter manufactured, 44,792

Total amt. of sales, $9,119.86.

Total cost of manufacture, $1,794.87.

Total paid to patrons, $7,324.99.

Market prices were about the same as last month.

Lumbering. — Local trade was more or less brisk.

Mining.—There was little activity.

Railroad construction and employment.—Traffic has been very heavy. The last snowstorm has somewhat impeded traffic on some of the lines, and sectionmen were kept busy keeping the lines clear.

Manufacturing. — All establishments were very busy.

The Peterborough Canoe Company was very busy on local and foreign orders.

The Peterborough Lumber Company has purchased 1,500,000 feet, by measure, from the Rathbun Co., and 4,000,000 from the Cavendish Lumber Company. This will be sawn into lumber in the company's mills here.

Mann's planing mill and cheese box factories were very busy. The sawmill was running overtime.

CONDITION OF PARTICULAR TRADES

Building. — With the exception of plumbers, employees were dull.

Metal, engineering and shipbuilding. — Machinists, engineers, iron moulders, iron workers and helpers, boilermakers, blacksmiths, shipworkers, sheet metal workers, tool sharpeners, horseshoers, and jewellers, were active; electrical workers, linemen and brassworkers busy, and others somewhat dull.

Woodworking and furnishing. — General conditions were active.

Printing.—Activity prevailed in all branches.

Clothing. — Journeymen tailors and garment workers were active, boot and shoemakers busy, and hat makers dull.

Leather. — On harness work and collar making work was active.

Miscellaneous. — Barbers and broom makers were active, clerks, stenographers, delivery employees, and furriers busy, and hotel, restaurant, theatre and laundry employees very busy.

Transport. — Railway employees were very busy in all departments. Street railway employees were active and expressmen busy. In other branches conditions were somewhat dull.

Unskilled. — Conditions were generally dull.

DISTRICT NOTES

Lindsay. — The municipal corporation is negotiating with a match industry to locate here, the company desiring the corporation to guarantee bonds for $6,000, to be paid back by yearly instalments, the first instalment to be paid in three years. The Madison Williams Company has shipped machinery for 2 mills in the Northwest.

Hastings. — A 200 horse power electric generator for light and power purposes is being installed. The Canadian General Electric Company will supply the generator and install the system.

Cobourg. — Three new banks have started business here.

President D. Hughes-Charles Resigns From Board of Trade

After Serving Four Years—Annual Meeting Held Last Night—Reports From the President and Secretary—Election of Officers Adjourned for Two Weeks.

The eighteenth annual meeting of the Peterborough Board of Trade was held last night in the City Council Chamber. There were only a few members present, owing to a number of other attractions on. However, the reports of the president and secretary were received and passed, and other business was put through. But when it came to the election of officers, it was decided to adjourn for two weeks, when more members could be gotten together.

Mr. D. Hughes Charles, who has been president of the Board for the past four years, tendered his resignation and refused to accept another term. The announcement was received with general regret, although it was known before that Mr. Charles would not take the position again. He stated so last year, when he was urged to accept a fourth term. While in office the retiring president has been a faithful and and energetic official. He has done all in his power to advance the interests of the city, and has never lost an opportunity to advertise Peterborough. The citizens generally, as well as the Board of Trade, should feel very grateful to him for his services.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Communications have been received by the Board as follows;—

From Orillia Board of Trade, re placing civil service on an entirely non-partisan basis, and petitions to the Senate and Dominion and Local Houses.

From W. J. Wickham, honorary secretary of the Toronto branch of the Navy League.

From the secretary Board of Trade, Smith's Falls, re copy of our by-laws.

From the secretary of the Board of Trade at Hastings for the same purpose.

From B. F. Ackerman, vice-president of the Board of Trade, re resolution and bonus for the Canadian Northern Railway.

From E. J. Zemaire, private secretary to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, acknowledging receipt of a copy of a resolution.

From Horace Wallis, secretary to Hon. J. P. Whitney; R. R. Hall, M.P., and T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., acknowledging the receipt of a resolution.

Members present were;—President D. Hughes Charles, Secretary, T. Q. Quartermaine, Messrs. J. Coyle Bown, Wm. Rudkins, R. E. Wood, W. S Dodd, F. D. Kerr, P. Downham, George A. Gillespie, H. LeBrun, W. H. Bradburn, G. B. Van Blaricom, Adam Dawson, R. M. Glover, City Engineer T. A. S. Hay, Walter Stocker.

The minutes of the 17th annual meeting of the Board of Trade was read by the secretary and adopted.

The communication received from the secretary of the Orillia Board of Trade re the petition to the Governments to place the civil service on a non-partisan basis, was received and placed on file, but no action was taken.

Mr. J. Coyle Brown spoke very strongly against the present system of appointing civil servants, and thought the system could be greatly improved. He said that it was one of the greatest curses in the country. A short time before the election men spent their days making up lies and their nights in giving them wings. Their only object was to get a government job whether or not they were qualified. Mr. Brown, however, could not get a seconder, and his amendment was dropped.

D. HUGHES CHARLES
Who Retires From Presidency of the Board of Trade.

The following reports were read and adopted;—

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

To the members of the Peterborough Board of Trade;

Gentlemen,—The past year has been a record one for our city. The manufacturers have all been very busy, and large additions have been made to several of our largest concerns, and several new industries have been added to our already large list. The population of the city shows a fairly good increase and a large number of dwelling houses; about five hundred have been erected, so that there is not any danger of the housing problem troubling us, as it seems to do in other cities.

Labor, owing to the building operations and a considerable amount of permanent work being done by the corporation in the way of sidewalks and sewers was well employed at a high rate of wages.

As the farmers have had a bumper year and this city is in the centre of a large farming district, our merchants have had a very prosperous year, and at the present time I do not think there is one store vacant in the city. This, in itself speaks volumes for the prosperity of the city.

In our secretary's report you will notice that we have had only four meetings in the year, and the reason of this is that the city council seemed to think that they could do everything necessary for the welfare of our city themselves, and therefore asked for the assistance of our Board only once, and that was to help them to get up a deputation to go to Ottawa to press for the early completion of the Trent Valley Canal. This is not as it should be, because there should exist a cordial cooperation between the Council and the Board of Trade, in order that the best results to the community can be obtained. That is what is helping on all the western towns.

D. HUGHES CHARLES,
President.

March, 1907.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Mr. President and Gentlemen—I have the honor of presenting to you as secretary, the 18th annual report of this Board.

Meetings—Since the last annual meeting, we have held four meetings of the Board, viz., 27 November, 1906; 18th December, 1906; 22nd January, 1907, and 29th January, 1907.

Subjects under Discussion—The following subjects have been duly discussed at the above meetings;—"Early Completion of the Trent Waterway," "Filtration of City Water," 'Municipal Ownership,' 'Dairy Show' and 'Cheap Power.'

Membership—The number of members on the roll was 81, an increase of 13 on that of last year.

Attendance—The average attendance of members was 15, a decrease of 3 on that of the previous year.

Deputations—On Thursday, 29th March 1906, a large deputation waited on the Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, to impress on him and his colleagues the vital necessity of the Dominion of the rapid completion of the Trent Waterway, and also the necessity of placing such a sum in the estimates as would complete this most important and long desired means of transportation. A circular letter was sent out by this Board to the secretaries of the Boards of Trade, Mayors, Reeves, of all cities, towns and villages as would derive direct and immediate benefit by its completion, and also to the newspapers at these places from Brandon in the west, to Montreal in the east. I am informed that this was the largest deputation which ever waited on a Cabinet Minister in the history of the Dominion.

On Wednesday, 13th March, a deputation composed of members of the City Council, County Council and Board of Trade waited on the Hon. Mr. Monteith, Minister of Agriculture, re locating a Dairy Show in this city. Unfortunately the western men, who were numerically stronger, utterly refused to come east of Toronto, and we lost the show for this year at least. Messrs. D. Hughes Charles, F. D. Kerr, W. C. Switzer and P. Downham were to have represented our Board, but the president was unfortunately unable to attend on account of his recent illness. The other three gentlemen joined the deputation.

City Council Chamber—The thanks of this Board are due to ex-Mayor Best, His Worship Mayor McWilliams, the past and present board of aldermen, and City Clerk Armstrong, for the use of the City Council Chamber during the past year.

Local Press—The thanks of the Board are also due the reporters of the three local newspapers for the able manner in which the business of the Board has been reported for the last year.

Respectfully submitted,
T. Q. QUARTERMAINE,
Secretary

Peterborough, 26th March, 1907.

On motion of Messrs. W. H. Bradburn and H. LeBrun the meeting was adjourned for the election of officers until two weeks.—Carried.

Mr J Coyle Brown said that Mr. D Hughes Charles, who had presided over this Board for the past four years, deserved a hearty vote of thanks for his efforts and the success that had attended them.

Mr T. A. S. Hay seconded the motion, and it carried, unanimously.

A vote of thanks was tendered, on motion of Mr. R. E. Wood and Mr. Dodd, to ex-Mayor Best and the City Council, for the use of the Council Chamber for the meetings.

Mr. R. E. Wood moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. K. Eardley-Wilmot, Mr. R. M. Dennistoun and Col. E. B. Edwards, who have either left or are about to leave the city. These three gentlemen have always been valuable members of the Board of Trade. The motion was seconded by Mr. Dodd, and it carried unanimously.

The Board then adjourned.

GETS AFTER CITY COUNCIL.

In his remarks, after presenting his report, Mr. D. Hughes Charles took occasion to criticize the action of the City Council toward the Board of Trade. He said that during the first two or three years of his term in office, the Board was able to accomplish a great deal of good for the city, but of late the council refused to co-operate with the Board and the latter body was, therefore, of little use. It was a waste of time for business people to spend their evenings discussing public questions if their views were to be ignored by the council. The Board of Trade could be of great value to the council if the mayor and aldermen would listen to them. The members of the Board are not seeking votes. They are not elected and are therefore in a position to speak their minds without fear, while the aldermen are always under a certain restraint. He sincerely hoped that in future years the new president and the Board would receive better treatment at the hands of the City Council.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W. 62, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are, it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Was Arrested on Charge of Theft

Cornelius Wall Alleged to Have Taken $35 From Frank Sullivan

At the police court this morning before His Worship Magistrate Dumble, Cornelius Wall was charged with stealing $35 from Frank Sullivan on Monday last, at the American House, Hunter street.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams appeared for Wall, but did not plead or elect how his man should be tried. He was remanded till Monday next at 10 o'clock. In the meantime Wall will be a guest at Castle Nesbitt. He was arrested last evening and brought to the police station where he was searched. A gold filled hunting case watch was found on him and he told a rather doubtful story concerning where he got it. He said that he got it in a local hotel about a year ago from some man. The only man who knew from whom he got it was dead. He, himself, did not know the name. All the money found on Wall was ten cents.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.

Edward O'Brien pleaded guilty this morning to being drunk and disorderly yesterday. He was fined two dollars to be paid forthwith. He had not the necessary so he will spend the Easter vacation at Nesbitt Castle.

Central School Boys Organize

Elect Officers and Will Play Baseball and Association Football

The athletic department of the Central school was organized at a meeting held after four o'clock last evening. The following officers were elected;

Hon. Pres., Mr. D. Walker.
Pres., Wm. Smith.
Sec.-Treas., Geo. Hogan.
Manager, T. J. Wallace.

It is proposed to take up baseball and association football and to commence practice just as soon as the ground becomes sufficiently dry. The boys are looking forward eagerly for the time when they may get busy. The athletic department is certain to prove a most attractive feature.

Orillia Man is the New Rector

Rev. R. A. Armstrong Will Go to Trinity Church St. John N.B.

The many friends of Rev. R. A. Armstrong, of Orillia, who is well known in Peterborough, having preached here on many occasions, will read with pleasure the following despatch;

St John, N.B., March 26.—Rev. R. A Armstrong, curate of St. James' Church of England, Orillia, Ont., was tonight chosen rector of Trinity Church, the principal church of the denomination in St. John, in succession to Right Rev. J. A. Richardson, who resigned on being chosen Coadjutor Bishop of the diocese, and consequently removing to Fredericton.

AMUSEMENTS

ARE YOU A MASON?

The story of "Are You a Mason" is one of the most laughable ever utilized as the groundwork for a modern comedy. Leo Dietrichstein has undoubtedly made in this adaptation from the German, the most successful farce comedy ever seen on the American stage. Although it has been played constantly in this country for the past five years, to ever increasing business, its theme is as new and as laughable as it was when first produced. It is one of those plays that never grow old and which never lose their hold on the theatre-going public. If anything it is more popular today than ever before. It is certainly drawing larger audiences than it ever has in the past. The company engaged is the most capable ever seen in this play and the production is in every way adequate. "Are You a Mason" will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House on Monday, April 1st.

Services May End on Thursday Night

Another Interesting Meeting Held in George St. Church

There was a large attendance at the special services in George street Methodist church last evening. Rev. H. M. Manning, pastor of Charlotte Street Church gave a forcible address from 3rd Chapter of Revelations "Behold I stand at the door, and knock."

The singing was hearty and the interest in the service marked. Rev. Dr. Crothers will take charge of the meetings tonight. It is probable that the evangelistic services will close on Thursday night. They have been very successful and resulted in several conversions.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

THE BOARD OF TRADE

The retirement of Mr. D. Hughes Charles from the presidency of the Peterborough Board of Trade, after four years' faithful service, is regretted. Mr. Charles has served the Board faithfully and well and, in according him a vote of thanks last evening, many expressions were heard in reference to the excellent work he had done. Mr. Charles, although nominated for the presidency for the fifth term, declined the honor, stating he felt he had filled the position long enough and the honor should be passed around. It should not be monopolized by any one man. He pointed out that the Board had not been as active or aggressive during the past year as in former ones. This was due to the general prosperity in the city and evidently from the fact that times were so good in Peterborough that this city did not have to hustle as many other places had. He regretted that there was not more co-operation and unity of effort existing between the City Council and the Board of Trade, which should act in a sort of advisory capacity to the civic fathers. The latter, however, during the past few months, seemingly thought they could run affairs themselves.

The retiring president pointed out that it was the duty of every citizen to devote a certain amount of time, thought and attention to public affairs and the welfare of the community in which he resided. The resident who attended solely to his own business did not make the best citizen. All owed a certain duty to the state.

It is regrettable that the meetings of the Board have not been more largely attended and a livelier interest exerted in civic matters. As the president observed, each member is free to express his opinions and give utterance to his ideas without tramel or pressure. He has no constituents to face; no electors to please, and, therefore, his advice should be all the more valuable and beneficial. A member of the Board has nothing to fear and can do much in many ways to advance the welfare and prosperity of the city.

Boards of Trade should be vigorous, active and united. They can do a great deal for any centre, and keep its claims, advantages, and prestige to the forefront. If the Peterborough Board of Trade has not accomplished all that is should have during the past year, it has not been due to any lack of diligence or foresight on the part of the retiring president. Boards of Trade should look ahead; they should guide public opinion and action, rather than follow it. The Peterborough Board has, during the past twelve months, been called upon to part with three of its most worthy and representative members in the persons of Lieut.-Col. Edwards, Mayor Denniston, and Mr. K. Eardley-Wilmot. Mr Charles, although resigning from the presidency, will continue to be an earnest, enthusiastic member of the organization.

It is hoped that at the adjourned annual meeting, which will be held on Tuesday, April 9th, for the election of officers for the coming year, there will be a full attendance of members and that zealous, widesawake men, will be chosen to fill the various chairs for 1907.

POINTER FOR PETERBORO'

From time to time the press of Peterborough has emphasized the necessity of having milk tests published together with the name of the vendor. This should be done as a protection to the public. It is one great safeguard; to give a full report relating to the inspection of premises of the milkmen and the sources from which they obtain their daily supplies is another.

Mr. Ball, the new sanitary inspector, has a fine chance to render to the citizens of Peterborough a service similar to that provided by Dr. Hilton for the city of Ottawa. All the cattle byres of farmers disposing of milk to Ottawa dairymen were visited and a thorough inspection made, not only of the premises, but of the animals as well. The report dealt with the number of cows, the breed, the milk producing capacity by gallons, condition of the stock, sanitary conditions, as to drainage, light and ventilation, and other details.

This data appeared in all the Ottawa newspapers. The campaign for pure milk cannot be prosecuted too vigorously in any community. The public health must be conserved at all costs. What an awakening there might be in certain quarters in Peterborough if, not only the analyses of the milk were published, but specific reports of the premises visited. It is hoped the local Board of Health will see its way to have all information possible placed before the public on this vital question, the same as is done in other cities. This would be casting no reflection on the dairymen, but would give the thousands of consumers in the city reliable information as to who are furnishing pure milk, who obtained it from sanitary surroundings and clean cows.

Here is an excerpt of the Ottawa inspector's report of the premises visited as printed in the newspapers. It makes highly interesting reading and demonstrates that the civic authorities in the Capital are fearless and progressive in the discharge of a public duty;

Mrs M. Benediot, Tetreauville, poor ventilation, dusty; licensed vendor.

S Arbuckle, Aylmer road, little attention to cleanliness. Sells to Mrs Benediot.

Conrad McConnell, Aylmer road, very dirty, dark, no ventilation or drainage; sells to Mrs. Benediot.

NO RELIGIOUS TEST

(Toronto News.)

Some ill-considered and unjust things were said at the meeting of the Orange Grand Lodge of Ontario East about the appointment of Dr Coughlin to the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Belleville. The only reason given by Grand Master Halliwell for objecting to the appointment was that Dr. Coughlin was a Roman Catholic. The implication is that because of his position as the head of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, Dr. Coughlin will be enabled to proselytize among the inmates. It is a very difficult position to defend, and we can not see that it is sound or warranted by the facts or considerations of public policy. Grand Master Halliwell had nothing but good to say of Dr. Coughlin and admitted that since his appointment he had kept up the efficiency of the administration of the institute, and in some cases improved it.

Loud complaint was made, said the Grand Master, because Mr. Whitney had not asked his colleagues how the Orangemen would view this matter. He did not realise the danger that the Orange Order saw in appointing a man subject to the Roman Hierarchy as the head of an educational institution composed largely of Protestant children.

At the same meeting, Mr. H. C. Hocken, editor of The Orange Sentinel, referring to the appointment of Dr. Coughlin as superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, said Premier Whitney had made a mistake, adding; "If the time ever comes and "Mr. Whitney meets this difficulty "face to face and fails to do his duty "I, for one, will tell him what his "duty is."

Talk like this cannot fail to do harm. Dr. Coughlin will have at least as much to do as his predecessor. We imagine that his ordinary duties will keep to busy to allow him much time to interfere with the religious convictions of any of the deaf mutes in the Institute. If he keeps up and improves the efficiency of the Institute he will have enough to do.

The utterances of Grand Master Halliwell and Mr. Hocken have but one logical basis. They would object to and protest against Roman Catholics receiving appointment to many public offices. The Orange Order has on many occasions performed valuable public service, but we do not believe its authority will be increased or its support strengthened by the apparent attempt to establish a religious test for candidates for office in the higher educational institutions.

PEN POINTS

This is near the end of the month and it is going out very lamb like.

Is Bourassa suffering from paranoia. That's what some of the Ottawa Liberals would like to believe.

A highly respected resident in last night's Review asks why we publish certain anonymous letters. Well, sir, we admit that it does get us into a peck of trouble occasionally.

The lavish Easter decorations in the store windows are surpassingly beautiful, and in neatness, delicate touch and chasteness are more effective than the displays made at Christmas.

You never miss the water until the well runs dry; health you do not appreciated until laid on a bed of sickness and the daily newspaper you do not realize the value of, until you are deprived of it.

After the slashing attack made by Bourassa upon Premier Laurier last evening in the House of Commons, some of the Liberals will feel like having a sanity commission appointed to report on the condition of the member for Labelle.

Have you noticed the business-like manner in which a session of the legislature is conducted by the Whitney Government? There is no waiting for reports, no lack of business ready at hand; no loafing at the expense of the province. It is business from the beginning of the session to the end, and the long speeches being scarce, the province feels that the servants are earning their indemnity.

The Kingston Whig says;—"An alderman in Peterborough proposes to severely tax all bachelors between twenty-five and forty-five, who refuse to marry or are unable to do so. Some of the girls have egged him on, and in Peterborough they must be loud and giddy."

Well they are not quite so ferocious as some of the numerous old maids in the Limestone city.

There is altogether too much profanity heard on the streets of Peterborough. Swearing is senseless, silly and unnecessary. It adds neither to the dignity of the individual nor to the impressiveness of his remarks. There are many strong expressions without taking the name of God in vain and he, who makes free use of oaths, but demonstrates the poverty of his vocabulary and his utter disregard for the finer feelings and sensibilities of all clean minded and decent thinking people.

The men who can tell you how to conduct a newspaper, what to put in and leave out, who blame the press for this, that and the other evil, disturbance, shortcoming or mix-up are daily growing in numbers. You can find them on every street corner, yet we do not remember of seeing any newspaper paragraphs telling the grocer how he should arrange the goods in his shop, the doctor how he should diagnose a case, the lawyer how he should draw up a deed, or chattle mortgage, or the minister how he should read the scripture lesson, or from what text he should preach.

Here are some excellent rules for clerks, which a city business man has handed to the Review for publication:—

Don't be afraid of a strict employer. You'll never learn from an easy one

Don't overestimate your talent. Remember that competition is an accurate scale and may find them wanting.

Don't dream while you work. Work and dreams don't go together.

Don't act as if you knew everything and your customer knows nothing.

Don't be afraid of hard experiences; they make the best of teachers.

Don't send out unsightly packages.

Don't refuse to listen to common sense

Don't be afraid to do little things willingly.

Don't always have a grudge against your employer. He has his faults. So have you. No one is without them

Don't feel yourself better than your position, especially if you have an education.

Don't believe that promotions are due to favoritism rather than merit.

Don't stand in the door when you have nothing to do. It is particularly offensive to women passing.

Don't remain unfamiliar with new goods

Worthy Member Highly Honored

Mrs. Latimer Given Life Membership Certificate by All Saints W. A.

The annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of All Saint's church was held last evening, and was attended by a large number of members. The president, Miss Chamberlain, was in the chair and opened the meeting. Reports were read by the secretary, Mrs. Latimer, and Mrs. A. Gilbert read the treasurer's report. They were very satisfactory. During the past year the Women's Auxiliary, have shipped a bale of clothing to the Northwest, valued at $63.92. The auxiliary donated $51.25 for different missionary purposes while $77.55, was given by them to Home Missions. The amount of the cent a week collection for the year was $7.67. Altogether All Saint's Women's Auxiliary, have had a very successful twelve months.

The most important feature of last evening's meeting, was the presentation of a life's membership certificate and gold pin to Mrs. J. W Latimer, who has filled the office of secretary for the auxiliary for the past nine years. Rev. Wm Major in a few well-chosen remarks, expressed to Mrs. Latimer, the sincere and hearty thanks of the Women's Auxiliary, for her kind and faithful services, rendered during the long term she held office, and he hoped she would still continue to be an earnest worker in The Auxiliary. The framed certificate was handed to Mrs. Latimer by Mrs Gilbert, and Miss Chamberlain presented the gold pin.

The officers for the coming year were then elected, and resulted as follows,—

Hon.-Pres., Mrs. (Rev.) Major.—
President, Miss Chamberlain.
1st Vice-Pres., Mrs. T. Harper.
2nd Vice Pres., Mrs. A. Hopkins.
Secretary, Mrs. Hickey.
Treasurer, Mrs. A. Gilbert.
Dorcas Secretary, Mrs. Dryland.
Pres. Jr. W. A., Mrs. T J Blois
Assistants, Mrs. J. G. Scott and Mrs. T. Molden.

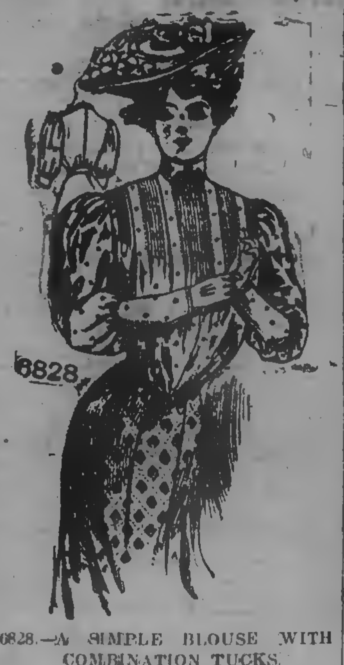
THE DEAN PATTERNS



6828.—A SIMPLE BLOUSE WITH COMBINATION TUCKS.

Blouses which do service every day wear out so quickly that one needs to constantly replenish this part of her wardrobe. A pretty waist in dotted cloth has both wide and narrow tucks in very pleasing effect. This style of the waist is so simple that any one could make it without the least difficulty and be assured of a successful result. A seam in the centre of the front provides for the cutting of the material on the bias if desired. The sleeves are the practical puff and deep cuff in long or three-quarter length. A waist of this kind is suitable to any of the light cloths, pongee, silk, linen or other lingerie fabrics. A collar of the same may finish the neck or a linen one with tie of silk as shown. For the medium size 3 7-8 yards of 27 inch material are needed.

6828.—6 sizes, 23 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Thank Offering Was Liberal One

George Street Church W. M. S. Realized $86.

The annual Easter thankoffering service in connection with the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the George Street Methodist Church was held yesterday afternoon at the parsonage, when a collection amounting to $86 was taken up for foreign mission purposes. A very enjoyable programme was given. The chair was occupied by the president, Mrs. Jas. Kendry and there was a large attendance of members present.

The programme was as follows,—
Scripture Lesson—Mrs. Carlyle.
Prayer—Mrs. Morrow.
Solo—Miss Muriel Crothers.
Reading—Easter Obligations, Mrs. (Dr.) Crothers.
Violin Solo—Miss Maude Crothers.
Solo—Miss Muriel Crothers.
Consecration Prayer—Mrs. Campbell.

A letter was read by the secretary, Mrs. Turner from the Kitamaat Home, acknowledging the receipt of the gifts sent to the Home by the society.

At the conclusion of the service dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Crothers.

East Northumberland Conservatives Meet

Mr. C. A. Owen of Campbellford to Succeed Late Ed. Cochrane M. P.

A Warkworth despatch says,—The Conservatives of East Northumberland, met in convention here today to nominate a candidate for the House of Commons, to fill the vacancy, caused by the death of the late Edward Cochrane. When the president, Capt. Wilson, of Colborne, called the meeting to order the large town hall, was filled to overflowing with delegates and others, every sub-division of the constituency, being fully represented. Mr. C. L. Owen of Campbellford, was the unanimous choice, no other nomination being made.

On rising to accept Mr Owen was most enthusiastically received. He expressed deep gratitude for the honor and confidence conferred, and realized the great responsibility, in succeeding such an able representative as the late member, Mr. Cochrane. If elected he promised to strongly oppose the wilful extravagance of the government at Ottawa, who have nothing to show for the enormous expenditures of the day, and would fight for an honest administration of affairs. Short speeches were also made by Hon. Dr. Willoughby, Sam Nesbitt, reeve of Brighton; W. L Payne, H Hicks, and N. D. Snetsinger, of Colborne; Wm. Wade, of Brighton township, Mr. Crews of Murray, and others.

Feeling references were made to the lamented death of Mr. Cochrane, and a committee was appointed to draft a letter of sympathy to the widow and family of the deceased.

The convention was the largest and most enthusiastic meeting of Conservatives, ever held in the constituency, and augured well for the success of the standard-bearer, Mr. Owen. The meeting closed with cheers for King, the Conservative leaders, Hon. Dr. Willoughby, and the candidate.

Prof. Fleming of Scotland, a distinguished scholar, has been appointed professor of systematic theology, and lecturer in mental and moral science at Manitoba College, Winnipeg.

High Priced Elections.

A century ago elections in England were costly affairs. In one case half a million pounds was spent on one election alone. This was the great contest for Yorkshire, in which the candidates were Viscount Milton, the Hon. Henry Lascelles and Mr. Wilberforce. Wilberforce won at a cost of £58,000, "with every resource of the most rigid economy and great voluntary assistance in labor."

Mrs. Fanny Kemble tells us of another Yorkshire contest, where the money seems to have been spent just as freely. Mrs. Wentworth Beaumont is the heroine. "She, then a very old lady, drove in her traveling carriage to Downing street and, demanding to see the prime minister, with whom she was well acquainted, accosted him thus: 'Well, my lord, are you quite determined to make your man stand for our seat?' 'Yes, Mrs. Beaumont, I think quite determined.' 'Very well,' replied the lady, 'I am on my way down to Yorkshire with £80,000 in the carriage for my man. Try and do better than that.'"—London Chronicle.

Falls Dead On Hot Stove.

Brockville, March 26.—While moving about the kitchen at the home of his brother, John Avery, living near Mallorytown, was stricken with apoplexy and died almost instantly yesterday.

He fell across a hot stove, and the body was slightly burned before members of the household noticed him. He made no outcry.

Avery was about 55 years of age.

Walter Pakenham Selected As Foreman of New Fire Hall

Fire, Water and Light Committee Will Recommend His Appointment—Fire Escapes on All Public Buildings—Other Business Taken Up.

The new position of foreman of the fire hall, caretaker of the fire alarm system, and electric wiring inspector, will be filled by Mr. Walter Pakenham, if the council adopts the recommendation of the Fire, Water and Light Committee. This office will be a most important one and it will require a first class man to fill it. The committee received quite a number of applications, and the man considered the most capable was selected.

Ald Morgan moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That the water commissioners be authorized to place a hydrant at the corner of Concession and Dufferin streets.—Carried.

Ald. Duncan moved, seconded by Ald. Morgan,—That approaches be built in front of the new fire hall as soon as possible, and that the street commissioner be instructed to do the work.—Carried.

For the past quarter 13 electric street lamps were reported to have been not burning during schedule hours, or an average of one lamp per night; and two lamps had not the necessary shades. The agreement between the city and the Peterborough Light & Power Co. provides that a pro rata of 16 2-3c. per lamp a night shall be charged against the company for each light not performing its functions according to contract; also that the company shall be subject to a fine of 25 cents per lamp a night for each light not burning. The company reported that they had found it impossible to procur from the manufacturers shades for the two lamps wanting shades until after several days had elapsed.

Mayor McWilliams moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That the city deduct from their account with the Peterborough Light & Power Co., for street lighting the past quarter, $5.31 for lamps for not burning.—Carried.

The above allows the Light and Power Co. the benefit of the doubt in the case of three lamps.

In revising the rules and regulations governing the new fire hall, it was decided that the foreman shall have full control of the hall, and that no woman shall be employed on the premises for any purpose whatever.

The furnishing of the new fire hall was left in the hands of Chairman Ald Johnston, and Ald. Duncan, with power to act.

FIRE ESCAPES.

The committee went into the fire escape by-law, which provides that any buildings not of a private nature with a third or higher story, with not more than one exit, exclusive and occupied by ten or more persons shall be furnished with one permanent outside railed stairway to the first floor, within one month of passage of said by-law. All such fire escapes shall be kept by the owner of building in good repair, and free from snow and ice and any incumbrance whatever. All exits to fire escapes shall be readily accessible at all times.

The Mayor moved, seconded by Ald. Leary,—That the council be recommended to approve of this by-law.

NEW FOREMAN.

The Mayor moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That the committee recommend the appointment of a foreman of the fire department, with full control of the new hall, the drivers, engineer and all equipment.—Carried.

This man's duties will also include care of fire alarm system and inspection of street wiring.

The following applications for positions in the fire department were received:—

For electrician, to act as foreman of the new fire hall, and look after the alarm system and wiring of the city;—A. E. Hutchinson, J. E. Greer, G. E. Thomas, B. Ford, Walter Pakenham, Penn. Alexander, Wallace Madill, N. E. Bell and Jos. Denoe.

Ald. Morgan moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston,—That the committee recommend that Walter Pakenham receive the appointment of foreman of the firehall at a salary of $800 a year, his duties to commence April 15th.—Carried.

For Driver—John Blodgett, Fred. LeBarge, J. C. Matchett, George E. Hawes, Jos. H. Morrison, John Irwin, J. McCarthy, George Parker.

This appointment will be a new one, the driver to take charge of the additional team purchased by the fire department. The Board of Works will use them team and driver as much as practicable, and pay the Fire, Water and Light Department a proportionate sum for such service.

The Board of Works, and Fire, Water and Light Committee will meet jointly this evening to consider this appointment.

The committee adjourned at 11.15.

Have Organized Telephone Company

Stirling, March 26.—At a public meeting held recently at Stirling it was decided by a number of farmers and business men to organize a new telephone company having Stirling as a centre. The lines will be extended through Rawdon, Sydney, and eventually to other townships. The new company will be known as The Stirling Rural Telephone Company. A large amount of stock has been subscribed already, and the work of construction will be begun as soon as possible.

EXPECT NEW SERVICE SOON

Daily Mail to Springville is Very Near.

Springville will have a daily mail service in the course of a few days. This was the statement made to the Review to-day by one who is in a position to know what is transpiring. Arrangements are being made to have the mail taken out from Peterborough and left off at Kendry siding. From there it will be taken by stage to Springville, which is only 3-4 of a mile distant. Peterborough will be the distributing point, that is, the Springville mail will be made up here.

The residents of Springville are anxiously awaiting the inauguration of the new service, as it will be a great convenience to them. Among other things, they will be able to get the Peterborough daily papers, and this alone they consider will be a great boon.

Presentation to Departing Teacher

Mr. S. A. Smithson of Business College Staff Given Gold Headed Cane

Mr S. A. Smithson, formerly principal of the Villiers Public school, but for some months past on the teaching staff of the Peterborough Business College, was presented with an appreciative address and gold-headed ebony cane by the boys of the commercial department on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Smithson has been appointed principal of the Norwood Public school, and will enter upon his new duties after the Easter holidays. He carries with him the best wishes of the staff and students for his future success. Mr. G. Seaworth Hogg, on behalf of the boys, read the following address:—

Mr S. A. Smithson, City:

Dear Mr. Smithson,—As we understand you are about to sever your connection with the Peterborough Business College, we, the boys of the Commercial Department, wish, on the eve of your departure, to express in a tangible way our appreciation of your valuable services while you have been with us.

Your courteous manner and willingness to assist us at all times, has won the approval and good-will of the whole class, and we would ask you to accept this cane as a slight memento of our respect and esteem. We trust you will never need to use it as a means of defence or offence, nor as a necessity, but when on pleasure bent it may remind you of the pleasant time spent at the Peterborough Business College.

Wishing you success in your new field, and thanking you for your many acts of kindness, we are, on behalf of the boys

(Signed)
E. H. FRANCIS.
E. FITZGERALD.
G. S. HOGG.

Mr. Aubert Rose then handed Mr. Smithson a gold-headed ebony cane, engraved "S.A.S., 1907." The cane is a beautiful one and was purchased from Warne Bros.

Mr. Smithson made a grateful and appropriate reply, while short addresses expressive of the kindly feeling toward him and expressing regret at his departure were made by Messrs. McGee, Wm. Carruthers, A. L. Andress and Mr. Wm. Pringle, the energetic principal of the Peterborough Business College.

Exodus From Norwood—Busy Season for Farmers—Other Notes

Norwood, March 27.—There passed away at Mimico on Friday morning last, Mr. Edward M. Beavis, aged 42 years, youngest surviving son of the late Mr. Adam Beavis of Asphodel. His remains were brought to Norwood on Saturday evening and conveyed to his brother's residence, where the deceased was born and where he spent nearly all his life. The funeral took place on Monday at one p.m. to the Fife cemetery in Otonabee, where father, mother, and brother were laid at rest. The brothers and sisters are Mrs. M. J. Christie of Peterborough, Miss E. Beavis, and Mrs. E. J. Laing of Norwood; Messrs. John and Nelson of Asphodel; H. of Lakefield; William of Vancouver; Albert of Hastings; and Rev. R. B. Beavis, of Dundurn, Sask.

Rev. Mr. Johnson of Westwood, is holding a series of evangelistic services. The meetings which have been going on for the past two weeks will being concluded this week. Mr. Johnson is being assisted by the lady evangelist, Miss Morton.

BUSY SESSION.

Mr. W. Coulter of Toronto, is shipping large quantities of cedar, including fence posts, spiles, telegraph poles and railroad ties. On account of the favorable conditions existing during the past winter, the farmers hauled in an exceptionally large quantity of the aforesaid material.

GOOD ROADS.

The roads in this vicinity are in very bad shape at present, the frost is going out fast, and consequently the ground is very soft, so that the horses and rigs sink badly.

GOING TO NORTHWEST.

Mr. John Powell of Asphodel, loaded his car for the Pacific coast on Wednesday. Mr. Powell and family intend taking up their abode somewhere in British Columbia.

Mr. Wildman of Asphodel, who a short time ago, disposed of his farm, farm stock and implements, shipped his household effects to Lakefield, where Mr. Wildman will reside in future. Mr. Geo. Hatherly reside in future.

Mr. Geo. Hatherly, who has resided in Norwood for several years, sold his household effects by auction last Saturday, preparatory to going to the northwest, where he hopes to share in the general prosperity in that part of our country.

Mr. E J. Laing received a large shipment of Singer Sewing machines this week, for the spring trade.

TIPPED AS HE WENT.

His Promise to Pay a Lump Sum Weekly Did Not Bring Results.

"I had heard all about the tipping system in Europe before going abroad," said the young man just returned from his maiden voyage, "so I thought I'd inaugurate a new system. At a fashionable hotel in London the valet assigned to my floor was the subject of my first experiment.

"'See here,' I said in a frank, jovial manner when he came in to attend me, 'I want to make an arrangement with you. It's an infernal nuisance to be handing out tips every few minutes, or, at least, when I want anything done. Now, I purpose to lump the whole thing in weekly payments. I expect to be here at least three weeks. You look after me to the best of your ability, and at the end of each week I'll make it all right with you—in fact, I'll give you more in a lump sum than you would get in tips. Is that satisfactory?'

"'Quite, sir,' he said cheerfully, but I fancied he looked disappointed.

"'Very well,' said I. 'I'm going out for a drive about town. Meanwhile take my evening clothes out of my trunk, have them pressed and laid out for me. You'll find studs and buttons for the shirt in that box on the dresser. My shoes are in that valise.'

"'H'all right, sir. Very good, sir. Thankee kindly,' said he, and I left with a feeling of elation.

"When I got back to the hotel I found my evening clothes still in the trunk, the shirt and shoes untouched, and, in short, 'nothing doing.' Next day I went back to the old system."

PIE BIRDS OF BRITTANY.

They Must Be Pretty Strong, According to This Breton Story.

"Speaking of exaggerations," said a traveler, "reminds me of the pie bird story of the Breton farmer.

"There was a farmer in Brittany who wished to tell a visitor how his farm had been overrun with pies. Pies, you know, are large birds, black and white, with long tails—a kind of crow. The farmer said the pies devastated his fields horribly. If he put up scarecrows, the birds tore them down. One day his young son ran into the granite farmhouse and shouted:

"'Oh, father, hundreds and hundreds of birds! The wheat is being all eaten up!'

"The farmer loaded his gun. But where was the shot? It couldn't be found. He put in a few handfuls of tacks instead. Then he ran out. The wheatfield was black and white, like a checkerboard, with pies. The farmer gave a loud yell, and the birds all flew up into a tall poplar. He fired, and, lo, every bird was nailed fast to the tree. They were nailed fast. Their flapping wings filled the air with a loud whir. The farmer, amazed, stood watching them. Then a strange thing happened. The birds, with one grand united effort, pulled up the huge tree and flew away with it."

Important Correction.

To Tennyson truth was a simple thing. It was simply to be exact. In this light should be read an amusing story found in Bram Stoker's "Personal Reminiscences of Henry Irving." Irving had heard a story that Tennyson not long before had been lunching with friends in his own neighborhood not far from Haslemere. His hostess said to him as they went into the dining room:

"I have made a dish specially for you myself. I hope you will try it and tell me exactly what you think of it."

"Of course I shall," replied Tennyson.

After lunch she asked him what he thought of it.

"If you really wish to know," said he, "I thought it was like an old shoe."

When they met, Irving asked Tennyson if the story were true.

"No," he said at once. "I didn't say that. I said something, but it wasn't that it was like an old shoe."

"What did you say?" persisted Irving.

"I said it was like an old boot."

HOW TWO BEAUTIFUL WOMEN CURED PELVIC CATARRH BY TAKING PE-RU-NA.

Headache, Backache and Weakness Are Symptoms of Pelvic Catarrh.

MRS. SOPHIA CALWELL

Recommends Pe-ru-na to Other Sufferers.

Miss Edith Reams, 726 North Main street, Dayton, Ohio, writes:

"I suffered for some time with both lung and female troubles.

"I had been under the treatment of a good physician for about nine months without obtaining any relief, when Peruna was recommended to me.

"After taking twelve bottles of this medicine I have completely regained my health.

"I am pleased to recommend Peruna to any one suffering from the above ailments."

Doctored a Year With No Relief—Health Restored By Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. Sophia Calwell, box 857, Nashville, Tenn., writes:

"After doctoring for a year and finding no relief from leucorrhea resulting from prolapsus uteri, and which was sapping my life forces away, I finally tried Peruna, and when I found that it was helping me every day, it seemed almost too good to be true.

"But, it not only helped me, it cured me and in a very short time. I am now enjoying the best of health.

"I am strong and free from pain, and I certainly feel that all praise and honor are due to Peruna."

MISS EDITH REAMS.

THE organs of the pelvis, like other internal organs of the body, are lined by mucous membranes.

These membranes are liable to catarrh the same as the mucous membranes in any other part of the body.

Pelvic catarrh may be caused by the extension of catarrh from other parts of the body.

Or, it may be brought on by overwork, by irritating discharges and by excesses of various kinds.

When the organs of the pelvis once become the seat of catarrh, various derangements arise which are called by different names.

A long list of diseases, which cannot be discussed in public print, some of them peculiar to the female sex, others common to both sexes, are caused by catarrh of the pelvic organs.

Local treatment does not seem to be of any use.

Some of the organs are so located as to be beyond reach.

Peruna is an internal, systemic remedy.

It relieves catarrh wherever located in the human body.

Thousands of cases of pelvic catarrh have been relieved by the internal use of Peruna.

Peruna aims to relieve catarrh only.

Peruna is not a cure-all, but can be relied upon to relieve catarrh in all its various phases, locations and stages.

Followed Dr. Hartman's Advice.

Mrs. Lizzie Lohr, 1155 W. 18th street, Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I take pleasure in writing you, thinking there may be other women suffering as I did. I was rundown so far that I had to sit down to do my cooking—I was so weak. The doctors wanted to operate on me. At last I wrote to Dr. Hartman, telling him how I was, and he told me how to take Peruna. I did as he told me, and now I am cured."

Underground Bar At Snowden House

West Half of the Basement is Now Being Fitted Up for That Purpose

The underground bar is being introduced into the hotels in Peterborough. The first place to adopt it is the Snowden House. A force of carpenters and electricians are now engaged on the work and in a couple of weeks those who patronize the Snowden House bar will have to go down stairs. The west half of the cellar, just under the dining room is being utilized, and will have an entrance from the street, as well as from the inside. The interior of the bar is all being done in hardwood, and when it is completed and the electric fixtures are all in, it will be a handsome place. The present bar will be taken out and fitted up for sample rooms for travellers. Mr. Snowden finds the changes necessary on account of the growth of the city and increased business.

PASSED AWAY IN WINNIPEG

Death of Mr. Herbert Eastland, a Former Peterborough Man

Intelligence was received in the city today of the death in Winnipeg of a former Peterborough man in the person of Mr. Herbert Eastland, who passed away after several weeks illness during which he suffered from a tumorous growth in the head. Deceased who was about forty-five years of age was a brother of Mrs. J. Moran, Dublin street, and a nephew of Mrs. J. Foster, also of Peterborough. Another sister, Miss Bertha Eastland, is a nurse-in-training at the Kenora hospital. Mrs. Milner, of Charlotte, N.Y., is also a sister of deceased. Two brothers also survive. The late Mr. Eastland's wife is a sister of Mrs. A. J. Johnston, of this city, and along with two sons aged 12 and nine years, is left to mourn her husband's loss.

The late Mr. Eastland was well known in Peterborough. He was born in North Monaghan just near the city and left for the west when a young man. There he met with considerable success and for several years had been city traveller for the Lake of the Woods Milling Company. It is not yet known whether the remains will be interred in Winnipeg or brought here for burial.

OBITUARY

MRS. MARGARET POOLE.

The death occurred at an early hour this morning at Nicholl's hospital of Mrs. Margaret Poole, after an illness of some weeks' duration suffering from paralysis. The deceased was the wife of the late Colonel E. Poole, who predeceased her eleven years ago. She was seventy-one years of age, and was a life long resident of this city. She was the daughter of the late Wm. McBurney of Peterborough, and was married in 1856. The late Mrs. Poole was a devoted member of St. John's church and was widely known throughout the city.

One daughter, Miss Minnie Poole, who resided with her mother, and one brother, Dr. E. McBurney, of Loda, Ill., are left to mourn her loss.

The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the family residence, 96 Douro street, Ashburnham, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

Change in Date of Excursion

Mr. Wm. Collins, secretary of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute, received word to-day that it would be necessary to change the date of the union farmers' Institute excursion from this district to the O.A.C., Guelph, from Thursday, June 13th, to Wednesday, June 12th. The notice to this effect was received from Mr. G. C. Creelman, President of the Ontario Agricultural College. The date has had to be changed owing to a rush of traffic on the C.P.R. on June 13th.

THE TONIC OF HEALTH

Must be more than a stimulant—must be a food as well.

The "Best" Tonic is FERROZONE, which is both a food and a tonic; it aids digestion, promotes assimilation and converts food into blood, muscle, bone and nerves. No wonder it builds up the weak, makes them strong and vigorous!

FERROZONE

THE GREAT FOOD TONIC

FERROZONE contains exactly what your run-down system lacks. It supplies oxygen to purify the blood, phosphorus to develop the brain, iron to harden the muscles.

No combination of strength-giving, life-sustaining elements can surpass FERROZONE. Instant in effect, lasting in results, no medicine can benefit as much. You'll eat, sleep, think and feel better by using FERROZONE, which is a true tonic. Try it—now, Ferrozone is sold everywhere in 50c boxes or six for $2.50. By mail to any address from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

Sir Wilfred Laurier Has Decided to Go to London

Premier Announces He Will Attend Colonial Conference.

Bourassa Still on the Warpath—Will Ask the House to Compel Fowler to Make Charges Good or Withdraw Them—Car Needs of G.T.P. —Hon. James Bryce Present During the Session.

Ottawa, March 28.—The fact that Hon. James Bryce occupied a seat upon the floor of the House gave additional interest to a discussion upon the coming colonial conference, and the general questions that group about imperialism and the upbuilding of the Empire.

The Premier distinctly intimated that he would attend the conference.

An echo from yesterday was a notice by Mr. Bourassa that on Thursday, April 4, he would move that Mr. Fowler be compelled to make his charges good or withdraw them.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier preferred next Wednesday.

Mr. Bourassa desired a vote. The House on Wednesdays adjourns automatically at six. The motion might be "talked out."

Sir Wilfrid assured him that hereafter the House would sit in the forenoon and on Wednesday evenings.

Wants Beddoe Committed.

Mr. Monk (Conservative, Quebec) called the attention of the House to the refusal of C. H. Beddoe of the Interior Department to answer certain questions before the committee of agriculture and colonization, respecting the membership of the North Atlantic Trading Co. He gave notice that on April 4 he would file and discuss a formal motion on this subject.

Mr. Beddoe was the auditor who visited Amsterdam last summer and satisfied himself that the company had expended the sums required under its contract. The motion concludes with an order for Mr. Beddoe to appear at the Bar of the House and show cause why he should not be committed for contempt.

One or two of the questions during the question hour brought out some interesting information.

Car Needs of G. T. P.

Mr. Emmerson stated that the G. T. P. had placed an order with all the car factories of Canada for their full capacity, i.e., 5,000 a year, and they were being delivered before the road was built, as the G. T. P. would require 20,000 cars to begin business. Meanwhile the G. T. R. is using the cars and paying the usual per diem.

Mr. Oliver read the famous interview with W. T. R. Preston, published in The London Daily Express. It seems to be harmless enough and the Government sees no necessity for any action, although it does contain the statement that South Africa can support a larger population than can the country between Winnipeg and the Rocky Mountains.

Not Significant.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier denied that any negotiations were pending between Canada and the United States or that Ambassador Bryce's visit to Ottawa is significant.

"No doubt Mr. Bryce may refer to Canada in his despatches to the Foreign Office," said the Premier, "but I have no access to that correspondence."

"Has there been any correspondence with the Government?" asked R. L. Borden.

"No," said the Premier, in reply.

Colonial Conference.

On the motion to go into supply R. L. Borden brought up the subject of the colonial conference. Mr. Borden criticized the policy of the Government in failing to make a single suggestion to the conference, while important questions for discussion were submitted by all the other colonies. There was the question, for instance, of preferential trade, as to which the Canadian delegates had introduced resolutions at the conference of 1902.

The next resolution, as proposed by Australia, has reference to the Panama Canal, in which Canada, too, had an interest. Another suggestion was with regard to British immigration, which the Australian Government thought should be directed to British possessions. Canada had paid too much attention to immigration from the continent of Europe.

Mr. Borden thought Sir Wilfrid Laurier should have given this expression to his opinion on the proposal of New Zealand that the making of reciprocal trade treaties by the colonies should be freed from the embarrassment of Britain's treaty obligations to foreign countries. When approached on the subject of imperial defence Sir Wilfrid's reply to the imperial authorities had been that Canada was establishing a local naval force in the waters of Canada. Mr. Borden would like to know how far the Government had progressed with its naval scheme.

The Cattle Embargo.

He would like to have known what was Canada's attitude on the cattle embargo? It was known the embargo had been instituted and maintained, not because of disease in Canadian cattle, but as a measure of protection to the British farmer. The British Government could protect as they liked, but it was not fair that that protection should be effected by an embargo which casts discredit on Canadian cattle.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in reply, said the very fact that Canada had offered no suggestions to the conference was the best evidence that the relations between Canada and the Empire were so satisfactory that they could not be improved. He was ready to go to London, not to make suggestions, but to receive those of the Home Government and the sister colonies.

He did not view with favor a permanent imperial council. The only question in which Canada was particularly interested was the trade question, and in this Canada had nothing to offer.

Her position had been laid down at the conference of 1902, namely that Canada had already given a preference, and if the British people would reciprocate, Canada would go one step further than she had done. But this policy had not found favor with the British people, and it was for them to make up their own mind without dictation from Canada.

The British Empire could only be maintained upon the principle that every one of the nations which compose it shall be allowed to determine for itself what is best for it. Sir Wilfrid's own view was that the ideal condition would be to have free trade between all parts of the British Empire. But at present that was not possible.

Will Not Consent.

As for imperial defence, he did not know that existing conditions could be improved upon. Certainly Canada would never consent to be drawn into the vortex of European militarism. In the way of immigration he thought the present policy a good one. Owing to it an increasing number of immigrants were coming from the British Isles.

When in London he could take up with Premier Deakin the question of preferential trade with Australia, and would doubtless accomplish an arrangement.

The cattle embargo did not seem to be a proper matter for the conference, but the Government would continue to press upon the imperial authorities the advisability of its withdrawal.

LANDLORDS ARE BURNED.

Revolting Cruelties By Peasants In the Balkans.

Bucharest, Roumania, March 28.—The measures proposed by the Government to meet the demands of the revolted peasantry, and end the civil war, which is devastating Moldava and Wallachi, were announced in yesterday's issue of the official Gazette, in the shape of a proclamation issued in the name of King Charles. The royal proclamation appeals for the patriotic co-operation of the people to secure the re-establishment of tranquility, and announces that the Sovereign has agreed to the immediate suppression of some of the heavy taxes, while hereafter the farm lands will be cultivated by the State, or leased direct to the peasants. Not one of the larger syndicates hitherto engaged in farming vast tracts of land will be allowed to hold more than 9,000 acres.

Burned Their Victims.

Forty peasants were killed March 25 in a hard fight with troops in the Mozazi district. The insurgents in that section cut to pieces and burned some of their victims.

A stubborn encounter occurred Tuesday at a point on the Gulgevo road, about 60 miles from Bucharest, where 4,000 insurgents met a strong detachment of troops. The latter attacked the revolted peasants with cavalry, as well as infantry, but the military commander ultimately was obliged to use artillery before he was able to force the peasants to retreat.

Hacked to Pieces.

London, March 28.—A special despatch from Sofia, Bulgaria, says that, according to some of the Roumanian refugees who have arrived on the Bulgarian side of the Danube, the insurgent peasantry has been guilty of the same ruthless cruelties which usually mark the feuds in the Balkans. Many of the landlord class have been burned to death, after their bodies and limbs had first been rolled in thick twists of hay or straw. Even children, the refugees add, have been hacked to death by the revolted peasants.

The claims against Montreal during the winter for damages for accidents reach a total of $100,000 general

C. P. R. MAIL CONTRACT.

Criticized as a Waste of Public Money —Each Voyage Costs $17,305.

London, March 28.—The House of Commons, by a large majority yesterday, ratified the contract with the Canadian Pacific for the conveyance of mails between Liverpool and Hong Kong.

Harold Cox, Liberal, and other members, severely criticized the contract as a great waste of public money, each voyage costing $17,305. They declared that the result of the contract was simply to provide the American rivals of British merchants with easier access to the far eastern markets.

It also was suggested that there was some underlying, strategical reasons justifying the payment of a heavy subsidy.

Mr. Runciman, Parliamentary Secretary of the Treasury, and Premier Campbell-Bannerman, while admitting that it was not profitable, defended the contract as being a temporary arrangement pending the discussion of the matter by the colonial conference, after which a new contract would be made.

THROWN FIFTY FEET.

Youth Killed By Train At Vaudreuil Station.

Montreal, March 28.—A. Rousseau, nineteen years of age, whose home was at Isle Perrot, was killed yesterday at Vaudreuil Station by being run over by the International Limited. Rousseau tried to run across the tracks in front of the train, but miscalculated the speed. He was caught on the centre of the track and thrown 50 feet. He struck against a board fence, and when picked up and carried to the platform it was found that nearly every bone in his body had been fractured. He was also badly cut and mangled.

BIG BLAZE AT IROQUOIS.

Two Stores and Two Hotels Burned—Loss About $40,000.

Morrisburg, March 28.—A disastrous fire broke out in the village of Iroquois at 10 o'clock Tuesday night, in the store of Assaly & Co., completely destroying the store and contents of Assaly's, as well as J. W. Lowe's general store, lately purchased from C. & M. Mills, the largest and oldest established business in town. The Powell House and Commercial Hotel and outbuildings were also consumed. The town hall and J. W. Tindale's block were saved with great difficulty. Estimated loss about $40,000.

Kings to Confer.

Madrid, March 28.—It is officially announced that when King Alfonso shall go to Cartagena, in a few days, to meet King Edward, he will be accompanied by his brother-in-law, Prince Charles of Bourbon.

Cartagena is being magnificently decorated. Five warships will be in the harbor. It is probable that the Queen Mother, Christina, will go to Cartagena to greet Queen Alexandra.

Elevator Accident Fatal.

Hamilton, March 28.—William Morton, the young man who was crushed by an elevator in T. C. Watkins' store on Tuesday last, died at the City Hospital early yesterday morning. He was conscious after the accident, and it was thought he would recover, but the internal injuries caused his death.

British Fleet Sails April 3.

London, March 28.—The first cruiser squadron, which will represent the British navy at the naval review to be held in Hampton Roads in honor of the inauguration of the Jamestown Exposition will leave England April 3 for Bermuda, whence the squadron will sail April 23 for Hampton Roads.

Servia Shaken.

London, March 28.—Prof. Belar, the seismologist, reports that an earthquake occurred at 12.40 p.m. yesterday 5,250 miles from Laibach, Austria, where Prof. Belar is located. There was also a moderate shock in Servia 24 hours earlier.

Trujillo Recaptured.

New Orleans, March 28.—A private cablegram received here states that the Hondurans have recaptured the fort of Trujillo. This was the first Caribbean seaport of Honduras taken by the Nicaraguans.

New York Central Indicted.

New York, March 28.—Indictments charging manslaughter in the second degree were returned yesterday against the New York Central Railroad; Ira A. McCormick, general superintendent, and Alfred H. Smith, vice-president, in connection with the fatal wreck of the Brewster express on the Harlem division last month.

McCormick and Smith entered pleas of not guilty, and were released on $10,000 bail each.

The grand jury also recommended many restrictions upon railroad operation in this state.

Falls Into Boiling Water.

Lindsay, March 28.—James Graham, an employe of the Rider & Kitchener Co., while working around a tank of boiling water, slipped and fell in. He is in the Ross Memorial Hospital, in a critical condition.

Miners Fail to Agree.

Calgary, March 28.—The failure of the operators and miners to reach an agreement after a prolonged conference makes it probable that there will be a strike. The conference is expected to end to-day.

King of Siam Goes to Europe.

Bangkok, Siam, March 28.—The King of Siam, Chulalangkorn I, started yesterday on his European trip. The crown prince, Chowfa Maha Vajilavulk, will act as regent during the King's absence.

Russian Editor Assassinated.

Moscow, March 28.—Dr. Jelles, editor of The Russki Viedomosti, was assassinated here yesterday by a strange youth, who shot him as he was leaving his residence. The murderer escaped.

Lewis Harcourt In Cabinet.

London, March 28.—Lewis Harcourt, son of the late Sir William Harcourt, the first Commissioner of Works, has been promoted to Cabinet rank, retaining his post.

THAW GETS FIRST PEEP

At the Commissioners Who Will Decide His Fate.

Commissioner Resigns and David McClure Is Appointed In His Place—Jury Excused Until Next Week—Prisoner Greets His Family In Court—Lunacy Proceedings to Be Open—Private Conference.

New York, March 28.—After the Thaw jury was excused yesterday until next Monday morning and the members of the lunacy commission selected Tuesday by Justice Fitzgerald to enquire into Thaw's present state of mind had been sworn in, it was suddenly announced that ex-Supreme Court Justice Morgan J. O'Brien, chairman of the commission, had resigned.

In a letter to Justice Fitzgerald, Mr. O'Brien explained that he was forced by the condition of his health and his professional engagements to decline to serve.

Justice Fitzgerald made a new order, appointing David McClure, a member of ex-Police Commissioner McAdoo's advisory committee of citizens, to fill the vacancy.

Mr. McClure met the other members of this commission yesterday afternoon and was elected chairman. He stated that the first session will be held to-day at 2 o'clock in the courtroom where the trial has been in progress. The enquiry in general will be open, although there will be executive sessions from time to time.

After Justice Fitzgerald administered the oath of office. Thaw was brought into court and found all the members of his family there.

He looks exceedingly well, and smiled a greeting to his mother, his wife and his sisters and brothers. He then turned to where the three commissioners sat and gazed fixedly at them for several minutes.

Justice Fitzgerald, in discharging the jury until next Monday, warned them to be careful not to discuss the case in any way nor to read any newspaper accounts of what is taking place.

TRAIN WAS WRECKED.

Passengers Escaped But Trainmen Were Killed.

St. Paul, March 28.—The Northern Pacific passenger train for Duluth, which left St. Paul at 11 o'clock was wrecked at Carlton, Minn., early yesterday. The engine, mail and combination cars were derailed and the engineer and fireman were killed. Meagre reports received at Northern Pacific headquarters here do not indicate that any passengers were killed.

NEW POSTAL TREATY.

Hon. Mr. Lemieux Going to Washington In Regard to It.

Ottawa, March 28.—Hon. Mr. Lemieux is going to Washington to confer with the postal authorities there in regard to arranging a new international postal treaty. The present treaty expires on May 7, and arrangements are now being made in connection with postal matter coming under the classification of second and third class mail.

LOST CONFIDENCE.

Canada Said to Have Lost Faith In Jas. Bryce.

London, March 28.—(C. A. P.)—The London Globe says it is abundantly clear that Mr. Bryce has lost the confidence of Canada during his first few weeks.

The St. James' Gazette says it would be nothing short of a misfortune if Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been an absentee from the Colonial Conference.

Carnegie Warns Railroads.

Washington, March 29.—Andrew Carnegie yesterday said:

"I absolutely endorse the President's attitude toward the railroads. He is the best friend they have, and they ought to realize it. The railroads had better stand with him.

"If they do not accept his moderate measures, they may be confronted by a man in the White House who will approach the question of the railroads from an entirely different standpoint.

"I regard the President's influence as to the railroads as wholesome and conservative."

Poison In Porter.

Toronto, March 28.—Under suspicious circumstances pointing to poison, Mrs. Honor Gregg, aged 82, of Sandfield, Ontario County, died after drinking a glass of porter. A greenish sediment was found at the bottom of the glass, and Coroner Mellow of Port Perry has ordered an inquest. The intestines of the dead woman have been sent to Dr. Ellis, provincial analyst, for examination, on the advice of a physician, who said an irritant poison was found in the stomach.

Essex Liberals In Revolt.

Windsor, March 28.—The possibility of outside men receiving the appointments as county judge and Senator has caused unrest among the Liberals of North and South Essex.

Men who have been prominently identified with the party do not hesitate to say that, unless at least one of the appointments goes to a local man, there will be a split in the ranks when the time for the next Federal election comes.

Extra Boat For Immigrants.

London, March 28.—The pressure of emigration is so heavy that the Allan Line yesterday despatched the Carthaginian as an extra sailing, six hundred railways laborers being sent to Canada. J. A. Smart sails by the Carthaginian.

Mr. St. John Better.

Toronto, March 28.—Speaker St. John passed a restful night and continues to improve.

Seven hundred cases of finnan haddie, shipped by a Nova Scotia firm, were seized by the authorities at Winnipeg.

London, March 27.—Liverpool and London cables are steady, at 11c to 13¼c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 8½c to 9c per lb.

Montreal Live Stock.

Montreal, March 27.—(Special.)—Receipts were 600 cattle, 2500 calves, 200 sheep and lambs and 800 hogs. A feature of the market was the continued strength in hogs, and prices advanced 10c to 15c per 100 lbs., owing to small supplies and keen demand. Sales of selected lots were made at $7.40 to $7.50 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars. Among the cattle offered there were 125 milch cows, which sold at $45 to $70 each. A fair trade was done in cattle, and prices ruled firm. Choice sold at 5½c to 5¾c; good, 5c to 5¼c; fair, 4½c to 4¾c, and lower grades at from 3c to 4¼c per lb. The bulk of the calves offered were only medium in quality, and sold at $2 to $4 each, but a few choice ones brought 5c to 5½c per lb. Demand for sheep and lambs was keen, and prices advanced. Sheep sold at 5c to 5½c, and spring lambs at $6 to $10 each.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

East Buffalo, March 27.—Cattle—Receipts, 150 head; fair demand and steady prices, unchanged.

The Legislature Discusses Child Labor in the Shops

Committee Recommends Fourteen Years of Age as Limit.

Mr. Preston Gives Some Startling Statistics—Important Amendment to the Insurance Act—The Soo Loan—Danger to Private Legislation—Law Reform Motion—Mr. Crawford to Be Deputy Speaker.

Toronto, March 28.—Mr. Thos. Crawford (West Toronto) was chosen at yesterday's session of the Legislature as Speaker for the House for the balance of the session, and will henceforth don the robes, hat and gloves of that functionary. Hon. Mr. Whitney, who submitted the resolution for his appointment, assured the House that the news from the Speaker's bedside was now encouraging.

Hon. Nelson Monteith presented the report of the special committee appointed to consider the question of child labor, and it was ordered on his motion to provide for the printing and distribution of the report. It recommends the uniform age for shops, factories and the truancy act of 14 years. The report will probably be followed by legislation on the lines of the report.

Serious Statistics.

Speaking of the report Mr. T. H. Preston (Brant) directed attention to the serious statistics it recorded. They showed the total enrollment of children under 14 years of age in the Province to be 327,000, while the average attendance was only 232,000. Of the 250 municipalities whence the report of the truancy officers were obligatory under the statute only 75 had reported. He (Mr. Preston) hoped the report would have the early consideration of the House.

Mr. E. Dunlop (North Renfrew) moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Ontario Insurance Act. In a brief address Mr. Dunlop set forth the advantages of his measure, which provided that on the expiration of a policy the company is required to keep it in force by borrowing against the cash surrender value of the policy. The bill found endorsement from Hon. Mr. Graham, the Opposition leader, and Col. Hugh Clark and on the suggestion of Hon. Mr. Foy got its reading, and was sent on to the legal committee.

Hon. Dr. Pyne presented a measure "to amend the Department of Education." This bill, the Minister of Education explained, was designed simply to give the department power to dispense the increased grant to the rural schools which is provided for this year in the estimates.

Hon. Col. Matheson made an important announcement relative to what is known as "the Soo loan". The Government guarantee for the $1,000,000 still outstanding falls due on Monday, April 1st. Owing to the condition of the money market the Canadian Improvement Company had been unable to carry out the sale or arrangement which had been planned to relieve the Government. Accordingly they had been granted a six months' extension, the parties who signed the bonds all consenting to renewal of the loan.

Rules Amended.

On motion of the Prime Minister the rules of the Legislative Assembly were amended as follows:—

1. By adding at the end of rule 53 the following words:—"If the application is for authority to issue debentures to a municipal corporation, the notice shall set out the particulars of the municipality's existing debenture debt and the reasons for requiring a further issue of debentures."

2. By inserting after the word "bill" in the second line of rule 61 the following words:—"or a bill providing for the consolidation of a floating debt or for the consolidation or renewal of debentures (other than local improvement debentures) of a municipal corporation."

3. By adding the following as rule 61a:—

61a. Every private bill, in so far as it provides for the consolidation of a floating debt or for the consolidation or renewal of debentures (other than local improvement debentures) of a municipal corporation, when the bill has been read a first time, shall without special reference stand referred to The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board for their report; and a copy of such bill and of the petition on which the same is founded shall be forthwith transmitted by the clerk of the House to the board in order that the board may, after an enquiry into the allegations set out in the bill, and into any other matters which the board may deem necessary in connection therewith, report to the House whether or not it is reasonable that such bill or the part thereof relating to the matters aforesaid, should be passed, and what alterations, if any, should be made in the same, and the board shall make such enquiry accordingly and shall sign the same; and the said report, bill and petition shall be transmitted to the clerk and the report shall be read by the clerk at the table and shall be entered on the journals of the House, and the bill together with the report shall stand referred to the Standing Committee on Private Bills.

Municipal Debts.

Hon. Mr. Whitney, speaking on his motion, said the Legislature daily was subject to the greatest possible danger in private legislation getting through which should not be allowed to pass. He therefore thought the Railway and Municipal Board should pronounce on its propriety and desirability.

Mr. Graham concurred. Some municipalities, he said, were up to the limit in indebtedness and carrying illegal overdrafts from year to year. The proposal would not divest the Legislature of the ultimate responsibility.

Law Reform Motion.

The first "want of confidence" motion is promised by the following notice:

Mr. Cameron (West Huron) gives notice that he will on Thursday next, the 4th. day of April, move that this House regrets that His Majesty's advisers have not introduced in the House any measure respecting the subject of law reform.

The House adjourned for a week for Eastertide.

TROOPS WILL OCCUPY OUDJA.

Germany Approves Action—Sultan Expected to Yield.

Oran, Algeria, March 28.—French occupation at Oudja is probable today, as Gen. Liautey, the commander of the column of occupation, has had to consult with Gen. Serviere, commander of the Nineteenth Army Corps, who is in the south of Algeria, in order to draw up a plan of action. Telegraphic communication with the south is slow. The French mission, now at Oudja, under Capt. Mangin, has been recalled.

Proper and Inevitable.

Berlin, March 28.—The occupation of Oudja, Morocco, by French troops is regarded at the Foreign Office here as being a proper and inevitable step, if it be confined simply to punitive measures for the murder of a French citizen, and is without ulterior objects. It is assumed here officially that France will fully observe her arrangements entered in at Algeciras. The German attitude is one of alert observation. Any modification of that attitude will depend on the development of the French plans.

Sultan Expected to Yield.

Paris, March 28.—The Sultan of Morocco is expected to yield promptly to all the claims formulated by the commander of the French armored cruiser Jeanne D'Arc, now at Tangier, as soon as he is convinced that the French attitude is inflexible and that France has the unanimous support of the powers.

Investigates Telephones.

Regina, Sask., March 28.—The following resolution, dealing with Government-owned telephones, has been adopted unanimously by the Legislature.

"That, while the House favors the principles of Government-ownership and control of a telephone system for the province, it is of the opinion that, before any active measures are taken for the inauguration of such a system, the province should make a thorough enquiry into the working out of a similar system in Canada and elsewhere, and that steps already taken by the Government with this object in view, should be continued in order that the Legislature, at its next session, may be in a position to deal with this important question."

C. P. R. Steamer Overdue.

St. John, N. B., March 28.—Many enquiries are being made for the C. P. R. steamship Lake Manitoba, which is due here on Saturday from Liverpool.

The ship has a large general cargo and 1,388 passengers. Of this number, 53 are first cabin, 139 second cabin and 1,190 steerage.

The Lake Manitoba sailed from Liverpool on Wednesday, March 13, and is 15 days out.

It is thought the ship has experienced adverse weather.

Floods Near Montreal.

Montreal, March 28.—The water in the Montreal harbor is rising rapidly. Harbor officials believe that this year the ice will break up rapidly, and in consequence it is anticipated that the water will reach a very great height, though hopes are entertained that there will be no flood. The little village of Chateauguay, farther up the river, and Chateauguay Basin, are already badly flooded.

Madibi Gold Fields Open.

Cape Town, March 28.—It is announced that a proclamation will be issued about the end of April opening the Madibi gold fields to public digging.

Explosion on Torpedo Boat.

Cherbourg, March 28.—An explosion occurred yesterday on board torpedo boat No. 147. Two men were severely scalded.

A PROGRESSIVE CONCERN

A Quarter Century's Steady Progress Marked by an Important Milestone.

Among the evidences of advancement that have recently taken place in the business world has been the reorganization and extension of the well known proprietary medicine business of Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, of Toronto.

Its progress has been so rapid during the past few years that it had outgrown its capital; consequently the Company has taken out a new charter, with extended powers and enlarged capital. On the Board of Directors and among the Shareholders of the Company are some of Toronto's most prominent and enterprising citizens.

The Company has built up for itself an enviable reputation throughout the Dominion for integrity of business methods and excellence of products. That great and popular tonic and famous curative remedy, PSYCHINE, has stood the test of more than a quarter of a century's public use and criticism, and is today unquestionably the most effective, most successful, and most largely used of all remedies for the prevention and the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Catarrh, La Grippe, Pneumonia, Stomach troubles and all incipient cases of Tuberculosis or Consumption. It has completely proven Dr. Slocum's theory that while the safest and best consumption cure is by preventing and curing the troubles that lead to it, yet consumption in its early stages, and in many cases in its advanced stages, can be cured by proper treatment and the use of PSYCHINE. Thousands of letters on file in the offices of the company prove this. These letters are always open to the inspection of all interested.

Among the other popular and very valuable preparations put up by Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, are Dr. Slocum's celebrated, COLTSFOOTE EXPECTORANT, OXOMULSION, DR ROOT'S KIDNEY PILLS, and OXOJELL. These, together with a number of other remedies which they manufacture, make the largest and best line of proprietary medicines in Canada.

The offices and laboratory of the Company at 179 King St. West, Toronto are now undergoing reconstruction and enlargement to meet the rapidly growing business. They have erected in front of their premises one of the largest and handsomest electric signs in Canada.

Their manufacturing plant is most modern and complete. One of its features is an automatic bottling machine that will fill 6,000 bottles of PSYCHINE per day. They have also the finest electric emulsifying plant on the continent, capable of turning out one gross per hour of Cod Liver Oil Emulsion. This is a powerful machine for separating and reducing the globules of the oil into the most minute particles, so that it can be readily assimilated by the most delicate stomach.

The enterprise of the Company is shown in the fact that they are systematically distributing free samples of their remedies in many large centres, between fifty and one hundred thousand bottles being distributed in Toronto alone.

The Company has authorized us to say that any persons sending their name and address with this article, clipped from this paper, mentioning the name of this paper, and the nature of their trouble, will receive by the return mail a large sample bottle of PSYCHINE absolutely free of charge. This is an excellent opportunity to test a valuable medicine, and we would advise those of our readers, who are suffering from throat, lung or stomach troubles, to avail themselves of this offer. The Company's address is... Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, 179 King St. West, Toronto.

Laidlaw & Oles

The Discovery of His Kingdom.

By LOUISE J. STRONG.

Copyright, 1906, by P. C. Eastment.

She gave him a cheery greeting as she passed, which Deardorf returned with stiff embarrassment. Women always embarrassed him, which fact had been construed into a dislike of the sex, thus accounting for his bachelorhood.

No one would have believed that he lounged on the veranda solely that he might watch her down the street. Much less would any one have imagined that every time he looked into her candid womanly eyes his lonely, unmated man soul clamored for the home and companionship he saw therein. He had not learned that this kingdom in woman's eyes is discernible only to the king to whom it is given to possess if he will. Therefore the little music teacher with the bloom of youth behind her was to him most desirable in the eyes of all men, and he was not surprised, only startled to the stopping of his heart, at what he overheard from a couple of young men behind him.

SUCH CONTEMPLATION WAS ALL THEIR LOT IN LIFE ALLOWED.

"She will make him a sweet little wife—the lucky dog!" one exclaimed.

"The sweetest in the world," the other assented. "And there's nothing for the rest of us but hunting wedding presents. Come on."

They went their way, and with strangely blurred vision he stumbled up the stairs and through the gloom of the hall to his rooms at the end. Her door was opposite, and as he fumbled with his key he glanced across furtively with an odd sense of guilt for the accustomed thrill that shook him. It was as if she were already the wife of another, and, closing his door with emphasis, he turned on the light and set about packing his minerals, telling himself that he would move immediately—that there was neither sense nor reason in his staying in this dingy place where his poverty, long a thing of the past, had at first stranded him; no reason, except that, catlike, he clung to the place as home, and—yes, he would acknowledge it—because she was there. He frowned and essayed a nonchalant whistle when he caught himself, as usual, straining his ears for the sound of her footsteps. It was time that he went.

But subsequent reflection persuaded him that his departure at this juncture might be connected with her marriage and excite comment. He felt that he must remain until the "lucky dog" had carried her away, and—he blushed painfully at the thought—he must procure the inevitable wedding present if he would not be conspicuous.

Then followed strenuous days and sleepless nights of vain endeavor to decide upon something, with bitter reviling of the custom which forbade his presenting her with a goodly check in lieu of an article which would probably be but an unwelcome duplicate. He hunted the shops and stores, confusing himself uselessly with the multitude and variety of their wares. He grew thin and heavy eyed under the burden, thereby arousing in her an anxious solicitude he was too absorbed to perceive. In despair he sought advice of the office boy.

"Billy," he asked that versatile young person, "what would you give to a lady for a wedding present?"

"Aw, that's easy! Something she'd like, of course," Billy said airily. Then he explained: "I mean, sir, something you've heard her say she'd like. That's the only kind o' present worth having. only folks won't give 'em. I've tried it, a-hinting and a-hinting what I want Christmases and birthdays, and I always get some old thing I wouldn't take if I could help it," Billy sniffed.

That seemed an eminently sensible suggestion to Deardorf, and he presented a grateful dollar to Billy for the idea, realizing when he came to make application of it that the only object of which he had any knowledge concerning her desires was undoubtedly questionable regarded as a wedding present. Still, according to Billy's decision, it would be a pleasure to her.

He had one day chanced upon her standing behind two little girls who were engrossed in the contemplation of an entrancing toy tea set in a shop window. It was obvious that such contemplation was all their lot in life allowed, and she was fingering her slim purse doubtfully, with moist eyes.

"I was wondering if I might not give it to them for the sake of a lonely little girl whose one desire in life was a vain longing for a tiny tea set," she said as he stopped.

"Let me," he begged, expanding under the influence of her impulsive confidence.

After some insistence she yielded. They took the amazed children inside, and she examined and extolled each small article with a delight that equaled theirs.

"We do not all put away childish things with years," she said when they were outside. "I love the wee things yet, and some time"—she smiled defiantly—"some time, when I can and not feel it a wicked extravagance, I am going to have my childish heart's desire. I am so sure that you will not laugh at me that I will invite you in to my first tea party."

He thanked her gravely, understanding and sympathizing entirely. Did he not carry in his pocket a wonderful carnelian "taw" in memory of the ungratified longing of the boy he used to be? He had been waiting for the Christmas opportunity to gratify her innocent desire, reveling in imagination in the intimacy of her promised hospitality. Now he had put away his day dream with a sigh and extinguished a dim hope that had glimmered feebly.

But it remained that he must make the wedding present, and finally, being confident of her perfect sincerity, he ignored obtruding doubts as to appropriateness and procured a fairylike tea set worthy the possession of a princess, which, being unequal to presenting it personally, he left at her door with his card one evening, just escaping her as she came up the stairs.

And then, when it was done, he for the first time considered his offering from the probable viewpoint of the prospective bridegroom and her friends, and the utter absurdity of it overwhelmed him. With shame he decided that after such a piece of idiocy there was nothing for him but flight, and he was tossing things helter skelter into his suit case when he heard her crossing the hall.

He looked about desperately for a way of escape, then dragged himself unwillingly to the door at her rap.

"I have only this moment realized how preposterous my unfortunate selection is for a wedding present," he stammered abjectly as she entered.

"Oh!" The glow on her face faded. "How stupid of me! I ought to have known there was a mistake, and I have opened the box." She set it upon the table.

He shook his head dismally. "There is no mistake. I beg your pardon. I—I"—

"But there must be a mistake! They left the package at my door," she said, a little sharply.

"I left it myself. I meant it for a wedding present, but I see how"—His voice failed again.

She regarded his woebegone face intently for a moment. "Very well. I will take it down." Her cheeks were glowing and her eyes sparkling with mischief. "When I found the package I thought you had somehow discovered that today is my birthday and had kindly remembered my childish longing, but if it is a wedding present it must go to Miss Bessie, who is soon to be married."

He sat down heavily and stared at her.

"You see, one must be married to receive a wedding present," she explained demurely, her color flaming under his gaze.

The tangle suddenly straightened, he sprang up. "Yes," he assented, still looking into her eyes, where by a flash of inspiration he had seen his kingdom, himself crowned king. He plunged forward across the table and seized her hands, asserting boldly, "It is a wedding present—your wedding present, Alma, dear, for you are going to be married immediately."

For answer she murmured tearfully and happily, "Oh, Morris, we will have tea in the darling little cups our first evening at home!"

A Weak Heart.

"They tell me Bad Bill's dead," said Alkali Ike. "Is that right?"

"Sure," replied Cactus Cal; "shot plumb through the heart."

"Well, I ain't surprised then. His heart always was weak."—Philadelphia Press.

Were Caught by Lindsay Train

Young Lady and Gentleman Had to Jump Off Trestle to Save Their Lives

A young lady and young gentleman had a very close call from a nasty accident the other night. They were crossing the railway bridge on the Lindsay line near the Protestant Home, when the nine o'clock train appeared around the curve in the line. The young people ran across the trestle work, but were not able to reach the end in time, and were forced to jump for their lives. The young lady was pretty well shaken up and slightly shocked and in jumping took considerable skin off one of her limbs. The young man escaped without injury, but neither of them will attempt to cross the trestle again. Several other citizens have been caught in the same position, although no accident has yet happened.

To Prevent the Taking of Ducks

Game Warden Fitzgerald is Taking Every Precaution

Mr Percy Fitzgerald, deputy game warden, is taking precautions to prevent the illegal shooting of wild ducks during the next few weeks In past years there has always been considerable illegal shooting of the birds during the flocking season, which opens early in April. The ducks are then seen quite frequently and can be killed comparatively easily. It is illegal to take them at this time of the year however, as the season does not open until September 15th.

After what is called the flocking season the ducks lay, and hatch out their young and do not appear until well on towards autumn.

Mr. Fitzgerald is making arrangements to prevent the shooting of ducks as much as possible during the next few weeks. He is determined that the law shall be enforced, and is taking precautions in this connection.

Much Activity in Real Estate

Three Houses on Reid Street, Property of Mr. H. McCannon Sold

Mr H. McCannon, contractor, of this city, has disposed of his three new brick houses on Reid street, just north of Knox church. These houses were built during the latter part of last summer, and all have been sold within the past three weeks, the last one being disposed of on Tuesday.

The sales were made through the energetic real estate agent, Mr. C. Hewitt, George street. Mr. Titely, an Englishman, who came to Peterborough about a year ago, bought the first one. The houses are built of sandstone brick. Mr. Jos. Preston of Smith, bought the second house. Mr. Preston is ceasing farming in Smith, and will, in the future, live a retired life in Peterborough.

The last sale was put through on Tuesday, when the house, 212 Reid street, was purchased by Mr. Robt. Clifford of Lakefield. The price paid was $2,650. Mr. Clifford has been for several years, an employe of the Dickson Co. at Lakefield, but lately has taken a position with the Peterborough Lumber Co., which necessitated his removal to this city.

How Good Friday Will be Observed

There Will be Special Services in Several of the Churches To-morrow

Tomorrow will be Good Friday, observed in commemoration of our Saviour's passion or suffering on the cross. It is the anniversary of the Crucifixion. It will be observed as a holiday and also a holy day.

In several of the city churches special services will be held.

At St. Peter's Cathedral at nine a.m. the mass of the pre-sanctified will be sung. At three o'clock in the afternoon, "The Way of the Cross." Service will begin in the evening at 7.30, at which Rev. Father Galvin will deliver a sermon on "The Passion."

At St. John's church on Good Friday there will be service at 11 o'clock children's service at three o'clock, and the "Crucifixion," will be contributed in the church at eight o'clock.

At St. Luke's church on Good Friday, morning prayer will be said at 10 a.m. From 12 noon to 3 p.m. the "Three Hours' Suffering of Our Redeemer upon the Cross," will be commemorated, and addresses on the "Seven Words from the Cross," will be given by the rector. The collection on Good Friday is for the evangelization of the Jews. Those who do not want to remain in church for the three hours may come and go while the hymns are being sung.

At All Saint's church there will be service at 10.30 a.m.

At George Street Church there will be a special Good Friday service at eleven o'clock.

In the afternoon at 3.30 o'clock in Central Park, the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will hold an open service.

In the afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, and in the evening, at the Grand Opera House, the attraction will be Allen Doone in Joseph Murphy's famous play "Kerry Gow."

In George Street Church at eight o'clock in the evening, the Mission Band will hold its annual concert.

The "Crucifixion," will be sung at St. John's church at eight o'clock in the evening by All Saint's and St. John's combined choirs.
